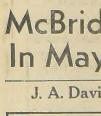
STOP RELIEF WORK IN FENELON FALLS

Stewart Defeats McBride And Wins In Mayoralty Race



J. A. Davies

Toronto Mayoralty Race Is Closest On Record With Largest Vote Ever Polled

CONDEMN SALARY GRAB

MAYOR

William J. Stewart	57,505
Sam McBride	57,119
Stewart majority	381

BOARD OF CONTROL
(First Four Elected.)

Ramsden, 51,643; Robbins, 50,861; Simpson, 48,180; Hacker, 47,781; Boland, 41,779; Pearce, 40,431; Summerville, 19,087; Foster, 13,491; Cotton, 9,014; King, 8,154; Buck, 3,930.

TORONTO, Jan. 2.—By the narrow margin of 381 votes out of 114,619 counted ballots, Alderman William J. Stewart defeated ex-Mayor Samuel McBride for the 1931 Mayoralty yesterday in the closest and most thrilling contest in Toronto's history.

With Mayor-election Stewart as Chairman, Toronto's 1931 Board of Control will consist of Messrs. J. George Ramsden, William D. Robbins, James Simpson and Albert E. Hacker, elected in that order, with respective votes of 51,643; 50,861, 48,105 and 47,781. Alderman Boland, prominent with Mayor-elect Stewart as an anti-salary-grabber, was runner-up, with 41,779 votes.

It was a record race, a record vote, and a record clean-out of old Councillors, with twelve new men elected to replace representatives of last year. Prominent—and perhaps significant—among those defeated were Controllers Pearce and Summerville, who led the salary-grab, and Alderman Joseph Wright, in Ward 6, who presented the salary-grab motive to Council and sponsored the Bride Lake scheme.

Seesaw Struggle

The 1931 Toronto Mayoralty battle ended in the balance for hours as subdivision totals were being compiled. The very first return said, "Stewart 31, McBride 247," and it was an absolute omen of the seesawding-dong battle of ballots which was to follow.

As the early count mounted into the thousands, however, Mr. McBride drew away into a slight lead—from 78 at 9 o'clock, 700, and reaching as high as 1,200 majority over his opponent. Then the swing reversed, and the city compilations proceeded the McBride majority of 1,200 receded ever so gradually until the eventful count showed 381 more votes. There never was anything as now in Mr. Stewart's favor—by 2 votes.

And up went Mr. Stewart's majority from 2 to about 900—and then another swing back—and that which finally gave the 600-odd majority down to 700-odd, then 484, and finally, with Mr. Stewart's lieutenants and campaign managers hanging on the edges of their chairs at the various committee rooms, the word came that it was all over and it

FOUR DROWN WHEN AUTO BREAKS ICE

ONLY GAPING HOLE IN ICE WITH TIRE TRACKS TO IT ARE LEFT AS EVIDENCE OF TRAGEDY

OTTAWA, Jan. 2.—Blinded by a raging storm, three men and a woman were trapped in an automobile which plunged into a hole in the ice of the Ottawa River a mile east of Rockland, 30 miles from Ottawa, and were drowned late Wednesday afternoon. The tragedy was not discovered until yesterday, when relatives became alarmed at their absence from home and instituted a search.

The victims are: Azariah Barbeau, 27, of Clarence Creek, the driver of the automobile; Mrs. Irvine Arnold, 22, Bathurst county, and Clarence Point; Augustin Bealine, 28, of Rockland East; Edgar Charron, 27, of Rockland.

The sole evidence of the quadruple disaster is a hole 300 feet square a quarter of a mile from the Quebec shore of the Ottawa River, between Thurso and Rockland, a mile east of the latter town. Tire tracks lead to the hole and then disappear at the brink. The water at this point is 75 feet deep.

The quartette drove to their deaths while returning to their homes after a brief New Year's Eve visit to Thurso, a village on the Quebec side four miles east of Rockland. They had driven to Thurso by road, but apparently intending to save time on their return journey, took to the ice on the way back about 5 p.m.

New Year's Ball Draws Over 500

Annual Rotary Dance In Armouries Again Proves Immense Social Success

"BIG HOUSE PARTY"

There was a death and a birth as the bells marked the hour of twelve on Wednesday night, but the usual decorum noticeable at local events was thrown to the winds as 500 people who laughed loudly at the obsequies and shouted gay greetings at the babe was wended out.

Not one of the 500 happy people who attended the annual Rotary New Year's Eve ball expressed any regret as Old Man 1930 staggered across the floor with the death rattle already in his throat. It was just the opposite for they ended up four deep and marched over his grave. Indeed the officials handling the ball were in danger of being engulfed in the wave of stiff-fronted shirts that swept down on them as approximately 250 males, headed by a 10 paper hats, whistles and horns for the Grand March immediately following the observing of the passing of the Old Year and the welcoming of the New.

Indeed that impulsive rush expressed clearly the tenor of the whole party, the laughing carefree gaiety of Lindsay's premiere social event.

Although dress was chiefly formal, the ladies clad in beautiful long clinging dresses and the men attired in formal evening suits, the various couples mixed well and the spirit of fellowship was more akin to that of a successful home party.

As midnight approached, an old mum, bent and gray, his tensile limbs protected by a thick coverlaid of frost and whiskers, was seen to totter across the floor to the orchestra platform. Few suspected that it was James Mackey, president of the Rotary Club. He could scarcely make himself heard but as he represented 1930, the Old Year, it didn't matter anyhow. What the people were waiting for was Baby 1931 and when he came the death of 1930 was forgotten. Young 1931 faultlessly attired in party clothes and a beaming smile (Jack Hervey, secretary of the Rotary Club, by the way) was towed in by K. B. Sylvester, as Prosperity, and Herb Elliott, dressed as health.

As soon as he could make himself heard above the pandemonium welcome, he piped out in a squeaky voice the best wishes of the Rotary Club for a happy, healthy ad prosperous 1931.

The armouries presented a gay sight for the ball, strung, as it was, with bunting, flags and coloured lights. The decorating was done by J. J. Turner and Sons. Peterboro, the most attractive bit of decorating, however, was the beautiful bower for the orchestra fixed up under the direction of Rourien Waller Hyatt, of Lindsay.

Pal Jakins' 10-piece orchestra handled the music and of the entertainment in a way that left nothing to be desired. Their numbers were as jingling as sleigh bells and for, and the reason why so many greeted the New Year with sore toes was that even in the rush for supper hats no one could keep his feet still when the band played "Give Yourself a Pal on the Back."

Tasty refreshments were served under the direction of Bryson's Bakery and were enjoyed by everyone.

The Rotarians deserve great credit for their dance this year, especially Rotarian Walter Hyatt, of the Benson House, who was at the head of the committee in charge of all the arrangements.

...W. H. Ireland, M.P.P., has been chosen as president of the Ontario Conservative Association. No doubt his gavel will consist of a shillalah. —Brantford Expositor.

Rosedale, Baddow To Get Electricity

Governments Will Bear Half Cost of Giving Power To Northern Villages

COMING SOON

FENELON FALLS, Jan. 2. (Staff Correspondence).—In all probability Rosedale and Baddow will be lighted by Hydro in the near future.

Mr. John Wilson, Baddow, who has been active in the matter, has recently interviewed the Hydro Board at Toronto and is quite hopeful as a result. As it will be a matter of unemployment relief work the governments will assist on a fifty-fifty basis, and it is probable that work may begin early in the new year.

It was in September that Mr. Phillips, proprietor of Cedar Villa, started the movement, and succeeded in getting most of the tourists and many of the settlers at Rosedale to sign a petition in its favor. Mr. Wilson has finished the good work that begun and as the desire for Hydro is almost unanimous there is every prospect of its installation.

This will mean much to this very flourishing and pretty summer resort on Balsam Lake, one of the chain of the well-known Kawartha lakes.

Mr. John Barber, lock-master at Rosedale, having obtained sick leave, is leaving on Friday morning to spend some time at Toronto. He will be accompanied by Mrs. Long, of Toronto, who has been

Enjoy Good Health And Are Happy

Mr. and Mrs. A. Lyman Minthorne Have Lived in Mariposa For Years

ARE WELL KNOWN

One of those happy events that very rarely occurs took place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. Lyman Minthorne, of Mariposa, today, when, in the presence of a few friends, they celebrated the 60th anniversary of the marriage. They are the oldest married couple in Mariposa Township and possibly the oldest in Victoria County.

Both are enjoying good health and have every reason to look forward to a few more years yet of happiness and good health.

While the celebration today is a quiet one, only a few friends being invited in to dinner, they were given a party about six weeks ago by about 100 of their friends, who decided to pay honor to this beloved couple before bad roads hampered travelling and prevented a suitable get-together.

This summer they were especially invited to Lindsay by the committee handling the vice-regal reception so that they would have an opportunity of meeting His Excellency Lord Willingdon, Governor-General of Canada, and now the newly appointed viceroy of India. They were escote todethr shrdlu They were escorted to the armouries in a motor car, and so much so that they had no opportunity of meeting His Excellency although he stretched his hand toward them in a vain effort to shake their hands.

Mr. Minthorne was born in this county 86 years ago and has spent his whole life here. When he was 20 years of age he was married. His wife was born in England but came here when a child. She is a year older than Mr. Minthorne.

When they were children here they were schoolmates all along the roads as we think of roads today. Farming was the basic agriculture as it still is but the implements and methods are very different. Supplies were brought to Lindsay by boat and carted or carried by the farmers to their homes.

Although only a child when the first railroad stretched from Minden to Orillia, Mr. Minthorne can remember something of the great events and the celebration and also of the early days of transportation. But he admits, rather sadly, that although his faith in Mariposa's future is strong he witness the events as they pass and had to remain at home.

He remembers very well the terrible fire that burned a large part of Lindsay in 1861, making room for the cleaner and better Lindsay we know today. He can place a few years later. The smoke could be seen clearly from the school he was attending four miles west of Lindsay, and school was let out so that the bigger boys could come to the scene of the fire and do what they could to save the possessions of the people whose belongings were going up in flames on every hand. Again Mr. Minthorne had to remain at home as he was too young.

Mr. Minthorne is also a second cousin of President Herbert Hoover of the United States. President Hoover's grandfather came to Canada with the United Empire Loyalists and for a time lived near Portonic, but the people drifted back to the States.

Mr. and Mrs. Minthorne have two sons and four daughters: Mrs. D. J. Walker, Glenelg Street, Lindsay; Mrs. Edward Dames, Oakwood; Sherwood Minthorne, at home; Mrs. L. Slitter, of Buffalo, who owns the Buffalo Reading Company; Samuel Minthorne, at home; and Della Minthorne, at home. John D. Dames, well-known Lindsay hockey player,

WORK STOPS

FENELON FALLS, Jan. 2.—(Staff Correspondence). — Unemployment relief work at Fenelon Falls stopped on New Year's Eve not to be continued until after the election of the new council on Monday, Jan 5, 1931.

Prevents Crash

When Mr. Richard Bulmer, black smith of Fenelon Falls, was homeward bound Tuesday evening about six o'clock, his car very narrowly escaped going through the front plate glass window of MacKay's Bakery, Colborne Street.

Only the prompt action of Mr. M. McCallum, who happened to be on the scene, averted the catastrophe. He pushed back the car when it was within an inch of going through the window, having skidded as Mr. Bulmer crumped it when endeavoring to turn in.

Watch night services were held at the Salvation Army, St. James' Anglican and the United Churches, Preston Park, on New Year's eve. When the bells rang out the Old Year, and ushered in the new of 1931, it was under "The Flying Cloud, The Fragrant Night." The storm passed and the stars sparkled over a white world. "There Came Upon the Midnight Clear" the silvery music of the Salvation Army Band as they marched down Colborne Street.

BOYS FALL THROUGH ICE OF SCUGOG

CHIEF LAWLER URGES PARENTS' CO-OPERATION IN PREVENTING DROWNING TRAGEDY; ICE IS TREACHEROUS.

Now that cold weather seems to be with us permanently the season approaches when there are the usual tragedies and near-tragedies with youngsters skating or skiing riding near the river. To date two children have been saved from drowning in the Scugog only by the quick action of those who were playing with them, and before the season is over there will be others unless ordinary precautions are observed.

Chief Lawler when approached on the question by The Post this morning said that the main trouble arises the fact to their children that the river on the river is not safe for skating or sliding. There are many air holes, making the ice weak, that children would be well-advised to stay away from the river. The sides may be safe enough but the centre is not, and if these precautions are observed by the boys the young from skating on the river is a great deal of trouble, and possibly some tragedies will be spared the parents."

Cash McCluskey, of Jackson, near Beer Wednesday morning last for mains unsolved and not the slightest trace of the woman has been found. More than a hundred men searched the surrounding swamps and bush on Wednesday morning. The woman was fully clothed at the time of her disappearance but had no money. She is the mother of three children.

(Taken from the Post Files of Jan. 3rd, 1916)

For some time past rumours have been in circulation to the effect that the Woolworth firm (controlling the Kresk stores in Canada and the United States) would open up a branch in Lindsay. These rumours have been verified as the announcement has been made that the firm has secured the store at present occupied by Mr. D. Clinkmon.

Lindsay is today witnessing one of the most exciting municipal contests in its history, and it is felt that a heavy vote will be polled when it closes at five o'clock.

Sunday's sleet and snow storm tied up the railroads rather badly, and as a result the usual weekday schedule this morning. The G.T.R. from the east was over an hour late, while the Halliburton train due here at 8.50, did not arrive until noon.

The most delightful affair of the season was given New Year's eve in the Town Hall in aid of the Rose Memorial Hospital.

Sixteen games have been played at the curling rink since Friday. Interest ran high all day New Years and every ice was occupied.

The scheduled junior O.H.A. game between Belleville and Lindsay has been postponed until Wednesday night, on account of poor ice conditions. The visitors are said to be turning up strong, so that a good game can be looked for.

Taxes are Rising

At nomination meetings through Victoria County the reeves, farmers and others set up a cry about the ever-increasing burden of taxes being imposed on them, and a short study of figures for the province of all that is needed to prove that taxes certainly have been increased greatly.

In many places councils are asking the Provincial Government for a readjustment of the burden of taxation, and it seems that the request is worth a whole lot of consideration right now. At present figures are not available for the increase in Victoria County, but comparative figures taken from the annual report of the Bureau of Municipal Affairs, showing totals for the counties in this province, make some startling relevations.

For instance by comparing the figures for all the counties in 1928 and 1929 we find that the population increased by 142,456 (from 2,621,785 to 3,065,251) while assessment jumped $882,196,833 (from $2,131,256,300 to $3,013,863,133), municipal taxes increased by $34,252,679 (from $47,907,632 to $77,940,331), school taxes went up $19,483,253 (from $18,361,838 to $37,847,091), and the debenture debt was boosted $179,142,563 (or from $238,484,000 to $418,306,592).

And one doesn't have to go back ten years to find startling increases in taxes and debt. Comparisons between the figures for 1928 and 1929 show that the debenture debt increased by more than $16,000,000 in the year although the taxes totalled nearly $5,000,000 more in 1929 than they did the previous year.

And it is probable, nay, almost certain, that the 1930 figures will show still further increases in taxes, as well as larger debenture debts for most places.

Now as never before do the people, the farmers especially, need some form of tax relief and Governments should do something to readjust the burden of taxation.

Enjoy Your Breakfast?

How many made a New Year's resolution to get an hour of rest before breakfast and work up a decent appetite so that breakfast will be something more than a necessary event before kissing the wife good-bye and running to work?

And, by the way, we are not referring to those who sleep in, run to work to beat the time clock, and then gulp down a few minutes to munch toast at a nearby lunch counter.

Forgetting all about suggestions made in the recent Federal campaign, that Canadians be set to work on their surplus grain, is mightn't be a bad suggestion that we go back to the farm as far as the breakfast habit is concerned. As the Kitchener Daily Record said:

"Stanley Baldwin, former prime minister of England, remarked the other day that breakfast is the most vital meal of the whole day. 'I always enjoy my breakfast,' said Mr. Baldwin, "I find it the most pleasant meal of the day."

Perhaps Mr. Baldwin's breakfast is hardly so much as an incident. The chief trouble, probably, is that few of us come to the table fully awake. The city man has also until the last minute to get himself shaved, clothes and dresses in a fumbling sort of way, and coming to the dining room lying his tie and mumbling piteously. Fighting to get out of the house in time, he gulps down his coffee and bolts his food like an automaton, and his breakfast is in him before he really knows that he is eating.

The farmer, however, he generally does an hour or so of hard work before he goes to breakfast, so he is not only wide awake but has worked up a good appetite. And then he leisurely proceeds with a bowl of oatmeal, some eggs and sausage and fried potatoes, a few griddle cakes, a doughnut or two and a couple of cups of coffee; and by the time he has finished he can face the agricultural depression with a clear conscience.

Of course, such a breakfast would land the average city man in the hospital in short order. Nevertheless, the farmer has the right idea. Breakfast, to him, is something to be looked forward, to—whereas for most of us it is just something to be got thru with.

Children Repeat Rhyme

Just one day before the physical education department of the Kitchener public schools was to have instructed children at King Edward school in the art of crossing streets carefully, ten year old Ruby Hahn was struck by a car just outside the school grounds and injured.

In view of the increasing number of accidents on Kitchener streets, it has been decided to teach children the art of safe street crossing in connection with the regular program, Harold Ballantyne, director said. Many of these mishaps can be avoided by care on the part of the children, he added.

The children are being taught to cross streets by footing first to the left, to assure themselves that no cars are approaching in that direction. They then are taught to walk into the middle of the street. On reaching this point, they are asked to look to the right before venturing all the way across.

This lesson is being taught by means of a rhyme which children are asked to repeat to themselves in crossing thoroughfares. The rhyme runs like this:

1. Look to the left.
2. Cross half way.
3. Look to the right.
4. Cross when you may.

Children at Victoria, Suddaby and Courtland avenue schools already have been drilled in this system of safe street crossing. King Edward school, where the mishap occurred was visited that day.

Parents will be asked to check up on their youngsters to ascertain whether or not the instructions are being carried out.

REAL FARM ISSUE
(Sault Ste. Marie Star)

It seems like an issue in the next Ontario elections. According to Editor Phillpot of the Globe, he was a candidate for the Liberal leadership at the convention, Premier George H. Henry, is the "president of a great milk distributing corporation."

On the other hand Mitchell F. Hepburn, the new Liberal chief, 34, "is the owner of the Hepburn Cooperative Cheese Factory" near St. Thomas.

The U.F.O. theme seems to go in with the prohibitionists for a third party.

So there you have it, cheese, milk and water. We mean milk OR water. Sorry.

SWARM OF BOOKS
(London Nation)

There is no exact means of computing how many books were published in England in 1730 or even 1830; the provinces, for example, issued books for themselves instantaneous ways; literary journals made no complete lists of new books. But whoever will take up "The Dunciad" must feel the swarm of productions of the press which came abroad in Pope's time; whoever collects the plays printed in series for Tonson will acknowledge their number; Defoe's bibliography will probably be, after all, more extensive than that of Mr. Wells; and one can hear the seventeenth-century bookseller remarking to his customer, "Uncommon month this, sir; no new book by John Bunyan." The most cursory bookhunter will already be surprised by some volume out of the past of which, though in his own field, he had not known; and, after all, it is the strangest thing when printing began and binding were absurdly cheap should have been fertile in books. The opening years of Robert Dodsley, or of Moxon, were not nearly so fertile as activity from those of Mr. Cape, of the Hogarth Press.

ADDRESSING LETTERS
(Orillia Journal)

The London Times, in a whimsical mood, takes up one of its old ideas, namely, that the way we address letters is thoroughly unbusinesslike.

A communication sent from abroad to the Times should, according to pure reason, that journal claims, be inscribed:

England,
London, E.C. 4,
Printing House Square,
The Times" Office,
The Editor

In this form, it is pointed out, the quest would be grandually perceived from the general to the particular—from the forty-million range to the unit. At present the Post Office has to read our envelopes backward.

Perhaps the Times is right. But, on the other hand, there is something satisfying to personal vanity to see once more one's name on an envelope, not to mention the thrill that comes when a letter is delivered without even a street or business address on it. Finally, the Post Office seems to do fairly well in ferreting people out, and with everything else being changed, it might be just as well to leave this letter business alone.

That Body of Yours

By James W. Barton, M.D.

A NEW YEAR

For a number of years now I have been trying to have my readers take stock of themselves at the beginning of each year. That as they take stock of their worldly goods, that as they make resolutions for the coming year, that they think more of their greatest possession, their greatest asset, their health.

Therefore a visit to the family doctor, a visit that has been arranged for some time previously and a visit that should last an hour, is the first thought.

You are going to know at the end of an hour all that can be humanly known about your general condition —your eyesight, your hearing, your nose and throat, heart, lungs, kidneys; in fact every part.

Is this knowledge worth anything?

If you are found to be in good physical condition it should give you a buoyancy with which to meet all the affairs of life—domestic, business, recreational and social.

If something is found amiss then you are put in possession of knowledge that will enable you to prolong safeguard your life by sane living. In this connection it is intensely interesting to read the case of Dr. R. H. Babcock who died recently of a heart condition in his eighteen year. He was for many years professor of Physiology and the College of Physicians and Surgeons, Chicago, and early in his medical career observed symptoms of his heart ailment which eventually caused his death. The knowledge of the ailment and how to live properly despite this ailment enabled him to live to such a real old age.

Before you go to see your doctor take a look inward at yourself from the standpoint of how to meet him—train yourself to keep your appointments—and see if any of these things are affecting your general health, affecting your work, your sleep, your appetite. Don't tell the doctor about your sleepless nights, your poor appetite, or your inability to concentrate on your work, without telling him about the "finale;" the secret troubles or worries in your life. Those emotional disturbances have a definite effect upon practically every organ of the body.

So see yor own family doctor and tell him examine you inside and out. He will start you off right for the year.

AFRICA SPEAKS AT THE ACADEMY NEXT WEEK

At last there is something new under the sun, in the way of screen entertainment, and that picture is AFRICA SPEAKS—The strangest picture ever filmed—with its thrilling all thrilling romance of adventure in the unexplored regions of Equatorial Africa, which comes to the Academy theatre, for a four day showing commencing Monday, with two shows every evening and matinees each day, at 4.45 for the benefit of the school children, and of course the regular Wednesday Matinee at 2.30. Africa Speaks, is away out of the ordinary screen bill-of-fare and is something that everyone should see its strange—its different. It's awe-inspiring—its one of those never-to-be-forgotten things that once in a blue moon we are privileged to see.

'MIDNIGHT MYSTERY' THRILLS ON SCREEN OF ACADEMY THEATRE

Something new in the way of a mystery melodrama arrived on the talking screen of the Academy Theatre today with the presentation of "Midnight Mystery," the new Radio Pictures production featuring Betty Compson and Lowell Sherman. Here is a thriller with a punch of novelty that makes it doubly interesting. Splendid playing by a star cast, smooth direction and a story that holds to stirring climaxes make "Midnight Mystery" an evening's genuine entertainment.

The story has been adapted from the stage success, "Hawk Island," and is concerned with an oddly-assorted set of guests at a house party in a castle on a storm-beaten island off the Maine coast. Every bit of action in the film is encompassed within less than a twelve-hour period, with the major part of the story running through a night of electrifying adventure.

Based on the "murder" of a "dummy" which later proves to be more tragically real than the joker supposed, the picture offers the novel angle of letting the audience in on the secret before the characters themselves suspect what has transpired. Even so, the element of mystery is maintained to the end.

George B. Seitz, veteran director of many mystery successes, scores his finest work with "Midnight Mystery." His direction is given capable support by the cast which includes Miss Compson, Mr. Sherman, Hugh Trevor, June Clyde, Rita La Roy, Marcelle Corday, Ivan Lebedeff, Raymond Hatton, William Presley Burt and Sidney D'Albrook.

Stewart Defeats McBride for Mayor

derman Stewart was victor by 381 votes. There never was anything as dramatic since Toronto began electing Mayors.

Victory to be Proud Of

For Mayor-elect Stewart it was a victory of which he may well be exceedingly proud. From Aldermanic ranks he is elevated to the Mayor's chair with the largest vote ever accorded any candidate for any office in the City of Toronto. It was an unprecedented expression of confidence given by the electors of Toronto—a reward, undoubtedly, for the fact that his seven-year record in council was immune from attack or criticism, a record which showed him on all major issues to have put the interests of the citizens first over any selfish or sectional interests.

Although the Board of Control race resulted in the defeat of Controllers Pearce and Summerville, most prominent in the salary-grab activities so roundly condemned by the electors in yesterday's vote, it also resulted in the regrettable defeat of Alderman Boland, who was to aspiring for the Board of Control. With Mayor-elect Stewart he was a prominent anti-salary grabber. But he failed by only a narrow margin, running fifth in a field of ten, and polling 41,778 votes—over 1,300 more than Controller Pearce, who

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of Howard Nesbitt, who departed this life Jan. 2, 1929.

Oh, why was he taken so young and so fair,
When earth held so many-it better than there?

Hard was the blow that compelled us to part
From one whom we loved and so dear to our hearts
We do not forget him, we loved him so well.

For his memory to fade from our eyes like a dream
Lips need not speak when the heart mourns sincerely.
But grief often dwells where it seldom is seen.

Timely Tips

QUICK CURTAINS

New curtains for the kitchen, sun porch or attic can be made quickest from crinoline: argentine cloth or oilcloth by cutting jig-saw edges and scallops. No sewing required.

PEANUT BUTTER

If you mix a few tablespoonfuls of olive or vegetable salad oil with peanut butter as it comes in the jar, it will spread more easily and go farther.

TIME SAVERS

Little gold safety pins, less than a half-inch long, may be used to pin shields into a dress. This is easier than sewing and easier to remove for washing. Pin them to the seams.

WASH SILKS

Many of the pretty new prints for silk dresses are washable and do not shrink. For serviceable frocks about the house, this material will save you many cleaning bills because you can wash them yourself.

Novelty Weaving Demanded

Seek out the odd and the new in weaves ranging from cellosil to fish scale, if you would have observers place the proper estimate up on your talents in the matter of dressing.

The art of weaving has come into its own. Wherefore, the glorification of springtime fabrics lies in the fit perfectly into the prevailing mode.

Plain colors have equal prestige with prints for street wear. The former are likely to remain in the category of high styles, while the latter possess sufficient diversity to give almost every woman an opportunity to don a print and look different from her neighbor (or worse still, some one else's neighbor).

Fabrics for evening show the influence of the weaver, too. Sheer chiffons and georgettes now come in double and triple weight. Pure dye flat crepes, either printed or plain, and the flat chiffons are outstandingly smart in formal dress.

A newcomer in the realm of diaphanous materials is silk organdy lovely when printed and just as charming in plain, clear pastels. Wonder of wonders, it may be washed. The tub evening frock is something for which women have longed these past decades.

Chiffons are fascinating. In the double warp genre they are plain, sometimes they are printed, and again show woven or fanonne designs.

TELEPHONE ASSESSMENT CUT

COBALT, Jan. 2.—The act of the Legislature which relieve telephone companies from assessment on all but their long-distance lines, and which was assented to on April 3 last after passing the House, was held to be effective for the year 1930, according to judgment given by Judge Haverson on an appeal by the Northern Telephone Company, New Liskeard, from the Court of Revision of Coleman Township. In consequence of the court's ruling, the assessment was reduced from $2,863 to $202.50.

Leafs Blank Americans Last Night

Primeau Makes The Play For Both Of Conacher's Scores.

REAL DONNYBROOK

Maroons Beat Senators; Bruins Take Rangers; Hawks Win.

TORONTO, Jan. 2—Goals scored by Charlie Conacher and Harry Jackson in the third period gave the Maple Leafs a 2 to 0 decision over the New York Americans at the Arena Gardens last night in one of the scrappiest games of National League hockey witnessed here this season.

The victory put the Leafs in third place in the league standing, one point ahead of the Americans. It was the Star-Spangled team's first defeat in their last eight starts. A near-capacity crowd witnessed the struggle, which developed into a Donnybrook in the final period when the teams, playing under high tension in an effort to get goals, indulged too freely in rough play and the inevitable blow-off came.

Four major penalties were handed out during the fracas. In the second period "Red" Dutton of the Americans took matters into his own hands and drew minor penalties. While they were off "King" Clancy and Georgs Patterson began to exchange blows in a corner near the Toronto goal and in a few seconds all the players on the ice, with the exception of Roy Worters, who couldn't make the weight, were embroiled in a fine old fistic struggle which had ten minutes to run unpaid. It took about three minutes for the officials to separate the combatants. Fortunately, the remaining players on the bench and those in the penalty box did not rush out on the ice or a general free-for-all resulted when interference would have resulted.

Two Clever Goals

The first goal came a few seconds after the ten-minute mark of the final period had passed. "Red" Horner started a rush from Toronto blue line and carried the puck to the Americans' defense where he passed to Joe Primeau. Conacher was left uncovered on right wing and Primeau's pass enabled him to stickhandle his way right in on Worters, draw the clever little goal guardian out of position and backhand a shot into the net.

The final goal came six minutes later and once again Joe Primeau, who is still bothered noticeably by his injured hand, accounted for the play. He gave the youthful left winger, a neat pass clear of the New York defense, and Jackson emulated Conacher by going right in on Worters and leaving him no chance to intercept the puck.

Close Till

OTTAWA, Jan. 2—The tenacity of Montreal Maroons made Ottawa Senators break their New Year's resolution was a sincere one. With eight straight losses behind them the Ottawa National Hockey League representatives played Maroons to a standstill at time in their engagements here last night and twice drew up to even scoring terms but were unable to cope with the dogged-ness of the Montreal rangers, especially in the dying minutes of the rugged contest.

A goal by "Hooley" Smith in the next to the last minute of the struggle broke a two-goal deadlock and gave Maroons victory, three goals to two. "Babe" Siebert provided the pass for the winning tally and crowned an excellent night's work for it was Siebert who had accounted for the previous Montreal counters, both on solo efforts.

Rookie Leader Stars

Although defeated, Senators were far from disgraced. They appeared to have hit their early-season stride, their combination efforts being exceptionally brilliant, and their ninth consecutive loss was more than due to the near-perfect netting of Dave Kerr, Maroon recruit of this season from the amateur ranks. The game was rough

Should Be Two Close Tilts For Local Squads

Victoria Tangle with Markham Squad at Rink, Starting at 8.30 Tonight

SHOULD BE CLOSE

Midgets Open Their Season With Game Against Bobcaygeon "Kids" There Tonight

Both Lindsay teams swing into action tonight when the Midgets journey to Bobcaygeon for their opening tilt with the "kids" of that town, while here the big attraction is the game in which the Lindsay Vics are entertaining the Markham stalwarts in the opening game of their schedule. With a certain number of the faithful are expected to make the trip to Cavgeon, the major attraction for the greater number of the fans will doubtless be the Markham-Vics tilt scheduled to go on at 8.30 tonight, and from all accounts it should be a battle well-worth attending.

Both Teams Strong

Tonight Lindsay and Markham will resume, after five years' in other groups, the rivalry that was so strong at that time, and which made the Markham quint the best drawing card in the local group. The visitors are reputed to have a fast smooth-working forward line, and a hard-hitting pair of defencemen as well as a good net guardian. As for the local their chances seem decidedly brighter than they have been in the past for some time. In goal they will start Norb ("Cooney") McCloy, and on defence will have Harold Fever and Art Wileman to guard the citadel. The forwards will be Buffins Reeves at centre, and Cliff Rich and "Greeny" Williams on the wings. A team is only as strong as its reserve strength Lindsay should be good as its substitutes, or second-line are as good as the regulars. They are: Buster Martin at centre, and Jack Crafton and Jack Dames at the wings. In "Ike" Eberts the Vics will have a more-than-ordinary goalie to fall back on in case of injury to McClory in this first game. This year Manager "Sandy" Sandercock has been faced with a real stiff job in picking his squad, and the team which performs tonight is only a part of the really good material he had at his command. It is by no means the regular team, and changes may be made on tonight's performance to strengthen the Vics for their next game. There were so many good players out this year, that picking a team is a ticklish job and the manager is proceeding along the latest lines of giving everyone a chance either now or in the future to round up the strongest aggregation possible.

Midgets At Bobcaygeon

While the intermediates are strutting their stuff in the local arena the Midgets will be opening their schedule with a game in Bobcaygeon. Last year this Pencilon-Bobcaygeon Lindsay group was one of the closest of races before Lindsay was declared winner. The Midgets are back with five of last year's regulars back, to repeat the feat again this year and the Bobcaygeon "kids" figure on putting the first dent in their armour tonight, so it should be quite some game. The juniors will start "Ng" Stephens in goal, Leo Begley and Russ Payne on the rearguard, and Mills, Spratt and Gernier on the front division. Alternates will be Ashford, Parsons, Campbell, and Pat Campbell, substitute goal-keeper. Bobcaygeon has a smart little team to go against the locals, and any Lindsay fans who take the trip will certainly not be disappointed in the hockey displayed. Doug Thornthwaite of Manilla, will handle the bell.

IN-TURNS AND OUTS
Activities of The Curling Club

New Year's Day saw eighteen games at the Peel Street rink, and in most cases the contests were very close.

Flavelle and Carlisle had a very exciting game in the morning draw. The latter had his winning streak stopped, but not before an extra end was played.

Scott and A. J. Woods staged a low scoring game over on ice one during the morning. The final score was 9 to 5, which represents the lowest score of any game this season.

Bert Everson seems to like his curling. Yesterday the barber ran off three games and succeeded in winning two of them.

The L.C.I. branch of the club will swing into action on Monday, January 5th, and will hold their last scheduled game on February 11th. Six rinks make up the personnel of the club this year, and the trophy played for will be the E. G. Irvine, won last year by M. Fulton's quartette.

Final plans have been made regarding the District Bonspiel being staged by the local club on January 14th. The latest is that a consolation event is being arranged for those unlucky rinks of the first round draw. All rinks except those in the finas for the man event can compete in the consolation event, and there will be prizes for the winning rink.

Three 'four' ends were chalked up in the Frost-Fee game with the winners getting the odd one.

Number 'Thirteen' is one of the most popular numbers in the scorebook this year. Evidently the skips haven't any regard for this number.

Local entries in the District Bonspiel are coming in in increasing numbers. About twelve rinks have already signified their intention of entering the playdowns for the right to represent the local club.

Among the entries for the Bonspiel is one from the L.C.I., made up of four of the skips from that club.

Don't be surprised if they pull through; stranger things than that have happened.

Here's wishing them luck.

Ice conditions were perfect yesterday, and the rinks were well used to the fullest extent.

Results of yesterday's games were as follows:

Anderson 14—Smale 6.
Skitch 12—Everson 11.

WASHINGTON TEAM BEATEN BY ALABAMA

Crimson Tide of Alabama Sweep Over Cougars of Washington State Yesterday

LONG PASSES

Seventy Thousand Spectators See Southerners Pass and Run Cougars Into Ground

ASADENA, Cal., Jan. 2—Alabama brought a great football team out of the south to defeat Washington State college 24 to 0 yesterday in the sixteenth playing of the annual tournament of roses game. Seventy thousand spectators saw the game through in a slight drizzle of rain.

The crimson tide made their victory a convincing one with three sensational touchdowns in the second period against the husky Cougars.

Washington held its own in the final quarter and threatened to score, while Alabama, after scoring a field goal in the third period, could not again get its attack to function.

Two long passes by Jimmy Moore, end, to John "Flash" Suttner, and Ben Smith, end, a 42-yard end run by John Campbell brought the two touchdowns for Alabama in quick succession in the second period.

"Ears" Whitworth, a big guard, was pulled out of the line to boot a perfect placement from the 30-yard mark in the third quarter that ended the scoring.

GREAT COMEBACK

NEW YORK, Jan. 2—The Boston Bruins, staging one of the greatest comebacks ever seen in Madison Square Garden, defeated the New York Rangers 4 to 3 in an overtime National Hockey League thriller last night to stack their third year of triumphs over the Rangers. The last time the New York Rangers beat the Bruins was late in 1926.

Trailing 3 to 1, less than three minutes before the end of the third period, the Bruins scored two quick goals to tie the score, then added the winning counter early in the overtime session. Marty Barry, tall Bolton centre, accredited Joe Jerwa of New York as the hero of game when he scored one of the two goals that tied the count and passed to Dutcher Gainer for the other. "Red" Beattie made the winning tally on a fine unassisted play.

SCORING CARNIVAL

CHICAGO, Jan. 2—The Chicago Black Hawks held a scoring carnival last week at the expense of the Philadelphia Quakers, winning by 10 to 3 to take undisputed possession of second place in the National Hockey League race.

The smallest crowd of the season, 7,500, watched the match, but they saw plenty of hockey. Young Franklin Ingram was the big scorer for the Hawks with four goals, while "Hib" Milks headed the Philadelphia attack with two. The Philadelphia Arena lost the Hawks' manager to get by the rough Quaker defense only once. They found the combination in the second session and almost chased the Quakers out of the building. "Chuck" Gardiner played a fine game in goal for the Black Hawks, the three goals against him coming after he had made great saves of previous shots. The rest of the Hawks' netting was split up among Desjardines, Goltzman, Ripley, Couture, Miller and Cook. Total, four more big goals, tied the season's record set by Ottawa and Canadiens several days ago.

"The Gringo Privateer"

By Peter B. Kyne

Kenneth Burney, adventurer, and one-time gentleman, comes to Bradley Bardin, king of the cattle country, for a job. Burney has had a fight with Martin Bruce, a rival cattle owner who has been stealing the king's stock, aided by Miguel Calleges, a Mexican bandit. The King asks young Burney's style, offers him a job of getting the cattle-thieves. Burney accepts though he knows it means a fight to the death. He meets Muriel, the King's beautiful daughter.

CHAPTER 6

"Well, if Art Graydon decides to put me on the payroll tomorrow you can probably by the practice of strict economy save enough out of your wages to buy a calf a month. After ten thousand months of this—"

"One month, if you please, sir. Perhaps two, although I doubt it. Then Santa Claus is going to be nice to me."

"Do I look like Santa Claus?" the king demanded, with some indignation.

"Enough like him to pass for his twin brother, sir. I know how much a certain service will personally will be worth to you. I've looked you up and have discovered that you're a great hand to give good help to a good man, so the day after tomorrow we'll discuss the disgusting details." He got up from the table. "If you please, Miss Muriel, may I retire now? I'm tired and I'd like to have a good night's rest before tackling my entrance examinations tomorrow."

"Oh, if that's all that's bothering you," the princess replied generously, "it's soon settled. "We'll just waive the entrance examinations, Mr. Burney. Please sing the Prisoner's Song. It's so awful Dad loves it."

"We will not waive the entrance examinations," her father corrected her. "Don't you interfere with my program for Mr. Burney's future."

"I am taking orders from the king," Burney reminded her with mock courtesy.

"Then go to bed," the princess replied cheerfully. "Thank you for a wonderful entertainment. Break-fast at nine. Good night." s

Ken Burney and the King exchanged brief glances and Burney nodded almost imperceptibly.

"Good night, boy," said the king kindly.

When the king and the princess found themselves alone the girl asked:

"Dad, who is he?"

"He claims to be the son of old Felix Burney, a California cattle man of my acquaintance. If this be true (and I'm not going to take his word for it) he's an American with a slight strain—say one eighth—of Castilian blood in him. Just enough to give him temperament and make him carefree, easy and prodigal. His alleged father is one of the finest gentlemen in California. The old stock, you understand. Fifty years behind time, with its code.

"I have always liked Old Felix but never knew he had a son. I loaned him money from time to time, when his cattle as security, and while I realized that, as an operator, he wasn't a gilt-edged risk, still I could always send a man to count his cattle at any time and find more than the number he represented he owned when making the loan. This boy Ken, says my lawyers closed in on him a year ago and took the cattle for the loan. Well, we were abroad then, Muriel, and I never knew anything about it. My head can't hold every detail of my business. However, if we took the cattle we gave him the best markets price for them and remitted him the difference between the selling price and his debt. Of course, with his ranch unstocked, old Felix has to lease it to some other cattleman, and now Ken says he's retired, and the doctors tell him he hasn't many years to live. I imagine I'll be able to buy that ranch some day at a reasonable figure, particularly if the boy gets himself killed, which he's extremely apt to do."

"How dreadful dad! I wouldn't like to see him killed." the girl remarked thoughtfully. "He's so young and pretty and gallant and so filled with the job of living. He seems a trifle frivolous, but somehow, I think that's just a mask screen to hide a lot of real courage and sound common sense. He strikes me as a gentleman who has just a top-notcher in his own particular line, whereas if this outlaw had been born a cowboy Dad would have shot him to save feed.

"Muriel, this horse had everything. Why, he could wrinkle his back and throw a good man, but his specialty was whirling like a pin-wheel, simultaneously pitching high, hard and handsome on command! He was a four-footed advertisement for the secret of perpetual motion. He just loved to frolic and if he didn't throw you in the first four jumps you fell off. And I knew this because you grazed and if he didn't throw you in the first four jumps you fell off. And I knew this because you grazed and if he didn't have private twice—and in those days it required an extra bad horse to make me extend myself.

General Motors announces a NEW CHEVROLET SIX

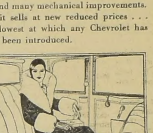
Bigger-Finer Lower in Price

Long 109-inch Wheelbase . . . New Body Lines . . . Roomier Fisher Bodies . . . De Luxe Wire Wheels . . . Important Mechanical Advancements

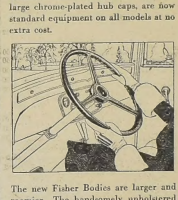
SPECIAL SEDAN—A de luxe car . . . six wire wheels, two in fender wells, and chrome-plated radiator grille standard equipment.

CHEVROLET

TODAY General Motors and Chevrolet are proud to present a new Chevrolet Six. The new car has a lengthened, 109-inch wheelbase . . . added smartness . . . and many mechanical improvements. Yet it sells at new reduced prices . . . the lowest at which any Chevrolet has ever been introduced.



Working with the advantage of a lengthened wheelbase, Fisher craftsmen have been able to design streamline bodies that are far more graceful and beautiful than ever before. Exceptionally impressive is the front view of the car. The radiator has been redesigned . . . it is now deeper and has added distinction. There are new hood sidepanels, resting on a smart tie-bar. De luxe wire wheels, finished in attractive harmonizing colors and with large chrome-plated hub caps, are now standard equipment on all models at no extra cost.



The new Fisher Bodies are larger and roomier. The handsomely upholstered interiors are wider and more comfortable. The driving compartment is insulated with thick, felt-like material on the dash and under the floor mat to lessen engine noise and keep the car warm in winter and cool in summer.

Of course, with the increase in wheelbase of the new Chevrolet, improvements have been made in the chassis. The frame is 50 per cent. stronger. The Lovejoy shock absorbers—front and rear—are more efficient. And there is a new, heavier front axle ensuring strength far beyond all ordinary needs.

An entirely new steering mechanism, of the worm and sector type, gives finger-tip control of the wheel in turning, parking and in heavy traffic. Chevrolet's four-wheel weatherproof brakes are exceptionally big and fitted with moulded linings, which ensure as much as 25,000 miles of efficient service before relining becomes necessary.

All these advancements in beauty, comfort, ruggedness and durability are offered in a car which provides the smooth, quiet, flexible performance of a 50-horsepower, six-cylinder engine. No departure has been made from the basic features of six-cylinder smoothness and extreme economy which makes the Chevrolet Six the best buy of the low-price field.

Bigger—finer—lower in price . . . the new Chevrolet Six is now on display at the showrooms of dealers everywhere. You are invited to inspect the new Chevrolet . . . to ride in it and drive it yourself. If you can afford to buy any car . . . the new Chevrolet Six, at its extremely low prices, is easily within your reach.

Chevrolet's policy has always been one of service to the public . . . The GMAC plan of deferred payments offers the lowest financing charges available . . . and the General Motors Owner Service Policy pledges lasting satisfaction.

The Idol of France, 'Pere' Joffre, Dies And World Mourns

Marshall Joffre

Marshall Joffre, of France, who won the respect and love of the world in the Great War, died this morning in France after lengthy illness.

RECOUNT IS ASKED FOR IN TORONTO

CITY CLERK FEELS THAT ELECTION RESULTS WILL BE UNCHANGED EVEN IF VOTES ARE RECOUNTED.

TORONTO, Jan. 3—That is a matter entirely for Mr. McBride. I endeavored to conduct an absolutely clean campaign, and am desirous of serving only if I am the choice of the people."

Such was the characteristically brief and frank reply of Mayor-elect Stewart last evening when asked if he had any comment to make on the report that Mr. McBride proposed to seek a recount of the Mayoralty vote.

Giving as his reason the possibility of "errors of judgment in the rejection of ballots," ex-Mayor Bob McBride, defeated by a majority of 813 in the 1931 contest for the Mayoralty by Mayor-elect William J. Stewart, stated to the press at the City Hall yesterday that he would ask for a recount.

Mr. McBride, it is said, had been provided with statements from his workers in the lower parts of Wards 2 and 4 where there is a large foreign-born population, that Returning Officers had declared as "spoiled" a number of votes which were meant to be cast for him. After making his statement that he would ask for a recount, Mr. McBride spent considerable time in the City Clerk's office, presumably checking up the statements to learn if there was sufficient matter for the affidavit.

Pearce Goes to Miami

Controller Claude Pearce, a close friend of Mayor McBride during the recent campaign, will leave for Miami immediately, it is said.

Expenses of the recount must be borne by ex-Mayor McBride unless 51 in above there was some ground for it and then the Judge has the right to apportion the cost of the recount. When Colonel Maguire defeated R. J. Fleming by 989 votes in a poll of more than 80,000, Mr. Fleming demanded a recount. Judge Coatsworth changed the majority in favor of Mr. Maguire to 963 votes.

City Clerk James Somers feels sure that there will be little if any change in the result of the election and he base his view on the work of his Deputy Returning Officers and must possess considerable experience and judgement.

Family, Friends and Members Of Staff At Bedside As Gallant Warrior Dies

VISITED CANADA

"Papa or "Pere" Joffre Was Loved By Soldiers and Had Respect of World

PARIS, Jan. 3—(Canadian Press) Death came to Marshal Joffre last of the French military leaders of the Great War, after a fortnight's illness in which it was necessary to amputate his left leg. The marshal would have been 79 years old tomorrow. He died peacefully without coming out of a coma.

Tribute was paid to the memory of the old soldier by Field Marshal Sir William Robertson, who was associated with Marshall during the first two years of the war, "He was a good comrade and a loyal ally" he declared.

The Marshal died at 8.33 a.m.

Tributes also came from Brigadier General Charles G. Dawes, United States Ambassador at London, and Lady Haig, widow of British Army Leader during war.

Joffre visited Canada on two occasions. He was a member of Commission which visited United States and Canada in 1917, and later in 1925. Marshal Joffre passed way home to France after touring the Orient.

Sir George Perley, member of the Bennett Government and Canadian High Commissioner in London during the Great War, paid a glowing tribute to the memory of the dead soldier.

In accordance with the wishes of the dead soldier his body will lie in state in the chapel of "Ecole Militaire" of Paris. It will be clothed in white dolman with golden buttoned uniform worn in colonial. The burial will take place at invalides, the burial place of Napoleon.

Family at Bedside

At 7 a.m. today a hurried telephone call brought members of family, friends and members of the general staff to bedside of dying marshal-Chaplain Bellesoeur administered absolution at 8 a.m. his pale lips closed and Joffre passed into the unearthly silence of the small gathering.

Joffre was dead.

Have Plan To Make New Mart

Would Create Market For Farms and Factories of Britain and the States

FLOAT HUGE LOAN

Vancouver, Jan. 3—The Vancouver Province published the following in its news column yesterday:

Hon. Herbert M. Marler, head of Canada's embassy to the Orient, has been sent to China on a great diplomatic and commercial mission. It is entirely possible that, arising from his visit, Canada will sell 100,000,000 bushels of wheat. But that may be only an incidental of his conferences if plans being worked out in London and Ottawa come into being. Behind the wheat deal is a great project, initiated by Hon. H. H. Stevens, Canada's Minister of Trade and Commerce, for the granting of a billion dollar loan to China, designed to reinstate the values of silver all through the Orient and finally to place China "on her feet" so completely that she will become a huge and profitable market for British, Canadian and American goods.

"Hon. R. B. Bennett merely hinted at the great plan in a speech he addressed a large gathering at Regina on Tuesday evening. He intimated that some constructive movement might have to be made to enable China to buy Canadian wheat in large quantities. He did not attempt to outline the very interesting and stupendous plan which is now being discussed in London, New York, Washington and Ottawa, for the rehabilitation of silver and the general reorganization of Oriental financial markets.

"Generally the plan is to call together the five or six leading war lords of China, who presently are fighting among themselves, and maintaining armies totalling three million men, which is a tax on the population. The project is to "sell" the Chinese leaders with the idea that reducing their armies definitely better off if the Chinese armies were turned into industrial units, carrying out great public works. It is estimated that a billion dollar loan would be available, and the United States (Continued on Page Three)

Owen Sound Mother Found In Corn Silo In Her Own Barn

Mrs. Cosh McCluskey Is Found But Short Distance From Home After Two-Day Search.

IS VERY WEAK

OWEN SOUND, Jan. 3—Mrs. Cosh McCluskey of Keppel Township, near the Village of Jackson, who mysteriously disappeared from her home early last Wednesday morning, and for whom the entire neighborhood has been searching day and night, was found late on Friday afternoon, alive, but in a very weak condition. She was located in the corn silo in her own barn, only a short distance from her home, covered up with some hay, by Sheldon Prisnett of Owen Sound, who went out yesterday afternoon. He had gone there to feed his stock, and, although told that the silo, which was empty but for hay, had been searched with a pitchfork, he poked around with his light, and finally came across the missing woman.

When found she was unconscious, but she was hurriedly carried into her home, while a physician from Owen Sound was summoned. She was chilled to the bone, and the physician stated that she must have perished had she remained there another night. She regained consciousness a couple of hours after being brought into the house, but her only words were that she was weak and faint, and was not permitted to do any talking, but will be given the best of care, and her physician stated last night that there was no reason why she should not recover in a short time under proper care.

Her disappearance on Wednesday morning, after she had got up and started the fire in the kitchen stove was the occasion of the entire neighborhood.

All efforts to find any trace of her in the snow fall-in and over the men were out in search at one time on Wednesday. The services of Provincial Constable Bowman were enlisted, and he investigated the family affairs of the McCluskeys, but the husband could give no reason why his wife should go away in such a manner.

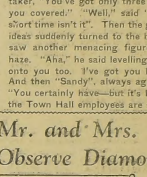
Mr. and Mrs. Silas Jacobs Observe Diamond Wedding

New Mayor

Community Felicitates Respected Couple On 60th. Anniversary of Their Wedding

IN GOOD HEALTH

ZION-MARIPOSA, Jan. 3. (Staff Correspondence). — Mr. and Mrs. Silas Jacobs, of Eldon, Mariposa, recently celebrated their diamond jubilee of married life with friends. Both Mr. and Mrs. Jacobs are enjoying very good health and appear to carry lightly the years they have passed through while watching many changes. The house was prettily decorated in white and yellow with a few sprays of mistletoe.



William James Stewart, who by defeating Samuel McBride, former Mayor of Toronto, by 381 votes, will be Mayor of Toronto for 1931. Mr. Stewart has cut down the Mayoralty on this occasion. Stewart polling 57,500 votes and McBride 57,119.

The table which held the four-storey cake, with starry orchid carried was beautifully laid with flowers from friends far and near.

The two grandsons, Frank and Douglas, lighted the candles on the cake. There were about a hundred guests. This was most natural for in their 60 years of married life Mr. and Mrs. Jacobs have made a host of friends who were delighted with the opportunity to express their good-will to the bride and groom and they also partook of the buffet lunch.

Mr. Jacobs

Mr. Jacobs was born on the 12th concession of Mariposa in 1849 being a son of Mr. Frank Jacobs and Mary Mark who was the daughter of the late John and Mary Mark, and received his education at Taylor's Corners, Little Britain and high school education at Oakwood. He started in the steamboat business while quite young at Port Hoover on the steamer Lady Ida with his uncle, Mr. Thomas Hoover. Girls, This Will Scare You

The other day a news story from Paris described slim manikins standing silently near all the fashion salons of the Rue De La Paix in Gay Paree, sent out a call for their plumper sisters to come and properly fill the gowns that were needed if their paltry forms were to be clothed.

For some time now fashions have called for girls so thin that they have to stand twice in the same place if you're going to see their shadow, but now a change is called for—in Paris as any rate, if not here.

In an entirely informal interview with some fashionable local ladies, however, The Post found that those who have retained their school girlish figures are going to keep them even if they have to lay off the business of the pie and chocolates following the skating party, or if they have to stretch, twist and turn their daily duties each night before they snuggle in between the sheets.

And the ambition to be the glass of fashion and the mould of form is not the only thing that should govern the girls in adding or subtracting avoirdupois. There is the health factor to consider too. As the editor of the Stratford Beacon-Herald says:

"Often we have wondered what effect this craze for reducing weight was going to have. It has swept the country like a plague, and the attack has made itself felt most pointedly on girls between the ages of 16 and 20. Not only our figure, but hair has been secured after a fairly wide examination by experts. They say that around the age of 16 girls become susceptible to ills that are going to affect their appearance, and that after 26 years the urge fill not quite so keen.

"It is recorded that tuberculosis has been encouraged by an unwise cutting down of the diet, but the most recent claim is that there has been an increase in the list of fatalities following operations for appendicitis.

"Medical men state that there is a lack of resistance; there is no reserve strength to overcome the shock which accompanies most operations, and they claim it is due to under-nourishment brought on by a desire to keep down the weight.

"It is well that the doctors should speak out about this, but we have had about enough of it. There are so many slips of girls who seem skewered to the idea that a few pounds of fat is a handicap that is something that is going to spoil their chances and mar their future happiness. They do not want any bulges on their framework; they must be as slim and as straight as a two-by-four scantling. And in order to get this effect they will turn away from wholesome victuals and pick and dab away at a mess of stuff that has not enough beef-nutrition in it to feed a canary from shrinking into the size of a humming bird.

"If we can't get the girls to see beauty in curves and a reasonable amount of healthy plumpness, then perhaps we can scare them into their senses by repeating what the doctors say about their diminishing chances if they have a section of their frame cut out during an operation.

"Hasten away, girls. Gather around the kitchen range and clamor for stews, large slabs of rare beef and other things of substance and life-giving qualities."

War Medals Unclaimed

It will be of great surprise to many, no doubt, to learn that soldiers who fought in the Great War have, in many cases, not shown enough interest to claim the medals coming to them for what they saw service in the greatest war in the history of the world. In many cases the Department of National Defence located men who should have received medals, but in other cases the medals have not been asked for and their rightful owners cannot be found.

The total number of Canadians who earned the right to possess the Victory Medals was 340,245 and of this number the Ottawa authorities have found it impossible to trace 33,224.

It is an interesting situation that more Canadian soldiers than made up the first Canadian contingent have shown so little interest in war medals as to neglect to apply for them.

With regard to the British war medals issued for distribution among Canadian soldiers, similar conditions prevail, for it is officially stated that out of a total of 415,645 of these medals 55,923 still remain undistributed, while 1,800 men who might be in possession of the 1914-15 Stars, showing that they reached the front in the early stages of the war, are still without this official recognition.

Memorial plaques and scrolls given by His Majesty the King to the next of Kin to commemorate the service of those who fell in the Great War or who died later from causes attributable to service, are also available.

If there are any Lindsay citizens who are entitled to these decorations but who have not yet been given, it is suggested that they write the records branch of the Department of National Defence at Ottawa.

Poor Man's Wife Is Heroine

The average housewife seldom gets the credit which is her due. Bernard Shaw, however, in one of his recent plays, refers to the poor man's wife as "a veritable genius." It is not an exaggeration. Trooping down the long corridor of the years there are millions of wives of poor men who have given ample proof of their "genius." They have written no books, painted not pictures, achieved no social distinction. But they have given to the world decent, well-raised children and kept their husbands fairly contented on a sum so pitifully small that the wealthy man would scorn it as cigar money.

All honor to the poor man's wife. Unheralded, unsung, unappreciated, she has been and still remains the main force of our social system. She is the foundation of the Canadian home, doing her duty without hope of reward or praise, and, asking no favors from fate, hopeful only that she may leave the world just a little better than it was when she came into it.

PRESS OPINIONS

PERFECT INEFFICIENCY

(Vancouver Province)

Efficiency is illustrated by a neighbor who had four keys, one for his house, one for his car, one for his garage and one for his desk. He carried them separately in his pockets and every now and then lost one or another of them.

Tiring of this he bought a convenient leather folder containing four hooks, fastened the four keys to the hooks, stuck them together into his pockets and lost them all at once.

CAN STAND MORE BLOWS

(Farmers' Advocate)

Agriculture is in the trough of the wave, and the producer who is most nearly submerged is the one-crop grower who has been depending on grain. The policy may be all right in normal times, but it is financially unstable and in times like these it is ruinously inadequate.

The farmer with some cattle and hogs, sheep and poultry, some cream and a cash crop in the production of which he is a specialist, will stand a lot of bludgeoning before he is really conquered by adversity.

STRONGER SEX

(New York Evening World)

Miss Kate Ralph, of Greenwell, Conn., rises at 5.30 a.m. to do the chores of the thirty-acre farm which she operates, walks three miles to a toy factory where she has worked for forty-six consecutive years, and on her way home delivers papers along the newspaper route which she started twenty-five years ago.

And she has just celebrated her eighty-second birthday.

GALSWORTHY "A REGULAR GUY"

(Philadelphia Record)

When John Galsworthy visits Philadelphia this Winter he will find many veterans of the Great War here whom he has never met. And here's the reason:

He was last in the city 10 or 12 years ago. All the papers were covering his speech, given at the Bellevue-Stratford Hotel, and a group of shy, excited reporters and photographers (instructed to get pictures of the perfect English gentleman") were crammed into a hotel anteroom. The noise was deafening.

Galsworthy entered the room unexpectedly, quietly. He stood framed against the white paneling of the door—a handsome, English gentleman—impeccable swallow-tail, silvery hair and a glistening monocle.

The gentlemen of the press were stunned into complete silence, and not a sound was heard but the clicking of the photographers' machines getting their desired shots.

As the camera became quiet, all eyes were on the figure against the door.

Suddenly every muscle in Galsworthy's body relaxed, the monocle dropped from his eye, he smiled and said, "Well, have I played my part well?"

It didn't take the reporters long to discover that the "perfect English gentleman" was "one regular guy."

CHUCKLES

A SMALL MATTER

"I can't imagine what's the matter with me, doctor, I'm constantly thinking about myself."

"Tut, tut! You must stop worrying over trifles."

FRIGHTENING

"Give me a start!" begged the auctioneer. "I have here a genuine Queen Anne sideboard, the only piece of its kind known to the world. Give me a start! Start—"

"Pourpence!" said someone obligingly.

The auctioneer nearly fell from the rostrum. "I said a start, not a start," he protested.

"Well, you got it, didn't you?"

VACATION

"I suppose if I were to die tomorrow you'd marry some other woman immediately."

"Not right away. I'd take a rest first."

KEPT HIS WORD

For nearly a week Smithers and his wife had not been on speaking terms and upon one of the neighbors got to know about it. The same afternoon she called on Mrs. Smithers.

"What's the trouble about, dear?" she asked.

Mrs. Smithers looked tearful.

"Jim is such a beast," she burst out. "He promised me a big surprise if I learned to cook—and so I had a course of lessons."

"I see," nodded her friend. "And didn't he keep his promise and give you the big surprise?"

Mrs. Smithers dabbed her eyes with a tiny handkerchief.

"Yes," she said, "he did. He went and sacked the cook!"

That Body of Yours

METHODS OF DESTROYING BAD TONSILS.

Your family doctor will tell you that if your youngster's tonsils are large but are not interfering with breathing, the throat is normal and that it is not considered necessary to remove the tonsils.

Where the tonsils are so large that they interfere with breathing, or the youngsters frequently has a sore throat the condition should be removed to escape the possibility of rheumatism and heart disease.

Parents naturally dislike the idea of an operation, and look about for some other form of treatment that will destroy the tonsils without using a knife.

From time to time what is called the electro-coagulation of the tonsils comes into favor. The child goes to the electro-therapeutist, as he is called, and gets a treatment once a week or a number of weeks. There can be no denying that they have been some good result obtained by this treatment, but the fact remains that there is no danger is worth remembering.

However there can be no denying either that there have been a great many failures by this mthod as the near tissue from this burning process often seems over much concern over areas of infection and the condition is worse than before, the electra-coagulation process was started.

Further when the surgeon finally has to remove the tonsils to make a real job of it, he has almost difficult time petting the tonsils away cleanly, owing to the scar tissue.

Drs. Schonfeld and Samuels, Beth, treated 150 children, aged 3 to 13 years for enlarged tonsils, by means of the X-ray.

Of 106 of these cases that were kept under observation in 41 the tonsils returned to their normal size, in 19 there became much smaller than they had been, and in 40 they remained unchanged.

Examination two or three years after showed that in all patients where the tonsils had decreased in size, mouth breathing during sleep had been cured and in the great majority the chronic sore throat had disappeared.

In none of these cases was the treatment followed by any injury to the mouth and throat.

The above information to those parents who dislike the thought of the removal of tonsils by operation.

It is worth much to the child's health and happiness to be kept free from a sore throat.

SUNDAY THOUGHTS

This column is contributed by an Independent Writer Outside the Staff of The Post

THE NEW YEAR

There is nothing peculiar about a New Year's Day to distinguish it from any other day, yet it seems to have a meaning all its own. We are like those who stand on the shore of a new country like the human eye has explored. Every day is a new day, a fresh day, and each day will bring something fresh something new to do, something new to learn. The possibilities of life are unbounded. No one knows what God has in store for him in the days that lie ahead of us.

Everyone knows the story of the church wise man who was to join the other three to follow the Star. He put all his property into a few jewels, when the Star appeared he immediately set out for the rendezvous but he was delayed, to attend to the needs of a brother man, and when he reached the trysting place the others had gone and his help cost him one of his jewels. He reached Bethlehem too late to see the child, but at the cost of another jewel he saved a child from Herod's ire and slaughter. His third jewel was spent in saving a young woman from her captors, and so the three jewels with which he hoped to present to the Babe were gone. He never saw the Babe, and yet he did see him in a better way than the eight stones, and his gift was more acceptable, and so in the communist tasks we can serve God.

May I say to one who believes in the church, write a few words about it. I might write of its glorious past, of all it has done for the world's civilization, of its open liberty. It has produced a type of mahood not equalled anywhere else. I love the church. I have lived in it since I was a baby, and I shall not be angry if you call me the chiefest sinner of them all. For a good many years I have had some connection with the church, and have associated with many ministers and laymen, as well as with intelligent men who had no interest in the church or its work, and I hope this experience has taught me something.

One perpetual danger to the church is the reason for its existence. The real spirit of Jesus has often been hidden by institution that has made name. The early church, feeling the influence of his earthly life, reflected his spirit in the passion that influence faded. To attract the heathen it began to adopt the ritual of heathen religious and make compromises with them. Instead of involved in wars and persecutions that are a disgrace to history. Even though the church today very inadequately represents Jesus in practice, it has been a necessary and helpful institution. To a great extent it has been the policeman of morals, the salt of the earth, saving it from corruption, and a very strong and healthy public opinion, a public conscience that only the hardened dare outrage. Sorrowing and bereaved comfort within its walls but in promoting their own concerns, instead of the interests of the kingdom. Its members have discarded the real reason for its existence.

I sometimes wonder that the mass of our people, living a hand to mouth existence, are as good as they are. I often grow angry with the respectable people, myself among the number, who show such a discrepancy between our profession and our performance. I can sympathize with the outsider who often sees no difference between those who call themselves Christians and those who make no such claim. Many of us forget that our church membership commits us to a way of life different from that of the world.

I believe in the future of the church, it will see triumphs greater then it has ever known, but that day will never come until we cease to be conformed to the world and mind our conduct correspond with our profession. Jesus laid the emphasis, not on quantity but on quality

The church may be a going concern, but it may be going in the wrong direction. In the days to come it is going to be increasingly judged by what it does.

The decreasing attendance at our churches has become so plain that even the thickest skinned optimist is beginning to take notice. Within three miles of my boyhood home there were eight churches, today there is one. There are one and three-quarter millions less pupils in the Sabbath Schools of England than in 1905, so this cannot be looked upon as a recruiting ground for the church. The Bishop of Durham doubts if the Christian religion can survive the decline of the Christian church.

Irreverance has spread through the land like a disease. If we lose our reverence for God, then reverence for womankind, children and marriage will disappear, and our civilization will break up.

The year 1931 lies all before us. We can make of it what we will by God's help. But we must set about to duct up to what we profess and the New Year will be bright with hope and happy with the service we have made sacrifices to render.

Suffered With Pains In The Back

Relieved By Taking Dodd's Kidney Pills

"For two years I suffered with pains in my back," writes Mrs. Fred Casey, 3 Douglas Lane, Amherst, N.S. "I tried different remedies but none seemed to do me any good. After taking a few boxes of Dodd's Kidney Pills the pain left me and I always keep them in the house now in case the pain may come back."

Many men and women suffer needlessly with backache as middle age approaches, the pain increases in severity.

Rest may give temporary relief, but Dodd's Kidney Pills do much more than that. They strengthen weak kidneys and remove the cause of the pain.

ABOUT AFRICA SPEAKS
—THE STORY—

"Africa Speaks" differs from all other films of the kind in that it is not only a dynamically stirring record of jungle adventure—but a continual romance of the lives, loves and hates—jealousies and triumphs of the people of the trackless forests.

Exploit after exploit reaches the high-water mark of thrilling dramatic conflict—between man and man —man and beast—man and woman—in a simple primitive land where might is the rule of life, where force is taken by brute strength its food and pleasure.

From the Atlantic Ocean to the Indian Ocean the path of the story stretches—across the black throbbing heart of the untouched Congo. Weird customs, wild dances—age old rituals of worship to the gods of fertility, of love—flame in the background, accenting the panorama of cruelty, sensuality and amazing feats of heroism.

Through torrents, marshes and almost impregnable tropic fastnesses to Kiya Be— whose women wear long wooden disks inserted in their lower lip which gives them the appearance of grotesque ducks. But they were beautiful once these women! And—to the African eye—still would be if they weren't disfigured. The Arabs caused that, sweeping out of the desert in search of comely black girls. And they found them in Kiya Be. The greedy marauders came back again and again and their repeated raids depleted the tribe—until the women are forced to distort themselves to avoid being enslaved by the Bedouin chiefs.

The pygmies! The little chattering people—who fascinate by their childlike appearance—have brought trial marriage to a perfected state that would shock the sensitive and fascinate the modern mind. It is hard to sympathize with strange sins—but to those pygmies it is as natural as eating or drinking!

The deadly female sharpshooters of the jungle—the mortal poisons secrets lost for ages, whose touch means instant death.

The hand-to-hand struggle with giant lions— the beating of drums heard and obeyed for hundreds of miles—the women of Africa dancing to a phonograph record with perfect jazz steps—the swarm of locusts that cover the sky as far as the eye can see, blotting out the sun, forming a canopy of insects over the earth.

Sensation piled on sensation—hundreds of inconceivably queer moments framing an emotional drama of startling intimacy and revealing action. The death-laden, heart breaking, breath-taking romance of Africa's elemental men and women.

Africa speaks comes to the Academy Theatre for four days, starting Monday.

WHEN YOU CAN SEE AFRICA SPEAKS

Africa Speaks—rated as the strangest film ever shown comes to the Academy theatre for four days starting on Monday. You can see it at the following hours—every evening at 7.30 and 9.15, every day at the special school children's show at 4.15, and at the regular Wednesday matinee at 2.30. Regular matinee and evening prices prevail at all respective showing.

Above all things! "Don't Let Africa Speaks" leave town without seeing at least one performance—you'll remember it as the strangest E-motion ever filmed.

Concert and Play Are Big Success

On Friday evening, December 19, laughter rang louder in Reaboro Community Hall than for some time. The occasion was the school section No. 9, Ops, was not by any means decreased in the concert and play which was ably presented there that evening. Almost every family of the community was represented.

A couple of very pleasing violin selections by the Pogue brothers held the attention of the large audience until the ruling of the curtain at 8.15, when Mr. Walter Reed, chairman for the occasion, came forward with a rather lengthy program. The first number being a welcome chorus by the school which was enjoyed by all. Following this were recitations, dialogues, drills, etc., also by the pupils.

After these numbers were received the curtain rose again, this time giving the young people an opportunity of presenting their play "Two Days to Marry," which was ably carried out by all present. The little alone made one desirous of seeing it. A remark, "Too bad such talent is buried on the farm" was heard while the play was being enacted.

The scenes were that of a living-room in the home of James Dare, a society man, who, according to his father's will came into possession of a million dollars on his twenty-eighth birthday, providing he was married by that time. However this clause was overlooked and not until two days previous to his birthday did Dare discover the situation. Meanwhile six darkie butler's delegated to find a wife who agreed to fix matters up for him, which he did. Results providing much to Dare's discomfort. The comical situations which followed fast and furious were enough to have made a hoot hoot laugh.

The play drew to a close about 11 o'clock and all joined in singing "God Save the King." The seats were then cleared away and the remainder of the evening spent in dancing.

Much credit is due Miss F. Rutherford, teacher and director, also the play cast including Mabel Thorn, Gilbert Windrim, Muriel Windrim, Gordon McNevin, Wendell McNevin, Tommy Pogue and Artie Pogue all of whom played excellent parts in the evening's entertainment.

Club Euchred New Year In

While others danced the year in and ate old year out, the Euchre Club met in large numbers in their club rooms under the Fire Hall and euchred the old year out and the new year in, with a closely-played tournament and a delightful social evening. In the euchre, the prize-winners were Rev. MacArthur town, and Mr. Capstick, of Bobcaygeon. After the year had been successfully euchred out the host and hostess of the evening, Fire Chief Herb and Mrs. McCallum, served dainty refreshments to the guests and then the presentation of gifts and the expression of felicitations for the coming year followed.

With First Deputy-Reeve Jas. B. Begg acting as master of ceremonies, Mr. and Mrs. McCallum were presented with tokens of appreciation from the firemen, presented by Mr. Jack Graham, and from the euchre club, presented by Mr. G. F. Blackwell. Fire Chief McCallum made a neat reply thanking the firemen and euchre club for their thoughtfulness, on behalf of both his wife and himself.

Then the most fun-provoking part of the program was attended to when Mr. Frank Armstrong was announced the winner of the skunk pribe, and presented with his "trophy" for losing the most games in the past year, and the euchre tournament was continued.

Obituary

RUBY GERALDINE PURVIS

CANNINGTON, Jan. 3—(Staff Correspondence)—A gloom was cast over this vicinity on Christmas Day when the message was received of the death of Ruby Geraldine Purvis which occurred at Wellesley hospital, Toronto, earlier Christmas morning. The late Miss Purvis who was in her twenty-fourth year was born in Brock township near Cannington and was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Purvis, Cannington. She received her education in Ellis Public School, Cannington Continuation School, Lindsay Collegiate Institute and Shaw's College, Toronto. Miss Purvis was a very talented elocutionist, having passed her Junior and Senior Examinations in Elocution at the Shibley Mc'Neil Studios, Toronto.

During the past three years she has been the private secretary of E. P. Snyder, 24 King Street West, Toronto, and by efficient service won for herself the complete trust of her employer.

The late Miss Purvis was one of Cannington's most popular young women for by her kindly, happy disposition she won the friendship of many by her talents, which were above the average were always generously given to assist in every needy cause. She was a member of the United Church of Canada and was keenly interested in all branches of church work.

After passing away quietly at the age of 24 years, after a two weeks' illness came as a shock to her host of friends. She leaves to mourn their loss her parents and one sister, Amy at home.

The funeral was held on Saturday December 20th from her parents' home on Munroe Street, Cannington and proceeded to the United Church where a beautiful service was held. Rev. R. A. B. Nicholson having charge. Interment was made in Cedarvale cemetery.

The pall bearers were cousins of the deceased, Charls Purvis and Garnet Hanblyn, of Toronto; Byron Rich and Norman Lindsay, of Lindsay; Earl Dure, of Brechin; and Jackson Purvis, of Cannington.

The floral tributes were many and beautiful showing in a small way the high esteem which the deceased held in the hearts of the people.

Those form a distance at the funeral were from Toronto, Stouffville, Pickering, Sunderland, Lindsay, Oakwood, Beaverton and Brechin.

Show Appreciation

A resolution was passed giving expression to the appreciation of the society for the splendid work done by Mr. F. W. Sutcliffe as president of the Children's Aid Society.

The remuneration of the assistant secretary, Alex Clark, was left to the the finance committee.

It was decided that the board of management be called to meet first week of every month to be notified by the secretary. Any changes to be left to the discretion of president, secretary and treasurer.

All meeting will be held in the Council Chambers.

Rev. Mr. Grier, in a few well chosen words, spoke of the wonderful work accomplished by Mrs. Sharp during the past thirty-six years, and made a motion, seconded by Mr. Staples. M.P.P., "That this society, recalling the magnificent services of Mrs. Sharpe for 36 years as secretary, place itself on record as highly appreciative of that service."

During all these years Mrs. Sharpe has given of her best powers unstintingly, doing a noble work in the interests of childhood and youth almost unobserved and always singlehanded, the value of which to Victoria County and humanity in general can never be measured.

As she is soon to retire to enjoy a well earned rest, it gives this meeting much pleasure to order that this inadequate expression of its sentiments be spread upon the minutes of this society.

Mr. Staples in seconding this motion spoke in glowing terms of the splendid work of Mrs. Sharpe, how she had given of her best years for the uplift of the under-privileged boys and girls in this county, even when the remuneration was slim or nothing.

Mrs. Sharpe in reply said that she appreciated very highly the resolution just passed, and always felt that she was called for that work and that no power can separate her interest from the work of the Children's Shelter.

Miss Allely also spoke very highly of Mrs. Sharpe's work during his connection with the society.

It was decided that the auditors for 1930 should also do the work for 1931.

For several years Hon. H. H. Stevens has been a close student of the silver question, especially in the aspects which have wrought depression and disaster to China, India and other Oriental countries. From a top altitude of $1.39 per ounce, silver has fallen practically to 30 cents in the world's markets. Oriental people have their own wealth largely in whatever hoards they have of silver metal and the virtual collapse of silver has meant stupendous loss and disaster and has helped in bringing about a great unsettlement of trade and of the actual business of living in these Oriental lands."

"Gringo Privateer"

By Peter B. Kyne

SYNOPSIS

Kenneth Burney, adventurer and one-time gentleman, comes to Bradley Bardin, king of the cattle country, for a job. Burney has had a fight with Martin Bradley, rival cattle owner who has been stealing the King's stock, aided by Miguel Gallegos a Mexican bandit. The King, liking young Burney's style offers him the job of getting the cattle-thieves. Burney accepts though he knows it means a fight to the death. He meets Muriel, the King's beautiful daughter. Muriel, who is more interested than she cares to admit, tries to persuade her father not to let Burney tackle the cattle thieves.

CHAPTER SEVEN

"Well, my father was always a bit stingy with me. He made me work for every dollar of spending money I ever had. Consequently, I learned to take ten thousand dollars away from him and after a while I figured out a way to enforce them. I bet six thousand against his ten and reduced the bet to writing so there wouldn't be any argument about it afterward, because I knew my father would crawfish on me if I gave him a real opening. So I carefully stipulated every rule—and they were hard rules, for the old man saw to that.

"We argued not so much about relaxing the rules that I got his mind off cold important points and he signed up without noticing his error in failing to stipulate the place of execution. That left me free to choose it, so I chose the dry, sandy river bed of the San Andro. The old man man no objection. He figured I'd picked the sand of the river bed to save myself from getting as badly hurt, when I was thrown as I would be on the hard ground of the corral. Anyhow, I was his son and he was willing enough that I should have the best of it in falling; so he sat his horse real grim-ned like a fox and I was glad the boys helped me saddle the outlaw.

"Now this was not to be a rodeo ride, where you start out of a chute and finish when the pistol goes off, which is when the judges figure you've done your best and the crowd has done his worst. This was to be a contest to a finish, winner take all. Fortunately I knew this horse's habits. When you first forked him he'd make four broad jumps, with his back arched, and come down hard each time. If that didn't dislodge the trick he'd stop and do his stuff within an area of twenty feet. He'd let you get comfortably set in the saddle if he was kept blindfolded. So I faced him in the direction I desired him to buck, an assistant removed the blindfold and we were off.

"On the second broad jump he was out of the firm sandbar and into the stream, where about two inches of water flowed over something my old man didn't know existed at this spot—and that was a patch of quick sand about eighteen inches deep. A sensible horse would have started to bog out of it the moment he felt his front feet doing down, but this horse was a lunatic and a creature of habit, besides. He had had to make his four broad jumps or bust, so he made them—and discovered it was still there. So he stopped and started to work on me in earnest, only to discover I'd outfoxed him as well as my old man.

"Then he decided to abandon his stuff because, in that sandy quicksand, he couldn't get any footing at all. He just stood there and was blowing and sweating and trying to climb out. I wouldn't let him and there I was, convinced that the ambition was out of him and I scratched him fore and aft until he stood still under it and just kept me in the saddle.

"Of course Father screamed murder and tried to make a charge on me—and got stuck. So I had him tied up back on the written bet, so finally he paid it. Years later he admitted he'd saved him a million dollars by giving him a liberal education in the matter of covering all the possible contingencies in a contest.

"As I recall Grandfather," Muriel retorted, "he was a ten-minute egg and you've had a million. I want you to give that Ken Burney a good job on one of your California ranches. You have no right to permit him to risk his life in your employ here.

"Well, it's his business, honey. He has a man's right to roll his own hoop."

"But don't you realize, Daddy, that you're just suborning murder by proxy, dear?"

The king was irritated. "There's entirely too much to-do made over the value of a scratch these days," he growled. "A lot of loose thinking and sticky sympathy wasted on the killer but none for the victim. This boy, Ken Burney, can kill Martin Bruce in cold blood and then, with my money and political influence back of him, can plead not guilty by reason of insanity and a jury of twelve good boobs and true will turn him loose to kill somebody else. Of course, just to appear orderly, they'll send him to an insane asylum but he can come right up on his neglected reading for three months; then the doctors will examine him, declare him sane and he will go back to his friends and be congratulated on two counts—one for going insane and the other for recovering."

His mood changed suddenly. He chuckled. "And that young idiot tackled Martin Bruce in his own bailiwick. Lord, what a lion-tamer the boy would make!"

"He isn't an idiot," the girl defended.

"I don't understand his modus operandi," the king continued, "to gather that he took Bruce by surprise, disarmed him and then made a monkey out of him. Undoubtedly at real fist fighting, he could have stretched Bruce in half a minute. Yet he preferred to annoy him, to humiliate him by slapping him, to enrage him, to so imbue him with hatred and a yearning to even the score as to make a killing inevitable the first time they meet. Muriel, I'm certainly stuck for that boy's funeral expenses unless he consents to listen to reason.

The girl was exasperated. "But you're encouraging him not to listen to reason," she protested. "How can you be so inconsistent?"

"I'm not inconsistent. This young fellow has made up his mind to bring himself forcibly to my attention by doing for me something he knows will please me very much. He's heard some gossip around our camps, has put two and two together and made four. I don't know what his plans are but I suspect they will be very beneficial to me. I suspect that the first round table at his ranch will be the disembowelment of old Martin Bruce, but whatever his plans are, they're his and I have no business to interfere.

"You forget, my dear child, that I started young and that I'm an old man now. All of my lieutenants who started with me are old men, too. Old age in the executive is what atrophies a business and kills it dead. I'm getting off. I'm going to leave you an atrophied business, to be handled by old men. I need new blood in my business—young blood, bold blood, clean blood.

"I'm going to start with Kenneth Burney and give him a try-out; notwithstanding the fact that I have known him but two hours. He's going to be a general manager for El Ranchito. He fascinates me, Muriel. Of course I could send him away to another ranch where he'd be found to be a peaceful and safe as a monk's in a monastery. But I don't want to and I know his conduct's going to be a job, because he'd feel he hadn't earned it and that I was trying to be nice to him as a sop or consolation for closing out his father's cattle."

Midgets Win And Victorias Lose In Games Last Night

Victorias Lose First Start To Markham here Last Night

Lindsay's Entry in Intermediate O.H.A. Race Fail to Maintain Pressure Necessary for Goals

POOR SHOOTING

Should Have had Game on Night's Play. But Could not Hit .the Net at All

Starting off with a goal from Rich's stick off Wiltsie's rebound, a split twenty-six seconds after the face-off, Lindsay Vics were unable to maintain the pressure that means victory, and were beaten by Markham from a Markham team, which they should have beaten, in a rugged contest at the Lindsay Street rink sale. last night in which some good hockey for this early in the season was displayed. Much of Lindsay's loss can be directly credited to poor shooting by the forwards, who did not bore in enough, and who were content on the centre ice play and let one go. On the night's play excepting that one all-important fast-start-from-the-whistle, and the edge on the visitors, both of their goals coming on direct combination plays, as Rich and Williams, while one of the Markham tallies was scored by a Lindsay player attempting to clear from a scramble in front of the net. They scored as close all the way and in the last period the local front division did not even get the rush in the Markham citadel only to fall short in some cases by inches.

Referee Fans

A. W. ("Army") Armstrong, of Oshawa, was the referee and had things under control at all times, watching everything, particularly body-checking very closely. Nineteen trips to the penalty box were made by all, with Markham serving ten and the locals accounting for nine of them. The ice was keen for the affair, the crowd of about 450 witnessed the match and were well-pleased with the hockey displayed for the opening game of the season.

First Period

Markham took the west end of the rink to start and with right after the face-off ("Greeny" Williams collared the old 'boot heel and blazed a shot at Wiltsie, which the Markham net-minder from over on left wing and Rich following in fast, took the rebound and beat him five-footed for the first tally. Immediately of the game only twenty-six seconds after the puck had been dropped. For the rest of the first period Lindsay dominated the play, and kept it in the Markham territory, but were unable to register, the period ending with the score 1-0.

Second Period

Starting the second session things began to look like a rugger with both teams handing out the bumps right freely. In this frame the second line were given the Markham supporters some ten moments as they worked in on the nets. And Markham for their part were finding down on McCloy who was forced to handle some difficult shots. Then penalties hit the locals as at once and with only three men on the ice Crosby, Markham centre, worked through them all and left McCloy not a chance in the world to save. Then Lindsay started another goalward rush and Rich entered the pucks to Williams who flipped it in for Lindsay's second score.

Third Period

Starting the third period Markham was playing defensive hockey and Lindsay was working up for a score but they just couldn't deliver. Time after time they rushed only to break on the Markham defence before they got a chance to shoot. This period was featured by the roughest hockey of the tilt. Both Lindsay's first and second line worked hard and were down in the Markham end most of the time but their shots were not on the net, and as the end of the fastest period of them all the score still stood 3 to 2 for Markham.

For Lindsay, Williams and Rich on the forward line, Fever on the defence and McClory in goal were good, while Markham... standouts were Bennett on defence and Crosby at centre.

The Teams

The teams: Lindsay, centre, E. Reeves; right wing, L. Williams; left wing, C. Rich; defence, A. Wiltsie, Fever; goal, N. McClory; alternates, I. Eberts, J. Crafton, J. Dames and C. Martin; Markham, centre, H. Crosby; r. wing, J. Prentice; l. wing, M. Clendenning; r. defence, D. Hare; l. defence, M. Rescor (goal), F. Lonsdale; alternates, R. Crosby, J. Bennie and B. Hagerman.

Summary: 1st Period

1—Lindsay, (Rich (Williams)... 20
1—Markham, Rescor 7.10
2—Markham (in scramble) 14.00
Penalties, Clendenning (2); Martin (1). Fever (2).

2nd Period

3—Markham, Crosby 14.20
Penalties—Lindsay, Williams (Rich) 14.55
Penalties—Williams (1), Martin (1), Reeves, (1), Crosby (2), Clendenning (2).

3rd Period

Ports Take Kitchener In Fast Game

Rough Going As Lakeshore Team Battles Way To Two Goal Victory Over Kitchener.

GOALIES GOOD

Stiff Bodychecks By Both Teams; Kitchener Could Not Score on Moore, Port Goaler.

PORT COLBORNE, Jan. 3—Port Colborne O.H.A. seniors defeated Kitchener here last night, 2-0, in their fifth encounter of the season. The score was just about an indication of the games, since Port Colborne had most of the play, although Moore, in the Port net, was called on to make several half-breath saves. After starting out rather sluggishly for the first period, play became faster in the second period when Morril scored the first goal on a shot from the blue line that went between Shirk's legs. The defence men of both teams started to hand out illegal body checks and inside of three minutes Herne, Hudson and Fritz all visited the penalty box. Fellbaum, at centre, on the Kitchener substitute forward line, was dangerous at all times and on several occasions worked his way in close to the Port Colborne goal only to be stopped by Moore in the nick of time.

Molson worked hard throughout the game and created several scoring chances. Shannon was about the best for the Port Colborne squad, and although he scored only one goal, was successful in slick-handling his way through the Kitchener team on more than one occasion. Morrell bolstered the Kitchener team considerably with his clean checking tactics and broke up many rushes. "Dinty" Moore, in the Port Colborne goal, turned in a fine performance and more than once saved what looked like sure tallies for Kitchener. Port defence man, helped considerably in roughing the play in the last period.

The final period produced the best hockey and the most exhilarment of the game. Wade and Schmalz each drew a five-minute penalty for fighting, and Shirk were

Morenz Was Goalie Once

Since yesterday we have learned that Charlie Conacher and Art Bailey of the Toronto Leafs are not the only National Hockey League players who started out as goaltenders, before giving up that nerve-wracking job in favor of a forward berth.

* * * *

A reader informs us that Howie Morenz, the "flying dervish" of the Montreal Canadiens, once essayed a goal-tending role while playing amateur hockey back in Mitchell, Ontario, in the long, long ago.

* * * *

It was back some fifteen years ago when Morenz went into the nets for the Mitchell club against Stratford juniors. Apparently Howie didn't much of a success between the pipes for Stratford pushed 26 goals past him. Morenz's own version was the better part of valor and tossed away the goal pads eventually. For which supporters of Les Canadiens are no doubt truly thankful.

Juniors Take Their First Game

Last night the Midgets won the first game of their season when they took Bobcaygeon into camp by a 2-1 score after ten minutes overtime. The "kids" played nice hockey and for all but the final ten minutes played nice combination. They have from last night a bunch that should work itself into a smoothly-playing outfit. From goal out, while they are not flashy they are certainly dependable and pretty steady. If the kids keep playing hockey the way they started they should have even more success this year than they did last. They have started their season off right—here's hoping it continues the same way.

Important Games in N. H. L.

With the Leafs at strength once more, they are playing like an inspired team, and Howie Morenz and his Flying Frenchmen are in for a hectic battle if the Leafs play up to their form of the last two games. The punch of the "kid" forward line is functioning once again, and with "Ace" Bailey, Harold Cotton and Andy Blair playing better than they have during the last two seasons, the Leafs will be very, very hard to beat.

* * * *

In Montreal, the Bruins and Maroons will renew their old feud, and this should be a strenuous game. If the Leafs vanquish the Flying Frenchmen and the Bruins beat the Maroons, a three-cornered tie will exist in the International section. But a win for both the Canadiens and Maroons will probably drop the Leafs back into fourth place, as the Americans have an easy game tomorrow night when they engage the Philadelphia Quakers at Madison Square Garden.

Intermediates Will Be Shaken Up

While the juniors were winning their game in Bobcaygeon, the Vics lost the first game to Markham, when they might just as well have won on the night's play, but for the fact that they could not get the puck in the goal than did the visitors, but on what shots they were. All the local sharpshooters were off-color and missed the net every time.

* * * *

Poor shooting alone was enough to overcome but defensively the locals were weak. And with regard to forward lines, the second line seemed to work harder and force the play more than the regulars, although it was the regular forward line that netted Lindsay's goals and they seemed more effective in this case, but they seemed to slow up more than the "kids" did—maybe it was just a case of too much New Year's goose, this time.

* * * *

However that may be, beaten and all as they were the locals nevertheless displayed some pretty nice hockey throughout the evening and the game was that kind of an affair that should draw crowds to the Vics' home games. In places it was pretty spotty hockey, but then this was the first of the season and nothing more could be expected. The team which played last night is the team for one, and if nothing else the defect served to pick out weaknesses which otherwise would not have been apparent.

* * * *

Next game should see a shake-up and there are lots of games left in the schedule at which the Vics will be given an opportunity to redeem themselves with wins.

Midgets Pull Out One-Point Victory After Overtime

Three minutes afterwards, Spratt, right wing for Lindsay, was carrying the puck down his wing, and passed the opposing blue-line, getting set for his shot, when Nichols stepped into him a little harder than is usually necessary to stop the puck carrier, and having scattered Miller into the boards, and along the ice on his face, was given five minutes major penalty for his pains.

Half way through the period Begley, unassisted tied the score, when he eluded the wing-line, and shot between the defence, beating the goalie before he got set. Score, Bobcaygeon (Nichols) 2.00; Lindsay (Begley) 10.00; penalties, Aumont (Begley) major, Nicholls (major).

Playing hockey that was flashy and the kind the fans like to see, both teams were wide-open in the third period, each determined to break the tie, no matter what the cost. Midway after the period opened, Wright, playing defence for Bobcaygeon carried the puck through the wing-line, and was just about set for a try at goal, when he collided with Begley, knocking both down and Wright out.

The last overtime was played as hockey games should be played, clean with only two penalties marring the play. No score. Penalties, Lindsay, Begley (2).

Overtime

One and a half minutes after the overtime period began, Gerster on a beautiful pass from Begley, beat Nichols from close in. The next eight minutes saw Bobcaygeon on the offensive, with four men up and Lindsay holding everything to prevent another score. Score, Lindsay, Gerster, 1.

The game was handled satisfactorily by Doug Thorndale, of Minden.

Line-ups.

Bobcaygeon—Goal, A. Nicholls; defence, Wright and Wright; centre, C. Johnson. K. Kelso; centre, Conway, subs, Kelso, Carty, Johnson.

Lindsay—Goal Stephens; defence, Begley, Payne; centre, Spratt r. Gerster 1; centre, Mills; subs, Ashmore, Parsons and Campbell.

Foresters Hold Annual Party

Large Number Attend Oyster Supper Followed by Play; Dance Ends Entertainment.

JANETVILLE, Jan. 3—(Staff Correspondence)—The Forester's Hall was the scene of a gay time on New Year's eve when the Foresters held their annual oyster supper, which was partaken of by a large number of people. The supper left nothing to be desired, being most plentiful, in fact quite a lot were left over, and plenty of delicious pies and cakes and salmon was also served for those who did not care for oysters.

Following the supper a most excellent play entitled "The Millionless Millionaire" was staged by the dramatic club of Dr. Bloskoboh United Church. The play was really good and all took their parts exceptionally well. Following the play the Foresters certainly put on a splendid night's entertainment which was thoroughly enjoyed and appreciated by all.

On Monday evening, Dec. 22nd the annual Christmas tree and entertainment was held in the Presbyterian Church here. A splendid concert of recitations and dialogues was put on entirely by the children with some songs and other music. The tree of course was the feature of the evening and the children all went home happy after their visit from Santa Claus.

A new portrait of General Sir Philip Antrobus, C.B., D.S.O., the new Commander-in-Chief of the Indian Army. The General received a rousing welcome on his arrival at Bombay recently to take up his new duties. He was former Chief-of-Staff of the Army Headquarters in India.

ROBBERIES IN MARKHAM ARE SOLVED

THINK ARREST CLEARS UP RECENT SHOPBREAKINGS IN MARKHAM AND STOUFFVILLE

MARKHAM, Jan. 5.—Clever work on the part of Constable Walker, of Markham, resulted last night in the apprehension of Victor McArthur, who is being held in connection with robberies carried out during the past few days at Markham and Stouffville.

On Monday night last the jewelry store of Harvey Wideman at Markham was broken into and a number of wrist watches and other articles of jewelry taken, while on the following night the poolroom of Joseph Borinsky at Stouffville was entered and robbed of the day's cash takings and a quantity of cigars and cigarets.

The police were without a clue to either robbery until on Friday night McArthur is said to have peddled wrist watches to citizens in Stouffville who notified the police who in turn identified these as having been stolen from the Wideman store at Markham. Immediately Constable Walker communicated with Chief Syd Barraclough at Richmond Hill, and armed with a description of the man, a close lookout was kept for him.

On Saturday night Constable Walker passed himself at the entrance to the Markham Arena as the hundreds of skaters arrived for the customary week-end frolic. He soon picked out a man answering the description of McArthur and, after charging him with the two robberies, took him into custody to the Jail Farm at Langstaff. When questioned there he at first denied any knowledge of the robberies, but later handed the Chief Barraclough, is alleged to have admitted his guilt and confessed to both.

The officials had so told them he had gained admission to both places by breaking the window panes. On visiting the farm of Albert Hawkins on the Ninth Concession of Markham, where McArthur was employed, the officers claimed to have located a number of cigars and cigarets which were stolen from Borinsky's poolroom at Stouffville, they say.

McArthur had been in Canada two years, and came from Scotland. He had worked some time at Newmarket previous to moving to Mark ham. He will appear in the county Police Court on Monday to answer charges of breaking in and theft, and is now held without bail.

In Burmley 3,500 Weavers Walked Out in Strike of Nine Cotton Mills

ASKED TOO MUCH WORK

LONDON, Eng., Jan. 5.—(C.P.)—South Wales coal miners today asked the Labor Government to step in as arbitrator in the Labor dispute which has tied up important South Wales mines and about 140,000 men out of work. A deputation met Emmanuel Shinwell, secretary for the mines, here today and Premier MacDonald was expected to take part in the conference before it ended.

BURMLEY, Eng., Jan. 5.—(C.P.)—Nine cotton mills in this busy spinning town shut down as 3500 weavers struck against the owners' demand that each weaver take over double the number of looms he has previously operated. The question has been the subject of fruitless conferences between men and employers for weeks.

LONDON, Jan. 5.—A week of crisis opens today for the economic life of this island with the immediate fate of two great industries hanging in the balance.

Efforts to end the South Wales coal dispute, in which 140,000 miners quite work last week, killed Saturday following negotiations between miners and operators. Today the men will take their case direct to the Government.

The miners voted to quit work after the owners insisted that wages be reduced in order to compensate for a new schedule of hours—that is—the seven-and-a-half hour day established by the new Coal Mines Act. The men have been idle since that Tears' Day when they issued work at the expiration of the temporary agreement on wages and working hours.

Public opinion seems to sympathize, to a large extent, with both sides to the dispute. The operators claim foreign coal, produced by cheap labor, working, in some countries on a five-day week, already make competition by the British product almost impossible. A cut in hours, unattended by a reduction in wages, would be suicidal for the industry the owners claim. The men, on the other hand, say simply that a reduction in wages would lower their standard of living to an almost unbearable point. Between Scylla and Charybdis compromise is considered most difficult.

Situation in Cotton Industry

In the Lancashire area, leaders of the cotton weavers have threatened to withdraw their men from all the looms in the eight-loom-per-weaver system goes into effect today. The weave claim attendance at eight looms by a single worker will increase unemployment and will ultimately force lower wages.

Comparatively few mills will be affected at first. It is said that the eight-loom plan will only go into effect in a limited number but it is feared that sympathetic strikes may spread to the mills retaining the old system. More than 200,000 men might eventually be involved.

CANDIDATES AT FENELON MAY SPEAK

HOUSE-TO-HOUSE ELECTIONEERING IS GENERAL IN CATARACT VILLAGE AND PUBLIC MEETINGS WERE POSSIBLE

FENELON FALLS, Jan. 5 (Staff Correspondence)—Monday, June 5, being election day at Fenelon Falls, electioneering appears to be general, and all candidates are quite active. Instead of house-to-house canvassing at least two public meetings should be held, was the general feeling. In this way every candidate could express his views publicly, and thereby prevent or contradict the many rumors that are usually spread. Some are very harmful and some deliberate discrepresentations of facts.

NEW AUTO LICENSES ARE HERE

NICE BRIGHT BLACK-ON-YELLOW PLATES ARE BRIGHTENING UP OLD CARS; SHOULD BE BOUGHT NOW

Lindsay's licenses for 1931 have arrived—in a certain extent. By That is is meant that the total shipment has not come yet but enough have been sent to keep W. E. Agnew's office going until the rest arrive in a few days. Only passenger licenses are on sale at present, all commercial licenses are in the delayed shipment. The licenses this year are handsomely finished with black letters on a bright yellow or orange ground, which should make them quite visible to traffic policemen and quite enough reason for car owners to drive circumspectly.

Lindsay's series starts off with EH801, and will continue on through the alphabet, moving up one letter as 999 is reached each time. The Letter "I" has been cut out this year as it look enough like the figure "1" to be confusing. W. E. Agnew told The Post that he thought about 4,000 licenses would be issued from here this year. Chauffeur's and operator's licenses have arrived, and the rush should soon be on for these and car licenses.

Pope Is Expected To Speak Against Mixed Marriages

Expect Him To Prohibit Divorce And Speak Against Birth Control Recommendation Recently Made.

TO BE ISSUED SOON

ROME, Jan. 5.—A reiteration of the strict Catholic doctrine regarding marriage is expected in an encyclical which Pope Pius will issue this week.

Far from making concessions to modernistic trends, it is understood the encyclical will hark back to the first principles of the church—restating Catholicism's utter disapproval of divorce and emphasizing the doctrine that only by continence within the married state can families be limited, without transgressing the church.

This re-statement, it was generally assumed, would be the Pope's answer to the episcopal bishops' qualified admission of birth control in certain cases, emanating from the Lambeth conference in London last Summer.

Mixed marriages, those between Catholics and non-Catholics, are also expected to be the subject of special comment. It is generally taken for granted that the Pope will condemn them, and therefore forbid granting dispensations for such, unless must extract a written promise from the non-Catholic contractant that all children born of the marriage must be brought up in the Catholic faith and that the non-Catholic party will in no way interfere with the Catholic party's fulfilment of religious duties. At the same time the duty of the Catholic party to pray unceasingly for conversion of the non-Catholic spouse and by force of example in piety of life induce to such conversion is expected to be enjoined anew.

Stirred By Recent Royal Wedding

The Pope was represented as being stirred to this by the recent wedding of King Boris of Bulgaria

While Speeding On Frozen Lake They Tried Hurdling Open Space

PETERBORO, Jan. 5.—Speeding their cars on the ice of Chemong Lake, a form of amusement now popular among motorists nearly ended in disaster for two cars recently. One, driven by Kenneth Weldon, suddenly came upon a short stretch of open water. The driver, unable to turn, endeavored to hurdle his car over the stretch of water. The front wheels did clear it, but the back wheels struck the opening and the car hung suspended half in and half out of the water. The passengers disembarked quickly. After some titanic efforts the car was salvaged from its perilous position.

The same fate almost befell another vehicle, but it too was drawn out upon firm ice.

New Mill

Word was received in town today that Mr. Sam Bryant, whose sawmill was recently burned to the ground in Verulam, is beginning immediate construction on a fine new mill to be erected near the site of the old mill. This shows a faith in the future of Canada and the lumber business that is a credit to Mr. Bryant.

BOUNTY CLAIMED IN ALGOMA FOR 581 WOLVES IN YEAR

Sault Ste. Marie, Ont., Jan. 5—Evidence of the success of Algoma's war against wolves is the summary of 581 wolves caught last year and recorded for the bounty. Twenty-five predominated in the catch. The wolves were taken from all over the district, from as far north as the forks of the Albany river and southward to St. Joe's Island. A report comes in from Batchewana that wolves are doing considerable damage to deer in the yards some miles back in from the Batchawana road. Workers on the Batchewana road extension have seen many wolf tracks in the area.

SO LINDSAY GOT A NEW LIBRARY

GEORGE A. POWLES, OF FLORIDA, OFFERS 30-YEAR-OLD LETTER CONCERNING LIBRARY TO PRESENT LIBRARY BOARD.

The following letter has been received by The Post from Mr. George A. Powles, Box 2337, West Palm Beach, Florida. It was written on January 1st.

"Thirty years to-day, the first day of a new century. I sat in my home in Chicago debating the human impulse to retrospection. My mind turned backward to Lindsay and the days which I had spent as a wonded under R. L. Dobson and later under W. E. Tilley, precious memories. I wished there was some way in which a grateful heart might do something to repay a kindness to the first town I ever saw.

Acting there an hour, I uncovered an idea, soon expanding to a thought, and, taking up my pen, I wrote a letter to the Mayor of Lindsay than "The Mayor of Lindsay, Ontario." Having mailed my daring venture, I held my breath lest, not for the fortnight till I received an answer from his honor George Ingle newly-elected provost of Oppidville.

What was it all about? It was about that idea, aforesaid, for despite Henry Drummond, whose freckled hand I once grasped, an idea may be the greatest thing in the world, if it is great enough.

Yes, Mr. Ingle, whose ruddy face I remembered, thought my idea good and promising for Lindsay, which was that the town should communicate with one Andrew Carnegie, whose readiness has changed since, and seek a public library at his hands. He said he had mentioned the matter, as I suggested, to the Presbyterian minister, named MacMillan, who thought "It would do no harm to try." Lindsay has not yet.

I have Mayor Ingle's letter yet, which the library management may have for the asking.

The Roman year used to commence from the Ides instead of January which explains the names October, the "eighth month," and December, the "tenth month."

Sir Joseph Flavelle's Biography

Was Born and Educated in Peterboro, and Lived For Short Time in Lindsay

HAS BROTHER HERE

The following brief biography of Sir Joseph Flavelle, well-known and highly respected in Lindsay, is taken from The Toronto Star Weekly.

In October 1927, just two years before the bubble of security prices burst and revealed the precarious heights to which business in general embarrassed had climbed, Sir Joseph Flavelle stated: "When the present stock exchange boom will crack, I do not know. I do not know what will happen when it does, or what circumstances will lead to it. I do not know what will happen when the inevitable reaction comes from a period of expansion. We cannot always deal in superlatives. There comes a time when psychologically the human family, cannot go on and then we feel the reaction; we will say we were all fools."

Certainly these were not the words of a "market prophet;" nor the statements of an economist attempting the sensational. They merely expressed the feelings of a student of human nature, who refuses sorrowfully deserved his fellows ignoring the existence of maxims which, through broad experience, had become to him inviolable laws and to be treated with impunity.

It is not to be wondered that Sir Joseph, now he has more time to devote to such things, should be in demand, as a speaker on business conditions, as a preceptor of youth and as a commentator on matters of national moment. His experience of opinion needs no other authority than his measure of personal success and background of achievement.

His quiet but confident acceptance of even the most arduous duties in the advancement of the general good has been an outstanding feature of a career which has all financial and personal backing have been a large factor in furthering institutional and educational work in his native province.

His position as head of the Ontario Industrial Research Council has resulted in his being invited him to the fore frequently of late as an enthusiastic advocate of more scientific methods in industry and producers in meeting problems of modern business. In numerous addresses he substantiated he has stressed the possibilities inherent in the foundation for improving conditions and efficiency in Ontario industries and urged a wider use of the facilities provided by this organization. He has expressed belief that the research council will serve to h the exodus of Canadian workers to other countries and the retention of a still more important role in the period of hard work which, he claims, must precede complete recovery in industry.

Head of Large Undertakings

Sir Joseph was born and educated in Peterboro, started in the provision business in that town with his father and after a short stay in Lindsay came to Toronto in 1897. Five years later he was appointed

The first O.H.A. game of the season will be pulled off at the local rink tonight when the Belleville Juniors will meet the Lindsay entry in what promises to be a sing-dong battle. The Bay of Quinte team is coming up strong with the intention of winning on local ice, but the local youngsters will have something to say about the result.

The Fenelon Falls 109th Company have ordered a team in the local town league, and as that town has been noted in the past as a hockey centre, they will add to the quality of the hockey played and helps make the competition more keen and exciting.

Lady Hughes has received word from Col. Wallace Scott, of Moore Barracks, Hospital, Shorncliffe, that the boxes of three hundred and twenty Christmas stockings had reached there in splendid condition and in plenty of time for Christmas.

Mr. Albert Duck, who made such a splendid run for the Second Deputy-Reeveship in Monday's election, is a thoroughly popular gentleman. There are three vacancies in the council.

Quilting Parties

Quilting parties have been looked on for years by local ladies' lodges as a means of raising funds and, as well, a way to pass a pleasant social afternoon. Few ladies' lodges in this district have not had the pleasure of quilting at least one quilt a year in the past, and in many of the rural lodges the custom still retains the favor of the ladies.

Not only do the ladies get a pleasant measure of pleasure out of their cup of afternoon tea and informal chat as they gather around the frame on which the quilt is stretched, but there is always a good deal of fun out of the party at which the quilt is disposed of, if it is auctioned off as is the usual procedure.

It is not in the province of the male man to suggest that the ladies are up to all the tricks of the quilting trade, but one noticed that interested us may be worth passing on.

The Alma Record says: "Speaking of quilting parties, which are the rage now, Sam Shrimb, of Halifax, says when he was a boy and the women had a quilting party, the girls put a cat in the quilt when finished and all got hold of it and opened it. The girl toward whom the cat jumped was supposed to be the first one to get married. These days when a girl wants to get married she just goes out and gets her man without waiting for the cat to jump."

Whether the last part of our contemporary's remarks is true we cannot say, but it is a good thing to note that quilting parties are "all the rage now." Perhaps now instead of those afternoon card parties and cold suppers the ladies will have the pleasure of answering the telephone to hear Mrs. So-and-so tell him to tell the Mrs. to come on over this afternoon and bring her quilting hook, or whatever they call the necessary implements.

Has Winter Started

"When is winter going to come," is the query of most people after this latest thaw, and from the country our answer comes: "Search and seek." Little Britain seems to come assurance that Old King Winter has not any more than secured a firm seat on his throne—the winter months. Mrs. William Harris, wife of a well-known farmer, living just this side of Cameron, while coming in from the yard the other day noticed a moth on a twig, quite alive and seemingly ignorant of the fact that it is now supposed to be winter. And on the same day Mrs. Robert Goodhand, from near Little Britain, saw a caterpillar running himself on a fence.

Whether the appearance of these two insects at this late date is a sign that it is going to snow blue or not remains an unsolved, if not known, but such is said to be usually associated with the balmy air of summer rather than the blustery month of January.

For the benefit of any doubting Thomases Mrs. Harris brought the moth in a box to The Post where it has been named Cedric and will now be placed in the list of Post mascots along with Algernon, the frog, and others.

Only the other day a news story from Penelon Falls contained information about a caterpillar that was crawling along the railroad tracks in a generally northern direction, and about a long robin that was singing Christmas carols. And a couple of days ago a robin, thought to be the Penelon Falls' lone robbin's wife, was seen winging her way Fenelon Falls-ward as though late for an appointment.

Uncolored News

Mr. Louis Wiley, business manager of the New York Times, has been appointed to the United Press Association in Chicago. He told his audience that never had there been a time when a newspaper had a more interesting world to cover, and "there has never been a time when the newspaper man was making a greater effort to give the public complete, accurate and non-partisan news." It is true that some readers of history are told lately they do not like to hear, think that the newspaper man is exaggerating or misleading; the proof of the pudding is in the eating. Experienced newspaper men who are free to find and tell the truth rarely mislead their readers.

PRESS OPINIONS

WHAT THE UNITED STATES NEEDS
(Toronto Star)

It is said that one hundred and fifty girls now in prison are to be pardoned by Governor Roosevelt of New York state because they were "framed" by the New York police. Has the country of Washington, of Thomas, Franklin and Jefferson come to this?

Did Russia under the czars or is Russia under the Soviet doing anything worse than "framing" one hundred and fifty young women and wrongfully sending them to prison? Governor Roosevelt needs to recall Roosevelt, but can he pardon the guiltless as rapidly as they are being wronged?

UNTIMELY POLITICS
(Oshawa Citizen)

It is quite possible that some overzealous partisans in the civil service enrolled actively in the last election campaign. Some allow themselves to be carried away in the great battle of words.

After the election, strange to say, nothing is ever heard of governmental inquiries into the partisan activities of workers in the civil service favorable to the winning side. It is part of the game only to investigate the conduct of alleged partisans on the losing side.

In ordinary times, when the country is quite satisfied to be lumbered up with party battles between Tweedledum and Tweedledee, it may be of little consequence whether the cabinet is sitting for hours in council to discuss the dismissal of Opposition henchmen, or to distribute patronage to faithful equines.

It is doubtful whether the Government can wisely take time at present, however, to engage with this political bee-hive. It is liable to be set afire in a national panic. The government of "Canada First," as against party first, should have something more urgent on hand for the next few months.

FARMER JOKE WORN OUT
(Toronto Globe)

Farmers, for many years have been the butt of the professional jokesmith, whose work appeared more like amateurs to intelligent persons.

Isn't it about time to let up on the farmer?

"Send $5," a farmer was asked, "and learn how to stop your horse from slobbering." He did and the answer came: "Tell him to stop." That is a sample of the stuff that is put out as wit at the farmer's expense. Who are we to make the farmer the victim of this "humor?"

Any one, however, the fellow with hayseed in his hair and a wisp of straw in his mouth, does not exist now, if he ever did. Put the farmer on city streets, now, in his every-day clothes and he would be taken for rough clothes, and he will match up pretty well with any other business men.

One cannot distinguish the farmer from the banker in town. And if you have an inclination to take the farmer's mind apart, we believe you will find it stocked with just about the same good material as that of any other business men's mind. The farmer joke is passe.

BALMY WEATHER IN SOUTHERN ALBERTA
(Lethbridge Herald)

We are a week from the Winter solstice and the shortest day of the year, with midwinter in sight in what the calendar tells us. But so far as Southern Alberta is concerned the calendar tells us nothing in the wonderful weather we are enjoying. Were it not that we have the reminder that Christmas is nigh, we could easily deceive ourselves into believing that the Winter is past and Spring is here.

"Our Lady of the Snows" is but a myth in Southern Alberta where the sun god rules, bringing with his bonign rays joy to man and beast. It is a case with us of the unstable and the balmy weather, of the "little hills rejoicing on every side" and, with the snows that have vanished, "the pastures clothed with flocks." To put it another way, the sunshine is a wonderful tonic. It raises the spirit of one with nature's warm smile bestowed instead of her frozen frown, and to the other it comes as a blessing with the green of the field seen for its sustenance.

The lot of those who are borne down by hard times with its privations is greatly mitigated by the sunshine and the warmth of the season. In this there is a measure of thankfulness. Things might be far worse were we in the rude grip of Winter.

"Man," said the other, "did ye no ken that there's aye maist sown o' the best crop?"

DIFFERENT CAUSES OF HEADACHES

Some years ago in trying to find out the number of conditions that may cause headache, I listed over twenty, so that just how many there really are I am unable to state.

However headache is a serious matter for the physician trying to treat it and also for the patient. Just how much pain the patient is suffering and just what type of pain, only the patient knows, and to just how he describes the pain, and its exact location is the only guide the physician has in diagnosis for the trouble.

The first step, as Dr. A. W. La-Forge, Chicago tells us, is to find whether the pain is due to some condition inside the head itself or from some other place in the body. Headaches due to inflammation in the brain itself have a sudden, onset, fever, terrific pain on both sides, without any relief, last for a few days only, and cause stiffness of the neck.

Pain due to pressure of some kind in the brain can cause headache which are more gradual in onset, last longer, intense pain without any periods when one is free from pain and are not relieved by the usual headache remedies.

Thus the outstanding symptom of headaches from the brain itself is intensity of pain with no interval of relief.

Headaches due to ear conditions results from acute infection. The pain is one sided, and most severe right at the ear or immediately behind or below it.

Headache due to eye strain is not as severe as any of the above. It is more of a tired feeling following long use of the eyes and occurs in the afternoon or toward evening. It is relieved by resting the eyes.

Pain from gas formation or constipation is also severe. It is more can be in the forehead, top, or back of head, and is often relieved by belching up gas, or by intestinal movement.

Pain from nose and sinus conditions is not uncommon. The pain while not as intense as in the above conditions, is very persistent. In fact its persistence is its outstanding feature. The pain is in forehead above the eyes or at side of forehead, and usually not always on both sides. These headaches occur mostly in the colder months of autumn, winter and spring, associated with head colds.

I'm suggesting no remedies for any of these headaches as each requires its own method of treatment.

A number were there from the Baptist Church, Lindsay, and assisted towards the program.

Among some of those were the Rev. Mr. Fleming, who gave a short address and enthused the audience with his singing and in joining with him. The instrumental solos of Mr. Dougins Clarke were greatly appreciated, also the others who contributed towards the program from the Lindsay group. Mrs. Wm. Edwards played the choruses for the children.

In the absence of the pastor, Rev. H. A. Mellow, the pulpit of the United Church was occupied by Rev. Grubb, returned missionary from Finland, Halifax, and the Church of All Nations, Toronto.

‡ Just picture it. At 55, while still well and vigorous, to come into a private income (over and above other revenues), guaranteed for the rest of your life, of $100 a month. You simply make yearly or half-yearly deposits of an agreed amount for a specified period, at the end of which you begin to receive a monthly income for life.

That's only part of the story. If, meanwhile, through sickness or accident you should become totally disabled, you cease paying premiums and receive $100 a month during such disability. At age 55, the regular income of $100 a month, unimpaired, comes into effect.

Look how your family is protected. Should you die at any time before reaching 55, your family receives ‡ $10,000.

Sir Joseph Flavelle's Biography

general manager of the William Davis Co. Under his management the firm expanded to include not only other packing plants but a chain of several hundred stores. He became president of the company in 1912 and was head of the Harris Abattoir Co. for several years. He sold out his interests in both companies in 1919.

Senator Cox, also of Peterboro, was influential in effecting his entry into the banking business. Sir Joseph was elected to the boards of the National Trust Co., Canadian Bank of Commerce and many industrial organizations. In 1903 he purchased the Toronto News in which he undertook to have been an attempt to establish an entirely independent newspaper. He retired from this field in 1910 after maintaining considerable financial loss. He became head of the Robert Simpson Co., disposing of his interests in that concern last year in one of the largest financial deals in Canadian history.

Despite his manifold business affiliations Sir Joseph has been an aggressive figure in public service work since the opening years of the century. In 1905 he was appointed to the Toronto board of license commissioners. The following year he was created an LL.D. of Toronto university and elected chairman of the royal commission organized to recommend a plan for reorganization of that institution. He and Lady Flavelle have been identified with university activities for many years and have given a number of scholarships and other gifts.

On Hospital Board

From 1903 to 1921 he was a member of the board of trustees of the Toronto General hospital. To his initiative, ability and generosity is given the bulk of the credit for the erection of the new buildings on College St. He is connected with the Canadian branch, British Red Cross association, and the Toronto branch, Victorian Order of Nurses. Throughout he has been an active prohibitionist and worker in the Methodist and later The United church and is chairman of the board of governors of the West China Union university.

Exceptional tribute was paid his genius for organization when in 1918 he was appointed chairman of the imperial munitions board, a position he held for the duration of the war and was then followed by the baronetcy, a hereditary title, was conferred on him in 1917 in recognition of services in facilitating production and forwarding of war supplies. In 1920 he was made chairman of the first Canadian board of the Grand Trunk Railway at the time it was being taken over by the Canadian National Railways.

In politics he is an Independent Conservative but has never been a member of either house, preferring to pursue his way free of the confining influence of party obligations. The Flavelle home, "Holwood," in Queen's Park, is one of Toronto's finer residences and contains, besides one of the first private organs installed in the city, many beautiful paintings of which Sir Joseph is an appreciative collector. He is an ardent patron of music and for many years has followed the activities of the Mendelssohn choir with keen interest.

Pope Is Expected To Speak Against Mixed Marriages

to the former Italian Princess Giovanna. Although both parties to that royal match gave the Pope written pledges on the foregoing points, there was an attempt on the part of the Orthodox Bulgarian clergy to make it appear the second ceremony in Sofia was the real binding one, whereas the Pontiff had been assured beforehand it would merely be in teh nature of a civic rite registering the marriage already contracted at Assisi.

The president of the Bulgarian Orthodox Synod in the course of a speech to the newlyweds in the Sofia Cathedral congratulated Boris on "founding a real Orthodox dynasty."

After issuance of the Pope's encyclical it is believed the contracting of mixed marriages, both among royalties and common folk, will be more difficult. It is taken for granted that in the future parish priests, in the first instance, and bishops, in the second, will be held to a strict accountability in exacting the guarantees the church requires.

RICHARD COURT

Last Wednesday one of Lindsay's most respected citizens was laid to rest, when the funeral of Richard Charles Court, who died suddenly on Monday morning was held from his late residence, Wellington Street. OMEMEE

OMEMEE, Dec. 31. (Staff Correspondence)—On Monday night the Anglican Sunday School pupils, their teachers and friends gathered in the church for the annual Christmas tree and distribution of prizes. The varied program of recitations, songs and tableaux given by the children as well as a short play called "Bethlehem the House of Bread," given by the senior pupils was enjoyed by the gathering which filled the basement.

The distribution of certificates, rewards and bars to the winners was the next item. Two members of the Sunday School have eight years attendance to their credit and were given the sixth bar to their class pins. These pupils, Miss Margaret McQuade and Mr. Howard Bent have been most faithful students since the "Cross and Crown" was started in the school eight years ago.

Santa Claus was warmly welcomed by all and distributed toys and candy to the smaller ones and boxes of candy to the older pupils. At this point Mr. A. Hill, people's warden, made an appeal for the Sunday School and asked the parents to back up the efforts of the superintendent, Mr. Jack Bent, who on his appearance on the platform got a hearty clap for his work with the school.

Friday afternoon the pupils of the public school had a very happy time when the parents and friends of the children gathered to enjoy the concert and exchange of gifts. The pupils and friends of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Sunday School spent a very pleasant time on Monday night when the annual Christmas tree and tea for the children was held in the basement of the church. Mr. Smith, the student in charge of the church, was chairman. Mr. Teddy Marsh as Santa Claus was very popular with the children.

AMUSEMENTS

"AFRICA SPEAKS"
ABSORBING FILM OF JUNGLE LIFE

Picure Called Unique Record of Exploits In Congo.

Thrilling and rare entertainment occupied the screen of the Academy theatre to-day where "Africa Speaks," an African adventure film with sound effects opened for a four day's run. The film, released by Columbia Pictures, depicts the absorbing adventures of Paul L. Hoefler, Columbia explorer, on a daring trip through the hitherto unsolved regions of the dark continent. From a scenic standpoint it is magnificent, while the intimate glimpses of native life are fascinating from a news angle.

Apparently Hoefler and his courageous band managed to penetrate into the deepest jungle of the dark continent. Practically every type of native is shown—from the giant Wasara of the French Congo, to the pygmies of the Ituri forest, who reach reach a height of fifty-seven inches. Religious rites and tribal dances of these natives are among the features of the production. Many of their customs, heretofore a mystery, are revealed.

Animal Views Thrill

Picture shots of lions, elephants and other jungle beasts were taken at amazingly close range. The thrills these afford are enhanced by one performance.

Sound effects, The results are absolutely astounding. The cameramen deserve special commendation for their bravery and ingenuity. Particularly effective are photographs of Masai spearmen in hand-to-hand combat with huge lions. This is without doubt the greatest motion picture of jungle exploit and adventure ever filmed. All the thrills of an African jungle hunt with none of its dangers are brought to you

The disk-lipped Ubangi savages who have aroused so much comment of late are shown in their native habitat. It is all extremely interesting. Columbia is to be congratulated on the presentation of this film, which, on the records of this reviewer, will go down as one of the most interesting screen contributions of the current screen year. It is splendid entertainment.

"Gringo Privateer"

By Peter B. Kyne

SYNOPSIS

Kenneth Burney, adventurer and one-time gentleman, comes to Bread Ice Bardia, king of the cattle country, for a job. Burney has had a fight with Martin Bruce a rival cattle owner who has been stealing the King's stock, aided by Miguel Gallegos, a Mexican bandit. The King liking young Burney's style, offers him the job of griding the cattle thieves. Burney accepts though he knows it means a fight to the death. He meets Muriel, the King's beautiful daughter. Muriel, who is more interested than she cares to admit, tries to persuade her father not to let Burney tackle the cattle thieves.

CHAPTER II

"I'm curious about that boy. I want to see him in action. I've got to test him out, even at the risk of his life, for if I do not learn without how am I to discover whether he is or is not worth two hoots in a holler? Somebody has to step into my boots some day, Muriel. Whom have I got? A lot of fine, big, strong men who can ride and pass more and more of their responsibilities down to their irresponsible inferiors.

"What's the use having sharp teeth if you're going to be fed on spoon victuals? I size up that Burney boy as one who is paying proper, plays table stakes; in rolling the bones he prefers one flop and have it over with, his creed is to take a chance, to let the fur fly where the hide—and cultured, educated, highly intelligent gentlemen who abide by that code are as scarce as the dodo. They're the sort of leaders I'm looking for. I want men who are smarter than myself—and I'm nobody's fool."

"And tomorrow night," the girl murmured absently, "he'll be berthed in the bunkhouse with his mental, moral and intellectual inferiors. Yes," she added, "and his social inferiors."

"But not his professional inferiors," the king reminded.

"It will be very hard on him, Dad. Why don't you make him a foreman occupy a room in Mr. Gray-don's house?"

"His latest qualities of leadership will develop more quickly in the bunkhouse," His Majesty, in his wisdom, defended. "I graduated from a bunkhouse and he can do the same or get out—provided, of course, that tomorrow I conclude definitely to let him run. I'm sorry I forgot he was a cowboy and invited him to dinner here. That was a tactical error."

"Why not? He's a gentleman also. I found him charming, delightful and very amusing and you known, Dad, good conversation is quite here. May I not invite him to dinner again?"

"If you care to, Muriel. As a usual thing you have your own way with me."

Ken Burney rose at dawn, bathed, made his way silently out of the king's house and over to the corral, where he found Gray-don. His outfit was piled neatly on the ground just outside the gate, so he extracted from it a clean shirt, a change of linen and some brush, and comb, a small mirror and shaving outfit, tooth brush and paste. In the shelter of the closely lapped corral he changed his linen; at the watering trough, he shaved brushed his hair and teeth, his toilet completed, performed a groom ing service for his horses. After which he sat on the top rail of the corral and waited for the ranch cook to ring the breakfast bell. And when that "cousin of the soup" resounded over El Rancho, Mr. Burney still precipitately from his perch and joined the rush with some forty other men.

Entering the mess hall, he slid into the nearest seat, nodded, murmured "Howdy" to the men nearest him and fell to, in silence, like the others. Nobody paid any attention to him; with them eating was a sacred function, to be gotten over as quickly as possible. Burney ate leisurely, however, lingering to smoke a cigarette over the second cup of coffee, with the result that he found himself alone in the mess hall when Art Graydon, the general manager, entered and took his seat at a small table in a corner. A red tablecloth gave indication that this table was sacred to him.

Graydon was a tall, slim, iron-gray man with iron-gray eyes that had acquired a permanent squint, due to forty years of sunlight and snowfall. He glanced inquiringly at the stranger as he entered, where-upon Ken Burney stood up, bowed and wished him good morning.

"You're hellish polite for a cowboy," Graydon caustically observed curtly. "It ain't necessary to stand up when I come around. Them that's good is reserved for the boss. A mildly humorous gleam came into the quietly eyes as his straight, hard face softened. "Sit down Burney. "Come over to show my boys how the rough ones should be ridden?" he asked.

"No, sir. I came over to see you for a riding job, but while I got into the right church it seems I stumbled into the wrong pew. I met His Majesty first. I thought he was you and asked him for a job. However, he's bought Ed Kennedy's outfit and my entrance examination before he recommended me to you."

"Good old King Bardia," Mr. Graydon chuckled, and smiled a thin, small smile of unmirthful humor, and smiled a thin, small smile of kindred satisfaction.

"So," Ken Burney continued, "it's all the same to you, Mr. Gray-don, if I work for you while I look for a job. I understand from the king that he'd like to see me ride a horse called Gerfonno."

Again Mr. Graydon smiled the small smile of inward satisfaction. "The king must have a grudge against you, mister. And, come to think of it, I've got a grudge against you, mister. And, come to think of it, I've got a grudge against you, mister. Tain't usual for him to pile out this early."

"I dined with him and Miss Muriel last night and slept in a very lovely guest-room with a bath."

Art Graydon paused, apparently overcome by the act of speaking a strip of bacon. "You ot with the king?" he demanded.

"I was fortunate enough to invite me and I was hungry enough to accept. Besides, I got in rather late and didn't want to disturb her."

Evidently this information did not sit well on the Graydon stomach, and Burney was sufficiently quick to notice this. "I hope I've not hold my delinquency against me, Mr. Graydon," he begged. "Credit me with having sufficient good taste to slip out of the castle before the family was up and come here for breakfast. I know my place."

"Glad of it, son. If you didn't I'd show it to you." Graydon added pleasantly. "Now, then, you've come seldom forgets his. Reckon he had his reasons this time. What's your name, mister?"

"Kenneth Burney, sir."

"A mite inclined toward the dark meat, eh? Well, we'll just call you Burney and let it go at that—unless you have to sign the payroll. Of course I ain't sayin' I'll take you on, although I could use a good top-hand just now, but if I do take you on, you remember to keep away from my daughter and don't you look for, and then don't linger to pick wild flowers on the way. The king ain't mean to pelieve. His middle name is Speed. We got to have some discipline here an' handshakin' the king don't go. I play favorites."

This pronouncement Art Graydon made without rancor, without brag or bounce. He meant no offence and Ken Burney understood this thoroughly.

Breakfast was prolonged two hours that morning. In order to accomodate a dozen or more riders who drifted in from neighboring ranches with their bucking horses. From the bench in front of the bunkhouse where he sat awaiting Ken Burney observed a dozen automobiles arrive and deposit their passengers in front of the king's house, and presently the king and the princess appeared, leading their guests down to some raised benches set out under a fringe of box elders on the edge of the field where the rodeo was to be held. A stout fence protected them from injury in the event that a wild horse or steer should attempt to stampede in among them.

Midgets Here Tonight

Midgets and Victorias Battle Have Contests For Tonight

Juniors Will Lock Horns With Fenelon Falls Squad In First Home Game of Season, At Rink Tonight

SHOULD BE CLOSE

Intermediates Will Be Out To Redeem Themselves With a Victory Over Port Perry Squad There Tonight.

Tonight both Lindsay teams, the Midgets and the Vics take the ice for their second game of the season—the Midgets at home, and the Vics in Port Perry. Midgets have already had one win while the Vics took the short end of the score in their game, so both contests should be interesting to say the least. But Lindsay fans the major attraction will of course be the juniors playing their first home game of the season, and those who have yet to see Perry should see a revamped intermediate team get out and fight every minute of the time.

Close Contests

With the memory of the close-checking, rugged games the junior group raged last year, fans should find a full house of the faithful crowding the capacity of Fred Martin's Palais tonight. Midgets fans are slated to go on with Fenelon Falls juniors. This game should be more than good. Bobcaygeon defeated Fenelon Falls last Tuesday by the narrowest possible margin in a tight game and last Friday the Midgets were forced into overtime to trim the Caygeon lads. All of which points to tonight's fixture being a battle royal with enough of all kinds of hockey displayed, win who may, to send the fans home thoroughly entertained. Fenelon has practically the same team as last year, and the Midgets will probably face the game with the following line-up: Goal, J. Stephens; defence, Begley and Pogue; wings, Sproat and Gernaey; centre, Mills; alternates, Cartwright, Campbell, Parsons and Pat Campbell. The lads are just "rarin' to go" and no fan should miss this lift-up.

Out For a Win

While the Midgets are packing them in here, the Vics will be doing the same in Port Perry, and Perry when they play their first game away with the intermediates of Lindsay, Perry will be out for their first defeat, sustained in last Friday's game, against a team they should have beaten if they were "stuck to their knitting" and Vics will be lining up differently tonight, and they are going out to put up a real battle to pull out a win. And if they play the kind of hockey they are capable of they should have a good chance of doing all that thing. If they don't play that kind of hockey it won't be from any lack of telling. This evening they will start off with McClory, in goal; Reeves and Fever on defence; Crafton Mitch and Williams on the forward lines, and Martin, Piercey, Dumas and Eberts as alternates. They leave the Benson House for Port Perry at 6.30.

Cartwheels Made Up "Vaudeville" At Rink

—Lindsay, Jan. 5—

TONIGHT WHEN the Midgets and the "kids" from the Cultaract Village clash in the first scheduled O.H.A. junior tilt in Lindsay, at the Lindsay Street Rink, although the fans don't know it, there might be a "vaudeville" attraction. When the Vics played here on Friday night, there was a "show" between periods when a little shaver came out on the ice and proceeded to turn cartwheels and handsprings half the length of the rink at a time. And was he good—he got a bigger hand than some of the players, and his "gate" too, for the length of the performance, was very good. He should hire a hall—the rink is too small for the talents, of one who bids fair to be another "Snowball," whom older fans will remember, was the kid who stood on his head on a ball of twine for a nickel.

Falls Teams In Ontario Pro League Takes Beating From Guelph In First Home Game.

INDIANS LOSE

International Sees Exciting Tilts As London, Detroit, Boston and St. Louis Are Beaten.

NIAGARA FALLS, Jan. 5—The Niagara Falls professional hockey team made its bow before the home crowd here Saturday night when they were beaten 3 to 2 by Guelph Maple Leafs in an Ontario League fixture. The game provided an abundance of snappy hockey and made a very favorable impression with the 500 fans. The contest became real exciting in the last period when the home team, after outlining Guelph's margin down to one goal, rallied around and forced the citadel in a vigorous but futile efforts to tie the score.

The issue was settled in the first period when the Maple Leafs, holding a goodly margin on the play outscored the home team by 2 to 1. The Falls scored first when, after three minutes play, Westwick grabbed the rebound off Manners' shot in the open ice. Randle evened the count for the Leafs when he was quick to secure a rebound and beat Manners with a quick shot. Moore put the Skinnerites ahead, when, after a pretty combination with Mortimer he shot into the net while Burmister was out of his goal. Randle netted the third and last Guelph marker.

INDIANS BEATEN

SPRINGFIELD, Jan. 5—The Providence Reds annexed a brace of victories from the Springfield Indians, pace-setters in the Canadian-American Hockey League race, by a 5-4 score before 3,500 fans here Saturday night. The triumph, the first the Rhode Island six has scored over the Indians this season, leaves Sprague Cleghorn's crew only five points behind the Indians.

A sturdy shot from "Ginny" Hart, Red wing defence, in mid-ice forward pass from Vail, decided the issue with little more than two minutes left in the extra period and ended in the struggle. Springfield twice overtaking the Reds, and finally taking the lead, Art Jackson and Ken Harrington cent Providence back into the van before Heller produced a sensational shot that tied the score and came the Hart-Vail combination.

DEFENCEMAN STARS

CLEVELAND, Jan. 5—With a smashing Doug Young, defense man, providing the fireworks, the Cleveland Indians strengthened their hold on fourth berth in the International Hockey League race Saturday night by outpointing the London Panmure, 5 to 1.

Young shot an unstoppable drive through Goaltender Stuart of London to give Cleveland its first score after 8.54 of the first period, after receiving a clever side pass from Ken Dorsky, league-leading scorer. Numerous times Young brought the capacity crowd to its feet with sensational single-handed drives through the London defense. He failed to score again, however.

OVERTIME WIN

PITTSBURG, Jan. 5—An International Hockey League game, fettered by fighting 11 minutes in period and an avalanche of scoring in an overtime session, was won by Pittsburgh from Detroit here Saturday night, 4 to 3.

The jerkest attack started to click with a vengeance in the overtime period, and before four minutes had elapsed they were sporting a two-goal lead. Flaman, who made the tally in the opening session, added both of them, and later McCurry added the third.

Three Games Here This Week

Having played their first game on last Friday night, the Midgets have two and the Vics have three games ahead of them this week. And better than that from a fan's point of view three of them will be home games with junior tilts against Fenelon Falls tonight, and against Bobcaygeon Wednesday night, with an intermediate fixture against Port Perry on Friday night, the return match at the one the Vics are playing in Port Perry, and an exhibition game against Fenelon Wednesday. Both teams are coming along well this week, and it was encouraging to the intermediates to see the first night record out last Friday and it will be just as encouraging to the juniors to have crowds at their games. Both teams deserve the support of the fans, and if they show the hockey they are capable of they should get it.

* * * * *

Other Leagues To Start Soon

And while we're on the subject that every sport-loving Canadian thinks of men when King Winter has been officially crowned—hockey. Both church and interscholastic leagues should be starting soon and once the deserve all the support the local fans can give them. The church league will be operating a junior and senior league, both composed of five teams, and the local collegiate institute will probably do in the same group as for rugby namely, Peterboro, Cobourg, Oshawa and Lindsay. Both loops should show some good hockey this year and the games will be worth attending and added to that they are the training ground for O.H.A. teams, so fans taking them in will see a good deal and at the same time encourage the boys who will some day be wearing Lindsay colors in the O.H.A.

Friday's Officials Were Good

Lindsay teams were fortunate in their games last week in securing two exceptionally impartial referees, and men who had complete control of their players at all times. Referee A. W. "Army" Armstrong, of Oshawa, who handled the intermediate contest here, and Doug. Thorndyke, of Manilla, who officiated at the junior game in Bobcaygeon. At times both contests showed signs of developing into miniature donnybrooks, but they both had control of the situation, and everything straightened away. Though sometimes a referee's decision on body-checking, to take one thing, may seem a little severe to the fans, they might have to come on Friday, when an official runs his game that way he is the boss not the players, and the rough stuff is kept down to a minimum after a few penalties are handed out.

"Poverty Pond" Being Fixed Up

Although it received a severe setback by the January thaw, nevertheless Poverty Pond, the miniature open-air skating rink at Victoria Park will be ready for "customers" as soon as good freezing weather comes again. The lights have been all put up, and a first surface put on and now all that is needed is a little bit of cold weather. Last year the Pond received more than its share of patronage from the younger city of the town, and this reason it will probably see no decrease in the volume of "business" done, once it is opened.

The picture above shows Primo Carnera (left) Italy's fighting giant, looking on as Reggie Meen, promising young English heavyweight weighs in for the fight which Carnera won. Meens is just a beginner and is popular among English fans because of his gameness. EARN DRAW

Yale Team Carries Nine Alternates To Canadians' Six; Played Combination.

NEW YORK, Jan. 5—The University of Toronto and Yale hockey teams battled through ten minutes of overtime play to a 3—3 tie Saturday night in their annual finals at Madison Square Garden. The game was a hard, fast affair in which neither team could gain much advantage except when its opponents had a man in the penalty box.

The Elis displayed a fast passing attack and had a big squad to maintain the pace, while Toronto effected with a close defense and brilliant individual rushes. The lone scoring of the Toronto forwards fell off many Yale drives.

Toronto scored both its goals in the first period when Goodfellow of Yale was in the penalty box. Dewar, big Canadian defense player, slammed in a long, high shot from the blue line and the red light flashed seconds later his defense mate, Smillie, poked a shot into the corner as goal-keeper Farrell out of a scrimmage.

The Elis evened the count in the second period when Dewar, on neither team could break through. With Lenahan off the ice in the middle of the frame, J. Cookman picked up a loose puck and flipped it into an open net as Pingston, Toronto cage guardian, fell. Fetcher scored the third Yale goal box three minutes later to take a pass out from McLennon and score the third goal.

Tomorrow night the Patron-President bonspiel will get into motion when the preliminary round will be played along with two first round games.

In the past many well played games have resulted from this timed and large crowds witnessed every game.

Within a day or two, the Icemaker, Umpire, or what have you, in other words Billy Mills, will have the lines drawn on ice three and four, for the Points game.

This is a real competition and develops the fine points of the game, and is the real thing to educate the young curlers.

Local entries for the District Bonspiel are in number. On or before the 19th of this month, these will play down to four rinks, and the winners will represent the local club against the other rinks of the clubs in the district, on the 14th.

Saturday's games resulted as follows:

For Saturday's games the ice was heavy and sticky and some high scores were run up by these who like the heavy going and can "horse them down." Many of the players were away off—they couldn't get both the ice and the weight at the same time.

Goals by Jackson and Bailey Feature Dazzling N.H.L. Fixture Saturday

CHABOT GOOD

Ottawa Beat Quakers; Hawks Lose to Falcons; Maroons Steal Game; Amerks Win

TORONTO, Dec. 5—Before the largest crowd that ever packed its way into the Arena Gardens, the Maple Leafs entered into a second-place tie with Canadiens on Saturday night by defeating the Flying Frenchmen in a dazzling N.H.L. fixture by 2 to 1. It was Toronto's third straight victory.

The combination figures were not announced by the Arena management, but Manager Andy Taylor and his staff estimated they would reach over the nine thousand mark and exceed the attendance record established for a previous night when Canadiens inflicted that famous 5 to 1 beating on the Leafs. Long lines of fans seeking standing-room tickets extended from the rush entrances of the building long before game time, and many hundreds were turned away when the supply of S.R.O. tickets was exhausted.

The game was worth all the interest shown in it. It was a battle royal from start to finish—fast and clean and thrilling. The Leafs earned the decision, but it was a great relief to the Toronto players and the home crowd to hear that final gong. Canadiens had five forward-line scoring chances in the closing minutes in an effort to get the tying goal, and only some remarkable goaltending by Lorne Chabot thwarted them.

Jackson and Bailey Score

Toronto Maple Leafs Make It Three Straight By Win

Two Church Squads Receive New Outfits

—Lindsay, Jan. 5—

SIGNS THAT THE inter-church hockey league is just around the corner appear in the fact that two of three teams have already gotten their sweaters for the 1931 campaign. The Queen Street organization will this year be decked out in Old Gold and Blue outfits. The St. Andrew's team will be substituted after a time with sweaters with solid blue body and the white stripe across the body from shoulder to bottom. If the rest of the outfits are as colorful, the church games this year should be "pretty" to look at and if not the same time the managements of both O.H.A. teams are wishing their individual squads all the luck they could be "pretty" for their games.

Falcons uncorked eleven minutes of offensive punch in the final period last night to defeat the Chicago Black Hawks and all but end the National League hockey puzzle in the stadium, before 12,000 spectators, who added considerable attraction near the end of the contest.

For two periods the Hawks did everything but joker. A scrambling rule of goaltending by Tuffy Her Noble and Harvey Rockburn kept Chicago from doing that. The fourth offensive period broke until the last period, when Aurie and Levis scored.

A clock of penalties finally halped the Hawks to connect but before the game ended, Cook scoring.

QUAKERS BLANKED

NEW YORK, Jan. 3—Tired from two hard games on successive nights, the Philadelphia Quakers failed even to show a good showing against their National Hockey League rivals last night and suffered a 5-0-2 shut-out at the hands of the New York Americans. The victory left the Americans only a point behind the Montreal Canadiens and Toronto, tied for second place in the Canadian division.

The Quakers seldom could get in on the attack and never threatened the tight New York defense. While the Americans, taking an early lead, forged to protective proportions by outscoring them by four to add to their score. They tallied three times in the second period to clinch the game.

STOLE THE GAME

MONTREAL, Jan. 3.—Thousands of dejected hockey fans huddled in the Forum Saturday night as the Montreal Maroons skated into the third period of the National Hockey League game with Boston leading by two goals, but when the final gong sounded the Maroons were skating merrily on the long end of a 3—2 victory over the Bruins. The crowd went crazy as Cook Mosdell skated into the Boston net in quick succession and stole the game.

With the exception of a few minutes in the second period, the game was played at hectic speed, frequently bordering on rough handling the burning pace with little let-up. Jimmy Ward, Nels Stewart and "Hooley" Smith proved the backbone of the Bruins. Ward snared a rebound and passed to Ward early in the third period. Ward beat Benjamin Hoxie to score. A few minutes later as the Maroons swarmed in on Thompson Smith slipped a short pass to Stewart. But the big fellow slipped the puck into a corner of the cage. The shire was tied. Two-minutes after the face-off "Hooley" got the puck again and gave it to Stewart who let drive at the goal again from behind. Thompson did not have a chance, and the red light flashed Montreal's fourth goal.

Maroons Protect Lead

The Maroons fit back on the defensive, secure behind the one goal lead, the front line playing close to the blue line as Boston hirled attack after attack, leaving Bobbie Shore alone to protect Thompson. Suddenly Jimmy Ward pokechecked the puck away from Barry at the Montreal blue line and flash ed up the right boards all alone with the Boston team in full pursuit. He dodged around Shore and Adams ..... 3 turned a hot drive Thompson's Nugent ..... 22 E. Fee ..... 2 to make it 3—3 for the Maroons

FAREWELL PARTY HELD FOR COUPLE

MRS. M. MOASE AND MISS RUTH MOASE, OF FENELON FALLS, ARE HONORED BY THEIR NEIGHBORS

On the evening of Friday, Jan. 2, an informal gathering was held at the home of Mr. Walter Moase, Fitzgerhoard, for the purpose of holding farewell to his mother, Mrs. M. Moase and Miss Ruth Moase, his sister. During the evening the gathering was called to order by Mr. Owen Swenman, who as chairman impromptu, called on Mrs. Gordon Gilbert to read the following address:

To Mrs. Moase and Ruth:

We, your friends, have gathered here this evening to bid you farewell on this the eve of your departure from our community.

Your friendship has been no common quality of friendship, which not only embraced the ordinary but went out of its way to be kind, sacrificing for others, yet feeling it no sacrifice and continuing through the years. Although you are moving from our midst we will always think of you as friends, dear to us all. By way of expressing our thoughts of you, we wish you to accetem this bridge lamp. May it's cent as a small token of our esthereful beams brighten the many years which it is our great hope you will be spared to enjoy it.

Signed on behalf of your neighborn and friends at Moase Point.

At the proper time Mrs. Andrew Michaels presented Mrs. Moase and Ruth with a beautiful bridge lamp. Both Mrs. Moase and Ruth very fittingly thanked their friends. After a few remarks of well-wishing by the chairman and others, a tasty lunch was provided by the ladies which concluded a delightful evening spent by all.

Probs Talk of Rain And We Have Moths But It Still Snows

—Lindsay, Jan. 6.

WHAT WEATHER! What weather? Yesterday The Post Weatherman prophesied rain and before the papers were published it was slowly blowing fly. This morning the Toronto papers said "rain," but there has been nothing but more snow. And to prove that winter really isn't here, there is a month and a cabbage butterfly in a box in the editorial room of The Post. The moth is drowsy but the butterfly, not sceing a cabbage head in sight, has been roaming around eating up the sports editor's paste—which proves that it must have SOME appetite.

While both Lindsay's reeve and deputy-reeve are referred to as men (men) they are new men for this year only but in actual municipal experience neither of them is anything like a new man. Both have been mayor of Lindsay, and have served their apprenticeship, as it were, on both county and town councils for many years." Of the others, all of them have had municipal experience on township councils, etc.

With elections yesterday in seven municipalities, Ops, Bobcaygeon, Fenelon Falls, Omemee, Bexley, Somerville and Emily; earlier elections in Manvers, Dunsford and Janesay; and acclamations in Dalton, Eldon, Laxton, Digby and Longford, Marijuana, Verulam, Woodville and the seats around the horseshoe in the County Council will now be filled in the above manner for the year 1931. Among the familiar faces of last year's county body seen will be missing this year when the January session is called namely:

Oshawa Has Not Paid One Cent For Snow Cleaning This Winter

OSHAWA, Jan. 6.—"Thousands of dollars, but not one cent for snow shovelling."

That has been the situation in the city this year. Although the corporation has been forced to give employment to many citizens in relief work, of various kinds, as there has not been any necessity to enter men to clean the streets of snow. King Winter has been more generous than kind, for his snowfalls have been few and light.

This condition is the exact opposite to the one which prevailed here last winter. Up to the end of December 27 1929, the city had spent $2,000 for snow cleaning, during that month, but not one cent for snow shovelling.

Election Results At Fenelon Falls And Issues There

New Reeve and Two New Councillors Will Make Up 1931 Five-Man Council

FOSTER KELLY IS REEVE

FENELON FALLS, Jan. 6. (Staff Correspondence).—Has anybody here seen Kelly? Yes, everybody at Fenelon Falls will see Mr. Foster Kelly, the Cataract Town's new reeve for 1931. When the municipal council meets for the first time this year a new reeve will preside and two new councillors will take their seats.

The retirement of Reeve Thos. Poulsom, after five years and a long record of civic service, left Foster Kelly and A. E. Tiers contesting the reeveship, Mr. Kelly being elected with a majority of 39.

The Council Contest

One of the most vital and keenly contested elections the town has ever seen brought interesting results at the polls last night.

Policeman an Issue

The political issue was the re-engagement of Pc-Constable D. Goodson, whose dismissal in November by the 1930 council brought a division in the council and the ratepayers. The subsequent law suits in which Mr. Gordon sued the council and the municipality for salary and assessment work, were lost by him.

The opposing faction to this action of the council in dismissing Mr. Gordon desired, it is believed, to re-engage him as constable of the village. Some there were who ran with the hare and barked with the hounds. Today saw the defeat of the opposing element.

The seat of W. N. Block was filled by Dr. H. B. Johnstone, who secured the poll with 298 votes, as that of Foster Kelly who climbed to the reeveship past Andrew McFarland a close second with 244. The other two members are John Stewart with 234 and M. J. Lanigan with 229 votes, and town councils for many years." Of the others, all of them have had municipal experience on township councils, etc.

With elections yesterday in seven municipalities, Ops, Bobcaygeon, Fenelon Falls, Omemee, Bexley, Somerville and Emily; earlier elections in Manvers, Dunsford and Janesay; and acclamations in Dalton, Eldon, Laxton, Digby and Longford, Marijuana, Verulam, Woodville and the seats around the horseshoe in the County Council will now be filled in the above manner for the year 1931. Chicago's Racketeers Had Big Harvest At Christmas

Even The Rich Profiteered From Spirit of Generosity That Usually Prevails At Christmas Time.

ROBBED THE POOR

CHICAGO—The wily Christmas racketeers were steadfast in on the holiday spirit in true gangster style with results so startling that even the victims are forced to giggle. For example:

A desperately poor man, so his letters said, a man so destitute that his whole family of nine children was on the verge of freezing to death, wrote to a long list of citizens. He pleaded sadly for a donation of coal to thaw out the Christmas chill which had threatened momentarily to kill his children.

The letters were so touching that most of the citizens sent loads of coal post haste to the poor man and his nine freezing boys and girls. The Chicago Council of Social Service Agencies got wind of his plight, sent a charity worker to investigate.

The poor man with the shivering children, it developed, was a prosperous coal dealer. The donations of coal were being delivered to his yard, where he had a crew of hustles busy unloading the charity coal into his bins, to be resold to cash customers.

"And that isn't all that happens in this city of rackets at Christmas time" said Mrs. Edwina Lewis, director of the agency. "There is one family, or rather tribe of eight

Dies In Her 109th Year In Belleville

Mrs. Susan McKenzie Carman Dies Shortly After Celebrating Her 108th. Birthday

BORN IN TRENTON

BELLEVILLE, Jan. 6.—Less than a month after she celebrated her 108th birthday, Mrs. Susan McKenzie Carman, Trenton oldest resident, passed away at her home, West Dundas Street, Trenton, at four o'clock yesterday morning. It was only on Dec. 24 last, just one day before Christmas, that Mrs. Carman's many friends were congregated to congratulate her on the passing of another of life's milestones. At that time, considering her age, she was enjoying good health and spirits.

Mrs. Carman was a true Trentonian, being born in that town in 1822. Her father was the late Colonel Sheldon Hawley. Colonel Hawley was a merchant, having a flourishing mercantile and lumber trade, as well, at one time, he served as Postmaster. Mrs. Carman had the honor of being the first white child born in the tiny settlement of Trenton.

When she was 16 years of age, she married Alonzo Sharon Carman of Vida, Ont. Her husband died seven years later, and within the next few years, she moved with the family, thus becoming the wife of Philip Carman of Iroquois, Ont. Her second husband predeceased her many years ago.

Mrs. Carman had no family from either marriage. She lived in Trenton with her sister, Mrs. Francis. Several members of the family live in Toronto, and one niece resides in Montreal. Her funeral will be a quiet one, taking place from the home.

Three magistrates who presided as a special police court at Walkerton, England, recently, had a total age of 277 years.

Students On Last Lap Of School Year

All Schools Open Yesterday and L.C.I. Has Literary and Athletic Program Ready

ENDING GOOD YEAR

After one of the longest holidays on record the L.C.I., and other schools of the town opened their doors again yesterday morning to begin the final dash towards the final exams and holidays. Looking forward in the program of the Literary Society and the Athletic Society of the local collegiate one sees a full programme, and one that should prove interesting and entertaining to the public in general as well as the student body.

Along athletic lines especially the school is not going to suffer if the present outlook has any indication. Although the curling schedule had to be postponed last night the basketball was coached by Mr. Mair lest no time in getting down to serious training for their games with Kirkfield and Peterboro. Last night the boys were out to practice, and went through a heavy workout under the direction of the coach. The team has not been selected yet, but the coach has a world of material to pick from, and should round out one of the best teams to represent the Red, Blue and Old Gold in a good number of years.

Hockey will hold a prominent place in the sport of the school. The league has not been formed as yet, but it is expected that it will be the same as the basketball league. Mr. Brogue, the coach of the team, is planning to hold a work-out down at the Lindsay Street rink to-morrow night if weather permits. With practically all the Church League to pick from the L.C.I. will have a smart team to represent them in this pastime.

An even more extensive program is presented by the Literary Society starting off on January 30th with a Literary Meeting, followed on the most important functions of the School year on February 13th with the Annual Dance and Graduating Class of the year. This is the first event of this type to be held in the school for a long time, and no doubt it will go over in a big way with the Students.

On February 16th and 24th Literary Meetings are planned, followed by the finals of the Debating Contest on March 5th. The annual Shakespearean play is billed for March 13th and 13th. "The Merchants of Venice" will be produced this year, and already the cast has been selected. Mr. Male and

Peace And Good Will Of Rotary

Member of Ontario Legislature Will Address Joint Meeting Next Tuesday At Noon

MANY PRESENT

As the special speaker for the first luncheon of the New Year, held in the Benson House Orchestra Room yesterday at noon, the Speakers Committee was fortunate enough to secure Rotarian Tom Rogers, prominently associated with the Toronto Rotary Club. Next week, the Rotary Club will join with the local Kiwanis Club, and instead of holding their separate luncheons on Monday and Thursday, the joint meeting will be held on Tuesday at noon, when the gathering will be addressed by a prominent member of the present Ontario Legislature. Guests for the first meeting of the year included Rotarians Watt McClean and Bill Burgess, of the Toronto Rotary Club, who accompanied the speaker to Lindsay. Rotarian Charles Buchanan of Port Arthur Club, and Rotarian Jack Thomson, of Belleville.

The Sixth Object of Rotary, which incidently is the chief object of the Rotary movement in many respects," to encourage and foster the development of understanding, good will and international peace through a world fellowship of business and professional man"— was the theme

Man Known Locally Made Money From Marsh Region

Converted Worthless Marsh Into Fertile Farm-Land That Gave Large Returns Per Acre.

$30,000 FROM 37 ACRES

The following story concerning the son of Nathan Day who used to live on Sturgeon Lake, comes from Toronto.

Many farmers have had reason to congratulate themselves this year on vegetable yields obtained in a season of drought, but it is doubtful if any secured a return per acre equal to that of Professor William H. Day, who had for his farm a formerly worthless section known as the Holland Marsh. A few years ago this portion of the Bradford district was not even thought of agriculturally, but a few facts submitted by Professor Day tend to diffiusion even the most skeptical.

Real Value

In explaining the marsh district Professor Day states that during the past season he had 27 acres in crop, as follows: Head lettuce, 22 acres; celery, 6 1-2 acres; onions, 4 1-2 acres; carrots, 2 1-2 acres; parsnips, 1 1-2 acres. Te total crop arvested was: Parsnips, 1 carlod; carrots, 2 carloads; onions, 4; celery 19 and lettuce 26, making a total of 50 carloads. If this were all in one farm record it would make a train almost half a mile long. Everything has now been marketed except the carrots and parsnips, which are in cold storage.

Making Money

The total cash receipts up to the present moment amount to $24,718, over and above the selling commission of 12 1-2 per cent. The carrots and parsnips, when sold, will bring the total to approximately $26,000. Divide this by 37 we find the average yield to be $702 per acre. Compare this with your high land crops. With wheat at 70 cents a bushel, it would require a yield of 1,000 bushels per acre to equal our average marsh returns. Special pieces have been much much better than the acreage. One acre of lettuce yielded approximately $1,000; one acre of celery nearly $500; one and one-sixth acre of celery $2,652, and 6 1-2 acres of celery, $10,412.

In regard to lettuce, wholesale

Year's Statistics Show 85 Married 213 Born, 126 Dead

Statistics Show Natural Increase in Population of 87 Here; Figures Per Month

OTHER TOTALS

In December, 1930, there were 17 births, 14 deaths and 8 marriages in Lindsay, bringing the total for the year up-hoard to 213 births, 129 deaths and 85 marriages. The average per month for 1930 was 17.7 births, 10.3 deaths and 7.08 marriages. September with 21 birth, 11 deaths and 12 marriages was the only month exceeding the average in all particulars. The high level for deaths was reached in October and December 14 being recorded in each month. The only daily Sunday service are in a three-way tie for the title of the month most suited to Dan Cupid in practicing his wiles, with 12 marriages chalked up in each. September leads again for the month with most births, 21 babies being born and registered in town in that month.

Comparing the statistics for the year with those of 1929 a marked increase is noted in the births with 213 in 1930, 22 more than the 191 for 1929. There were seven less marriages in 1930 with 85, as mentioned in that year against 92 in 1929. Deaths too, showed a marked increase with 126 in 1930, or 14 less than in 1929 when there were 141. The new high birth level for 1929, of 18 in April is 4 higher than the 14 "high" in September of 1930. In January, 1929, there were 20 deaths the most in any one month since January 1930, when 17 people died of the flu epidemic. This was the high death month for 1929, and for a decrease of 13 is noted in the highest which was October and December with 14 apiece. June of 1930 with high water in Lindsay in that year, was evidently more conductive to thoughts of love than the same month which was high in the year 1929, the decrease of four is show with 16 for June, 1929, and 12 for June, 1930.

Tabulated below are the statistics for the year 1930. "B" marks the births, "D" the deaths, and "M" the marriages.

(Taken From To Post Files of Jan. 6th, 1916)

Lindsay speedy juniors got off to a good start last night at the local rink in the first junior O.H.A. feature, when before a large crowd they took the measure of Belleville juniors to the tune of 6—1, the winners leading 2 to 0 at the end of the first and 5 to 0 at the end of the second period. The tee was sticky and honeycombed, with the result that the passing was poor, and the ice covered with slush and water.

Warden Mulligan, of Omemee was in town today making arrangements for a visit of a deputation from the county to Ottawa on January 18th, with a view of securing government assistance towards the maintenance of Pigeon Creek bridge.

Some time during the night or early hours of the morning, one of the panes of glass in the door of Mayor O'Reilly's liquor store was smashed by unknown parties, who were evidently after wet goods. After the window was destroyed, an opening was left large enough for a man to enter.

Publishing For a Century

The Port Hope Guide, one of the few town daily papers in Ontario, recently celebrated its 100th birthday and deserves congratulations. The first published in 1831 as a weekly paper it entered the daily field over half a century ago and, ever since, has been known as a newsy town daily.

It was in 1831 when Port Hope's greatest industry was the export of barley to the United States, that William Furby began The Weekly Guide. For forty-eight years, it flourished as a weekly newspaper under the leadership of Mr. Furby, and later under that grand old man of Canadian journalism, the late George Wilson, father of Mr. G. H. Wilson, for years publisher of The Lindsay Daily Post.

When Mr. Wilson took over the reins, The Guide grew with the town, and 1876 marked the publication of a daily newspaper as well. As a daily paper, it has prospered in Port Hope for over half a century and the centennial anniversary will be celebrated by a special edition this coming June.

The Post extends congratulations to The Guide.

Care Of The Teeth

Realizing that the care of children's teeth makes for better teeth and healthier grown-ups, the Ontario Government is making grants to municipalities that look on the care of the teeth of its children as a civic duty. Speaking of this plan, the Toronto Globe says:

"So many of the ills of humanity now are blamed on affected teeth that there will be general interest in the Ontario Government's announced plan of dental service for the children of the Province. Under the regulations, municipalities with a population of less than 20,000 will receive an annual grant of 7½ per cent. of the cost of their service; municipalities with a population of from 5,000 to 20,000 an annual grant of 10 per cent. of the cost of the service; and municipalities with a population of from 1,000 to 5,500 an annual grant of 25 per cent. of the cost of the service.

"One conditions of the grant are that the municipality must supply a public health nurse; such professional dental service as may be deemed necessary; suitable quarters, accommodation and equipment; and must send in a quarterly report on progress being made during such period. The Health Department is endeavoring to check the attack that the arrangement will result in the cutting down of sickness and an increase in school attendance. If poor condition of the teeth be responsible for so many bodily ailments, it also should mean that the growing generation will enjoy a great deal of good health; and any enterprise that works out that way is worth trying."

When the plan was first discussed the Lindsay Dental Association and Board of Health talked it over and came to the conclusion that the town should consider adopting the plan. The dentists had been doing quite a bit of this sort of work on their own responsibility, clinching up the work between them when the public health nurse told them of children who had defective teeth but could not properly afford the expense of having them fixed.

The new plan is a worthy one as far as Lindsay is concerned in that the people in general will pay for the work instead of having the dentists bear the whole burden.

Wanted Another Dickens

Let us hope that out of the confusion and controversy that hangs like a thick mist over our modern literature, there will soon emerge a contemporary Dickens: one whose works can be read and enjoyed by children and by those who are no longer young; a writer of material free from sensuality, the overemphasis of sex and all such pollution that has made censors an institution. The Sam Wellers, Little Nell, Mr. Pickwick, Copperfield, the whole lore of Dickens characters seem to surround us today, ready to live their lives in print.

But the contemporary Dickens must forsake the chaos of cause, the exaggerated orgies of wealth, the trend of psycho-analysis—the entire formula of the modern entertainer must go into the ash can. The easy road, that of what the public is accustomed to, must be spurned. He must take the rougher going.

The new Dickens must also have the courage of him of God's hill, the courage to write what he thinks, and the wit to put his ideas across so that those who read shall laugh and read on, even if they disagree. He must have deep knowledge, and sympathy for all classes. Above all, he must be simple, direct, honest, full of faith in people and things; free from prejudice, and he must be possessed with the belief that there is dusting to be done.

When such a writer comes, he will show us love and beauty where it is least expected to exist. And into his work he will put the ideals that make history of the job, second; payment, third. Otherwise he will be common.

This is asking for plenty. Charles Dickens left his mark high upon the crags. But we can at least hope for someone to come along the same path hewn by the master. And when he arrives he will have out of the slush like a giant.

The present day is not unfavorable, because the suspicion is growing that sophisticalism, the whipped cream, sex, the interesting secrets theme, is somewhat over-worked, and the world that reads may soon turn for relief to the calm beauty to be found in reality and the simplicity of honest things.

Hungaria

A New Year's ode, 1931, by Professor Watson Kirkconnell, in the Canadian Hungarian News.

Towards years of golden greatness that shall come,
Tears are the sacred right of human grief:
Then weep, Hungaria, and feel no shame
To entwrain thy forehead with the cypress leaf
Beside the mausoleum of thy fame,
Nor blush to mourn with sprouting breath,
In rain like dissolution before death,
O'er time's abhorred divorce of lives and loves,
Wrought in the name of peace! Once more begin,
With this new year, third outward mourning, grey
As rain-swept twilight graveyards, and within,
The stillicide of sorrows sealed away
In vaults of memory. No dawn removes
With living radiance of hope's relieving,
The sombre shadows of thy spirit's grieving.

Yet break not, heart of stone, in thy despair!
Immovable as marble shouldst thou be!
Recall thy past, thy fate thou then canst bear
Though cold as death and bitter as the sea.
The sacred dust of Petofi conspires
To keep alight the nation's altar-fires;
Patience is high omnipotent for me
Whose feet upon a deathless past are set;
The strength of Kossuth is the strength of ten:
The house of Hunyad rallies to this hour;
The blood of Arad calls from its grave;
The hand of Stephen has not lost its power!
Thy sons will lift their hearts up as they praise
The unforgotten dead of other days!

So may the opening Year bring joy and might,
Born, not of east, but out of widowhood! —
Affliction shape man's greatness as they smite
Upon the anvil, if the steel be good.
So with no base alloy of spite or spleen,
No vaulting rancors or corroding hate,
May spirit suffer change from what has been
To visions of unperishing desire
And gleaming fancies beautiful as fire
Or leaping lines of moonlight on the deep!
So may sad hearts no more be desolate;
So may the sorrowing no longer keep
A wistful vigil; but in that that still
God's long-delaying justice never dies.
Preserve immaculate a people's will
Towards years of golden greatness that shall come,
As phoenix-like a fairer state shall rise
Out of the cleansing fires of martyrdom!

WHERE?

A man was given a carpet to beat, and, on bringing it back to the lady of the house, she reasonfully said, "These holes were not there when I gave you the carpet."

"Well, ma'am," he replied, "if they weren't there, where were they?"

A woman arriving in this country after a short visit to the Continent was asked the usual question by the Customs official at the landing port: "Anything to declare, madam?"

"No," she replied, sweetly, "nothing."

"Then, madam," said the official, "am I to take it that the fur tail I see hanging down under your coat is your own?"—Tit-Bits.

"All right, boys; the fire's out," yelled out the fire chief. "Put away your axes, pikes and hose and let's go home." The brave laddies did so, but as their red wagon drew up as the fire hall they found the alarm bell inside was still ringing.

"Mizpah," exclaimed a rookie fireman, "I wonder if we chopped down the wrong house!"

THE LIVER AND SKIN AILMENTS

One of the hard propositions that confronts the average physician is a skin ailment that seems to resist all forms of treatment.

As you may know, most chronic skin ailments are treated with preparations of zinc, of sulphur or mercury. One by one these different preparations are tried without any real improvement in the condition.

Just a few years ago it was discovered that certain foods seemed to aggravate these chronic skin conditions and so by omitting these foods from the diet the skin cleared up. Sometimes the foods found that it was meat, in other cases potatoes, in others tomatoes, in others fresh fruit, in others sugar or starches of any kind.

You can readily see that it would take some time in many cases to find out just what was causing the trouble and then a considerable time more for the skin to get back to normal again.

Now of course there is nothing wrong with any of the above foods—meats, starches, sugar and so forth—but the processes of the body just couldn't handle them properly and by affecting the blood, the skin became irritated and remained irritated.

And so physicians have naturally been asking themselves what part of the body is responsible for the poor handling of these particular foods.

What have they found?

That in many cases it is the failure of the liver to do its work properly that is responsible for the trouble. As you know one of the important duties of the liver is to manufacture bile which breaks up fats, destroys harmful organisms, and acts as a natural purgative.

Further, the liver takes the harmful matter out of the blood during the progress of the blood through the liver.

And so physicians have been testing the liver's ability in these cases of old chronic skin ailments.

They have found, by the dye test that the liver holds on to materials that should be used in the manufacture of bile, and so the bile cannot do its threefold job properly.

This blood with these harmful substances in it is what is sent to the blood vessels in the skin, and causes the irritation called skin disease.

So instead of using ointments the skin is simply kept clean, and treatment directed to the liver.

This gets after the real cause of the trouble.

WAS THERE A WILL?

If there is no Will and an Estate has to be administered, who is to Act as Administrator, is often a difficult question for a family to decide.

There is often difficulty in securing Bondsmen. A private Administrator does not like to ask his friends to go on his Bond.

A private Administrator is often selling for the first time and therefore lacks experience.

branches, which is sending heartthrobbing pleas through the mail, hundreds of them, for food and fuel:

"They actually set the stage in order to arouse the sympathy of the charitable minded. They move from their own well furnished apartments down into the basements of the buildings they own, and when Santa Claus arrives he finds the children in rags, huddled in a corner of a cold and barren room.

"That means the family will get a veritable avalanche of Christmas gifts, groceries, meat, clothing and the like. Everything so received goes promptly on sale.

Then there were the street corner Christmas racketeers who think that the Police Department couldn't possibly chase them all away. They hawked everything from Christmas cards to holly wreaths from sidewalk stands all over the crowded Loop.

"Get yer Christmas greetings here," shouted the cards seller. "Genuine, genuine, beautiful steel etchings for 35 cents." He held up a box of cards. Beautiful steel etchings they were not. The cards, some bit, obtained a box of etchings, already wrapped and tied securely.

When he got home he unwrapped his bargain, to find that his dozen steel etchings somehow turned out to be poorly printed, disgraced cards of the cheapest variety.

"And so it goes," said Mrs. Lewis "The racket permeated almost every phase of Christmas in Chicago. It made people so suspicious of everything and everybody that the deserving ones were suffering as a consequence.

of the speaker's address.

Rotary International or Rotary Universal as it may be termed more properly, functions Clubs in some fifty-four countries at the present time, which incidentally is the same number of countries that are represented at the League of Nations. Throughout all these countries, Rotary movement through the medium of service clubs is gradually and in many cases even rapidly gaining ground, and everywhere is seen the same ideals created by this organization. In such countries as India and Egypt, etc., Hindus sit down with Moslems, revolutionist with royalist, and slowly racial prejudices and differences are forgotten, members begin to understand each other better, to bridge these differences and conflicting beliefs, if not forgotten, and at least not mentioned.

It was not the original plan of Rotary to become a service club in the sense of the word in serve the whole community in which the clubs are formed, but rather a suggestion to organize a group of business men to better business relations and methods by comparison. Since the time of its foundation, the first slow climb, the club has gradually developed into one in which the advancement of community, as well as individual welfare is one of the important objects.

Rotary recognizes the best in human nature the world over. All that is good in life and humanity is gathered together by the clubs, and used for the betterment of their several communities. It seeks to give men the ideal of looking at life from the Rotary viewpoint, that is one in which all men are equals be what their ideas and view upon life may.

In this way, through expressions of international and universal sympathy and understanding of various kinds, peace, world peace, may be realized. War, caused by various reasons and from various sources, is the exact opposite from the Rotary standpoint.

International friendship, brought about in this way, the way Rotary is striving to bring it about, will break down the barriers of traditional mistakes and misunderstanding and will win at last that greatest object of the world at the present time, worldwide peace and brotherhood.

The vote of thanks on behalf of the club to Mr. Rogers was moved by Rotarian Ed. Burns, and extended to the speaker by President James Mackey.

the resignation of A. E. Tiers. Mr. Edwards has previously served on this board. The remaining two are Sherman E. Minthorne and James Daniel, who serve one and two years to complete their term of three years. A new one is elected each years.

The Trustee Board which elects three new members annually, is complete with Mr. A. W. Robson, editor of Fenelon Falls Gazette, the unanimous choice and elected by acclamation to complete the unexpired term of A. E. Tiers.

Mr. T. J. Carley, well known barrister, heading the poll with 349 votes and W. B. Brandon 292 are returned in succeeding two of the old board of six who resigned in a body in 1929 following the disagreement with the council over the building of a new high school.

Mr. William Green, third with 210 votes (re-elected), Edward Fitzgerald and Rev. Jarmis Fraser who serve this year to finish their term of office, complete the Trustee Board. The work laid out for the new school Trustee Board will be the enlarging up to the standard of the present Continuation School at its abolition.

The attempt on the part of the 1930 Board to reduce expenses by dispensing with the service of one teacher brought inadequate instruction and made it necessary to engage the extra teacher in the middle of the term. Hence then hiring of Miss Grace Cameron at Christmas, and the loss meanwhile to the pupils whose chances are this lessened for success in examinations next June.

Planes are Off

BOLAMA, Portuguese Guinea, Africa, Jan. 6.—Twelve Italian Savoia planes struck southward across equatorial Atlantic today toward Natal, Brazil, in one of most amditious flight projects in the history of aviation. Undeterred by bad weather the twelve planes took off one by one from their anchorage here at 9 p.m. E.S.T., and in murky darkness began the long trip of 1600 miles which lay between them and the north eastern tip of South America. It was hoped to reach Natal in between sixteen and twenty hours. This is the longest and most difficult leg of a squadron journey from Orbetello, Italy to Rio de Janeiro, Brazil.

AFRICAN JUNGLE ROMANCE
STIRS ACADEMY AUDIENCE
Breathless Epic of Strange Primitive Scenes and Sounds Of Untamed Savages Scores Hit.

Those who saw "Africa Speaks" at the Academy yesterday will never forget the dramatic emotional conflict of the picture, or the breath taking beauty of the Congo background. Added to these are the startling effects of the sounds of the jungle, the symphony of the Africa wastes are transmitted to the screen.

In the half blackness of the theatre, one could close one's eyes for a moment and feel oneself in a little clearing in the deep African wastes. The roar of a hungry lion sends a shudder down the spine, the answering whimper of the monkeys—all are there in their primitive terror.

When the story takes itself to the French Congo—the magnificent women—with their huge duck-billed lips, are unforgettable. These women, the result of numerous Arab raids that swept down time after time to depopulate the villages of Fernain, deliberately disfigure themselves to escape the lust of the desert marauders.

Sounds Strike Terror

The dancing of the native women fills the picture with a primitive dramatic feature of this Columbia picture. Like their white compatriots of the Parisian pleasure palaces, there is little these savage girls do not know about the rhythmic movements of the human body. One almost feels the insolerably oppressive night, the tom-toms, beating out their age-old throbbing themes—and the flack bodies twisting in the frenzied ritual of the ceremony.

Another background included the land of the pygmies. These little people, one of the most intensely moral in the jungle have customs and manners of solving ancient problems that would shock Western susceptibilities, if they weren't so plainly natural and innocent. Trial marriage, a much discussed topic of civilization, is an old system among the pygmies.

We recommend "Africa Speaks" for a new thrill and a new experience in motion pictures. It is unraids that swept down time after doubtedly one of the most interesting features ever made. Africa Speaks, remains at the Academy till Thursday with matinees daily and two shows every night.

Many-Hued Ski Costumes

Revstatingly Nordic are the smartest skiing costumes that athletically minded sportswomen are wearing this year.

Short knickers and skirts are laid aside in favor of the long Norwegian trousers that cuff in at the top of the shoes and fit like a tailored suit across the hip and waistline.

Just as pastel colors are best suited to the sunny lights of southern resorts, so rich, deep colors look best against the snow of mountain sides. Rich greens, browns, reds, black and blues shoot down the ski tracks.

The long trousers take their matching jackets or belted coats, or you can work out an outfit with a separate hunting jacket or sweater jumper coat. There is inclined to be a Russian note in some of the suede jackets fastening the collars on the side and closing the jacket with zippers, or buttons down the left side.

Among the swankiest ski outfits you will find are a Russian suit that couples red and navy blue in its waterproofed gabardine, a medium bright blue suit of suede pants and a slip-over fitted sweater of matching color with lightning design in white on itself, its scarf and beret; a gazelle leather suit in rudder brown with a tricky little double breasted jacket that faces down the hips.

For outright classiness, there is an elegant green Norwegian ski costume made of waterproofed suede that is cut to enhance your figure.

The long trousers button very tight around the hips, with matching bone buttons. The slip-over suede jacket tucks into the waistline of the trousers and has smart revers notched and clear cut. There is a gay striped scarf in gold, green and beige, with just a touch of black in its line, and a tight beret of the same woven fabric.

Mittens are of beige and are are the cuffs of the long trousers. Against a snow scene, nothing could be more attractive than a fleet figure garbed in this green outfit.

Powles' Corners

POWLES CORNER, Jan. 6—(Staff Correspondence)—Mr. John Wilson is quilting here in this town at present.

The farmers are busy cutting their winter's wood. In some places the wood is like water, very scarce.

All are sorry to learn that Mr. J. C. Parrish has taken quite ill again. After rallying around so well from his last attack of a month or so ago. All expected to see him about soon, but we hope that under the doctor's care that day by day he will recover rapidly.

Mr. Powles received another sad message on Monday stating that her son's daughter in Chicago, Harriet Powles, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Powles, passed away with scarlet fever over the week-end. This being the second death in the family within a space of time.

The annual School meeting was held on S. S. No. 4, School House on Wednesday 31st instant at one o'clock. The business of the meeting was in part as follows:

Mr. J. B. Powles was elected as chairman at the opening and Mr. J. A. Malloy as secretary. The annual reports of Five Trustees was then read and adopted by J. A. Malloy. Then the annual report of auditors was read by the secretary and adopted. This included the receipts and expenditures for the year which showed a good balance on hand this was motioned and carried as read.

The selection of Auditor for 1931 was the next item of interest which, when decided was that the auditor of last year was returned for another period in person of Mr. J. B. Powles. The meeting was then open for miscellaneous business which brought about several discussions but nothing definite was placed before.

A new trustee was the next item to discuss and Mr. J. A. Malloy was returned for another period. Making the same three for this year that served us last namely Messrs J. A. Malloy, L. McGee, and S. Anderson, . The last item was the tendering of tenders for 8 cords of maple or elm wood and two cords of cedarwood to be delivered in the basement. There were a few tenders applied but the right one was not made known at the meeting.

Mrs. S. J. Moore and two sons, Clifford and Gordan spent a few days at Orillia attending the funeral of their cousin.

Mr. Albert Parrish, of Lindsay called at his home here Monday morning owing to his father's illness.

Mr. Oliver Dyke and son of Fenelon Falls were business visitors to this town on Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Thos. Heinrichon of Fenelon Falls spent a few hours with their son, Oscar on Tuesday.

Mr. Thos. Oakley spent Wednesday at Fenelon Falls.

Some lards attended the hockey match at Fenelon Falls on Tuesday night and witnessed a good game between Bobcaygeon youths and the Falls youths.

Mr. and Mrs. Bennie Blackwell of Fenelon Falls spent a few hours Monday evening with Mr. and Mrs. Orville Parrish.

Midgets And Victorias Both Win In Games Last Night

Midgets Take Fast Game From Fenelon

Lindsay Juniors Take Fast Fenelon Junior Squad Here Last Night By 3—2 Score.

WORKED HARD

Se Was Sticky But Both Squads Put Up a Great Battle; Mayor S. Alcorn "Faces-off."

—By R.J.O.—

The Midgets, the local Junior O.H.A. entry, counted their second win in two starts, last night, when they rested a well-earned three-two victory from the Fenelon Falls Juniors in the third period of a scrappy game on soft ice in the local arena.

They earned goals early in the second period, one for each team, these followed by a fluke "hole-in-one" shot which a "Buddy Jones" as pulled from centre ice. The Lindsay goals early in the thir period, however, gave the Midgets the necessary margin although the hold do little more than hold one of the dying minutes of the game as the boys from the Cataract village raged sil around their citadel.

Ross Mills, Lindsay centre, was the scoring hero of the game, making all three Lindsay counters unassisted.

What a game that would have been on good ice! The managers of both teams should see to it that steps to get to work and win the game in the first period or in the first few minutes in each of the other two periods for both aggregations went at top speed while the ice was good. When the soft ice became holey and rough and covered with snow they fought just as hard, although they didn't get as fast and many good chances were pooled because the puck became lost as the late J. Caesar would have said, at a crucial moment.

First Period

As the boys skated out on the ice for the face-off in the first period they were followed by a portly, nice-looking gentleman in a coon-skin coat, who, on closer inspection proved to be Mayor S. Alcorn. He officiated for the face-off, and Lindsay's first junior O.H.A. battle was soon under way.

Following a few trips to the penalty box for accidental tripping on the part of which Hall and Ross Mills scored but did not count the first goal. The puck was batted into the Fenelon net by Cliff Hall, after a flashing defence, when Mills and Spratt combined with intent to have black marks put on the scoresheet. Al Spratt was foiled, however, if counted for nothing more than the boosting moment it gave the fans.

The period was a fast one, but although both forward lines showed considerable combination, goals were few and far between and goalers were on their mettle. And exciting, straight 27 minutes with no time out for the referee's benefit or refreshments brought Gerlin plenty of cheering but no goals were scored.

Second Period

Two minutes into the boys left their corners for the second frame. Hughie Johnston accepted a pass from Armstrong at centre ice skated to the blue line and with his shot opened the scoring by beating Chap Shepherd fair in the lower left hand corner of the net. Beasley, stellar Lindsay defenceman, was sojourning in the penalty box when this, Fenelon's first tally, was scored.

Three minutes later, Ronnie Mills, diminutive but fiery Lindsay centre, bulged the twine to tie the score. At the Lindsay line Mills passed to Gerster who netted the rubber to the Fenelon line before scoring it. Then Mills flashed the little round disc through the nets and put it where it would do the most good—for Lindsay, that is.

Next play that did no more than add up the score besides giving the two goalies the chance of showing how good they were, and that's no boondoggle, proved the way of Fenelon's second goal. More in desperation than anything else, Littleton, left centre ice, let fly and, with a flying his stick around his head although it were a shillalah took a badly swipe at the puck. It flew up into the rafters and no one saw it again until it dropped neatly into the corner of the Lindsay goal. It was a fluke that left Stephens no chance to save.

Third Period

Coming into the final session with the need of one goal to tie or two to win, the Lindsay boys headed Manager Bruce Scott's instruction to "get in there and win" while the ice was good. They all swarmed around the Cataract village's fortifications and put everything they had into their play. It was Ross Mills' luck, however, to take the puck at the blue line from a Fenelon lad who had circled the net twice before venturing into troubled waters, and beat the goalie with a nice clean shot to tie the score; and, when the period was six minutes old, to bring the puck all the way down the ice and score an acceptable to Lindsay fluke on a rolling, bouncing shot to put Lindsay one up.

For most of the rest of the period the visitors forced the play and for the last four or five minutes they almost literally dominated it. The Lindsayites had pretty well shot their bolt in scoring the winning counters but, with the assistance of Goalie Stephens they held on and at times threatened to increase their lead.

The game had the fans in cheer all the way through and it was fast and clean. The 10 penalties, 11 for Lindsay and 9 for the visitors, were caused chiefly through the eagerness of the ice.

Old Champs Were Hardier

It seems like something from the middle ages to recall the fighters from the days of John L. Sullivan. It is in fact a compendium of battling from the beginning in America. And yet in New York at the moment is Jim Corbett, who was the first champion under the present rules. Sullivan being the last of the London Prize Ring code, and with Corbett are some others that carry the game down to the present.

* * * * *

James J. is in Gotham in theskirmish; Tommy Burns is running a restaurantsPort; Jack Johnson is loitering around with the odd appearance on the stage; Dempsey is delving into fight promotions and things of that nature; Tunney is in business; Jim Jeffries and Jess Willard are out on the coast, so that a direct line of world's heavy champions since Sullivan are all still living, except Sullivan himself and Fitzsimmons.

* * * * *

It would seem to indicate that these old warriors were hardy and, as a matter of fact, still are. At any rate they are, barring two, still going strong as something or other. And when they fought it was a fight in those days—long and strenuous.

On Last Night's Junior Game

The outstanding feature of last night's Junior O.H.A. game here, was the playing done by Fenelon Falls' second-string forward line. The three kids, all 15 years of age, bussed around the Lindsay nets like hornets, showed better combination than the regulars and, although they didn't score, looked just about as good as the regulars. Lindsay's sub forward line featuring Growden, Campbell and Parsons, did some mighty good work too, although they did not like the mushy ice very well.

* * * * *

Lindsay's victory was an earned one as each team scored one fluke and Ross Mills had two earned goals to Fenelon's one. Only one goal was scored through a combination play but that was because of the ice. Dozens of beautiful passes were wasted because the puck was lost in the scrappings. Lindsay, by the way, took to the ice better than Fenelon, skated more and, in the final session, the second one ready to take the puck when the first one lost it.

Victorias Are Balanced Up Now

Lindsay's Victorias are now balanced up. Without it, was on the previous occasion when Markham won. "Buffer" Reeves pulled back from centre just balanced up the rearguard, bodying nicely and rushing very dangerously last night were responsible for two Lindsay counters. Fever on the other defence played nice hockey breaking up Port Perry thrusts, and clearing with rushes. Added to playing a nice game Harold Shier was the ice for the full 60 minutes, without a single penalty. The forwards of Rich and Williams was not at all proved up by the addition of Jack Crafton, who broke fast and worked well in combination. The one around forward line, Martin, Piercey and Dames worked like Trojans, Jack—Jack Martin, that is, "Tex" to goal was again undecidable, playing a nice game, and this one goal that was scored against him was of the fluke nature when it bounded over his stick after he stopped it. All of the local players were good, all shared in the win. Keep it up boys and don't let yourrol grow out of your hat.

OUT OF CONTROL

Return Game This Friday Should Be Good; Whole Lindsay Team Stars.

—By J.W.M.—
(Post Staff Reporter)

PORT PERRY, Jan. 6—Shaping up into something like the form it was earlier, Lindsay Victorias, took a two-goal decision from the Port Perry Intermediates here before a packed house at the arena last night, in a game featured by speed, stick-handling and combination which was exceptional considering the sticky ice. Several times the game seemed to get out of control of the referee Ross Ball, of the Nationals, Toronto, and three fights between Martin and Hall, were only stopped in time—for Hall —when was one of the most aggressive men on the ice, and would probably have gotten what was coming to him. From the time they displayed last night both these teams should stage a battle royal when they meet in Lindsay this coming Friday.

Lindsay Aggressive

Lindsay were by far the more aggressive and all through the struggle and only stellar net-minding by "Bricky" Deshane, Port's veteran goalie, kept the score from rising to such the double column. Only in the last period did Port Perry dominate the play with five men up on the attack all whanging away to slap the old boot-heel; in behind "Ike" Eberts who was playing goal, but "Ike" stood up the brisket and Fever and Reeves relieved the congestion by timely rushes, and on one, "Buffer" Reeves picked the puck up on the blue line, shook the whole team and score. That just about broke Port's heart, and they did not have the same steam afterwards. There were no stars on the Lindsay team. They all shared alike in the glorious victory with only "Buffer" Reeves and "Greeny" Williams the two who scored the goals and "Ike" for his sensational and unbinding nerve standing out a little more than the others because of this, but they all worked and all of the had in the win. For Port Perry Sleighlom at centre and Desaine in goal were best.

The Scoring Plays

"Buffer" Reeves, Lindsay's new defenceman, rushed in the third period, shook the whole team and then walk in on Deshane for Lindsay's first score. Later on in the period the second one came when Williams scored form close in after a Rich-Crafton-William combination had worked the length of the rink. With ten minutes to go in the last period Hall, for Port Perry, gave the same stern afterwards. In front of the net. "Ike" blocked it with his stick but it just twisted up and over and came to rest just over the line in the goalmouth, for a decidedly flukey goal. Shortly afterward "Buffer" Reeves broke away and shot at Deshane as Port Perry players who were all playing up and once again walked right in on the Lindsay net, Reeves put him with a shot to the far corner of the net. This in brief was the origin of all the scoring plays.

The Line-Ups

The teams—Lindsay, centre, J. Crafton; wings, L. Williams and C. Rich; defence E. Reeves and H. Fevers; goal, I. Eberts; alternates, N. McCrory, C. Piercey, C. Martin and J. Dames. Port Perry—Sleighlom, centre; wings, C. Rescor and Z. Sleighlom; defence, D. Hall and A. Martin; goal, Deshane; alternates, A. Brock, C. Switzer and J. Williams. Referee—Ross Paul, Toronto.

Play by Play

—Play opened fast in the first period with both teams trying to get hard shots were passed out. Then Lindsay began to dominate the play and kept Port Perry in their own end, the forwards playing perfect combination. Rushes by both defencemen who passed unerringly to forwards, but the combination on defence also produced near scores, but Deshane was right on and it was not until "Buffer" Reeves rushed and beat the defence, then walked right in on Deshane that he beat him for the first score. This pepped the team up and the kid line came on taking up the battle right where the last left off. Dames got a couple of nice shots on the net this time but once again Deshane saved. He 'Carried On'

CANNINGTON, Jan. 6.—(Staff Correspondence)—Although badly hurt while on a hurry call, Dr. C. J. Graham, of Cannington, was still on medical attention by another doctor and then went on to attend to his patient before going to the hospital himself, it was learned here today. Dr. Graham failed to turn a corner near Port Perry and his car was ditched. With his face badly cut he made his way to a near-by farm house and was removed to Port Perry where a doctor put several stitches in a cut in his face.

Following this Dr. Graham attended his patient and then went to the hospital for treatment. It is thought that sleep had overcome the doctor who has been working hard lately causing the accident.

Powles' Corners

POWLES CORNER, Jan. 3.—(Staff Correspondence)—A number of locals attended the dance Wednesday night at Cameron community Hall and report a good time.

Christmas Day was a beautiful day and many cars kept the highway in excellent shape. It has been a good many Christmases ago that cars were able to travel on that day with pleasure. Other years have filled the roads to a good measure.

It is understood that Cameron is about to do away with the coal oil lamps and install the hydro. Not only will it be of more convenience but it should add that town on the map. Furthermore we don't think it will be long now until Powles Corner will have lights.

On Saturday evening a taxi driver from Lindsay in a large new sedan car whilst he was delivering a passenger to Fenelon Falls had an accident about two miles east of here on the highway. While descending a hill the car veered from one side of th road to the other and at last came to rest against a wire fence turning over on its side.

No one was hurt and not even a glass broken but the fenders, running board, and bumper where it had been slightly damaged and bent. Kelly and Smith's auto wreckers were summoned from Fenelon Falls and after a not long till the taxi was on the road again and under its own power, made the trip back to Lindsay.

The regular services were held at United Church on Sunday with the usual number in attendance.

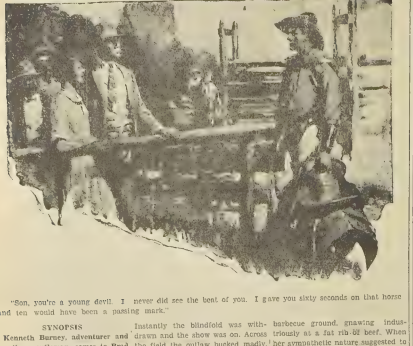
"Gringo Privateer"

By Peter B. Kyne



"Son, you're a young devil. I and ten would have been a passing mark."

SYNOPSIS

Kenneth Burney, adventurer and one-time gentleman, comes to Brad ley Hardin, king of the cattle country, for a job. Burney has had a fight with Martin Bruce a rival cattle owner who has been stealing the King's stock, aided by Miguel Gallegos a Mexican bandit. The King, liking young Burney's style, offers him the job of getting the cattle-thieves. Burney accepts though he knows it means a fight to the death. He meets Muriel, the King's beautiful daughter. Muriel, who is more interested than she cares to admit, tries to persuade her father not to let Burney tackle the cattle thieves. The King decides to test Burney's courage by making him ride Geronimo, the toughest bronco on the ranch.

CHAPTER NINE

To Burney presently came Art Grayden. "The king says him an his guest will be honored if you start the fireworks on Geronimo," he announced solemnly.

"The king hath spoken," the victim remarked blithely. He picked up his saddle and walked out on the field where two cowboys were holding a big black gelding. He sighed. He had never known a good bucker that wasn't a black or a bay. As he approached, a mounted man rode up, drew Geronimo's head across his mount's neck and asked the the outlaw by the ears, while another man blindfolded him. The horse submitted to saddling without unusual protest, and when he was ready to be mounted, Ken Burney turned to Art Grayden inquiringly.

"You ride him with the headstall an' halter shank," that grim individual informed him. "One arm free an' raised above your head at all times an' if you pull his head down so he can't buck proper you'll be disqualified. You scratch him Kentucky on the first three jumps an' you scratch on the next three; you don't claw leather an' you stay with him until the gun goes off an' the hazers pick him up."

"Association rules. I know them backwards. By the way, does His Majesty offer a prize for this?"

"Sure does, Smokey. Nothin' cheap about the big boss on the Fourth o' July. A hundred dollars especial if you win, nothing if you lose—an' you pay your own hospital bill, if any."

"A hundred dollars special prize, eh? Well, Mr. Grayden, you true sweet, please and tell the king I'm riding special—an exhibition ride for the sport of kings and not in open competition. Say to him, please, that if I win I desire the prize to go into the pot as added money in the banking contests to follow. Tell him the mail-order cowboy is quite content to ride for a job."

Art Grayden immediately rode across to the king's bench and delivered the message. "There's a three-base sport for you," Muriel Brandin cried, and applauded. But the king wrinkled his nose. "Grandstander, playing to the gallery," he sneered. "He's pretty well convinced he'll be thrown, so he's saving his face and making a bet I AM of himself. I don't like his methods."

"How ungenerous of you, Dad," the girl charged. "You know very well Geronimo has never been ridden. Bet you a hundred dollars my unknown knight rides him to a howling finish."

"Taken," said the king. Then Art Grayden blew a whistle and Ken Burney vaulted into the saddle. Instantly the blindfold was withdrawn and the show was on. Across the field the outlaw bucked madly, but the rider stayed, his right hand uplifted, his legs scratching three times forward and three times aft. Suddenly the horse changed his tactics and leaped sideways at least a dozen feet. That trick had never failed him previously, but strangely his rider swayed with him and stuck.

Promptly Geronimo tried sunfishing. Still pitching, he metamorphosed himself into a equine pinwheel. But still his rider stuck—and suddenly in rage and chagrin, Geronimo squatted—and commenced running, with only an occasional pitch—and the king nodded to Art Grayden, who fired his six-shooter. Instantly the hazers, who had been following the outlaw, ranged in alongside of him and picked him up. Ken Burney slipped from Geronimo's back to a seat behind the saddle of the near hazer and thence to the ground, where he stood for a moment swaying on his feet, slumped to his hands and knees, remained there a few seconds and then pitched forward on his face. Nobody paid any attention to him and in about three minutes he rose, stripped his saddle off Geronimo and started wearily to retire. But a shout from the king ha'ted him, the kingly command to approach was evidenced by a peremptory arm signal.

With his saddle in hand Burney reported. "Son," said the king, "you're a young devil. I never did see the beat of you. I gave you sixty seconds on that horse and ten would have been a passing mark."

"Yes, it was fifty seconds too long, sir. You embarrassed the horse and me."

"A bit dirty of me, I admit. But you're on the payroll. Art Grayden says he's never seen anything like you."

"I thank Your Majesty."

His Majesty glowered and would, in all probability, have scolded him for employing the kingly form of address had not Muriel interrupted. "Why didn't you remain for breakfast, Mr. Burney?" she demanded.

"If you will ask your father that question, Miss Muriel, he will answer it correctly," he replied. "And, by the way, Mr. Grayden has change in his pocket. Hereafter I am to be known as Smoky."

His doffed his "mbrero and terminated sway. "See what you've done to him," the girl charged the king quaveringly. "He's bleeding from each nostril and each corner of his mouth."

"So I observed." His Majesty reviewed carelessly. "These roughriders get more or less shaken up on occasion, but they get over it." His hand closed over his daughter's. "Honey, I've been a long time looking for that man," he whispered. "How many I need men who aren't afraid to bleed in my service! An exhibition ride, eh? And he declined the hundred-dollar prize—with three dollars in his pocket. Something magnificent about that young man!"

"I'm sorry for him, Dad," said Muriel. "There's something pathetic about him, with all his bravado."

"Gentlemen down on their luck are always sorry or live pathetic," he reminded her.

The rodeo dragged on. At twelve-thirty the barbecue was served and Muriel saw her knights squatted on his heels on the outer fringe of the barbecue ground, gnawing industriously as a fat rib of beef. When her sympathetic nature suggested to her that she approach him and make polite inquiry as to his possible internal injuries, he rose and walked away to join a group of other riders, and her father, noting this, grinned maliciously at her. "His name is Smokey now," he reminded her. "He's out of your social circle now, my dear, and, consequently, out of your life."

She bit her lip and favored him with a glance of profound irritation, whereat he laughed, for well did he love a kingly jest.

In the afternoon, on his horse Rowdy, Ken Burney roped and tied a calf in sixteen and a quarter seconds and was first prize. Then he gave an exhibition of fancy roping and trick riding that won the plaudits of guests and competitors alike. And when the rodeo was over he found a vacant bed in the bunkhouse and was superfess, to collect his badly scattered internal economy and be prepared, at least to simulate earning his wages next day.

After dinner that night the king sent for Art Grayden to report at his castle. "Well, Art," he began without any verbal fencing, "what do you think of this dude cowboy Smokey?"

"He'll make a top-hand air."

"What have the men got to say about him?"

"He's won their respect by proving he knows his business, and they like him because they suspected maybe he'd be a bit on the high an mighty an' he ain't."

"That's good. Art, how old are you?"

"Fifty-six."

"You've been with the Bradin Land and Cattle Company since you were sixteen and you've spent the last twenty years on El Ranchito. It hasn't been an easy job."

"Well, it does seem to carry a lot more worries, lately, Boss."

"That's because you're not so young as you used to be, and managing El Ranchito is developing into a young man's job. Art, you've got a wife and four children it isn't to be presumed that you care to take the chances you used to grapple with as a single man. Kind of lonesome on El Ranchito, too," the king went on musingly. "Your children are getting to highschool age and there isn't a high school in this county.

"Art, I'm going to divorce you from hard work and worry. You're assistant to the president of the Bardin Land and Cattle Company, which means that I'm going to show half my job on to you. You'll reside in San Francisco and your job will be to drift around among the Bardin ranches, keep in touch with what they're doing, do some cattle buying, attend to the land leases, make land appraisals—oh, there are any number of important jobs for you to do. Still, I want you to take it easy. Executives should let the other fellow do the hard work. Pack up as soon as you can and drag yourself and family out of here—at the Bardin expense."

Grayden favored him with a grateful glance and a deprecatory smile. "I'm willing, boss. I'd a been willin' any time since I turned the fifty post. Who're you going to put in my place—if that's any o' my business?"

"Your salary is raised five thousand a year, Art—forgot to mention it," said Smokey takes your place.

I dent like that name Smokey. It fits his complexion but he isn't the sort of man to labor along under a familiar nicknume. Here after his name is Mr. Kenneth Burney."

Art Grayden was amazed. "How long have you known this boy, boss? Somehow, I got the idea you never met him before last night."

"Which you're right, as usual, Art. I'm just playing a hunch that he'll do."

"Well, he's got sand an' he can ride an' rope with the best. If he knows cattle—"

"I don't give a hoot if he doesn't know a cow from a steer. We've got old Martin Bruce to the north of us and Miguel Gallegos to the south of us and at least Burney knows that. He's got to get rid of those two hombres, in order to hold his job. He can't manage El Ranchito for me and operate in real ink, and he realizes he can never operate very deeply in blue ink while those two skunks continue to annoy us. By making him general manager I automatically hand him a firebrand he's got to solve or quit. The job's worth fighting for, isn't it?"

Grayden nodded. "But, boss," he protested, "if he's a professional killer, why don't you just pay him for both jobs, after you're sure he's done them, and let him go? What's the sense makin' a killer your general manager?"

"We had a nice little rodeo today, didn't we?" said the king.

But Grayden was not to be sidetracked at easily. "Well, I reckon you can pay for your pleasures," he began, but the king, with a winning smile, interrupted:

"How about a little sustenance, Art? One drink to the new assistant to the president and another to my new general manager of El Ranchito."

Art Grayden subsided, for he knew that when the king had exhausted a subject he dropped it as if it burned him.

"By the way," the king continued, "where is my new general manager?"

"In the bunkhouse, I s'pose, sir."

The various departments of El Ranchito were connected by telephone. The king, therefore, rang up the bunkhouse and got Tom Bledsoe, the riding boss, on the phone. "Tell that new man, Smokey, to report to me at my house immediately," he ordered.

"You'd better take him in hand tomorrow, Art," the king suggested, as he resumed his seat. "Tell him how you're running the ranch, explain your system to him, show him the map of El Ranchito and ride over the range with him and show him the boundaries. Put him on to all the details of your job for about two weeks. After you're gone he can continue to absorb information from the riding boss, Tom Bledsoe."

"I don't know as Tom's liable to be very communicative, boss. He's in line for promotion an' he's always had a hunch that when I moved on he'd get my job. Tom'll be right disappointed."

"At the present time the job is too big for him. After Ken Burney has ironed out the situation Tom can handle it, but not until then. You tell Tom to keep his nose clean and he'll get ahead in the world a whole lot faster."

ITALIAN PLANES STARTLE WHOLE WORLD

Ten Planes Cross Ocean—Only Two Were Forced Down

Dangerous Flight

Caravan Crossed 1,700 Miles in a Little More Than 17 Hours, Landing Yesterday

ALL PLANES ARE SAFE

NATAL, Brazil, Jan. 17—Thousands of inhabitants of this far north eastern tip of the South American continent gathered here today to gaze in wonder and admiration at ten Italian seaplanes which yesterday flew across the Atlantic to complete one of the greatest achievements in aviation history. After the gruelling trip of 1,700 miles, the air caravan plans to start tomorrow for Rio De Janeiro.

General Italo Balbo, Italian Air Minister and leader of group, brought the first of planes to arrive here, down on the waters of the Potengy River, at 4.43 p.m. yesterday, 2.43 p.m. E.S.T., just 17 hours and 16 minutes after the departure from Kolama.

The party was received at the home of the Governor of State of Rio Grande Do Norte.

The machines are being completely overhauled. It is undecided whether a trip to Buenos Aires will be attempted. The planes are eventually to be sold to the Brazilian Government.

NATAL, Brazil, Jan. 7—Ten great Italian seaplanes roared down into the Brazilian sea yesterday between 6.15 and 4.30 o'clock (2.15 and 2.30 p.m. E.S.T.), completing one of the most ambitious aviation projects ever attempted.

Another of the twelve scheduled to leave Bolama, Portuguese Guinea, early yesterday morning was forced down near St. Paul Rock, off the Brazilian coast, and it was reported that the twelfth was unable to rise from the West African coast as the others took off.

Official sources in Rome announced that all were planned to engage the flight, with two forced down at sea and taken in charge by Italian warships, which lined the route over the South Atlantic.

The flight of 1,875 miles was completed in approximately 17 hours 5 minutes by the first planes which dropped down. They came in at intervals and flew all the way in the same fashion.

Started in Darkness

Starting at 2 o'clock in the morning, G.M.T. (9 p.m. Monday, E.S.T.) while darkness still hung over Africa, the Italian squadron soared out for the long flight across the South Atlantic.

Then at 8.40 a.m., G.M.T., they passed the Darlene, first of the Italian vessels acting as guide ships, at 4.37, G.M.T., they passed the Turiello, and at 7.06 flew over the Vivalona.

Thereafter they sped over the tossing ocean and crossed the lonely island of Fernando Noronha at 2.35 p.m., local time (11.35 a.m., E.S.T.), swung straight for St. Paul Rock, and finally sloped to a stop on the waters of Natal Harbor at 4.15 p.m.

Crowd Welcomes Visitors

A great crowd was out to welcome the visitors, people coming from miles around, despite heavy rains the previous night, and it was a thrilling moment not only for the natives but for the aviators who had completed such a long and hazardous journey in open cockpits.

In Court On Charge Of Theft

Old Man and War Veteran Face Charges For Collecting Junk To Make Living

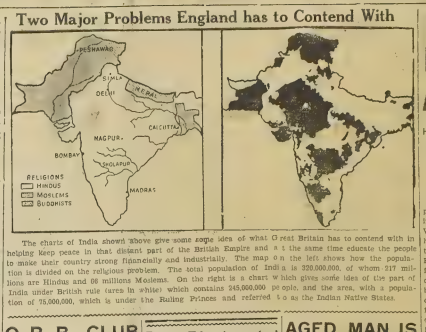
ARE REMANDED

Yesterday in police court Nelson Hopkins, an aged man and Richard Westover, a veteran of the Great War, both of Somerville township, were remanded for sentence by Magistrate G. A. Jordan, Hopkins until February 5th, and Westover until January 13th, on a charge of doing malicious injury to property on Christmas Eve, when they allegedly broke up an old "horse-power" and took two wheels from a mower on the farm of I. Reads, to sell for junk. R. I. Moore, town, appeared for both accused men and Crown Attorney J. E. Anderson, K.C., prosecuted the case.

In defence of themselves the men said that they thought the "horse-power," now being an obsolete piece of machinery, was abandoned and of no value to any person and that was the reason they broke it up to sell it for junk. Hopkins admitted breaking the "horse power" and Westover said that he had just helped the older man, but it was established to the satisfaction of the court that both were implicated in the deed. Both were up from a remand, Hopkins having been apprehended and arrested as he made his way to Penelon that night, and Westover being brought last Saturday.

Both of them live in a rather bleak country and they had no employment. Hopkins was living with Westover. Westover's case has been remanded several times since Christmas, early yesterday morning was forced down near St. Paul Rock, off the Brazilian coast, and it was reported that the twelfth was unable to rise from the West African coast as the others took off.

Two Major Problems England has to Contend With



The efforts of India shown above give some sope idea of what Great Britain has to contend with in helping keep peace in that distant part of the British Empire and at the same time educate the people to make their country strong financially and industrially. The map on the left shows how the population is divided on the religious problem. The total population of India is 320,000,000, of whom 217 millions are Hindus and 66 millions Moslems. On the right is a chart which gives some idea of the size of India under British rule (area in white) which contains 245,000,000 people, and the area, with a population of 75,000,000, which is under the Ruling Princes and referred to as the Indian Native States.

Decorated In War For Bravery, Local Man Is In Trouble

Has Only His Medals and Bad Case of Consumption As a Reminder of Grim War

GETS NO PENSION

Entering the Great War in the prime of life, at the age of 28 years, in 1915, now 17 years later Richard Westover, Somerville township, who has the Croix de Guerre, of France, the Military Medal and Bar, of the English Army, and other decorations for conspicuous bravery, has a bad case of consumption as a result of being gassed in action, and in spite of the fact that he has a wife and family dependent upon him receives no pension. Situated as he is in Somerville township, one hundred miles away from the Pension Board, and in dire want with no way of getting to them to present his case, this man has only his medals and his ailment to show for the best four years of his life which were spent in the defence of his country.

His case was brought to the attention of the authorities when he was found guilty yesterday of aiding in breaking up a "horse-power" to sell for junk and of Chief R. I. Moore, O.C., of the Victoria-Haliburton regiment, is now taking his case up with the Pension Board. What he is remanded until next Tuesday, to try and get him a pension and gain admittance to Christie Street Hospital for him. According to the story told, he enlisted in Fort Frances with the 52nd Infantry and first went into action the throat. Mr. Johnston was in 1915, and did not get back here until January 1919. In one of the actions, according to the story, he was gassed when a gas shell exploded near him, and after a short rest was back in action, so badly affected that he does not think he would if it were in a gas attack that he contracted the injury.

Coming back to Canada he settled in Somerville and has contracted "T.B." in it though, as a result of the gas in the war. Not half the man he was in 1915 when he answered his country's call, he nevertheless stands convicted of malicious injury to property. His remand is until the 13th, and in that time local authorities are presenting his case to the Pension Board, attempting to get him into Christie Street Hospital.

O. R. B. CLUB GIVEN TALK ON 'UTOPIA'

MR. F. R. WILFORD PROVIDES LITERARY FEAST ON "LAND OF CONTENTMENT," OR MYTHICAL PLACE OF "NOWHERE"

The members of the local O.R.B. Club, were highly entertained along literary lines last evening, with a paper keenly delivered by Mr. F. R. Wilford. The topic of the paper was "Utopia," which means through the explanation of Sir Thomas Moore, "a land of perfect contentment," but from its Greek derivation the word also means "nowhere."

Mr. Wilford pointed out man's vain efforts, through thousands of years to discover Utopia, are giving away to the demands of the fair sex, who are now seeking in their own ways for that mythical land as yet been unable to grasp. The women of today are making astonishing changes in their customs and manners to acquire the coveted Utopia.

The guest speaker explained that a political Utopia absolutely impossible because human minds will never be able to travel along the same political channels. Utopia can only be acquired when each man and our own minds, alone, are able to fashion our Utopia.

Following this paper the M. of Croft reviewed current events for the past month and the critic's report was forwarded by Mr. Smale. After a dainty luncheon had been served the meeting broke up in the regular O.R.B. manner.

Boy Electrocuted Trying To Capture Owl Sitting On Wire

—Port Colborne, Jan. 7.

IN ATTEMPTING to capture an owl which was sitting on a high tension wire on Hydro-Electric System here yesterday afternoon, Arthur Richardson, 15, was severely shocked and fell to the ground. He was taken to hospital where his condition was reported as critical. The bird was killed when the boy, reaching from the steel pole, formed contact.

AGED MAN IS BEATEN UP BY ROBBER

ATTACKED AND MAN-HANDLED IN HIS HOME NEAR PETERBORO; LOOT IS ONLY $20

PETERBORO, Jan. 7.—Terrorized in his home by two hold-up men, W. G. Johnston, of the Chemong Road, was man-handled and forced by blows to give up money.

Mr. Johnston, who is more than 70, and his sister, were sitting in their kitchen when a knock sounded on the side door.

Mr. Johnston saw two men standing upon the threshold. One sprang forward, gripping the aged man by the throat. Mr. Johnston was thrown helplessly to the floor.

His big assailant, easing up on his hold for a moment, demanded money. "I can't give you money while lying here," said Mr. Johnston. He was permitted to get up and was then pummelled with blows upon his chest. He was ordered to "hurry up and produce the cash." A wad containing $20 was then thrown on the table by Mr. Johnston. Opening the bag, the big man counted the money. "That's not enough. We want more," he growled. Mr. Johnston answered that it was all he had. He was dealt more blows.

Warning him not to try and phone anyone or he would be shot, them on left. The police searched this district unsuccessfully.

U.S. MOVE IS GENERAL FOR HIRING MEN

RAILWAYS, AUTOMOBILE AND STEEL INDUSTRIES ARE ADDING LARGER ON STAFFS; THOUSANDS TAKEN ON

CHICAGO, Jan. 7—The railroad, automobile and steel industries, three of the fundamentals of American business life, has started hiring men by the tens of thousands.

By the end of the week, a nation-wide United Press survey indicated, more than 50,000 men, many of them laid off for months on end, will be back at work on their old jobs.

The New Year employment activities were general throughout the United States, but were the heaviest in teh middlewest industrial centres where many plants have been working only part-time and others have been shut down completely for year-end inventories.

In Detroit and adjacent automobile manufacturing cities, 22,000 men were called back to work when the automobile plants went into production on their new models for 1931. In Pontiac, Michigan, one of centres will see 5,000 men on the job again before Saturday. Some 2,-000 more already have returned in Cleveland.

The Pittsburgh industrial area has found work for 12,000. Harrisburg for 1,000 more, while the Ford motor plants in many of the nation's larger cities have re-employed several hundred each. In Oshawa, Ont., 800 men have returned to the Ford factory; in Denver, 750 and St. Paul, 1,200.

Other cities throughout the country wired equally encouraging reports pointing to employment in factories, shops, and municipal projects. More than 2,000 men returned at a single factory equipment plant at Beloit, Wisc, for instance, and 200 more at the nearby City of Cudahy, where a tire factory had been closed for weeks.

Railways Hire By Thousands

The nation's railroads also hired men by the thousands. The Southern Pacific gave jobs to 8,500; the Rock Island lines 2,500; the Chicago and Northwestern 7,000; the Santa Fe lines 3,000; the Missouri Pacific and the Missouri, Kansas and Texas

(Taken from the Post files of Jan. 7th, 1916)

Minden Echo—One of the saddest accidents that has taken place in this district for some time resulted in the death on Saturday evening last of a bright little girl who was a visitor in the neighborhood. The little girl, aged two years, and the daughter of Mr and Mrs. George Shelby, Toronto, while playing, plunged on arm into a pail of boiling lard, and so badly burned and thoughtlessly left within reach, and tipping it over herself, suffered such severe burns on the head and body, that nothing could be done, and death took place after intense suffering.

Say Farewell to Leonard Krouter, Upon Skating; Quiet Wedding Is Solemnized

MRS. AUSTIN HAS STROKE

HALIBURTON, Jan. 7. (Staff Correspondence)—Monday was a busy day in town and an extra large vote was polled. Although three other councillors were nominated in contest with Mr. W. R. Curry for the reeveship, all had withdrawn leaving Mr. Curry an reeve by acclamation. At a late hour that night, returns show that Walter Wilkinson, C. Hodgson, F. Austin and Fred Jones have been chosen as the council for 1931.

Farewell Party

A farewell party was given for Mr. Leonard Krouter on Monday evening in the Town Hall, when a large number of his friends gathered to wish him success in his new home in the city. Mr. Krouter leaves many sincere friends behind. He has been a member of the Montreal Bank staff for nearly three years—and during that time has been a valued member of the United Church, of the Male Choir, of the Dramatic Club and the winter Sports Association. Murder Victim Is Identified

BROCKENSHIRE, ALLEGED MURDERER OF TORONTO POLICEMAN, IS SAID TO BE IN A BAD WAY.

TORONTO, Jan. 7—John Brockenshire, of Windsor, alleged slayer of Constable Roy Medjuhan, suffered a relapse yesterday and last night his condition was reported as critical. The full extent of the complications believed to have developed will not be known for twenty-four hours, at which time laboratory work in conjunction with blood pressure tests is expected to be completed.

This was the report given late last night by Dr. A. J. Prenter, physician attending Brockenshire. The prisoner has had a high temperature ever since the time he was carried into the hospital with gunshot wounds inflicted by the police who shot him down after an all-night hunt following the slaying of the constable.

Signs of bronchial pneumonia were found yesterday morning, and it is also suspected that an abscess has formed on the kidneys. That, it is anticipated, will be definitely learned today. Brockenshire is conscious and talks to the constables who guard his bedside continuously.

THE WEATHER

Local temperature readings at 8 a.m. for previous 24 hours: Highest, 25; lowest, 3 below.

The sun rose at 7.52 a.m. and will set at 4.56 p.m.

High and low readings in other places: Vancouver, 38-44; Calgary, 20-32; Moose Jaw, 27-43; Regina, 11-34; Cochrane, 14 below—2; Toronto, 21-29; Montreal, 15-22; Halifax, 30-52.

KILLER OF CONSTABLE HAS RELAPSE

WEDNESDAY JANUARY 7th.,

County Elections

On Monday the rate-payers of three villages and township within Victoria County went to the polls to elect the men who will spend their money during the next year and their representatives to the county council for the same period. Their choice, taken in a manner held previously and acclamations given somewhat, have put seven new men on the 19-man county council and a number of changes in township councils have resulted since voting.

Seven new county councillors in one year isn't such a tremendous number but of the same time the personnel of the new particular time leaves the council rather short of men with long experience. Reeve Bell, who entered the council last year, there were three new men elected and one new man in 1930, all of whom was Reeve F. Kylie of Lindsay, has ever held any municipal experience.

To celebrate the change in personnel several communities the charmingite vacant. The following chairman of committees have not come back: S. Endicott, of Omemee, chairman of the roads and bridges committee and J. O'Neill, of Lindsay, chairman of finance and assessment committee. Thomas Poulsom, of Pendeen Park, on the committee on appointments to office and the County Home and the Aged committee. Reeve Hall, of Reeve Herbert McCaughey is a candidate for the mayor's gown and will likely vacate the standing committees chair and a change in the personnel of the other roads committee will likely be made.

A number of seats are the losers, some of the county council chamber was filled with faces that have been there in most cases for many years.

The new members there are well-known men. Reeve Hall, of Bobcaygeon, has served municipal duty before and again. Six men who have one year's experience are Reeve Keene of Eldon; Hussey of Lindsay; Hutchings of Somerville; Reeve Hall, of Bobcaygeon; Reeve Hall, of Fenelon Falls and Cruise of Mariposa. Reeve A. R. Bottum, of Bobcaygeon, has been "among those present" on the roads and bridges committee for two Dodge and Cardiff, Reeve Elliott, of Verulam; and Reeve Hall, of Mariposa, have been there for three years. Of the other two members of the council, Reeve J. A. Cunningham, of Dunsford, retiring warden, has been on the county council for eight years, and Reeve Herbert McCaughey of Dalton, a candidate for the warden's chair, has been there for three years.

Opposition may be expected to take place a year from now on the slate of the county, but the present personnel of the county council, with the exception of the new group of men, should be able to carry on the business capably and intelligently.

Rotten Apples

I noticed a story the other week in the Toronto Star Weekly by Bannon in the Bobbsey Twin series, entitled "Rotten Apples." In it he tells how the big door of the fruit warehouse and the rotten sheds was a fine hiding place.

If you are criticized, don't get sore. We don't spend our time picking spots out of rotten apples.

Ed Sass: running the old truck back and forth three minutes quite a while before its real meaning suddenly dawned on him. Then I got to thinking about it. I wonder why I hadn't got that rules 'I'm sorry' I remembered that every time the boss would come in I would "up on my car" and thought I was a grudge against me.

When the light broke thru I saw I'd been all wrong. It began to realize that it was even more reasonable for me to know my weak points and my mistakes than for the boss to know them. A raise in pay was better job, and maybe sometime any of us will would depend on my having known my weaknesses and having overcome them.

So when anybody criticizes me I listen with all my ears—even when it's a magazine typed wise, and I try to analyze it. I remember they don't spend time picking out rotten apples.

Man

An old article that has been reprinted on request by many newspapers may be of interest to our readers. It is a story of women's fickleness and full of trouble. He cometh into the world weeping—no consent and leaveth against his will. During his stay on earth his time is spent in one continuous round of contraries and misunderstandings. In his infancy he is an angel, in his boyhood he is a devil, in his manhood he sometimes thinks he is a man, and in old age a calamity. He is a chump; if he raises a check he is a thief if he is a poor man he is a poor manager and has no sense. If he is a rich man and refuses to be buncoed he is a grafter and a crook; if he is out of politics he can't place him as he is an "undesirable citizen." If he meddles in politics he is a hypocrite if he stays away from church he is a sinner if he donates to foreign missions he does it for show; if he doesn't he is a heathen and "lightweed." When he first comes into the world everybody wants to kiss him; before he goes out everybody all want to kick him. If he digs young he's a gold digger; if he don't he is a chump. He gets up and gets in the way, and tries to save funeral expenses. THE LORD BE WITH US 'TILL WE MEET AGAIN!

PRESS OPINIONS

PLENTY OF ADEPTS

(New York Herald Tribune)

One would think from a perusal of the daily news that there must be a lot of training in craftsmanship in this country.

EDUCATION IS BEST

(Ridgetown Dominion)

The decision of the Liberal party in Ontario to abandon the dry plank in its platform seems to indicate a reasoned conclusion that no reliance can be placed on prohibition sentiment to win victory at the polls.

The failure of force to attain the desired end is thus admitted, and the various outspoken utterances in the United States seem to show that earnest prohibition workers in that country are fas coming to the same conclusion.

We are still more than ever of the opinion that education is the best, if not the only, means of effecting a permanent betterment in respect to the liquor traffic.

NEW LIBERAL LEADER'S NAME

(Toronto Mail and Empire)

We have been pronouncing the new Liberal leader's name as it is spelt—Hepburn. We presume that most people have been doing the same thing. But the term, however, is a man who was brought up in West Elgin, that the people of the neighborhood used to pronounce it quite differently. The Hepburns, in fact, were always referred to as the "Hebburns," and the practice still prevail in the neighborhood and dogs the new leader recognize it?

The pronounciation of proper names is an arbitrary matter; the owners of names have a right to dictate the manner of their vocalization. It is important to a leader that the public should know what to call him. The Hon. Arthur Meighen experienced some difficulty in this respect. People in different parts of the country still pronounce his name in various ways.

MRS. EINSTEIN

(New York Telegram)

Many have wondered what sort of a woman the wife of Professor Einstein is. The impression has been that she was an excessively practical, dominating person, a hausfrau who matter-of-factly managed the genius like a lem and a couple children.

Actually Mrs. Einstein is a charming woman with a pronounced sense of humor and gayety, with intelligence, apparently, of a high order, who does manage her household, as she herself, in her own words, "never let him know that I manage him."

"To be the wife of this man," she said smiling, "is very difficult. He is absorbed in his very abstracted. But he is all my life. He is worth it."

Look out, husbands, be alert to see if you, too, are being managed. Perhaps on may be all right in the house of genius, but it is not a practice that should be allowed to spread.

CHUCKLES

SO CANDID

A philanthropic lady had given up her afternoon to address a class of young pupils at the village school.

"Now," she commenced, "can anyone tell me the greatest of all the virtues?"

No answer.

Come now, think," she insisted. "What am I doing when I give up my own pleasure to come and talk to you?"

A solemn little fist shot up.

"Well, my little man," she asked, "what am I doing?"

Please Miss, huttin' in," came the reply.

ANOTHER LIBEL

An orator, speaking at a club, took off his coat, which rather disconcerted one of the stewards of the meeting, who thought that a reporter would make a statement out of the incident.

Toward the close, he said to the speaker: "I don't suppose you know when you removed your coat, that a newspaper man was present?"

"Yes," the said, "but I kept my eye on him all the time."

SAUCE FOR THE DRAKE

A certain club has replaced its familiar black-coated servitors with young, and sometimes pretty, waitresses. One of the old-fashioned members who had strongly opposed the idea dropped into lunch one day.

"How's the duck to-day?" he growled, glowering at the girl who came to serve him.

"Oh, I am all right, said the waitress, perkily. "How are you, sir?"

* * * *

An old gentleman noticed a boy sitting on a bench and holding in hand hand a large sandwich of bread and ham.

From time to time the boy would raise a corner of the top layer of the sandwich, take out a small shred of ham, put it in his mouth, and arrange the sandwich exactly as it had been before. He did this many times, until finally, opening the sandwich for another bite, he discovered with evident disappointment that the filling was entirely gone.

"Why don't you eat it?" asked the old gentleman. The boy looked up and answered: "That's mine!"

That Body of Yours

By James W. Barton, M.D.

WHAT ABOUT ADENOIDS

You are reading from time to time about tonsils, about their danger to the general health. You read also about the mistake that parents are making in having their children's tonsils removed because after all the tonsils are really put there to overcome the harmful organisms.

What should be done ?

As mentioned before, healthy tonsils, even large tonsils, should not be disturbed, unless they are interfering seriously with breathing or hearing. Infected tonsils, those full of infection that they are not really doing their work of filtering out poisons, should be removed if treatment fails to restore them to a normal condition.

But what about adenoids, those little growths of tissue in the back of the nose and throat.

Just as the tonsils have been misnamed so also have these adenoid growths and the public health services of various countries are now doing their utmost to check these growths. The reports from some of these large European cities is most interesting. In Milan 35,000 pupils were examined and 13 percent had adenoids; in Naples 25,000 were examined and 17 percent had adenoids.

And yet the number that required surgical treatment was only 2-1-2 percent.

In Naples the question of whether adenoids made the children back ward in school was fully investigated.

What did it show?

That children with adenoids of medium severity were not kept behind in the primary grades, and with severe adenoids they were two and three years behind.

But you might ask, why might these children not be of the backward type anyway?

The removal of the adenoids has resulted time after time in the improvement mentally of youngsters. Their improvement in school has been most pronounced. From being considered stupid, they have become in many cases normal.

Parents then should think over the matter of adenoids, remember that small masses of adenoid tissue are not likely to be doing anything harm, but that large masses can interfere with proper breathing, spoil the tone of the voice, and make the child nervous. Then, in a few words, never let him know that I manage him."

"To be the wife of this man," she said smiling, "is very difficult. He is absorbed in his very abstracted. But he is all my life. He is worth it."

Look out, husbands, be alert to see if you, too, are being managed. Perhaps on may be all right in the house of genius, but it is not a practice that should be allowed to spread.

Timely Tips

CABBAGE DRESSING

Red cabbage, shredded ad served with sour cream dressing, is excellent. Mix moderately sugar and the sour cream and add just enough vinegar to salt to elasto. Then add a bit of seasoning.

Brown Crust

If you add a teaspoon of sugar to your pie crust it will be scarcely noticeable in the taste but will help make the crust nice and brown.

Add a little washing soda to the mixing water when rinsing the clothes—this will prevent that streaky appearance.

Use vinegar instead of water when moistening the store polish—it will not require so much rubbing to produce a bright polish.

Corson's Siding

CORSON'S SIDING, Jan. 7.—(Staff Correspondence).—On Jan. 2, 1931, there was held at Corson's Siding Church an interesting entertainment nearly the whole community was present, the church being full. The children did well with the singing of Christmas carols and the nanny numbers on the program were much appreciated.

Among them were the trombone solos of Mr. Fred McKague and the piano solos by Miss Marjorie McKague. The Cooper boys sang several solos and duets that were much enjoyed. Mrs. Byrd Cooper sang two songs that were well taken and Mrs. Reid accompanied her on the piano and Mr. Fred McKague also played an additional accompaniment. Mr. Reid gave a recitation called "Hornlan." The children gave their recitations clearly and could be heard throughout the crowded hall.

Mr. Tom Scriver gave a mouth organ solo. All helped willingly in the making of a great success. Parents of Bible history were given among them the story of Ruth and the ancestors of the Nativity in which Angels and shepherds figured largely

A piano was moved in and greatly added to the concert. We wish to thank all who in any way helped out. Events like this are rare enough in Corson's Siding to cause great pleasure when they occur.

Attractive Room Corners

Corners come into their own in the new home schemes of decoration.

There is a charm in a corner that no open space can possibly possess. It is surprising how timid home-makers seem to have been about utilizing these odd spaces of a room to make them yield individuality and hospitality.

Instead of sticking something else in a corner in a room, as if there were some bogey man likely to dodge up and protect the actual corner from being used, the corner should be arranged to play up the last small inch of a corner's right-angledness to advantage.

Corner cupboards are the most obvious and one of the most successful ways to utilize this space. These may be old-fashioned three-cornered "whatnots," enclosed china cabinets, or a combination of both.

A new way to use the corner cupboard idea is to build bookcases along both sides of the room, having them meet in friendly manner at the corner. Against this enticing background build the reading nook with easy chair, lamp, foot-stool and low arm chair table.

Quite a distinction for utilizing such meek furniture as Colonial is to have an early American love seat against one wall of a corner, coupled against the other wall, with appropriate picture or book rack above a lamp on the outer side of the love seat and a hooked rug or some other rug compatible with Colonist furniture right in front of it to draw the eye to this inviting spot.

Corners and decks would seem to go together naturally, don't they, but seldom do so. Both have a sense of privacy about them. Both seem a bit withdrawn from the busy life of the room about them. An admirable desk arrangement in a warm living room with low, soft-rich Persian rug with predominating rose tones and furniture upholstery that plays up to the rose is to place a flat desk of rich warm woods in gold and reddish tones. Flanking the side wall, against the end wall and back it with a screen that is painted in yellow, rich red, blue and gold.

Put a mirror on the wall shroud of the desk's end, which will reflect the mellow light of the lamp's golden yellow shade. Slightly in front of the opposite end of the desk place one of the room's wide, graful arm chairs and tone to match. This gives the desk a sightly withdrawn aspect, yet makes it an integral part of the room.

Very unusual and quite worth trying is the arrangement that puts the head of a daybed smack into corner.Always the daybed is put out into the room, taking a regular grouping of furniture to complete its unit of decoration.

A lovely example of this arrangement is achieved in a wood-panelled room and on a neutral ground. French Provincial furniture is used for the daybed, the desk that flanks it on one side and the table which flanks it on the other. The color scheme of this room is pleasing, with the panelling in preserved and a ceiling valance of toile de jouy, in mulberry red and white. The draperies on the daybed repeat the colors, as does the upholstery on the chair.

Leafs Tie Ottawa And Move Into Second Place

Lowly Senators Fight To Draw With Leafs

Seventy Minutes of Gruelling Hockey Ends With Score Two-All As Leafs Play Ottawa.

GOALIES SENSATIONAL

Brains Beat Black Hawks; Canadiens Beaten On Home Ice; Marcons Trounced By Rangers.

OTTAWA, Jan. 7.—Seventy minutes of gruelling hockey failed to bring a decision when Toronto Maple Leafs and Ottawa Senators met in a National League contest here last night. The old rivals fought each other with every trick in their bags from bell to bell, but the best they could do was two goals apiece, and they divided the points, Toronto using theirs to go into clear possession of second place in the International Section standing, as Montreal Maroons failed to relieve the brilliance of the Detroit Falcons.

The close tussle saw each of the teams take the lead, only to be caught by the hard-striving opposition forces. Leafs went to the lead in the opening period on a goal by Harold Cotton. Early in the next frame Hec Kilrea restored the count on a goal he scored with a rebounding puck and at mid-session the homesters edged in front when Dan Ry Cox beat Lorne Chabot with a face-off near the Toronto net. Less than four minutes later the score was again all up when Cotton came in when Jackson's long shot caught the Senator netsman off guard.

The Toronto defence had the edge on the Ottawans in the matter of speed, but the sheer doggedness of the homesters made up for the discrepancy.

The teams opened wide the throttle from the initial drop of the puck but hardly more than a minute had in neither goal being menaced. Lamb finally broke away for the first shot at the Ottawa citadel that forced Chabot to his knees to save. Clancy had the Leafs' first try, but the bid was wide wide. When the secondary lines came on,' play opened up. The neat combination of the Ottawa attacking line had the good-sized crowd on their toes. It took a brilliant save by Connell on Conacher's slashing shot after they had swept in abreast.

The Senator sub-line curtailed their goal threat for the period, and it made but little impression. Leafs went to the front on a perfect combination play by Bailey and Cotton as a pass as he passed centre ice and the latter going around the Ottawa rear guard. He had Connell n't his mercy and tallied neatly.

The locals took hard in an attempt to even matters. The ribrocked defensive system of the visitors had them baffled, but Joseph Bouvrette and Chabot was a wizard in handling the pucks. Senators sent in shot from long range. The Leafs were up up their breast pace and only brilliant net minding by Connell saved Ottawa.

LENGTHEN LEAD

BOSTON, Jan. 7—The Boston Bruins, playing hard for the 1931 Stanley Cup honors, lengthened their lead in the National Hockey League race last night by overwhelming the Montreal Canadiens 5 to 2. The victory placed the Bruins in front by three full games and pushed the Habitants into third place in the American Division.

An injury to Taffy Abel early in the first period, probably cost them goals. This aggressive Chicago defence star wrenched his right knee in a collision with Eddie Shore and soon after he left the game, the Bruins banked over three goals in rapid succession. Taffy will be laid up for two weeks.

George Owen, Marty Barry and Eddie Shore took advantage of Abel's absence to increase their scoring points and, in the third period, "Red" Beattie and Cooney Weiland also pushed the puck through goalie Chuck Gardiner.

"Mush" March opened the Chicago scoring in the second period with a sensational solo drive that carried him safely through Hollyman and Shore and into position to drive a terrific shot through the Boston goals. The other Black Hawks tally, made by Johnny Gottselig on Bill Adams's assist, was scored while two Bruins rested in the penalty box.

FIRST HOME LOSS

MONTREAL, Jan. 7.—The Montreal Canadiens were beaten on home ice last night for the first time this season, when the Detroit Falcons administered a sound drubbing to the local team, with the score at 6 —2. It was evidently an offnight for Les Canadiens, for they often missed the net, though they would in again and again on Dolson. At the same time the Falcons were going good, and their prelty two and three men attack spelled defeat for the Red Shirts.

Ebbie Goodfellow Detroit sharpshooter and leader of the National Hockey League scoring race, was in the front of the battle all the time he was on the ice, while Morenz, his close rival, was outstanding. The Canadiens' centre star, however, had no better luck than Goodfellow when it came to scoring.

The Canadiens played strongly in the first two periods, but seemed to wilt when Detroit swung ahead with a couple of goals to the good. Then McCabe rattled two quick goals into the net behind Hainsworth, and the Canadiens rest recaptured complete

It was a rough game with many penalties, and the crowd was distinctly filled with the referee-ing, and the game was nearly out of hand at the close.

MAROONS LISTLESS

NEW YORK, Jan. 7.—The New York Rangers gave one of their best exhibitions of the National League season last night as they trounced the Montreal Maroons, leaders of the International Division, 5 to 1.

The Rangers held the upper hand almost at every point of the game, while the listless Maroons never were given a chance to get started. Although defeated, Montreal held its place in their division.

Montreal attacked listlessly most of the time and showed only a few flashes of its best defensive game, while the Rangers looked like world beaters in every department. The Gotham team was off to a slow start but gained speed soon after the second Ranger goal and wound up in a fast enough session that brought seven third-period penalties, including a major to Babe Siebert.

New York scored first in the opening frame on a neat play from Jerry Dutch Keeling. They countered again early in the second period on Bun Cook's goal after Frank Boucher's pass before Nels Stewart made a quick pickup of Siebert's rebound and snapped in the only Maroon

New York Strips Fenton of Title And Call For Sharkey And Stribling.

Chicago Stadium With $500,000 Bid Has Inside Track For Bout.

NEW YORK, Jan. 7—The storm brewing over the heavyweights for the past six months broke in a cloud of rethring verbal thunder yesterday as the New York State Athletic Commission stripped Max Schmeling of the championship and drove another title bout into foreign pastures.

Behind all its proud might to stand off the logic of Joe Jacobs, manager of the Teuton, of Bill Carey, President of Madison Square Garden, and the combined attack of sports writers an shooting rifles, the Commission ruled Schmeling had lost his title when he left the ring immediately for a return match with Jack Sharkey. Then in the same breath, the Commission declared they would accept as champion the winner of a match between Sharkey and "Young" Stribling, title of Orno, although they had refused up to this point to consider Stribling as a fit opponent for Schmeling of the championship and an outstanding challenger for Schmeling.

FINAL GO ELSEWHERE

So, following the precedent of 1926, when Jack Dempsey and Gene Tunney were forced to Philadelphia because the Chicago stadium crown because of Commission objections, Schmeling will take his title to Chicago, Philadelphia, Newark, Jersey City or Philadelphia in June and defend them against the assaults of Young Stribling or Sharkey. Although four bidders already are in the field for the match, Nate Lewis, matchmaker at the Chicago Stadium, which seats 50,000 Stribling and his sealing capacity of 100,000, has the inside track with a $500,000 bid for Sharkey to come West last night in the first Southern Group N.O.H.A. fixture. Chapleau 3, Sault 0. Both teams played hard to try the first and part of the second period when Pile scored on a brilliant solo effort for the locals. Wolotko batted in McAllister's rebound in the third period to be followed by Vanlour's shot from close in a few moments later. The two teams appear very evenly matched and the battle for supremacy in this group looks like being very interesting. Pile, for Chapleau, and Lauzon, for Sault, played stellar roles.

"Gringo Privateer"

By Peter B. Kyne

SYNOPSIS

Kenneth Burney, adventurer and one-time gentleman, comes to Brad ley Bardin, king of the cattle country, for a job. Burney has had a fight with Martin Bruce a rival cattle owner who has been stealing the King's stock, aided by Miguel Collegos a Mexican bandit. The King, liking young Burney's style, offers him the job of getting the cattle-thieves. Burney accepts though he knows it means a fight to the death. He meets Muriel, the King's beautiful daughter. Muriel, who is more interested than she cares to admit, tries to persuade her father not to let Burney tackle the cattle thieves. The King decided to test Burney's courage by making him ride Geronimo, the toughest bronco on the ranch. Burney passes the test with flying colors, but his independence arouses the King's ire.

CHAPTER 10

A half-hour passed. "The new general manager is taking his time about reporting to me," said the king presently. "He'll have to learn to report on the jump when I send for him, so we might just as well start his education here and now."

He called up the bunkhouse again. "Bledsoe, I sent word half an hour ago, through you, for that new man, Smokey, to report to me. Has he started?"

No. Why not?

Hum-m-m! Says he give the day to me free gratis but the night belongs to him . . . The pup! Tell him if he isn't over here in ten minutes to look for a riding job somewhere else tomorrow morning. Deliver that message now. I'll wait on the line for his answer."

Two minutes passed, then Tom Bledsoe came on the wire again. "He says he never allows no man to threaten him, boss," Bledsoe reported. "He says he's a danged sight more important to thee than thy ridin' job is to him, that thee know it an' to quit hotherin' him until he can untangle his lights from his livers. Personally, boss, I think he strikes all over."

"Tell him he's fired for impertinence and insubordination," the king roared, and hung up.

"Well," said Art Graydon, "you hired him over my head, boss, so it's just as well you fired him, too."

"Don't get peeved, Art," His Majesty implored, for he knew Graydon was jealous of his prerogatives as general manager. "It's the general manager's privilege to hire and fire his inferiors, but it's the president's privilege to hire and fire the general managers."

"A general manager ain't got no right to ask me boss."

"I'm not so certain of that, Art. It just happens that I never been chased heretofore by a general manager. Somehow, I find the experience exhilarating. Must a man crawl on his hands and knees just to hold down one of my jobs? I don't blame him for being peevish, I'd have felt outraged, too, if he'd forced me to wait as long for the gun as I forced him this morning. Time certainly does drag when a fellow's giving an exhibition ride on old Geronimo!"

Art Graydon knew better than to argue with the king. "Well, then, I reckon you won't be promoting me for a while yet," he suggested.

"Oh, yes. My program stands. Ken Burney will be the general manager tomorrow morning just the same. We just fired him from his riding job."

"Oh, Bradley Bardin, you dirtiest!" a voice cried, and Muriel and the king suddenly found himself being embraced and kissed by his only heir.

"You been spying on your old man," he charged.

"Keep quiet—you. And you're going to take him out of that awful bunkhouse, darling?"

"Of course, of course. Art, tomorrow morning you move the sulky pup into decent quarters."

Graydon promised and shortly thereafter took his departure. At eight o'clock next morning he telephoned the king. "Smokey's gone," he announced.

"Gone. Gone where?"

"Nobody knows. Tom Bledsoe says his bed was empty when the outfit rolled out this morning; his stock ain't in the corral, so it sure o' looks as if your new general manager naturally saddled up an' drifted on account o' him t'inkin' you serious about hirin' fired. You know he wasn't informed that he'd been fired from one job to take over a belter one?"

"The ungrateful young pump," His Majesty shouted. "I'll teach him his place. Art, you put a couple of good men on his trail, follow him as far as he goes and tell them to bring him back if they have to hog-tie him. I want him back, understand. No substitute will do. He's the only man in my employ who never took me seriously."

"I'll go myself," Art Graydon promised, for it had been his business for forty years to see to it that the king got what he wanted when he wanted it. On occasion, too, he had been wont to kowtow to the princess!

Shortly after noon he reported to the king as the latter sat at luncheon with his daughter: "I found Burney, sir."

"Good. Bring him back with you?"

"No, sir. He promised he'd come back when he got good an' ready."

"What'd he run away for?"

"He said the princess objected to his hair and he was on his way to town to get it cut."

"Har! Har-har!" laughed the king. He had a habit of bleating like a sheep when aroused to sudden mirth. "So she did, Art. So she did. He must have overheard her. Har-har!"

The nearest town to El Ranchito was Hunchita, a straggling adobe municipality that squatted athwart the boundary between New Mexico and Mexico. At the barber shop in the International Hotel, Ken Burney secured his much-needed hair cut and shave, and while he lay in the chair, being shaved, Martin Bruce, the grizzled owner of the Triangle B ranch, entered and slipped into the adjoining chair. Burney, his face covered with lather, had fallen into a doze and not until Bruce's rough voice, ordering a close shave, roused him, was he aware of the proximity of his enemy.

"Didn't recognize me with riding breeches on and step up to my eyebrows," the young man reflected. When the barber turned his head sideways, Burney saw that Martin Bruce had closed his eyes as the barber commenced lathering his face; hence the former decided that the danger of being seen and recognized by Bruce was negligible. Burney would be shaved, first, and then at his leisure while Bruce's barber still cornered away at the old cattleman's three-weeks-old growth of beard.

"Once over," he whispered to his barber. "I'm in a hurry and I don't want a close shave."

When the barber tipped him out of the chair he went at once to the end of the shop to arrange his necktie in order to avoid the hazard of Martin Bruce opening his eyes and seeing, in the mirror in front of him, the reflection of his youthful enemy standing just behind him. When he was ready for the street Burney sat down and lit a cigarette.

"I thought you was in a hurry," the barber commented.

"So, now," Mr. Burney replied softly. "A little later perhaps."

He reached in under the left front of his light whipcord coat and eased his pistol in the holster that hung there from his shoulder, then waited until the other barber, having washed Martin Bruce's ruddy face and powdered it, tilted him upright in his chair and asked him what, if anything, he would have on his head. And at that moment Ken Burney spoke:

"Good morning, Mr. Bruce."

Martin Bruce jerked his head in the direction of the voice; then, with an alertness one would never have suspected, in an man as old and bulky as he, leaped out of the chair and reached under the clinging barber's apron for his artillery. But the hand did not come out, for the very excellent reason that he saw Burney had him covered—and the enveloping barber's apron had treed a eight-action .45, with a four and three-quarter-inch barrel—and the gun was already cocked. With the finesse of the old-time gunman Bruce had cocked it even as he drew it from the holster. With his own pistol barrel pressing against the back of the old man's head, Burney reached down and removed the pistol from the latter's hand, thrust it into his rear trousers pocket and then behind hand over Bruce's person, feeling for another gun. He found it not. A smaller weapon thrust down the band of the latter's trousers—and appropriated that, also.

"Will you be good enough, Mr. Bruce," he requested politely, "to sit back in the chair and permit the barber to comb your hair?"

"You'll notice it don't stand on end," the grim old wolf replied easily.

"Oh, there will be no killing today, Mr. Bruce. Of course I could have killed you, with these barbers to bear witness that I acted in self-defence. I trusted to the apron to handicap you and permitted you to reach for your weapon before I pulled mine. To me, however, your elimination, no matter how desirable, would have been grossly inelegant under such circumstances. I prefer more finesse when I turn killer."

Martin Bruce sat back calmly in the chair. "Gimme a shimmer," he ordered the barber. "Nothin' like a shave pretty when a feller's in danger o' doin' with his hoots on," He smiled again approvingly at his youthful enemy. "You look a long chance, son."

Store Is Vacated To Make Room For New Bell Telephone Head Quarters

TEACHER KNOWN HERE

FENELON FALLS, Jan. 8—(Staff Correspondence)—A communication was recently received by Mr. M. H. McCallum from Mrs. Ratcliffe, Oshawa, leader of the Girl Guides, from Whitby, who spent two weeks at Camp "Wannamuces" on the site of the Brandon McCallum camp grounds on Cameron Lake, in the summer of 1930.

It was accompanied by two very picturesque views of the camp taken from the road, with Lake Cameron, alluring and serene, in the background. Mr. and Mrs. Ratcliffe were very favorably impressed by the scenic beauty of their surroundings during their visit last summer.

Bound for France With a Pay Load

Captain William S. MacLaren and Mrs. Beryl Hart are here seen waving farewell to friends as they departed from North Beach Airport New York, en route to the Old World in their plane, "Tradewind." These aviators, who are flying to France via the Azores, visited the Bermuda Islands and were forced back to the mainland. After repairing a damaged instrument the pilots of the "Tradewind" continued their journey.

Trans-Atlantic Plane Is Safe In Bermuda

START IS DELAYED

Hamilton, Bermuda, Jan. 8—The white monoplane Tradewind, washed by rain that was driven before a strong northwest wind, sped down out of gray skies to a safe landing in Hamilton harbor yesterday afternoon, completing the first leg of a pay-load flight from Norfolk, Va., to Paris.

Its motor roared again almost as soon as the pontoons touched the water, and its red-haired woman pilot, Mrs. Beryl Hart, drove the plane upward from the choppy seas and flew to a safer spot in front of the hangar on Hinson's Island.

Mrs. Hart and her navigator, Lieutenant William S. MacLaren, appeared fresh and smiling after their long journey, stepped into a waiting motor boat and proceeded to a hotel where they were greeted by a large crowd that had scanned the skies for their arrival.

The landing was made at 1.55 p.m. (12.55 E.S.T.), six hours and fifty-five minutes after the take-off from

Village of Brechin is Puzzled By Fierce Midnight Blaze in Undertaker's Shack

SUDDEN BLAZE

ORILLIA, Ont., Jan. 8—Chill fear of unearthly vengeance hangs over the little police village of Brechin, following the mysterious midnight burning of an undertaker's shed, and its contents, in a fierce, several coffins, rough boxes and other implements of the trade.

Ghost of ghoul, a creation of the gill that seems to run by in West Simcoe instantly, is firmly believed by certain residents of the district to be behind the blaze which, in less than 10 minutes, spread from rocking to a white fury which destroyed the shed and everything in it long before the village fire fighters could arrive on the scene.

George Elliott, village shoemaker and behind whose house the shed stood, states that at 11.30 Monday night he looked out of his kitchen window and saw the edifice standing peacefully in the silver blue of moonlight and snow.

Like a Pall

Ten minutes later he was aroused from his bed by a loud roaring. He went to the window, and was confronted with flame that leaped many degrees high in the air, curled round

Will Soon Announce The Government's New Policy On India

(Canadian Press Cable)

—London, Eng., Jan. 8.

PRIEM MINISTER Ramsay MacDonald will announce the Labor Government's policy on India at the plenary meeting of the round table conference today, the end of next week or early in the week of Jan. 19. This information was given the delegates today by Lord Sankey, Lord High Chancellor. He declared it was plain that the time for actual construction of the new constitution had arrived.

Government Will Bear 95 Per Cent Of Pensions Cost

Municipalities Will Be Greatly Relieved When New Plan Is Enforced

EXPECT LEGISLATION

Unofficial Announcement Is Made and Bennett Has Not Confirmed It Yet

WINNIPEG, Jan. 8—The Dominion Government in future will pay 95 per cent. of the cost of old age pensions, it was revealed yesterday by Hon. John Bracken, Premier of Manitoba.

Mr. Bracken, in commenting on the western premiers' conference here Tuesday with Prime Minister R. B. Bennett, declared that assurance had been given by Mr. Bennett that the provinces would be called upon to pay only five per cent. of the old age pensions charges as compared with the 50 per cent. now contributed.

Mr. Bennett in his election speech as had promised relief for the provinces in the cost of old age pensions, and Mr. Bracken in his comment said:

"With regard to old age pensions, the Prime Minister amplified his previous statement and made it clear that the Dominion would pay 95 percent. of the cost."

Legislation Expected

Legislation, it is indicated, provincial Federal Government, will be introduced in the Federal Government at the forthcoming session of Parliament.

In commenting on the conference, Premier Bracken said:

"With respect to the agricultural situation, Mr. Bennett thoroughly understands the seriousness of the difficulties facing the West. I should much prefer that any further statements concerning the Dominion policies relating to this question should come from Mr. Bennett himself."

Mr. Bracken said the natural resources discussion with Mr. Bennett was quite satisfactory to all, resulting in clearing up many minor difficulties. He also revealed that the Prime Minister had requested the premiers to call a meeting of a Dominion conference, in Ottawa, for a discussion of questions raised at the Imperial Conference.

The section in the pensions rates would mean a saving of approximately $700,000 to Manitoba. Estimates passed by the Provincial Legislature last year for the current fiscal year authorized $690,000 for the provincial share of pension payments and $15,070 for administration expenses. The 5 per cent. deducted would be valued at $35,000, would take care of administration expenditures.

Premier Surprised

FORT WILLIAM, Jan. 8—Premier R. B. Bennett, who passed through here last night on his way to Ottawa, declined to make a statement on the question of the Federal Government absorbing 95 per cent. of the cost of the old age pension scheme. Premier John Bracken of Manitoba announced this had been the substance of an undertaking transmitted to the Premier Bennett at a conference in Winnipeg.

Premier Bennett, while declining to issue a statement in the matter, was surprised at the announcement being made.

According to a custom of many years' standing, Mrs. A. D. Kitchener was hostess to the Baptist Mission circle at the January meeting on Tuesday afternoon of this week. Delightful refreshments were served by the hostess at the close of a very interesting meeting.

The study program for the Circle was presented and was unanimously adopted. Letters were read from the recipients of the two splendid Christmas boxes at Kipahwistic and Onward. These boxes were greatly appreciated, and have brought cheer and comfort.

Mrs. Donald Cameron then read on the "Secret of Joy," from the 15th chapter of John's Gospel, was of a specially helpful character. Miss Id. Morton read an article from the "Canadian Baptist" on "Assembling Ourselves Together," a plea for concentration, conservation and consecration.

When Their Safety Was Almost Abandoned, They Were Found On Amherst Island

LOST SINCE SUNDAY

KINGSTON, Jan. 8—Just when hope for their safety was almost abandoned by many, word was received here this morning from Amherst Island that Stanley Fairbanks, Russell Wemp and Walter Bibley, of Bath, who went out on Sunday in search of Captain Sheridan, Cecil Phillips and Anthony Kane, are safe and sound on Amherst Island, having been on False Ducks Island since Sunday.

Hope, however, has been given up for Sheridan Phillips and Kane, of whom not a sign has been found since they disappeared from Main Ducks on Friday, except for the location of wood and cushions identified as coming from the Phillips boat.

Another Strike Is Possible In Boot And Shoe Trade

—London, Eng., Jan. 8

BRITISH INDUSTRY, already disturbed by disputes in the coal mines and cotton factories, encountered still another serious difficulty today as a deadlock threatened in the boot and shoe trade. Employers and workers in this field are to meet today to discuss disagreements over working hours and wages. The Union wants a minimum wage of $15 a week and manufacturers have countered with a demand for a $13 wage. The present scale is $14.

Court Exposes Woman Who Posed As Man For 17 Years

Haled Into Court For Passing Bad Cheque; Did Man's Work As a Steamfitter.

CHICAGO, Jan. 18—For 17 years Marie Bults, 39, wore men's clothes, did men's work as a steamfitter, married another woman and lived happily.

She would have continued being a man to all her acquaintances if she had not been called before Judge John H. Lyle to-day to face charges of passing $28 in worthless cheques. Then in court it was revealed that she was a woman, although she appeared before the judge, clad in a man's suit, with a man's haircut and with a row of man-size cigars in her breast pocket.

"I could get no work as a woman," she explained, "so I put on men's clothes and went to work years ago. I have worked at men's jobs ever since and hold a Steamfitters' Union card."

The pocket full of cigars, she said, merely was to aid her disguise.

Some time ago while she was out of work, she said, a man induced her to pass the cheques, promising to give her the proceeds of every fourth one. She needed the money, she added, so made payments on the home where she lived happily with the woman she had married.

Judge Lyle placed her on probation for one year.

Lights In School Are Big Help

Alexandra Home and School Club Will Provide Milk For Younger Pupils

PRESENT PLAY

The January meeting of the Alexandra Home and School Association was held in the school on Wednesday, Jan. 7th, at four o'clock, with the president, Mrs. Betts, in the chair.

The program opened with a play, "Columbus at the Court of Spain," by pupils of Miss Curtis's room. Recitations were given by Dorothy Mitchell, Betty Grier, Marion Hogg and Doris Porter. Murray Wright gave a musical number. The secretary read the minutes of the last meeting.

The new lights have been installed in all the classrooms. It was decided to pay $110 of the cost now and it was left to the executive to arrange for raising the remaining $140 in the next six months.

The address of the afternoon was given by Mrs. Stewart, who spoke on "The Discovery of Champlain at Orillia." She reviewed the history of three of his voyages. As a result of his first voyage to America in 1604 Port Royal was founded. The outstanding event in connection with his work was the founding of Quebec in 1608. Later he journeyed from Montreal by the Ottawa river, French river, Georgian Bay, Lake Simcoe, the Kawartha lakes to Lake Ontario and across it in canoes to the Iroquois country. He returned to lake Simcoe for the winter and then went back to Quebec.

The governments of Ontario and Quebec have shared evenly in the expense of erecting this beautiful monument in his memory. We can always remember him as a virtuous, kindly, brave, high-minded type of man, as well minded of the historical events connected with Quebec we should always remember it was founded by Champlain. A hearty vote of thanks was extended to Mrs. Stewart for her interesting and instructive address.

It was decided as in former years to have milk in the school for the pupils. The meeting closed with the National Anthem.

Changes Noted In Real Estate

Two real estate transactions have just lately been completed whereby the property on the Departmental store takes over the lease of the store occupied by Mr. E. J. McPhee. The buildings will be remodelled and decorated and incorporated with their present store. Mr. McPhee is discontinuing his store to devote his attention to other interests.

Mr. W. Langdon has purchased the property now occupied by W. Patterson's carpenter, and O'Neill and Patterson's barber shop, and will move to Kent Street.

JUNGLE STILL UNTOUCHED BY MAN, SAYS EXPLORER

Tribes in the jungle region of Africa are still untouched by civilization, according to Paul L. Hoefler, assistant of the difficulties he encountered on a recent trip across the French Congo district. Hoefler, who has visited the Colombo-African Exposition, says that only on few occasion were he and his men able to find fresh streams through which their heavy trucks across the streams. For this reason the crossing of a river was always a dangerous undertaking. Rafts were constructed, then the trucks were unloaded and pulled across by ropes. The men who performed a ticklish job—if he slipped carelessly he ran the risk of plunging the truck and himself into the torrent below—frequently a drop of fifty feet or more. Interesting motion pictures of Hoefler's experiences are shown in "African Speaks" now running at the Academy theatre.

OUTDOOR FILMS OFFER DIFFICULT RECORDING TASK

"Location" Pictures Call For Ingenious Solution Of Problems.

To the uninitiated in motion picture production, it would appear on the surface that outdoor pictures would be much simpler to make than a production staged inside the studio. As a matter of fact, the situation is reversed. Any experienced director prefers to work indoors rather than on "location."

The reason is not difficult to ascertain. Inside the studio weather condition are under control; but who can control the elements of nature on an open prairie, for instance?

A typical example of the situation may be found in "Shadow Ranch," the latest Columbia Picture starring Buck Jones, which comes to the Academy Theatre on Friday. Some of the most innocent appearing things in the script were the most difficult "shots" to obtain.

One scene calls for the sound of the lowing of a herd of cattle. This is like the old proverb of "lead a horse to water," etc. It was not hard to find the cattle, but to make them low was another problem.

The chirping of crickets was another thing that nearly drove the sound engineers to despair. In this instance the problem was not how to make them chirp, but how to stop them. The highly-pitched sound made by the insects recorded with a peculiar degree of intensity that prevailed over everything else. But finished, "Shadow Ranch" represents a complete engineering triumph.

WEDDINGS

MOORE-BURTON

A very pretty wedding took place in St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church Eldon, on Tuesday, Dec. 30, at 2.30 p.m. when Miss Florence Annie Burton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Burton, Woodville, was united in marriage to Mr. Sherman John Moore, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. Moore, Lindsay. Rev. A. G. Scott, pastor of the church officiating.

The church was tastefully decorated with an arch of evergreen, carnations, and maiden hair fern. The organist Mrs. Ray Weldon, Cambray, played softly during the arrival of the guests, and at the appointed hour the groom and his brother, Mr. Clifton Moore, best man, took their places under the arch, then the music suddenly changed to the wedding march and heads were turned to greet the bridal party which was led by the ushers, Messrs. D. McEachern, and Douglas McIntyre. Then came the bridesmaid Miss Annie McEachern, cousin of the bride, who was dressed in yellow satin with watching hat. She carried a bouquet of yellow roses. The bride entered on the arm of her father. She wore a white crepe dress, and over it was draped her veil of bridal tulle arranged in cap effect and caught to her head with a crescent of orange blossoms. She carried a shower bouquet of pink and white roses with baby breath. Her only adornment was a rope of pearls, the gift of the groom. As the bridal party were leaving the church Miss Muriel Patton, of Cannington, sang "All Joy Be Thine." A reception was held at the home of the bride's parents, where the guests were received by the bridal party. A buffet luncheon was served and immediately after the young couple left amid showers of confetti for Lindsay where they took the train for Thornlee and points north.

The bride chose for travelling, a brown velvet dress, small brown velvet hat, and dark muskrat coat.

The groom's gift to the bridesmaid and soloist were white gold vanity cases, to the organist, a silver plate to the best man, a white gold watch band and to the ushers, fountain pens.

Mr. and Mrs. Moore received many useful and costly gifts showing the high esteem in which they are held. The guests from a distance were: Mrs. J. Henderson, Toronto; Mr. and Mrs. Peterina Arksey, Mr and Mrs. N. Moore, A. Wilson and Mr. and Mrs. H. Coad of Lindsay; Mr. and Mrs. Boundy and sons, Port Hope; and Miss M. and Mr. J. Patton, of Cannington.

On their return Mr. and Mrs. Moore will reside on his farm north of Lindsay.

IN MEMORIAM

BRADSHAW—In loving memory of my faithful husband and a loving father, Wade Bradshaw, departed this life one year ago today, Jan. 8th, 1930.

In a graveyard softly sleeping
Where the snow gently falls,
Lies the one we loved so dearly,
In his silent, lonely grave.
Peaceful be your sleep, dear Wesley
It is sweet to breathe your name,
In life we loved you dearly,
In death we do the same.
You shall never be forgotten,
Never from our memory fade,
Our loving hearts shall always linger
Around the grave where you are laid.
Though broken the tie, 'tis fastened on high
Where God in his infinite love,
Now bids us look up and rejoice in hope.
Of a glorious reunion above.
—Ever remembered by wife and little son Jack. (4051)

Vics Held To Draw In Exhibition

Intermediates Coast Through Exhibition Tilt Saving Themselves for Part Perry Game; Charlie Piercey Hurls Shoulder

SMALL CROWD

Were Off on Shooting; Sustained Some Injuries and Another Exhibition Game this Season Not Likely

—By J.W.M.—

FENELON FALLS, Jan. 8.—Before a mere handful of fans in the Fenelon Falls rink last night, the Lindsay Victorias went to a one-all draw with the Fenelon intermediate team in an exhibition game. Taking it easy most of the way Lindsay nevertheless sustained a stiff setback when Charlie Piercey, wingman on the second forward line had the ligaments torn in his shoulder and will not be able to play for some time, perhaps not again this season. Ab. Cowell and Harvey Huston, last year with McBride's got their first try with the intermediates and played a very fair brand of hockey. Cliff Golden took over the goal-tending duties in the third period, and though that was the canto in which Fenelon counted, the shot that beat him was a pip labelled "goal" from the minute it left Wright's stick. And he made some nice saves the rest of the period—and that with hardly any practice at all.

Everybody Good

Of the regulars, "Pee" Eberts stood out, with a shalaei in the two periods he played. He took the easy ones with the hard ones and played all of them safe, clearing well to the sides every time. On the rearguard Fever and Reeves were strong defensively, and kept the Fenelon team outside the blue line most of the time. Butler rushed well and accounted for Lindsay's score on a solo play, but several scoring chances were thrown away when a pass to a flanking forward meant a goal. Fever skated for and first and cleared well. On the first line Crafton at centre was playing clever hockey, and was right in the play all the time back-checking hard and with judgment on the rest of he had had any kind of luck would have scored a couple. Rich, the other regular, played disposition well and displayed some heady hockey, as did Domes, another wingman, who was right on with the shooting.

Poor Shooting

Once again a great part of this draw can be attributed to poor shooting by the Lindsay front division. Time and again they had Jones, Fenelon goalie, at their mercy on three-man combinations and when they shot it was either away off the net or a "broken-backed one" that never left the ice. Lindsay playing an exhibition game did not wish to get laid up for lately game this Friday with Port Perry, and just coasted through but in the course of that coasting sustained enough injuries, to make them think again before attempting another exhibition game when they are in the midst of a heavy schedule.

First Period

Play started off fast with the ice keen and two referees, A. Gould, of Fenelon, and Doug. Thorndyke, of Manilla, in charge. Fenelon got to a good start and bombed a couple in on "Ike" from outside the defence which were handled easily, and then Lindsay's combination started to function and they swept in on down several times to make the net by inches or shoot right at the goal-keeper. Buffer and Fever were working well on their rushes and Fever especially was feeding some nice passes to the wingmen when they hit the defence. The tensest moment for the Fenelon fans was when the second line was on. Piercey especially kept working in on the goal-mindor with shots which just missed.

Second Period

In the second canto things began to look up a bit, and this time it was the first forward line that did all the threatening. Crafton and Rich were getting their shots on the net but Jones, in the Fenelon net, made some nice saves. Then the second line came on and in a scramble in front of the goal seemed to have an almost sure score but somebody bodied it. Both defencemen were rushing dangerously and taking their shots, but it wasn't until nine minutes of the period had gone that "Buffer" Reeves beat the whole team and walked right in on Jones, to make no mistake about it, and placed the old boot-heel securely in the corner of the twine for Lindsay's first and last score. The rest of the period was featured by the efforts of the Fenelon team to tie the score but most of their attacks were broken up and when they did come through they found "Ike" more than a match for them.

Third Period

Starting off in the last period Fenelon was making a determined effort to score and the shot that beat Golden was a dandy, with Wright working his way up to inside the blue line, and then blazing one at him that left him no chance to save. For the rest of the period Lindsay worked right up on the goalie only to fumble their chances somehow, on passes, shooting, etc., and when the final bell rang they skated off the ice with the score one-all. Fenelon Falls relied largely on individual work, and Lindsay seemed to become disorganized against this style of play. Then "Greeny" Williams' absence at left wing left a pretty big gap to plug. The locals did a super-exert job themselves, but even then the game resulted in the loss of Piercey for some time, prevailing the rest of the season, and considering the pitifully small crowd out, the expense the locals went to to give Fenelon an exhibition game they are not appreciated and no more will be attempted.

The teams lined up: Lindsay, centre, J. Grafton; wings, C. Rich and H. Huston defence, S. Reeves and H. Fever; goal, C. Eberts; subs, C. Golden, A. Clemesi, J. Domes and C. Piercey. Fenelon, centre, R. Currie; wings, L. Wright and D. Mason; defence, M. Aldous and G. Armstrong; goal, C. Jones; subs, F. Dayman, P. Benland and M. McDonald.

Midgets Get Third Straight Win 5-to-3

Last Night's Victory Gives Them Three Victories For Three Starts This Year.

GOOD GAME

Team-Work On Both First and Sub Lines Gave Them The Game.

—By R.J.B.—

To win the first three starts at the beginning of the season for any hockey team may not be a record, but it certainly is something, and that is just where the Lindsay Midgets stand, now, having won their third straight victory last evening at the Lindsay Street rink at the expense of Bobcaygeon's junior O.H.A. entry, by a score of five to three. From the very first faceoff of the first period, play was fast, with the second and third stanzas offering a little more hockey, and if possible, more speed. The two teams as was shown in the first of the series played in Bobcaygeon last Friday night, are evenly matched with the local kids having a slight edge in offensive play.

Work Together

As was the rule in the two preceding games, the local forward line worked well together, displaying a little more combination than previously and to this may be accredited the extra punch that enabled them to pull through with a win. Needless to say the defence gave a good account of themselves, as did Brighams in goal. Bobcaygeon, too, were just that good, that at the end of the first period, with the score standing 2 to 1 in their favour, gave the local fans an exhibition that made them wonder whether Lindsay would be handed one of those discouraging results, a home-game defeat. For almost the entire first period, as was the case in Bobcaygeon last Friday night, Pere. Junkin's Kids had the Midgets worried, playing just a little more effective hockey, and slipping in an extra goal for good measure.

First Period

Shortly after the first face-off, and neither teams had got going, Nichols started to break in the path to the penalty box, when he used his stick a little too forcibly and got two minutes for tripping. Wright of Bobcaygeon accepted the opening after three minutes of play when he skated the length of the rink, out-skating and out-speeding the forward line, rounded the defense, and slipped a low, fast one past Stephens. Mills, centre for Lindsay evened the count when he pushed one in past Nichols on a pass from the corner, from Spratt, with the period about half over. At the eighteen-minute mark Ken Keiso poked another into the Lindsay net, when he accepted a nice pass from Nichols.

Second Period

One goal down, and the prospect of a home-game defeat, seemed to impress the local Kids that it was about to do something, and from the opening minute of play in the second, play was exceedingly fast with Bobcaygeon eagerly accepting the challenge. After 12 minutes of hockey featured by combined rushes, and solo efforts on the part of both teams, and in which time Mills and C. Johnson played a little game of seeing who could trip the other hardest, and getting a rest in the "official rest-room." Mills swept into the Bobcaygeon corner of the rink, speared the rebound of a hard shot by Gerster, and scored the second time. Two minutes later Mills counted his third of the evening when Spratt passed another in from the corner.

Third Period

It has been sometime since fans have seen a faster brand of hockey in Peddie Martin's Arena, than was dished up for their approval in the third and last period. Both teams opened up, and for the entire period, Lindsay used no subs, the regulars playing hockey that was good to watch, and Bobcaygeon, one goal down, trying desperately to fill up the gap on the score sheet. Six minutes after the face-off, Gerster, accepting a pass from Begley, who had carried it to the opposing blueline, scored the fourth goal of the game, when he let go one of those fast ones that he is gradually becoming noted for Bobcaygeon rejoiced in the fact that they had made up four men up, and at fifteen minutes, scored their first goal since the first period. Gerster counted for scoring for the game, when fifteen seconds after Bobcaygeon's goal, Gerster got his second on a pass at the blue line from Birgraw.

C. G. Rice of Whitby, handled the game satisfactorily.

"The Gringo Privateer"

By Peter B. Kyne

SYNOPSIS

Kenneth Burney, adventurer and one-time gentleman, comes to Bend ley Bardin, king of the cattle country, for a job. Burney has had a fight with Martin Bruce a rival cattle owner who has been stealing the King's stock, aided by Miguel Gallegos a Mexican bandit. The King, liking young Burney's style, offers him the job of getting the cattle-thieves. Burney accepts though he knows it means a fight to the death. He meets Muriel, the King's beautiful daughter. Muriel, who is more interested than she cares to admit, tries to persuade her father not to let Burney tackle the cattle thieves. The King decides to test Burney's courage by making him ride Geronimo, the roughest bronco on the ranch. Burney passes the test with flying colors, but his independence arouses the King's ire. At Huachita, a nearby town, Burney runs into Martin Bruce, the cattle thief who has sworn to kill him.

CHAPTER II

"I agree with you, sir, that, had I not acted with a commendable sagacity, thereby eliminating most of that long chance, I would even now be sitting on the top of a pink cloud twanging a harp."

"I warned you, didn't I?"

"You did—and you meant it and I know you meant it. We're merely deferring the obsequies, Mr. Bruce."

"What is the big idear, Burney?"

"You owe me two months' wages and I want to collect it from you while you're living. It would involve a year's time and considerable red tape to collect it from your executor."

Martin Bruce's thin smile broadened into an appreciative grin. "Well, there's sense in that, Burney. I never intended beatin' you out of it. You could have had a check the day you quit if you hadn't been in such a hell-fired hurry to vamoose."

"A mere tribute to my respect for you, sir. Shall we go over to the bank as soon as you have finished here?"

"Certainly." And five minutes later Martin Bruce, preceded tactfully by Ken Burney, approached the cashier's cage in the bank, where Bruce waved a check, endorsed by Burney, under the grille. "This is the endorser," the old rascal announced, jerking a thumb at Ken Burney. "I identify him and O.K. the endorsement. Give him the money."

Burney stooped the bills off the counter and he and Bruce left the bank in the same order they had entered it. "Mind walkin' down to the livery stable with me?" the young man suggested. "I'm going to saddle up and leave town. After I'm gone you can go back to the barber shop and recover your plug-ugly look."

Martin Bruce, for reasons apparent to the reader, offered no objection. He stood around on the livery stable floor while a hostler led Rowdy out and saddled him. There upon Ken Burney paid his bill, climbed aboard and raised his hat in courteous farewell to Martin Bruce.

"Just as well you're leavin' the country," the latter called after him. "Take my advice, young feller, an' keep goin'."

Burney pulled up and rode back. "I'm not leaving the country, Mr. Bruce. It requires more moral persuasion than any dirty cow thief can bring to bear to make me lower my tail. I'm on the payroll of the Bardin Land and Cattle Company, and provided my conduct is exemplary I expected to remain there."

"You called me a cow thief," the old man rasped. "I'll make you prove that, Burney."

"I intend to prove it, and when I do, this country will be too hot to hold you, you old wolf. You've got to be taught that, the rough-and-tumble methods of your youth have become obsolete. You need reform. Cattle rustling on the scale you practice it went out of fashion quite a number of years ago."

Martin Bruce scratched his head. "Lemme see, now," he said with great good nature. "The Bardin outfit ships from the station in Cochise County, Arizona. I don't know whether you're aware of it or not, young man, but I'm the sheriff of Cochise County, and in my jurisdiction it's against the law to pack a gun, open or concealed, without a permit from the sheriff."

Burney smiled sweetly. "When you frisk me for one I shall not resist—and there's be quite a number of Bardin riders on hand to take care of you in the event you decide to kill me for resisting the search. The trouble with you, Mr. Bruce, is that you take in too much territory. In Arizona you're sheriff with authority to enforce the law; in New Mexico you're a thief with courage enough to defy the law. But remember, you're more able to New Mexico law, so watch your step."

"I can cull my own hops," the older man replied, and stalked away sotown with what dignity he could muster. Ken Burney watched him until he turned a corner, then rode back into the livery stable, put up his horse and in the harness-room engaged in a game of cribbage with the proprietor for three hours, being careful, however, to sit facing the door.

After a while he strolled up to the bank and requested the paying teller to give him five dollars in brand-new twenty-five-cent pieces in exchange for a five-dollar bill. From the bank he repaired to a drug store, where he purchased a quart of bichloride solution, a 4½-by-5½ inch folding camera and a quantity of film. He then returned to the livery stable, saddled Rowdy, packed his worldly effects on his pack pony and rode south and east, hoping that his ruse of departure earlier in the day had worked on Martin Bruce. In all probability the old timer would suspect him of having made tracks for El Ranchito.

He rode fast and at sunset was well down in El Cajon Bonita below the international boundary. After selecting a camp in the bed of an arroyo through which a thin trickle of water still flowed he watered his horses, hobbled them and turned them loose to graze. From his pack he took a skillet, a coffee pot and food and prepared supper, after which he put out his little fire, rolled up in his blankets and slept the sleep of the carefree and innocent.

He was up before dawn and had disposed of breakfast before sunrise. After catching up his horses, he fastened the pack pony in the arroyo, saddled Rowdy and with his camera swinging from the pommel and the bottle of bichloride solution in his inner coat pocket, rode out across the valley. Presently he was riding among cattle that wore the brand of the Bardin Land and Cattle Company. In general they were good-grade Herefords with the usual Hereford markings, but from time to time he came across cows that showed a strong cross of Short horn or Durham.

When he found a lusty calf running by the side of such cows and the calf exhibited variegated coloration and was unbranded, he carefully photographed mother and calf from in front and from both sides, then roped the calf, hog-tied it, rode a slit about an inch long in the hide on the left forelegs just above the knee, rinsed his fingers in a dash of the bichloride solution, deftaped a new, bright silver quarter piece with it, slipped the coin into the slit and worked it well down in the sheath between the hide and the muscle, after which he cast the calf loose.

By the middle of the afternoon he had secretly tagged with germ-proof silver quarter-dollars twenty head of calves and photographed them and their mothers, so he decided to call it a day and returned to his camp in the arroyo, where he again hobbled his horses and turned them loose to graze, cooked himself an early supper and spent the night in the arroyo.

The following morning he was up and on the road by daylight; late that night he rode into headquarters at El Ranchito. When he repaired to the mess hall to honey the cook into giving him a late snack, he could not help noticing the alacrity with which that harassed individual hastened to assure him of prompt service. Nor did the cook hall him familiary as Smokey. On the contrary he called him Mr. Burney, with much unction, and fried him a steak, which he served on the private table with the red tablecloth.

Burney immediately carried his meal over to one of the long tables where the help ate. "You're very kind and considerate, cookie, old son," he declared, "but while Mr. Graydon remains on the ranch I think we'll just keep that table sacred to him. If he should invite me to eat there, that would be different. But he hasn't."

His supper eaten, Burney telephoned to the king. "Ken Burney speaking, sir. Mr. Graydon instructed me to report to you the moment I returned to the ranch. I have returned."

"You've taken your sweet time about it. Come over immediately. I'm on the western verandah. Don't bother to announce yourself."

Three minutes later His Majesty was interested to hear a man running at top speed along his verandah. He looked up just as Ken Burney turned the corner, running, and with a broad jump landed squarely in front of him. He greeted the somewhat astonished king with a breezy, military salute.

"The late Mr. Burney reports to His Majesty," he announced.

"What's your mad hurry, you young idiot?"

"Mr. Graydon informed me that speed was Your Majesty's middle name and that whenever you instructed a man to report to you that man had better take it on the run or get fired."

"You're too doggoned literal," the king laughed in spite of himself. "So you went to town for a haircut, eh? Where have you been since?"

"Well, after the barber finished with me I had to collect two months' pay due me from Martin Bruce—"

"You lunatic! What happened?"

"He paid me. Tried to kill me first, but as the ancient philosopher once remarked, 'to be forewarned is to be forearmed,' in other words, I got the drop on Martin and he came through like a sport."

"Tell me about it," the king urged. "Nobody ever tells me anything except hard-luck stories. Make me laugh, son."

So Ken Burney told him in meticulous detail of his encounter with Martin Bruce and the king did not laugh.

"He tried to draw on you and got tangled in the hostler's surcingle. Was his gun in the holster or in his hand when he saw you had the drop on him?"

"It was in his hand."

"For the love of life why didn't you bust him? A clear case of self-defense. You had three barbers as witnesses that you spoke pleasantly to the man and he attempted to shoot you. Why, the coroner's jury would have exonerated you. Boy, you'll never get another chance at him as lovely as that one. You had a good hand and you played it like a fool. I'm ashamed of you."

"You needn't be—yet. I told you I wasn't hiring out as a killer. Of course I'll kill if I have to—in self-defense, but it's always been my policy to walk around a fight."

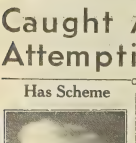
Five Toronto Men Caught Allegedly Attempting Theft

Has Scheme



Hon. J. A. Merkley, Minister of Railways, Labor and Industries for Saskatchewan, who will introduce a resolution endorsing a Dominion-wide unemployment insurance scheme when the Legislature opens this month.

Had Committed No Crime Locally But Were Suspected of Contemplating One

HAD STOLEN CAR

Early this morning, becoming suspicious of the actions of some men around the Bravery Warehouse at King and Lindsay Streets, North Constable Alfred Hodgson arrested five men single-handed after listening to their fairly plausible stories as to their reason for being in town; and held them until he telephoned Toronto where he was informed that the car the men were riding in was stolen and that he was to hold them until today when an escort from the Detective Department will bring warrants here to take them back to Toronto where they will likely be charged with the theft of the car. Although no crime was committed here, it is thought that Constable Hodgson's quick action and commonsense judgement, probably saved some place in town from being entered as the men were without money and had little gasoline to continue on their way.

They gave as their names: Robert E. Newman, 309 Jarvis Street; Ernest Tyrrell, 7 Gloucester street; Norman Gadway, 169 Jarvis street; Alfred Hale, 353 Church Street; and Allan Burd, 244 Church street, all of Toronto. They are all around 19 or 20 years of age, and gave as their reason for coming here the fact that they were out-of-work and thought if they could get to Peterboro they would get employment of some kind. They had only ten cents between them when searched. The stories they told the constable were plausible enough and had he not noticed the small conflicting details in it, they might yet be unmolested, but as usual the little discrepancies were quite visible enough to the eye of an alert officers to trip them up.

They were first noticed by N. C. Hodgson as he was making his rounds down York Street near the Canadian Legion, when he looked across the river and saw four men hanging around the Bravery Warehouse. Deciding to investigate he drove around by Wellington Street bridge and back opposite the Queen Street, he found a car parked with the engine running, and the vehicle factory door open. Upon his arrival, he was questioned and said that his other friends were looking for a screw driver to repair the car, and

ONION ODOR TO BE ALL THE FASHION

In Canadian Onion Week Everyone Must Eat Onions to be in Style

TORONTO, Jan. 9.—Have you had your onion today? If not, why not?

Eat onions for health!

Those are some of the slogans being used in the onion crusade which culminates the last of this month in a great Canadian Onion Week. During this period, Jan. 25 to 31, this lowly vegetable will reach unheard of heights of fame. It will no longer be overshadowed and can outflagged by its more delicate associates in the vegetable world, but will be the "guest of honor" for an entire week, from coast to coast. According to A. H. Wilford, campaign manager for the Ontario Onion Pool, "every one is permitted to eat onions during this week."

The campaign was originated mainly to create a greater consumption of onions throughout the Dominion, explains Mr. Wilford, but a greater consumption of other Canadian vegetables is expected because "onions mix well and are wonderful for flavoring." The marshals along the shore of Lake Erie, in the counties of Essex and Kent, commonly known as the onion region, have been supplying more than 10,000 cars of onions per year to meet requirements, but there is an enor-

Orillia Planning Modern Airport For Land And Water Machines

ORILLIA, Jan. 8—Living up to its record for progressiveness in municipal developments, Orillia's latest step is to acquire an airport for land and water machines. The site, too, will be chosen, if present plans are completed, will be Kitchener Park, one of the town's lake shore parks.

Boycott Threatened

Threatening to boycott the Packet and Times and all the merchants who advertise in it, unless that paper should drop its policy of opposition toward Mayor J. B. Johnston, more than 300 town workingmen held a meeting in the Community Hall, the south ward, last night, and passed a resolution to that effect.

Kitchener Park Orillia's got an ideal spot, plenty of room for a landing and taking-off field, and a sheltered bay for seaplanes, as well as a sandy beach on which to run them when necessary. And there's plenty of space for office and other buildings.

"We are looking 25 years ahead, to the time when aeroplanes will be in common use, and every municipality will need an airport," John Whitton, superintendent of parks, who originated the idea, The Star. "Now is an ideal time to be prepared to choose a site and go ahead. A

Strike Of Cotton Mills May Throw Many Workers Out

—Manchester, Eng., Jan. 9 THE CENTRAL COMMITTEE of the cotton spinners and Manufacturers Association today advised affiliated members to close their mills on Saturday, Jan. 17, unless a labor dispute with weavers has been settled in the meantime. If satisfied into effect the recommendation would mean the lockout of 200,000 workers.

CLOTHING IS CHEAPEST SINCE WAR

MANUFACTURERS SAY GOODS ARE OFFERED TO RETAILERS AT COST; PREWAR PRICES PREVAIL.

TORONTO, Jan. 9—Clothing in Canada to-day can be purchased for less than at any time since before the war, and probably more cheaply than it will be for another generation, according to an analysis of the textile situation made here yesterday at a joint meeting, the first in history, of clothing manufacturers and woollen cloth manufacturers.

Devising of means for orderly marketing of the product of Canadian woollen mills during the coming season was the purpose of the meeting. Raw materials, including cotton, wool and silk have reached price levels below pre-war prices, a joint statement issued after the meeting pointed out. Finished fabrics, it is stated are sensitive to any change in raw material prices and the two are admittedly in line, being reflected in the prices of wearing apparel.

Means by which both the manufacturers and the consuming public may be mutually helped were indicated. Many of the factories have kept running, piling up stock for which they were unable to find a market, because of the desire of the manufacturers to keep as many of their employees at work as possible. They are now offering goods to retailers at cost or less.

The buying public is thus not only given an opportunity of obtaining wearing apparel at distress

TORONTO TO BUILD FINE NEW ARENA

CITY WILL SPEND $1,500,000 ON NEW SPORTS ARENA ON KNOX COLLEGE SITE

TORONTO, Jan. 8—An arena to cost about $1,500,000, to seat over 16,000 persons and combining the latest achievements of architectural and engineering science, erected on site by only one other structure of its kind in the world and second to none in equipment, is planned to be ready for Toronto's next hockey season, it was announced last night.

Occupying a site historic in Toronto's development where over half a century ago Knox Divinity College was erected "far from the city's noise and turmoil," the new building proposed has been given impetus by the purchase yesterday of the property north of College Street and moped by Spadina Avenue. The purchase is in pursuance of plans for the $1,500,000 building which were first launched months ago.

Three Hold-Up Men Flee As Woman Of House Screams

Three Masked Men, One of Them Armed, Leaves Their Way Into Oshawa Home.

QUEERLY GARBED

OSHAWA, Jan. 8—Three masked men, one of them armed, entered a home at 127 Albert street, one night recently and attempted to hold up the occupants according to a report given to the police. There were three people in the house at the time, William Kur, Mrs. Kur and Harry Bulik. When one of the men threatened them with a revolver and demanded money Mrs. Kur screamed loudly and the intruders are said to have turned and fled

As it was Ukranian Christmas eve with a large part of the city's foreign born population celebrating and in the neighborhood section it was not uncommon to see parties of merry makers, many of them garbed in queer costumes, going from house to house in order to call up on friends. When the three masked men knocked at the door of the Albert street house, they were immediately allowed in as the occupants expected that they were simply Christmas eve callers in disguise. But instead of extending Christmas greetings one of the three drew a revolver from his pocket and in a threatening voice demanded money. Mrs. Kulz began to scream and the trio without further ceremony began a hasty retreat from the place.

Coboconk, Baddow and Rosedale Get Hydro Power Now

Definite Arrangements Are Made and Unemployed Will Work Getting Poles

UPSET IN SNOW BANK

FENELON FALLS, Jan. 9—(Staff Correspondence)—At a meeting held at Coboconk recently definite arrangements were made for the installation of Hydro Lighting at Coboconk, Baddow, and Rosedale.

As stated in a recent issue of the Post, the Governments will assist on a fifty-fifty basis, most of the work to be done by the unemployed, and to be begun promptly by the gitting of the poles out of the bush.

These progressive places are all flourishing summer resorts of tourists, and famous for scenic beauty. They take a long stride toward progress and prosperity in the dawn of this new era which the advent of Hydro brings to them.

Accident

A minor accident to prominent citizens of Fenelon Falls occurred on Wednesday morning, when Mr. C. E. Edwards' car upset in a snowbank on the Lindsay road near Mr. W. Styles' farm, a mile or so south of Fenelon Falls.

The roads are in rather slippery shape for motoring just now, but fortunately no one was injured and the machine escaped without damage. Messrs. H. MacDougall and Carmen Knox were of the party, and the trio hiked back to town, and sent out the wrecking derrick, which, manned by Mr. James Elliott, got the car on the track and home again.

RAILWAYMEN LOOKING FOR MORE WORK

The recent action of Lindsay conductors in deciding to patronize only stores using trains to bring woods into town, may be much more than merely a local movement as can be seen by the following article:

MONTREAL, Jan. 9.—Ways to relieve idleness among members of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen are being sought by the General Committees, representing 3,100 men on the Canadian Pacific lines east of Fort William, now in session at Montreal.

Albert McGovern, General Chairman, of Toronto, is presiding, and there are representatives present from various points between Fort William and Saint John. A number of methods to combat unemployment and unemployment distress are being given consideration. A survey has shown serious unemployment among the men in train and yard services, according to one of the officers of the Brotherhood, who sought information here last night regarding the progress made at the meeting in Montreal.

The meeting is ... giving consideration to a study of the steps taken by large industrial concerns in all parts of the country. A greater period of employment and earnings among the whole membership is one of the proposals being discussed. The situation is said to be worse in some sections than previously pictured, and some of the men are inclined to blame motor bus operation in opposition to the steam railways.

The School Report

That bane of childhood, the weekly or monthly school report, will soon be a thing of the past, if the recent tests conducted at Wilkes-Barre, Pa., are to bear fruit. There an interesting experiment was conducted among 1,500 school children and the results astonished prominent educationalists throughout the country.

As a result, the time will not be far distant when the teacher will lose the autocratic power of conferring the dismal slap on a special pupil, for the experiment showed that the child often classed as dull by the teacher has, in reality, a keen intellect.

Various conditions affect the teacher's report on each pupil. The child may be of a mischievous nature, and, upsetting the regular class routine, cause he to be focussed on himself unfavorable attention. This, of course, would lead to an unfavorable report. The child again may have a defect of speech which makes him miss as ready at answering oral questions. He may be ill-child, have a poor personality; any of these might bias the teacher against him, and the pupil is always the goat. He gets continual sad reports; his spirit is discouraged, will often then take steps to take him away from school as early as possible and place him in a technical school—a work for which he may not be fitted.

During the tests which were made at Wilkes-Barre, the teachers were asked for reports on the fifteen hundred children. The children were placed in three classes, bright, dull and normal. Then the group, health and such language tests were made by the investigators. The results were more than astonishing.

Of the pupils classed as dull by the teachers, only forty-four per cent. were found to be mentally defective. On the other hand, only 45 percent of those termed "bright" were found to be above the normal, the remainder consisting principally of those classed as average at school were found to have average-mentalities.

It was realized at once that the rating of pupils in school was a more unreliable criterion than was thought. Following a study of their findings, the investigators reached several conclusions.

The first was that, in academic ratings, the child with a good command of English, and the ability to speak it, is likeliest to secure the favor of the teacher, and thus secure a high report card. It is easy for the teacher to thus overestimate the ability of this child. Twenty-five percent of the children listed as bright were found to be only of average mentality, but were facile speakers.

When the non-language test was made, the astonishing revelation came to light that as many of the "dull" children were as brilliant as those termed bright. Thirty-five percent of the pupils who were considered failures by the teachers were of average mentality, but were slow in speech or else had other speech defects.

Physical infirmities were also found to have a great bearing on the report. Some of the "bright" children, true enough, had enlarged tonsils, poor teeth or sight, or bad hearing, but the number of "dull" children, with such defects was one hundred percent greater.

* * * * *

Most of the children whose intelligence was overestimated by the teachers, however, were found to possess an attribute which is a prime asset for adult and child—a pleasing personality. And that is where the parent affects the school report, for the home environment is of paramount importance, and the position of the child in the home has a bearing on this. It was deduced, from this, that the only child, the eldest child, or the youngest child had the best chance of success. Children in between develop inferiority complexes; they develop the retiring disposition that comes with lack of attention. True as some will point out, the only child, the eldest child, or the youngest child is often spoiled by pampering, but the results of the experiment showed that individual attention in the home, properly made, tended to bring out all that was best in the child.

This statement was borne out by further statistics, which showed that 60 percent of the bright children came from small families of from one to three children, while only twelve percent came from the families of from seven to fifteen children. The small families also only contained 26 percent of the dull children.

* * * * *

The tests, according to Joseph Miller, director of guidance of the Wilkes-Barre schools, indicated to him that 75 percent of all school children would be benefited if the present system of years of education could be modified by some individual instruction, attention to each child's needs. He terms the present system "mass production," and stated that "14 percent of the children, under the present system, are misjudged, deprived of self-confidence, and thwarted in their mental development. Make the school fit the child, by coaching teachers to assist individually those children who seem to be failing, despite an average or higher rating on individual mental tests. It is most unfair to make human waste for those children who do not readily submit to standardization, and standardization is all we are achieving at present.

Some educationists in Essex County are inclined to agree with Mr. Miller, pointing out that, if the child is not rightly inclined when at school, it is impossible to hope that he will grow into successful manhood.—Michael J. Walsh in The Border Cities Star.

The Odoriferous Onion

What is it that will soon make patriotic Canadians strong, in preparation, likely, for the rigorous February that is looming large on the calendar? The onion.

But with the announcement that the national onion week will take place on the last week of this month, Canadians don't have to get the idea that to prove their loyalty they have to sleep all day in the onion bed, write all their letters on onion-skin paper, swallow every dubicous onion fly they see, or gorge onions until they have to keep both hands on their head to keep their hat from flying off.

They need look on the onion only as a self-protective measure.

Although there has been no definite announcement, it is just possible (and no more than that, mind you) that all government officials will be ordered to eat an onion every hour, or two hours, or whatever the case may be. No time will likely be set, for the flavor lasts. Then, when they are loosed on the unsuspecting public, there are only two methods of self-defence, and gas masks cost too much.

There are a few worthy features connected with a national onion week. The business ought to be greatly improved as the demand is increased, and there is always the possibility of a person here or there developing the habit.

And the chief one is that, since a doctor can be kept away by the judicious use of an apple a day, the goodness knows who can be kept away through the proper consumption of onions. Perhaps even the tax-collector.

Government support has not been promised the movement yet, but there is no reason it shouldn't be, since the listerine and chewing gum makers protest that their business is going to pieces like the confounded person who fears he may have "it," fears no longer but takes his breath away with an onion.

THE STORM CELLAR

(Financial Post)

Some companies are helping to restore confidence, the forerunner of prosperity, by maintaining dividends, whenever possible, and declaring bonuses to shareholders, when feasible.

But some others are retreating to storm cellars. Retreating to a storm cellar is wise if the move is the result of farsightedness. But one wonders whether, in some instances of the passing or the reduction of dividends, it really has not been timidity that has been masquerading as farsightedness.

A case in point is that of a large United States-Canadian company, which reduced its dividends just as it published an annual report which revealed the company to be in the strongest position in its history, to a million which is markedly better than a year ago.

We don't mind that so much, and other papers are also sinners. The ones with regular editorial columns of their own almost invariably give credit for what they borrow from others. But what gets our goat is to see one of our brain-children travelling around the country and credited to a paper which kidnapped it in the first place.

CURING AND PREVENTING MENTAL CONDITIONS

Nearly twenty years ago a physician began studying the careers of over one thousand cases of mental disease admitted to the mental department of a large hospital. The majority of the patients now suffering from he more severe types of mental disease, only a small proportion being classified as the mild type.

The figures showed after a period of over five years that 25 percent recovered and remained well.

A little later came the treatment of mental cases by the use of occupational therapy, that is simply having the patients occupy themselves with some form of work-gardening, basket weaving, carpentry and other manual work-and in a short time it was found that by this treatment many cases recovered completely and many others, though unfit to go out into the world, began to take an interest in themselves and their surroundings that greatly lightened the labors of the hospital attendants.

And still later, a superintendent of a large hospital noticed that a patient, who had shown no improvement in the two years she was in the hospital, completely recovered her mentality two months after the removal of some infected teeth. This lead to the examination of all the inmates by dental, throat, and other specialists, and the removal of infected teeth, and tonsils, and the draining of sinus conditions increased the percentage of recoveries to twice that of previous years.

Now the above all has to do with adults, men and women, and the cases were all of some years standing.

What then can be done if the children of to-day are thoroughly overhauled as to their mental outlook on things; boys and girls who keep to themselves who do not mix or play with others; who have fits of "temper;" have what is called an "inferiority complex," or on the other hand have the idea that they have some special rights or privileges in the world above other boys or girls; boys and girls who try to get over their parents by "bullying" them?

If at this early age parents and physicians took hold of those young sters, and after removal of any physical ailments, firmly but kindly straightened out these mental kinks, there would be a large number of them who would not only become very useful citizens but would not form so large a percentage of our mental hospital patients.

3 Hold-up Men Flee As Woman Screams

Bowman arrived with Constables Spencer and MacLellan they found William Kut, Mrs. Kut and Harry Rutka in a state of excitement and confusion. The police found themselves listening to a barrage of words spoken in a foreign tongue accompanied by many gesticulations. In order to ascertain what actually happened William Iget, police court interpreter, had to be summoned to the house.

Making Investigation

Even with the aid of the interpreter the occupants could give the police no suitable description of the alleged holdup men as they had been too frightened to take any note of their appearance. With whatever clue there are at hand, however, the police are making a thorough investigation of the case

Until this stock of surplus merchandise is moved into the hands of the consumers, thousands will remain idle. In this connection it is pointed out that there are about 1,000 factories in Canada producing wearing apparel, and normally they employ about 50,000 persons. At present, many of these factories are closed, and nearly all the others are running short time.

STUNT FLYING
THRILLING HOBBY OF COWBOY STAR

Buck Jones Uses Plane To Reach Location For Horse Hunt

Carburetors and cowboys are not usually associated together; in fact, the antipathy of the average horseman toward motorized transportation is almost legendary.

There are exceptions to every rule, of course, and an outstanding instance is Charles, or as he is better known, "Buck" Jones, famed rider star of Fairfield, who is featured in "Shadow Ranch," Columbia's latest all-talking picture, announced for the Academy Theatre tonight and tomorrow.

Buck Jones is not only particularly fond of mechanics but has a marked ability with gasoline motors, having progressed through all the stages from antique "one lunger" to radial airplane motors and the ultra-modern Diesel engine developed for aviation.

It is not generally known, but Buck Jones served in the First Air Squadron in France during the World War. He has both a first-class transport pilot's license, the highest rating, at the present time and is a daredevil stunt flyer.

Not that his penchant for mechanics lessens by any means his love for horses. His affection for "Silver," the beautiful Arabian stallion seen in all his pictures, is a premier first love, but mechanics and motors especially—are his hobby. This hobby he has turned to practical use. By exchanging ammonthe airplane. He also owns an interest in a modern airport in Southern California. It is also something of a paradox that Jones usually flies in the rugged locations for his pictures—which are always outdoor dramas with horses playing an important part.

Timely Tips

LACQUER ON SHOE HEELS

While decorating a magazine rack Mrs. C. happened to notice her shoe heels were badly scaled. They had been discolored so she took a chance on lacquering the pair. Her establishment was great when a few months later the heels had gotten worn down to the leather and gotten scratched in getting off the car. Results—Shoes were as good as new. Brightening The Wardrobe

Brighten up for the rest of the winter if your wardrobe has a dull appearance. Here are a few suggestions:

You still have to wear your fur coat. But you can have a gay dress or two to put on under it, with an appropriate hat to say color. Sports ensembles which are so cheer to home, the street or the office.

There are all kinds of pastel colors manufactured for dead black of early winter. Bright blues, dashing red, contrasting navy plaids, dots or stripes abound. And this time of year you can get a new outfit for little more than it costs to do over a dress. Here are a few suggestions for attractive costumes that will combine easy:

Navy and green are the two favorite colors for this season. If there is an need of a jacket to the frock you have, you can flaunt the dress and jacket. When spring comes around the corner.

Silk and wool mixtures are good, for they have the charm of soft silk and the utility of wool. And there are some charming soft new tweeds that are elegant for under the coat wear now, and good looking and warm enough to stand alone later on.

Two good examples of the bright frock for the fag end of winter are Reese—W. R. Clarke, Asst. Councillors—Walter Weiser, John Lindsay.

He spoke feelingly of their "team work" together during the 25 years, and concluded with a word of advice to the younger generation reminding the mithat "we pass this way but once, and we should make the most of our time in passing. Mr. Geo. Heaslip sang "Lets grow old Together."

The chairman called for short speeches which was responded to by a number of the gentlemen present, and all joined in singing "For they are jolly good fellows."

An enjoyable evening was spent in cards and social intercourse and the gathering dispersed shortly after wishing Mr. and Mrs. Wilson many more years of health, happiness and prosperity.

School Meeting

The annual school meeting was held on Wednesday, Dec. 30th. The usual business for the year was transacted. Mr. Robt. Wright was elected trustee in place of Mr. Hector Stinson whose term it was to retire. Mr. Stinson is still retained as Sec.-Treas. for the coming year.

A number from here attended the oyster supper and play given by the young people of Blackrock in the Foresters Hall, Janetville, under the auspices of the Epworth League on Wednesday Dec 31st.

Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Malcolm and Howard and Marion spent New years with friends in Toronto.

School opened on Monday with a full attendance and Miss Edith McCamus again on duty.

Mr. George Wright, of Queens University, who spent the holidays under the parental roof has returned to Kingston.

A number here attended the funeral of the late Mrs. Wm. Stinson, (a uneal niece of the deceased) on Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Wright spent the week-end in Lindsay with their friends.

Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Clark Williams on the arrival of a baby boy on Sunday.

Couple Observe Silver Wedding

YELVERTON, Jan. 9—(Staff correspondence)—On New Year's Day, the friends and neighbors of Mr. and Mrs. George E. Wilson gathered at their home to celebrate with them the 25th anniversary of their wedding. The guests came early in number, assembling around five o'clock for congratulations and good wishes had been showered on the bride and groom, a very dainty buffet luncheon was served after which the gathering was called to order.

Mr. R. W. Wright was chosen as chairman. All joined in singing a chorus. Mr. Allister Pearce of Bethany Nonny and a short program of vocal and instrumental music was rendered. Mr. and Mrs. Wilson were then asked to come forward and a short address was read by Miss Marjorie McCarthy, Mr. Colville Brown presented them with a beautiful 4-piece silver tea service. A number of other beautiful gifts were also received.

Mr. Wilson in a few well-chosen words thanked the friends and neighbors for their beautiful gifts.

More Money for Hospital

Rud Hall, Jim Stinson and McLean expressed the views that the club would take up extra specific projects for the Kiwanis Club. Stinson believed that the club could not afford to operate on expenses $5000.00 in the hole and then expect to raise the Hospital Extension Fund. It was now around the second month unattended.

Rud Hall suggested some $2,000 for the Sinking Fund and some to pay the unpaid notes $2,500 each to the Federal and Provincial Governments.

Mr McLean spoke of the Parks Board having $20,000 for the Toronto Star Snookie Fund, compared with the employment men raised in Lindsay with a population of 7,000 people.

Toronto Pulls Out One Point Victory

Andy Blair Scores Winning Tally On Pass From Bailey In Last Canto.

GOOD DEFENSIVELY

Boston Beat Senators; Quakers Trimmed; Falcons Whitewashed; Canadiens Win.

TORONTO, Jan. 9—There wasn't a great deal of real hockey played at the Arena Gardens last night but what little there was the Maple Leafs supplied, and they moved into first place in the International section of their N.H.L. group as a result of beating the Montreal Maroons by 1 to 0. A capacity crowd looked on.

The game was not devoid of thrills. Far from it. In the first period, after the Leafs had rallied, the Maroons concentrated on their attack but before the end of the period some defensive hockey and somehow or other managed to protect their mantle, while the visitors rolled around and about crated and did everything but score

Most of the excitement occurred in the final game. The first two periods did not provide much in the way of real thrilling hockey. The teams seemed unable to hit their stride and the tricks that the forwards and the goaltenders had few shots of the close-in variety to handle and during the period some rough hockey was indulged in and a few spectacular attacks on the net engineered but for the most part but neither team was able to score.

Blair Scores Only Goal

Andy Blair supplied the only tally of the game. Bill "Ace" Bailey paved the way for it shortly after the five-minute mark of the final frame had ticked off. He picked up the puck just inside the Maroons' blue line and Dave Trotier was endeavoring to halt the rush from him Bailey managed to hold it long enough for Blair to skate in on the net, then relinquish it. Blair was uncovered, but Dave Kerr, the visiting goalkeeper, rushed out and checked the tall centre-ice player and Kerr got all tangled up, but Blair's long reach enabled him to sweep the puck around and push it into the empty net before Lorne Kerr's team-mates could come to his assistance.

Nineteenth Loss

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 9—The Chicago Black Hawks administered the nineteenth defeat of the season to the Philadelphia Quakers last night in a National League hockey match at the arena, the visitors winning 4 to 0. The victory strengthened the Black Hawks' hold on second place in the American group standings.

Allan Shields, of the Quakers, and Ingram of the Hawks, engaged in a fist fight with four minutes to go, and drew major penalties. Only four penalties were called, all in the final period.

Miller tallied in the first frame, while Goldsig accounted for the second goal. Ingram from Adams and Darling, Hawks' defence pair, point, while Adams from Desjardins made the final tally.

FALCONS BLANKED

DETROIT, Jan. 9—The New York Rangers put an end to the Detroit Falcons' string of consecutive home games here last night by a 1-to-0 victory over the Detroit team in a brilliant display of defensive hockey before 12,000 spectators.

The Falcons, fighting to oust the Rangers from third place in the league standings, held the New York Ranger passing attack and were baffled by the defensive show put on by the New York team after Bill Cook scored from Joe Jerwa's pass early in the first period. After Cook's goal the Rangers played the final period they sent only one attempt to the defense, and in the tacking forward down the ice, while they checked every effort the Detroit team could offer.

Ebbie Goodfellow, Detroit's scoring ace, was smothered by the Ranger defense and failed to threaten at any time during the play. Big "Ching" Johnson and Myrva were the Ranger defense bulwarks during the latter stages of the play.

GIFT GOAL

NEW YORK, Jan. 9—The Montreal Canadiens received a 2 to 1 victory over the New York Americans as a gift from their rivals last night on one of the most unusual of the freak goals that have marked the National Hockey League season. And the unearned victory put them into a tie with the Montreal Maroons for second place in the Canadian division standing.

Late in the second period with the score tied at 1-1, George Patterson, Canadien wingman, let fly a shot at the American net. Goalie Roy Worters stopped it and fell. Evidently misjudging his position as he tried to fling the puck into the far corner of the rink out of danger, Worters made a perfect throw into his own net for the deciding tally. Manhin got credit for the goal.

Defender Hurt

That goal lifted the lid on the excitement. Encouraged by their lead, the Leafs made several speedy and threatening sallis on the Montreal net and nearly accounted for another score or two. But then the Maroons got busy and for the balance of the contest there was only one way to look to follow the play. It was all in the Toronto defense zone. Maroons put Stewart, Smith, Robert, Ward and Cowley on the ice and the Leafs were harried from every angle. It seemed that the Maroons were bound to score, but always the Leafs managed to get a stick, a skate or some part of their anatomies in front of the puck. Nelson Stewart was given special attention, and the big fellow, constantly fed by his team-mates, rarely managed to get his shot away without having to propel one or two of the Leafs with it.

Connell Replaced

OTTAWA, Jan. 9—A first-period splurge of goals gave Boston Bruins a 3-1 victory over Ottawa Senators in a furiously fought National Hock ey League game here last night.

In the opening minute of play, Bruins went to the front on a goal by Eddie Clapper. Senators seemingly could not solve the combination attack of the Bostonese, and before the first period Cockrell slammed before the period ended Clapper slapped in another goal, and "Cooney" Weiland added one on a solo effort.

Alex Connell, who tended goal for Senators in that disastrous frame was replaced by "Patsy" Beveridge and from then on the visitors were unable to tally. In fact, Senators made their first-frame lethargy and best back the opposition with a wild offensive. The running given the home forces in the start turned to cheers as they outplayed and outplayed the starry Bruins. Shots on goal statistics show the story of play in the last forty minutes. "Tiny" Thompson had 29 saves, while Beveridge answered 18.

Captain Frank Finnigan rallied the lone Ottawa counter on a buckhand flip in the final frame.

Senators were without Harold Starr and probably will be for some weeks. The defensive ace has a fractured bone in his left foot, suffered when Ottawans played in Boston a week ago. It was revealed today in an X-ray.

Belleville Takes First "B" Contest

A. T. Claxton Dudgeon Midgets' Uniforms

—Lindsay, Janl 9.

WEDNESDAY NIGHT when the Midgets skated on the ice for their game with Bobseyeen the crowd was surprised at the snappy new uniforms they were sporting—and how snappy they were. Sweaters with solid black bodies, having a V-shaped white dip at both back and front down from the shoulders and V-shaped white parts on the arms. White horseshoe crests and numerals on the sweaters and white-handed black stockings completed the outfit to make one of the smartest-looking outfits a junior team here has had in years. The management purchased the stocking but for the sweaters they are deeply indebted to the A. T. Claxton Company, who donated all twelve of them free of charge, and by their generous action left just that much more money to spend on the team this year. The Midgets also received three beautiful new blankets for the rushing benches from the Horn Woollen Mills, and Chris Tonics paid for the use of the L.C.I. gymnasium for their pre-season work.

BELLEVILLE, Jan. 9—In a game which scintillated with stiff bodychecking, plenty of scoring and great offensive hockey, the Belleville team took the lead in the local O.H.A. Senior B section by defeating the last Queen's team here last night by 6 to 4. The contest kept the fans in a continual uproar throughout. Last night's game was the first of the schedule in which the two teams will engage.

Belleville had the edge throughout, and their lead was never menaced. They are a much improved team under Stan Burgoyne's coaching, and should be in the hunt for the group honors.

The first two periods were productive of fast hockey, but the last 20 minutes saw the play slow up, with the locals protecting their margin, while the visitors were content to shoot from outside, avoiding bodily contact. Early in the evening the Belleville team all played well with Smith, a graduate of the Trenton group, netting four goals. He was in the thick of the fight and was a potent factor in the win. Johnny Jackson, formerly of the Imperial Oil team, Toronto, was the playmaker for the Belleville team, and while his poke-checks was working overtime, he fed his wings nicely and was the wedge of the locals attack. "Bouncer" Holway, one of the veterans of the group, was the chief cog in the defensive system and he made the path to the goal very difficult. Jackson played well in goal with Montgomery exhibiting some pretty work, while Mulvihill engineered some clearances well and Murphy are probably the pick of the Queen's team with Lee at centre giving the locals plenty of trouble. Campbell, Parsons and Patterson all worked hard, but they go nowhere under the heavy body-checking supplied by the yellow shirts. Morris looked particularly bad on some long drives, although he was the busier of the Queen's defence players. Squires, Montgomery and Weir were all capalities, but despite their injuries to the home forces the game which was well handled by Mac McCarthy.

Draw For Raffle Prizes To-Night

Just in case the promise of a good game is not enough to draw the cash customers to the Ice Palace on Lindsay Street tonight, remember that the draw for the prizes in the raffle which the intermediates staged for their benefit, will be made by the referee in tonight's game between Port Perry and Lindsay Victorians. The team must depend wholly upon the support of the sport-loving fans in town for the wherewithal to operate throughout the year, and they are hoping for a good crowd for their contest tonight, so if the inducement of the game itself is not enough, come down anyway and satisfy your natural curiosity to find out who wins the prizes.

Teams Had Uniforms Donated

With the Midgets flashing their snappy new outfits before the fans on Wednesday night it might be almost too much for them to see two in one week, but tonight the Vics will be wearing their new togs for the first time. Both teams have mighty smart uniforms and both are indebted to local stores, which donated them free of charge. The Midgets' black and white raiment came through the generosity of the A. T. Claxton Company, which donated them when approached on the matter by Manager Coley. The intermediates owe their thanks to the T. Eaton Company from whom their outfits came gratis, through the good offices of Mr. Henry, manager of the O.D.S. Both these men are keen to extend in sport in town, and their action in relieving the teams of the expense of purchasing outfits, is much appreciated by the managements and the players themselves.

Both Games Should Be Good

Tonight when the local teams step out on the ice they are assured of a battle the like of which has not been seen in this town for many a day. Two of the fastest squads in the O.H.A. Intermediate series will be on hand to do battle for the ticket window—should get his money's worth in a game chockfull of action. The Victorias, their own home team, will have Port Perry as the visitors, should put on a good contest with everything which even the most rabid fan could wish for. They will be playing without the services of two of their men but their strong substitute list should carry them through. Port Perry are pushovers. Backed up by Demaine, their star goalie, they can put up a real exhibition of the ice sport, and the locals will have to put their best foot forward to win.

In Fenelon, another of those torrid "kid" tilts, which this junior group is noted for will take place when the Midgets clash with Fenelon for the second time this season. On Monday night the locals pulled out a 3-to-1 win over the Fenelonites here, but tonight the lads from the Cataract Town will be awaiting right in to redeem themselves, and with a team such as they have on the ice tonight it will be mighty interesting for the locals. So whichever way the games goes, it will be a dandy with both squads giving all they have, all the time.

L. C. I. Teams Hold First Practice

Twenty players, or would-be players greeted Mr. Breese down at the Lindsay Street Cushion yesterday after four, when the first practice of the L.C.I. hockey team was held. It was a grand and varied turn-out with two teams kept going at full speed during the entire hour. Everyone was given a chance to strut his stuff, and although nothing is being said at the time Mr. Breese had several bright prospects under his eye. Weather permitting workouts will be held twice a week from now on.

"We're lying shot, but that doesn't mean a thing." That's what R. Burke's vice-said when he was asked how things were coming on during their game with the L.C.I. ring in the playdowns in the Districts Soiel yesterday afternoon.

It was a great battle all the way and Burke's quartette were extended to the limit by the kids from the school. The final score was 9-to-6 with each rink scoring on the same number of ends.

Burke got a five on the fifth end and sort of put the game on ice, but the students fought back and drew down with two ends to play and Raney succeeded in scoring ones on both of them.

You've got to hand it to the kids. They played like veterans, sticking to the draw game like glue and attempting only one bullet during the entire game, that being on the last end in an effort to tie it up.

The rinks were as follows:

D. Beltz	R. Burke
H. Bell	B. Griffin
L. Flack	A. J. Woods
V. Smith sk. 6	R. Burke sk. 9

Other games in the playdowns resulted as follows: F. Carey 16-Matlale 5; Bryson 14-Anderson 9; Skitch 13-Martin 10.

—————

Improvements and more improvements are slated for the Curling rink. The boys are all doing all the spectators a great deal in distinguishing whose stones are in the rings while watching a game.

—————

Red ribbons will be attached to the rocks of one rink and blue ones to the other rink. These ribbons will be kept handy at each sheet and will be used in every game.

—————

Last night saw the completion of the remaining games in the first round of the Patron-President Spiel, bringing the draw down to the six-teels. After the nine o'clock draw the draw was brought down to the eights.

Tonight at 7 p.m. those entering the semi-finals will be drawn and the winners will play again at nine

Nothing New About The Heavies

NEW YORK, Jan. 9—The heavyweights, sobered and muddled on arguments, marked time today, waiting for the arrival of "Pa" Stribling before settling finally whether Max Schmeling will fight Stribling in Chicago, Detroit or Cleveland, or whether Stribling will tackle Jack Sharkey in New York.

Stribling is due tomorrow from Miami, Fla., and he and his son, Bill, are committed definitely to a championship duel in Chicago early in June with the German, who was stripped of his title by the New York Athletic Commission Tuesday.

William F. Carey, President of Madison Square Garden, went to Boston today in an effort to sign Jack Sharkey to a contract for a match with Stribling here in June, a bout the New York Commission said it would recognise as for the vacated title. Carey has little hope however, of winning Stribling over for a match.

Nate Lewis, matchmaker for the Chicago Stadium, and the original $100,000 Stribling-Schmeling match, is due in Chicago, made little headway toward signing the match. It appears that the Reading Milk Fund, which has Schmeling under contract, will stage the match itself in the midwest. Stribling will be given a chance to terms with Lewis, but it appears that he will agree to any promoter Stribling suggests.

Sharkey Is Ready

BOSTON, Jan. 9—Jack Sharkey, heavyweight boxing today declared his willingness to meet young Stribling, Max Schmeling or any other outstanding member of the ring profession. He notified the New York Athletic Commission, he said, of his readiness to sign for a 15-round bout with Stribling in New York.

Vics Play Here, Midgets In Fenelon

Intermediates Will Put Strong Team on Ice Despite Loss of Two Men; Draw For Raffle Prizes At Rink Tonight.

EXPECT BIG CROWD

Midgets Face Stiff Test Against Fenelon Falls Juniors There Tonight; Will Try For Fourth Straight Win.

With a hard game ahead of each of them tonight, the Vics in town, and the Midgets in Fenelon Falls, both squads had a snappy workout last night from 6.30 until 7.30, and went through their paces in a manner which pleased the fairly large crowd of rubbing present. Managers Coley and Sandercock had them "in there" all the time and it will be two determined teams that line the ice tonight both here and in Fenelon. While the greatest attraction to local fans will of course be the home game with Port Perry, always a good drawing card, playing the intermediates, that junior club in Fenelon Falls will be worth the while of anyone taking the trip.

Will Make Draw

Added to the attraction of Port Perry and Lindsay, long rivals in the ice sport, playing here, there will be the draw for the valuable prizes offered by the intermediates in the raffle which they put on for operating expenses this year. The aggregation the locals will not be appreciably weakened and any fan who does not see this fixture will be missing one grand hockey match, with rugged play, speed and—what have you.

The Should Be Close

While the intermediate struggle goes on right merrily here, the black and white clad Midgets will be having a stiff battle in Fenelon Falls when they take on the Cataract Town "kids." The locals will be fighting mad as it four straight and the Fenelonites will be trying just as hard to break into the win column themselves.

And when two teams as evenly matched as these two are, both with the same objective in view, fight it out, only one thing can result—a real hockey match, with every minute jammed full of action. The two these two to add to their list of victims, Stephens in goal; Burgesnay and Begy at the defence; Spratt and Gerrington, centre; Cliff Gerrington and Campbell, Parsons and Crowden as alternates.

"Poverty Pond" Has Brisk Opening Night

—Lindsay, Jan. 9.

LAST NIGHT THE "Open for Business" sign must have been hung out at "Poverty Pond" in Victoria Park for it was doing quite a brisk trade in those young hopefuls who take the preliminary strides at the open air rink. The rink was well-lighted, and the kids seemed to be having a good time. The ice was keen and some of the future Morrenes had a chance to display their "darting" speed before an admiring audience of their less fortunate brothers who have not yet attained quite their proficiency on the blades, and were content to edge their way around the "pond" until they got their legs. Everybody seemed to be having a good time, and the rink was filling the purpose in this respect, at least.

pipes and should make a substitute for "Ike" Eberts who was sick and was unable to be at the practice. Tonight the line-up will be: centre, Wilson; wings, Dames and Rich; defence, Reeves and Fever; goal, Eberts; alternates, Golden, Martin, Fitzgibbon and Forbes. With this aggregation the locals will not be appreciably weakened and any fan who does not see this fixture will be missing one grand hockey match, with rugged play, speed and—what have you.

mous district wailing for development, and after "Onion Week" it is expected this district will be needed. The growers of Point Pelee and Erieau have developed a large white onion that is very mild, and, it is claimed, that it is superior to the well-known Spanish varieties.

Bound to Succeed.

There is no doubt that "Onion Week" will be a success. The Dominion Government has offered to co-operate, and the fruit branch of the Dominion Department of Agriculture wired Mr. Wilford yesterday, that "they thoroughly approved had been authorized and would be distributed." The Ontario Department of Agriculture has also offered aid, and, along with many service clubs, Board of Trade and produce brokers, will endeavor to make the occasion an approved "celebcy" for each occasion.

To be really in style during "Onion Week" one will have to give some faint atmospherically, of close association with this approved vegetable. For instance, during each of the nights the onion-lover may indulge in his favorite vegetable without the fear of interference. Mrs. Cresswell man and the salesman will be able to discard their "after-dinner mints" and partaker of the whole some vegetable to their heart's content. Even an onion in the button-hole of the lapel will receive approval, and for creamed onions, beefsteak and onions, or just plain bread and onions, well, no turkey reigns supreme at Christmas and Thanksgiving, so will the onion dishes dominate.

"Gringo Privateer"

By Peter B. Kyne

Kennedy Burney, adventurer and one-time gentleman, rodeo is Bradley Bardin, king of the cattle country, for a job. Burney has had a fight with Martin Bruce a rival cattle owner who has been stealing the King's stock, aided by Miguel Gallegos, a Mexican bandit. The King, liking young Burney's style, offers him the job of getting the cattle thieves. Burney accepts though he knows it means a fight to the death. He meets Muriel, the King's beautiful daughter. Muriel, who is more interested than she cares to admit, tries to persuade her father not to let Burney tackle the cattle thieves. The King decides to test Burney's courage by making him ride Geronimo, the toughest bronco on the ranch. Burney passes the test with flying colors, but his independence arouses the King's ire. At Buschita, a near-by town, Burney runs into Martin Bruce, the cattle thief who has sworn to kill him. Burney outwits Bruce and returns to the ranch to report.

CHAPTER 12

"That's been Art Graydon's policy," the king retorted bitterly, "and where has it gotten us? I had an idea when I made you general manager that I was hiring a fighter, not a pacifist."

"Oh!" Ken Burney was faintly amazed. "Am I your general manager?"

"You are. I'm going to take a chance on you—for a while, anyhow."

"In that event," the other replied, "the dignity of my new job indicates that I should sit down, even though I haven't been asked."

And forthwith he dragged up a chair and sat down.

"You remarked that you have confidence to take a chance on me," Ken Burney went on. "That decision does infinite credit to your well-known reputation for sagacity. Of course I know you are not taking a chance on me at all, but that remains to be seen, as the monkey remarked when he dropped the kitten down the well."

"Two days—or the butt end of three days—have passed since you collected your wages from Martin Bruce. How have you spent those three days?" the king persisted.

Since I am not, as yet officially on your payroll, you will pardon me, I'm sure, if I ask you not to press that question."

"You were on my payroll," His Majesty assured him wearily, "from the moment I watched you jump your horse over my gates and fence and cut corners to have an interview with me."

"Well, if I've been drawing salary since that night, you are, of course, entitled to my confidence. You have a right to know what I do on your time. Well, I've been down in El Cajon Bonita making bad medicine for the hombre that has a habit of branding your calves down there. There seems to be some doubt, as near as I can gather from the local gossip, whether Martin Bruce and Miguel Gallegos are partners in crime or operating independently, and as this is a point that must be cleared up before I proceed farther, I went down there and set my trap. In a short time we should discover that which we shall inevitable discover."

"Tell me about your trap, son."

So Ken Burney told him. "Hartroared the King. "But in all probability you'll never get back that five dollars' worth of wire nutmeg you planted on those calves, so put it on your monthly expense account."

"Thank you, sir. I'll credit you with whatever salvage I recover. When my films are developed they should show the Double B brand on the cows and no brand on the calves. And I have been careful to photograph all my best views in the act of nursing their mothers, the idea being to establish maternity to the exclusion of any reasonable doubt in the minds of twelve good men and true."

"You forget the trial of the thieves, if any, will occur in Mexico."

"It will," Ken Burney replied en-

ignomatically. "it certainly will. However, I'm also going to put a number of your El Ranchito calves north of the Line on a free-silver basis, and if Martin Bruce's brand should appear on them a little later, why, we'll just have Mr. Bruce arrested the first time thereafter he steps across the state line. We'll have a secret indictment all ready for the old gentleman, and he'll be tried in New Mexico where the crime has been committed.. In his own county of Cochise, Arizona, where he is sheriff, he would have an advantage over us, in that he could have his chief deputy select the right kind of jury—and thereafter whenever his men decided to run the Triangle B iron on a Double B calf, they'd examine the hide first for hidden treasures: if they found any they'd leave your calf alone."

"No, they wouldn't, the king contradicted. "Those petit larceny skunks would just help themselves to the evidence and brand the calf anyhow. By the way, Burney, your salary as general manager is five hundred dollars a month."

"That isn't enough money for a bright young fellow like me," Burney replied, "but it will do very nicely for the present and I thank you Majesty from the bottom of a heart that, of late, has been somewhat heavy. However, I warn you that once I have corrected the situation which annoys you do not be surprised if I quit your employ on short notice. I'm the Knight of the Wandering Hoof. I'm one of those fellows who just naturally has to go and find out."

"Seems to me you've made commendable progress in my employ," His Majesty retorted dryly. "If your ability is at all commensurate with your ego you'll be running me off my job before the month is out."

"Yes—and you'll let out a few shrill yips of satisfaction if I succeed in doing it. You're lied to your job, and unless you can get somebody to handle it as well as you handle it yourself you'll live out the remainder of your life just scared to death at what's going to happen to your kingdom when you leave this vale of tears. You haven't a son to take your place, have you?"

The king sighed. He was touched on a tender spot. "It is the tragedy of my life that I have not, Burney."

"I can understand your tragedy and sympathize with it. But that's only tragedy. It's not. One of that lovely daughter of yours should marry some fellow without sufficient cow sense to call a calf, your kingdom might eventually find itself threatened from within. I have observed frequently how supermen have built up great enterprises; then when age or death snatched the reins from their capable hands that enterprise slowly withered and decayed under the management of mediocre men—Yes, you've got your troubles."

"You bet I have," the king admitted, strangely confidential under the stimulus of this young man's understanding and sympathy. "They do not call me the cattle king without reason. Cattle may be the most what wears the crown. You fortunate fellow, Ken Burney. Not a liability in the world except your limpidness and a faint strain of Spanish blood, and not an asset in the world except a pack horse, a saddle horse and the dividends you make on. Only one life to worry about: your own while I have thousands of lives—dependents who are an incubus energy and ability to beat the bandits who are busy trying to take a dollar out of every one I can make it. What a hell of a world."

"Dad you ever, sir," Ken Burney pursued, "lost your ability to assimilate electricity? You remember those contraptions they used to have at county fairs? You took a steel hand, de in each hand and pulled them together. Then you let go and proceeded them the more voltage you gave yourself, until finally you reached a point where you could grin and bear-ty-up message through your nerves to the muscles of your arms, saying to the effect that you were going to let go? You couldn't let go and had to yell for somebody to tear you loose, and of course the first one to arrive would take hold of you he had to split the charge of electricity with you, but between the two of you the job was done."

The king chuckled. "A very apt description of my predicament, son. Yes, I'm looking for a good man to tear me loose—to split the voltage of my high-powered existence with me."

"Well, take a free look at me, sir," Burney suggested.

"I have. That's the reason you're general manager.

"Oh, no, it isn't Your Majesty. I'm just a place-hitter. You've hired me and made me general manager for one reason only, and that is to rid you of Martin Bruce and Miguel Gallegos.

"Well, and the king unashamed, "what objection have you got to that program?"

"I object to your efforts to hand me what is practically a fatal problem, under the guise of being nice to me —under the pretence of having seen in me a future executive of your company—a smart young fellow who ought to be given his chance. Unfortunately for your reasoning I don't want your job or general manager for more than sixty days, and I think I would be less than fair not to tell you that."

"It's a might good job, son."

"It isn't. It's a terrible job. I've got to kill two men to make good on it.

"Oh, I see. Squeamish, eh?"

"Not at all. I can and will rid you of Bruce and Gallegos, but it will cost you more than a general manager's job at five hundred a month. I'm not so realize that after doing that little thing for you I'd never again dare to press before the window of a lighted room; that I'd have immediately and lose myself to save to resign my general managership funeral expenses?"

"Yes. I had thought of that phase of the enterprise," the king admitted. "I was in my mind to move you to another ranch immediately—say one in Oregon."

"That's only one ranch I want to move to and that's my father's. Cattle are cheap now and while they are cheap I want to stock my father's ranch again and be my own man. I have a feeling that within two years we'll be getting twelve cents for beef, and I want to get in on the gravy?"

"What's your proposition, son?"

"You make me mad, sir."

Jubilee Services At United Church

Little Britain Church Observes 60th Anniversary With Fitting Services; Are Largely Attended.

LITTLE BRITAIN, Jan. 8.—(Staff Correspondence)—Good weather and roads favoured the congregation of the United Church, Little Britain for their Diamond Jubilee services. The Sunday services were inspiring to the congregations that filled the church at both services. The Minister, Rev. J. G. McKee was in charge and Rev. J. U. Robins of Bowmanville was the special speaker. Mr. Robins took as in morning text, Exodus—4-2. "What Is That In Thy Hand" and challenged his hearers to consecrate their gifts, no matter how inadequate these gifts might seem, to the Divine Lord, where they would be multiplied many times.

In the evening another matter message was delivered based on the words found in 1 Cor. 9-14. But the natural man receiveth not the things of the spirit of God. Because they are spiritually discerned.

The choir under the direction of Mrs. J. G. McKee rendered several numbers which was greatly appreciated. Miss E. Dix assisted the choir when in pleasing voice she sang "I Shall Not Pass Again This Way."

Great plans had been made for a crowd on Jan. 1, when the celebration was brought to a fitting close, but foul with all the good things that go with a real crowd and the catering was handled with such good order and care that the programme was started soon after eight o'clock.

After singing one stanza of "The church's One Foundation" brief prayer was offered by the Minister, who acted as chairman. Mrs. Lenora Hurd Rest of Toronto then appeared in a group of numbers, "English, Irish and Scotch.

The chairman read extracts from messages of congratulations from Revs. R. A. Delve. Dr. J. E. Moore W. E. Honey, Wesley Elliott, W. W. Jones, J. S. I. Wilson, Dr. J. L. Stewart and S. J. Allen, also from Mrs B. Gresiex, Mr. and Mrs. Isaac McKee, Mr. and Mrs. H. Rogers of Petrehawe, W. S. Reader of Vancouver and Dr. B. Greenway, of Hamilton. Greetings were also received from California, Oregon, Toronto and other places, too late to be read at the jubilee.

Mrs. Best appeared in a second group for children and older members appearing equally well whether at the piano or as a reader or as a soloist.

A pretty ceremony was introduced when four members of the official board were invited to light the sixty candles on the beautiful birthday cake. Of the men Mr. William Cornish and Mr. Fletcher Dix remembered the night of the church opening and waited on table at the supper sixty years previously. The other two Mr. George Mark and Mr. C. H. Nelherton were present at the opening, the former remembering one or two of incidents the latter as an infant. All individuals in the crowd who were present at the opening of the church in 1871 were asked to come forward and blow the candles out.

Among those present were Mrs. Tiffin, Mrs. W. Wickell, Mrs. McDonald, Mrs. J. P. Dix, Mr. George Wells, Richard Hall and J. J. Campbell.

Each member of the group received from the little baskets in the hands of Mary Dix and Margaret McKee a badge of satin ribbon suitably inscribed. A lady who in her teens sang in the choir when the church opened and who aided with the music at the Jubilee was called upon to cut the cake. Mrs. J. P. Dix appeared in a blue satin frock, the style worn at the time when she left the home of her father, J. Broad, to make a home for her husband. The silver knife was handed to Mrs. Dix by little Betty Mark, a great granddaughter of John Mark from whom the land was secured for the building of the first church and also to great grandchildren of John Fox, local preacher, also of John Broad, both of the building committee of 1870.

Every person present received a small portion of the birthday cake.

A brief historical sketch was prepared and presented by J. Stanley Dix and some interesting items was related. It was found that the contract price for the carpenter work in connection with the church was $1045. The contractor to furnish lumber, shingles, slats and hardware and all other materials. shingles were sold at $2.50 per M. The whole edifice planned to accommodate about four hundred was erected at a cost of $3500.

After several years of numbers by Mrs. Best in which she revealed what could be done with some old familiar hymn tunes and left us with some thoughts for the New Year, the crowd joined in singing the Doxology and the chairman closed the very joyous occasion with the Benediction.

Hepburn's Attack On 'Toryism'

Demands Attorney-General's Resignation; See Tenacles of Tory Octopus Closing In

ASKS HOUSECLEANING

PRESCOTT, Jan. 9—Lashing out with a three-cleft attack on the Provincial Conservative Administration, Mitchell F. Hepburn, M.P., of West Elgin, last night opened his campaign as Ontario Liberal Leader.

He criticized the financial record of the present Henry Government, declaring it to be one of "reckless and extravagant maladministration". He charged the Government with centralizing in Toronto, taxation and general supervision that rightly belonged to the municipalities, and, lastly, he demanded the resignation of Colonel William H. Price, Attorney-General, over the brokerage situation.

Mr. Hepburn, who was chosen Liberal Leader at the provincial Convention three weeks ago, selected the Riding of Grenville as the locale of his first speech. Hon. G. Howard Ferguson represented the riding for many years until his resignation from the Ontario Premiership to accept time sale to be Canadian High Commissioner in London.

Spencerville Man Chosen

As a prelude to Mr. Hepburn's speech, the Liberals of the constituency chose Percy Barnard of Spencerville as their candidate in the March 11 by-election. He is a native of St. Thomas, Ont. He and his Leader were boyhood chums who attended the same school. Mr. Barnard coming to Eastern Ontario over 40 years ago. At a convention some days ago the Conservatives of Grenville selected James Sanderson of Oxford Station as their candidate.

B. C. Tweed, M.P.P., North Wellington who acted as chairman of the financial record of the Ontario Government, declaring that its debt-reduction statements had not accomplished its avowed purpose, nor was the administration practicing economy in its dealings with the public.

Asserting that Colonel Price, as Attorney General, must have been aware of financial irregularities in Ontario regarding brokers, Mr. Hepburn said there was no action taken until W. J. Stewart, Liberal Leader, had demanded it. As Leader of the party, Mr. Hepburn promised the appointment of a Royal Commission to investigate the whole situation, if the Liberals were placed in power. At the same time, the Liberals, if elected, would promise some restitution "for the thousands of men and women who were fleeced out of millions of dollars."

"Tory Octopus"

The Conservative Administration in Ontario, Mr. Hepburn had developed a political machine in Northern Ontario which he termed a "Tory octopus." In Toronto, Queen's Park was "surrounded by the political parasites," he said adding there would be a "mighty quick housecleaning" if the Liberals gained power.

Regarding the liquor question, the only reference made to it by the Liberal Leader was his statement that, in the past he had served as a "smoke screen which beclouded the real issues of the day." These, he said, were the Government's financial record and its "general autocratic manner of dealing with the people of Ontario."

WINDSOR TO BE CANADIAN HOLLYWOOD

AMERICAN INTERESTS TO PRODUCE PICTURES IN CANADA TO SATISFY REQUIREMENTS OF LAW.

WINDSOR, Jan. 10—Windsor may win recognition as the Hollywood of Canada through its selection as studio headquarters of an important new producing company which is being incorporated by big motion picture interests in New York to produce British-made films for several of the large companies in the United States.

Announcement to that effect was made here last night by Fred. W. Martin, Canadian Promoter of the Detroit-Windsor tunnel, on his return from New York where he has spent the week working on a deal to bring the new film company to Windsor.

While in New York Mr. Martin secured the signatures of men who are to be responsible to the new company for a 99-year lease on the premises on the east side of Ouellette Avenue near Erie Street, known as the Marks-Gordon building, and the remodelling the building to meet the conditions of the lease is to start at once, it is announced.

Dog Wakes Master In Fire Here

Man Sleeping in H. Stubbings' House Here, Is Saved By Dog When Fire Starts

LIKELY SAVED HIM

"Jiggs", a thoroughbred Boston bulldog, owned by Mr. Harry Stubbings, 94 Regent Street, was the reason yesterday afternoon, about five o'clock, for James Elfbury waking up and discovering the house full of smoke and a good sized fire getting started down in the hallway on the ground floor. Mr. Elfbury, who works at night, was sleeping upstairs and was the only one in the house when the dog, noticing the smoke, awakened him by jumping on the bed, and probably saved the house by permitting the alarm to be given before the fire progressed too far. The call was sent in by Mr. Watt, a driver of a bread wagon, when Mr. Elfbury shouted to him from the house, and the town's fire department were successful in checking the fire before it grew to serious proportions.

Considerable damage was done by smoke and water but the quick action of the firemen prevented greater loss. The conflagration was in the front hallway and started in a hot-air pipe. What caused the fire is unknown it is thought that it started from a shirt circuit in the wiring as there was very little pulled up to the main, and a load of 94 on the same street. When the firemen arrived they found all the rooms in the partition filled and plenty of hose was strung from the hydrant at Elgin and Albert and then the partition upstairs was broken through and the water played on the hallway from below and in about three-quarters of an hour the fire was completely checked, and the house saved in around five o'clock. This morning the damage was estimated at proximately $200.

NEXT MEETING HERE

The regular January meeting of the Presbytery of Lindsay of the Presbyterian Church in Canada was held in St. Andrew's Church, Lindsay on Tuesday, of this week. There was quite an interesting docket.

All ministerial members were present except two. Mr. Wm. Burton by Sr. and Rev. A. W. Hare. Rev. J. Snyder, of Fenelon Falls was elected Moderator for the next six months. Mr. Snyder who has held a serious illness was still unable to be present.

Presbytery were gratified to know that he is progressing favourably and instructed the clerk to forward to him the sympathy of its members.

Correspondence revealed that Toronto Presbytery asked leave to re-admit into the United Church, two former Presbyterian ministers, Rev. P. C. Cath and Rev. Stewart Woods. No objection was made by Presbytery. Some discussion arose re the reception of ministers from other churches and the necessity of a close scrutiny of all such applying.

Rev. George Nicol, missionary from British Guiana was present and was extended the courtesies of the court.

Presbytery were glad to see the splendid improvement in the esteemed and venerable clerk, Rev. W. R. Smith, of Glenarm, who has fully regained his health.

Rev. R. S. Scott reported re the fine gift that was left to the church by the late Mary Morgan, of Markham. This is a splendid building fully equipped, which is to be used as a home for aged and infirm ministers and missionaries, who have not sufficient means to entirely support themselves. Quite a large sum of money was also left by the Morgan Estate. This money is left for or name of the Continuing Presbyterian Church, it was said, but on a legal technicality was claimed by and given to the United Church, though it was morally certain it was meant for that part of the Presbyterian Church which remained out of union.

This Moderator, Rev. J. C. Robinson having received a call to Cornwall felt compelled to resign. Mr. Robinson has been a faithful and efficient Moderator. Rev. A. W. Hare to take the chair.

Dr. Thompson, clerk of the Presbytery of Peterboro, procedural the call on behalf of the Presbytery of Peterboro as did five other representatives. Rev. Mr. Campbell for

Twenty Men Are Trapped By Cave-In But Saved By Wits

—San Francisco, Jan. 10.

TRAPPED BY A CAVE-IN they were working to prevent, but saved from death by the quick wits of a fellow laborer, 20 men awaited deliverance today from a tunnel of the Welch Hetchy municipal water project. Rescue crews boring through the debris were impeded by new cave-ins as they reimbered the tunnel. Rescue operations began immediately after the first cave-in occurred early last night. Twelve men were killed on almost the same spot last spring.

COLLEGIATE TOBOGGAN PARTY HELD

STUDENTS WORK UP BIG APPETITES SLIDING AND DO AWAY WITH QUITE A FEW EATS, AND, MORE ESPECIALLY, COFFEE.

Last night the annual toboggan party of the L.C.I. was held under the auspices of the Central Athletic Executive. A crowd of about a hundred students left the school about eight o'clock for the Golf Links where a couple of hours were spent in sliding down "Majuba Hill" and walking back up again. As the result of the school repairments in the form of beans and coffee were served, to the party, all of which went to the right spot, but, as a few asked, what was in the coffee?

While the refreshments were being served the Collegiate Orchestra composed of Miss M. Silver, L. Flack and C. Staples arrived upon the scene and the rest of the evening was spent in dancing.

OBSERVE DAY OF PRAYER IN FENELON

PRESBYTERIAN SOCIETY OBSERVES DAY THAT IS BEING CELEBRATED IN A NATION-WIDE MANNER

FENELON FALLS, Jan. 10 (Staff Correspondence)—The Presbyterian Women's Day of Prayer was observed by the W.M.A. of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church, Fenelon Falls, at a meeting of its members, held at the home of Miss Lucy Potts, on Friday evening. The Vice-president, Miss Alice Moffatt, presided in the absence of the president, Mrs. Lord.

The meeting was opened with the singing of "All people that on earth do dwell," followed by prayer of thanksgiving by Mrs. (Rev.) B. B. Snider. The Scripture lesson was read by Miss Patricia Arksey, and the roll call answered by a verse of Scripture beginning with the letter B, as the members are following the alphabet through in this way.

Say Tax Arrears Situation Is Little Better In Oshawa

Treasurer Gets Little Money and Many Replies In Answer to Appeal He Sent Out

PEOPLE URGED TO PAY

OSHAWA, Jan. 10.—The outstanding tax arrears are coming in slowly, but it is indeed slow work, said City Treasurer T. A. Blackburn recently. The situation is, in fact, little change from what the annual financial statement was issued showing the standing as at December 15.

Many replies have been received to the city treasurer's letter, which pointed out the seriousness of the tax arrears situation, but so far there has been comparatively little money received. What cash has been coming in, has been in small lots, the ratepayers apparently taking advantage of the city's offer to pay their taxes by the month without necessarily paying all the bill at once. It is recognized that, at the present time, very few of those who are in arrears could pay but every $5, $10 or $20 paid in their entire tax bill at one time, helps in reducing the tax deficit.

"I am convinced that the citizens generally realize now, better than before, just how serious the situation is, and will make an effort to pay their arrears as soon as they find it possible to do so," was the treasurer's statement.

According to the financial statement issued during the latter part of December, there was a total of $278,400 in unpaid taxes on the city's books at that time. This is exactly equal to the rather astonishing fraction of 60 percent of the entire

Town Council Will Hold Its Inaugural Meeting Monday

Committee Chairman Will Be Chosen and Several Routine Appointments Made

TO PASS BY-LAWS

On Monday Lindsay's new town council will take its place at the head of the town's affairs. After choosing committee chairmen and organizing the work, several appointments will be made to fill vacancies on other municipal boards, and arrangements will be made to get money to carry on the town's work until the tax money is available.

The council will meet in the morning when committee chairmen will be chosen and Mayor S. Alcorn will make his inaugural address. Chairman of the committees last year were: Finance and Assessment, Deputy-Reeve John O'Reilly; property, Deputy Reeve W. J. Hegarty; board of works, Alderman Frank Armstrong; Police, Alderman Dr. J. A. White; lighting, J. A. Wenman; parks and cemetery, Alderman E. N. Mitchell; industrial, Reeve R. Kylie. All these men are back with the exception of Messrs. O'Reilly and Kylie, and it is likely that they will occupy the chairs of some of the same committees in any case. Of course, it is the privilege of the council to put any of the councillors at the head of any of the committees regardless of previous service.

The morning's meeting will be brief but there should be considerable more business in the evening. Besides routine by-laws that are necessary before the work can proceed legally, it will be necessary to make some appointments.

Annually three men are appointed to the Board of Health, the three for the past few years being Messrs. Alcorn (chairman), R. Smale, and M. Mutchler. They are the Mayor and the M.O.H. make up the board This year, of course, the Mayor will make his choice by the board through his position as Mayor, so a new man will have to be appointed in his place. At the present time, it seems probable that the other two men will be reappointed.

Two other appointments are necessary and it is probable that they too will be put back into the same office. Mr. W. J. Hender's term as the library board expires and Mr. A. E. Gregory's term as L.C.I. trustee on the board of education expires. Both are three year appointments.

25,000 Weavers Locked Out Now By Owners Of Mills

—Burnley, Eng., Jan. 10

TWENTY-FIVE Thousand weavers in the cotton textile industry were locked out this morning by ninety per cent of mill owners, carrying out the owners' threat that the mills would be closed unless the 5,000 men who struck earlier in the week returned to their jobs today. The lockout was an organized action on part of the employers and it appeared unlikely that any of the mills involved would re-open individually although two large mills not affected with the Owners' Organization continued in operation.

TRAFFIC COP SPEAKS OF CAR LIGHTS

TRAFFIC POLICEMAN BETWEEN HERE AND WHITBY HAS GIVEN SOME ADVICE WHICH NOW WILL BEGIN CHECK-UP.

This morning in conversation with Tim Post, Provincial Officer Hayshaw, who patrols the roads between here and Whitby, said that a general and stiff check-up will be made from now on with regard to one-light cars, cars without tail-lights and trucks without reflectors. Orders have gone out to summons all guilty of these offences. For the last year a gradual education by means of warnings has been pursued and now the policy of summoning those who have failed to obey the warnings will be adopted. As everyone knows the dangers of one-light cars and cars without tail-lights no further discussion on them is necessary. However the abuse about the reflectors on trucks is perhaps not so well understood although it has been in force for a year. This law states that every truck must have a red reflector six inches from the rear centre-line of the body, securely fastened in such a way that it will reflect the lights of approaching cars, in addition to the tail-lights. This is a necessary precaution, because of the danger of overhanging loads or studding tail-lights and so there are times that the police intend to enforce fully.

Remember from now on there will be no excuse in the minds of the police for one-light cars, cars without tail-lights, and trucks without reflectors, and tail-lights—so a word to the wise should be sufficient. If your "back" is suffering from any of the deficiencies have it rectified at once, and save yourself a summons.

Save County $7,000?

While there is still some doubt about the final terms of future old age pensions expenditures, there seems to be a very good chance that Victoria County will be saved an expenditure of about $7,000 a year. Recently it was announced that the Federal Government will pay 85 per cent. of the old age pensions costs, and the amount of saving to the municipalities on whether the remaining five per cent. will be paid by the county or the province.

In December Victoria County paid $1187.42 as its share of the old age pensions, but received back about $500 from those inmates of the County Home for the Aged who receive pensions. Taking this to be an average month, it will be seen that the county pays out about $7,200 a year. Of course the amounts change from month to month as some pensioners die and other people grow old enough to get a pension.

At present the county bears 20 per cent. of the cost, which is increased by the $1,107.45 for December. The Federal Government pays 50 per cent., which would mean $2,768.55 for December, and the Provincial Government says 30 per cent., which would mean $1,845.70 for December. The new plan is that the Federal Government will bear 85 per cent. of the cost and let the rest fall where it may. The result would be about $1,800 a year for Victoria County.

While municipalities are hoping that the Provincial Government will assume the remaining five per cent. of the cost, they would not be burdened very heavily even if they did have to pay it as it would be only a quarter of what they have been paying since the pension scheme was inaugurated.

As it is the Provincial Government would be relieved of five-sixths of its burden if it did assume the whole five per cent., so it is probable that it will accept the responsibility of either paying it all or the greater share of it.

Is It Good? Pass It On

HEYWOOD BROWN, New York City newspaper columnist, said recently that looking back on the old year he could see the great mistake people made in working too hard. More had been produced than could be used, and with too much wheat, too much food of all kinds, too many motor cars, and everything else such prosperity became embarrassing and the people just sat back and quit driving, wondering what it was all about. For his part he intended to take it easy this year, if anybody asked him to go to a banquet and make a speech he intended asking "Why should I?" No more useless effort for him. He intended to take it easy himself but hoped his contributors would not lie down, in fact he hoped his contributors would do more of the work this year in filling his column. All of which sounds good to us and is passed along to prospective contributors for consideration and action. If you hear or read something cut of the ordinary pass it on through our columns.

He'll Be Satisfied Now

Naturally it pains us to have our family skeleton dragged out of the closet and allowed to go cavorting around the main street but what are we to do when a relative some 60 years our senior orders that it be done. Of course its repulsive to us to admit that there is actually living in the world today people heads in this office, the elderly relative, who tells yes forgotten the "josh" story that was once printed about him, wrote back: "That butterfly was either very dull or very short-sighted, for I am credibly informed that upon striking a long line of cabbage heads."

And now that the family skeleton's dance has been stepped off to the last bar of the whole, morbid tune, we would express only one wish and that is that those understanding Friends who used to see why cabbage butterflies weren't attracted to us, haven't changed their views.

PRESS OPINIONS

IMPORTANT CONTRIBUTING FACTOR

(Niagara Falls Review)

One industry which is not complaining about hard times is the radio business, and perhaps the fact that the radio manufacturers used more newspaper space this year than ever before has much to do with that.

HIGH COST OF ELECTRICITY

(Three Rivers Bien Public)

From the published statistics of the prices exacted by the furnishers of electrical energy in the province of Ontario it appears that we are being badly stung and being made to pay thru the nose, while this element, which has become indispensable, is furnished at a very low price in all the towns and villages of Ontario.

PROPAGANDA OF HATE

(Bertrand Russell)

Why is propaganda so much more successful when feeling? The reason is, clearly, that the human heart is more prone to hatred than to friendship.

It is prone to hatred because it is dissatisfied, because it feels deeply, perhaps even unconsciously, that it has somehow missed the meaning of life, that perhaps others, but not we ourselves, have secured the good things which nature offers for man's enjoyment.

FIRST DISAPPOINTMENT

(The Chicago Tribune)

Everybody is so full of sweet radiant hope about the New Year, and there have been such beautifully encouraging things said, and there is such a rage and craze expectation in every face and heart, that we feel a very keen sense of disappointment yesterday when we slipped on the ice and hit the ground an awful whop. How cold and hard the earth still is. Somehow we thought it would be so different in 1931.

DOG-GONE!

(Treswater News)

"Gip," the wel-known bulldog of our popular postmaster, Mel. Donahue, was taken to Toronto last week to make her future home with Mr. Donahue's sister, where she will have to make friends in a neighborhood, not a municipality.

The Treswater Public School will miss "Gip," as she was the receiver of more hugs, kisses, and pleasant pats than any single member of our village population. Well, goodbye "Gip" and may the beef bones and city milk agree with your every makeup.

NOT BIRDS OF A FEATHER

(Saturday Review)

Above all, we must beware of the fallacy that criminals are all of a kind. Among them will be found men of strong character and of weak character; some with pet purpose and firm will, and others without aim or ideal, without even lust or avarice.

Some owe their criminal status as much to their courage as to the form of their ambition, while others are cowardly and purposeless. Not only is the classification of these wide differences in mental and emotional outfit essential to the effective practice of preventive criminology, but it is even more necessary to intelligent and effective penology.

QUILTING PARTIES

(Alma Enterprise)

Speaking of quilting parties, which are the rage now, Sam Strunk, of Halifax, says when he was a boy and the women had a quilting party, the girls put a lot in the quilt when finished and all got old of it and opened it. The girl toward whom the cat jumped was supposed to be the first one to get married.

These days when a girl wants to get married she just goes out and gets her man without waiting for the cat to jump.

BUYING CANADIAN-MADE SHOES

(Toronto Saturday Night)

A circular commanding the resumption of the National Shoe Retailers Association, which takes place in Toronto in mid-January, draws attention to a fact that signifies a healthful trend in Canadian buying. In the matter of quality approximately 76 percent of the footwear worn in Canada was imported, mainly from the United States.

It is stated that today probably more than 75 percent of such commodities is made in Canada. Canadian shoe interests hold that this is not entirely due to the "Made-in-Canada" movement, but to the essential corollary of all such movements, namely that it is not necessary to go beyond Canada's own borders for the finest in style and quality. Last year the association undertook to demonstrate this fact with a "Style Revue" in which Canadian made goods were exclusively shown.

Whether the public likes shows of any kind, even of footwear, for the response to invitations was so great that hundreds were turned away.

STINGIEST MAN

He has the reputation of being the stingiest man in the country. It is even being whispered that he counts the grains of corn he feeds his chickens. It was in the holiday time he entered a store in mild excitement, telling how his five children, three married and two with one or more children, were coming home for Christmas.

"What can I get you a big time all of us together at home again. Give me a dime's worth of candy," he said to the storekeeper.

THE WEDDING WOULD BE OFF

Wilkins proposed, and was accepted. After their first tender transports were over they fell into serious talks.

"Now that we are engaged," said the girl, "we must begin to economize. Promise me, darling, that you won't do anything you can't afford."

The young man laughed grimly.

"If I promised you that," he said, "I'd have to break off our engagement."

THE ORGAN THAT PREVENTS INFECTION

When I was a medical student the most important thing in my mind was to be able to detect heart disease and the particular valve of the heart that was affected.

Next in importance in my mind was to be able to detect evidences of tuberculosis when I examined a chest.

The different forms of stomach trouble, ulcer, cancer, or "chronic rheumatism" was of next importance, then the four kinds of rheumatism and so forth.

As far as the liver was concerned it did not interest me very much although gall stone colic was something that should be kept in mind.

But now as I think of the liver I like to think of it as someone has called it "the king of the organs."

Why?

Because it is the largest organ in the body, weighing nearly six pounds. It holds 25 per cent. of the blood within it at any one time. It manufactures the bile which helps digest fats, has a natural laxative and natural antiseptic and it stores up sugar for the time when the supply may need it.

But it is for one job that it does that it should be called the king of the organs. That is its ability to prevent poisons harming that body of yours.

Drs. Muller and Brutt, Berlin, studied the behavior of the various organs after putting harmful organisms into the blood. They found that when these organisms were injected into the blood vessels at the surface of the body it was several hours before they disappeared from the blood. That is its ability to prevent poisons harming that body of yours.

Drs. Muller and Brutt, Berlin, studied the behavior of the various organs after putting harmful organisms into the blood. They found that when these organisms were injected into the blood vessels at the surface of the body it was several hours before they disappeared from the blood. That is its ability to prevent poisons harming that body of yours.

They found that the liver not only absorbs these harmful organisms but gets rid of them into the gall bladder and thence into the small intestine and thence out of the body by means of the large intestine.

That is the reason why the injection of a solution of the blood is so often fatal when the liver is damaged by disease of any kind.

And the way to keep healthy is by bending, twisting, and breathing exercises; anything that will squeeze it. Also not eating too much, particularly of fatty and starchy foods.

A healthy liver is your great protection against infection of any kind.

Huge Planes On Tour Of Africa

Twin-Engined Transport Biplanes Weighing Eight Tons Commence Round-African Flight.

CAIRO, Egypt, Jan. 9—By The Canadian Press)—Five sixth Royal Air Force formation cruise from Cairo to Cape Town and back—an em in regular service routine of the squadrons stationed in Egypt—begin on Jan. 12. Three large twin engined Vickers "Victoria" heavy transport biplanes ascend from Heliopolis aerodrome with instructions to arrive at Cape Town at the end of the first week in February and to complete the return journey during the second week in March.

Earlier service flights over 11,240 miles of the voyage did much to pave the way for the mail and passenger service which will begin operation very soon. With never a serious hitch or departure from prearranged time-table the annual cruise of Royal Air Force bombers has year by year demonstrated how aircraft might ply regularly from one end of the African continent to the other. Now the civil organization, mainly in a chain of aerodromes and emergency landing grounds, assists the way of the service flyers and in some measure pays tribute to their predecessors.

Every earlier cruise has engaged single-engined bombing craft. This year, despite ambitious project, the greater size of the aeroplanes implying possible difficulty in getting off the ground at the smaller aerodromes. Each "Victoria," when fully laden, weighs nearly eight tons, and at Malindi and Aberouri, in Northern Rhodesia, the aerodromes are more than 6,000 feet above sea level; this means that the aircraft in this air found in Africa at this height, particularly if the sun be hot, will need every inch of space of power which can be got from the two big engines.

The flight, which will be supervised by Group Captain E. M. Murray, will spend periods of one or two days at certain aerodromes, where members of native soldiers will be borne aloft to give them experience of aerial troop carrying. With group Captain Murrsay will b Squadron Leader H.W.G.J. Pendred, and six pilots. Among them is Flying Officer D'Arcy Greig, famous pilot of high-speed seaplanes, who was third in the last race for the Schneider International Trophy and held the former B"itish speed record of 319 1-2 miles an hour. He is now engaged in carrying huge and comparatively slow troop carrying craft.

The "Victoria" is powered with two 650 h.p. motors. Among outstanding exploits accomplished by these machines is the evacuation of Kabul, Afghanistan, in 1928, when more than 600 persons in the beleaguered city were rescued and carried by air over the formidable mountain ranges to safety in Kabis. In other service activities and experimental work the "Victoria" heavy transport aircraft has demonstrated the extreme value of this type of service machine and much of the framework of modern air routes in the British Empire depends directly on them.

South Africans Are Different

"National" Societies Declining Because Few British Immigrants Arriving.

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa, Jan. 6—(By The Canadian Press)—The South Africans for some time have been departing from the old days of numerous "National" societies in the Union, which attributed to embodied the changing character of the population. The Caledonians, the Cambrians, the Caledonian Association, the Lancashire and Yorkshire Association, and the Irish Association were once prominent in the social life of Johannesburg. Quite recently the home of the Lancashire and Yorkshire Association was sold and its membership dissolved. Little is heard of the rest.

The explanation lies in the fact that few British immigrants have come to South Africa in recent years, while the South African born population has been steadily increasing. Persons born in the Union now number those born outside by six to one.

The strongest patriotic society in the country is still the Sons of England. In the Transvaal alone it has 34 lodges, all active. There is no sign of any diminution in the organization, although some explain this on the grounds that this society has, from its inception, accepted a certain political complexion that has helped to keep it together.

Other societies which are national organizations find an outlet for their patriotism in forming clubs; and in Johannesburg there are the French Club, the German Club, the Irish Club, and the Chinese Club These are all well supported.

Pays Him Back

LONDON, Jan. 10—(By The Canadian Press)—Councillor Owen Sampson, one time page boy in White's Club, St. James' street, London, at present superintendent wait er at the Conservative Club in Arlington St. James' street, has been bequeathed $100,000 by the late Sir Charles W.E.C. Hartopp, who was first secretary of the British Legation in Persia. More than 15 years ago Sir Charles befriended the page boy at White's club. Later Sampson served as Sir Charles' valet and accompanied him to Bucharest, Athens and Cairo, at the last named place nursing the knight back to health from a severe illness, a service I can never repay." Sir Charles states in his will.

Sunday Rest

LONDON, Jan. 10—(By The Canadian Press)—There is to be no fishing on Sundays at Rayleigh, Essex, so the Rayleigh Urban Council has decided, notwithstanding that two clergymen have strongly urged the Council to permit it. Rev. H. Iselin, rector of Rayreth, and Rev. E. Powell attended the recent meeting of the Council at which the decision was mad and both of them supported Sunday fishing. They are members of the council. The vote however was 8 to 7 against the proposal.

THE ACADEMY NEXT WEEK

Next week is your best opportunity of seeing a performance of any kind in the Academy theatre for at least ten weeks, during which time this famous play house will be entirely remodelled. As a Good-bye week three really attractive programs are being offered, each for two days showing. Monday and Tuesday brings you Richard Dix in Shooting Straight—Wednesday and Thursday Jack Mulhall in For The Love of Lil, and Friday and Saturday Jack Holt in The Squealer, each with added short comic novelties added to each of the programs.

Be sure and see these attractions next week, every one a real one, and at th esame time look around and say good-bye to the Academy theatre as you have known it—for on the re-opening you will surely say—"You'd never know the old place now."

'SHOOTING STRAIGHT,' GRIPPING DRAMA, OPENS AT ACADEMY MONDAY

Picture fans who like Richard Dix in the red-blooded roles which brought him screen fame again will see their favorite in this type of characterization when "Shooting Straight," Radio Pictures' gripping drama, opens Monday at the Academy theatre.

For the past year Dix has been featured in a series of comedy romances which have brought out the fact that he is an excellent farceur. He returns to his old type of role, however, in this new production which has been unusually well received in other cities where it has played.

Dix is cast as a two-fisted big city gambler and the story concerns his complete regenerations. Combined with the stirring drama of the picture is a strong romance, with Mary Lawlor, beautiful Broadway stage star, playing opposite Dix. The two are said to form one of the most effective combinations in pictures today.

"Shooting Straight" is an original story by Barney Sarecky, developed along strikingly novel lines. It is said to represent the last word in talking picture entertainments on account of its bristling and fast-moving action

George Archainbaud directed the production, and gathered together an unusually capable cast of supporting players. Matthew Betz, prominent screen "heavy," is the menace. Other important roles are portrayed by Robert Emmet O'Connor, George Cooper and William Janney.

Church on behalf of their congregation.

Strong representation was made by the representatives from Uxbridge for the retention of their minister. The call being placed in Mr. Robinson's ands he quite reluctantly decided to resign the charge of Uxbridge and accept that of Campbellford. Several members of the court expressed their regret over losing Mr. Robinson who has been a faithful and loyal membe rof the court and will be very much missed. Rev. P. W. MacInnes, of Leaskdale was appointed interim moderator of Uxbridge to declare the pulpit vacant on Jan. 18th. Rev. A. A. Armand, of Port Perry gave notice to the Presbytery that the congregations of Sonya, Cresswell and Wick were desirous of calling a graduate of this year's class in McGill. As this gentleman is not yet a graduate and not licensed, the matter was left in abeyance till after his graduation and licensing next April.

Mr. Robinson resumed the chair.

On motion of Messrs. A. W. Hare and R. S. Scott, the clerk, Rev. W. C. Smith and Rev. A. G. Scott, of Elora, with Elders were appointed a committee to strike the standing committees and to report at the March meeting.

The next regular meeting of Presbytery will be held in St. Andrew's Church, Lindsay at 11 a.m. on Tuesday, March 10th.

St. Joan Of Arc Is Remembered

British as Well As French Now Contributing To Memorial to Martyred Maid.

ROUEN, France, Jan. 10—(By The Canadian Press)—It was hoo years on November 21 last that St. Joan of Arc was sold into British hands, and was put to death by fire on May 30, 1431, at Rouen. In connection with her martyrdom celebrations will be held on the quincentenary of Orleans," and British as well as tenary of the death of "The Maid French will take part therein.

A chapel is to be built at Rouen as a memorial to St. Joan, and on May 30 next its foundation-stone will be laid by the Archbishop of Rouen, on the initiative of a French committee. The memorial will be erected on the spot where St. Joan was burned, in the old market-place of Rouen. The chapel will be small and delicate, conceived in the spirit of the 15th century, with flint base and upper parts of timber, so as to harmonize with the historic buildings of the square.

Meanwhile in order that Britain may have a share in this final atonement to St. Joan a national appeal has been launched from London under the presidency of Cardinal Bourne, and with the distinguished support of such representative men and women as Great Britain's Ambassador to France, Lord Crewe, Lady Warwick, Lady Haig of Bemersyde, Lady Rhondda, the Rev. H. R.L. Sheppard, Mr. St. Loe Strachey, Gerald Cromdy, Mrs. Corbett Ashby, Miss Megan Lloyd George, M.P., Mrs. Stanwell Booth, Mrs. Cadbury, Miss Amy Johnson, Rev. F. W. Norwood, George Bernard Shaw, Mrs. Pethick Lawrence, Hugh Walpole, and others.

It is hoped that a sufficient sum will be collected to provide the church with its main door, on which in the words of the Archbishop of Rouen, "it will be beautiful to read the witness to the generosity of noble England."

Mrs. Sheila Kaye-Smith, London, author of a number of works, is honorary treasurer of the fund being raised in that country in connection with the quincentenary memorial.

OSHAWA HEALTH SITUATION CONSIDERED SATISFACTORY

OSHAWA, Jan. 10—According to a report furnished to the Oshawa Board of Health at its final session for the year 1930, chicken pox has made its appearance in the district 16 cases having been brought to notice during the latter part of December. Whooping cough heads the list of contagious diseases, however, with 21 cases under observation. Only a single case of active diphtheria and two of scarlet fever were reported during the month, and the health situation in the whole is considered satisfactory. Reference was made to the fact that Chairman John Gibson has completed 19 years of service on the board, over which he had presided for 15 years.

GAS relieved

What most people call indigestion is usually excess acid in the stomach. Food has soured. The instant remedy is an alkali which neutralizes acids. But don't use crude hoiw. Use what your doctor would advise.

The best help is Phillips' Milk of Magnesia. For the 50 years since its invention, it has remained standard with physicians. You will find nothing else so quick in its effect, so harmless, so efficient.

One teaspoonful in water neutralizes many times its volume in acid. The results are immediate with no harmful after-effects.

Once you learn this perfect way to relieve gas, deal in any other manner with the headaches, gas, bloating, nausea, dizziness, indigestion, biliousness, etc., due to an over-acid stomach and bowels.

Be sure to get genuine Phillips. It is always a liquid; never made in tablet form. Look for the name Phillips on the bottle. All drug-stores sell it—50c.

Obituary

MARGARET ALICE BASSETT

CANNINGTON, Jan. 10.—(Staff Correspondence)—The death of Margaret Alice Bassett, youngest daughter of Muriel Bassett and the late Norman Bassett occurred on December 28th, at the Sick Children's hospital, Toronto. Margaret was a charming little girl five years of age and was born in the town of Cannington.

While on a visit in Oshawa with her mother she was taken ill and, on medical advice, was rushed to the Sick Children's Hospital, Toronto, where she lingered for four weeks before the Master called His Treasure Home.

Left to mourn her loss are her mother and one sister, Ruth, both of Cannington. Her father died here three years ago.

The funeral was held on December 30th, from the home of her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Bassett, Laidlaw Street, Cannington. Rev. Kidd, of Woodbridge, former pastor, of Cannington, conducted the service. Interments was made in Cedarvale cemetery, Cannington.

The sympathy of the entire community is extended to the sorrowing friends.

FRANCIS ANDERSON

After a serious illness, of less than a week, in the Ross Memorial Hospital, death removed a loving husband and father in the person of the late Francis Anderson.

Born in county Armagh, Ireland, June 11th, 1864, he came to Canada when a young man and made his home at Franklin. He was well known throughout Durham County. Also in Lindsay, where he had resided for the past thirteen years, during which time he was an employe of the C.N.R.

He was much respected and was ever fair in his dealings with others. He made friends wherever he went and all will remember him for his cheery kindly manner. Beautiful floral tributes from near and dear friends show the high esteem in which he was held. He attended St. Paul's Anglican church; was a member of L.O.L. 32 and in politics was a staunch conservative.

He leaves to mourn his loss a sorrowing wife, one daughter, Mrs. T. Fisher and four grandchildren, of Toronto, three sisters, Mrs. Cromwell, Mrs. Murphy and Miss S. Anderson of Borbrook, Ireland.

The funeral services were conducted by Rev. Canon Marsh and Rev. Mr. Goldring, followed by a service of L.O.L. 32. The pall bearers were all members of L.O.L. 32

Say Tax Arrears Situation Is Little Better In Oshawa

1930 tax roll, including special frontage assessments. Of this total, $270,000 is made up of unpaid taxes on the 1930 roll itself, which is about 28 percent. of the current roll. There was at that date, still $67,000 from the 1929 roll still unpaid, and the balance was made up of 1928, 1927 and 1926 taxes.

The serious part of the tax arrears situation is that, whether citizens pay their tax bills or not, the expenses of operating the city go on just the same. People demand police and fire protection whether

Choose Salads Wisely

A well chosen salad gives one to a meal and often places an otherwise mediocre luncheon or dinner in a class by itself in the memory of those who have enjoyed it.

Carefully prepared fruits and vegetable used in salads add vitamins and mineral salts to the diet with a minimum of calories. If the salad dressing is not rich itself.

A fish or chicken salad should not be served when there is a meat course. In lobster, crab or similar salads, the celery and lettuce ingredients, too often are overshadowed. A mixture of chopped pecans, cold turkey of chicken, hard cooked eggs and mayonnaise makes a delicious addition to the luncheon table but this is in the nature of a main dish and should not be considered a source of vitamin B and C.

Strictly speaking, salads should give the impression of vivid color, crispness, juiciness and absolute freshness. Lettuce, when it has been given the proper care, is the embodiment of these points and well deserves its place as the usual foundation.

Other raw greens for the salad course include endive, chickory watercress and romaine. Cooked salad greens, such as dandelion, spinach and the tender young leaves of mustard and the tender young leaves of spinach. Raw carrot, add a vivid note of color to the various shades of green. These may be used alone or in combination with other materials but no matter how they are used, they are flavorful and rich in mineral and vitamin content.

There is a clearly marked difference in salads. The true salad is composed chiefly of uncooked fruits and vegetables. When other materials are used, the dish answers two purposes and furnishes food value in terms of calories as well vitamin and mineral content.

Much of the success of every salad depends on its dressing. The dressing must not be so highly seasoned that it overpowers the flavor of the salad materials. Rather, it should serve blend contrasting flavors and add pleasant zest to the meal.

Sometimes extra ingredients are added to the dressing as in the case of the following horseradish dressing. This dressing is particularly good with celery, carrot and applesalad, although any bland vegetable gains interest if served with the dressing.

Thousands of Sheep Killed By Dogs

A summary of the county as a whole, states Mr. Page, commenting on these losses, puts the county loss through sheep killed by dogs and through injury and worry to other sheep in the flock at approximately $20,000 annually. These losses summed up, appeared so serious that at the final meeting of the County Council for this year a special committee was appointed to

Men Voters In Quebec Scored

Apathy of Male Electorate Is Deplored by Mrs. Pierre Casgrain in Montreal Address.

MONTREAL, Jan. 10.—Indifference of men voters in Quebec provincial elections as revealed by the low percentage of registration on voters' lists was deplored by Mrs. Pierre Casgrain, president of the League of Women's Rights of the Province of Quebec, in an address on "The Advantages of Woman Suffrage."

It had been charged that women of the Province of Quebec did not want the vote, Mrs. Casgrain said. It now was evident that the men did not want the vote either. Such a condition of affairs could scarcely be worse if women of this province were given the right to exercise the franchise. It would undoubtedly be much better, she affirmed.

Political indifference, when it existed, the speaker said, was the curse of democracy, which in this province must lead to unsound results. A means of combatting this indifference was to give the vote to women, who as mothers, would be able to develop a sense of responsibility in their concern toward the state and thus bring them up better citizens.

"It is not to be thought that women will lose their charm because they take an active interest in politics," said the speaker. "They would not change because they voted once every four or five years," she declared. As for being liable to give too much time to political affairs and not enough to the home, was it not better that women should take an interest in politics rather than give their time to bridge, tea parties and similar social events? Mrs. Casgrain asked.

CRAFTON GETS THREE

Fever Gets First Tally of Season; Whole Team Figured in Victory Over Port Perry Intermediates; Last Night; New Men Good

—By J. W. M.—

With "Ike" Elsrik playing a superb game between the gas-pipes for the locals, Lindsay Victorias scored their first shut-out of the season when they applied the kalsomine to the visiting Port Perry team by a 4 to 0 score, in a game which teemed with action especially in the last two periods, at the Lindsay Street log rink wing on the forward line, rink last night. Jack Crafton, playalthough a left-hand shot, was the scoring hero of the contest, making three tallies within six minutes of each other in the first period, when he took a perfect pass from "Buster" Martin and again from Cliff Rich to score two counters on backhanded shots and "Hec" MacIntosh says, "vice-versus" shots, and the other one came from a scramble in front of the nets. Playing a fine defensive game all locals, secured his first tally in the last period when he rushed to relieve the pressure and beat Goalie Elsrik with a shot from quite a piece out.

Were All Good

While there was no outstanding star the rest a little for their scoring the whole team worked like Trojans and it was a pretty game to watch, and abetted by one DeShane, Port Perry goalie, who handled a lot that looked like sure goals to make them look like mistakes. The forward line of Martin and Cliff Rich were working in on the Port Perry citadel time after time but could not get them when they let them go. Jack Dames on the wing had several nice chances and made something look like penned as the last moment to rob him of his tally. "Buffer" Reeves on the defence worked hard and was strong defensively but on the rushes he seemed to be bothered by his skates, and even then missed several by close margins. Lou Scott was the ice for the first time in two years, showed that he has lost none of his old-handling cunning and was working hard at the finals. For the losers Jack Sleighthorn, at centre was hard worker and Raines and Naples on the defence rushed dangerously, while DeShane in the net turned aside many that were labelled "goal." Clarence Vandervoort, of Oshawa, made an almost ideal referee and the game was exceptionally clean with only two penalties both going to Lindsay, one for Rich and one for Fever, for accidental trips.

The Line-ups

The teams lined up: Port Perry, centre, J. Sleighthorn; wings, E. Sleighthorn and Naples; defence, G. Raines and A. Brock goal, N. DeShane; subs, L. Switzer, D. Sleighthorn and W. Lindsay; centre, C. Martin; wings, J. Dames and C. Rich; defence, E. Reeves and H. Fever; goal, "Ike" Elsrik; subs, H. D. Wilford, J. Crafton, R. Forbert and C. Golden.

Thirty-Minute Quick Goals

Play opened slowly with both teams feeling one another out. Then Lindsay started to work up but Jack Sleighthorn at centre shot-hooked the attacks up before they got started with nice poke-checking. Rich and Dames broke in on another shot at DeShane but he saved both. Then Port Perry began to press and "Ike" Elsrik, playing them safe, handled everything that came along, and both defencemen were rushing well to clear. The only thing wild about the Parkers on it, came on and were working in for shots, but it was not until the regulars came back out that they formed any threat when both DeShane and Martin passed out to the waiting Crafton, who backhanded it into the corner, but this the first counter was scored.

Then about a minute later the same trio went down again and this time Crafton gaffled the boot-heel from a scramble and slammed it into the twine for the second score. Play popped up a little at this and "Ike" was called upon to make some nice saves, and "Buster" and Rich had on their pair also some nice shots. With sixteen minutes gone Jack Crafton came in again to score on another perfect pass from Rich. This ended the scoring in the first canto.

No Score

Coming out for the second, the Port Perry squad looked like they had upon to do plenty of work and "Ike" was kept hopping in the net. Lindsay was out for a time kept worked up in their own blue-line area. The visitors were working in for re-bounds but "Ike" was playing unerring and he was not to be diverted any time was the attack around, clearing to the side. "Buffer" Reeves made some nice rushes but had hard luck on his shots.

Best Period

It is not known exactly what the Port Perry coach had to do to them before they came on for the third period but it must have been plenty for they came out with a fixed determination to get on the scoring and took no little persuasion by means of Lindsay rushes, and even a Lindsay goal, to show them that they could not do it. The visitors played four men all the time and were buzzing around the net like a hive of hornets, but Lindsay was clearing nicely, and "Ike" handled everything that came his way. The Parker forward lines were going good and once again had tough luck on their shots. Port Perry kept right in there and would not give up, but the only goals just were not for them and but until the end of the period Lindsay fans were just on edge, but the local team were equal to the task, and the game ended 4-0 for Lindsay.

DECISION IS UNPOPULAR AS LEN HARVEY FLOORS DUNDEE IN 8TH ROUND

Madison Square Garden, New York, Jan. 10—Len Harvey, slim blue-eyed middle-weight champion of old England, bounced tough young Vince Dundee off the canvas twice tonight in his first appearance in the United States, but lost a hairline decision after 12 bitter rounds.

A crowd of 10,000, one of the largest of the indoor season, booed the unanimous decision of referee Jack Demsling and two judges, and seemed to most of the ringside critics that the margin of victory

T. Eaton Co. Donate Vics' New Uniforms

LAST NIGHT THE Victorias, Lindsay's intermediate team, wore their new outfits, for the first time in the game with Port Perry, and the fans an eyeful of "what the well-dressed hockey player will wear," this year. True to the custom of all the local managements, who have never decorated the "old ladies and Mary," when the Midgets of 1909 were when they won the championship, the colors in this year's uniforms are blue and white. Solid blue sweaters with white bands on the arms, with "Vics" written on the chest in white letters and big white numerals on the back, they are finished off with blue stocking banded by white, and both combine to make a most pleasing combination. The Vics this year are indebted to the T. Eaton Company, who donated them, through the good offices of Mr. Ramsay of the C.D.S., free of charge. The action of the company is much appreciated by the local management and team, and it helps them greatly in their operating expenses.

Midgets Make It Four Straight

Taking the trips to Penelon Falls last night the black and white clad Midgets, Lindsay's entry in the Junior O.H.A. race made it four straight when they took the Cataract Town "kids" into camp by a 4-to-3 score in a game which would have been faster with keener ice. The locals played nice hockey the complete route and everyone figured in the victory with no one taking a more prominent part than the others. The Midgets have had a good start on their season with these wins, and if they just keep in there playing hockey they will get some place. And with Coley managing them they will show every tendency to do this and while it's a long ways off, they might end up their season with an unbroken record of wins.

Favors Schmeling Bout

"Pa" Stribling has already declared that he will fight Schmeling in Chicago and prefers Lewis as the promoter. The Schmeling interests however, are bound to the Heurst-Wirtz Pund promoters of the sentimental and contractual ties.

The Milk Pund would like to promote Jack Sharkey-Schmeling match which has been banned in New York, either in Chicago without the state, or in Cleveland, Detroit or Philadelphia.

What Sharkey Says

BOSTON, Jan. 10—Jack Sharkey, Boston heavyweight, today verbally agreed to battle "Young" Stribling in New York, next month, for Madison Square Garden's championship, but promise to meet the Southerner was given during a conference between Sharkey Manager Jack Hurley and William F. Carey, head of the New York sports palace.

Carey left the lads straighten out the muddled heavyweight situation, Buckley also agreed to accompany Stribling to the first conference with Hearst Milk Pund promoters, failed to develop any satisfactory agreement. W. L's father-managerbrother, Jimmy Stribling, said something that was suspiciously like a "bluff," and it was understood that a week would be developed over conditions of the title bout.

If any, rested with the pleasing young newcomer.

The Associated Press score card gave Harvey six rounds, Dundee five, with one even. Harvey weighed 164 1-2, Dundee 159.

Harvey, a cobbler, he worked and a master at close quarters with a left hook to the head and body, beat Dundee to the punch all but loes many points for nesting chilling with the back of the hand. As his right were do, the dogged owner, brother of the former welterweight champion, gradually wor his way inside where his short-arm body punches, and nailed him repeatedly with the old "one-two"—a left jab and quick right zeros to the chin.

Little Damage Done

Aside from a bleeding nose that started in the second round and colored Harvey's face the rest of the way, there was little serious damage after the first round. Harvey was shaken by rights to the chin in the third and fourth rounds and Dundee wobbled again for a moment under another left hook to the head in the seventh.

Dave Shade, veteran New York middleweight, scored a technical knockout over Joe Anderson of Cohoes, N.Y., in a ten-round semi-final staged after the main bout.

Heavyweight Muddle Very Mysterious

Stribling's Father In Jacob's Power?; Ballyhoo Begins To Build Up Rumors

STRIBLING-SCHMELING

NEW YORK, Jan. 10—The heavyweight muddle took on all the elements of the first act of a mystery thriller today with harassed sports writers in the roles of the detectives searching for the corpus delicti, or at least a member.

"Pa" Stribling, head of the family that bosses W. L. Stribling as its boxing member, arrived in New York, flashed across the stage, and immediately disappeared. Midgets Take Their Fourth Straight Win

Soft Ice Slows Game In First Period; Second And Third Fast; Combination And Checking Good.

FOUR STRAIGHT WINS

Midgets Forced To Top Speed To Pull Through With Win As Home Skaters Proved Dangerous.

(BY R.J.B.)

And one makes four! Four straight wins for the Lindsay Midgets since the beginning of the schedule that began one week ago last night. Winning their second fixture from the Penelon Falls juniors in a scheduled O.H.A. game last evening, after three hard-fought periods by a score of four to three keeps the local kids at the top of their group with a comfort margin to the good.

With soft ice that slowed both teams up in the first stanza, play opened up in the second and third, with the forwards working hard to score, and the defense and goalies doing their bit to keep the score down. On the whole, the game was well worth seeing, with good combining work and clever stick-handling a feature of both teams' play.

First Period

From the beginning of the game, both the visiting and home town teams had difficulty in getting going, with practically no combination used on account of the heavy ice, and plenty of tripping that netted the offenders the minimum penalty. On solo efforts, the puck was carried to the blue line several times, and the shots from same were easily handled by the net-guardians. After 18 minutes of slow draggy hockey of the type expected on such a surface from the crowd, unless it is an occational "boo," Spratt, one of the regular forward line of the Midgets stick-handled his way down right wing, and after eluding the defence, shot a low, fast one into the corner of the Cataract Town's net, that gave Jewell very little chance to save.

The remainder of the period was spent in half-hearted rushes that got the puck-carriers nowhere, and with the exception of a scramble in front of the nets that developed no thrill for the spectators, or work for the goalies.

Second Period

Taking the puck at the face-off, Spratt carried the scoring in the second frame, when he slid another shot past Jewell, for his second counter, four minutes after play began in the second period. From then on, both teams seemed to get the "feel" of the ice and their legs, and the fans were given better hockey than has been until the end of the game.

The diminutive 15-year-old forward line of Fenelon Falls was good enough to threaten, displaying the strength of the team with the regulars off, effectively checking the local kids, and playing good combination when the occasion demanded it.

Fifteen minutes of the period had gone when Mills, Lindsay centre, worked his way through the defense to the net, and shot a hard one past him to one side flipped the rubber in to the far corner of the net with a back-hand stick-handling effort. Fenelon Falls repeated Mills performance one minute later and scored the home town's first goal.

Six minutes later Hugh Johnson, speedy left winger for Fenelon Falls broke through the defense, and let a hard knee-high shot that left a trail of smoke behind, beat Stephens for the second time in the period.

Third Period

One goal down, the Falls Kids opened the third period with hockey that kept Lindsay working all the time, both the attack and defense passing and checking of the home town with that equality as good. Time and again, wing men were given opportunities to pepper the goalies with hard shots that demanded everything they had to save.

Solo rushes that up to this point in the game were ineffective, became dangerous, with players of both teams stick-checking like wizards, and combined rushes that took accurate checking and bodying on the part of the defence to break up.

Mills for Lindsay netted the first tally of the period when he received a pass outside the blue-line and skirting the defense, worked in close to Jewell, and repeated his performance of beating him with a shot into the corner. Fountain, alternate centre for the "hosts" ended the scoring of the game six minutes later, when unassisted,

ATTACK OF WINNERS COMPLETELY BAFFLES KITCHENER SQUAD; TIED FOR LEADERSHIP

HAMILTON, Jan. 10.—Displaying an attack that completely bewildered their opponents, Hamilton's O.H. A. senior squad turned back Jake Forbes' Kitchener team here last night by a score of 10 to 2 and went into a tie with Port Colborne for the group lead with 4 points. From early in the opening session until the final whistle sounded, the Hamilton team baffled after shot on the Kitchener citadel, and although Shirk was far from being the best net-minder seen here this season, it would have taken a smart guardian to turn aside the majority of shots that came his way.

It was in the middle frame that Hamilton showed the most class, and they established what is believed to be a record for scoring at the local ice palace when Usey scored on six occasions

Hamilton—Goal, March; defense, McKay and Farrell; centre, McEwen; wings, Lynch and Hayhoe; subs, Kane, Worthy and Schwab.

Kitchener—Goal, F. Shirk; defence, Price and Reinhart; centre, Roth; wings, Molson and A. Shirk; subs, Feilbaum, Dunbrook and Schmidt.

Referee—Tommy Munro, London.

Windsor To Be Canadian Hollywood

May Employ 500

Occupancy by the Canadian producing company, a name for which has not yet been definitely selected, will begin April 1, and soon after that date the company will begin work on the first of 12 films which it already has instructions to produce, it is said.

The belief of the men who sponsor the movement, according to Marion, is that the company will start operations with a staff of at least 500 employees.

The decision of the New York motion picture producers to enter the producing field in Canada, it is explained, is due to a provision of the British tariff which places a quota regulation on American films entering the United Kingdom, the provision being that for each six films which a company in the United States is allowed to bring into Great Britain, it must bring in one produced on British soil.

The purpose of the new organization is to meet this requirement, for a number of the major firms in the United States, each one of which, according to the plan, will receive its British quota of films from the Windsor concern.

Truth Upside

The Oshawa Motors supply truck turned over in a snow bank yesterday on the slippery road near Mr. John C. Murchison's farm this side of Glenarm. The wrecking derrick from Kelly and Smith's garage was summoned and brought the truck into Fenelon Falls for repairs.

Live Stock Market

TORONTO, Jan. 10—Cattle receipts for sale at the Union Stock Yards this week totalled 4,952 head. The supply was of general good quality, and was fairly evenly distributed over the first three marketdays. Trading was brisk, and daily arrivals were cleared out at firm prices. Nothing was received on Thursday. Prices showed a little higher on choice cattle, but the quality was considered to be better than that offered last week. Compared to choice weighty steers sold at $7.25 to $7.75, with a small lot at $7.80 a cwt. Handy butchers ranged from $6.75 to $7.25, according to quality. Fed calves were from $8 to $10, with two at $10.50. Good butcher cows sold at $4.75 to $5.25, with some fat lookers at $5.50. Bulls were firm at $4.50 to $5.50 for butchers, with some of the best taken for export in the week.

Store-cattle trade was quiet, with prices ranging from $5 to $5.75 for odd lots of fair-quality stockers. Milkers and springers continued dull at around $90 for extreme tops. Exporters slipped a few loads of slaughter cattle for Antwerp.

The heavy snowfalls of the early part of the week will probably improve the water situation in the country. Reports are agreed that cattle on feed are in unusually good condition.

T. Calves

Calf receipts were 1,622 head. Trade was weak from the opening and by Wednesday a dollar decline had been recorded on veal calves. Choice-quality vealers closed at $10.50 to $11.50, with plain downward to $9, and good light grassers sold at $4 to $5 a cwt.

Hogs

Hogs totalled 3,241 head for sale, with 600 Western hogs fed on route to outside packing plants. The market opening was down 50 cents, at $9 f.o.b. for bacons, or at $10 weiged off cars. Packers' bids were lower for the balance of the week, but the market held firm at the opening price. Truck hogs sold mostly at $9.50 for bacons. Selects brought $10.25 and $10.50 per head premium. Heavies were sold at a $3.50 per head. discount, with extra heavies $7.50 a cwt. below bacons.

Sheep and Lambs

Sheep and lamb receipts were 1,779 head. Lambs were strong from the opening, with early sales at $9.50 to $9.75 for good ewes and wethers. Wednesday's bulk was at $10 with some at $9.75. Culls and bucks brought $7.50 to $8, and some heavy lambs were weighed out at $8 to $8.50. A lot of outstanding lambs topped the market at $10.35 a cwt. Sheep were strong at $4.50 to $5.50 a cwt. for good, light ewes, with culls mostly at $3 to $3.50.

In addition, there were 133 cattle, 609 hogs and 10 lambs billed through.

May Solve The Noise Problem

McGill University Professor Works On Plans For a Greater But Quieter Montreal.

MONTREAL, Jan. 10—Visions of a perfect night's sleep, undisturbed by wide honks and shrill bells clanks for city dwellers are being raised at McGill University by Prof. H. Reiher.

His plans call for a survey during the summer months of Greater Montreal, observations to be made at important intersections of city streets and at other designated places in order to accurately measure the amount of noise and to see what proportion of it is unnecessary.

Citizens, under the plans drawn up, would be canvassed by form letters in which a series of questions would enable factual and honest answers, designed within the past two years, and the answers to queries to citizens would be incorporated in a report. Any public who would then be asked to cooperate in a drive to reduce noise.

The racket in all large cities is literally driving people "crazy," according to Prof. Reiher, who states that noise is a fruitful cause of agitated factor in causing nervous breakdowns and a host of other nervous troubles.

"Gringo Privateer"

By Peter B. Kyne

SYNOPSIS

Kenneth Burney, adventurer and ne'er-do-well gentleman, comes to Brad ley Bardin, king of the cattle country, for a job. Burney has had a fight with Martin Bruce a rival cattle owner who has been stealing the King's stock, aided by Miguel Gallegos a Mexican bandit. The King, liking young Burney, makes him general manager of the ranch, on condition that he put Bruce and Gallegos out of the way. Burney meets Bruce, who has sworn to kill him. They both draw their guns, but Burney outwits the wily old cattle thief.

Meanwhile Muriel Bardin, beautiful daughter, of the King, becomes more interested in Burney than she cares to admit. She tries to persuade her father not to let Burney tackle the cattle thieves. But Burney continues to lay his plans for the battle that is sure to come.

"Well, angels couldn't do more. You're right, it will be worth a great deal to me to have you put this job over, as I'll tell you what I'll do. Your father's ranch will run a cow to every fifteen acres—three thousand head—without overgrazing. I'll stock the ranch for you with two thousand head of hell ers that will be two years old next spring. They'll be good, smooth, grade Herefords. In addition I'll put in a hundred and fifty purebred Hereford bulls and twenty head of well-broken saddle stock. I'll bill this livestock to you at a fair market value, based on present prices, and take your promissory note for five years, at five per cent, secured by the livestock.

"You should have eighty per cent calf crops and I agree with you that the cattle business, due to the extraordinary shortage of cattle not only in this country but all over the world, is due to come back with a bang. We shall have very high prices and they should continue for many years. Within five years you should be able to repay me and own three thousand head without a dollar's indebtedness on them. For operating expenses I suppose your father would be willing to place a first mortgage on the ranch for you. It's worth half a million dollars—if you could sell it, which isn't an easy job nowadays."

"I expect to lease the ranch from my father, of course, as soon as the lease of the present tenant has expired. Your Majesty, but, unfortunately, the ranch is already mortgaged! I'm afraid I'll have to ask you to loan me fifty thousand dollars for operating capital. If you'll do that the deal is made."

"By the bones of Moses, I thought you were going to ask me to give it to you. Har! Har-har! Har! Very well, son. I'll furnish the operating capital at five per cent, but I'll not furnish it all at once. No, sir. Only as you need it, and I'm to have access to your books at all reasonable times and my representative is to have the privilege of looking over your operations with a view to deciding whether you're operating like a fool or a wise man. If I think your methods will lead to ruin you must agree to pursue my methods anything except the vital necessity of getting this important job done It's a task old Tom isn't quite up to. He has a strong religious streak in him. On the round-up he sits around the fire every night and plays hymns on the harmonica. He's a Quaker and it's a strain on his gentle nature to spur a horse."

"I will remember your solicitude for his welfare, sir. By the way, where do I sleep tonight?"

"I thought Art Graydon had a spare room in his house, but it seems his sister-in-law is visiting him. So I've had a cot put in the ranch office for you. By the way, just before you turn in tack this notice on the bulletin board that hangs on the wall outside of the office entrance," and the king handed his new general manager a sheet with some typewriting on it. Ken Burney read:

July 4th, 19—

To all employees of Al Ranchito:

On and after this date Mr. Kenneth Burney will be the general manager of this ranch. He speak for Mr. Burney the same loyal cooperation you have hitherto accorded his predecessor, Mr. Graydon whose services in the employ of this company have earned him promotion.

Bardin Land and Cattle Co.,
By Bradley Bardin, President.

"Any further orders, sir?" he queried.

"None. I fire general managers to whom I have to issue orders. Good night, Ken."

"Good night, sir." He moved off the porch and the gloom swallowed him.

"Well, King," a sweet voice spoke from a distant corner of the veranda. "It looks to me as if you have a bearcat by the tail."

It looks that way, Muriel. I'll be hanged if I know what to make of that fellow. One minute he's so lower than dust day any excuse for my existence as general manager of El Ranchito vanishes and I'll be handed down the road, leaving you to the tender mercies of Martin Bruce and Miguel Gallegos."

"Right you are," the king admitted. "I admire you for sticking up for your rights, although at the same time I'd like to give you a cuff on the ear. You're too infernally touchy for a Johnny-come-lately. Let me put it this way: It would please me very much, Mr. Burney, if you would, in your wisdom, condescend to give poor old Tom Bledsoe a raise of twenty-five dollars a month."

"I shall be most happy to oblige my kind, generous and indulgent boss, but I must remind you that until I discover whether Tom Bledsoe is worth the raise or not he'll not get it. He may be dead timber, for all you know, and if he is, I'm going to hire a new riding boss and you can transfer Mr. Bledsoe to your dead timber department."

"Well, I could promote him to general manager of a little ranch that any fairly efficient cattleman could run," the king admitted. "But be kind to old Tom. He's sound timber; he's been faithful and true and I wouldn't hurt his feelings for

Assistance To The Deaf Child

Oral Method Produces Gratifying Results With Deaf Pupils at Belleville.

OTTAWA, Ont., Jan. 9—(By Canadian Press)—No finer demonstration of the rapid advance which has been made in the care and treatment of deaf children can be found than at the Ontario School for the Deaf at Belleville" says The Ottawa Journal. "No sign of sadness, no sense of handicap or futility is to be found amongst these children, and despite the fact that 90 per cent of them cannot hear a single word, they carry on animated conversations, play games, sing and dance just the same as other little ones who have no such handicap."

Refeyring to the Christmas entertainment put on by deaf children at the school The Journal says it was one of the most thoroughly enjoyable Christmas pantomimes that could be imagined. "It was a night of romance to which the friends of the school came as spectators and left with amazement in their minds over the accomplishments of the children who are so handicapped by their inability to hear." The Journal continues. "The chief marvel of this performance was that the children neither hear each other's voices nor the sounds of the music to which they dance, and which is heard by the audience."

Further the Journal says: "Their wonderful work is explained by the use of whith the oral method is put, eliminating the sign language which used to mark off the deaf scholer from all others. Their precision of movement in rhime is explained by their observation of vibrations which they received from the floor on which the piano is placed. Only 10 feet from the piano they caught these vibrations perfectly in all their dance numbers. Instructors stated that it would be almost impossible for those blessed with good hearing to carry on with such accuracy, but the deaf, both adults and children, develop with proper training such as they receive at the school almost superhuman powers of observation and concentration."

BOBCAYGEON, Jan. 12. (Staff Correspondent)—On Saturday afternoon Mr. Ken Junkin tied his horse in the Rockland House sheds and in some manner the halter became unfastened. The horse broke away, running down through Boyd's woods and out on the ice, circling the big island, coming up the far side of the river and headed for the Fenelon Road. Mr. Wm. T. A. Mills Dies

Mr. T. A. Mills passed away shortly after six o'clock on Sunday evening. The deceased man had been very ill for 17 weeks and suffered a great deal. Mr. Mills was principal of the Bobcaygeon Public School for some years. Funeral notice later.

Special Service

The evening service at the Trinity United Church was one of great interest when Rev. Ralph Wilson, a missionary from Angola Africa, who is home on furlough, gave a very interesting and instructive address. He spoke of the missionary work being done by the Currie Institute among the Portugees.

Mr. Wilson had a wonderful map just finished in 1930 showing the great Africa. He told how the natives work for 10c a day and the 15 is the highest wages paid. They are very primitive, working being done on the land mostly with a hoe.

He told that at the Currie Institute the work was being done under four heads, namely: Religious instruction, school work which is conducted by Rev. Ralph Wilson; Industrial work including masonry, blacksmithing, carpentry and other occupations, and agricultural department.

Rev. Geo. Simpson, B.A., of North Verulam, also assisted in the service.

Abraham Cragg, Phillip Morgan and Miss Minnie Tresidder, Respected Citizens Die.

ALL ARE WELL KNOWN

Three prominent and highly-respected Lindsay people have died in the past few days. One funeral was held yesterday, another took place this afternoon and the third is being held tomorrow.

ABRAHAM CRAGG

Yesterday the death occurred of one of Lindsay's oldest and most respected citizens in the person of Abraham Frederick Cragg, who was in his seventy-third year. Living in this district almost all his life, Mr. Cragg moved to town fourteen years later and was here engaged in the insurance business up until the time of his death. Born in 1858 at Greenbank, the son of David Cragg and Mary Bassingwaithe, both of England, he grew to young manhood in that district, and then married and moved to Cambray where he was a successful farmer. Fourteen years ago he moved to town, and entered the insurance business, which he carried on until the time of his death. In religion the deceased man was a presbyterian and an elder of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church. He is survived by his wife; two sons John, of Saskatchewan, and Earl, at home, five daughters, Nellie, at home, Mrs. C. B. Stanton, Mrs. N. A. Babcock and Mrs. Burke, all of Toronto, and Ruth, of Virginia, one brother and two sisters.

PHILLIP MORGAN

With the passing of Phillip Morgan, in Guelph, in his 65th year, another of Lindsay's pioneer business men is gone. A life-long resident of the town, he has been for many years in business on Kent Street. Born in Lindsay, the son of Jacob Morgan and Sarah Phillips, he was by profession, a chemist, and his hobby was the care of plants and flowers and all things pertaining to nature. In religion, a Presbyterian, he was a member of the choir of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church for more than 30 years. He was a member of the Masonic Chapter, Faithful Brethren 9. Left to cherish the memory of a loving husband and a kind father, are his sorrowing wife, two daughters, Phyllis, of North Bay, and Mrs. R. Young, of Toronto; one sister, Mrs. McCrimmon, Toronto, and one brother, Reuben, of Lindsay.

MINNIE TRESIDDER

Yesterday the funeral was held of Minnie Tresidder, sister of W. B. Tresidder, of Lindsay. Born in Port Perry, the daughter of James Tresidder, of England, and Ellen Sloan of Ireland, she spent her girlhood

Thief, Chased Across Ice, Gives Up As Guns Are Fired

Had Tired of Rough Clothes So Stole Apparel Suitable to His State of Unemployment

FROM COTTAGES

BEAVERTON, Jan. 12—A thief's taste in clothes came near securing his escape from police authorities in time in connection with the breaking and entering of five Beaverton cottages.

Johnny McKeral, Indian boy from Snake Island, Gaston, had decided that rubber boots and overalls were hardly the apparel befitting that state of leisured gentility unanimity ment was forcing upon him. Accordingly the lad made his way to the cottages on the Lake Dimmond at Beaverton. One after another, he tried. In one he got food, in another drink. He came to Edward Howe's cottage and found a suit of clothes that just fitted and other habiliments in dresser drawers. He soon said good-bye to his new-tramp character and assumed the role of gentleman.

Indian Seer Predicts Better Times In 1931

The signs for 1931 point toward slightly better financial conditions than last year, but not, however, before six months or more. This statement by Prince Ismail, who last year gave a forecast of 1930 which was amazingly prophetic, would seem to be more encouraging. In 1930 Prince Ismail predicted bank troubles and gang warfare in the United States and England's trouble with India. In 1931 Southern France, Germany and Spain are destined for unrest and strife, while Italy lends to become sounder financially. There will be trouble near the Suez and the Red Sea, and there is an indication of war in the Balkans. So far as trade is concerned things will begin to pick up after the second of April, when a "total eclipse of the moon occurs in 13 degrees of Libra." This indicated "a period of great trade activity."

TRAPPED IN TUNNEL, MEN ARE UNHURT

30 MEN TRAPPED IN WATER TUNNEL, EMERGE LITTLE THE WORSE FOR 30 HOURS' ORDEAL.

Oakland, Cal., Jan. 12.—Crawling through a tunnel dug through tons of rock, earth, steel and timber by their comrades, 20 men entombed in the Hetch-Hetchy coast range tunnel came to the surface early yesterday showing little evidence of their 30-hour ordeal.

All were in good spirits and although tired and hungry, none was known to have suffered. Trapped last night when supporting timbers gave way 800 feet under ground allowing debris to clog the tunnel, the men probably owed their lives to the action of Welchy Morgan 38-year-old nonsleman.

When the slave-in started, Morgan dragged a 30-foot length of fourinch pipe beneath the falling rocks although he was twice knocked down before reaching safety. All was supplied the imprisoned men through the pipe as well as small quantities of food.

FLIERS MAY BE LOST IN THE OCEAN

MRS. HART AND LIEUT. MACARTHUR ARE LONG OVERDUE AND FEARS ARE HELD FOR THEIR SAFETY.

HORTA, Island of Fayal Azores, Jan. 12—The storm-swept Atlantic was believed here today to have claimed the lives of two more transoceanic fliers. There was still some hope for the safety of Mrs. Beryl Hart, 27-year-old red-headed widow and Lieut. William S. MacLaren, who left Bermuda Saturday noon for Horta in their monoplane "Tradewind," but in the passing hours it dimmed fast. They were flying the first "pay-load" across the Atlantic

TOSSED UP TO DECIDE ON ROBBERY

Peterboro Pair Admit Brutal Robbery—Let Free Once And Tossed Coin To Decide.

Peterboro, Jan. 12.—Gordon Dundas and Carl Smith walked into the prisoners' box at police court on Saturday morning and pleaded guilty to the charge to having robbed with violence O. W. Johnston, an aged Smith township farmer, at his home on the Chemong Road. Both were remanded until Friday for sentence.

Dundas was brought back Friday afternoon from Cobourg, where he was serving 15 days in jail for drunkenness, by Detective William Meagher and Provincial Constable David Sylvester. His right eye was rimmed with a noticeable black and blue bruise. The police say he was given the injury by Chief Constable Murphy of Port Hope on Wednesday night, when he tried to resist arrest. Fred Todd, aged 30, an Otonabee farmer, is also implicated in the hold-up, the police say, and he faced the charge Saturday morning of robbery with violence. He pleaded guilty and was remanded until Friday.

At his own request, Carl Smith was brought down from the jail to join the pleas of not guilty he had entered.

The police say that Smith and Dundas had planned the robbery account of the crime. Smith said that last September he and Dundas had chance to have had planned to rob the old man over the head with a hammer and take his money. They walked out as far as Johnston's gate where they halted to decide who was to strike the blow.

"We tossed a coin to see who hit him," Smith told the police. "I lost but I wouldn't do it. I told Dundas I wasn't going to kill the old man. Dundas said he'd do it himself, but he didn't, and we walked back again."

Curtailed C.N.R. Train Service On Whitby-Lindsay Line Begins

Curtailment of service on the Whitby-Lindsay and Whitby-Orono-Port Hope divisions of the Canadian National Railways goes into effect to-morrow. This new schedule formerly operated by the railways and as a result of the change mail going to many municipalities on the line will be handled by truck. Points going to the Whitby High School will be conveyed to and from the school by bus.

Protests against the change were made by Whitby, Port Perry, Oshawa, Sharkville and other municipalities on the lines. However, after reviewing the case the board of railway commissioners upheld the railways action, on the ground that the road was not paying its way.

Strict Economy As Well As Getting Industries Is Aim Of Mayor Samuel Alcorn

Council Meeting Is Held This Morning For Election of Committees

GO AFTER INDUSTRIES

Suggest Raise in Pay For Night Constable Hodgson To Show Their Appreciation

At the first meeting of the 1931 town council this morning at 11 o'clock, Mayor Samuel Alcorn's inaugural address was given an enthusiastic reception, committee chairmen were chosen and Alderman (Dr.) J. A. White gave notice of his intentions of asking that Night Constable Alfred Hodgson's excellent work be given recognition in a tangible way by the council. The council will meet again to-night at eight o'clock.

Chairmen were chosen as follows:

Finance and Assessment, J. B. Begg.

Town Property, W. J. Hussey.

Board of Works, F. Armstrong.

Parks, E. N. Mitchell.

Industrial, R. I. Moore.

With the exception of Alderman Frank Armstrong, who is indisposed, all the members of the council were present for this meeting, and a number of citizens including a couple of ex-mayors heard the business.

Following the reading of the mayor's address, Reeve Moore and Alderman White congratulated Mr. Alcorn and lauded the various paragraphs of his address be referred to the appropriate standing committees. Referring to what Mayor Alcorn said about lowering tax rate to attract new industries here, Dr. White suggested that as low power rates are also attractive to industries, something in this direction might be done.

Following the election of the committee chairmen, there was a brief discussion on ways of drawing industries to town.

Dr. J. A. White, chairman of the police committee, notified the council that at the next meeting of the committee he purposed recommending that Constable Hodgson be given a raise in wages to show the council's appreciation for the excel-

Fifteen Years Ago Today

Taken from The Post files of Jan. 12th, 1916

Last evening at the armouries, the first of a series of boxing matches being staged by the 109th was held. The boys entered into the competitions with a spirit of zest that was thoroughly commendable nine bouts took place. Both officers and men competed.

Bobcaygeon—We have been wondering how it was that the Minister of Militia (Sir Sam Hughes) gave this burg the go-by, and after discussing it in stores and on street corners, the universal opinion is that Sir Sam knew we would do our duty without the stimulating influence of his bodily presence. Some day he will visit us and stay all day, and when the weather is warmer, wear his knee trousers (blue aren't they?) and his lavender silk stockings, and red cape, and all the other paraphernalia of his knighthood, and how he would thrill the county will turn green with envy.

Peterboro Examiner—The weather began to exasperate the old thing that was needed to make to-night's Lindsay Junior-Electric Coll. C.H.A. game the classic of the year. The game to start at 8.30, at the Brock Street rink, will be'tandled by Lou E. Marsh, of Toronto.

Thieving has become a common practice in Bobcaygeon. Whilst for some time have been missed from buggies in the sheds, while the owners did their shopping, and now dogs are beginning to disappear. Several dogs have been taken away in the past few weeks, and only one has been returned, and that one broke away apparently.

Urge Control of Radio

Both types of radio fan, those who detest the advertising they claim spoils the programs and the others who get a secret delight out of listening to this "barker" method of boosting produce, should be interested in the war that has been declared by the members of the Canadian Radio League who want the Federal Government to control radio broadcasting in Canada and, to some measure, eliminate direct advertising and foreign propoganda.

There is no doubt but that enjoyable radio programs are spoiled to a large extent by the advertising, and this is what the Canadian Radio League wants to eliminate so the radio can enjoy to the full the power it should have as an educational and entertaining agent.

While, as in every argument and discussion, there are two sides to the question, it seems that radio owners would benefit by joining up with the Canadian Radio League in demanding Government-controlled radio stations. Some may disagree, of course, and they have every right to their opinion and to express it.

Naturally the Canadian movement would not have any effect on the amount of advertising that reaches Canada from United States stations, but the idea is that Canadian stations can be made so enjoyable that fans will promptly tune in on these stations in preference to some of the pancake boosters on the other side.

Last week the Canadian Radio League approached Hon. Arthur Duranleau, Minister of Marine, and said that the majority of Canadian radio owners desired "a national radio broadcasting company, sponsored by the Federal Government, which would own, operate and control a number of powerful broadcasting stations throughout the Dominion." Mr. Duranleau assured them that the Government had been studying this matter, appreciating the importance of the problem and being resolved to protect Canada from the effects of foreign advertising and foreign propaganda.

It was suggested that such a company should be administered by a directorate of 12 persons, voluntarily employed, who would be drawn from industrial, educational, amusement and other circles. Distributed through Canada, according to the plan suggested by the Radio League, would be six 50-kilowatt broadcasting stations that would reach into every section of the Dominion, thus neutralizing to some extent the virtual monopoly enjoyed by the higher-powered and more numerous stations at present operating in the United States.

* * * * *

The resolution recently passed by the Canadian Radio League was:

"Whereas the present advertising basis of Canadian broadcasting does not permit the fullest development of the radio, and whereas Canadian stations are largely under the control of financial resources to the numerous high-powered American stations covering Canada, and whereas whole sections of the Canadian people cannot hear Canadian programmes, and whereas Canadian business interests and Canadian listeners suffer from too much direct aggertising, and whereas radio tends to become a party political and to too vast an instrument for the control of public opinion to be administered irresponsibly or used mainly for advertising: therefore be it resolved that this meeting hereby constitute the Canadian Radio League to advocate:

"1. The operation of radio broadcasting in Canada as a national public service.

"2. The appointment of a Canadian radio broadcasting company with the powers of a private enterprise and the responsibility of a public utility;

"3. The appointment of an independent national directorate to administer the company, free from political and other interference.

"4. The use of broadcasting to develop Canadian orchestras and choirs, Canadian dramatic and other entertainment for school broadcasts and adult education for chain hook-ups, the interchange of provincial broadcast sand for other national purposes;

"5. The use of a national system for Canadian advertisers on a competitive basis for sponsored programmes only;

"6. The relaying of selected programmes from British, American, European and other systems by the Canadian Radio Broadcasting Company."

* * * * *

For revenue, it was suggested, the company should handle indirect advertising, but the League disapproved of direct advertising.

And speaking of radios and revenue, it might be well to remember that the Government expects every radio owner to pay one dollar a year, the money to be used in clearing up interference, etc. The inspectors will be around soon, and those who have not secured licences will be fined. There is no leniency because it is a first offence. Christmas radios are not exempt, either, for the few months left of the radio-license year.

Bright Prospects Ahead

By the time this is in print, Lindsay's new town council will have been sworn in and the work planned for the coming year. Disregarding other policies, there is one that Mayor Samuel Aleorn announced in his inaugural address that should have the appeal to the electors, and that is the one concerning the need for strictest economy in all civic departments.

Reasonable more especially in both town and county councils in the past year than for years past has been the trend to cut down on expenses as much as possible. The tax rate is rising and the people's representatives have been concerned chiefly with keeping it down and yet going ahead at a moderate rate.

Besides for its desire to economize, the 1931 council should have the electors' support in its announced intention of going out in search of new industries. With the recent tariff changes has come the opportunity of getting more industries. Factories from England and the United States are coming to Canada to escape the high tariff, and as municipalities all around here are announcing new factories employing local men there is no reason that Lindsay shouldn't join the ranks of those benefitting from the change.

With the co-operation of all the members of the council to carry out Mayor Aleorn's proposed line of work, 1931 can be made a big year in Lindsay's history.

INTEND WAGING CAMPAIGN

(Toronto Globe)

Judge Warner and Major Bradshaw of the Juvenile Court in London announce that they intend waging a vigorous campaign against admission to the country of United States magazines featuring stories of gangland and crime. This sort of literature, they find, is responsible for boys being brought into the court.

Their efforts should be backed by every citizen who wishes to keep this country on a high moral plane. As a matter of fact, it is incomprehensible that the proper authorities have not been alert to the menace and eliminated it without urging.

NATURALIZING WRONG ALIENS

(Montreal Herald)

A problem of considerable magnitude, and one which ultimately may make or break this country, is wrapped up in the question of naturalization. The position as presented is this:

1. Numerous aliens who are avowed Communists, and who are working under orders of the Second International at Moscow, are obtaining naturalization papers, giving them all the rights and privileges of British citizenship, including the right to vote, while their avowed object is to overthrow British institutions.

2. Numerous aliens of good character and sound ideals who would make ideal Canadian citizens, are living on from year to year as aliens, without the right to vote, and no effort whatever is being made to get them to take out naturalization papers, because 98 percent. of naturalization fees is the full weight of their character and energy with the people of the country which is sustaining and supporting them.

That Body of Yours

LESSENING THE AMOUNT OF HEART DISEASE

With heart disease standing at the top of the list as a cause of death you may wonder why the medical profession has not been able to fight it more successfully.

As a matter of fact heart disease doesn't start in the heart in the beginning. The heart is a wonderful organ working day and night and able to do its work against all sorts of handicaps.

What really happens is that trouble starts elsewhere in the body, in the teeth, tonsils, large intestine, or from an acute ailment like scarlet fever or rheumatism and the blood containing the germs causes of this infection, or carrying the material these organisms manufacture, reaches the heart and inflammation starts.

As you know wherever there is an inflammation there often results fibrous or scar tissue such as follows a burn, and this scar tissue, forming around the valves of the heart, prevents them from closing properly and a "leakage" occurs.

Often the inflammation affects the entire heart muscle instead of the inside lining and the heart loses its power to squeeze the blood out into the circulation.

In former days heart disease was often not discovered by the individual applied for life insurance and was usually rejected.

Now that the cause of heart disease is known steps are taken to prevent it and so heart clinics are being established in various cities and preventive work is started with the children.

Dr. F. Rosenblom of the Children's Heart Clinic, Chicago, emphasizes the necessity of early examination of children from birth and after all acute infections. As heart disease occurs with, and immediately following such ailments as scarlet fever and tonsilitis, every child should be carefully examined before he is let out of bed.

The second important preventive measure is keeping the child in bed and quiet after an illness. As you know, as soon as a youngster is over the acute condition of any ailment he wants to get up and around, and out to play with the other young sters. This getting up and around, too soon after any ailment, is a cause of a large proportion of the cases of heart disease. This is a lesson for all adults also.

The third point to be emphasized is the early and complete removal of diseased tonsils and adenoids or other points of infection in children showing any heart involvement.

The third point he emphasizes is the early and complete removal of diseased tonsils and adenoids or other points of infection in children, showing any heart involvement.

These heart clinics should save many lives and prolong many others.

Obituary

The death of Mr. Caleb Bark, born in Mariposa Township, took place in Northern Saskatchewan recently. The papers of that district said:

Funeral of Mr. Caleb Mark

"The funeral of Mr. Caleb Mark, who died December 1st, aged 76 years, was held in St. John's Church, on Thursday, December 4, the officiating clergymen being the Rev. Canon Cross. The local Orange Lodge attended in good numbers, and from their members provided pallbearers. Mr. Mark was probably the oldest Orangeman in Northern Saskatchewan having been initiated into the order 54 years ago. Mrs. Cross presided at the organ and played "O rest in the Lord" during the recitation of the opening sentences. The hymns "Jesu, lover of my soul," "Nearer my God to Thee" and "Peace, perfect peace" were sung. The rector delivered a suitable address and the service closed with the playing of the "Dead March." The brethren attended at the graveside and at the close of the church service the full Orange ritual was used. Mr. C. Dunaway had charge of the funeral arrangements."

Death of Mr. Caleb Mark

On Monday evening about 6.45 o'clock, Mr. Caleb Mark peacefully fell asleep at his home just north of town. He had been poorly for some time, but it was not thought the end was so near; however, he had reached the good old age of 76 years. He leaves to mourn his loss, his wife and two sons; two brothers (Mr. Samuel Mark, of Edgerton, and Mr. Gideon Phillip Mark, of Carrol River); and a sister in the old home near Little Britain, Victoria County, Ontario. The funeral will be held on (Friday) next day, at 2.30 p.m., from the Anglican Church. Mr. Mark was born in Mariposa Township.

WHAT A WORLD OF GRIEF IT SAVES YOU!

WE KNOW a seed house that proves each season's crop of seeds in their own trial gardens before they offer them to the public. Flowers and vegetables grown from these seeds must measure up to definite standards, or else the entire crops from which the samples were taken are burned.

We know a manufacturer of dry batteries who tested a new product two years before he sold a single battery to a single dealer.

We know a manufacturer of an anti-freeze solution for automobile radiators who spent two years testing his product under all conditions before he said a word in advertising about the merits of his goods.

We know a manufacturer of household pharmaceutical products whose self-imposed standard of purity and efficacy is even higher than that laid down by the United States Pharmacopaeia and the National Formulary.

If we mentioned their names you would recognize them immediately. You probably would say, "I plant those seeds," "I use that battery," "I use that anti-freeze," "My medicine cabinet contains those products."

The four instances cited are typical of every reliable manufacturer in America. Millions of dollars are spent annually to develop, to improve, to standardize, and to take the guesswork out of merchandise. Other millions of dollars are spent in advertising to tell you about them.

All of which is to say that in putting your trust in advertised merchandise you save yourself the bother, the expense, the disappointment—yes the danger—of experimenting and discovering for yourself which make of soap, breakfast food, radio tubes, lingerie, gasoline, tea, electrical device, stationery—or what-not—gives you the most service for your money.

The news columns of this paper keep you informed of the latest international, national and local happenings. The advertisements keep you informed of the newest, most advantageous, most reliable merchandise that America's most progressive makers are producing.

AMUSEMENTS

THRILLING NEW DIX SHOW WILL OPEN TONIGHT

Richard Dix, ever-popular screen star, will be seen in a new type of characterization in "Shooting Straight," Radio's Pictures' all-talking drama which opens today at the Academy theatre. The role is that of a two-fisted gambler whose regeneration is achieved after a series of thrilling and dramatic occurrences.

Dix as played practically every type of role during his notable screen career, and recently has proved himself to be a most capable farcer in light comedy parts. But in "shooting Straight" he is brought back in a powerful, dramatic and red-blood ed role that has been hailed by audiences and critics as one of his greatest of characterizations.

"Shooting Straight" is adapted from an original story by Bartley Barecky. Filled full of action movement and suspense, it is perfectly suited to the talkin gscreen, for J. Walter Ruben has supplied powerful dialogue treatment. Director George Archambaud, veteran of the silent screen and one of the most competent directors in the new medium, has received high praise from metropolitan critics for his work.

Dix is given a new leading woman in the production—Marion Shilling, brilliant blonde actress from the Broadway stage. The two are said to form a most effective combination.

"Shooting Straight" boasts an unusually capable cast of supporting players, headed by Matthew Betz, Robert Emmett O'Connor, George Cooper and William Janney.

The story concerns the re-birth of a big city gambler, with the theme handled in a novel and original manner. "Shooting Straight" promised to prove most popular with local audiences during its showing here.

Two on First

Starting off on their usual style, Williams scored two on the first end after forcing Langdon to play two bullet shots in an effort to tie down the end. Langdon came back on the second with a one-but the rink seemed to go to pieces on the third end and Williams had little trouble in chalking up a three on the net end. Both rinks settled down for the long grind and from then on the leads on both sides were playing a great game and were giving their skips plenty of support.

Nice Draw Shots

After scoring a two on the fourth end Langdon built up a fine end on the fifth and was lying two when Frank came to play his last rock. He elected to draw the shot and succeeded in it as if it was hand placed. Langdon was forced to play a fast one but failed. On the sixth Langdon again succeeded in making up a fine end only to have the opposing skip come down with a perfect raise to the button, cutting Langdon out of three shots. The seventh end was a wide open affair with only two rocks in the circles and a couple out in front. Williams laid one on the button and was guarded it perfectly, scoring another one.

All In Rings

In contrast to the last end the eighth was all the closest in the rings when the skips came to play their shots. It was a beautiful end to watch, and the crew gallery that followed the game were treated to some fine curling. Williams was lying shot perfectly guarded with three guards. Langdon was again forced to play a fast one, but Lady Luck was not with him, and no breaks were coming his way. Number nine saw a repetition of the former one, but things to change on the tenth. Williams got lucky to chalk up one, after Bill missed his last shot in an attempt to get a four end. However the change came into effect on the eleventh, and Langdon touched the chalk for the first time since the second end scoring one.

Makes Tour

With the game won the final twelfth did not produce the close competition of former ends. Williams did not have a stone in the rings until he put his first rock in, but Bill promptly took it out and was lying four. It resembled that way, as Frank was slightly heavy with his last effort in an attempt to draw the shot. The rinks were: James Laidlaw, Fred. Hall, J. G. Baldwin, William Langdon, Sk. C. H. Dayman, W. Bentley, F. Williams, L. E. Williams, Sk.

L. Williams Midgets Play Here, Vics Go To Markham

Wins Patron President

F. Williams, Regular Vice-Skip Pilots Rink To Eight Point Win on Saturday

DRAW GAME

Score by Ends

Williams	...	2x3	211	112	1xx	—14
Langdon	...	x1x	xxx	xxx	x14—	8

Playing a perfect draw game, and forcing Langdon to resort to the "Western" style of playing, L. Williams' rink, skipped by his vice-skip, F. Williams overcame the last obstacle in the Patron-President Banquet challenger for it. F. Williams has been in charge of the rink all during the Spiel, and with C. Beall as vice the quartette have played their way to the top of one of the main events of the Curling season in town. The Langdon rink was not outclassed, as much as the score would indicate, but they made the Williams rink work and work hard for all they got.

Midgets Face Stiff Opposition When They Take on Fenelon Falls Juniors In Third Meeting of Season at Lindsay Street Rink Tonight.

EXPECT GOOD CROWD

Victorias Make Trip To Markham Where They Will Meet The Team That Handed Them Their Only Defeat Of Season So Far.

After that double victory for the local teams on Friday night, both of them, the Midgets and Victorias, will be facing tough games tonight, when the Midgets take on the Fenelon Falls crew here, and the Victorias journey to Markham to face what will probably be the toughest game of their schedule this year, when they meet the team that has beaten them this season. Both squads have been coming fast, the Midgets with four straight wins, and the Victorias with two victories in their last two scheduled starts, so the games should be good. The local rink should be packed when the Midgets take the ice, for another of those torrid tilts for which this junior group is becoming famous.

Should Be Close

Playing for their fifth straight win of the current season it will be a determined bunch of boys who take the ice wearing the black and white of Lindsay's junior team tonight. Fenelon Falls will be fighting desperately to get back into the win column, and the teams from the Colborne Town have always been noted for boring in and never accepting defeat until the final bell is tolled. Their "kid" line will be on hand tonight and if they don't give Lindsay fans some tense moments it will certainly be a surprise. The local forwards, The locals are in the proverbial pink, just ravin' to go, and from the goal-ie on down to the last man, each of the visitors go back home with a win marked down for them. Those fans who slide the required amount across the counter and take their seat in the rink will see Lindsay starting with Stephens in goal; Bruce and Bigley on defence; Mellows Mills, Spratt and Gersler, on the front division; and Growden, Campbell, Simons and Paul Campbell as alternates and any fan who does miss this fixture will be passing up a real game.

Play In Markham

While the juniors are strutting their stuff here for home fans, the Victorias will be putting their best foot forward to drag out a win from the tricky Markham squad who administered their only first defeat of the season, here in the opening game on January 3rd. Markham has a team that plays nice hockey and it will keep the locals moving to pull out a victory. With both "Granny" Williams and Charlie Piercey absent, they are weakened somewhat but from the showing they made on Friday night, the aggregation they have assembled will work well together and seem to be just as well-balanced as the other.

Whichever way the score reads at the end it will be some game. The Victorias will face Captain Eberts in goal; Bowers and Reeves on defence; Martin, Rich and Cotton on the forward line; and Golden, Forbert, Danner and Weaver as alternates. They will be leaving by motor from the Benson House, about 5.30 this afternoon.

...ENGINEER IS RELEASED

PORT COLBORNE, Jan. 12—By a split vote of five to three the Port Colborne council at its special session passed a motion dispensing with the services of Town Engineer T. S. Scott. Council. by Minor resolved that he was of the opinion that the town could save money by releasing the engineer and getting a cheaper one.

Rubber Horseshoes Trophy Has Arrived

—Lindsay, Jan. 12.

NOW THAT THE beautiful House of Hobbies Trophy, donated by that company to local rubber horseshoe clubs, through the good offices of Harry E. White, inspector for Hobberlin agencies, has arrived an even great impetus will be given to that game to down, and it is expected to grow even more than it has in the past few weeks when clubs, following the lead of the original ones established at the Benson House and J. S. Isaac's Garage some time ago, are being rapidly formed. This trophy which arrived on Saturday and is now on display at the Hotel Benson, is a large and beautiful cup, and every club will have a chance to challenger for it. It will be a challenge cup and can be challenged for as soon after won as is convenient to both teams. The first game for the "mug" will be on Friday night when the Benson House team meet Jim Isaac's crew in the Grill Room, starting at seven o'clock. Several men high up in the Canadian and provincial term shoe-pitching ranks will be added to the club soon, and Fire Chief H. McCallum will be the official referee. Anyone is welcome and remember any team of from four to twelve men can challenge the winners, for the possession of the cup.

Canadiens Take Five Point Win

Toronto Loses Lead To the Frenchmen in Dazzling Display; Conacher Scores

DEFENCE WEAK

MONTREAL, Jan. 12.—Those flying Frenchmen literally flew Saturday night to beat the Toronto Maple Leafs 6 to 1 and regain first place in the International section of the N.H.L. Canadiens dazzled the Leafs with blinding speed and gave one of the most brilliant performances they have shown this season. Scoring the first goal of the game in the opening minute of play, the locals launched a slashing attack that was a pleasure to watch, and they matched their bewildering speed with a passing game that was practically flawless, back-checking that made the Toronto players dizzy and shooting that was rarely wide of the target.

Five Men Up

Good as the Canadiens undoubtedly were, the Leafs exceeded them all the way. The final score is not a true indication of the difference in the teams. On the play, the score should have been about 3 to 1 in the final period when Canadiens were leading by that margin, the Toronto players, in an effort to whittle down the handicap, threw caution to the winds and used a four and, frequently, a five-man attack to break down the stone-wall like defense which Canadiens had previously presented. The Leafs would have accomplished their purpose too, had their shooting been anything but the most erratic kind. They hammered Canadiens on the home team's end of the rink with startling thrusts at the net but their shots were high, wide and disconcertingly distant from the objective. It was the most exciting kind of hockey and thrilled a crowd of Forum fans. Canadiens simply could not shut and would not be beaten. The winners' last three goals were scored when the locals managed to break away with the puck catching Toronto players clustered about the Montrealers' net. From their own blue line to the Toronto end of the rink, the only player to present an obstacle in their way was Goalkeeper Lorne Chabot. He was kept on in him and stickhandled the puck right into the Toronto cage. When the last two goals were scored, the Leafs had five forwards on the ice and Clancy, Day and Horner, defence players, were in the dressing room removing their skates.

How the Victorias' H. C. Raffle Came Out

—Lindsay, Jan. 12.

IN A STATEMENT prepared by Al Perry, secretary of the club, and R. G. Lamb, treasurer; a detailed account of how the Victorias came out on their raffle has been given. There were 821 tickets sold, expenses including prizes, printing of tickets and commission on sales amounted to $83.33, leaving the net proceeds at $188.25. The prizes were: A chesterfield won by Vernon Powers; walnut chest won by Lloyd Fee; blanket won by F. C. Nugent. A peculiar feature of the draw was that every prize-winner was a man, not one of the fairer sex scored a prize. Winners of prizes are asked to make an appearance as soon as possible at Al Perry's office, and get the warrants for their prizes. The proceeds this year were more than satisfactory to the executive of the intermediate club, and as one of them said this morning, "We certainly are thankful to the people for the support they are giving the club and hope that it continues. The method of running a raffle this year is away ahead of the one of going around begging money as we have in the past and we made more on it into the bargain."

ART. GRAYDON

SYNOPSIS

Kenneth Burney, adventurer and one-time gambler, comes to Bradley Bardin, King of the cattle country, for a job. Burney has had a fight with Martin Bruce, a rival cattle owner who has been stealing the King's stock, aided by Miguel Gallegos, a Mexican bandit. The King, liking young Burney, makes him general manager of the ranch on condition that he put Bruce and Gallegos out of the way. Burney meets Bruce, who has sworn to kill him. They both draw their guns, but Burney outwits the wily old cattle thief.

Meanwhile Muriel Bardin, beautiful daughter of the King, becomes more interested in Burney than she cares to admit. She tries to persuade her father not to let Burney tackle the cattle thieves. But Burney continues to lay his plans for the battle that is sure to come.

CHAPTER 14

"You been here listening to our conversation?" her father demanded.

"Of course I have. It's dull around here, I tell you, and I like to listen to that man talk. He certainly had something to say to you. I loved that dig he gave you about a son-in-law."

"Why, you don't suppose he meant anything, do you, Muriel?"

"You never can tell what brave thoughts a man like that has in his funny mind." And again the girl laughed teasingly.

"Well, I don't know much about him," the King admitted, but as a son-in-law I'd take him on suspicion in contrast with that bunch of ukulele-playing, wise-cracking kids of gilded nincompoops in your social set. There isn't one of them with sense enough to—to—talk a calf."

"It has not been at all unusual for Mr. Graydon to be invited here for dinner, Pop," Muriel reminded him. "Are you going to make a social outcast of your new general manager?"

"Art Graydon is a married man and an old, valued and trusted employee for whom I have a certain affection. I wouldn't slight that man for a train-load of fat steers. But I cannot say that for Burney. Perhaps, when he has been in my service as long as Graydon has and has—"

"Gotten married," she prompted, "you'll invite him in dinner?"

"That's the milk in the coconut, my dear."

"Oh, it is, is it? Now, look here, old settler. Who is the general manager of the social department of the Bardin family?"

"Why—why, we are. I guess. Since your mother passed away—"

"Mother always accompanied you to El Ranchito and she always invited Mr. and Mrs. Graydon to dinner. You never invited him up in your life.

"But the invitation always came with better grace from your mother."

"I will come with equal grace from me now. You'll have to have the Graydons up for dinner before they leave El Ranchito, will you not?"

"It would be an equal courtesy to invite the new general manager, also, so. You can't leave him sitting there in the office or eating alone at the Grayden table. That would be grave discourtesy."

"You're developing too much interest in Long-nose all of a sudden."

"Well, I'll not have you butting in on the rights of the general manager of your social department, Brad Bardin, because the day you do, any excuse for my further existence as the Bardin hostess will vanish and I'll be tossed down the aisle with one of those ukulele-playing, wise-cracking, gilded young nincompoops in my social set."

"This," said the King, "is treason."

"If this be treason, make the most of it," she challenged. "You've introduced me to the realism man I've ever met, and now you plan to keep me away from him. Haven't I any rights?"

"This is all wrong," the king blustered. "If you please, Muriel, we'll not discuss the subject further. You may invite him if you please. I shall offer no objection and shall make him welcome. But I warn you: he will not accept the invitation."

"Why?"

"Because he's as wise as a tree-full of owls and knows his place. He knows I'd fire him if he accepted. It would be presuming on brief acquaintance. But as guest of the general manager he'll feel he's stepped up a bit in the social world."

"I'm afraid you're right," said the king. "Muriel, your interested in this boy?"

"Are you?"

"Certainly."

"Well?"

"If you're not seriously interested, of course—"

"I am seriously interested—sufficiently so, at any rate, to do my best to prevent him from coming in my rainier nice hands in human blood."

"I'm all worn out," the king growled, and immediately rose and went to bed. In the realization that his daughter had eavesdropped on him he was profoundly irritated and disturbed. In a word, he felt like a dog caught sucking eggs.

El Ranchito had its own lighting system and a 110-cuatle-power light burned over the entrance to the ranch office. Ken Burney search of Muriel's desk until he found a package of thumb tacks, whereupon he went outside and posted on the bulletin board the formal notice of his appointment as general manager. After which, he retired to Art Graydon's private office, sat down on the cot prepared there and drew off his boots. For a long time he sat there, considering the various aspects of the abrupt about-face which life had executed for him within the past four days, when there came a peremptory knock at the outer entrance. Ken padded across in his bare feet and found Tom Bledsoe standing in the entrance.

"Come in, Mr. Bledsoe," he invited the riding boss cheerfully. "Evening, not calling a visit from you, but not quite so soon. I figured we'd have a conference in the morning, but since it's the mere shank of the evening now we'll fry at it."

Bledsoe came in and sat down on Graydon's disk. "I was settin' in front o' the bunkhouse, Mr. Burney, when I saw there come into the office there I saw there come in and tack somethin' on the bulletin board, so I drifted over to read what they had tacked there. Then I made up my mind to call."

"And present to me your resignation as riding boss, eh? You make up your mind quick," Tom Bledsoe answered.

"And I dispose of your resignation just as quickly, Bledsoe. It's rejected. You're too good a man to leave the king's service and too old a man to go prowling around the sovereign state of New Mexico looking for another job. I doubt if you would find one as good as the one you walk in resign, and certainly you'll not find one with any decent future to it. So my orders to you are to withhold your resignation for about sixty days." By this time I will have completed my tour of service as general manager and you can come over and tack a notice of your own on that bulletin board, however, I believe in thrift, and if you insist on resigning, I suppose I'll have to get a new riding boss, but I warn you that, once you're out, you'll stay out."

Tom Bledsoe's dour face commenced to slip. Slowly a glad smile lighted the foul lair; enough to know that he never explains. He sets. And

I will lend them each man. Mr. Burney, and I will go with them—for war or demonstration. It is not sinful to protect that which is mine."

Burney stared at the man. Whose head I cut his door I sang, eh?"

Tom Bledsoe nodded. He was of the old school of cowmen. His employer's joys, sorrows and perplexities were his own.

"You can go right down into El Capeo Bonito and clean out this Bruce-Gallegos faction, Mr. Bledsoe?"

"I tell them so. It would have been my first act as general manager."

"How fortunate you and I have so quickly gotten to an understanding, Mr. Bledsoe."

"Your general manager calls me Tom, Mr. Burney."

Tom grasped his. "Where can you find me thirty good men and true?"

Tom said he thirty-ten men Mr. Burney. Got 'em?"

I understand. Gracias, no, not a dozen remaining openly loyal, that he merely looks dangerous. Do you know that he and his men have stolen my calves?"

"Yes."

"How do you know?"

I can't prove it, but I find calves on our ranges with the ends of their tongues cut an wearin' the triangle B brand.

Mrs. W. Flavelle In Car Accident

Snow-covered roads, making for treacherous wheeling are blamed for an accidents on the Lindsay-Peterboro highway when, in the neighbourhood of eleven o'clock this morning, the large sedan driven by Mrs. W. Flavelle, of town, in which she and her husband were going to Peterboro skidded into the ditch on the left side of the road, turned a complete somersault, and came to rest facing back towards Lindsay with the four wheels in the air. The accident occurred just as the car was coming down the last big hill going into Omemee.

No one was seriously hurt although both were shaken up. The car which sustained considerable damage was brought in early this afternoon by Arnold's tow truck. On the car both doors on the right side were partly sprung, the front fender was dinged, the glass was broken out of both windows and the right part of the windshield broken. The top was broken in badly where it is thought the car somersaulted, when it turned in the left ditch.

Mayor's Address Given This Morning

keep the merchant's overhead from increasing by keeping down taxation. Also as we all wish the town to grow, industries must be induced to settle here, and the first consideration of a prospective manufacturer to locate is the tax rate, and the liabilities of the town which he may be called upon to share if he decides to carry on his business in Lindsay. We must realize, therefore, that we have a problem to solve—, an increasing mandatory expenditure, and if possible a lowering of the tax rate.

Education Rates High

"The debt of Lindsay now stands at the high figure of $1,089,000, of this $1,002,000 is debenture debt, including debts of Water Commission and Hydro Commission. The 1930 tax roll is $920,961 and the rate is 43.75 mills, almost 50 percent. of this is expended on education.

"So much depends on the application and effort taken in his department by each chairman of the various committees to get the best value possible for the town in work and material, just as if the work was being done for himself. Those employed can be of much assistance in this respect by giving honest return for money paid them. By hearty co-operation all round I am of opinion a great deal can be done to solve the problem.

"The taxes of the people are levied for purposes clearly defined by law, and it is embarrassing for any Council to be approached with request for grants for which the people have no right to be taxed. It might be well, therefore, at an early stage to summon a public meeting and avoid what might appear to be discrimination, should grants of this class be refused for later on. The very high figure at which arrears of taxes now stands seems to indicate that some better method of collecting should be adopted. It is not good policy to add to the indebtedness of the town and at the same time allow the arrears of taxes to reach such a high figure. An improvement might be made in the method of issuing debentures, and in the expenditure of the proceeds of these a distinction should be observed between what is spent on permanent improvements and current outlay.

"A very important field of endeavour is open before us in trying to have industries established here. The present policy of the Provincial Government has caused many concerns in the United States to decide to establish their factories in Canada in order to hold their Canadian trade. Soon as possible I think the Council should give attention to formulating some plan to bring Lindsay into the running to obtain industries, and not only to form a plan, but to put it energetically and immediately into operation. Not only are these valuable industrial businesses to be sought after in the United States and in the British Isles, but also in Canada. We have a fine agricultural country round Lindsay which is capable of producing unlimited supplies for canning factories. In districts east of us towns are benefiting by such, and growing the vegetables required by them is a source of profit to the farming population. The output of canning factories as well as that of other factories will be stimulated by the new tariffs, and it seems to me well worth while to make Lindsay prominent as a suitable place for these and other industries. One industry will induce others to come, and those we have now are directing the attention of similar enterprises to our town.

"Our parks have been well looked after. Our streets are well furnished with beautiful shade trees which have caused their branches in such a way as to obscure the street lights in some places. Citizens have acted on this cause in front of their residences, but this has not been done to any extent. As the symmetry of trees is spoiled by overcrowding, perhaps the Parks Committee would take into consideration to arrange with the property owners for co-operation in thinning out carefully and judicially the trees where required, and by so doing improve the landscape aspect, as well as contribute to healthier conditions of the residents. By this procedure also considerable fuel could be made available during the winter months for people who are in need.

"In conclusion allow me to say that we have been elected by the people of Lindsay by a decisive ballot to manage their municipal affairs. I take upon myself to assure the inhabitants of Lindsay we will do our best. They, too, can assist the Council by a helpful attitude and an interest in the matters we may put forth to improve conditions."

jent work he has done.

On the suggestion of Deputy-Reeve Begg, Magistrate C. A. Jordan was asked to speak.

Magistrate C. A. Jordan thanked the council for the assistance given the police department last year and expressed the hope that this would continue. He congratulated Mr. Ahern on his election to the Mayor's Chair and recalled the days, many years ago, when he and Mr. Begg sat together in the council.

Mayor Ahern thanked Magistrate Jordan for his kind words and said that Lindsay should be proud of the way law and order is enforced in Lindsay.

Following the meeting, First Deputy-Reeve J. B. Begg, in conversation with The Post, said that this was the first council meeting he had taken any part in since he occupied the mayor's chair 20 years ago. At that time he was mayor and Magistrate G. A. Jordan was reeve.

Those present were Mayor S. Ahern, Reeve R. I. Moore, Deputy-Reeves J. B. Begg and W. J. Hurley and Aldermen H. B. Black, E. N. Mitchell, R. Pogue, G. A. Weeks, J. G. Wenman and Dr. J. A. White.

UNEMPLOYMENT RELIEF TO CONTINUE

Lindsay's Jobless To Get Work

Caroline Street Sewer and Sewage Disposal Plant Construction To Be Started

PLANS ARE READY

One of the last matters dealt with at the town council meeting last night certainly proved to be not the least important, judging from the concern showed by many of those present. Arrangements were made to go ahead with the unemployment relief work that came to an end so suddenly in December when the money allotted for work on the roads was all spent.

The councillors showed an earnest desire to get the work started again as soon as possible and it is likely that this will be done as the plans are ready and only a few documents have to be signed until Lindsay's unemployed pick up their shovels and set out with their lunch buckets once more.

The final arrangements before work starts on the sewer on Caroline Street were left in the hands of Mayor S. Alcorn and Alderman E. N. Mitchell, chairman of the Board of Works. This is not a very big job but should provide labor for a number of men.

The most important job, the construction of a sewage disposal plant, is also nearly ready to start. The plans have been approved of and final details were left with Mayor Alcorn and Mr. Mitchell.

Many of the men present at the meeting were chiefly concerned with the resuming of unemployment relief work, and thus greeted the council's announcement with joy.

Needy War Veteran Has Officers' Respect

Was Let Out On Suspended Sentence This Morning; Hope To Get Pension For Him

HIGHLY RECOMMENDED

This morning Richard Westover, of Somerville township, the much-decorated veteran of the Great War, in whose interests Lt. Col. R. I. Moore is attempting to interest the Pensions Board and Christie Street Hospital, was released on one year's suspended sentence for his part in breaking up the "horse-power" in Somerville some time ago by Magistrate Jordan in police court. Mr. Moore said that he had received no word from the Pensions Board as yet but that he was most optimistic concerning the case as the man Westover seemed to have been a man of sterling character as evidenced by two entirely unsolicited letters sent to him, concerning Westover, by two of the officers of the old 52nd., with which Westover, spent his four year "over there."

Speaks Of Ailment

One of the letters from a former officer who noticed the story in the morning papers reads in part: "I remember Westover quite well and am sorry to learn of his present difficulties. He had excellent service with the 52nd battalion in France—suffering many hardships and exposure to gas on several occasions. Although he suffered frequently

Ontario Secretary Is Giving Address To Clubs In Lindsay

—Lindsay, Jan. 13.

THE HON. Leopold Macaulay Provincial Secretary, was in town today and, early this afternoon delivered an inspiring address at a joint meeting of Rotary and Kiwanis Clubs. Lindsay has a certain claim on this young cabinet minister of 43 summers. Although he was born in Peterboro he moved with his family to Lindsay when he was a child, and he obtained part of his education in local schools before his family moved to Toronto.

Cobourg Is Awakened By Gun Fight Between Autos

Car Speeding Through Night And Spitting Guns Startle District Near Cobourg.

CHASE IS IN VAIN.

COBOURG, Jan. 13—Two big black automobiles, streaking through the dark along the provincial highway near Cobourg, spitting bullets in a fierce gun fight between their unknown occupants, vanished into the night near that village early this morning and left the countryside in an uproar.

Called from their beds by excited farmers who had been aroused by volley after volley of shots, and the roar of the speeding motors, Provincial Constables Davey and Kidd set out in pursuit from Cobourg, aided by a posse of short constables and citizens scoured the entire district, patrolled sideroads and stopped all vehicles on the roads in an endeavor—fruitless up to 1 a.m. —to capture the armed parties

Reported Westbound

Who the men were and what was at stake in the desperate running gun fight the police cannot guess at. Inspector Lougheed at Belleville knew nothing at 1 a.m., except that all his men were out in the hunt. The suggestion that bootleggers were involved was advanced, but it was only a theory. No previous similar case of open warfare in the usually peaceful countryside hereabouts is on record.

The two autos were westbound, farmers asserted, and flashed by at such a rate that only a vague description of the vehicles could be obtained.

Government Steps In When Move To Stop Strike Fails

MANCHESTER, Eng., Jan 13. GOVERNMENT intervention in textile industry in which 25,000 men have been locked out by mill owners began today with the arrival of F. W. Meantime executives representing mill owners were meeting in another part of the town. Some sort of compromise was being hoped for. The dispute is over the ab-

E.N. Mitchell Is New Chairman Of Board Of Works Of Town

H. V. Mercer New Board of Health Member; Others Are Reappointed

SIX BY-LAWS PASSED

The most interest for many years in any town council meeting that had forth no promise of "purple pyrotechnics," as one exchange calls the bickering that sometimes takes place when town fathers get together, was shown by citizens last night when they turned out in large numbers to witness the first business meeting of the town council.

Besides the passing of six routine by-laws, a change was made in the appointment of committee chairmen making Alderman E. N. Mitchell chairman of the Board of Works, and Alderman Frank Aresteno chairman of the parks and grounds committees.

Correspondence was considered and appointments of various standing committees and other routine business was transacted. One letter read from Mr. H. Bell, local superintendent the C.N.R., who asked that the town erect signs on the approaches of the railroad crossing near the corner of Lindsay and Durham Streets. This was left with the Board of Works to investigate and report to the committee meeting next Monday.

The decision of the council to back up any request that comes from the part of the Water Board and Health Board to better Lindsay's water supply, concluded a fair-sized agenda for the first meeting.

By-Laws Passed

The following by-laws were passed.

By-law 1880, to authorize the borrowing of money, up to $100,000, to meet the current, ordinary expenditures of the corporation for 1931 until the taxes are collected.

By-law 1881, to authorize the borrowing of money up to $50,000 required by the board of education for the year 1931.

By-law 1882, to provide for the borrowing of money to pay for certain local improvements made or to be made by local improvement. The money must not exceed the estimated cost of the work and must not be used for any other purposes.

By-law 1883, to appoint A. E. Gregory as the council's representative on the Board of Education.

By-law 1884, to appoint Messrs. Mitchell Muleshey, Newton Smale and H. V. Mercer as three members of the Lindsay Board of Health.

Mayor S. Alcorn and Dr. F. Blanchard, M.O.H., are ex-officio, the other two members.

By-law 1888, to appoint Mr. W. E. Rector as the council's representative on the Lindsay Public Library Board.

The council will call for tenders before passing a by-law to appoint the assessor of the town.

Wants Water

Alderman C. A. Weeks spoke briefly regarding the water and Dr. White said that while it may be fit for human consumption it isn't fit for cooking purposes. Reeve Moore suggested that these men approach the Board of Water Commissioners informing them that the councillors have gone on record that they want better water in the interests of the town.

A motion was passed to the effect that the council will stand behind the Water Board and Health Board in anything reasonable they want to do to better the town water.

Heads Board of Works

Alderman Frank Armstrong who was reappointed chairman of the Board of Works as the morning meeting, sent in his resignation saying that it was impossible for him to act on account of illness. While the council felt that his resignation would mean a big loss to the town there was nothing to do but accede to his request.

Alderman E. N. Mitchell was the unanimous choice of the council as the new chairman of the Board of Works and Mr. Armstrong was chosen to fill the chairmanship of the lighter committee of parks and grounds.

I.O.D.E. Also Mentions Essay Contest For Which Three Ladies Scholarships Are Giving Prizes.

The Kawartha Chapter, Daughters of the Empire, held their monthly for January yesterday. In the absence of the Regent, Mrs. R. M. Beal, Mrs. G.H.M. Baker, presided. The secretary's and treasurer's reports were given.

The Daughters of the Empire are serving light refreshments to the mothers who attend the baby clinic on the different Thursday afternoons during the month of January.

The Educational Secretary, Mrs. G. F. Blackwell reported that the sending of Christmas cards to boys placed on farms in this vicinity by the Rotary Club, the placing of I.O.D.E. patriotic calendars in each of the schools in town, and mentioned the confederation prize that is to be given by the three Women's Organizations in town, out of the money made from the pageant, to the public school child who has the best essay on "My Favorite Canadian Poet."

Nomination of officers then took place, and the meeting closed with the singing of the national anthem.

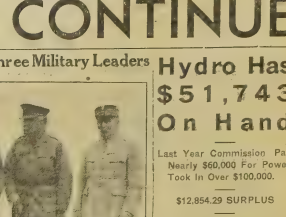
Best Seller

LONDON, Jan. 13—(By The Canadian Press)—Lord Beaverbrook that perhaps the "best seller" as a present this season has been Sir James Jeans' "The Mysterious Universe," for people seem to be almost frantic in the mood for serious literature. Winston Churchill's account of his early life is also very popular. Siegfried Sassoon's "Memoirs of a Fox-Hunting Man," and Professor G. M. Trevelyan's "Good Companions," and "Angel Pavement" appear to hold first place in more serious work of this kind.

Kingston Autoists Tuning Up Their Motors To Make Work

KINGSTON, Jan. 13—The winter's first fall of snow threatened to seal up garages and other storage places where cars have been laid up for the winter, but in spite of this a good number have been brought out again to undergo spring tuning-up. The Kingston Automobile Dealers' Association has hit upon an excellent idea for the relief of unemployment in their particular industry and they are receiving the support of the public in their efforts. By having a car serviced now, work is provided, pay-rolls are kept intact and the automobile workmen are kept earning and independent instead of becoming a burden on the city. The owner of the car simply advances his work from the busy spring works to the present winter season and does not spend one cent of extra money. There is still a real need for many cars to be put in for servicing immediately.

King Outlives Three Military Leaders



The above interesting photograph has just come to light. It was taken "somewhere on the western front" on one of those occasions when His Majesty went to France to encourage his soldiers. In the group are (left to right): Marshall Foch, King George, Field Marshal Earl Haig, and Marshal Joffre. Foch and Haig have passed on and "Pops" Joffre died a week ago. Of the original group only His Majesty is still with us and, we are glad to say, enjoying good health.

Fliers May Be Safe On Island Without Wireless Station

—Horta, Island of Fayal, Azores.

AZORES OFFICIALS held one small hope today for Mrs. Beryl Hart, pretty red-headed widow of 27, and Lieut. W. S. MacLaren, who are missing after taking off from Bermuda Saturday for Horta in their monoplane "Tradewind." This was that the plane, hampered in keeping its course by head visibility and buffeted by a northeast gale, had come down at one of the other nine isolated islands which form the Azores Archipelago. There is no wireless on these islands and they will be heard from only in a month's time, when a mail boat pays a visit.

Applying a principle used by the Romans 2,000 years ago, many Englishi homes today are being warmed by heat radiated from walls and ceilings.

Endorse Publicity Move To Attract More Tourists

Peterboro Business Men Say Money Spent Will Be Returned Four-Fold in Citizens.

DISTRICT GOING AHEAD

PETERBORO, Jan. 13.—That the tourist trade is a great booster to the industry and commerce of Peterboro and district, through the publicity campaign of the Trent Waterway-Iroquois Trail Association, was the undivided opinion of several of the leading business men of this city in recent interviews. The seeming extravagance of exhibiting at shows far from Peterboro and publishing and distributing expensive pamphlets was upheld in every instance. Figures show that while this district is sponsoring a vigorous publicity campaign, yet it is paying much less than any other city, according to its size, in the province, and is gaining far more for every dollar spent in advertising.

At the forthcoming Motor Boat Show in New York, consisting of fish and game exhibits, descriptive booklets on the district, and continuous motion pictures, hundreds men will be present in a holiday mood. When the mind is at rest, it is more easily impressed; thus an attractive exhibit will have a marked effect on the visitor, and will interest him beyond any of our expectations. The summer holidays will most likely find him on his way up to Peterboro or the Kawartha Lakes. Arrived here, he will naturally spend money on pleasure, but will also catch a glimpse of Canada industrially. On his return, discussions as to future extensions of American industry and commerce will lead to Peterboro or its vicinity re-

Plan Unpopular In Washington

Think There is Some Other Way Than Credit Idea That is Proposed

MAKE SUGGESTION

WASHINGTON, Jan. 13. (By staff correspondent of Canadian Press)—While the search for market, turned commercial eyes in Washington toward China and the suggestion of valorization of monetization of silvre caused a flurry in economic circles. There is a body of financial opinion withholding judgment on the possibility of a credit to China, and looking askance at the silver proposals. It is their contention that there is a sufficient supply of gold to allow for increase in volume of business and that, if a shortage should develop, the correction might be made by an agreement to permit smaller reserves against paper.

Warning For Children

So far this winter Lindsay children have escaped serious injury although there have been causes for "what might have been serious accidents" as they used their sleds and sleighs on hills on which cars travel. In other [illegible] children have not been so [illegible] and from their [illegible] Lindsay children [illegible] to learn something.

Town officials realize that children like sliding and they have provided some good places. Children, however, [illegible] to choose their own slides and at times it [illegible] the nerves of motorists to see a child [illegible] in front of their cars. Motorists cannot stop on such short notice and as speeding sleighs are also hard to stop or turn, the danger of accidents is great.

The toboggan slide behind the collegiate institute [illegible] any hill around this district and the [illegible] some of the hard work of [illegible] back up, so there is no reason why this slide [illegible] not be more popular than any of the hills.

Fewer instances of children narrowly escaping death under the wheels of an automobile have been [illegible] ought to warn their [illegible] to take care.

Besides the [illegible] behind the L.C.I. there are some good [illegible] town, and for those who seek greater [illegible] parts of Ops.

War Talk

It was a welcome and timely word which came from Pope Pius on Christmas Eve. Referring to the [illegible] rumors of impending war in Europe and elsewhere, His Holiness declared that they must be [illegible]. [illegible] he could not believe in [illegible]. One reason is that it [illegible] for any great nation now [illegible] war on a large scale. As others have [illegible] loose a civil war in which the [illegible] government would fall. The Pope [illegible] religious leader, still [illegible]. He is fully aware of the [illegible] and agreements which have been established [illegible] for the purpose of [illegible] international disputes peacefully. [illegible] a proud and insensate "nationalism" [illegible] aloof from such [illegible] peace and good-will on the [illegible] toward Italy or France, [illegible] also looks toward the United States.

[illegible] Pontiff was timely not only [illegible] of the Prince of Peace. [illegible] corrective for predictions of war which have been growing in volume. Again we have heard [illegible] voices speak of Palestine as a powder magazine, the Balkans as about to flame [illegible] France, Italy, Poland and Germany [illegible] another bloody trial of strength. Perhaps [illegible] have been tempted, in their [illegible] League of Nations or the World Court, [illegible] of trouble and to magnify [illegible] the danger signals. It is a [illegible] better founded view [illegible] come from the Holy See. In truth, [illegible] of so much disturbing war talk is one proof that there will not be another great war, at least so long as the last one is still burned into human memory. It is the unexpected war which the world [illegible] has had reason most to dread. An [illegible] very unlikely to come off.

—New York Times

So This Is New York

More spade work is going on in the heart of New York to see who has been getting the money.

There is a list of 150 police officers, and records show they are owners of such trifles as Rolls-Royce cars, mansions, summer homes and fine collections of diamonds.

The pay of most of these officers is $250 per month, and in New York it is quite certain that such a salary does not mean anything in the way of luxuries.

Men who are doing the official digging say that there has been justice for those who have been able to pay for it, and lack of justice for those who were poor.

And that is the condition which has obtained for years in the largest city in United States—the city at whose portals stands the Statue of Liberty.

The official scrubbing so far shows that 57 innocent women were forced into paying large sums of money to escape the disgrace of conviction on immoral charges.

The whole thing positively stinks.

YE ED. LEAVES TOWN
("Once-Over" In London Advertiser)

The editor of this newspaper is away out of town for a few days. I'll bet his wife will be glad she's only a grass widow, when she has to go down and put coal in the furnace and carry out the ashes. He is gone down east to where his folks live at.

It is a good thing for us men to go away occasionally and leave them alone, so's they'll know what it is to be a poor lone widow. When we get back they'll treat us gentler. I ain't leavin' any money in the house either. That'll make our absence more noticeable.

A NEWSPAPER'S CREED

Following is the "platform" which the St. Louis Post-Dispatch prints at the top of its editorial columns, and which was bequeathed that journal by its founder, Joseph Pulitzer:—

"I know that my retirement will make no difference in its cardinal principles; that it will always fight for progress and reform, never tolerate injustice or corruption, always fight demagogues of all parties, never belong to any party, always oppose privileged classes and public plunderers, never lack sympathy with the poor, always remain devoted to the public welfare, never be satisfied with merely printing news; always be drastically independent; never be afraid to attack wrong, whether by predatory plutocracy, or predatory poverty."

Dibbs was in earnest conversation with his neighbor.

"Do you really believe that there is something which can tell whether a man is lying or not?" he asked.

"Know it for certain, old man," returned his neighbor, a shade nervously.

"That's interesting," Dibbs continued. "You have seen one of the instruments?"

"Seen one," murmured the other hollowly. "I married one!"

HAD GOOD REASON

It was in a small-town hotel, way up in the northern part of the state. The clerk was curious to know why the city motorist should want a room for a month in midwinter.

"Taking a vacation at Christmas time?"

"Yes," replied the man with a hunted look. "I [illegible] just figured on taking my vacation now, but I'm taking it just the same."

"How come?"

"Well, invariably these mornings I have to rout the kid out of bed so he won't be late for school. He never gets up when I call him, so yesterday morning I went into his room and applied the flat of my hand where it would do the most good.

"'There,' I said, going back to our bedroom. 'I guess that will wake Jimmie all right. I went to his room, turned back the covers and gave him a good smacker.'

"'What!' shrieked my wife. 'Why Jimmie stayed with the Davis boys last night and I put Mother in his room!'"

"So, here I am, on my vacation."

Often Enough

He (dreamily): "Would that I were a star in yon heavens."

She (icily): "I'd rather you were a comet."

"Then you'd come 'round only once every fifty years."

That Body of Yours

By James W. Barton, M.D.

MEDICAL DENTAL SPECIALISTS

One of the natural difficulties that arises is the difference in opinion of the dentist and physician as to whether certain teeth should be removed.

The physician naturally [illegible] himself in the position of chief adviser to the patient and instructs the dentist to remove the teeth, as in the physician's opinion they are the cause of his trouble.

The dentist, naturally anxious to save good teeth, and to try and save "doubtful" teeth, hesitates to follow the advice of the physician and tells the patient so. He tells him that no artificial teeth can be as good as his own, and that it is possible that his trouble is not caused by his teeth anyway, that there is likely some other cause.

Now as a matter of fact the physician generally knows more about individual than the dentist, and may have investigated every other possible source of infection before [illegible] ordered the removal of the teeth [illegible] the teeth are, to say the least, [illegible] feels perfectly justified in ordering their removal.

But, at present anyway, the dentist really knows more about teeth, their treatment, and the probability of saving them.

Thus the patient, the sufferer, the one who really counts in the matter is left between the two opinions and unless he is very strongly attached to his medical adviser, and has great faith in his judgment, is likely to follow the dentist's advice, because after all, no one really wants to have teeth extracted if it can possibly be avoided. However it is gratifying to know that this "difference" of opinion may soon be at an end when you see the experiment [illegible] ked out at Yale University. Dr. Winternitz, Dean of Yale Medical School tells of the establishment of four focal centres of research involving (a) structure of the teeth (b) nutrition and use of the teeth (c) infectious processes involving the teeth, (d) a group that are studying the relation of the teeth to the rest of the body.

Who are these students that are studying this?

Medical Students

What does this mean?

That this group of physicians will be medical dental specialists just as other physicians are child specialists, nose and throat specialists, and so forth.

It simply shows us all that good teeth are essential to our health, and that bad teeth can cause much ill health.

Teeth are most important.

SMALL ROADS BOARDN

To The Editor of The Post:

In connection with your editorial entitled County Road Work in your issue of Jan. 8th, you are slightly in error as the work is now directed by a committee of five of which the Warden is not a member. However in former years when the Warden was chosen from that part of the County which is in the good roads system he was always a member of the Committee, being, however, one of the five and not a sixth man.

The new road committee will be chosen by the 1-man good road board who will first have to decide whether the committee shall be composed of three members plus the Warden making four in all or five members plus the Warden making six in all. Formerly the whole board chose the Chairman but now the first duty of the Committee will be to choose their own chairman who will hold office for one year though he may still be a member for one or more years after relinquishing his chairmanship.

If the committee is composed of three members one will be elected for three years, one for two years and one for one year then next year only one vacancy will need to be filled (unless someone resigns) and that vacancy will be filled by someone elected for three years so there will be just one member retiring each year. In case a vacancy occurs by someone resigning someone else will be elected to fill the unexpired term.

If the committee is composed of five members one will be elected for five years, one for four and so on with just one member to be elected each year.

As the reeves of the various municipalities have to assume the responsibility for the raising and spending of large sums of money on our county roads it is hardly likely they will be inclined to hand over to men who are not responsible to the people the work of laying out and planning the year's work but the fact that a member of the committee does not necessarily need to be a member of the County Council will allow men to finish out their term if they desire to do so after they have retired from the reeveship or been defeated at the polls.

It seems questionable whether it is a good policy to have members of that committee spending public money and not responsible to the people at all as will be the case when members finish out their term after retiring from the County Council. However, as all members of that Committee should be and we hope will be, public-spirited men with a vision of the needs of the whole county it will probably work out all right.

Another doubtful point about the new legislation seems to be the fact that there will be an even number of members in the committee, either four or six (with the warden added) this may sometimes leave the committee tied on an important motion with no one to give the casting vote.

However, hoping that the new system will work out to the advantage of the whole county,

I am, yours truly,

JASPAR FORMAN.

"SHOOTING STRAIGHT" BRINGS THRILLS TO CROWDS

"Shooting Straight," powerful new screen drama which opened yesterday at the Academy theatre, presents Richard Dix in one of the gripping, red-blooded roles the popular star plays so well. Audiences at the local house were high in their praise of Dix's performance and the effective story upon which the picture has been based.

That Dix can adeptly handle practically every type of part is firmly established by "Shooting Straight." His latest characterization, that of a two-fisted big city gambler, differs widely from the light comedy roles he has played so capably with, in the past year. But the stage thrills the chance over from farcical to a strong dramatic player in a most convincing fashion.

Radio Pictures assembled a most competent cast of supporting players for the production. He seldom that, equal care is taken in casting a show. Mary Lawler, attractive blonde actress who has graced the Broadway legitimate and musical comedy stage for the past few seasons, plays opposite Dix. They make a perfect screen team.

Matthew Betz, one of the best of picture "heavies," Robert Emmet O'Connor, George Cooper and William Janney contribute sterling characterizations. George Archain's taut directed most effectively.

"Shooting Straight," is ideal screen entertainment and another distinct tribute to the ability of Richard Dix.

Adventures of "Sandy" and "Lil"

Shown in "For The Love O' Lil"

"Sandy" and "Lil" the famous characters of the Liberty Magazine cover series and story by J. Leslie Thrasher, come to life in "For the Love O'Lil", the Columbia comedy drama of modern married life coming to the Academy Theatre tomorrow for two days.

This series has caused nationwide comment. For the past four years it has been telling a serial story on the cover of Liberty Magazine. The appeal this series made on the public was phenomenal. First, because of the novelty. No magazine had ever done anything like it before. Second, because of the human interest of the pictorial story.

The desire to see this series on the screen had been expressed by many of its followers. They saw in it potentialities for an intensely human film of great appeal. Their desire has at last been gratified.

Columbia has brought this series to the screen on a pretentious scale. It has been extravagantly staged and superbly cast. The story chosen to interpret the lovable characters of Sandy and Lil are Elliott Nugent and Sally Starr. Others in the cast are Jack Mulhall and Margaret Livingston.

Dr. J. J. Craig, of Peterboro, was also installed in office as honorary secretary-treasurer for the district.

Paul Governor Dr. W. A. Lewis of Barrie, reviewed the work of Kiwanis for 1930. The year had been quite successful, he said. Four new clubs had been sponsored and membership had been increased substantially. Favorable financial balances were reported by Dr. Craig.

from coughs, etc., as a result of exposure to gas, he seldom reported sick, and as a consequence, would probably not now have sufficient documentary evidence to prove his eligibility, although his service record would likely be sufficient to warrant favourable consideration in his present condition. If there is anything I can do in this connection do not hesitate to write me."

Of Sterling Character

Another letter, from an officer who knew him in the 52nd. and knew him in civilian life before that read: in part: "I knew a young man by the name of Richard Westover who enlisted in the 52nd. Battalion, Port Arthur, Ontario and I shall endeavor to be as favourable as I can if you will ascertain if he is the same person and let me know. I make this inquiry because the young man I knew as Richard Westover was a very fine young man of sterling character and an employee of the contracting firm for whom I was secretary and accountant."

Hope For Relief

In both cases Westover is the man of whom the former officers are referring to in such glowing terms. He appeals to the reason as one who worked hard, and fought hard and asked no charity. Even this morning when he was released on suspended sentence he signified his intention of walking to his home thirty miles away, rather than beg, but after persuasion by the authorities decided not to. For such a man, one who gave the best years of his life and gained such notable decorations for bravery, to be without a pension and care in his affliction, seems a glaring wrong and one which the local authorities hope the merits of his case will remedy with the pensions board.

Say Sunday Not Day Of Rest Now

LONDON, Jan. 12—(By The Canadian Press)—A manifesto on Sunday Observance, declaring that Sunday has ceased to be a day of rest for large numbers and urging the dangers of this new tradition, has been issued by the Council of Christian Ministries on Sunday Questions, consisting of Church of England Bishops and leading members of the Free Churches. The signatories state that, "while we abandon the mistaken ground of the claim for Observance based on the Fourth Commandment, as if that were still binding on christians in the letter, we none the less press upon the christian conscience the legitimate claim for its observance."

In an appeal to "the christian conscience," the signatories urge that a weekly day of rest from labor should be secured for all. Any form of movement to abolish the observance of Sunday such as was anticipated in France at the revolution and was now again attempted in Russia, would be profoundly unpopular in our country and there was no need to contemplate it. "It will be observed that no objection is taken to recreation in the usual sense," adds the manifesto, "if this fourfold obligation is first observed. Granted this we are content to leave to the christian's own conscience the decision as to the Sunday recreations which are suitable or unsuitable."

Is Lectured For Shooting Man

Durham Prison Guard Who Shot Native in Jail Lectured and Punished by Judge.

DURHAM, South Africa, Jan. 12 —(By The Canadian Press)—A warder in a prison has no right to shoot a native convict, so a jury found in the case of a warder named Pretorius who was tried here on a charge of culpable homicide in connection with the shooting of a native convict named Goke. The jury returned a unanimous verdict of guilty, with a strong recommendation to mercy, and added that in their opinion men of the mentality of the accused warder should not be placed in the position of guards in prisons.

Pretorius received a sentence of six months' imprisonment, at hard labor, suspended for 12 months subject to good behavior.

The Judge said he entirely agreed with the jury's rider, and added: "Before persons are appointed to act as warders over prisoners care should be taken to see that they are thoroughly competent to do the work of supervising convicts." His lordship commented upon a statement made by the prosecuting counsel to the effect that the accused warder had lost control of himself and did not know what he was doing when he shot Goke. The Judge referred to a statement made at the trial that Pretorius was a person of infantile mentality, and the way in which he had given his evidence in his own behalf showed that this statement was not far wide.

Entering the light sentence meted out to the accused the Judge said: "Were it not for the fact that you are temperamentally unfit ever to have been a warder I would have placed a severer sentence."

Midgets Win And Victorias Lose In Games Last Night

One-Point Victory For Juniors Here

Midgets Win Fifth In As Many Starts On Soft Ice That Made Passing Almost Impossible.

GROUP LEADERSHIP

Fenelon Falls Turn In Nice Game: Lindsay Extended To Pull Out Win; 3rd Period Good.

(By R.J.B.)

Playing on ice that was anything but hard, and that slowed up play considerably, the Lindsay Midgets defeated the Fenelon Falls Juniors in a scheduled O.H.A. home game by a 3 to 2 score for the third consecutive time this season. Last night's win makes five in as many starts, and practically clinches the winning of this group for the local team.

On the whole the game was slightly slower than those previously played, accounted for by soft ice, but high-stick-carrying, heavy body-ing, and an abundance of tripping, mixed in with plenty of personal interference made it an interesting one for the fans, who took turns in booing the referee and the majority of the players. There was fine face-off in the opening stanza, several of the players on both teams boasted a black eye or bruised shoulders and kept it there for the remainder of the game, and for their trouble of the game, and for their trouble were handed penalties. Kelly, left defense for the visitors was the work offender, having netted up 4 penalties in all, two to each period.

First Period

Mills, centre player of the Midgets, opened the period with a long hard effort that was grabbed by Jewell, net guardian of the Falls team, from centre ice, having received the puck from Ferguson face off. After several exciting moments in which the Fenelon forwards both broke through Lindsay defence, and getting an occasional shot at Stephens from inside the blue-line, Johnston and Armstrong, wing-men, carried the puck down the ice on a nice combination play, and Armstrong scored on Johnstone's pass from close in. The first goal was dis-allowed when Armstrong was called for preceding the play.

Three minutes later, Spratt, while carrying the puck down right wing was also stopped for body check at Jewell, when he was lifted from his feet and came down against the boards, knocking him out cold. Kelly was given a rest, the first penalty of the game.

The second goal of the period that was scored and not counted came shortly afterwards when Spratt coming out of the penalty box, followed the play down the ice, and picking up a pass from Mills and the latter from the corner of the net, but was called off.

After eleven minutes of play that was anything but good hockey, Gerster netted the scoring when he beat Jewell's attempt to save on a nice pass from the corner from Fountain.

Five and a half minutes later, Fountain, diminutive centre player and one of the most promising kids seen for some time, evened the count when he got one by Stephens after taking the puck away from Begley as he circled his own net. Lindsay again took the slender lead of one goal when Mills scored on a beautiful bit of combination in which the other two forwards, Spratt and Gerster also figured prominently.

Second Period

With the ice still inclined to be on the sticky side, making good passing and puck-carrying impossible, play opened up a little in the second period, with both teams fighting hard, one to retain their lead, and the other to wear it down. This game was slightly better than the third and last was Fenelon Falls.'

On a nice bit of solo work, in which he stick-handled his way past the forwards, and around the defense, into the desired position in front of Jewell, Mills for Lindsay, scored the only counter of the period, when he deftly lifted Jewell on the other side of the goal, and shoved the rubber past him into the far side of the net, with a shot that would have been next to impossible to save.

Both forward lines were going good by this time, checking like fiends, and giving the goalies plenty to worry about. Only marvelous net-minding in the last few minutes of the period saved the score from mounting up.

Third Period

Time after time the visitors massed shots that were wide of their mark, but Jewell in the Fenelon net for the Midgets was given plenty to do to keep them from scoring, stopping the most of the shots were from the blue line.

In turn, the Lindsay forward line swept down the ice time after time, and Jewell was given the same bombardment that was meted out to Stephens. Armstrong was lifted in a scramble in and around the nets, Kelly and Birgenaw, defence-men for Lindsay, also came in for their share of it. The representatives of the local school were in favor of a double schedule game, but this they had it, but it would have put them out of the provincial playdowns as they would have had to forfeit the majority. No doubt the spectators will see a few more games than the schedule calls for in both the hockey and basketball groups, as both have a string teams and should win their group honors easily.

Have Good Teams

The basketball team will be very strong this year, and while the L.C.I. was defeated by a very fast hockey team it would be expected too much of them to go much further than the first round of the playdowns. However, it remains to be seen, and one can never tell in the sport world of to-day what will happen. While the same holds good also as last season, the L.C.I. basketball team will put up a good account of themselves when they take the floor at Uxbridge next Saturday. Probably very few in the sport lovers of Uxbridge and a high school and was entering into the league. This is their first season in this class of basketball and it looks like a good thing for them. The locals in preparation for the game the following week with their old-time rivals, Beaverton, will play Sunderland on Friday night.

Lindsay is also looking forward to seeing the game in Peterboro by one point in one of the best games ever played on the local floor. This season the team still has memories of that game and are anxious to defeat them. The locals are showing the right spirit, and under the direction of their coach are holding work-outs alter four and in all probability several will be held in the evenings. If they defeat Uxbridge on Saturday, and do the same thing at Peterboro, a week-end in Peterboro, they will have the group honors under their belts and will play the winners of the Lakefield group, which will likely be Cobourg by margin.

As a result of games played yesterday, the Victorias have dropped into second place in the County Basket ball on Wednesday

STRONG TEAMS

Last Friday evening Mr. Hall and Mr. MacMillan, of the local Collegiate, went to Port Hope for the purpose of attending the meeting of the Central Ontario Secondary Schools Association, which governs sports in the collegiates and high schools of the central section of the province. The main event at the meeting was the arranging of basketball and hockey leagues and the schedules for the entries in the basketball section, Peterboro, Lindsay and Uxbridge will form one grouped together, and the hockey schedule will see Lindsay, Peterboro and Bobcaygeon fighting for the championship.

Next Saturday will see both groups open, with the local "cagers" visiting Uxbridge and the Peterboro hockey team being entertained at Bobcaygeon. On the following holiday both the local teams will be at home, with the hockey team playing host to the Caygeon squad, and the basketball artists playing Peterboro. The following week they will go to Peterboro the Saturday following while the Uxbridge basketball team and hockey team will come to Peterboro the Saturday following while the Uxbridge basketball team and hockey team will complete the schedule for this season, and while it might seem a little disappointing at first, the schedule calls for the best out of it. The representatives of the local school were in favor of a double schedule game, but this they had it, but it would have put them out of the provincial playdowns as they would have had to forfeit the majority. All Junior Games Were Close

Last night's win from Fenelon Falls Juniors by a slight margin of one goal in Freddie Martin's Arena, gives the local Midgets the undisputed leadership of the group. It is the third win from Fenelon this season, two in Lindsay and one right in their own backyard. The scores have all been close in the three games, Lindsay pulling through a win with no more than a one-goal lead each time. Against Bobcaygeon, they have met the same stiff opposition as that offered by Fenelon Falls in their first game played in Bobcaygeon the visitors were forced into overtime to break the one-one tie. In Lindsay the local kids had the same tough struggle to pull through with a win, and although the score stood two goals in their favor when the final bell rang, the going was not easier than in Bobcaygeon.

Intermediates Lose Twice To Markham

Last night in Markham the Victorias lost their second game to Markham in a contest, the last two periods of which they played all-round the Markham team but could not get their shots on the net. They also played good hockey except in the two departments in their shooting, and in that they were woefully weak. However they still have a real chance as this group is decided by a play-off between first and second teams, and if Lindsay plays the kind of hockey they are capable they should be up against Markham by the week-end, and then with a full team back they should make a real series.

Church League To Start Soon

On Wednesday of this week the senior church league starts off with First United and St. Mary's going against each other in the opening game of the season. These are the two teams that were in the play-offs last season, and from all indications will be in the play-offs this year. The junior church league starts off on Saturday morning. This year more than ever before, the church league should have some real contests, and they deserve support from the fans, for it is from their ranks that the town players come.

District Bonspiel Starts To-Morrow

Tomorrow the Lindsay Curling Club, long famous as the home of some outstanding bonspiels, will stage the district bonspiel—the All-Canadian Granites, will hold their first district bonspiel—an all-day affair, open to only district rinks. The prizes for this 'spiel are good, there is no entry fee, and the idea is to promote better feeling among the clubs of the district. Lindsay is represented by a good rink of curlers, and a good sport will be giving the curlers of the district a good chance to become acquainted.

Hockey and Basketball At L.C.I.

Looking over the sport program of the L.C.I. it looks as though the local collegiate is going to have a wonderful opportunity to make a name for themselves in the sport field. Basketball prospects are very bright. The local team has the forward line of Smith-Sutton-McLean intact from last season and also several promising recruits. Mr. Hale has also secured his defence as yet, but O'Connel, Johnson, Meehan, Reid, and Betts are making strong bids for the positions, while a number including W. Beels, White, Tillcock and Cain are trying out for the forward line. With all this promising material on hand we are very optimistic about the chances of the Red, Blue and Old Gold in the basketball field.

Vics Lose By Two Goals In Markham

Out-Play Markham in Last Two Periods but Off-Color on Their Marksmanship; Markham Gets Two in First Ten Minutes.

SLOW IN PLACES

Fever Plays Well on Defence; Eberts Handles Himself Well; "Buffer" Reeves Gets Minor Cut but Keeps Playing and Gets Goal

—By J.W.M.—

(Post Staff Reporter)

MARKHAM, Jan. 13—Visibly outplaying their rivals in the last two canles, Lindsay Victorias could not come through with the punch that means goals and were forced to take a 4-to-2 decision from the green and white shirted local intermediates, who scored two of their counters in the first period, in the second meeting of these two teams in a scheduled O.H.A. fixture that crowded the rink to the doors last night. As in their former meeting the blue and white clad Lindsay front division had trouble finding the net, and their shots were wild and lacked steam. Markham's defence pair Ressor and Hare, worked nicely together, breaking attacks at the blue line every time.

For Lindsay Fever on right defence was a bright spot, he played defensively and rushed well, although the greater part of the rushing from the defence was made by Reeves who sustained a cut cheek early in the first period. "Ike" Eberts, Lindsay net guardian, played an airtight game, and on numerous occasions when Markham walked right in on him, with nobody else to beat, he beat them flat-footed and his four that beat him were tough ones to handle. The firing lines of Crafter, Reid, Dr. Reesor, Hare and Bert worked well together but they were off on their shooting, for which no small part can be directly attributed to the ice which was very sticky and made for rolling pucks. On the home-guard Max Ressor and Hare were a hard defence to beat and both rushed well. Thuns in goal played a nice game, and H. Crosby, centre, was the mixer forward on the ice for Markham. Lawson Whitehead, of Toronto, handled the game quite satisfactorily and let it go with a minimum of bell-ringing.

The Scoring Plays

All of Markham's goals came on close-in work. After about nine minutes of the first period had elapsed Crosby rapped one from close right in on Eberts, and slipped the rubber past him without giving him a snowball chance. Almost immediately later Prentice slapped one in off right wing which Eberts saved but Reesor came in fast for the rebound and tallied again. In the second period H. Crosby started things off when he beat Eberts from close in, then "Buffer" Reeves got mixed up, took a little jaunt down the ice that ended with the bost-heel resting in the back of the net. With only a minute to go in the second period "Bus" Martin slammed Lindsay's second goal in from a scramble in front of the net. The only scoring in the last spasm was another for H.Crosby when he beat right up to the top of the Lindsay goal again. This in brief was the origin of all the scoring plays.

The Line-ups

On the Markham line, Lindsay, centre, C. Martin; wings, J. Dames and C. Rich; defence, H. Reyer and E. Reesor; goal, F. Eberts. Markham, J. Crafton and R. Forbert; Markham, centre, H. Crosby; wings, Prentice and Cleaveland; defence, Hare, Reesor and D. Hare; goal, F. Luna; alternates, Rennies, Crosby and Hagerman. Referee, L. Whitehead, Toronto.

Starts Off Fast

Play started off fast in this period, but after the first few minutes had a tendency to slow up terribly at times making on the whole for a rather sloppy period. After Martin was boring in on the Lindsay nets this time and Eberts had to make some nice saves. With about the last half of it gone, Markham was working right in on the close, and on one Crosby drift-pass he had a chance to save beating the whole team up the glo-handed and on the other goal, Reesor came right in on Prentice's rebound to clip in Markham's second goal. After that play pepped up a little, and Lindsay was driving into her nets in Thuns, in the Markham nets. Twice near the end Eberts beat Markham players single-handed when they were coming right in on the net. Also near the end "Buffer" Reeves got a cut on the face from a high stick, but kept on playing

Cut Down Lead

Going into the second, the two-goal lead looked pretty big but Lind say's one hold-back Graham out, and her forward line was monopolizing the play. Time after time Lindsay was held in close and passes were slipped out only to have poor passhanding and poor shooting spoiled what looked like sure scores. Markham drew Eberts out on Crosby walked in on Eberts about fourteen minutes after the face-off. Then Reesor, for Lindsay, and the Whole Markham team and slipped one past Thuns for Lindsay's first goal. Shortly after Reesor had "Buffer" Martin cocked one in for Lindsay's second counter, from a scramble in front of the net.

Pick Up

When the third period opened Lindsay was playing four men up for a score and they made one in double time after time, to take their shots at the Markham net, but their shooting was poor. Another combination efforts would beat everybody but the goal-minder and then when the forward was to take his shot he would hold on to the puck, but he wasn't exactly the best in the world for shooting and it and quick combined to make Eberts' Lindsay's shots harmless With everybody out on the attack Crosby for Markham broke away and rushed right up on Eberts to beat him for Markham's last counter. The rest of the period was dominated by Lindsay, but try as they would, they could not get a goal.

Buckley Answers To Claim of Dempsey

—Boston, Jan. 12.

JACK DEMPSEY'S confident dent claim, in a prefix to his annual survey of the heavy world, that he can knock out Jack Sharkey, Boston heavyweight, today drew the retort discourteous from Johnny Buckley, the latter's manager. "Sharkey," Buckley said, "is ready to fight Dempsey any place within sixty days. Dempsey, in an effort to, help his theatrical work, is always telling the world he can fight. Sharkey all but knocked out Dempsey when they met three years ago. Offers as high as $500,000 could not induce Dempsey to enter the ring again with Sharkey. If Dempsey thinks he is a great fighter, let him step to Jimmy Sharkey or keep his mouth closed."

"Gringo Privateer"

By Peter B. Kyne

SYNOPSIS

Kenneth Burney, adventurer and one-time gentleman, comes to Brad ley Burdin, King of the cattle country, for a job. Burney has had a fight with Martin Bruce, a rival cattle owner who has been stealing the King's stock, aided by Miguel Gallegos a Mexican bandit. The King, liking young Burney, makes him general manager of the ranch on condition that he put Bruce and Gallegos out of the way. Burney meets Bruce, who has sworn to kill him. They both draw their guns, but Burney outwits the wily old cattle thief.

Meanwhile Muriel Bardin, beautiful daughter of the King, becomes more interested in Burney than she cares to admit. She tries to persuade her father not to let Burney tackle the cattle thieves. But Burney continues to lay his plans for the battle that is sure to come.

CHAPTER 15

"I have never had any experience heretofore with rustlers, Tom. Tongue-slitting is a new one on me. Why do they do it?"

"So the calf can no longer suckle its mother an' will have to start rustlin' a livin' on grass right off."

"Oh, I see. That means the calf will leave its mother and, of course, once it has done that, there is no way of identifying it as that cow's calf. To all intents and purposes it's a maverick and the assumption is that the first man who finds it is free to use his iron on it."

Tom Bledsoe nodded. "Sad for the cow's udder to have her calf forcibly weaned before due time, Mr. Burney."

"Are the same tactics followed on our cattle north of the line, Tom?"

Gil-sooe nodded. "Not to such an extent, however. We can watch our cattle closer an' Bruce daren't take the chance he does in El Cajon Bon ita, where he is immune from United States law."

"The hyena! Who is Miguel Gallegos?"

"A half-breed Irishman. His mother was an Italian, an' he became a naturalized citizen of Mexico. During the Madero rebellion he was a general an' more recently he's become a sort o' bandit, but claimin' to be a patriot. He's the law in that part of Mexico an' after eighteen year o' war an' riot about all the Mexican government can do is handle the tough ones an' leave the little ones alone until they get too bad. He's got the local federal officials buffaloed, an' they're sort o' ceterin' to him in the hope he won't organize a revolution again 'em. He does about what he pleases."

"Has Mr. Gruyon complained to the Mexican federal officials about him?"

"No, sir. Ain't had nothin' to complain about. All we got is suspicion. Martin Bruce don't own a hacienda in Mexico, but the king's got a sound title to El Cajon Bonita an' we figger Bruce wants it, an' has got Gallegos up to makin' things so uncomfortable an' unprofitable there we'll pull out to save loss an' bloodshed; then Bruce'll take it over an' range his cattle on it. I wouldn't be surprised if Gallegos is his silent partner, doin' the dirty work for his share."

"Well, as a cattle range, El Cajon Bonita is certainly worth fighting for, Tom. It's well watered and I never did see such a thick growth of grama grass anywhere else. So the situation has resolved itself to this. We've got to keep a force of men down there sufficient to stand off Gallegos. That's too expensive and dangerous. To leave our cattle there alone and unprotected means that presently every head of stock we've got there will disappear. That's to expensive, also. So the third alternative is to go down there and wipe this fellow Gallegos and his men clear off the map. And that's the plan I've adopted."

"Ain't no other out," the gloomy Quaker assented. "But Art Grayson, he never suggested that an' the king couldn't a' account o' bein' responsible, if he did, for the killin' of a lot o' his good men. An' then there's the international complications to consider. Mr. Burney, the situation has resolved itself to going."

"Well, he isn't sending me down there. I've volunteered and he isn't going to know when I start or when I finish, until he gets the news of the clean-up. I figure that with thirty good men I can take care of two hundred of the Gallegos followers, but to be successful we must be superbly equipped, superbly mounted, well trained and have a definite plan of campaign from which we must not diverge, once the action. Once we wipe out the Gallegos gang, Martin Bruce will keep clear of El Cajon Bonita and it will be long before another bandit adventurer undertakes to start something with us. I expect to get the law on Bruce in this state and jail him."

"He's too smart to be caught branding the king's calves himself."

"A master is responsible for the acts of his servants, Tom, and the servants will be easier to catch than the cautious Mr. Bruce. Once I get an indictment voted against him in this state he'll make for Arizona; then some night we'll sweep down on his headquarters on the Triangle B, round up and run his criminal riders off the range, unless by doing good detective work, we are able first to land most of them in jail.

"This situation doesn't present any insuperable obstacles, Tom. All it requires is some resolution, a definite plan and the ability to follow through. Before I get through with Martin Bruce he'll sell his range and all his cattle to the king and pull out of New Mexico forever."

"All the king has ever needed is the right general manager an' in thec he has found the man, Mr Burney. I'll be right proud to help out."

"Thanks, Tom, I know you will. I expect to clean the situation up in thirty days. Though unforseen complications may require more time. It wouldn't be fair to have a good man like you marking time on the same old salary, so from the first of July your salary is upped fifty dollars a month."

"Thanks. This makes me the highest-paid ridin' boss on the Bardin ranch, don't it?" Bledsoe replied gleefully. He rose. "Well, I reckon I'd better be off. I'll tell the boys of thy plans an' select the dependables."

Ken Burney watched him depart into the night. "Good old sergeant-major," he murmured. "And what a blood-thirsty old Quaker you turn out to be." He picked up the telephone and called the King. Muriel Bardin. "I want to speak to His Majesty," he announced.

"About Tom Bledsoe?" she queried.

"Good guess."

"His Majesty has retired and may not be disturbed. I'll take the message."

"Very well. Tell him, please, that I have raised Tom Bledsoe's wages fifty dollars a month, because I have discovered in him a man after my own heart. If the king had been acquainted even remotely with Tom Bledsoe, I wouldn't be his general manager tonight."

"How interesting! Well, why not turn the job over to Tom Bledsoe right away, Mr. Burney. I'm sure it is not going to be done you are going to enjoy."

"That's where you are greatly mistaken, Miss Bardin. I'm going to enjoy it immensely. Tom Bledsoe's going to help me, though."

"I'm disappointed in you, Mr. Burney. I thought you were a gentleman."

"Oh, no, too, no. Nothing like that, Miss Muriel. No gentleman ever gets the thrill out of life that I do. I know, because I've been a gentleman. Now I prefer to be a roughneck."

"That's much too bad, Mr. Burney. Good night." And she hung up.

"Poor old king." Ken Burney murmured, "she must be giving him a rough ride about me. As if it's any of her business," he murmured and switched off the light.

At the same moment Muriel Bardin stood beside the king's bed and delivered his general manager's message. Whereat His Majesty smiled a satisfied smile.

"I'm not going to invite him over to dinner after all," Muriel announced.

"Jake with me," said the king. "Good night, honey."

Immediately after breakfast Tom Bledsoe reported to the new general manager. "Well, I have thirty good men signed up for thee, Mr. Burney," he announced.

"Past work. How many saddle horses have you got in the remuda?"

"About three hundred."

"Cut me out six boys, two buckskins with black points; five light bays with blazed faces and white socks; five blacks or very dark bays, five chestnuts, two palaminos; one sovieno and two black-and-white pintos. Here's the list to aid your memory."

"Guess we can fill that bill, Mr. Burney. We got all colors in the remuda, an' they're all good horses."

"Thanks. Send over to me three of your fastest wing shots with pistols, wearing two guns each. I'm going to Huachita in the general manager's automobile and these three are to be my bodyguard. Hand-pick 'em, Tom. While I'm gone rake a few men and round up the horses I require."

Within ten minutes the trio reported. One of them, it developed, was Art Graydon's chauffeur when he was not otherwise engaged, and he had to report that Mr. Grayon abanned to use the ranch car that day.

Idleness

DURHAM, Eng., Jan. 13—(By The Canadian Press)—Judge Sir Alexander Hood, in opening the Durham quarter sessions, said that fewer crimes were due to drunkenness and more to idleness than formerly. But it might still be said that crimes of today were crimes of idleness. "One cannot help boredom" said the judge, "that the youth of this country is not regularly employed is a matter of gravest importance. The point of subsistence which will take them elsewhere than the dole of the country should remember that perhaps never before has the army afforded such a fine career of education and training for sub-normal life as it does today."

MILLS ARE BURNED AT LITTLE BRITAIN

Spectacular Blaze Late Last Evening Causes Huge Loss

Little Britain Homes Are Threatened When Hoopers Mills in Village Catch On Fire

IN ONE BUILDING

Lindsay and Oakwood Firemen Go To Assistance of Village and Do Good Work

Making a ten-mile trip through sub-zero weather, Chief McCullum, Driver MacArthur and Fireman Metherall, of the local fire department, were successful in saving the houses of Samuel Hooper and Mrs. Bullivant, at Little Britain, from burning from the flying sparks coming from the Hooper grist mill which was burned to the ground there last night, incurring a loss estimated at $8,000. The wind fortunately was from the north-west and was blowing the sparks to the south-east, away fro mthe buildings giving the fire-fighters a better chance. The stubborn efforts of the Oakwood volunteers, kept the fire in check until the Lindsay truck arrived, and then hose was strung from the creek and the pumper set to work. After pumping for every two hours and a half the fire was completely under control. On the twenty journey facing the wind both firemen, Messrs. MacArthur and Metherell were frozen, one on the cheek and the other on the ear.

It is thought that the fire in the mill started in the boiler-room. The mill had been running all day and the blaze was discovered around nine o'clock. A call was first sent in to the Oakwood force and later Lindsay was called in. The wind blowing as it did, saved the houses nearby from serious danger at first, and the light against the sparks on to the roofs was carried on successfully sent.

Mrs. G. W. Scott, president, was in the chair and the minutes of the last meeting were read and approved.

The treasurer, Mrs. A McIntyre gave the yearly financial report, which was very gratifying. Receipts were $758.29 and expenditures $446.16, leaving a balance of $779.06.

Letters of appreciation were received from several who received a box of Christmas cheer from the Ladies' Aid.

Officers

All the officers were again voted into office: Mrs. G. W. Scott, president; Mrs. J. Kelso, vice-president; Miss F. Lewis, secretary; Mrs. A. McIntyre, treasurer. All members paid their fees for the year and four new members joined. Various committees were appointed to look after work and supplies for the garden party.

Provincial Secretary Speaks To Clubs Here On Parole Board Work

Hon. Leopold Macaulay Addresses Joint Meeting of Rotary and Kiwanis Club

LIVED HERE ONCE

The Hon. Leopold Macaulay, Provincial Secretary, addressed a joint meeting of the Kiwanis and Rotary Clubs at their weekly luncheon at the Benson House yesterday at noon. Mr. Macaulay, a former Lindsay boy, and well-known to many of the members present, having spent the first fourteen months of his life here, reviewed many pleasant reminiscences of his boyhood days, and expressed himself as being very glad to have the chance to renew friendships and acquaintances in town.

There was a large attendance of both clubs to hear Mr. Macaulay, the youngest minister in the Ontario Legislature, and guests included Messrs. Jack Lytle, of Oakwood, Oliver Smith, J. G. Werman and Rev. Mr. Edmison, of Lindsay. Many complimentary words were in connection with the Kiwanis Club in the near future. The two service clubs are to compete in the annual curling event for the possession of the Rotary-Kiwanis shield, that was donated by Messrs. Frost and Frost, and which was won last year by the Rotary Club. The second week in February was announced as the date set for the annual Piccadilly Circus sponsored by the local Kiwanians.

Following an introduction to the two clubs by Mr. J. E. Anderson the Hon. Leopold Macaulay, the special speaker for the joint meeting gave an excellent address on Crime, Preventions, etc.

The speaker told of his work in connection with the corrective department in the management of the various provincial jails, jails, reformatories and institutions of several kinds. In these, the sole object of placing a prisoner there is not for punishment alone, but to help him in various ways to change his life, and lose the inclination to do wrong, either through necessity or otherwise.

Old Law Methods

For many years the law-breakers were practically all given the same type of punishment for the crimes they committed, whether it was for the destroying or stealing of property was counted just serious an offense as murder. Such punishment tended to make criminals worse, and it is only in the last few years that laws have been changed radically. Modern principles in handling with modern punishment, and for this purpose up-to-date methods of han-

Petition Government

Mr. T. J. Carley, solicitor, was present, having prepared for presentation the following document as requested.

Whereas at the time of the building of the canal through Fenelon Falls, stone was taken from the canal, and dumped to fill in the bed of a certain creek passing through part of Block N, as shown on a plan made at the request of the Commissioner Oliver Smith Esquire, O.L.S., and dated the 5th day of November A.D. 1839.

AND WHEREAS the creek originally carried the water flowing into it without flooding

AND WHEREAS on account of obstruction in the creek where the stone was dumped by the Government the water is held back, and causes serious floods when the water is high.

Be it therefore resolved that the Clerk be instructed to take up the matter of the obstruction of the said creek with the Department of Railways and Canals with a view to having them remedy the existing conditions, and that a copy of this Resolution be forwarded to Mr. T. Head Of Board Threatened By Belleville Unemployed

BELLEVILLE, Jan. 14—Although the fall of snow has not been heavy in the city this winter, the Public Works department of the City Council decided to remove what snow was on Front Street to give needed employment to many out of work. Some 40 men were taken on the payroll today by Superintendent John Henderson and this was to be augmented by teams and men in the number of 100.

The unemployed have been visiting the city parks since the early fall of last week demanding that they be put to work to shovel the snow off Front Street, while the council and superintendent have contended the fall was not heavy enough to demand attention. The men have not used force with the superintendent, but have been threatening and in order to avoid a fracas Mr. Henderson requested police protection when he went to the city yard one day.

This was accorded. Constable Evans going with the superintendent. The matter was amicably settled by putting fifteen men on the sewers now under construction and the remaining 45 men on the snow. It was expected that, in a small measure, the unemployment situation would be relieved by the removing of the snow.

It is understood that last week several men who were dissatisfied with the division of the work, banded themselves together to make trouble for the city superintendent. They threatened to "beat up" Mr. Henderson, but the ring leaders show ed no signs of action when the policeman appeared.

Copenhagen Gets Alfalfa Seed From District Near Belleville

Samples Of Seed Will Be Used In Danish Governmental Experimental Farm At Copenhagen.

IS A TRIBUTE

BELLEVILLE, Jan. 14—A great tribute to the agricultural fame of Canada in general and Hastings County in particular, was paid by the Government of Denmark in a recent communication to Chas. E. Bishop and Son, wholesale seed dealers of Belleville, requesting samples of alfalfa seed grown in this county to be used at the Danish Government Experimental Farm at Copenhagen.

According to the request of the Danish Government, Bishop and Son shipped samples of alfalfa seed grown in Hastings County as follows: "Grimm Variety," and "Hastings Grown Ontario Variegated." These varieties of alfalfa seed will without doubt give a good account of themselves at the Government Experimental Farm in Denmark and will further add to the fame of Ontario and Hastings County as rich in agricultural wealth.

Oshawa Tests Herds As Well As Pasteurizing Milk, For Safety

OSHAWA, Jan. 14.—Out of a total of 78 herds of cattle supplying milk to this city, 69 herds have been tested with the animals affected with tuberculosis eliminated, according to the annual report of Dr. G. S. Dickinson, veterinary and food inspector.

The campaign to have the milk supply of the city doubly protected against tuberculosis, has been productive of good some time. Pasteurization of the milk supply as all city dairies provides protection, but in order to make this doubly sure, the herds supplying the milk are also tested. The inspector comments:

Bad Herds Eliminated

"A number of herds badly infected with T.B. have been eliminated. Where secondary tests have been made, those herds have come through clean. Some herds have been put on the Government Accredited Herd Plan, thus requiring the benefit of compensation where there have been reactors found.

OSHAWA, Jan. 14.—Expectation that the educational expenditure for this year would be reduced, and that the estimates to bestruck on Jan. 26 would show evidence of economy, was voiced in the inaugural address by Dr. F. J. Donevan, who was elected by an unanimous vote as Chairman of the Board of Education. Dr. Donevan is one of the veteran members of the board, and for the past two years has been Chairman of the Management Committee.

Men's Association Holds Successful Banquet With Provincial Secretary as Speaker

MANY PRESENT

The banquet last night under the auspices of the Men's Association of First United Church was held in one of the very pleasant events of the season.

At six-thirty one hundred and fifty men sat down to tables beautifully arranged and laden with tasty viands that would tempt the appetite of the most exacting. The musical committee under the capable leadership of Mr. Thomas Ringland waited on the tables, providing a service leaving nothing to be desired. It was a men's banquet throughout. Mr. Harvey Forsyth with Mr. C. J. W. Taylor as accompanist led the community singing. Messrs Ted Hicks and Percy Skitch rendered two much appreciated solos. W. W. Staples favored the audience with a selection from "Cy Warman" the poet of the Rockies.

At this juncture in the program Dr. Irvine, chairman of the Board of Stewards asked the Rev. Mr. Jolliffe to come forward and read to him a very appreciative address regarding his many years of long and faithful service as caretaker of the Church. He also presented to him a very handsome Club Bag as a slight remembrance of the high esteem in which he was held by the members of the congregation and Board of the Church. Mr. Jolliffe made a very feeling reply expressing

A debate for this week has been arranged and arrangements are under way for the big banquet to be held at the end of the term. This class meets in Foresters Hall where they are very comfortable.

The boys' class meets in the Farmers Club Room at the same time but is somewhat smaller. They too, have chosen their officers and debaters. Mr. Buchanan of Western Ontario and Mr. Winters, local agricultural representative, are in charge of this class.

Horses! Horses!

We seem to have made a mistake. Not long ago we printed an editorial about the horse coming back into favor with farmers all over Canada, and at the time we agreed with some of the best statisticians. Today, when we looked up the statistics report for Ontario, however, the figures even showed us that we were wrong unless the horse has done its kicking back within the past 12 months, and, as far as we [illegible] there are no statistics available for that [illegible].

We picked up the statistics report with the idea of showing just how much the horse has come back into favor in the past few months, but it was our surprise to read that there were 315 less horses in Victoria County in 1929 than in 1927, and that although there were fewer horses in 1929 they were worth $1,000 more than in 1927. Whether the market [illegible] or better horses are being [illegible], we cannot say.

The totals for the three years are: 12,105 horses in 1927, 11,674 horses in 1928; and 11,790 horses in 1929. These statistics [illegible] no immediate fear, however, for even if horses do decrease at the same number per year residents of Victoria County 1,179 years hence will still have a horse or two to grace their [illegible].

Totals for the province for a few years past are: [illegible] in 1929; 698,249 in 1928; 617,136 in 1927; 629,[illegible] in 1926; 644,133 in 1925; 663,875 in 1924; and 673,[illegible] in 1923. Away back in 1897 there were 713,670 horses in Ontario, the most at any one time. In 1897 they had about 12,000 more horses in the province than there are now.

While motor transport undoubtedly has done much to relegate the horse to a field of clover where he can enjoy a well-earned rest, farmers find that horses [illegible] much better than cars when there is mud or snow drifts in the way. Farmers, especially those who do not live beside the smooth highways, feel the need of a horse for the months when travelling is hard and many farmers claim that the horse is more economical for regular work anyhow.

Alice In Blunderland

The Globe's daily front-page article, "Alice in Blunderland," was almost a masterpiece yesterday. In reference to the campaign to have government control over Canadian radio stations it said:

Alice had been invited to hear the first concert over the radio owned jointly by the Mad Hatter, the March Hare and the Dormouse. They would have had it long ago the Hatter confided, but it had been difficult to keep the Dormouse awake long enough to make him understand that he had to pay his share.

"Now," exclaimed the Hatter, "we have all the music of the world brought right into our home. Symphony, dance orchestra, grand opera, chamber music—anything—just by turning the dial."

He turned it as he spoke, and a voice with a rich American accent declaimed:

"Blingo's jams are made from the finest California fruit. They are delicious with fish or salads, and for hanging wallpaper they have no equal. They may be used in emergency as a substitute for rubber solution, and will even stand vulcanizing. Blingo's jams—"

"Seem to be widely spread," remarked the Hatter, as he tuned out the speaker. He turned the dial again and as the strains of the barcarolle from "The Tales of Hoffman" floated into the room, sank back contentedly to listen. Apparently he had tuned in a little too late, however, for the music ended abruptly, and a voice announced:

"The concert you have just listened to is sponsored by the Boloney Bed Company. Our beds are made of genuine metal, with springs of real wire, and they are stuffed with A No. 1 grade excelsior —"

"Tune him out if he's going to recite Excelsior," said the March Hare. "I hate elocutionists."

The Hatter moved the dial to its highest number, and from some unknown corner of the world come the word:

"... remember, friends, all you have to do is to send two dollars, with your address, to this station—"

"If you fellows are going to descend to eavesdropping," said the Dormouse, putting his fingers in his ears, "I'm going to sleep. That's a gentleman talking to his friend."

"You try it," the Hatter said to Alice. "Maybe you're luckier than I am."

Alice turned the dial doubtfully, and presently was [illegible] by the twanging of a banjo and the [illegible] tones of a male voice singing:

Glub-glub soup is the best on earth
Makes you strong and full of mirth.
Build your health and increase your girth
With Glub-glub—glub-glub soup

The station will return to the air at 6 p.m. with another high-class concert, sponsored by Spooner's Soundless Soups.

"That," said the Hatter, as he switched off the current, "is not all the music of the world; but I guess it's about as much as we can stand for one day."

POSTALS

Statistics there are fewer horses in Ontario now than a few years ago, but is that due to the increased popularity of the horse-neck since 1928.

PRESS OPINIONS

SURE THING
(Great Bend Tribune)

Perhaps we shouldn't tell it, but a pretty school teacher got her diamond engagement ring Christmas. And if the kids don't get good grades this term it's because they are just plain dumb.

THESE DAYS OF ENLIGHTENMENT
(Border Cities Star)

It is a rather terrifying thought that the year 1931 should find it still necessary for man to be using the barbarous instruments of other days—days of much less enlightenment than we have now—but alas for human progress, we are not nearly as civilized as we sometimes appear to be.

As long as the lash will keep in subjection or in relative harmlessness a certain element apparently impossible for handling in any other way, it is likely to remain.

The general protection of society is of paramount importance, the average man will readily agree.

THE ANIMAL WORLD
(London Free Press)

It is said that creatures from the animal world are being put to use in two hitherto untried fields as agents for burglars and economists.

Reliable police information says that small monkeys are being used by Chicago burglars to slip in tru narrow skylights and open doors for their masters and to have "got away with the trick in many cases.

In the second instance, a Japanese export guild has been formed, at Tokio, to correct the effects of economic depression and prevent the dumping of goldfish on the foreign market at a price below an agreed minimum.

One might easily consider these pieces of news as fishy stories and monkey jokes if they were not founded on authorized reports.

GET THE GUNS
(Kitchener Record)

When hoodlums rush into a bank to stage a hold-up, they flash their guns. When a thief is cornered, be usually pulls his gun. The number of firearms possessed by persons who have no right to carry them is truly astonishing. There is a regulation requiring every one to secure a license, if he wishes to carry a weapon of this sort. Is that law enforced strictly enough?

In much the same way that medical science is successful in controlling disease by preventive methods so the crime weave could be minimized by waging a war on the gun menace. Prevent crime by taking away the thug's sting, his gun. A thorough search should be instituted with a view to confiscating all weapons that are in illegal possession.

GIRL WITH BRAINS
(Port Arthur News-Chronicle)

According to statistics compiled by Women's colleges in England, brains are below par in the marriage market. Girls with high scholarship records to their credit receive fewer matrimonial proposals than their less intellectually endowed sisters. Waiving the point that brains may be handicapped in competition with superficial beauty, it is fair comment to remark that brains and hearts are separate and distinct and often are unrelated in Cupid's scheme of things.

A toss of a curl, a dimple in a cheek, a curve of the lips, a gleam of an eye may smite a man who remains cold in the presence of mere brains. Once smitten, his own and his inamorata's brains, if she has any, count for little. The poets from the distant past till now have testified to the maddening effect of love in robbing its victims of their brains. Besides, after all, does not fancy sitting across the domestic hearth. A brainy girl has conceit-smashing possibilities that are tempting.

AIR SWALLOWING

I have spoken before about a professional hockey player who was greatly troubled with air in his stomach. Before a game and during the rest periods he would be in considerable distress, but once out on the ice he forgot all about it.

Now there are a great many people who swallow air when eating or at other times, and the pressure of this air in the stomach and intestines is often so severe that they consult their physicians as to the possibility of heart disease, obstruction of the obwel, and other conditions.

Dr. Asher Winkelstein, New York tells us that at least 60 percent of [illegible] with real organic ailments, [illegible] due simply to nervous[illegible] swallow air. With almost every swallow of food or the [illegible] mouth digestive juice—some air [illegible] the tube going down to the [illegible]. Sometime this is immediately belched up and at other times [illegible] enters the stomach. When it [illegible] the stomach it immediately [illegible] to the top left side of the stomach. From here, when it begins to make pressure, it is usually belched up again by the individual [illegible] bringing it up by movements of [illegible] or by deep breathing. This is considered a normal condition and not a symptom of any real trouble.

Hurrying or gulping the fool and swallowing while breathing air with the lungs, is frequently a cause of air swallowing.

To get rid of this air, forced expiration is made with the opening into the lungs held tightly closed.

Dr. H. Meyer says that these air swallowers are usually nervous individuals, excitable, irritable, tense and anxious.

Now this air [illegible] for the most part [illegible] absorbed by the blood and body tissues and must be removed.

Bending the body from side to side, attempting to put head downward between knees, the use of peppermint [illegible] have proven helpful where the individual was unable to expel it by forcing out his breath.

Now although most of these cases are due to nervousness and not to organic disease, nevertheless this [illegible] stomach or intestine may actually be a symptom of real organic trouble of liver, gall bladder, heart, or intestine.

The point then is that air swallowing is usually just a habit which should be broken.

If it persist it would be well to consult your family physician.

A letter was read from Mrs. Herb Bunter of Brooklyn, who had the honor of being our first president, suggesting suitable names for our community hall on the park and after much discussion it was decided to call it "Janet Villa". Order Curtailing Local Service Is Cancelled worked on the matter, going to Ottawa and interviewing the minister of railways, members of the government, the Dominion Railway Board and finally the committee of experts at their request from Montreal to Ottawa to discuss he subject.

Dr. Kaiser pointed out to the railways officials that because new evidence had been secured on which to base an appeal against the ruling of the Dominion Railway Board which ordered the curtailment, an appeal had been lodged. The net result of the work of Dr. Kaiser and Mr. Bowen was that after staying diligently on the job, meeting the government, the Canadian National experts, the powers that be in the operation of trains on the railways and the officials of the Dominion Railway Board, the order issued by the latter body was suspended, and for some time to come, it is expected, if not permanently, the Whitby-Lindsay service will be continued as at present. There will be another hearing by the Board of the new evidence available.

The gentlemen who went to Ottawa dealt with the Whitby and Orono service, and while a curtailment has been ordered for the present, there is a possibility that a may be restored in due time.

Port Perry Pleased.

Members of the Board of Trade at Port Perry, who were active in having this new action of the Railway Board taken, are loud in their praises of the good work done by Dr. Kaiser.

Mr. Samuel Jeffrey, of Port Perry, took a leading part in the agitation to have the train service to his village retained.

"BRINGING UP FATHER"

REPORTERS ARE TABOO IN ORILLIA

ORILLIA TOWN FATHERS UNANIMOUSLY DECIDE TO KICK PRESS AND PUBLIC OUT OF MEETINGS.

ORILLIA, Ont., Jan. 14—By unanimous vote of the Orillia town fathers yesterday the press and pub lic will be excluded from all meetings other than the regular monthly meetings, which, according to municipal law, must be open. The decision was preceded by a lengthy and spirited debate, and was the outcome of Mayor J. B. Johnston demanding the withdrawal of representatives of local town newspapers. Such discrimination was met with fiery objection from among the councillors, who felt that all reporters should be requested to leave, if any. Finally, Dr. R. C. Hipwell and Raymond Doolittle, two new members, moved ,he resolution closing all but monthly meetings of the council.

The meeting was held in the council committee room, and opened by Mayor Johnston requesting "all reporters other than those on town papers" to withdraw. None of them, however, moved or said a word amidst the general surprise the mayor's demand created. The mayor telephoned the chief of police who on arrival was commanded to remove the out-of-town reporters.

"Come on, boys," said the chief, and the scribes walked out. "Reporters will obey me," the mayor informed the amazed council.

Immediately the buzz of discussion arose in the council room. Some time after the councillors won their case and the reporters on the local papers followed their out-of-town kin and the meeting was held in camera.

The meeting was called to discuss the proposed drainage schemes in the south ward. The mayor has been advocating one scheme and the majority of the council another. As a result bitter verbal warfare has been carried on and it was expected to reach its height at to-day's meeting.

1 cup of rice.

Wash the rice through two or three waters. Have four quarts of water boiling, add rice slowly and boil rapidly twenty minutes; drain and blanch with cold water, sprinkle with 1 teaspoon salt. New Stage

LONDON, Jan. 14.—(By The Canadian Press)—A new stage in the progress of the oldest body in world aeronautical science, the Royal Aeronautical Society, is marked by the issue of an appeal for an endowment fund of £250,000 with which to provide a site and erect a building where the Society may find permanent home.

The Society was founded in 1866 and has continued without a break since the intensive study of the varied scientific and technical problems associated with the growth of aviation. The result is a collection of published papers on every aspect of flying, gathered in archives which are a veritable gold mine.

FOREST HILL VILLAGE MAY LEAVE COUNTY

FOREST HILL, Jan. 14.—Failing the settling of a fixed equalized assessment from the York County Council, Press: Bill Village, now incorporated as part of the county, may seek to have its status changed to that of a village incorporated outside and separate from the County of York, according to Reeve Andrew Hazlett. The whole question of county equalization is likely to be taken up at the June session of the County Council, and several other municipalities have expressed their unalterable opposition to the methods now obtaining in arriving at the figures from year to year. It is altogether likely that the whole basis may have to be reviewed this year.

Obituary

MRS. MARY HALL

The death of Mr. Mary Hall, mother of Mrs. W. L. Richman, of town, is noted as follows in the Glen Ray Recorder:

Mrs. Mary Hall, widow of the late R. T. Hall, died at Clarksburg on Dec. 23rd, at 7.30 p.m. At the time of her death, Mrs. Thos. Disamore, and had been in apparent good health until within a few hours of the time of her death, which was due to a severe heart attack. Her children arrived as soon as possible after being notified of her illness, but could not reach her bedside before she passed away.

The late Mrs. Hall was born in the Township of Emphrasia in 1854, and was united in marriage to the late R. T. Hall at Gore Bay in 1879. They took up residence in Gore Bay, when the present town was composed of very few houses and were highly esteemed for their good work throughout the town and surrounding community. The sudden passing of Mrs. Hall was a great shock to her many friends here and she will be greatly missed in every branch of the United Church work in which she took an active part for many years, both with the Methodist Church and the union after the union. A member of the Ladies' Aid for fifty years she was a faithful and supported every cause for the welfare of the church. The hospitality of the Hall home was a byword, the door was always on the latch.

Mrs. Hall who was in her 77th year, leaves the following children to mourn her loss: George H. Hall of Detroit; Mrs. W. D. Bain, of Wharton and Mrs. W. L. Richman, of Lindsay; Mrs. Frank Moore, Toronto; Mrs. H. S. Garbig, of Toronto (Peary) died in 1919 and Jack was drowned in 1903. There are also six grandchildren, namely: Mrs. Sharman (nee Bain) Jack, Donley, Tommy and Wilds Bain and Leslie Garbig of Toronto.

The body was placed in the Mausoleum at Meaford for interment, at Gordon cemetery in the spring.

Timely Tips

NEEDLEESS DISHWASHING

Save dishwashing by preparing your baked foods in glass dishes or pasteboard containers that are pretty enough to appear on the table.

If you have pasteboard or papier mache trays or baskets around the house, a coat of clear or tinted shellac will make them more durable and keep them form getting wobbly.

STICKY DISHES

When food sticks to the pan, add a little bicarbonate of soda in cold water and put the pan back on the stove to heat the water slowly. You may be surprised how much comes off without rubbing.

DRESS FLOWERS

Flowers are not being worn on evening gowns. If you want to refurbish your evening frock sew a garland of gardenias around the decolletage. These are called "set-in-sleeves" after the Hawaiian parties.

Gay Raincoats For Milady

The slicker, shining and slim look ing, is colorful in its bright yellow, red, green, lavender, even black. With this is formed an umbrella made of the same transparent waterproofed material. Provided with patent fastenings, the newer coats look something like slip-ons, fastening from neck to hem and fitting the curves closely to the figure. For those who have a penchant for matching from top to toe there are little slicker-like hats and shoes that harmonize in tone if not in actual shade.

The rubberized theme has been extended to hand bags. What looks something like patent leather is really rubber in pocketbook form. But for one's own bag there is a little case to be slipped over it to protect scratches.

While Americans usually walk on tiptoes to avoid splashing stockings, the Parisian is favoring new little gaiters, which can be donned over the shoes and are sufficiently high in back to protect the hosiery. These have patent fastenings, and are fashioned with a bit of fur around the top—equally as good for snow as rain. It goes without saying that Paris supplies these in colors to match either rain attire.

IN MEMORIAM

POWERS—In loving memory of Albert E. Powers, who died January 9th, 1930.

There are some who miss you sadly
And find the year long since you went.
There are some who miss you daily
Though we try to be brave and content.

Time moves on and we are reminded
Of a day our hearts were crushed
When God took you, oh, as quickly,
And we all in our gloom were thrust

Times may come and bring many changes
Fresh with every coming year.
But your memory we will cherish
In the hearts that loved you here.

Our lips cannot speak how we long
Our hearts cannot tell what to say
God only knows how we miss him
In a home that is lone-ome today.

The flowers we place upon your grave
May wither and decay
But the love and memory that you left
Will ever fade away.

Sadly missed by wife and family

England Works On New Planes

Development of Oil-Consuming Aeroplane Engines Being Vigorously Carried Out—Great Saving in Long-Distance Flight

LONDON, Jan. 14.—(By the Canadian Press)—Scientific research in British laboratories is leading to an event which will revolutionize aviation—the production of a petroleum-consuming aeroplane engine running on heavy oil instead of on volatile and inflammable spirit.

Power units of this type possess great advantages in aircraft operation, apart from the vastly diminished risk of fire. They consume less weight of fuel than a petrol engine and are far less complicated. Further, the successful engine of this type is certain to be more durable and to require less attention than even the best gasoline units.

The explosive mixture in the cylinders is fired simply by high compression without the intervention of spark plugs connected to a magneto or accumulator. Fuel economy in any kind of internal combustion engine depends to a large extent on the pressure at which the mixture is fired and the "compression-ignition" unit is accordingly less voracious of fuel than a petrol motor. The result is that although the oil engine is inevitably heavier than the petrol-consuming engine, it is much more economical on long flights. It is generally estimated that employing "compression-ignition" motors of weights which could be used in the present state of knowledge, an aeroplane would become more economical than a petrol-burning craft of equivalent horsepower after the first 10 hours of flight.

In this way the effective range of aircraft may be considerably increased without adding to the laden weight of the machine at the moment of ascent.

Within the last few days details have been revealed of work done under Air Ministry instructions in turning and has just begun test the conversion of certain types of running.

Rolls-Royce are engines to "compression-ignition" working. Experts at the Royal Aircraft Establishment, Farnborough, have designed special component parts for a "Condor" 650 horsepower unit, and, in its new guise, the engine has maintained steady and economical output of power. A second engine, in former power. A second engine, in form a converted "P" type unit developing in its normal petrol-burning shape about 500 horsepower) is being fitted with special parts for oil-

Maroons Beat Falcons, Take Second Place From Leafs

Second Position Is Taken From Leafs

Determined Montreal Team Win Five-Goal Verdict From Flashy Detroit Falcons

STEWART SCORES TWO

Quakers Lose to Canadiens; Rangers Tie Bruins; Hawks Blank Amerks; Indians are Beaten

MONTREAL, Jan. 14.—Montreal Maroons ended their losing streak at three games by defeating the Detroit Falcons in convincing fashion here last night, 6 goals to 1. The locals ran in two goals early in the first period, easily held off Detroit's determined, second period bid and ran riot in the last to push in four goals. The last couple came when Detroit had five men down the ice and Johnny Gallagher twice broke fast with an one to beat. He scored one himself and passed to Jimmy Ward for the other.

Goodfellow, the league's leading scorer, snapped in Detroit's only goal in the third period on a clever pass out by crafty Reg Noble.

Nels Stewart drew a glance to the leading scorers with two clever goals, one in the first and one in the last period. In both he was assisted by Hooley Smith, the pair working for position, and Stewart flashing his famous wrist shot on both occasions. The win allowed Montreal to jump over the idle Leafs into the second place, two points behind Canadiens.

The game was dull for long stretches with Detroit away below the championship form that showed here when last seen when they stopped Canadiens into the ice to take a 4 to 3 victory. Penalties were few but six being handed out during the game.

Maroons' scorers were Stewart 2, Phillips, Trottier, Gallagher and Ward, with assists going to Smith 2, Ward 2 and Gallagher.

FAST GAME

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 14—Philadelphia's Quakers, on a borrowed goalie held off the speedy Canadiens for more than a period and a half in a hockey game here last night, but in the end Cooper Smeaton's men were forced to take their twentieth defeat of the season. The final score was 3 to 0.

With both his regular goalers out of commission, Smeaton borrowed little Jake Forbes from the New Haven Eagles in the Canadian-American League. Jakie did a great job as he stopped everything that came his way until the second period when Canadiens scored against him were fast and hard. That the score was no higher is a credit to Forbes. The Quaker defense was plucky and rocky, but not scientifically perfect.

Shields scored for the Quakers in the fourth minute of the second period right-hander into the far corner of the net to tie the score.

Wasnie and Morenz combined to tally the winning goal in the fourth minute of the final period, the former setting on a pass from Morenz.

The Quakers started with a rush and carried the puck into the Montreal blue line, where several shots were fired at Benoit's cage but he was successful in keeping them out. Morenz and Joliat got in close, but there was no trouble for Forbes.

TWO-ALL TIE

BOSTON, Jan. 14.—The New York Rangers played great hockey here last night, but sensational goaltending by Tiny Tompson forced them to play an overtime 2 to 2 tie with the team they have been unable to defeat in three years. During the interval the Bruins had replaced Lester Patrick's men thirteen times and have been held to three ties.

The Bostons scored early and scored in less than five minutes when two of the starting forwards, "Dutch" Gainor and Cooney Weiland, combined on a rush, the former caging the puck. The Rangers tied the contest early in the second period when Cook broke into a scrimmage near the Boston net and scoring a pass out handled by both his brother Bun and Frank Boucher as the Rangers' centre man. During the same period the Bruins again went out in front when Shore carried inside of the Rangers' blue line, swung wide and passed over to Harry Oliver, who had trailed him down centre.

The Rangers put on a great burst of speed in the third session, and by keeping four and five players on the attack managed to break through the Bruins' tight defense and score the equalizing counter. Tompson, brother of the Boston goalie, broke through and tied a scoring pass to "Butch" Keeling. During the overtime the Rangers played the better hockey. They were on the aggressive throughout the session and Tiny Thompson's perfect backchecking kept the score deadlocked.

BLANK AMERKS

NEW YORK, Jan. 14.—The brilliant Chicago Black Hawks made a clean sweep of their two games here by New York and improved their place in the National Hockey League standings when they twice defeated the New York Americans, 1 to 0. The victory enabled the Hawks to grab a point on their rivals, the Boston Bruins and New York Rangers, who played a tie.

For more than fifty minutes the two teams battled on even terms, both of high-speed skating and hard, rough checking before the Hawks could break through to score the only goal. It came in a mass of an attack that started with the opening whistle and seldom let up to the finish. Johnny Sheards, little Chicago wingman, beat Gosler Roy Worters on a swift, close-in shot after having a pass relayed to him by defense mate, Teddy Graham, in a scrimmage near the net.

BEAT INDIANS

CLEVELAND, Jan. 14.—The Buffalo Bisons strengthened their hold on first place in the American Hockey League by defeating the Cleveland Indians, who dropped into the second place by the same score, being behind the Windsor Bulldogs. A crowd of 3,500 witnessed the game, which was featured by fast play.

The hard-charging Bisons took the lead in the first period when Bouchard made a mid-ice dash through the Indians defense. Lauder also scored what proved to be the winning point during the last period. Martin in the second period to beat Goaler Gordon Baxter. A few minutes later, Frew reduced the margin to one goal with a pretty individual drive to score Cleveland's only point of the evening.

Cleveland's reach in the final period, taking a pass from Gain near the Bisons' blue line. Then a scramble up and down the ice, Martin socked home the final point, with Graham and Lauder valiant assists to play. Bourdis, centre, got an assist.

TWO-GOAL WIN

WINDSOR, Jan. 14. — Detroit Olympics won their third straight defeat within four days, when they dropped a 4 to 2 decision to the Windsor Bulldogs in the last fourth International League game here last night. The home team won the game by outscoring the visitors 3 to 1 in the second period. The opening canto was scoreless and the final session produced one goal for each club.

Dunes beat Venne five minutes after the start of the second period, on a pass started by Lever and re-

First Senior Church Contest For To-Night

—Lindsay, Jan. 14.

TONIGHT THE FIRST of the inter-church games of this year is scheduled to go on when First United and St. Mary's last year's finalists, tangle in the opening tilt of the present season, from 6.30 until 7.30, in the Lindsay Steel Arena in what promises to be an entertaining bit of the brand of hockey the youngsters play. Both teams are strong, and last year displayed considerable class in their league contests, and any fan who hurries through his supper should not be disappointed with the game put up. Then on Saturday morning, starting at ten o'clock, First United Juniors and St. Mary's Juniors start their schedule off with their first game, and they should put up a spirited battle if nothing else. "Butler" Reeves, defenceman for the Wesleyans will handle the belt for all senior contests this season and he should keep the boys busy hockey all the time. Full schedules for both leagues are being drafted and will be published before the next games.

SHOTS AND REBOUNDS

What's Doing In Local Hockey

With inter-church senior hockey scheduled to start this evening at the Lindsay Steel Arena, the league being figured for an early start on Saturday morning, things look good in juvenile hockey.

Then the interscholastic group of Bobcaygeon, Peterboro and Lindsay and in which most of the local players are graduates or still students of the church league, is on the books to get going soon.

The Big Five League has swung into its long schedule with six games scheduled for this week, two being played so far has been close with plenty of good hockey displayed.

It has been rumored that there might be a place on one of those teams for Lindsay Goaler Bedrie's team who are not playing this year, who would like to get back to the game again. Good players are needed.

On Monday the juniors play their sixth scheduled game, and if they keep it up they are hoping to have a local junior group will be "in the bag," and that's all there will be in this junior group this year.

But the game is not won yet, and if the Midgets don't keep their feet on the ground it won't be won. Those other two towns, Fenelon and Bobcaygeon, both put strong teams on the ice, and they have been playing hockey for some years. Don't be surprised if they break right through.

On Monday the juniors play in Bobcaygeon and are taking the trip by bus. Manager Coley would like to know the names of fans who would like to take the trip, so that he can arrange for a bus big enough. All particulars can be obtained at the Benson House Barber Shop.

The Victorias' supporters who were feeling downcast that loss on Monday night can cheer up. This group is to be decided by a playoff of first and second round, and unless the dope is all wrong that will be Lindsay and Markham.

The locals should take Uxbridge and Markham should take Port Perry in their next two games. If they do that the Victorias and the teams will be entering the play-offs on an equal footing and on what a series they should be.

The one way the Vics can make sure of our nephew couldn't use is to trim Uxbridge, and if they go out there and work the way they should they should have no trouble doing it.

Well, I'll be seeing ya at the Uxbridge-Lindsay game Friday.

Schmeling To Fight "Young" Stribling

Winner Of Till In June Is To Meet Primo Carnera, Man-Mammoth, In September.

MAY BE DETROIT

NEW YORK, Jan. 14—Max Schmeling of Germany will defend his heavyweight title against W. L. ("Young") Stribling of Macon, Ga., next June, and the winner will face Primo Carnera, the Italian superspecimen, in September, under terms of a contract signed by the interested parties late today.

The three-cornered contract was signed on behalf of Schmeling, Stribling and Carnera with the Madison Square Garden Corporation of Illinois after a series of conferences in which one obstacle after another threatened to bring negotiations to a dead stop.

To Meet in June

Briefly the contract calls for Stribling and Schmeling to meet in June for the Illinois Corporation with the winner to defend in the bowl-lottery, and the winner to battle Carnera for the Illinois Corporation alone. A third bout stipulation was that the ultimate survivor of these two matches would defend the title for the title fund alone in 1933.

Neither the exact date nor the site for the Stribling-Schmeling bout was fixed, it was learned in touch with the situation understood that the third week in June had been decided upon and that the site would be either Jersey City or Detroit.

Selection of, Jersey City as the place for the battle depended, it was said, upon whether a new stadium to seat something like 100,000 persons would be built in time.

In the event that it is, the second match of the series, Carnera against Stribling or Schmeling, also might be held there.

If it is found that Jersey City cannot be selected, Detroit was understood to be the second choice. Some experts clung to the belief that before the selection is finally made, Chicago will be suggested as the logical place for the final Bolduer-Field in that city will accommodate a crowd of about 125,000 and was the scene of the record-breaking gate receipts of the late Tex Rickard's career—his second Dempsey-Tunney bout.

One odd quirk in the contract was included upon the insistence of representative, Leon See and Billy Duffy. They had inserted in the agreement a provision giving Stribling the right, should he win the championship to box at intervals of 30 days should he so desire. See and Duffy asserted that the big Venetian would want to box often, even should he defeat the title.

Neither Stribling nor Schmeling will engage in any bouts until they clash for the title.

The entrance of the Madison Square Garden Corporation of Illinois into the negotiations to bring about the first fight in the world since the New York Garden the official wrath of the New York State Athletic Commission was made known today when they are under suspension in this state and a commission rule provides for the suspension of any promoter or organization which deals with him or on the ineligible list.

Separate Situation

Bill Carey of the Madison Square Garden Corporation of New York said he can put in no negotiations. He maintained that the Illinois Corporation is a separate organization with a perfect legal right to deal with any boxer, so long as it obeys the rules and regulations of the Illinois Athletic Commission. Just what answer the New York Commission will make to this claim remains to be seen. Its attitude last night were that some action would be forthcoming when the solons next assemble.

The Illinois Corporation was organized by Rickard to handle the second Dempsey-Tunney bout, promoter of friendliness to the Illinois Boxing Commission.

One of the most interesting angles to the heavyweight situation was the complete exclusion of Jack Sharkey from the opening period. Steve Rice scored when after 10 minutes' play he showed in the rebound off Blanchard's shot. A bumping duel between "Red" Moore and Davey started early in the period and terminated by "Red" taking the count in the collision just before the gong and Davey drawing a penalty.

VICTORIAS' PRACTICE STARTS AT 10 O'CLOCK

—Lindsay, Jan. 14.

TONIGHT senior hockey league seniors start off on their season when St. Mary's intermediate practice will be held from ten until eleven instead of from 7.00 to 7.30 as in the past. The church leagues wants the ice for their games from 6.30 until 7.30 and from then on there will be public skating, on the only way the Vics can get in that much needed practice is to take it after closing time between ten and eleven o'clock, which seems to be a very good idea and one which has been assigned as definite practice hours for teams in other centres. Remember at ten o'clock tonight, everyone is expected to be down there ready to go, for a short snappy practice before the game with Uxbridge on this Friday night.

Burton sailor man from the picture. The New York Commission, when it recently relieved Schmeling of his title in this State, designated Sharkey as the outstanding contender, and announced it would recognize as champion the winner of a match between Schmeling and Stribling.

Financial arrangements for the Schmeling-Stribling bout call for the usual percentages, 27 1-2 per cent. to the champion and 12 1-2 to Stribling.

Shipping Eggs

LONDON, Jan. 14—(By The Canadian Press)—Regular shipments of Australian eggs have arrived in the ports of Great Britain since the season opened in October, 1930, says Sir Granville Ryrie, high commissioner for Australia in London. Sir Granville says it is anticipated that altogether 200,000 cases, each case containing 30 dozen eggs, will be imported into this country before the season ends this month. This will be 50,000 more cases than the shipments in the previous year.

"Australian eggs," Sir Granville Ryrie states, "come on the British market at a time when home supplies are at their lowest. Despite the fact that they are transported more than 12,000 miles the eggs arrive in such perfect condition that they are sold for table purposes and not as 'cookers.' Australian eggs are all graded under government supervision before export, and the demand for this season's shipments has been far in excess of the supply."

The Australian high commissioner adds that this is the sort of encouragement the Dominion producers require, and the Australian poultry farmers, heartened by the success of this year's shipments, will confidently continue to develop the trade with Great Britain.

PORT COLBORNE, Jan. 14—Port Colborne O.H.A. seniors won by 1—0 from Hamilton here last night, and thereby assumed the leadership of the senior A. group, relegating Typos to second place. The game, which was played in an arena jammed to the doors, provided lots of thrills for the fans. Three times the red light flashed on behind the Hamilton net, and twice the goal was not counted. The third time it came with ten minutes of the third period gone, when Mountain went up right wing, semi-over a perfect pass to Morrill, waiting in front of the goal, who tapped it in.

Port Colborne had the better of the play during the entire game, and except for the marvellous game Marsh turned in Hamilton nets, the score would have been larger. Moore, the Port goaler, was called on infrequently, but he handled all his smoothly.

In the third period, with Hamilton one man short, Port scored their goal. Even with their lead, Port Colborne continued to press, and it was not until about three minutes from the end that Hamilton could throw their attack into high gear. With two and a half minutes to go, Morrill was sent off for tripping Marsh, and was sitting in the penalty box when the final whistle blew.

Nats Win

TORONTO, Jan. 14—In a fast, hard-scrapping O.H.A. senior game at the U. of T. Arena last night the National Yacht Club "Sea Fleas" defeated University of Toronto, 3 to 1. It was the first appearance of the students since their return from the United States, and they surprised the critics by holding the National even on the night's play. At one time the Blue and White held a two-goal lead, when Mueller, in the Fleas' nit, missed a long shot from the stick of Freddy Murray shortly after the start of the second period. His advantage was short-lived, however, as the Fleas came right back and ran in three goals in the same period. The first and last frames were goalless, although both teams had chances. After shooting to score owing to weak work when close in to the nets. Ames and Moeller each had several saves of the lucky variety. The Blue netminder played a great game, however, while his rebound rival at the other end of the rink was not up to form in making many of his stops.

Plan Meet

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa, Jan. 14—(By The Canadian Press)—The Administrator of the Transvaal has consented an important conference to be held at which delegates from the Medical Association of South Africa will be present. Discussions will centre on radium distribution and potentialities of propaganda for the prevention of cancer.

Meanwhile private researches by a leading South African doctor have led him to the conclusion that the partial failure of one or more diarrhoea glands will predispose adults powerfully to cancer, and consequently that application of the radium item will be found in future developments of endocrinology.

Big handicap in that injuries had weakened the strength of the squad in the practice before the game Dewar, their husky defense man, crashed head-on into Smillie, his partner on the rearguard, and had to have three stitches in his cheek. He played only a few minutes of the game. Harley, regular right-winger, was also on the sick list, and his absence left a big gap.

The winners had the advantage in speed throughout, and although their combination might have been better, they showed more finish around the nets. They were subjected to some strenuous bodychecking by the whitehead-Smillie defense, and toward the end of the final period play began to get rough, and Referee Jacobi handed out six penalties, displaying considerable leniency at that. Nugent and Paul, on the Fleas' defense, also starred for the opposition continually, but the Students usually tried to go around them rather than through them.

dling law-breakers are used, with the result that when they are released from confinement, they have a chance to make their way in the world without having to resort to their former practices.

For this purpose the parole board was formed some years ago, and is administered in a non-political way in which every person has a chance. If the prisoner's conduct during part of his confinement merits it, the parole board looks over his case, and in the majority of times releases him before his time is up, provided of course, that a job of some kind awaits him, so that he has a fair chance to get along.

Out of 1998 prisoners interviewed by the Ontario Parole Board last year, about twelve hundred of this number were paroled, and not ten per cent. of the latter have since got into trouble.

Give Them a Chance

In the work of crime-prevention, a spirit of respect for the law should be instilled, and those persons handicapped in some way or other through life should be given a chance to make their way through life honestly. Groups of crippled children and orphans are by-product grounds for criminals, and it is the duty of communities to do everything in their power to help these unfortunates in any way possible.

In this line of work, the speaker said, no institution or organization is doing better work than the Kiwanis and Rotary Clubs, and Mr. Macauley expressed the appreciation of his department of the government for the assistance received from these service clubs located throughout the province.

The vote of thanks to the speaker was moved by Kiwanian B. L. McLean and extended by Bill Allely, vice-president of the Kiwanis Club.

Another Chapter For His "Book of Brides"?

Dame Rumour, silent for so long about the matrimonial affairs of H.R.H. the Prince of Wales, is sowing [illegible] timber up her artillery in preparation for another barrage of conjecture; for Prince David [illegible] another trip. The Prince is not, as one would expect, annoyed at the attentions of "Dame Rumour" for the contrary, every scrap of gossip she has promulgated concerning him and "his brides-to-be" has been saved and carefully filed for inclusion in the most interesting volume in the royal library. H.R.H. calls this his "Book of Brides." Above is an excellent photograph of the popular Prince of Wales surrounded by portraits of some of the more important "brides-to-be." So we will leave "Dame Rumor" to the task of oiling her tongue muscles for her next campaign in which she will doubtless provide another entry in the "Book of Brides."

Mr. Macauley speaks To 1st United Men

his gratitude on the Board and members of the congregation for all their many kindnesses to him throughout the years.

Mr. Walter Resor, the treasurer of the Church requested Mr. James Boxall, who was seated beside him to come forward. He then read to Mr. Boxall a beautiful illuminated address (which is in itself a work of art) expressing the high esteem in which he is held by the church as a whole and appreciative of the long years of service and devotion to all the activities of the church. He was a man whom the Church delights to know and whose name and good work would never be forgotten. Mr. Boxall was taken completely by surprise, but rose magnificently to the occasion with words of gratitude and thanks to the Board and congregation of the church which he loved.

Mr. C. E. Weeks in an eloquent address bristling with imaginary and descriptive expressions featured the high tone of loyal devotion which Mr. Boxall had rendered to his Church and hoped that as the ever-ending shadows of life lengthened that his last days might be his mightiest days.

Mr. W. W. Staples introduced the honored guest and principal speaker of the evening, The Hon. Leopold Macauley, provincial secretary of the Province of Ontario.

Mr. Macauley being an old Lansdowne boy and member of this Sabbath School in boyhood days spoke of his great pleasure in returning to his old home and meeting so many of his old boy friends. In an eloquent address he spoke of the activities of the department of government in this province which he had the honor to preside. He outlined new constructive ideals for the reformation of those who had run foul of the law. Treatment of such persons should be corrective not punitive alone. Even with criminals if these individuals who through lack of proper home training and proper environment had gone astray, could be refitted with new and correct ideals of life, how many men and women who would otherwise be lost to society would be turned into good citizens.

He condemned the very unsatisfactory conditions found in the gaols of the province and hoped that public opinion would support the different municipalities in improving these conditions. He complimented goaled H. Stone and his assistants of the gaol there and hoped that the many objectionable features regarding the layout of the gaol would be improved.

His address was listened to with rapt attention and was loudly applauded.

Dr. Fred Logan expressed the thanks of all present to the Hon. Mr. Macauley for his very interesting and instructive address.

Rev. Dr. Holling, pastor of the church also spoke of the delight the First Association had in having the Hon. Mr. Macauley present, on this most interesting occasion.

Col. G. E. Weeks, chairman of the Athletic Committee on behalf of the Men's Association, who presided most acceptably during the evening, outlined the aims and objects of the Association and thanked all who had contributed towards making the evening the pronounced success that it was.

MINDEN

MINDEN, Jan. 14—(Staff Correspondence)—The newly elected township council held its first meeting for this year in the courtroom here yesterday.

Mr. J. Herald of the Bank of Commerce is a business visitor in Toronto.

The members of the Ten Taken Club held their usual weekly meeting in the church basement on Monday evening last. The large and enthusiastic crowd present showed the interest being taken in the "new" member contest."

The meeting opened by a hymn and prayer followed by the bible passage read responsively and a discussion on the lesson. The last question answered by thirty five with a Scripture text.

Evelyn Rogers gave a talk on "Jack Miner's" Lecture. Wonderful read an interesting account of "The Wreck of the Titanic" and Lloyd Smith played some flute music, all of which were enjoyed. Another hymn was then sung and a social hour spent.

"Gringo Privateer"

By Peter B. Kyne

SYNOPSIS

Kenneth Burney, adventurer and one-time gentleman, comes to Brad ley Bardin, King of the cattle country, for a job. Burney has had a fight with Martin Bruce a rival cattle owner who has been stealing the King's stock, aided by Miguel Gallegos, a Mexican bandit. The King, liking young Burney, makes him general manager of the ranch on condition that he put Bruce and Gallegos out of the way. Burney meets Bruce, who has sworn to kill him. They both draw their guns, but Burney outwits the wily old cattle thief.

Meanwhile Muriel Bardin, beautiful daughter of the King, becomes more interested in Burney than she cares to admit. She tries to persuade her father not to let Burney tackle the cattle thieves. But Burney continues to lay his plans for the battle that is sure to come.

CHAPTER 15

Ken Burney telephoned the Kings: "I want to borrow your car for the day."

"Sorry, Ken. I haven't one, but I'll ask my daughter to loan you hers. Wait a minute."

The minute passed and then Muriel Bardin came on the line. "Father tells me you want to borrow my car, Mr. Burney?"

"If you please, Miss Muriel, provided it's a five-passenger one."

"It is. What do you want it for and where do you wish to go?"

"Want it for a murder can. I'm going into Mexico," he replied jocosingly.

"You can't have it."

"Not to save me a forty-mile ride on horseback to Huachita?"

"No."

"You have a heart of stone," he replied and hung up. Half an hour later she saw him, on his pinto horse accompanied by three heavily armed riders, pass down the road in front of the king's castle. He waved at her; she shook her small fist at him, whereat he drew a carbine from the saddle boot and exhibited it. "I may never come back," he called.

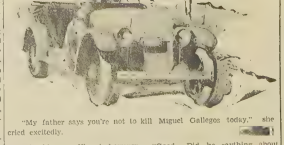
"Who cares?" she cried back.

"I do," the king from his seat on the eastern veranda reminded her. "Seems to me you're unnecessarily chatty toward that boy."

"When you get through with him, Dad, you should buy him a first-class passage to China and give him a letter of introduction to Chang-tso-lin. Chang could doubtless use him at a huge salary to murder missionaries."

"Is that so?" said the king. "Well, well, well. Notice that horse he was riding? That's the one you fall heir to after Burney's been killed."

"I shall not accept him. What are he and those three ruffians with him going to do now?"



"My father says you're not to kill Miguel Gallegos today," she cried excitedly.

"I should say, offhand, however, that he's going down to El Cajon Bonita to bump off Miguel Gallegos."

"Oh, Dad, this is dreadful."

"Interesting, at any rate."

"You must stop him."

The king dropped his chin on his breast and commenced to snore loudly.

"Then I'll stop him," the girl cried.

His Majesty opened one eye and gazed upon his progeny. "Why?"

"I don't want him to kill Miguel Gallegos."

"That the only reason?"

"Why?"

"Because—"

"Who cares?" he taunted her and commenced to snore again. Muriel commenced to weep. "Hey! Hey!" said the king. He was instantly distressed. "Very well, honey. You hope into your car and overtake Sir Knight and tell him your father says he is not to kill Miguel Gallegos today unless Miguel Gallegos kills him first; in which event I imagine those three roodles with him will take care of Gallegos."

Ten minutes later Ken Burney and his riders pulled off to one side of the road to let a car go by. To Ken's amazement it stopped and Muriel Bardin was in it.

"My father says you're not to kill Miguel Gallegos today," she cried excitedly.

He touched two fingers to his forehead in the Oriental sign of fealty. "I hear and I obey. I hadn't intended killing him today, anyhow."

"And you are not to permit him to kill you, either, Mr. Burney."

He turned to his men. "Boys, you hear that? Guard me well. My respectful compliments to His Majesty and tell him, please, that I'm be back when I return."

He lifted his hat and rode on, but not before the girl had detected a mocking light in his black eyes and a shrewd little smile on his humorous, wide mobile mouth. Furious, she returned to the king.

"Well," he greeted her, "what did he say?"

"He said he'd obey."

"Good. Did he anything about laying off Martin Bruce?"

"No."

"Gosh, I forgot to tell you to tell him to lay off Martin. He's gone to Huachita and Martin and some of his braves are there, I hear. My, my, I'm afraid I'm liable to lose my new general manager before I've even had a chance to break him in. There's only one thing that will comfort me for his loss, however, and that is the death of Martin Bruce." He sighed and tucked in his napkin. "We will hope for the best," he added piously.

His daughter gazed at him in wide-eyed horror and left the room.

At Huachita, about four o'clock, Ken Burney and his bodyguard put their horses up at the livery stable, and in single file walked up the middle of the street to the International Hotel. On the front porch Martin Bruce sat with two friends, discussing cattle and the weather. He eyed the approaching quartet, decided he was outnumbered and nodded affably to Ken Burney, who came up alongside and said arrogantly:

"Mr. Bruce, you're leaving town at once. I can't feel comfortable in Huachita with you here, too, so take the next train west if you care to pull out under your own power."

"I was goin' to take the next train west anyhow, son," Bruce replied evenly, "but just for that I'm going to stay and see how you like it." His blue eyes bored upward at Burney from under his shaggy eyebrows to the veriest typro it would have been apparent he meant exactly what he said; that he preferred to stay and die, fighting an army, rather than leave town under compulsion.

"You four-flusher," he continued "whun dude ranch did you hail from? The idea of a half-baked desperado like you trying to drive Martin Bruce out of town? Think you and your bodyguard," and he directed a thin stream of tobacco juice down one leg of Ken Burney's pants, "can 'Go home and tell your mother to wipe your nose."

Ken Burney started at the terrible old man for a few seconds, then turned to his men. "Well, I guess I'll let him stay, boys," he announced, "seeing he's so set on having his own way."

Bruce laughed softly as Burney and his men entered the hotel. The bodyguard looked at the new general manager somewhat askance. It was plain that they did not think well of him, for in public he had warned an enemy to leave town or take the consequences, and when that enemy had replied with a contemptuous refusal, he had backed down. To their direct and primitive way of thinking, he did, indeed, require a bodyguard, nor were they at all pleased to have been appointed to that task. Plainly, Boss was a general manager who might, conceivably, embroil them in a foolless fight. They cursed aside, in low voices discussing Ken Burney while he registered their names and his; then he joined them.

"Come on up to my room," he ordered, and they followed sullenly. He herded them in before him and closed the door. "You are entitled to an explanation of my extraordinary conduct, boys," he began. "You heard me pull off a boob play——threw a monumental bluff on a man who wouldn't be bluffed. Well, I played it in ignorance. Whether that old coyote's faults, a lack of animal courage isn't one of them, I don't know; high pride; he has a reputation for courage and audacity to sustain, and his record both as a citizen and as a peace officer has earned him that reputation fairly. He eyed me as if I back water. I had to. I was the aggressor and if I had killed him it would have been tried for murder and, doubtless, convicted. Besides, he had two friends with him and one of them didn't look to me like a preacher who was the big dark man on his left?"

"That was Miguel Gallegos," one of his bodyguard replied.

"I had a suspicion it might be. But no matter. Bruce would have fought if I had resented his spitting upon me; he would have taken a chance on beating me to the draw. Knowing his friend, Gallegos, would help. And the other man, too, for all I know."

Genuine Gratitude Compels Tribute.

Mr. Victor Hills, of Thornton Heath, writes:—"For many years I was suffered with that distressing complaint—constipation, and its allied effects of sick-headache and indigestion. It was a red-letter day for me when a friend recommended a treatment of Carter's Little Liver Pills, and I can honestly say results have been truly marvellous. I now enjoy good health of that life is worth living. Indeed I have experienced cause to add my sincere tribute to Carter's Little Liver Pills. I dreaded the red pills when I found Carter's Little Liver Pills.

The Civil Service was called upon for the execution of policies which originate with political parties, and are endorsed by the electorate and by Parliament These policies may involve the extension of the machine of government in order to carry them out; they may be a source of irritation to the individual citizen, but surely it is very unreasonable, not to say unfair, to put the blame, if blame there is to be, on the shoulders of the civil service."

BOBCAYGEON, Jan. 15—(Staff Correspondence)—The regular meeting of the Young People's Society of Trinity United Church was held in the S. S. Room on Wednesday evening, with at attendance of 35.

Mr. Mosure, President, opened the meeting with singing and prayer. Minutes of last meeting were read and approved. In the absence of Mr. Lewis, convener of the Missionary department, Mr. Mosure took the chair. Mr. Jack Staples gave the Scripture reading from Psalm 96.

Miss Margery Henderson gave two very delightful piano solos.

Miss Grace Robinson gave the topic of the evening on "The Life and work of Dr. Grenfell and his great missionary work in Newfoundland," which was both very interesting and instructive. The meeting closed with singing and prayer.

Catching Herron

One day this week a number of young lads were noticed on an old snow tied in the canal, with fishing lines and when questioned they said they were catching herring that generally come up in the fall but never in the month of January in a number of families had fresh fried fish for dinner.

Mrs. D. Marshall and daughter, of Toronto, attended the funeral of Mr. T. A. Mills on Tuesday.

Explosion Spreads Fire As Gas Lines Blow Up; Damage Not Yet Estimated

IN SHOOTING GALLERY

Four Families Immediately Move All Household Goods As Fire Threatens Homes

PETERBORO, Ont., Jan. 15. (Special to The Post by C.P.).—Fire early this morning swept three small stores in the centre of the city and completely gutted part of two top floors of an apartment house which adjoinited the stores. The fire started in an old shooting gallery and spread rapidly into the adjoining stores and the Charisboro apartment house.

The fire had gained considerable headway before the firemen arrived. There had been an explosion which shook the surrounding building and is thought to have been caused by the gas lines.

In an instant the top story of the apartment house was thick with smoke and considerable difficulty was experienced in rescuing the two families. Four other families immediately moved all their household effects from the apartment, and it was not long until the flames had gutted the part of the two top storeys.

The flames were only stopped from getting into the adjoining apartments by a fire wall which was built several years ago.

The fire was fought with the thermometer registering 13 below zero. Huge blocks of ice formed as the water struck the building and it was with great difficulty that the firemen were able to control the flames.

Estimate of the damage has not yet been made.

Worked Hard

Much of the credit for getting the Little Britain fire under control Tuesday night should go to the Little Britain firemen for it was they who kept it from spreading to the homes until the Lindsay firemen arrived with the motor pumper. The Oakwood firemen were also on hand but could not do as much as the others as their hose had frozen. The firemen all worked together and the united efforts were all tinst kept the loss as low as it was.

Newspapermen Must Obey Orillia's Mayor—Sez Mayor

Yesterday He Had Cop Put Them Out of Meeting and said: "See How They Obey Me."

ORILLIA, Jan. 15—Toronto or town reporters will have to leave Orillia Council Chamber upon the instant their ap ddmg is asked by Mayor A. B. Andrew or will be escorted to the clink instead of the corridor, as you were yesterday," according to the mayor, who further requests that this statement be published

Being assured that the hesitancy shown by reporters to leave his company was on account to fear of his authority, but rather amazement and a wish to view the reaction of his Council, his Worship continued: "Just let it happen again. It will be the sorriest day or your life. I am mayor of this town and reporters must obey me."

Conversation occurred at the close of a special meeting of Council called to discuss plans in connection with a proposed drainage scheme, which was marked by Toronto reporters, at the order of the mayor, being escorted from the Council Chamber by the chief of town police

Oshawa Doesn't Believe In Man Who Gives Cans Of Liquor Free

OSHAWA, Jan. 16—Santa Claus may be all right in Santa Claus but he is not recognized by the Oshawa Police Court so far as the L.C.A. is concerned, decided Magistrate T. K. Creighton, in convicting William Frederick on a charge of illegal possession of liquor and imposing a fine of $200 and costs. Frederick's arrest followed a raid by the Oshawa police when several gallons of alcohol and a quantity of beer was discovered hidden in a double wall of a shed at the rear.

Frederick denied all knowledge of the booze and produced his henchman, Alex Billose who claimed own ership. He explained the alcohol by declaring that a dark and unknown man had given it to him one night several months ago. Answering the bench Billose stated that he had worked for Frederick as a general help for years for no definite wages but received his board, clothes and spending money.

"We've heard too much about this mysterious man who goes around giving away alcohol and liquor," remarked the magistrate. "He appears to be a sort of Santa Claus who gives his presents in gallon tins. I'm afraid I can't believe in him."

Canada's Giant Crane

A gate-lifting crane, said to be one of the most powerful pieces of machinery of its kind in the world, has recently been installed at Port Weller the Lake Ontario entra nce to the new Welland Ship Canal. This huge crane (above) is capable of lifting vertically 500 tons, and has been constructed at a cost of $1,500,000 for use in case of emergency to lift the huge canal lock gates, including those at Thorold, each leaf of which weighs 500 tons.

Canada Says Farewell To Willingdon Party

Leave Quebec Today For St. John, N.B., Where They Take Boat To England

STOP IN ENGLAND

OTTAWA, Jan. 15—Ottawa said "good-bye and good luck" to Their Excellencies Viscount and Viscountess Willingdon yesterday. In the brightness of a sparkling, sharp Canadian Winter day, prominent representatives of the political, diplomatic, business and social worlds of the Dominion gathered at noon to bid farewell to the Governor-General and his wife who, for more than four years, have lived among the Canadian people.

Bright uniforms of the soldiers who constituted travelling escort and guard of honor for Their Excellencies, flags and bunting, and a large wreath of beautiful roses with its message of "good luck," added color to the scene.

The departure took place about 20 minutes after 12 o'clock. Headed by Rt. Hon. R. B. Bennett, Prime Minister, members of the Dominion Cabinet were present to shake hands of Viscount and Viscountess Willingdon for the last time. Rt. Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King, Liberal leader, Hon. G. Howard Ferguson, newly-appointed High Commissioner for Canada in Great Britain, Hon. Vincent Massey, former Canadian minister to Washington, representatives of foreign governments in Ottawa, and others prominent in various walks of life in the Dominion were among the crowd who gathered at the station.

Merger Of Canadian Telegraph

Plan To Unite Systems So Operations Can Be Cut To Minimum Rates

ENDS DUPLICATION

MONTREAL, Jan. 15—Amalgamation in a $40,000,000 corporation of the respective commercial telegraph systems of the Canadian Pacific Railway and the Canadian National Railways is being considered by the two parties. The Canadian Press understands the proposal has also been put before the Dominion Government at Ottawa. This is the much larger idea behind the statement in Ottawa on Monday of Sir Basil Blackett, Chairman of Imperial and International Communications Limited, "that the Canadian Pacific and Canadian National should become partners with the I. C. O. in forming a Canadian overseas communications company, which shall include the Canadian Marconi Company."

Advantages and Disadvantages.

The suggested amalgamation presents obvious advantages and not less obvious disadvantages. Economically there would be the saving in the present duplication from coast to coast in equipment and personnel, but more important would be the advantages of a strong all-Canadian corporation, able to meet competition and hold its own against all comers. For instance of the two Canadian commercial telegraph companies is really independent, because each is necessarily allied and more or less dependent upon one or other of the rival United States communication groups, the Western Union and the Postal, which again results in the bulk of overseas business going through foreign rather than British channels.

This strong corporation could operate at a much lower cost, and, therefore, at lower rates to the permanent advantage of the Canadian public. At the present time eight commercial telegraph companies are doing across the Canadian Continent, and a message to pass from one to another and beyond means a multiplication of rates, constituting a heavy toll on the economic life of the country.

Tabby Tries Tree As Dog Barks And Won't Come Down

Lindsay, Jan. 15.

SHOWING ALL THE changeability of her kind, a tabby cat, perched in a maple tree on Head Street—largely while the neighbors were becoming frightened of its freezing, took one look at the dog which had come with an extension ladder to rescue her, made a curious spitting noise, expressing contempt of the best four-legged brute of this town, and retreated further out of their reach in search of peace and quiet, where she was left by her disgusted would-be rescuers. The cat had been forced there by a story messgrel dog in the early morning, and showed no inclination to come down. But the dog's hoarses nearly were afraid that it would be frozen and asked the fire-men if they had a ladder long enough to rescue the tabby. They did, and being kind souls, went to the spot with their equipment, and then, after wrestling with the ungainly ladder and getting it into place to the tree, brought the tabby down. Miss Tabby dismissed their efforts on her behalf and went further up the tree for out of their reach, and such is gratitude.

Only two of seven girls failed to finish an eighteen mile roller skating race at Birmingham, England, whereas nine out of eighteen men dropped out.

GOOD TRIP DOWN

—By G. H. W.—

We have been in St. Petersburg about a month. Not being in a hurry, we took our time coming, reaching here on the eighth day after leaving Lindsay, without delay or accident of any kind, not even having to change a tire.

The roads were very good with the exception of about fifty miles in New York State, where there was about six inches of snow. On one winding hill of about a mile in length we had to put chains on as it was very slippery.

In conversation with people en route, in hotels, etc., we were congratulated many times on the apparent prosperity of Canada in comparison to the financial crisis in the United States at present, and it seems to be the general opinion that our banking system push be superior to theirs, for more than 1500 banks have closed in the past year. Pupils Don't Have To Take Strapping From Teacher

Toronto Pupils Can Refuse to Take Strap From Teacher But Will Be Suspended if They Do

ELIMINATES FORCE

TORONTO, Jan. 15—Strappings shall not be given Toronto school pupils by force. If they refuse to take corporal punishment they are to be suspended, and may not return to school until accompanied by their parent or guardian, when the strapping might or might not be administered at the discretion of the principal.

These are the instructions being sent out to principals yesterday by Chief Inspector D. D. Mosher.

"Similar instructions have gone to the schools in the past, but they will be repeated in standing orders," said the chief inspector. "The board of education's by-laws state that corporal punishment may be applied by the principal, and that shall be followed unless the board rules otherwise."

At this arises out of the case of Samuel Moore, 14, of 171 Glenmount Rr., Roden public school pupil, who was strapped by a teacher last Friday after he refused to hold out his hand to take the punishment. The teacher claims Moore was holding the boy's hand out for him and strapping him on the back of it until he opened it after three strokes, but denies the father's allegation that the lad was thrown down on a couch and held there by another teacher.

Chief Inspector Mosher stated the lad asked to be allowed to remain at Roden school and that his request will be granted, although the teacher demanded that he be transferred to Bowmore Rd. school.

LEADERLESS BLIND PIGGY GETS ALONG—WHY NOT US?

A perambulating blind pig is causing more than a little comment in Little Britain, and it has given The Post a story that should be of more than ordinary interest—especially of pig lovers; not lovers of ham, or of pork, but of pig, in its natural, undefiled and lively state. And when we say blind pig we don't mean the Canadian equivalent of speak-easy; we mean that the pig was born without eyes. Mr. Fred Snelgrove, the owner, developed a great liking for the little big because it fought so hard against circumstances and put all its other faculties into full use to fill its little stomach. In only one thing was the pig given a lucky break—it had many brothers and sisters, and it used to get along fairly well using its ears to follow them, using its nose to locate food, and, as is always safe in the case of pig or man, letting nature do the rest. But one day the little pig went to market or something or other. At any rate it became separated from its brothers and sisters and was lost since there was no noise for it to follow home. For two weeks they searched for it, but without avail. Then, one day, the little pig trotted home all alone. It had found its way home somehow! The little pig, however neglected to mention where it had been. Perhaps it is just as well.

Fenelon Is In Fear Of Drought

Wells On Hills Are Full and Those in Low Parts Are, In Many Cases Dry

CURLING BEGINS

FENELON FALLS, Jan. 15—Staff Correspondence) Many springs that were never known to be dry are without water. Farmers are compelled to drive their stock for miles to get a drink.

A very peculiar thing about the situation is that the low lying places are apparently the most affected. On one of the highest points in Verulam Township, if not the highest, in Mr. Fred. Stewart's farm, his well at the house which is situated on what is commonly known as Moffatt's Hill, has twelve feet of water in it, and at the farm also on high ground he has an abundance of water for his large stock. The neighbours with Mr. Stewart daily to get their domestic supply. Mr. Thos. Cook states that it is the first time the springs on their farm have ever been without water, and Mr. Cook has seen a few dry spells.

Women's Auxiliary Meets

The January meeting of the Women's Auxiliary of St. James Anglican Church was held at the home of Mrs. A. M. Robson, on Thursday afternoon. Curling Begins

The new curling rink at Fenelon Falls saw its initial rocks thrown in the boards' Game on Tuesday evening, Jan. 13.

The season seems somewhat advanced for this opening game but soft ice has been the handicap, consequently other dates set had to be postponed.

But as the reason for winter sports usually stretches out well at the end of March no doubt the concerned will have ample opportunity to participate.

Play for the Brandon Cup has started and A. J. Gould's rink played against Dr. G. C. Graham and won, while Dr. F. M. Graham's lost by that of Mr. Ed. Kelly. The following composed the rinks: D. Kelly, E. McKendry, A. E. Tiers, A. J. Gould (skip.) vs. Wm. Kelly, Mac Fell Rev. A. E. Davis, Dr. G. C. Graham, (sk.); A. Walker, F. Jackson, W. J. Gurney, Wm. Hall (sk.) Smith, Dr. F. M. Graham (sk.) Mr. Robertson, J. B. Mackay, Moo-Smith, Dr. Fred Graham (sk.)

A sale of Western horses at Rugon-Bros farm, in North Verulam, was well attended on Wednesday afternoon. Sales were ready and prices ranged from $40 to $60.

DOES CREDIT TO FLYER IF TRUE

(Niagara Falls Review)

Wonder if there is much of truth in the story told by one of Spain's flying rebels, who says that the presence of children in the royal gardens in Madrid restrained his dropping a bomb which might not only have killed them, wrecking the palace, but also started a general uprising of the people. He claims that, because of the children at play, he could not bring himself to release the bomb.

If the story is true it does credit to the humanity, for there is little of chivalry and kindness in warfare.

DROWNING A DUCK

(Stratford Beacon-Herald)

Many people have we held of a duck being drowned because the water was too deep, but it took place in the city of Copenhagen it is stated that the ducks were of the indoor variety, bred for show purposes, and used to puddling around in three or four inches of water. It is also said there was very little water on their feathers.

The other day this duck got into a deep pond and was drowned. There was no stone tied about its neck and no one was charged with murder. It just went down because it was too accustomed to deep water.

There are somewhat similar cases. Some men once caught in a little bit of trading of some sort or another and have managed to get along. They have been caught up with the idea that they could succeed where others have failed and, like the duck, have been drowned financially.

A salesman said to him later, entered a druggist's office.

"Have you any creams for restoring the complexion?"

And accordingly the woman left a bottle of complexion cream.

Oh!" said the squire. "Well, perhaps you will take a glass of Chateau Yquem." There was no occasion for Chateau Yquem," replied the parson in a solemn voice. "Well," said the squire, desperate and final effort, "would you take a whiskey and soda then?" "There is no occasion for the soda," said the parson. And all was well.

Robert grunted.

That Body of Yours

By James W. Barton, M.D.

CLASSIFYING AND TREATING ASTHMA

Perhaps you or one of your family is afflicted with asthma and have been reading from time to time that asthma is now curable.

You may have tried some of the newer methods of treatment-cutting down on certain foods, operations on nose and throat; the use of certain vaccines, X-ray treatments, ultra violet rays—and have had no satisfactory results.

Why?

Because although the above and other methods have cured many cases, every case of asthma is a law unto itself and must be treated accordingly.

In reviewing many cases of asthma, Dr. G. B. Rice, Boston, tells us that Dr. Burton Haseltine, Chicago, and Dr. Jas. Adam, Glasgow, Scotland both arrived at the same conclusion about the same time and that is that asthma is a poisoning due to organisms or other poisonous matter in the system.

This poisoned condition of the system interferes with the proper balance of the nerves, pulls to the bronchial tubes, alters the chemical condition of the blood and produces irritation of the stomach, liver or causes anything the back part of the nose.

And the interesting result of this poisoning may be to cause pain in the chest, irritate adjoining the nose or the nose bladder and interfere constipation and the fatherof the body to get rid of its wastes properly; errors of diet and unfavorable living conditions or climate.

Dr. A. LaFleur, Chicago, divides asthma into two divisions or categories (a) anything of an constitutive nature in region of nose and throat, such as polypus or inflammation of the sinuses (b) anything which may be present in the system, tonsilitis bad teeth, inflamed gall bladder and so forth (c) anything that interferes with getting rid of wastes—constipation, kidney or skin conditions (d) gall stones, chronic appendicitis, ovaries, etc. Sometimes like asthma but where the shortness of breath is due to heart, kidney or lung troubles.

What about treatment?

This must be done by a physician and a nose and throat specialist working together. The patient is built up physically a dumbbell built up physically and where the treatment is likely to be prolonged, hospital treatment for two or three weeks is given.

Hot packs to induce sweating, drinking ten to fifteen glasses of water daily; cleansing the large intestine by high injection, and the use of intestinal tract antiseptics and silver nitrate solution for the two nasal and are surgical operation is then performed.

Acute attacks of asthma are treated with adrenalin.

Results show that this classification of cases and treatment give most satisfactory results.

"THE SQUEALER" COMING HERE WITH JACK HOLT IN NEW ROLE

Dorothy Revier Stars As the Wife in Powerful Gang Story; Holt a Suave Rum King.

Jack Holt, the popular hero of a thousand desperate screen situations is to be seen and heard here tomorrow when "The Squealer," the latest Columbia all-talking photo-drama, comes to the Academy of Music Theatre. It is promised as a gripping tale of the underworld with all the thrill of gangdom and its girl with a sense of humor, given her usual excellent performance. James Tinling, director, has done full credit to the picture.

and asserts his authority by wrecking this unhomelike place, is one of the comedy highlights of the picture. The film is trusted with that light touch which makes for truly successful comedy.

Elliott Nugent makes Sandy one of the most delightfully human characters that the screen has yet offered, and the charm of little Sally O'Starr shows to excellent advantage in the role of Lil. Margaret Livingstone, as a hard-boiled chorus girl with a sense of humor, gives her usual excellent performance.

"FOR THE LOVE O' LIL" DELIGHTFUL SCREEN FARE

Columbia Attraction Well Performed by Cast of Capable Players.

Based on J. Leslie Thrasher's inimitable drawing for Liberty Magazine, "For the Love O' Lil," the Columbia comedy drama which opened at the Academy Theatre last night, is a delightfully diverting piece of entertainment. Modern domestic life as it really exists is the keynote of the film. It depicts the early marital experiences of Sandy and Lil, those famous cover characters and from the animated print of those two-little humans. It is a real screen triumph.

The plot is one of those triangular affairs. Sandy, a lover's clerk and his pretty sweetheart, Lil, are obviously made for one another, but true love can't run smooth for them because of the interference of Lil's wealthy suitor, Wyn Huntley. Another trouble maker is Eleanor Carrigan, ex-show girl adventuress, whom Huntley tries to pair off with Sandy so that his way will be clear with Lil. Even after the marriage, Huntley continues to interfere. He breaks up Sandy's plans for a happy home in the country by persuading Lil to lease an ultra modern flat with futuristic furnishings. The jazz party scene, in which Sandy gets gloriously drunk

St. Petersburg Busy.

We found conditions in St. Petersburg somewhat improved. People seem to be in better spirits and optimistic regarding the future prospects of the city.

There is considerable building going on. The three air ports appear to be busy. Yesterday as we were passing one of them, a huge plane landed quite close to us. It was from Miami and on its regular daily trip to Atlanta. It carried passengers and mail. It was off again before five minutes.

Interested In Eats?

There is a tremendous crop of citrus fruit all over the state. The trees are fairly breaking down with their loads. We have been buying oranges picked right off the trees at 10c per dozen and immense grape fruit at a cent and one half each. Green vegetables are also plentiful and cheap. We enjoyed spring lamb and green peas for dinner today, with strawberry short cake for dessert. Meat and poultry prices are about the same as in Lindsay.

Although they boast a great deal about their chicken farms, fresh eggs are still 58 cents per dozen.

Until the last few days the weather has been cold and wet, the worst, they claim, for twelve years. We had five days steady rain and when it rains here it just seems down. There has been no frost, the thermometer registering as low as 45 degrees at night and in the daytime fluctuating between fifty and seventy degrees. More than 20,000 tourists have registered so far and many coming in daily.

ST. MARY'S BLANK FIRST UNITED TEAM

CHURCH LEAGUE OPENER SEES THRILLING HOCKEY; CREIGHTONS TO GROZELLE PLAY PROVIDES ONLY COUNTER

Opening the senior inter-church league for this year, St. Mary's United out a one-point decision over First United last night at Fred Martin's Ice Palace, when they took the Cambridge Street boys into 9. St. Mary's did the only scoring in the first period when Gordie Creighton, Communications, put. There two had worked the puck up the ice and were prestige all the way up. On the final play Gordie slipped it over to Crimmons who couldn't get a shot and unsuccessfully shovelled it right back to Grozelle who was in scoring go from and who lost no time in guiding the old boot-lined into the corner behind Ringland, First United goalie.

On the night's play the third period was by long odds the fastest and both teams were boring it around the twine all the time. First United missed several almost sure counters when their forward lines were off-color on their shooting. Thomas and Miller on opposing defenses were standouts, while both forward lines worked well together, with Crimmons, for St. Mary's, and Tripp, for First United perhaps standing out a little more than the others for their aggressiveness.

On the teams were: ST. MARY'S: goal, P. Campbell; defence, F. Gerrien and N. Miller; forwards, O. Cronelle, A. Crimmons and E. Boultinghouse, N. Begley, A. Murphy and L. O'Leary. FIRST UNITED: goal, R. Ringland; defence, B. Adams and W. Thomas; forwards, J. Tripp, B. Kennedy and H. Dunk; alternate, J. Dunk, R. Abbott and F. Mitchell.

"Buffer" Kewed, defenseman, for the Vets, kept the boys playing hockey all the time and handled the game to the satisfaction of all.

CAMERON IS BEATEN 7-5 BY OAKWOOD

CLIFF GOLDEN AND HARVEY HUSTON, LOCAL PLAYERS, TURN IN NICE EFFORTS AS OAKWOOD TAKES TWO-GOAL VERDICT

Playing in the Oakwood Arena, last night the Oakwood team with Harvey Huston and Cliff Golden, both of Lindsay, on the forward line and in goal respectively, came from behind after taking a beating in the first two periods, to defeat Cameron by seven to five in favour of Oakwood. Bliss Coombs, of Lindsay, made a satisfactory referee and kept the boys at the game all the time.

In the first period Cameron jammed one goal in to Oakwood's note. Walking up in the second period Oakwood ran in two but Cameron had slapped in three in the meantime and Oakwood was still trailing at the small end of a 4-to-2 score as the period ended. The big third period tolled the bell for Cameron. Oakwood scored three goals and Cameron's best efforts netted only one leaving the score five-all.

In the overtime, five minutes each way, Oakwood slipped in two to put the game on ice and were boring in for more when the time gong rang. Oakwood was appreciably stronger both by the addition of the two local players, with Huston playing a nice game on the firing line, and Golden looking after his net-minding chore quite acceptably

Goodwill Bonspiel Success Every Way

Forsythe, Lindsay, Wins Main Event From Carew; S. P. Beal, Lindsay Wins Consolation From Stone

MOST SUCCESSFUL

All Arrangements Made and Things Go Off Without a Slip; Curl From 8 to 2

Playing four games, three of which were of the close variety, H. Forsyth's quarterers from town, won the main event alone with the Pee Tre-syth and the leather club bags by Lindsay's first annual goodwill, invitation bonspiel. To win out Forsyth had to defeat F. Carew's rink in the finals as they did the shrdus in the finals and they did this in convincing style by a score of 18-to-4. The consolation draw was won by S. P. Beal of Lindsay after defeating Stone of Cannington in the final game.

Was Successful

Nothing had been left undone by the committee in charge, and the whole affair went off without a slip, making the Boiel a success from all angles. At eight o'clock yesterday morning the games started, and the final game of the consolation was not started until the midnight hour. During this time the large crowd following the games was treated to all classes of curling, from F. Carew's exciting game with Vicars of Fenelon Falls up to the listless exhibition between Manning of Beaverton and McLeod of Cannington

Had Good Games

When the Primary draw had narrowed down to the semi-finals it found two local rinks pitted against two Cannington rinks. The finals saw the local rinks fighting it out after two hard contests with the boys from Cannington. In the third round of the Consolation the two rinks from Beaverton were eliminated after games with Gould and Beal. As the rinks were started in the Primary draw they dropped back into the Consolation, and in a couple of cases some rinks had the pleasure of playing five and six games. Below will be found a complete list of the rinks, and the draws for both the events along with the results.

Cattle	1,859
Calves	319
Hogs	1,876
Sheep and lambs	962

TORONTO, Jan. 15—The fairly heavy offering of cattle at the Union Stock Yards yesterday, which came after clearance of large supplies earlier in the week, proved too much for market requirements. The total week's run was about 6,500. Bids from packer buyers were down 25 to 50c per hundred from Tuesday, and only after a slow early session did cattle begin to move to the scales, and then they were sold lots at current bids. Only half the supply was weighed at 3 o'clock and the holdover was estimated at some two hundred head.

Prices.

Heavy steers sold between $6.25 and $7.50 a hundred, with best handy butchers at $7 to $7.50. Good cows were down 25c at $5 to $5.25, with a few kinkers at $5.50. There were fairly steady at $5 to $5.75 for butchers and downward to $3.75 for bologna. Fed calves were weak at $8 to $10 a hundred in comparison with the $10.50 top price on Monday. There were no stores offered, and trade in milkers and springers was quiet at around $80 for the best.

Calves.

Calves were down 50c, or $1 for the week; at $10 to $10.50 for choice, with lots of plain light veaters at $7 to $9 a hundred.

Hogs.

Hog prices were steady at $9.50 f. o.b. for bacons, or at $10.50 off cars. Packers issued new differentials in price for Saturday's loadings, chief of which were a 75c to $1 range for off-car supplies above that, deliveries, and a 50c range for fed and watered stock above f.o.b. prices.

Lambs and Sheep.

Trade in lambs opened early, with sales at $10, but dropped to $9.50 for the bulk, which meant a closing price of 50c lower. Culls sold at from $6 to $7.50 a hundred and bucks went at the $5 discount. Sheep held steady at $5 to $6 a hundred for good light ewes, with culls downward to $2 a hundred.

DRIVE ON JACK RABBITS IS ARRANGED AT GUELPH

Robinson, overseer of the department of game and fisheries, who has been in the city in connection with the matter. It is the intention of the party of hunters to launch their attack without the assistance of dogs, and by forming a huge semi-circle covering a wide range of territory, they expect to make a on the one day's operations.

The big game are quite numerous around Guelph, and while they have not caused any serious damage, it is felt that they are getting altogether too thick in the district.

Bruce Returns With Optimism

Former Australian Prime Minister Will Re-Enter Political Life Soon —Believes Australia Better Off Than Most Countries.

MELBOURNE, Australia, Jan. 14 —(By The Canadian Press)—The Hon. Stanley Melbourne Bruce, former Nationalist Prime Minister, is planning to be a candidate in the next general elections, possibly for his old constituency of Flinders. Following the defeat of his government and the election of the Labor ites to power in 1929, Mr. Bruce sent abroad with Mrs. Bruce for a long holiday.

Mr. Bruce holds the firm conviction that, however sore the straits in which the Commonwealth finds itself today, Australia is in an incomparably better position than practically any other country, and has a much better chance, if a sane policy is pursued, of returning to prosperity than any of the countries he has visited—and these comprise England, Scotland, Germany, France, Italy, Belgium, and Czechoslovakia.

"On the Continent," he said, "the position is tragic. Europe, I repeat and, in her entirety, Belgium, every country is either in serious economic trouble or heading towards it, and I doubt whether even the countries not in difficulties can maintain their present comparative prosperity.

"The United States is only at the beginning of her troubles. She has at least 6,000,000 unemployed. Australia is at the parting of the ways. Either by courage, work and sacrifice we must overcome our difficulties, or by putting our trust in Parliaments and politicians; by inflation and artificial emergency measures we shall try to stem the tide and so bring on disaster."

Of the perils of inflation, Mr. Bruce spoke with acrimony. After laying down the results of inflation of the note issue in many countries of Europe," he added, "I sincerely trust that those who advocate inflation will find no support in Australia, because nothing could be more disastrous to the nation as a whole and to the workers in particular.

As for the financial position in Australia," Mr. Bruce continued, "the outstanding necessity is the restoration of confidence in the Commonwealth." In this connection he declared the outstanding success of the conversion loan in December, when Australians subscribed $140,000,000 to meet maturing obligations, would be a very great factor in restoring Australia's standing in the eyes of the world.

Wild statements by irresponsible small element sections, whose advocacy of repudiation, the penalizing of interest, and the cancellation of contracts had struck terror into the hearts of small investors overseas, had undermined public confidence, and made intimate knowledge of the circumstances, warranted Australia's financial position, said Mr. Bruce. Such statements, however were appreciated at their true worth by the important financial interests of London.

POWER LINE IS RUSHED AT RATE OF MILE A DAY

NORTH BAY, Jan. 15—Danger of a power shortage in North Bay is now over. The new power line from Sturgeon Falls has been connected with the distributing system in North Bay, and power from Smoky Falls, on the Sturgeon River, is now helping to supply this city with energy. The construction of the transmission line from Sturgeon Falls probably created a record in Ontario for this time of year. The distance covered was about 24 miles, and the rate of progress works out to approximately one mile a day. Construction Engineer Lattimer, of Toronto, was in charge of operations.

SYNOPSIS

Kenneth Burney, adventurer and one-time gentlemen, comes to Brad ley Bardin, King of the cattle country, for a job. Burney has had a fight with Martin Bruce, a rival cattle owner who has been stealing the King's stock, aided by Miguel Gallegos a Mexican bandit. The King, liking young Burney, makes him general manager of the ranch on condition that he put Burce and Gallegos out of the way. Burney meets Bruce, who has sworn to kill him. They both draw their guns, but Burney outwits the wily old cattle thief.

Meanwhile Muriel Bardin, beautiful daughter of the King, becomes more interested in Burnby than she cares to admit. She tries to persuade her father not to let Burney tackle the cattle thieves. But Burney continues to lay his plans for the battle that is sure to come. In another rencounter with Bruce, Burney calmly accepts an insult from the latter.. to the disgust. of his men.

CHAPTER 17

"Why'd you crawfish, Mr. Burney? We'd have stood by you."

"I crawfished deliberately. It was part of my plan. I desire that Martin Bruce shall hold me cheap. I wanted to inculcate in his mind the thought that I am a cheap bully and I think I succeeded. And I had more luck than I anticipated. I've inculcated the same idea in the mind of Miguel Gallegos."

"We don't get your strategy," another of his bodyguard growled.

"You will a little later. Meanwhile, don't be sulky . When there's shooting to be done I'll start it, but until I'm ready—until I can choose my own battleground—I shall proceed upon the principle that he who fights and runs away may live to fight another day. In other words, I am reserving you boys for a more important occasion."

"I wouldn't let no man spit on me, Mr. Burney," one of his men protested.

"You don't know what you'd do until the occasion arises. When it does, a wise man estimates the situation and plans accordingly. It just isn't possible for Martin Bruce to insult any gentleman."

Somebody must have insulted him lately," another one of the bodyguard remarked. "He ain't quite over a black eye."

"I heard one of his riders manhandled him a week ago, Bill."

"I am the boy who did that," Ken Burney asserted them. "I pulled him off his horse, took his gun away from him and slapped him around for five minutes; then I quit in a hurry and rode over to El Ranchito for a new job. I secured that job—and if any of you boys have an idea that the king doesn't know what he's doing, I'll give you your time right now. Remember, the King is more than nine years old." There was less resentment in the eyes of the bodyguard now. Apparently, by mutual consent, the trio decided to accept the general manager's explanation.

"Huachita straddles the international boundary," Burney went on after a pause. "I'm going to call on the jefe politico across the line tonight. Can any of you boys lead me to his house?"

It appeared that one of them could.

The jefe politico, as Burney saw at a glance, was plainly a pure-bred Spaniard, well dressed, courteous, affable. Burney introduced himself and Senor De Haro begged him politely to be seated and inform him in what manner he could be of service. Burney came abruptly to the point.

"Do you know a Senor Miguel Gallegos?"

Senor De Haro spread his facile hands eloquently. "To my sorrow, I do, Senor Burney. He is a Mexican citizen by naturalization only and his real name is Michael Gallegher, although he is half Italian, Sicilian, perhaps, would be the word. You know the Sicilians?"

"Bad people, senor."

"You have explained Miguel Gallegos. He is half bandit, with a following of interped desperadoes and some deluded Mexicans, who follow him blindly because he provides them plentifully with food, clothing, excitement and, occasionally, some money. If I had my way I would send a detachment of rurales against him, but the governor is loath to take any action until Gallegos behaves himself less peaceably than he has during the past two years."

"You are, perhaps, acquainted with Senor Bradley Bardin, the American cattleman?"

"Ah, yes. Bardin of El Ranchito. A fine fellow."

"Well, I am his general manager, and we strongly suspect Miguel Gallegos of branding our calves on that portion of El Ranchito that laps over into Mexico. It is known as El Cajon Bonito."

The jefe politico nodded.

"Whether he does this for his own profit or has an alliance with Senor Martin, Bruce we do not know."

"He dines tonight with Senor Bruce at the International Hotel. You observe, I am not without information. I keep my eye on that fine fellow."

"Suppose, Senor De Haro," Ken Burney suggested, "that instead of involving your government in an annoying mess with Miguel Gallegos, you permit me to attend to the matter for you? Could that be arranged unofficially? If so, I will guarantee to relieve you of this foreign annoyance."

Senor De Haro gazed upon his visitor with new interest. "It is always desirable to avoid international complications, Senor Burney. You understand ? I am but a mere dinate, yet I have a feeling that such a plan would be most agreeable to His Excellency, the governor."

"If you can give me his unofficial assurance of sympathy and silence, Senor De Haro, and through your own official influence, see to it that an armed party of thirty men, under my command, is permitted to cross the boundary without molestation—"

The jefe politico smiled. "It is often an official mistake to see too much, my friend. Your government maintains immigration and customs guards only at the ports of entray, of which Huachita is one. My government does the same. You can cross elsewhere at your pleasure and if, unfortunately, my people should apprehend you, an explanation to me will satisfy."

"Thank you. Now, I am going to ask the same favor for Senor Martin Bruce and an armed party I have reason to suspect he will lead across the international boundary. It would be to our mutual interest if he should remain undisturbed on his journey."

"But why permission for Bruce? He is a bad egg, that old man."

"He will come to El Cajon Bonita to fight me."

"And you desire this fight?"

"I do not desire it but it is necessary, senor. If we flight on the soil of our own country there will be disagreeable results for those that survive, whereas, if we fight on foreign soil the survivors may return to their own country, which will ask no questions. And once we are out of Mexico your government will of course have no interest in making an investigation."

"True. Well, Senore Burney, I think the matter can be arranged. I will close my eyes to much, provided we get rid of this fellow Gallegos. And to get rid of him it is necessary, I suppose, to fight on Mexican soil. And it will be a private war?"

Burney nodded. "I have a plan for getting rid of Martin Bruce on American soil, provided he accepts the fight I am preparing for him in El Cajon Bonita."

"Provided he comes to the fight, senor?"

"He will come. I have laid my plans for that. While I live he is in danger. I am a menace to his enterprise, and must be disposed of. And he will prefer to dispose of me in Mexico, since, in the United States, he will be immune from punishment for the crime committed in Mexico. In the United States he will be certain that I may not succeed in disposing of him. He is worried."

"But can you prove that this Senor Bruce brands the cattle of Senor Bardin?"

"I expect to prove it. Senor De Haro, within one week, and when the evidence is adduced it would please me to have Your Excellency and a number of competent Mexican witnesses present. There is still law and justice in Mexico and cattle thieves are as amenable to the law here as they are elsewhere."

Senor De Haro bowed. "I shall be happy to be present, senor."

"I will send you word in ample time. Meanwhile, may I hope that you will proceed immediately to confer with His Excellency, your governor? I should like to have his reaction to my plan before committing myself to it. I will return one month from today."

King Sorry For Slurred Words

His Majesty Wishes Preservation of Dignity of English Language on Stage

LONDON, Jan. 15. (By the Canadian Press)—The King's interest in the theatre, and especially His Majesty's interest in the proper use of the English language, were referred to by Sir Nigel Playfair, the well-known actor and producer, when presiding at an "at home" at the Embassy Theatre recently.

"When I had the honor," he said, "of speaking to the King after a performance he had witnessed in which I was acting, I was astonished at the tremendous interest he took in the English theatre, not only from the point of view of entertainments, but also as a means of preserving the dignity of the English language. The King emphasized how important he thought it was that actresses and actors should give good speech, and what a pity it was that some of the younger ones slurred their words and dropped their voices at the end of sentences."

Sir Nigel added that slurred speech was not confined to young actors and actresses. "I have known many older ones," he said, "whose chief aim seems to have been to keep the author's words a dim secret."

Give Advice

LONDON, Jan. 15. (By the Canadian Press)—Two eminent [illegible] [illegible]—have [illegible] apprehensions concerning the middle-aged man. Dr. Inge speaks of the "contented compromise with life which threatens most of us in middle age." The Bishop of Ripon [illegible] the onset of middle age is being [illegible] by a growing tendency to follow the line of least resistance

"The successful man is sometimes a pitiable object," adds Dean Inge. "God has given him his desires. Very often he is a man who has lost the habit of attending to anything except the things that help him on but which really hold him back—the man for whom the finer things of life do not exist. Sometimes he becomes arrogant, and thus he may allow himself to run risks, moral as well as financial. Every now and then we hear of some humiliating exposure. Few things are more tragic than the deterioration of character which often sets in at about fifty. As time goes on he is more and more inclined to save himself trouble."

Change Africa Military Style

Cadets for Either Air Force or Artillery Will be Trained Both as Gunners and Pilots—Wide Field Open

CAPE TOWN, South Africa, Jan. 14. (By the Canadian Press)—The Union Government has made an important change in its system of military training in order to give air officers more opportunity of making a military career a life profession. In future all cadets, whether for the South African Air Force or South African Field Artillery will be trained as both gunners and pilots.

[illegible]

[illegible] course and will be posted to the South African Air Force, where he will serve some years as a pilot and will then be transferred to the artillery or, if qualified in the staff duties course, to the South African Staff Corps.

This scheme opens considerably a wide field of promotion for airmen, and it is under these conditions that the next cadet course of 20 cadets, commencing on May 1, will be conducted. It will mean that in time to come all officers in the South African permanent force will be pilots, which will place South Africa's little army a step in advance of the other armies of the world

In the case of the individual cadet it is obvious that the possibilities of a military career are increased, and the objection to the present Air Force as being in the nature of a dead end is to a great extent removed. In the past it has not been possible to present the South African Air Force generally as a full and final career for youths, as [illegible] to this [illegible]

[illegible] world over [illegible] no fighting pilot should be retained after the middle thirties, and it is for this reason that the Royal Air Force is divided into two categories: the permanent pilots who have had a reasonable chance of promotion to the higher ranks of command, and short service commissioned pilots who serve up to the age limit of usefulness of the pilot and are then retired with compensation. In South Africa the government have up to now followed the same idea, but as the force is a very small one, all airmen under the rank of major are now on short service commissions, which are renewed every three years, subject to satisfactory service on the part of the officer and provided he is not over the age of 30 as a lieutenant or 35 as a captain.

The Department naturally welcomes the quick turnover of pilots, as the present system was calculated to supply a large reserve available in an emergency, so that money spent on training was not lost as was sometimes said. From now onward, however, the young airman in South Africa will also be a gunner and his chance of entering upon a permanent military career will be far greater than under the old system. This consideration, will, it is expected, induce a considerable number of young men to apply for admission to the cadet course which begins next May.

Peterboro Merchant Is Dead

Robert Fair, For 47 Years a Prominent Peterboro Merchant, Died Yesterday

SAW CIVIL SERVICE

PETERBORO, Jan. 16.—Robert Fair, one of this city's most prominent merchants and public-spirited citizens for the past 47 years, died yesterday at his home, 566 Dickson Street, after an extended illness.

The Robert Fair Company's store is the oldest establishment on George Street. Forty-seven years ago last October, Robert Fair came to Peterboro from Centreville, where he was born on March 25, 1854, succeeding the late Thomas Brechin in the store which is still the home of Robert Fair Company, Limited. Previous to locating here he had been in business in Centreville for seven years.

Fair's immediately became one of the leading stores of the thriving lumber town, a position it has always retained. In 1907 the business was turned into a limited corporation with Mr. Fair as president.

As a public citizen, Mr. Fair filled most active years and many positions of prominence. For three years he was president of the Board of Trade, and served for many years on the Board of Education, being its chairman in 1907 and 1908.

Mr. Fair enjoyed an enviable life owing to his fine quality, of kindness, honesty and absolute adherence to the highest business and social ethics. He was one of the first merchants in the city to adopt the modern merchandising methods into his business. He won public confidence by always keeping dependable merchandise, moderately priced and in a very great measure he attributed his success in life and the cheerful service always found at his store. Under his guidance the "Esprit de Corps" of the store's staff was always a remarkable feature.

Mr. Fair was a most active member of St. John's Anglican Church, being warden of that church for many years. In politics he was a Conservative, and was also a member of the Corinthian Lodge A.F. and A.M.

His wife predecessed him years ago. No immediate relatives survive. Mr. Fair being the last of his generation, but there are five nephews and several cousins.

The funeral will be held from his late residence on Saturday afternoon and interment will be in the Little Lake Cemetery.

Asks All Who Know Of Any Prospects To Tell The Council

To the Editor, Lindsay Daily Post,

Sir:—To enable the Industrial Committee of the Town Council to get in touch with manufacturers outside Canada, it would be of much assistance if every business and professional man in Lindsay would send to Colonel R. I. Moore, Chairman, a list of materials which they may know of in connection with their business, which are not at present manufactured in Canada. This information I think will be valuable in opening a path of approach to concerns who may find it necessary on account of the new tariffs to establish themselves in Canada, and an opportunity to put before them the facilities Lindsay has to offer them for locating here.

TO INSTALL MACHINE TO GRIND GRAIN

HOGG AND LYTLE COMPANY WILL ERECT TEMPORY PLANT NOW AND PERMANENT PLANT LATER

Hogg & Lytle, Oakwood, are giving consideration to the erection of a temporary grain grinder for the use of the farmers of Mariposa from now until spring. This is being done because it is felt that the burning of the Little Britain chopping mill on Tuesday night cause them considerable hardship. It is probable that the temporary grinder will be installed at Mariposa Station.

Hogg and Lytle Ltd. also informed The Post that they expected erecting in the spring and up-to-date chopping and crushing plant at Mariposa Station in connection with their grain and seed business. They intend to install a chopper of large capacity with plenty of power, so that besides doing their work quickly the chop will be perfectly ground. Situated in the centre of the township, this plant will be at the farmers' conveniences six days a week.

ESCAPE AT CROSSING

NORTH BAY, Jan. 16—To have the auto in which they were travelling demolished in a level-crossing accident and yet escape unhurt was the experience of E. Giroux, a taximan of North Bay, and Mrs. Sutherland, 224 Front Street, a passenger in the taxi. Thursday afternoon. The auto was struck by a light engine on the T. and N.O. Railway in crossing on the Trout Lake road. Giroux and Mrs. Sutherland were thrown uninjured into a snow bank.

Lost Cat Gives Up Hide-And-Seek As Post Want Ad Calls

—Lindsay, Jan. 16.

THE CAT Came Back! What else could it do, poor creature? For three nights The Post carried the information that it was a yellow cat with white stripes along its sides, and it began to get the feeling that scratching eyes were following its heaving white and yellow sides on all its night escapades. Then came the first call, the first that an "ad" would be of no use because the cat had been frightened so badly that it probably had gone to Florida to cure its shattered nerves. But he didn't know Post "ads," for after three days' publicity about its devil-take-colored sides, The Cat Came Back.

Game Birds Are Starving Trapped By Crust Of Snow

Orillia Board of Education May Ask For $35,000 To Build Sixth Public School.

FAIR BOARD'S DOWNFALL

ORILLIA, Jan. 16—Imprisoned in chambers of ice, dozens of partridge are victims of Jack Frost, doomed to die beneath the frozen crust of the snow. Since the heavy snowfall around the Orillia district drifts have been deep enough for the partridge to dive into at nights, and dive into the drifts they did, but they didn't count on the whims of nature who started to thaw during the day, and when the birds were safely tucked away in the drifts, moved the icy fingers of Jack Frost over the land. Now many of the birds are snug and warm in the frozen chambers of death, but little pain or hunger cannot be satisfied and the bird struggles to the ice crust imprisoning him and piteously tries to peck his way out. Ever we get free, struggle into the air for a time, but their wings become weaker and weaker, their efforts more futile, and ice crust seems to grow harder and harder and at last the birds are still.

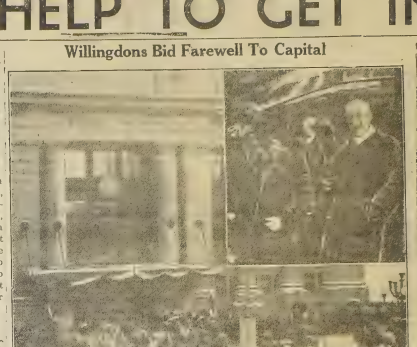
Willingdons Bid Farewell To Capital



The above two photographs were taken this week when Their Excellencies, Viscount and Viscountess Willingdon, departed from Ottawa en route to Quebec on their way to England. The top picture was taken as the train departed for the East with Their Excellencies waving farewell from the back of the Governor-General's coach.

THE PUPILS OF BAKER'S HAVE PARTY

Skating And Toboggan Party Is Followed By Tasty Refreshments; Frolic Is Success.

An ideal night; ice in the acme of perfection and excellent society by dozens in charge of the St. Mary's Rink all combined to make the Baker Business College skating and toboggan party a huge success.

Soon after eight the ice was alive with young people, who, to judge from the sparkling eyes, glowing cheeks and laughing voices were in the height of their glee. Not one who wished in the fun, were those who made the echoes ring as they skimmed over the snow on the toboggan-slides. The Principal and teachers, too, tho' acting in the capacity of chaperones, intermingled with the gay crowd on both ice and toboggan slides and derived the utmost enjoyment from the frolic.

After a couple of hours of fun the party, numbering about 130 were served with a dainty lunch at the Arcadian Grill. This part of the evening's pleasure being the treat of the losing side in the annual spelling match which took place in December. The excellent service given at the lunch hour was greatly appreciated by the staff, students and their guests.

Miners' Strike Is Settled And Men Go Back To Work

New Contract Is Drawn Up To Last Until 1934; At Work Again

150,000 MEN OUT

LONDON, Jan. 16—The South Wales coal-field trouble, which has kept 150,000 men in idleness since New Year's, is regarded as settled.

It was announced that owners and miners had reached an agreement that a new contract had been drawn up to last until 1934 under which the men will obtain the same rate of pay as heretofore and will be assured of seven-and-a-half hour days, instead of the spread-over system proposed by the mine operators.

Credit for the victory of conciliation is given largely to Rt. Hon. William Graham, president of the Board of Trade, and to Emanuel Shinwell, parliamentary secretary to the department of mines, both of whom refused to acknowledge defeat and kept meeting the owners' committee and representatives of the men day after day with the hope of reconciling their view points.

Minor matters regarding working conditions and methods of pay, it was stipulated in the agreement, will be settled by a conciliation board with a new independent chairman.

Agreement Signed

Both owners' and miners' representatives signed the agreement which, it appears, was made on the 1926 agreement. Next comes the formality of approval by the South Wales Miners' Federation and by the South Wales Mine Owners' Association. Both are taken for granted.

Oshawa Would Dispose Of Plant That Gives City Gas

City Wants To Get Rid Of Gas Plant It Bought With Hydro Electric System.

WANTS LOWER RATES

OSHAWA, Jan. 16—Chairman John Stacey, Mayor Marks and F. L. Mason were appointed by the Oshawa Public Utilities Commission as a sub-committee to interview any prospective purchasers for the local gas plant, at the inaugural meeting of the commission here.

The commission thus took another step in the direction of possible sale of this utility, which the city bought when it took over the electrical distribution system. At the time, the Hydro Electric Power Commission refused to sell the electrical system without the gas plant, although the city tried to purchase the electric system separately.

It was reported to the meeting that a group of men interested in the local plant would be in the city this week to confer with the commission regarding purchasing this plant. No definite terms of purchase have been put forward as yet. It was definitely stated at a recent meeting of the commission that the sale of this plant would have to be approved by the ratepayers of the city and any franchise granted to any private company purchasing the plant would likewise have to be approved by the people.

While no definite stand has been taken by the commission on this point, it was the opinion of various members that it would be desirable to sell the plant to a company that would be reserved to erect a modern cooking plant, selling gas to consumers in the city under a franchise, and having rate and other by-products to market as well in the by-products to market as well. This would enable the firm to sell gas at half the price paid in Oshawa at the present time, or less, and it would also be in the nature of a new local industry.

It is the unanimous opinion of the members of the commission that there is a good field for the sale of gas in Oshawa. The present plant was established several years ago, however, and the method of manufacturing gas is out of date, and is not profitable. It would be possible for the city to instal a modern plant and sell gas at a much lower figure, but this would entail increasing the city's debt by a debenture of perhaps a quarter of a million dollars.

Local Woman Gets Coin She Believes Is 543 Years Old

—Lindsay, Jan. 16.

IN A HANDFUL of other change, Mrs. Charles Lee, 99 King Street, recently received a coin which she believes is 543 years old, as the date on it reads 1388. The coin is marked 1-3-4th of a shilling and bears the name of "States of Jersey." At first she thought it was a United States cent, but the date makes that impossible, unless, of course, the historians are fooling us about Columbus sailing the ocean blue in 1492, or the Norsemen did a great deal more work than the yare credited with when they visited North America some thousand years ago.

PETERBORO H. C. TAKE 4 GOAL WIN

BEAT CAMPBELLFORD JUNIORS FOR SECOND TIME; LOSERS PUT UP GAME FIGHT IN FIRST TWO PERIODS

PETERBORO, Jan. 16.—For the second night in succession Campbellford had to yield a victory to a local hockey team, last night losing to the Peterboro Hockey Club team in an O.H.A. junior battle, 5 goals to 1. The visitors made a real fight of it for the first two periods holding the Peters to a 1-all tie in the first twenty minutes and to a 2 to 1 score at the close of the second period, but the local aggregation finished strong with three counters without a comeback from Campbellford in the final session. Dallin got the first goal of the game 15 minutes after the start with a shot near the blue line and Stocker evened things up a minute later with a fast drive from the side. Dallin put Peterboro ahead half way through the second period when he teamed up with Jones through the Campbellford defense and scored from close in. On the final dash, Wood scored on his own rebound, McCullough scored the next on an individual rush and Tuck wound up the scoring with a shot from outside the defence. Dallin, McCullough, Wood and Fully were the pick of the winning team, while Lambert and Hendy looked the best for the losers.

JACK HOLT WINS NEW LAURELS IN EXCELLENT NIGHT-LIFE DRAMA

"The Squealer," Now at Columbia

His New Angle on Underworld Jack Holt came into his own in talkie way in "The Squealer"—Columbia's all-talking, drama of New York underworld life, which opened today at the Academy Theatre for two day run. A dashing personality and an ability to do "human" roles that gets over with men as well as women are the qualities that the average movie fan has learned to associate with Holt. It therefore came as a delightful surprise to see him prove himself an actor of superlative talents. Throughout the five reels of this exciting picture, Holt held convincingly to his characterization and achieved his climaxes with a quiet power that fairly electrified his audiences.

Based on a bootlegging theme, "The Squealer" is not in any sense an average crook story. Characterization and human interest are featured rather than melodramatic action, and the unexpected denouement is not novel as it is tragic. Interest centers about Charlie Bannister, master of an illicit liquor trade, who in order to protect his interests has found it necessary to build up a gigantic underworld machine. How he is eventually caught in the mesh of his own net, and forced to accomplish his wife and child—both of whom he loves devotedly—to another man, supply the dramatic climax to the strong and appealing story.

Holt is ably supported in his work by a cast of ablest stellar quality. Dorothy Revier—who has appeared with him in many productions—enacts the role of the master bootlegger's wife with care sympathy. Little Davey Lee—child actor—achieves new triumphs for himself in the role of Bunny— the son; Matt Moore scores as the lawyer friend and Zasu Pitts gives one of her inimitable comedy characterizations as the stupid but amusing maid. Bella Arthur Housman, Robert Ellis and Louis Natheaux are others deserving of mention. Special credit must be given Harry Joe Brown for able direction.

Dempsey To Referee Heeney-Baer Bout?

NEW YORK, Jan. 16—Max Baer, big, good-looking puncher from California, will make his second start in the East in Madison Square Garden tonight against Tom Heeney, the New Zealand warhorse, who is slowly but surely working his way to the top. Baer lost his first engagement here to Ernie Schaaf, the Boston blond, but was impressive and colorful enough in action to merit another hearing. Odds are overwhelmingly in favor of the youngster.

Jack Dempsey, now active as a referee, probably will enliven the main ten round bout with his presence.

King Circuit Sees Close Contests

the winning counter.

It was a typical Windsor-London struggle. Both teams checked strongly and did not make any false moves, being content to wait for the openings before pressing offensively.

Just when the final bell was sounded, Lloyd Duguid, Windsor forward, dropped his stick and started a fistic encounter with "Toots" Holway, captain of the Tecumsehs. For a few seconds it appeared as if a free-for-all between the two teams would follow, and Harold Hicks, goalkeeper Stuart and Leo Quennville restrained Duguid who was sore or was determined to continue the scrap.

FOURTH LOSS

DETROIT, Jan. 16—Something must be done on the immediate future to remedy the ills of the Detroit Olympics if Bernie Morris's team is to be prevented from dropping right through the bottom of the International League last night before a comparatively small but noisy crowd, the Pittsburg Yellow Jackets draped it on the individual and collective chins of the Olympics for the fourth straight time, and the team that Charlie Reid is parading around the circuit accomplished the feat in workmanlike manner to boot.

No Detroit team ever was beaten as badly as were the Olympics. They looked weak on every goal and their own scoring efforts were pitiful. What was set up as a defense in front of Emmett Venne turned out to be something vastly different, and even Venne, who has been playing super hockey of late, blew an easy shot to spoil what otherwise would have been another great night for him.

In the third period the Jackets had only three shots on the Detroit net and each of them resulted in a tally. Not a shot was brought down at the three puck-carriers as they broke away with a clear field in front of them to the Detroit net.

The Olympics were at full strength for the first time since Bernie Brophy went out of action on Nov. 29, but Johnny Newman, Frank Steele and Jess Spring were laboring under the handicap of injuries.

The Olympics' defense looked shaky, especially on the first goal of the game when Eddie Rodden moved around first Spring and then Hoffinger without being touched.

INDIANS WIN

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 16.—The league-leading Springfield Indians defeated the Philadelphia Arrows 1 to 0 at the Arena last night in a Canadian-American Hockey League match. Play was fast and furious throughout the contest, with the Arrows holding the fast-travelling Indians scoreless until near the middle of the final period. Then Callighen, on a quick pass from Waite, shot the puck into the net to give Springfield the victory.

BLANK KANSAS

DULUTH, Jan. 16.—Duluth grinded its two-game series with Kansas City, here last night, scoring a 2-0 victory over the Pla-mors to break their winning streak of five games. The Hornets scored both their goals in the last period. Green got the first on a short poke pan Goalie Byrne after getting Langlois's pass, while Langlois had an easy time scoring after grabbing a pass from Laycock.

FALLS FROM HOUSE TOP

TORONTO, Jan. 16—Falling 35 feet from the roof of a house he was rhinoling at 63 Berwick Avenue yesterday noon, John Burton, aged 43, of 1062 Shaw Street, was taken to the General Hospital suffering from a bad shaking up and other injuries.

Several Models In Paris Are Going

Several modistes in Paris are going in heavily for bows and feather fancies to adorn the small hats now appearing in the vanguard of spring styles. Unquestionably these two types of trimming are to bear the brunt of millinery decoration—and well they might, for young and pert looking they are.

Flaunt [illegible] beach hat—shown for the resort season, milliners are most concerned with trig looking smallish affairs. It is too soon to expect much in the revelation of brimmed models for their wearing time is far distant.

As present the Parisian milliners are concentrating on tricorne in fabrics, ribbons and straws. Rebous with a pendant for feather fanelle at the moment is showing a fetching and sophisticated tricorne of brown crochet straw, the line sweeping up in a high curve over the forehead with two small feather trushes posed at an angle off the centre front. For contrast, one brush is in beige, the other in orange. These lend height and have an air of dash.

A very wearable hat for the in-between season emanates from the house of Florence Walton—a tricorne as might be expected, developed in soft-toned blue grosgrain ribbon having an almost rectangle folded brim giving interest to the back of the model.

Side Dips Continue

These extreme versions of the side dipping hat of small proportions are striking if not wearable by all. Rangers Tie Leafs

Leafs Had Best In First Of The Game

Clever Goal By Bailey And Blair Puts Toronto In Lead Until Third Period When Hooper And Hill Cook Do Same For Rangers.

TEN MINUTES OVERTIME

In other Game Canadiens Outscore City Rivals By Three; Amazing Anerkes Prove Too Much For Senators; Chi-Hawks Blank Bruins.

NEW YORK, Jan. 16—Seven minutes of top speed last night failed to brine a decision between the New York Rangers and Toronto Maple Leafs and they wound up their struggle in a 1-1-tie. The single point the Leafs gained by the draw put them into a tie with the Montreal Maroons for second place in the Canadian Division of the National Hockey League.

Toronto had all the better of the early part of the game, scoring a 1-0 minutes after the game started but the small Leaf squad could not hold up against the consistent rush of the Rangers. The defense held the slim margin for more than 40 minutes and through two periods of overtime. The Leafs had two men in the penalty box, but a four-man Ranger drive finally tied the score for them. The Toronto team could break through again, although Murray Murdoch of the Rangers finished the red light with a goal that was disallowed for interference shortly before the overtime period ended.

A neat play starting behind the Ranger net with Andy Blair taking "Ace" Bailey's pass for an unassisted goal, brought the Toronto goal. The Ranger: scored on a similar play, Frank Boucher passing to Bill Cook, but had the added assistance of an extra man near the net to trick the Toronto defense

Nets First Goal

"Bill" Cook started in his usual place on the Ranger right wing, despite a broken bone in his right hand, and, according to his regular custom, was threatening the Leaf net from the beginning.

The Leafs also were shooting from the start and crashed through for a goal. Bailey got around to the end boards with two Ranger defense men after him and passed out neatly to Blair, who took him in front of the net with no one covering him and he had little trouble sinking a quick, hard shot.

Cook Ties Score

The Rangers had time for just one real shot, a burning drive by Keeling which missed the net, before Conacher left the coop at the start of the third period, but the Bluecoats continued to attack, with Jerwa leading the forwards in the rush. In a quick change, Les Patrick sent four forwards on, and drove forced the Leafs to shoot the puck down the ice to protect their goal. Bill Cook also forced Chabot to hold, but the close-up faceoff brought only the usual pile-up.

After a little less than seven minutes of play, the four-man drive brought a tied score. Boucher made a fine pass out from behind the center of the net, to Bill Cook, who was in front, of the other corner. While two mauls stood aside, Bill carefully took aim and slammed the puck past Chabot.

Rangers—Goal, Beach; defense, Hay and Shamos; center, Bouch er; wings, W. Cook and P. Cook; subs, Regan, Peters, Thompson, Murdoch, Keeling, Seibert, Carrigan, Dillon and Jerwa.

Toronto—Goal, Chabot; defense, Day and Clancy; centre, Blair; wings, Bailey and Cotton Saus. Conacher, Horner, Jenkins, Jackson Primeau.

OUTPLAY MAROONS

MONTREAL, Jan. 16—The Canadiens outskated, outchecked and outplayed the Montreal Maroons last night and handed their old National Hockey League rivals a 4-1 beating. The game was dull at the opening, but gradually ripened into an exciting display in the second and third periods. So far in their meetings this season, the Canadiens have beaten the Maroons twice and have drawn once.

They had a decided margin on the play tonight in all departments. The Marcons at no stage of the game looked like possible winners. They seemed listless. They could not get started, and their shots failed to connect. Conacher and Wilcox, first string defensemen, went up in the third period and scored the only goal for their side.

The most effective player on the ice was Fete Lepine, relief centre for the Canadiens. His rapier thrusts at puck-checking and stick-checking in centre ice ruined many a Maroon attack, and his stick-handling and scoring proved a dazzling display. He scored two goals unassisted. Joliat, diminutive left wing, was also in rare form, and annoyed the Maroon front line with his sigsagging and trick shots.

Smart combination plays proved a sound investment for the Red Shirts, Morenz, Joliat and Johnny Gagnon, and Lepine. Larochelle and Wentz formed the dangerous defensive. They gave Kerr plenty of trouble, and his bright work and keen eye kept the score against him down 4 to 1. The Maroons were absolutely smothered by the bewildering checking of the Canadiens at centre ice, and their furious back-checking around the Maroon defensive zone in the second period was outstanding, and scored one of his brilliant, unassisted goals. It was a good for the Canadiens, and the strongly partisan Canadiens' crowd, which packed the Forum Arena to the eaves, was well satisfied.

Anerks Win

OTTAWA, Jan. 16—New York Americans took a systematic attack and close-knit defensive system in the path of Ottawa's striving forward line and defeated the local National Hockey League encounter here last night.

Anerks registered both tallies in the second frame on combination thrusts, and the fast one of them, which netted the net off a Senator player's skate does not detract from the smoothness of their team-work. Patterson made the single and only goal credit for the goal that bounced in off an opponent. Normie Himes record his 1st shut for the winners after a three-man passing thrust with Dutton and McVeigh. It broke a dead-lock produced by Art Gagne's neat goal for Senators.

The lowly Ottawans drove hard in the final frame, but the phenomenal work of Roy Worters in the Gotham goal and the tight defense

Midgets Thinking Of "Special" On Monday

—Lindsay, Jan. 16

WITH THE IDEA that the local fans have been mightily impressed with the record of five straight that the Midgets have hung up in their season so far, and that some of them might like to take the trip to Bobcaygeon on Monday night, to see what might prove to be the deciding game of the schedule against the Bobcaygeon "kids" there, the junior executive are considering making accomodation for a goodly number of fans by chartering a special bus. If it looks to be necessary. They figure that there are quite a number of local fans who would like to see this lift which promises to be the pick of the season, if they could get ashen and come back right after the game. Hence the special bus. But before anything is attempted they want to know how many are going, and the arrangements for the size of the bus can be made. If you would like to take the trip see Manager Foley, of the Benson House Shaving Parlours, he can give you all particulars as to price, time of leaving, etc.

District Bonspiel Was Most Successful

With games starting all Wednesday and on into early Thursday morning another bonspiel has come and gone its usual successful way in the life of the of the Lindsay Curling Club. The 'spiel originally planned for the purpose of engendering a better spirit amongst the clubs of the district, accomplished the purpose in admirable fashion. Sixteen rinks, twelve from the districts and four from the local club, chased the berries' early Wednesday morning and it was not until after the banking and fighting of the winners continued much later on in the day. And a series of hard games with keen competition featuring every end are what your curler considers the best "acquaintance maker" in the world. The prizes were worthwhile fighting for and the district men were satisfied in every way with the hospitality of the local club. They had good games, there were no noticeable delays, everything went off without a hitch—briefly it was the only kind of bonspiel the Lindsay Curling Club would consider holding.

To-Night's Game, Important One

When the Victorias take the ice tonight at the Arena Martin's Igloo against the fast Uxbridge team they will be out to win something more than a game, they will be battling to get into the play-offs for this section with the Markham squad who so far have beaten them in both their games. This schedule is the one which by a play-off between first and second and if the local's come through with the kind of hockey they can play, these two teams will be Markham and Lindsay, and the series should be the district's best of battles. The intermediates in some of their starts this year have been guilty of poor marksmanship on the part of their forwards. However they think that they have that fault smoothed out and will be right on the nets, and by the way don't think Uxbridge is a set-up by any means. They held Markham to a 2-to-2 decision in one of their games, so the locals will have to put their best foot forward to ding out a victory, and the tilt should be well-worth the price of admission.

Church League Deserves Fans' Support

On Wednesday the senior church league got off to a start when St. Mary's took a one-point decision from First United in a thrilling contest at the Lindsay Street Rink, and this Saturday the same two teams are scheduled to tangle in the morning in the opener of the junior series. The schedule for the league has not been definitely drawn up as yet, but plans are being made to hold two senior games and two junior games a week. The senior games will run from 6.30 till 7.30 and from the latter nights are definitely assigned to each team, a goodly crowd of supporters should be on hand to view the proceedings. The church league is the only organization of its kind in town that is giving the youngsters any athletic diversion at all, and they are doing a valuable work in developing material for the O.H.A. teams in the future. This year the competition promises to be keener than ever, and it is the duty of every sport-loving fan in Lindsay to make it a point whenever possible to attend the games. So when the schedule is definitely announced try and cut your supper hour a little short and give the boys the encouragement of your presence at their games. It helps a lot.

Stray Static From Here and There

The executive of the Victorias would be very glad if the holder of tickets 563 which won the second prize in the raffle the other night would get in touch with them at once. See Al Perry, secretary, and claim his prize. It is a walnut chest—cedar-lined, and not to be sniffled at, so come along Number 563, and collect the prize.

The juniors are planning on running a special bus to Bobcaygeon on Monday night, and anyone wishing to take the trip should get in touch with Frank Foley, at the Benson House Barber Shop, who has charge of all arrangements. Now don't everybody speak at one edge at once.

Well, I'll be seein' ya at the game tonight.

IN-TURNS AND OUTS

Activities of The Curling Club

Lindsay's invitation bonspiel is over for this year and while there will be a few improvements next year, on the whole the affair was not a successful spiel. All the outside players were loud in their praise of the manner in which the whole thing was handled, and the games run off.

Between games the players were given the opportunity to get some nourishment, and for their benefit light refreshments were served at the rink.

One of the Cannington rinks had a unique feature, that of two forkhandles on the same rink, the second and vice-skip.

There was only one living wrong with the 'spiel, and that was the way the many of the prizes stayed in town.

Cannington was the only outside rink to get into the money, Lindsay rinks grabbing them in which the

No blame can be attached to the local club, or to anybody as a matter of fact, for the local committee hustled well and deserved to win, but just the same it would have been nice to see all the gifts go out of town.

Some of the players in the club to stay right around the rink in turns and Outs' column and its efforts.

Last night Crown Attorney Anderson summoned Old 'IN-TURN' himself into the Chamber of Horrors and proceeded to sure In-Turn for three counts, giving as his grounds for the case that he had bought a Daily Post on Wednesday to read the Down column, but didn't find one there, so he wanted his money back.

That's sort of a slam on the other columns in our journal.

Mr. Anderson wauled ,to read something about the 'spiel that was in progress, so he stated, and was going to send the defendant down for thirty days, when—

Someone spoke up and reminded him that we had carried a complete story the night after the 'spiel, and also if he sent 'In-Turn' down, there would be no more column.

"J. E." withdrew his complaint and asked how much we would allow him for Wednesday's paper if he bought one of Tuesday's edition.

G. A. Luess won't agree with Mr. Anderson and his support of this column. When we were last out he (G. A.) was beaten 20-to-1 the other night and by Mr. Anderson at that.

Inter-College Assault Tonight

Queen's will bring along such well-known boxers as Bebright, Blake, Peevor, Stonham, Woolgar, Bayne, and Hamlyn, and will be represented in the wrestling division by Miller, H. Hocking, Connor, W. Hosking, Campbell, Calnerons, Bateman and Houghton.

The O.A.C. team will be: Cruickshank, Archibald, Evans, Gilbray, Saunders, and Reynolds, in the boxing events, and West, Webster, Wright, Lapointe, Dunlop, Wilson, Taylor and Patterson in the wrestling.

One Prize in Vics' Raffle Is Unclaimed

—Lindsay, Jan. 16.

WITH REGARD TO the raffle put on by local intermediate team to raise finances for operating this year, there is still one ticket, Number 563, the name on the stub looking like Lloyd Fee, that has not been claimed as yet. The first and third prizes, a chesterfield and a blanket, were claimed by their holders shortly after the draw which was made last Friday night. The remaining prize, a walnut chest cedar-lined, is as yet unclaimed. The number of the ticket was 563 and the number, which was not as legible as it could have been, appears to be Lloyd Fee. Since nobody seems to know of anybody by that name and nobody holding that ticket has as yet presented himself to the secretary Al Perry, the executive is in an quandary as to what they should do, and would appreciate it very much if the holder of Ticket 563, whatever his name is, would put in an appearance as soon as possible and claim his prize.

International Loop Games See London and Pittsburg Win Over Windsor and Detroit

CLOSE TILTS

LONDON, Jan. 16.—Speedy Groh's goal, scored on a long shot with only three eminutes and 25 seconds to play in the final period, gave London Tecumseths a 1 to 0 victory over the Windsor Bulldogs in a gruelling International Hockey League struggle before more than 3,000 spectators at the London Arena last night. It was London's fourth successive victory within six days and the Tecumsehs moved into a tie for third position in the race, as a result, being but two points behind Windsor for second place.

It was a torrid battle and just when it appeared as if the teams would be forced into overtime, Alvin Groh fired from mid-ice. Clint Benedict, who was troubled with long shots all night, made a move to save, but by that time, the puck was lodged in the net, and London had won the game. Groh played stellar hockey. Several times he had given Benedict hard chances to shoot for the counter, but Lindsay's defence broke up the attack.

Important Game For Vics Tonight

Outcome of Game Here Against Uxbridge Tonight And One In Uxbridge Decide Whether Local Intermediates Get Into Section Play-offs.

OUT TO WIN

Should Have Good Crowd As Middgets Are Not Playing Till Monday When They Journey To Bobcaygeon For Important Tilt.

Tonight local fans will be able to concentrate all their attention, lung power, rooting ability and whatnot-have-you on one team, the Victorias, when they step out on the ice for what looks like one of the deciding games of this section against the Uxbridge squad at the Lindsay Street Rink. With a win in this game and the next game local fans will have the pleasure of witnessing the play-offs for the leadership of this section between Markham and Lindsay on equal footing as the first and second teams of the section, the winner to advance into the play-offs with Preston Pals who drew a bye in Section "C," the winner to go against the winner of Lakefield Havelock for the group championship. So it can be reasonably said that on the outcome of the next two games Lindsay's chances of having any more intermediate hockey here this winter, and the fans' chances of seeing the play-offs.

Should Go Good

With that before them the locals should travel like a house afire tonight. Last night in their practice they looked pretty nice and knowing what this game means they will be battling every minute. In Markham last Monday they were off on their shooting, away off but tonight they should be better with shooting practice and pass-taking emphasized in their last practices, and they shouldn't be many bobbled pucks and muffed passes tonight as there were on that former occasion. The locals will start off with Eberts in goal; Fever and Reeves on the rear guard; Martin, Rich and Dames on the firing line; and Crafton and Furbert as reserves. With this aggregation the Vics should show up well in the fast going there promises to be.

Midgets Worked Out

Before the intermediates took their workout the Midgets dressed through half an hour of snappy practice under the watchful eye of Manager Foley, getting ready for their game on Monday with Bobcaygeon. All the boys were out and going strong with shooting and passing especially emphasized during the practice. They looked to be "in the pink" for what promises to be the battle of the season when they try to knock off Bobcaygeon in their town on Monday, and if they don't win that game they'll have, at least, are going to try awful hard. As they are counting on a sizable number of fans going by taking the trip with them next Monday tentative arrangements towards the securing of a special bus have been made. Anyone wishing to make the trip is asked to communicate with Frank Foley at the Benson House Barber Shop.

Standing, To Date, Of The Teams

Victorias Must Win Next Two Games; Midgets Must Beat Bobcaygeon "Kids" Once

CHANCE BRIGHT

Those followers of the fortunes of the Lindsay Victorias Lindsay's entry in the intermediate O.H.A., who thought that it was all over for the locals after that hard-luck trimming they administered in Markham on last Monday night, needn't feel so down in the mouth. Lindsay has a swell chance to get into the play-offs for this section, as first and second teams play off and if they play the kind of hockey they are capable of against Uxbridge and Markham is kind enough to knock off Port Perry in their next two games, Lindsay and Markham will be the two squads battling in a home-and-home series, goals to count, for section honours, and what a play-off that should be.

In the section standing to date, published below, Markham leads with straight wins, Lindsay and Port Perry are tied for second with two of each kind chalked down opposite their names, and Uxbridge has the cellar all to herself with four losses. Should Lindsay win her next two games, and Markham do likewise, they would be in the play-offs for the leadership of Section "B" of group 3, the winner to play off with Preston who drew a bye in Section "C," the winner to play off with the winner of Lakefield-Havelock teams making up Section "A." So on the outcome of the next two games rests Lindsay's chances of getting into the play-offs, and the fan's chance of seeing some thrilling play-down games.

In the standing published below two points are assigned for each win, "P" stands for goals scored by the teams, and "A" for goals scored against the team.

"Gringo Privateer"

By Peter B. Kyne

SYNOPSIS

Kenneth Burney, adventurer and ne'er-do-well gentleman, comes to Bradley Bardin, King of the cattle country, for a job. Burney has had a fight with Martin Bruce, a rival cattle owner who has been stealing the King's stock, aided by Miguel Gallegos, a Mexican bandit. The King, liking young Burney, makes him general manager of the ranch on condition that he quit Bruce and Gallegos out of the way. Burney meets Bruce, who has sworn to kill him. They both draw their guns, but Burney outwits the wily old cattle thief.

Meanwhile Muriel Bardin, beautiful daughter of the King, becomes more interested in Burney than she cares to admit. She tries to persuade her father not to let Burney tackle the cattle thieves. But Burney continues to lay his plans for the battle that is sure to come. In another encounter with Bruce, Burney calmly accepts an insult from the latter to the disgust of his men.

CHAPTER IX

Back at the Hotel International half an hour later Ken Burney and his bodyguard dined in the hotel grill, while across the room old Martin Bruce, Miguel Gallegos and the other man ate and eyed them coolly from time to time. After dinner Burney went to the hotel desk and asked for a telegram blank. As he leaned across the counter writing on it, Martin Bruce came up alongside of him and stamped on the small toe of his left foot. Without a word Burney moved over to give him more room.

"Lemme have the key to my room," Bruce ordered the clerk, and drove his elbow into Burney's ribs.

"Oh, good evening, Mr. Bruce," the latter saluted him politely.

"Sending a telegram for more help?" the old wolf queried harshly. "I would, if I was you. You'll need it."

"What a sear you are, Mr. Bruce. Are you, by any chance, the seventh son of a seventh son and born with an eau? You must be, for you have made a most astonishingly correct guess. Read that," and he handed Martin Bruce the telegram. It read:

Golden West Arms Company.

Los Angeles, California.

Please express collect immediately two light Lewis machine guns and thirty Springfield rifles United Slates army model sixty shells one hundred thousand rounds ball cartridges stop bill to El Ranchito Division

Bardin Land and Cattle Company.

Kenneth Burney,

General Manager.

The old scoundrel was interested. "What you aim to do, sonny boy? Start a revolution across the line?"

Joint-Ease

"My friend," said Miguel Gallegos softly, "when men like Martin Bruce weep a man always dies."

"I intend to make Cajon Bonita a night good place for you and your men to keep away from; I intend to make the Bardin lands there safe for the Bardin cattle."

"Why, our Willie's on the peck, ain't he?" Martin Bruce murmured sneeringly. He handed back the telegram which Burney gave to the clerk to file. "Well, thanks for the tip, son. I reckon I can pick up a couple of experienced shooting gunners myself, an' if you can buy 200 Springfield army rifles I reckon I can, too. Pleased to meet you some brigid day over in El Cajon Bonita. Good night!" With the words he again dug viciously at the young er man's ribs with his right elbow. Instantly Burney's left arm slid under Bruce's crooked forearm; his fingers grasped the left lapel of Bruce's coat in a firm grasp, while his right hand closed over Martin Bruce's right wrist. Then he pressed downward, bending Bruce's arm across the iron muscles of his own left arm, which acted as a fulcrum.

"Just try reaching for a gun with your left arm, old settler," he warned, "and I'll break your right arm. Then I'll take your guns away from you this time I'll keep them . . . Poor old Martin Bruce!"

He purred his lips as it to soil in the snarling face, but refrained, while Miguel Gallegos and the other man stood helplessly by, for Burney had adroitly twisted his victim until Bruce's body presented a shield in the event the latter's friends should open fire. "Close in," Burney ordered his henchmen. "If they start anything you finish it."

He half squatted and presented his left knee as a seat for Martin Bruce a violent downward recoil on the latter's arm caused Bruce to squat in pain on that left knee, whereupon Burney suddenly withdrew it and with a violent shove hurled Martin Bruce over backward. He struck the floor with a rib-cracking jolt before he could scramble to his feet Burney had possessed himself of the small gun worn inside the trousers band on the right side.

"Quiet," he warned, and helped himself to a forty-five worn under Bruce's left coat lapel.

"That's the third time I've disarmed you and the second time I've manhandled you within ten days, Mr. Bruce," he explained, as the latter got to his feet. "Each time you have been the aggressor. I tell you, you're too old to be picking on the young fellows."

Martin Bruce stood staring at him, ashen of face, the glint of murder in his cold blue eyes. Suddenly his lower lip commenced to tremble; then two big tears started across his sun-bitten face and he turned and walked out of the hotel.

"My friend," said Miguel Gallegos softly, "when men like Martin Bruce weep a man always dies. Only death can avenge that insult—and you have signed your own death by the large number of orders printed at one time.

OUT OUR WAY BY WILLIAMS

veling past your chuck-wagon, drop in and have a bite with us."

"You are very kind, senor. I will make it a point to come by your chuck-wagon. I may have a few friends with me."

"Bring them too. The more the merrier."

"Buenas noches, senor."

"Buenas noches."

Burney turned to his bodyguard. "Well, I've cleaned up all of the business that brought up to Huachita, boys. We'll leave our saddle horses in the livery stable and pick them up next week when we pass through this way en route to El Cajon Bonita. Meanwhile, this town isn't the pleasantest place in the world for us, so we'll just hire an automobile and drive back to the ranch. And we'll slide the king for the bill."

King Bardin and the princess were lounging on the verandah about nine o'clock that night. It had been an excessively hot day and the heat still lingered both were loth to retire until the atmosphere had cooled somewhat. Presently the girl said:

"Dad, we're going to have a visitor. I see the headlights of an automobile coming up the road."

"Stranger, sure enough," said the king. "All the El Ranchito cars are in the garage. I'll bet a ripe peach it's the sheriff bringing home the bodies of my general manager and his bodyguard. Couldn't be anybody else at this hour of the night."

The casualness of this remark infuriated his daughter. "There's a streak of callousness, of downright cruelty, in you, Dad Bardin," she charged. "If harm has come to Ken Burney I shall consider you have killed him as surely as if you had, personally, shot him. How can you bear to tempt a man to his death—to suborn murder—for mere gain?"

"Got to maintain my rights, honey," he defends meekly. "Well, we'll not be in suspense very long. I'll bet that car as it passes."

He did, demanding to know who came.

"Ken Burney and my bodyguard in a hired car," came the answer.

"All intact," the king demanded eagerly.

"Come up here and tell me about it, Mr. Burney."

"Do, please," the princess pleaded. To her father said said: "Something must have happened. He went to town on horseback but returned in a rented car."

Ken Burney came up on the verands. The king motioned him to a chair. "Lovely evening," the general manager murmured, "but almost too warm for comfort."

"Never mind the weather," His Majesty warned with a slight show of impatience. "Report!"

So Ken Burney reported in meticulous detail and, in conclusion, added: "I had a feeling that if I went into the stall in the livery stable to get my horse some inconsiderate wretch might rise up out of the manger and shoot me with a forty-five-caliber pistol. So I hired a car and came home in order to avoid the exertion of sin."

EX-MAYOR STEWART WITH THE COUNCIL

How Can Lindsay Prosper?

W. E. Kelcher Suggests Hired, Industrial Commission—Higher Assessment, Lower Tax Rate

SEE BRIGHT FUTURE

W. E. Kelcher, former president of the Retail Merchants Association, writes to The Post suggesting ways of getting industries and bettering the town.

SECURING INDUSTRIES FOR LINDSAY

The present time seems a very opportune one for the Town of Lindsay to take advantage and secure some of the British and American manufacturing concerns who on account of a change in our tariffs are practically forced to establish branches in Canada.

We have a town situated in the heart of the best farming district in the province, with plenty of splendid sites for manufacturing purposes, served by the Canadian National and Canadian Pacific railways and only a matter of an hour to an hour and a half from the main lines of both of these transportation systems.

I notice the Mayor has already, in his inaugural address, expressed a wish that new industries be secured and while our civic body has an excellent representative at the chair man of industries, we can realize that no funds are placed at his disposal to go out and intensively or interest manufacturers looking for a location and surely we cannot expect our fellow townsman, Mayor H. I. Moore, to spend his own money lavishly to induce even an inspection of our town and its industries.

Towns and cities all around us are alive to the necessity of having a first class industrial commissioner, pay him a salary commensurate with the position and look at the results. Oshawa secures six new industries in a day, Peterboro and Port Hope has every manufacturing plant busy and Belleville has been exceptionally favorable in securing several first-class industries through the efforts of their industrial commissioner.

We have tried years and years without real intensive efforts being put forward to secure industries and it seems to have been unprofitable.

Suggestion No. 1.—That the municipal council of the Town of Lindsay provide a sum sufficiently remunerative to secure an industrial commissioner of unqualified merit, who will immediately take up the duties of secretary of the Board of Trade or Chamber of Commerce and inaugurate a campaign by mail and by interviewing prospective manufacturers to locate in Lindsay; the Industrial Commissioner to be well paid for his services and allowed travelling expenses for the above purpose and engaged on a basis of production right from as many of our people work today or dismissal and another person engaged to replace him if he does not produce results.

Suggestion II.—That the Mayor and Council consider the advisability of doing what many other municipalities have successfully accomplished, viz.—Raising our assessment on properties and reduce the tax rate to approximately 22 mills instead of 31 mills as now. One of the first items manufacturers are interested in is the tax rate of any desirable location, and if Lindsay would adopt this plan we believe it no doubt a 20 or 22 mill rate would appeal to many manufacturers as they do not usually think of the assessed values. There is no property holder in Lindsay who would lose even a five cent piece if the assessment were raised and the tax rate cut in half.

Ex-Mayor Stewart Says Assessment Is On Wrong Basis

Passes On Some of the Things He Learned While He Was Mayor Last Year

GIVES SUGGESTION

To The Editor of The Post:

I noticed in last night's Post an appeal from our Mayor for information from the business and professional men as to materials used by them which are not manufactured in Canada. As a professional man and as one who is deeply interested in the town, may I say that a postcard to the Department of Trade and Commerce at Ottawa will bring all the details of everything that is manufactured in Canada, where it is manufactured, what materials are used and what parts of these materials are manufactured in Canada and what are imported.

Failing this, the information can be secured from the Industrial Commission of the Canadian National Railways, or, failing this, from the headquarters of Canadian Chambers of Commerce, at Montreal.

The essential thing to securing industries for Lindsay is, in my opinion, equalization of assessment in all municipalities, except the large cities throughout the province, as referred to this at some length in my inaugural address last year pointing out where the trouble arose. My idea was to call a conference of the mayors throughout the province and discuss the matter fully. The plan which I had, although not perfect, might have been, I think, the basis of a satisfactory solution of this difficulty with the suggestion and ideas of the other officials. However, as many trivial matters arose during the year and what I had not time to consider this most important matter, the very basis of community life.

The best bet we have in Lindsay at the present time for new industries is in connection with the silk business. It is apparent that manufacturing will have to locate in a centre where there is a dying plant. Mr. A. P. Beal has been enterprising enough to establish such a plant in Lindsay, which is now operating, and efforts along this line should bring results.

There are three things necessary to bring industries to Lindsay: 1st, Co-operation; 2nd, hard work and 3rd, equalization of assessment of like municipalities throughout the province.

Yours truly,
W. ERIC STEWART

Dog Chases Rabbit Into Local House And Under Stove

—Lindsay, Jan. 17.

LINDSAY RESIDENTS may get a heaven-sent meat of Ducks, Cats may come back and Blind Pigs may find their way home, but it isn't every day that a bound chases a rabbit in under your kitchen stove. While preparing a meal at her home in the East Ward, a lady opened the shed door and found that a large dog had cornered a rabbit. The rabbit slipped past her into the kitchen, and she chased the dog away. In the meantime the rabbit seemed very tame, showing evidence of enjoying the heat of the stove and nibbling lettuce from her hand. But her reputation as a wild-animal tamer did not stand up long, for when one of the men of the house came home and, after some telephoning, found that the rabbit was the pet of a neighbor.

Suggests That Stop Logs Be Used At Lindsay Locks

Find Scugog Lake Level is Low and Wants Water Banked up From the Lindsay Locks

TO BETTER FISHING

BOWMANVILLE, Jan. 17.—The possibilities for a splendid future for Lake Scugog and Cleaners, if the opportunity of furthering fishing interests is closely followed, is stressed in a very forceful and practical letter received this week by The Bowmanville Canadian Bituminan, from a Durham county boy. Dr. L. B. Williams, well known Toronto physician of 8 Oriole Gardens, and a summer resident at Caesarea. Dr. Williams' letter reads:

"I was down to Caesarea three weeks ago and found the lake situation rather alarming. I have never seen the lake anything like as low as this fall and no rains since to appreciably alter the situation. There are only two ways to raise the water level sufficiently to care for the "Big Lunge" of Lake Scugog, either successfully pray for January thaws, rains, etc., or dam back at Lindsay and probably prayit is the more directly availing.

"Here is Lake Scugog, head of the most wonderful chain of fresh water lakes. It has naturally efficient spawning beds, but upstream conditions, I am told, are deplorable at Lindsay. I am told also that when several years ago under rather similar conditions the springtime found the long shores of the lake shoved with a decaying pestilence of what had been the lakes finest pride, the Government did two things: shovelmen were sent out to bury the mess and at Lindsay locks as the husky

Orillia Stork Had a Slack Time But Cupid Was Busy Last Year

ORILLIA, Jan. 17.—Vital statistics for the year show more deaths and more marriages, but less births in 1929 the number of births that were registered at the town hall was 265, while 1930 shows a slight decline from that number to 263. Death rates are up considerably after the year (for 1929 were 149 and in 1930 the death were 155, showing an increase of six over the previous year. The marriages registered in 1929 were 4, but 1930 shows a gain with 50, six more than its predecessor.

The decline in the birth rate is lamentable, but even this small number shows an increase over the years before, when the number was even lower. The deaths of the year with an average age can be taken as just about the average according to authorities. Deaths in Orillia vary from year to year but the slight difference shows is not an alarming one. Marriages have for the last few years shown a gradual increase from year to year and this year's report again shows an increase. Local authority again makes the statement that it is a pleasing thing to be able to show the public in spite of all the adverse criticism to which this ceremony is subjected, more marriages are reported this year than the preceding one, and bride and groom go smiling on to a happy nuptial voyage.

Says Canada Has Not Kept Promises To Newfoundland

—Montreal, Jan. 17.

CANADA HAS NOT lived up to her verbal agreements with Newfoundland, many prominent Canadians hardly know that such a place as Newfoundland exists, trade between the two countries ought to be mutual but Canada refused to go half way in its development," Hon. Peter Cashin, Minister of Finance and Customs in the Government of Newfoundland, declared in a strong address here last night.

SPEAKING OF NEWSPAPER VETERANS

TWO HAVE WORKED ON ORILLIA PACKET AND TIMES 121 YEARS; TWO ON BROCKVILLE RECORDER 114 YEARS.

The other day the Toronto Globe published a story about two printers who had seen a joint service of 111 years on The Globe, but look at this.

ORILLIA, Jan. 17—In the Toronto Globe recently pictures were shown of John McLellan and Wilis Aldyr who had retired after working on the staff of the Globe as printers for a total of 111 years, the former for 54 years and the latter for 57 years.

There are, however, two brothers, Messrs. George Murray and William Murray, who have a record better than that, as George Murray has been in the Orillia Packet and Times office for over 63 years and his brother William, for over 58 years, making a total of 121 years. They are, too, as a rule, the first ones on duty in the morning and work steadily the same hours each week as the other members of the staff. Mr. George Murray is an advertisement and job compositor and he sets most of the advertisements in the paper and Times as well as a good share of the job work. We think this is a record which will be hard to beat.

BROCKVILLE, Jan. 16—The Toronto Globe, says the Brockville Recorder and Times is striking its long white whiskers with glee over the fact that two of its employees, who are retiring, have given 57 years and 54 years, respectively, of service to that paper. This service aggregates 111 years, which is not so bad considering the troubles they must have experienced in the Globe, But these men are but infants in service compared to W. J. Reynolds

HOLD INDOOR HORSESHOES TOURNMENT

James Isaac's Team Wins Indoor Horseshoes Tournament Held at The Benson House For Silver Cup.

A very successful and pleasing event was put on by the members of the Rubber Horseshoe Club in the town at the Benson House last night, when the Lions Garage group and the Benson House group held a contest for a beautiful silver cup given by the House of Hobberlin, Toronto, and donated by Mr. Harry White, the Inspector of Agencies for the Toronto firms. Mr. James Isaac, head of the winning group was presented with the trophy by Mr. Alex Clark the local representative of the firm donating the cup.

After a two and a half hour contest, about 60 or 70 of the conists-ants gathered around the festive board, and enjoyed an excellent luncheon, consisting largely of oysters, sandwiches, coffee and cigars and other good things, followed by a number of short, witty speeches from different members of both groups.

Mr. Clark in presenting the cup reminded the guests that he had represented the firm for 15 years.

Cobourg Gravely Considers Withdrawing From County

Motion Carried at Inaugural Meeting to Have Finance Committee Investigate Advisability of Action

TO CUT DOWN TAXES

COBOURG, Jan. 17.—The Finance committee of the town council will investigate and report to the town council on Monday evening, January 26, the effect of the equalization assessment and the advisability or otherwise of the town of Cobourg separating from the united counties of Northumberland and Durham.

Motion to this effect was passed at the inaugural meeting of Cobourg's 1931 council. The resolution was moved by Dr. J. H. C. Willoughby and seconded by Councillor Hopkins, two new members of council, and was passed unanimously.

When the motion was placed before the council, Reeve Pratt asked Coun. Willoughby if such action were possible.

"Yes," replied the new member of council, who has been mayor of both Saskatoon and Regina, "there is machinery of law ready for this purpose. Several years ago Whitby was desirous of withdrawing from the county of Ontario, but a readjustment was made and this course was not followed."

Famous Landmark At Fenelon Falls Is Being Threatened

Tall Chimney That Guides Fishermen, May Be Torn Down Without Protest

IS 47 YEARS OLD

FENELON FALLS, Jan. 17.—(Staff Correspondence)—If present intentions are carried out the finest smoke stack in Victoria county will fall early next week. Just what the idea is no one appears to know except those on the inside.

Forty-seven years ago this stack was built for the Napanee Pulp and Paper Company, and to all appearances it is as firm today as it ever was.

It is estimated there are 112,000 bricks in it and would cost it built, today almost $7000. What a site, and what an inducement for a factory that would require a stack!

It is estimated it would cost $400 to upset and clean up. Just what would be done with the brick is a mystery and property owners are being urged to act quickly to save this unheard of destruction.

Every yachtsman who comes up Sturgeon Lake never forgets the sight of this stack, towering one hundred feet above Cameron Lake Shore, at Fenelon Falls. This guiding star to anglers and travellers all up and down the waters.

Bonspiel Games

The curling rink was a busy place Friday when two rinks skipped by Messrs. D. Hetherington and George Moore came over from Bobcaygeon for a game. A local rink skipped by G. P. Vipan was a shots up over D. Hetherington's, and M. Littleton was 3 up on that of skip G. Moore.

The following local rinks played Bobcaygeon—J. H. Stanton (sk.), J. Daniel, R. T. Dunlop, James Paterson; W. N. Blake (sk.) H. W. Robinson, T. H. Moffatt, D. G. C. Graham.

The Stanton rink tied in a 9—8 score with that of E. Bottom, Bobcaygeon (skipped by R. Watts) being 10 up in a 7-17 score.

Among Old hockey fans who accompanied the Junior O.H.A. team to Bobcaygeon for a scheduled game Friday evening left over Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Daniel and Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Burns.

Mr. Melville Poulsom, station agent at Burgt River, visited his father, Mr. Thomas Poulsom at Fenelon Falls on Thursday.

JUDGE WAS THREATENED AT TORONTO

SELF-NAMED RED SAYS THAT HE WILL "GET" JUDGE COATS-WORTH AND BURN HIS HOME

TORONTO Jan 17—Usual quiet calm and decorum of Mr. Birch, in Rosedale, was broken last night by the presence of police motorcycles and service cars, and by the crunch-crunch of the stout shoe leather of plainclothesmen and burly constables in the vicinity of the house of Judge Emerson Coatsworth.

A patrol of from two to six or eight men was kept throughout the night in the vicinity of the house, after a man proclaiming himself to be a Red had threatened to burn it down. He was phoned there at the instance of Chief Constable Draper and inspector of Detectives Murray, the former of whom was telephoned by Judge Coatsworth when he learned of the threat.

Nine Named Twice

The author of the warning, declared to have "quite a nice young-sounding voice" telephoned his home or about 6 o'clock last evening. The telephone was answered by Miss Helen I. Coatsworth, the judge's daughter.

Two different versions of the conversation which ensued have been reported. According to police officials the man threatened both to "get" him and to set fire to the house, accompanying his declarations with shocking and violent and abusive language. Judge Coatsworth's account of the dialogue, read to a reporter at his House house last night from a slip of paper on which he said he had written down what his daughter told him, referred only to burning of the house.

The man resorted to no profanity the judge said, added that although his daughter is yet His Honor to "watch his damned old house."

Not At All Afraid

His Honor declared that he was not at all afraid of the portended holocaust, and had only telephoned Chief Draper of home installed. Members of his family were not unduly alarmed either, he said, although his daughter was "serious and concerned" as well as annoyed when she told him about it.

Fifteen Years Ago Today

The primaries in the Tankard Series will be played tomorrow on local ice. The rinks eligible are Norwood, Peterboro, Bobcaygeon, Fenelon Falls, Cannington and Lindsay.

The many happy incidents and associates in connection with the celebration of the 100th birthday of Mrs. Elizabeth Hopkins on Saturday, will long be remembered by those who had the privilege of participating in such a remarkable event. All day Saturday hundreds called to pay their respects and tender congratulations to the venerable lady who was able to greet them with a bright smile and hearty handshake.

The lull in police court circles was destroyed this morning when a prisoner faced the police magistrate charged with raising a disturbance on Saturday evening. Many placed in the police cells he introduced roughhouse tactics and broke the peace. At this morning's session of the court he handed over $13.50, which includes the fine imposed for breaking the law and also the radiator.

At St. Andrew's Church, on Sunday morning the 126th Battalion attended in a body. The sermon by the pastor, Rev. Mr. McIntosh, was bright and cheerful and most impressive in its character. A military choir took the place of the usual church choir,

Mayor Appeals To You

The appeal of Mayor Samuel Acorn to the merchants to help the town get new industries, is the beginning of a serious movement to draw industries to Lindsay. As Mayor Acorn said in his inaugural address, many industries that used to sell goods to Canada will have to institute branch factories here or pay a high tariff. It is certain that many will open factories in Canada, and it is up to Lindsay to get her share.

This first move in one of plain, ordinary common sense. The mayor asks merchants to give him the names of firms in the United States from whom they do certain products—companies that have not got branch factories in Canada at the present time. When this list is in, the industrial commission will write those companies inviting them to pay a visit to Lindsay before deciding on a site for their new factory if they are contemplating setting up one in Canada.

This, of course, is only one of the many avenues that will be followed in the search for new industries, but it seems certain that every possible means will be exhausted. There will be no half-hearted attempts to bring factories here. In some ways, this promises to be the biggest work of the town council this year.

Other centres are getting new industries through extending a little extra energy, and as the open season for industrial hunting ended in Canada on October 31st, it will likely be brief, the Lindsay council would be well advised to take Mayor Acorn's advice and have the building of a number of dwelling and office units with "Welcome" on it is in plan sight.

Two industries have already made themselves known that will show why this line of search should be taken seriously. One town is with industries looking for sites for branch factories. A local druggist said that the price of many of his imported goods have gone up as a result of the new tariffs. One line of goods in demand locally used to be sold at 25 cents but now the druggist is asking 50 cents for it. Added way there had been an increase, he said that the goods were ordered by the wholesale house to-day at 50 cents now, but that the company intended to start a branch establishment in Canada and that when that had been done there would be a reduction in price. In another line of business a manufacturer said that he had experienced the increased competition of imported goods. Instead of importing their finished goods for bearings and many other things they were manufactured only outside of Canada and now they are being manufactured in the United States, and so found in Lindsay, and the council wants to get in touch with those industries with markets in Canada that have been affected by the tariff change.

Dogs Too Save Lives

Dogs not get their names in the paper occasionally. But to do so they have to be very wicked, catch public admiration by an unique act of bravery, or capture the red ribbon at a pooch exhibit. As it happens, Bingo dog is a good dog even tho he keeps the neighbors cat meowing for hours on end by a telephone pole.

Bingo lives in Lindsay at 94 Elgin street. He was out patrolling the streets at a very early hour, while the tired populace was still wrapt in slumber at at the approach of dawn. He saw a peculiar light thru the window of a neighbor's dwelling and with he sensed danger and so rushed pellmell up the steps to warn the inmate who was fast asleep.

In quick manner Bingo reached the man's bedroom and did everything but speak to wake him. Finally the man awoke just in time to be spared from the horrible experience of being trapped in a blazing building. Thru the timely intervention of Jiggs the man's life was saved and the fire was extinguished before it had got beyond control.

Dogs are sagacious animals. They get in wrong now and again, but this dog earned a few extra merit marks for his "turibe." Not only that, but the backyard where Jiggs his home must be pretty well dug up and juicy bones hidden here and there as a reward for his singular act.—Kitchener Daily Record.

Quebec Surplus

At the beginning of the week Ontario's Treasurer announced a provincial 1930 deficit of $628,000.

At the close of the week Quebec's Treasurer announced a 1930 surplus of $4,210,140.

What is the answer?

The answer is found in a study of the items of expenditure by the two provinces, and a comparison of them.

Quebec spent on education $4,210,230.

Quebec spent on public highways $10,931,168.

The total was $15,141,398.

What about Ontario?

Ontario spent on education $11,774,000.

Ontario spent for highways $17,900,000.

The total was $29,674,000.

Of other words, Ontario's expenditure on education and highways was $14,532,602 more than Quebec's. It was three times more than Quebec's surplus.

And this wasn't all. Go through the respective financial statements of the two provinces, and what will be found is this: That Ontario is spending millions for all sorts of things and social services not found in Quebec at all.

As the Journal remarked the other day, it all get back to this: That a province or a people cannot have their cake and eat it: cannot have a government giving this, that and the other thing, all of which costs money and still expect to have surpluses. Two and two make four, but they never make three.—Ottawa Journal.

The cost of constructing provincial highways is met by adding to the provincial debt and the proceeds of the motorists' taxes go largely to departments that have nothing to do with highways.

INFANTILE PARALYSIS

Everybody has pity for the crippled child, and anything and everything that help him is willingly done despite the time and cost.

And yet most of these crippled children are victims of that dread ailment, infantile paralysis.

Whenever it begins to spread in a district parents are almost terror stricken as they think of the possibility of their loved ones being attacked. Now just as in cancer, heart disease, or tuberculosis, great things can be done if the ailment is recognized early so also with infantile paralysis. If the serum is used within the first forty eight hours, the attack is so lessened in severity that most cases escape any paralysis or deformity.

The thought then for all parents is that they do not become alarmed and fearful when infantile meningitis is in their neighborhood but that they watch their children day by day for the first signs of any kind of sickness.

When a child becomes greatly protracted although he is comfortable and not very high, with flushed face, and anxious expression, throat red and sore, pulse rapid, trembling of the limbs and body, the head tilted slightly backward, stiffness of the spine as he attempts to bend forward, your best plan is to call in infantile paralysis or poliomyelitis as it is officially known.

Get your family physician at the first sign of constipation if there are any cases in your neighborhood. If he is in doubt tell him you'd soon or that he take a throat swab and have any delay. He will be quite willing to do this as there is not likely to be any time separation before the serum, even if the child does not have the disease.

This serum which has now be secured from government or state sources when absolutely necessary, has taken most of the tragedy out of these cases

Under proper treatment at least 90 percent of the deformities which used to occur before the serum was discovered are now prevented, and deformities as an after result should entirely disappear. And even where deformities do result, the skill of the orthopedic surgeons has been able to correct most of them.

Infantile paralysis seems to be fairly common this past year, so parents should guide themselves accordingly.

SUNDAY THOUGHTS

This column is contributed by an Independent Writer Outside the Staff of The Post

READING

Those who live in the open spaces, without opportunity to curl or watch hockey matches or after Twenty Clubs or Progress Clubs have long winter evenings with themselves or for visiting or entertaining friends, and the good old fashioned hospitality when we used to the neighbors or had them drop in without a formal invitation is about a thing of the past. We have grown very conventional, and expect to be invited, and more and more we are living isolated. We do not see one another as we used to do when we went to the Post Office for the mail. The rural mail delivery has destroyed that function. We do not go around the neighborhood asking "hands" to a threshing or sawing bee. The telephone system has made us better without moving from our fire sides. When the 'Red cow is fed, and Bobbin is cared for, and supper is eaten a long evening is before us, and what are we to do until the time comes to crawl between the blankets after having said our prayers. If there i sa family of children there are all kinds of games that can played, or books are so plentiful and so cheap that along evening with a good book or magazine is a very entertaining and very profitable way of spending the hours before bedtime.

Who said, Reading maketh a full man?" There are all kinds of trade journals, one of which it is necessary if the worker would keep abreast of his competitors, especially in this province where the basic industry is agriculture. The farmer must have a good magazine, and it is doubtful if any of the newer ones has filled the place of the old "Advocate." A daily paper such as the Post, where the world's news are boiled down for us, and the doings of our locality is given, and we have a laugh every day at how Jiggs has conquered Maggie, and has her feeding out of his hand.

In some parts of the province an illustrated weekly has begun to take some of the magazines published in the American Republic banned from being exposed for sale in Canada, and they are loaded with their sugestively evil stories, with a salacious or obscene tendency. that hang on the walls of moving pictures that are never forgotten—things that appeal to the sensual or the lower animal nature. This is the kind of literature by its propaganda for companionate marriages is destroying the sanctity of marriage and are breaking up home life—They make light of personal purity, and so lower both ideals and morals. There will course plenty of high class American magazines, but we have Canadian Magazines, both for the home in general, and for women in particular, that are in the very first class, and are improving every year as their subscription lists grow, and our duty is first of all to buy goods of Canadian Manufacture whether it be articles of food, clothing or furniture. We cannot build up our own industries unless we are loyal to our own land.

Now why should people choose to live in a pigsty when he can have his residence in a clean well-furnished house? There surely is a queer streak in the man who prefers the scraps of the garbage can to a dinner off a table with snow white cloth and some plain well cooked appetizing food. Who wants to live daily with morons and filthy minded people when he can hold converse with the wise and decent of all past time? The cost of literature of all the past can be bought today for the price of a meal at an ordinary restaurant, and two or three of these will last and feeding for the evening of a whole winter, and they can be of such a nature that they can be read and read again and always you want a pen picture of the horrors of the first French Revolution you can get it in Carlyle's interesting and readable for in Dickens—Tale of Two Cities.

Parents guard their children's health by supervising their food, they do little to guard or guard shrdlu but they do little to guard the minds or morals of their children. The comic supplements are a menace of cheap crude humor, and their influence is in the wrong direction. We are going to have Omer Wells in a few days. Why not start a campaign to have a winter campaign for good literature.

FOR ANY CHILD

CHILDREN are happy and a carefree by nature, so when they cry for no apparent reason any careful mother worries. No one can always guess just what is wrong but the remedy can always be the same." Good old Castoria! There's one in every drop of this pure vegetable preparation and not the slightest harm in its frequent use. As often as baby has a fretful spell, is feverish and cross and can't sleep, let Castoria soothe and quiet him. Sometimes it's a touch of colic. Sometimes it is constipation. Just keep Castoria handy and give freely for any of the above conditions; relief will follow promptly.

All through babyhood, Castoria is a mother's standby, and wise mothers do not change to stronger medicines as the child grows older. Just increase the dose of Castoria and keep the youngster's stomach sweet and the bowels in good order.

To be sure of getting genuine Fletcher's Castoria you should look for this signature: Chas. H. Fletcher

Uxbridge Wins 5-3 From Vics

Off-Colour Shooting, Poor Defensive Work And An Off-Night For Eberts Explains Why Locals Lost

MISSED MANY CHANCES

Uxbridge Shown Real Class Here, Scoring Final Two Counters As Lindsay Boys Were Extending Themselves.

(By J.W.M.)

Off-colour shooting by the whole team, poor defensive work, and spotty goal-tending by "Ike" Eberts last night let the Vics in for a 5-to-3 beating by Uxbridge intermediates who played head-up hockey all the time, but who on scoring chances worked-for alone, should have been defeated by the locals. This defeat, while it sets them back, does not end the intermediate's chances 'of getting into the play-offs with Markham, as first and second teams of the group, providing they take their next contest in Uxbridge. On the night's play on their aggressiveness alone the locals should have walked off the ice victors, but their short-comings were costly ones and more than made up for away any advantage gained otherwise.

Lindsay's forwards were not shooting with any degree of accuracy and on many occasions particularly in the second and last periods, what looked like almost sure scoring chances were tossed away when they missed the net, by inches but by a foot. Another grave error committed by the locals was their style of playing in the last period, when after ten minutes of a five-man attack they tied the score, most of the crowd was settling back in expectation that they would play orthodox defensive hockey and force the contest into overtime. Instead the five-man attack was kept right up in the Uxbridge end of the rink and on two occasions men broke away from the scrambles and, slammed in two more goals to put the game on ice for Uxbridge.

The Stand-Outs

Buster Martin at centre was the hardest worker on the ice and was ably flanked by Otto Rich on one side, and "Greeny" Williams, on the other side, went well after his absence. Dames played the best game on the second line forward pair, while Uxbridge the stand-outs were Wills for his hopping, drifting shots from the blue line twice beat the Lindsay team when they didn't leave them alone. Carr in goal for the visitors had plenty of work to do and was outstanding for the cool way in which he handled himself all evening in the face of Lindsay attacks. Doug Thorndike, of Manilla, had charge of the game and was an absolutely impartial official and one who kept the rough work down to a minimum.

The Scoring Plays

After half the first period had gone O. Linton, wingman for Uxbridge, was penalized for tripping by one of the defencemen. Two Lindsay forwards seemed to be covering him but he broke away, came around the Lindsay net, and gave the puck a weak shove that was nevertheless enough to put it in off "Ike's" skate. Three or four minutes later Wills came down and took a shot from outside the blue line. It was a fast shore and had feet to the side of the net but Eberts' stick was in the way and it rolled down and in for a second soft counter for the visitors. In the second canto Rich playing defence started off on a beautiful rush with Dames flanking him. Just as Rich hit the defense he slipped over to Dames pass to Dames who took it on the fly and beat the goalie with an ankle-high shot that he had no chance of saving.

In the third period the first goal came again off Wills' stick. He lofted a high one down the rink almost from his own blue line. Fever tried to catch it but missed and it continued on its course and beat "Ike" who didn't know where it was coming from. Then with ten minutes of this season gone, Martin centred the puck to Rich who worked right in for a score. A minute or so later Reeves did the same thing on a pass from Rich. The last two Uxbridge goals by Norton and Wills were comparatively easy ones when both men broke away and with five men on the attack there was no chance to catch them and they buffaloed "Ike." This in brief was the origin of the scoring plays.

The Line-ups

On the teams were: Uxbridge, goal K. Carr; defence, D. Prentice and W. Moore; centre, D. Rodman; wings, O. Wills and G. Suggitt; subs G. Linton and N. Norton. Lindsay goal, F. Eberts; defence, E. Reeves and H. Fever; centre, C. Martin; wings, C. Rich and L. Williams; subs, J. Crafton, R. Forbert and J. Dames. Referee—Doug. Thorndike.

First Period

Starting off in the first period things were pretty slow and the visitors were backchecking like fools and keeping the play in the Lindsay end of the rink. The Uxbridge team began to rush things up around the Uxbridge citadel but they were far-away as far as the shots were concerned with their shooting. The Uxbridge team were shooting from far out and hoping for a break and they got it when Wills broke into the corner, broke away from two checks, circled the Lindsay net and slipped the puck into the second counter came when Eberts scored for Uxbridge by shoving out his stick at a hanging high one of the top of the net and deflecting it into the net.

Second Period

As far as scoring the second period was eventful the only counter being the beautiful effort accomplished by Dames on Rich's pass just as they hit the defence. But play was much faster than in the first canto, and the locals were swarming down around the Uxbridge net but cool net-minding by Carr in the Uxbridge nets, and poor shooting by Lindsay forwards made all their scoring attempts ineffectual.

Third Period

In the last period Lindsay tied, and last the game. Wills scored Uxbridge's third goal, when his high shot interfered with by Fever slipped past Ike. Then on two quick goals by Rich and Reeves things were tied up again. But then with Lindsay still playing their five men up, Uxbridge had only to wait for a break against this style of play and four and one minutes respectively before the period ended men broke away and walked in on the unobstructed to put the visitors two up on the game.

BOBCAYGEON FENELON IN 1-1 TIE GAME

THIRTY MINUTES' OVERTIME FAILS TO BREAK TIE BETWEEN JUNIOR O.H.A. TEAMS IN FAST GAME.

BOBCAYGEON, Jan. 17—(Staff Correspondence)—Playing 3 periods and 30 minutes overtime failed to bring a decision between Fenelon Falls and Bobcaygeon on Friday night and they wound up their game with a 1-1-to-1 tie. Each team awarded 1 point.

Both teams played a wonderful game and deserve great credit and goalies were kept busy, there were a few penalties.

Coombs, of Lindsay, acted as referee. A large number of fans came over with the Fenelon team. The Bobcaygeon team, are in good shape for Monday night's game with the Lindsay midgets: so a great time is expected.

Collegiate Cagers To Open Season Today

—Lindsay, Jan. 17.

AFTER PRACTICING faithfully ever since school opened again after the Christmas holidays, the Red, Blue and Old Gold clad cage squad of the L. C.I. should give a good account of themselves when they take the trip to Uxbridge for the opening game this afternoon. They have a strong team with the forward line from last year intact and several promising youngsters coming up to fill the gaps left by graduation, etc. Charles Hutton, star centre of last year's aggregation, will be doing the same job this season and was the popular choice of the team for captain. This year he will lead his team-mates in only two scheduled games, one in Uxbridge and one here with Peterboro. The way of the single schedule is that the games were arranged so that the winner of the group would have a chance to advance on in the Ontario playdown which starts around the first of next month. So local fans will have to content themselves with the one home game in the hope that the collegiate will go further than this group and give them a chance to see the play-offs, with some other group here.

L.C.I. Team Plays Uxbridge Today

Representatives of the Red, Blue and Old Gold entrants for Uxbridge today to open the basketball league at the expense of the team from that town. The Uxbridge team is making its debut into organized basketball and from all accounts the local team should win handily. Coach Hale intends starting the sub forward line so as to save the regulars for the important game with the team from PCI here next Saturday. Holes of the L.C.I. rest on Captain C. B. Sutton, centre; L. McLean and V. E. Smith, forwards; J. M. Johnston and J. Graves defense; sub centre, J. Meehan, sub forwards, L. Marley and J. O'Connell; sub defense, J. Tilleck.

"Gringo Privateer"

By Peter B. Kyne

SYNOPSIS

Kenneth Burney, adventurer and one-time gentleman, comes to Bradley Bradin, King of the cattle country, for a job. Burney has had a fight with Martin Bruce a rival cattle owner who has been stealing the King's cattle, aided by Miguel Gallegos, a Mexican bandit. The King, liking young Burney makes him general manager of the ranch on condition that he put Bruce and Gallegos out of the way. Burney meets Bruce, who has sworn to kill him. They both draw their guns, but Burney outwits the wily old cattle thief.

Meanwhile Muriel Bardin, beautiful daughter of the King, becomes more interested in Burney than she cares to admit. She tries to persuade her father not to let Burney tackle the cattle thieves. But Burney continues to lay his plans for the battle that is sure to come. In another encounter with Bruce, Burney calmly accepts an insult from the latter, to the disgust of his men.

CHAPTER 19

"That meek Christian spirit of yours will get you killed by Bruce, or Gallegos before you've had another chance to get rid of them," the king complained.

"Speaking of that, sir, what was the reason for the sudden access of tenderness and regret for your misdeeds manifested this morning? Yesterday you would have kissed me had I delivered to you Miguel Gallegos' head on a platter, but this morning you forbade the bans. May I respectfully remind Your Majesty that it I am to be hanged, even remotely, in this delicate matter, your prophesy is extremely liable to some trust?"

"Muriel," the king replied maliciously, "things you're too young and innocent to talk about entrance me. She made me play thumbs-up."

Burney turned to the girl with a grave inclination of his black poll. "It's nice to discover who cares, princess."

"Mr. Burney," the young lady replied freezingly, "you are much too familiar on brief acquaintance. May I suggest you remember hereafter that you are merely one of the hired men on El Ranchito."

"He's my general manager," her father objected, "and I'll not have him insulted. The insult rights in general managers are vested in me alone. Muriel, you pipe down. You appear to have read into Mr. Burney's gracious remark a meaning not clear to the rest of us.

"If it had anything to do with cows you'd understand it. I'll not be treated as if I were a child father, I'll not pipe down."

"Young lady says she'll not pipe down, Your Majesty," Burney informed his employer. "What are you going to do about it? Do I have to resign in the middle of my contract in order to escape being insulted?"

The princess replied to his query. "You might retire to your own quarters, Mr. Burney."

"I think that to eminently sound advice, Your Majesty," Burney told her father. "This has been a long, hard, hot, dangerous day. I'm tired and if I remain here any longer your spoiled heir-apparent will get on my nerves. Ordinarily I could put up with her megrims and vapors but after declining to kill Miguel Gallegos, merely as a favor to the lady, I think I should be spared those cruel verbal shafts. Have I the king's permission to retire?"

"You have! Har-har! Har! Good night, son. You're certainly a comfort to me in my old age."

"God night, sir. Thank you." He bowed elaborately to the princess and disappeared into the darkness.

"That man," said the princess presently, "is a crazy dreamer."

"Maybe so, honey, but I'd hate to be the man that wakes him up. You were unnecessarily rude to him, Muriel."

"He's impudent and arrogant and deserves to be put in his place."

"You wanting your star in her put you in your place my dear. If you worry that boy, the first thing you know he'll go away and never come back and then what'll you do?"

"To hear you talk Dad, one would gather that I'm in love with him The idea!"

"Honey," His Majesty suggested, "suppose you step inside and put that La Golondrina record on the phonograph. On nights like this I crave music and I like it slow and sad and plaintive, because the ghosts of all the sons I never had seem to flit around in the gloaming like bats—

The princess bent over him and smothered his mouth with kisses. "Oh, Wad," she whispered, "I had to pick a fight with him to keep from crying. He's so wonderful it just breaks my heart to think of the prospect he has under way. I can't believe he's so terribly, casually bloodthirsty as he pretends. He must have suffered some terrible wrong and it has embittered him. Why can't he realize that life is worth—"

"The king fought his mouth free. "There's only one thing wrong with that young fellow," he declared. "His old man went broke in the cattle business and this lad has to fight his way back into it again. That's all. As soon as that job's finished Ken Burney will be co tame a jackrabbit can leap up and spit in his eye and get away with it."

"I can't understand him. He's so handsome, brilliant, witty, well-mannered and well-born, and yet he can descend to the sort of business and, apparently, enjoy it."

"He's got the intestinal investigture of a bear." His Majesty assured her with vulgar earnestness, "and the super-intelligence of a coyote. He ought to go far, provided his morality holds up, and I have a suspicion it will. He's broad between the ears and has a full, kind eye."

"You speak of him as though he were a horse." Muriel charged petulantly.

"I thought I asked for La Golondrina," the king reminded her, whereupon she realized some others topic of conversation would be agreeable to him. He she subsided, but with a distinct feeling that she had been with the tolerance usually reserved for very little girls who speak out of their turn.

The following morning Ken Burney was called on the telephone from Huachita. The man who answered the phonograph. On nights like this I pick a flight with him to keep from crying. He's so wonderful it just breaks my heart to think of the prospect he has under way. I can't believe he's so terribly, casually bloodthirsty as he pretends. He must have suffered some terrible wrong and it has embittered him. Why can't he realize that life is worth—"

"The king fought his mouth free. "There's only one thing wrong with that young fellow," he declared. "His old man went broke in the cattle

Winter Garden

You needn't wait until spring to have a blooming garden. Even if the trees are bare outside, you can have one of the charming little Japanese pagodas, temples, bridges, various stores are featuring. They are both inexpensive and easy to keen. A watering once a week will keep the plants in good condition.

The nicest thing about these gardens is that no two are alike. They are ornamented with tiny colorful Japanese pagodas, temples, brides, boats, and men and women in Oriental costume about a half-inch to an inch or so in size. You may arrange these as your fancy dictates amid tiny green tropical plants such as the sensitivial snake plant, the Japanese water lily or cactus. Bits of moss and tiny mother-of-pearl pebbles, either white or colored, add to the effect. They should of course, be placed in a Japanese type of bowl.

Japanese gardens are particularly nice to place on a window sill or on a table by a hanging of Japanese embroidery.

better away from the counties We must, however, assume part of the counties debt as provided for by law."

"If the counties council is through spending money," Coun. Booth declared, "there is no advantage in separating, but if it is not through increasing its expenditures, we should separate now."

"I agree with Coun. Willoughby," Mr. Booth continued, "that we should investigate the effect of the equalized assessment. It is going to add six mills on our tax rate."

Boys' Band Has Euchre

A committee comprising Mrs Crossley, Mrs. Kelcher, Mrs. Endicott, Mrs. Perry, Mrs. Graham and Mrs. Day, served lunch. Previous to the game, The Boys' Band played several selections, demonstrating marked progress, under the baton of Bandaster Shunk. A similar event will be held in February, under the same auspices.

MOTHERS now learn value of MAGNESIA

Because it is so helpful in keeping babies and children healthy and happy, every mother should know about Phillips Milk of Magnesia.

This harmless, almost tasteless preparation is most effective in relieving those symptoms of babies and children generally caused by sour-ing food in the little digestive tract, such as sour-belching, frequent vomiting feverishness, colic. As a mild laxative it acts gently, but certainly, to open the little bowels in constipation, colds, children's diseases.

A teaspoonful of Phillips Milk of Magnesia does the work of half a pint of lime water in neutralizing cow's milk for infant feeding, and preventing hard curds. Its many uses for mother and child are fully explained in the interesting book "Useful Information." It will be sent you FREE. Write The Chas. H. Phillips Chemical Co. Windsor, Ont.

In buying, be sure to get genuine Phillips Milk of Magnesia. Doctors have prescribed it for over 50 years.

DEATHS

Suggests That Stop Logs Be Used

muskelonge continued to beat their heels against the barricade, a man was stationed there to lift what he could in a handle net over the wall. This fact in itself evidences the perfidy of any such way which I presume must be there. The history of direct fry replenishment, both in suitable kind and means employed, while doubtless well intended, had no reasonable hope of success on the very face of it. Pickerel and maske pickerel but no one ever caught one.

"There are many angles to this question not only as to who ought to be who, but what would bear tangible fruit. This negative legislation of greater restriction on behalf of the authorities is not particularly praiseworthy by itself.

"Yet, after all this fishing of which I am speaking is to me only a means to a greater end—to wit, a great influx of tourits travel. The counties on the borders of the Kawartha Lakes haven't come to any realization of possibilities. Any experience they have had is not even simple interest in the principle of the possibility and you do not need to spend money advertising it. Where there is an excellent climate, scenery, food and above all good fishing you will have more cash customers than you have fish. I don't care how well you maintain the fishing. If reasonable effort is put forth to maintain the possibilities of Lake Scugog fishing, there will be a payement necessary from Bowmanville to Canaers.

"I have touched on this, hit or miss, to give you food for thought because you have never seemed to me to appreciate its position. As a matter of history I could not even drag you back there by personal invitation to a day of ice, even when the choicest of Scugog's fish was placed before you. It still didn't work. Ha-Ha.

"In short I think this is a real opportunity for the Statesman. Don't let it knock unheedingly."

How Can Lindsay Prosper

There is one necessity in connection with the deceased gentleman and the heart felt rate that the mayor and council will manifest this and next year and not let heavy expenditures to create a heavier burden than the late days.

But what a difference to Lindsay on the lower rate of assessment and with Toronto and other large centres struggling with a mill rate from 32 to 40 mills, Lindsay would without a doubt reap considerable benefit. Then with municipal ownership of our Hydro power and under the splendid management of our commissioner and engineer we are now in a position to put more favorable rates on Hydro power.

Let 1931 be Lindsay's year of successful progress. Let us overcome the distress that will emerge our country and unemployed instead of having them more on the streets to create that opportunity, that are not available here and peace and prosperity will return to the people. Let centre of municipal farming in Ontario and a town admirably suited to the location of permanent industries should become a city in the next few years. Let us boost our home town and realize the ambitions of the founders of years ago.

Yours very truly,
W. E. KELCHER.

Health Improved after First Box

"I have been troubled with my kidneys for a long time," writes Mrs. Hector Aitken, R.R. No. 2, Southwold Sta., Ont. "I had such terrible pains in my back I was so agony for me to get around. At last I was advised to try Dodd's Kidney Pills which I did. After taking the first box I felt a different woman. Therefore I have nothing but praise for them."

Weak kidneys are not confined to grown people. They are often found in children, sowing the seeds of future ills unless the kidneys are strengthened and put in condition to do their full work of removing the impurities from the blood stream.

Never accept a substitute.

Market Reports

Live Stock Market

TORONTO, Jan. 17—Sales at the Union Stock Yards this week totalled 6,700 head, 1,800 more than for last week. A strong trade on Monday and on Tuesday was followed by a slump on Wednesday when 2,000 additional cattle arrived on the market. Heavy and handy steers made a 7.75 top early in the week but closed with few above $7.25 Wednesday's trade was dull and some 300 cattle were held until Thursday when they were cleared out at prices from 25c to 50c below the week's high. Fed calves cleared at $8 to $10, according to quality. Good butcher cows were $4.75 to $5.25, with fair cows at $3.50 to $4.50. Butcher bulls held fairly steady at $4.75 to $5.50, with a few bolognas at $3.75 to $4.

Store cattle offerings mounted to a few lots of light stockers, these selling about steady as $5 to $6 a hundred. Heavy springers were dull at unchanged prices, with the best going at $60 to $80 each. Exporters shipped 62 slaughter cattle for Antwerp, Belgium. There were none taken for Great Britain.

Beef is moving to consumers at a reasonable rate, but the market for live cattle is sensitive. Shippers should guard against overloading the market.

Calves

Calf receipts were 1,300 head. Trade was active up to Tuesday afternoon, turning weak thereafter with a 50c loss recorded. Choice prices on good to choice vealers were $9.50 to $10.50 a hundred, while a good proportion of light calves sold between $7 and $8 a hundred. Some plain grassers sold at $4 to $5.

Hogs

Hog receipts totalled 4,000 head, with 435 Western hogs fed enroute to outside packing plants. The hog market was quite strong up to Thursday, with a gain of 50c a hundred for the week. Bacons closed at $9.50 to $9.75, with $10.50 weighed off cars. Selects brought the usual $1 per head premium, and heavies sold at the increased price. Beginning next Monday, off-car hogs will sell at 75c to $1 above the f.o.b. price, with fed and watered hogs 50c above f.o.b.

Sheep and Lambs

Sheep and lamb receipts were 2,000 head. Lambs opened firm at $10 for good ewes and wethers, with a few at $10.25. Monday's offerings of Wednesday's supply brought a 50 decline. Wednesday's good lambs were mostly $9.50, with culls down to 8 and with bucks at $7.50. Sheep were firm at $5 to $5.50 for good light ewes, with a few young sheep making $6 a hundred. Two loads of Western lambs were offered on Thursday, but were not sold during the morning.

SPORTS

Representatives To Meet January 20th.

—Lindsay, Jan. 17.

WITH THE FIRST GAME of the inter-church senior games played last Wednesday and the first of the junior series playoff this coming Saturday, interest has been officially drawn up although no definite dates can be assigned the games as they of course must give way to O.H.A. games whenever either the Vics or Maple Leafs are home. However announcement will be given in plenty of time for the teams to get their games in. The schedule will stand as drawn with the exception of any necessary change of dates, and with this schedule just about to swing out in full stride for the season, there are of course certain necessary things to be done by the meeting of representatives in session and the executive has issued the following bulletin:

"A special meeting of the inter-church hockey league will be held in Victoria Hall, Monday, January 20th, at 8.00 p.m. sharp. If a church is not represented at this meeting their team will be withdrawn from the league." The rule regarding the dropping of teams for non-attendance of representatives can and will be enforced, so a full quota of representatives is looked for.

IN-TURNS AND OUTS

Activities of The Curling Club

Lindsay's representatives in the playdowns for the Ontario Silver Tankard will leave for Peterboro on Monday night, to enter the playdowns for this group, which are being held in that city the following day.

The local rinks will be piloted by F. Carew and Deckie Butler. Chances are that the rinks will be about the same as last year with probably one or two changes.

Here's hoping the boys have all kinds of luck on Tuesday and that they wipe out that fluke win that the Peters scored against them last year.

Twelve games were played on the local ice yesterday, O. Mathieu play ing in two of them, and winning them both.

F. Carew turned the tables on H. Forsythe last night and defeated the gentleman who defeated him in the final of the bonspiel by one day by the score of 17-10-6.

Knowlson continued in his winning ways and moved over a win at the expense of J. Ashwell. The former rink is well up in their section. Games yesterday resulted as follows:

Bruce 10—Gregory 7.
F. Carew 17—Forsyth 7.
Sylvester 13—Miles 6.
Nugent 12—Perkins 2.
Durkin 10—A. Wood 9.
Bryson 9—Griffin 7.

Moynes 13—Sutton 9.
Anderson 14—G. Langdon 5.
Curley 16.—Everson 13.

"Cluck" Says the Pratt-Fed Hen

There's as much difference between a fed-today hen and an ordinary pick-up feeder as there is between a scrub bull and a pure-bred, big, beefy prize-winner. The heavy laying hen and the heavy weighing bull are made that way by the feed they get. Heavy egg producers must have the feed that encourages laying. While ordinary feeds supply all ordinary needs, the secret of egg-producing is in the supplying of certain essentials which ordinary foods do not supply. There are herbs and minerals in Pratts Poultry Regulator that science knows and practice proves will make heavy more eggs, and those are the ingredients which added to the daily feed, we guarantee will make your hens lay more eggs.

Pratts POULTRY REGULATOR
"MAKES HENS LAY MORE EGGS"

This famous preparation has been in use by poultrymen for many years and research work on experimental poultry farms only emphasizes the value of this remarkable discovery. A spoonful for 15 hens—daily in the feed is all that is required. Do not let a day pass before you start your hens on the road that leads to profit;—the Pratt way—makes them pay.

$25,000 FIRE AT FENELON YESTERDAY

Homes and Stores Burned In Morning Hours At Big Loss

Heard's Hardware Store, Magee's Men's Wear and Harness Shop All Burns

LINDSAY PUMPER GOES

Sleeping People Narrowly Escape Fiery Death in Apartments Over Stores

FENELON FALLS, Jan. 19. (Staff Correspondence).—The brick block, comprising Heard's Hardware, half century landmark, Colborne Street, and F. H. Magee's Men's Wear and Harness Shop was burnt to the ground on five o'clock Sunday morning at an estimated damage of $25,000.

The fire, the origin of which is a mystery, had a fairly good start when discovered and before the brigade arrived had spread from the ground floor of Mr. Magee's store where it started, through the entire block, which was soon rapidly enveloped by seething flames.

The brigade manned by Max T. Brandon and S. E. Minthorne fought desperately and well to save other buildings in close proximity and although handicapped by lack of about 300 feet of hose to complete the third line, which they finally secured from Minthorne's Supply Station, they had it rather well under control when the Lindsay reel arrived at 6.30 o'clock after an hour's travelling on heavy roads, to do splendid work.

By seven o'clock the last brick wall had fallen.

The block, covering a frontage of 75 feet, extending 100 feet back, included also the residence of Mrs. K. Heard, her sister and brother, Miss Augusta and Mr. David Burchell. Although two companies carried the insurance on the buildings, and hardware stock, none of the latter was saved, consequently the loss to Mr. W. J. Heard is considerable.

As Mr. Heard stood watching the destruction of one of the most valuable properties in the town, greeted by his father the late Joseph Heard about fifty years ago, he stated to the Post's correspondent that he would not say definitely whether he would rebuild.

One third of the block was owned by Mr. F. M. Magee, life-long resident of Fenelon Falls, and hardware dealer and harness maker. Insurance on both building and contents partly covers the loss, much of the stock being saved.

Escape Death Narrowly

The apartments above which was occupied by Mr. Edward Beteau, who was awakened from a sound sleep by Ex-Constable David Gordon. He narrowly escaped suffocation by smoke. His personal effects were insured and some of the furniture was thrown from the upstairs windows.

Mrs. Heard, her granddaughter Beatrice Brown and Miss Burchell had to leave their home in night attire and seek refuge with friends. The child was carried to safety no more than five minutes after escape from suffocation would have been impossible.

Miss Beatrice Heard, who was not at home, is visiting her sister, Mrs. Everett, at Bracebridge since Friday. Everything in the ground floor in the Heard's home was carried to safety to S. W. Pogue's garage, but the contents of the upper floor were lost.

BOBCAYGEON MAN NEARLY LOST IN FIRE

WALLACE THURSTON HAD ENTERED HIS BURNING HOME WHEN HE WAS OVERCOME BY SMOKE.

BOBCAYGEON, Jan. 17—(Staff Correspondence)—When he entered his burning home near Bobcaygeon, Mr. Wallace Thurston was overcome by smoke and barely managed to get clear of the burning building before he fell unconscious in the snow. The house was totally destroyed and the loss is only partially covered by insurance.

At about 5.30 p.m. Saturday evening the fire alarm was sounded. The farm is about a mile out of the village and the house was occupied by Mrs. Sherman and children, and Mr. Thurston, who also lived with them. In some manner the children discovered a fire burning upstairs and ran outside to the barn to tell Mr. Thurston. He and Mr. Brown tried to put the fire out, but it soon got beyond control, and the call was sent in for help.

In a very short time a number of cars were out, they succeeded in getting all of the household goods out but Mr. Thurston again went into the house and was overcome with the smoke. He just succeeded in getting to the door and he became unconscious and fell face down in the snow. He was carried into a car and taken to his father's home, Mr. R. T. Thurston.

Dr. Kelly was called and it was sometime before he became conscious. He certainly had a very narrow escape and will be confined to his bed for a few days. The house was totally destroyed, just the bare walls of brick standing, it is understood there is a small insurance on the property.

Mr. and Mrs. George Rigby and son, Georgie, are visiting friends in Detroit.

Youth Is Killed In Bowmanville When Bobsleigh Runs Into Pole

BOWMANVILLE, Jan. 19—His skull crushed when the bobsleigh on which he was coasting down a long hill crashed into a post, little Wilmer Griffen, eight-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. William Griffen of Enniskillen, north of Bowmanville, was instantly killed.

The boy was playing with a number of companions, coasting down a long hill west of the village. On the trip when the accident occurred Wilmer was in the steering position at the front.

The sleigh was nearly at the bottom of the long slippery slope when the boy lost control, and the sleigh swerved off the road to crash into a telephone pole. Young Griffen's skull was fractured at the base by the impact, and he died within a few minutes.

Bad Fire Destroys Big Garage

Carnegie Motor Sales Co., at Port Perry and 15 or 18 Cars Are Burned

SECTION THREATENED

OSHAWA, Jan. 18—A disastrous fire breaking out in the early hours of Sunday morning completely destroyed the garage of the Carnegie Motor Sales Co. at Port Perry, along with 15 or 18 automobiles, and also damaged the premises of the Carnegie Hardware Co., next door.

The fire, which was raging fiercely when discovered, for a time threatened to become a general conflagration in the business section of Port Perry, and a call was sent for assistance to the Oshawa fire brigade. The Oshawa department responded, but by the time it reached Port Perry the local fire brigade had the blaze under control.

The cause of the blaze is unknown. The garage had been closed at 11 o'clock by Frank Hood, one of the employees. The damage is estimated at $10,000, only slightly over half of which is covered by insurance.

BURMA TO BE SEPARATED FROM INDIA

Premier Ramsay MacDonald Begins His Long-Awaited Pronouncement On British Policy in India.

LONDON, Jan. 19 Canadian Press. Premier Ramsay MacDonald, rebinding his long-awaited pronouncement on British policy in India, today told delegates to the Indian Round Table Conference, that he accepted the idea of an all-Indian Federation as the desire of delegates. "It is a great achievement," he said, "both for India and Great Britain. We are grateful to you."

One of his most important pronouncements was a promise to grant immediate amnesty to political prisoners in India, if appeals made in their behalf at the round table conference are responded to. He spoke in a low, civil, quiet and rider. He said also that necessary steps would be taken for separation of Burma from India. This was an outstanding issue of the conference.

FOUND AT COTTAGE

A fight followed, it is alleged, in which Robillard, in a flat fight, knocked out young O'Neil. Later he allowed the mother and son to take the girl home, the police say. Provincial Constable D. Sylvester arrested Robillard in Burleigh. The prisoner was remanded on $2,000 bail until Wednesday.

Flower Pot Island Is Canada's Newest National Park

The Dominion Government has set aside Flower Pot Island, which lies off Bruce Peninsula, northern Ontario, as a National Park. The favorite spot gets the name from the two rock formations as shown in the main polograph which resemble enormous flower pots. They have been formed by the erosion of the waves and the Government are taking action to prevent their being entirely eaten away by the water. BADMINTON CLUB TAKES FAST GAME

LOCAL RAQUETEERS TAKE FOUR POINT WIN IN ENJOYABLE GAME WITH MOTOR CITY TEAM; RETURN GAME

The Lindsay Garrison Badminton Club were the guests of the Oshawa Badminton Club on Saturday. Arriving there at 2.30 p.m. they played their scheduled games between 4 and 6 p.m., being successful in pulling out with a win of 14 to 10, made up as follows Ladies, doubles: L. S. Q. I. Men's doubles: L.3; O.3. Mixed doubles: L.6; O.6. The games were very close, even though the Lindsay ladies managed a 5 to 1 victory. After the games, tea was served in the officers' mess of the Ontario Regiment, which was admirably decorated for the occasion. At eight o'clock Captain Daniel, captain of the Oshawa Badminton Club, had a progressive badminton tournament arranged, which proved very interesting for players of both clubs.

After the tournament there was dancing in the officers' mess, during which Lt. Col. E. C. Hodgins, as Officer Commanding the Ontario Regiment, welcomed Major Hall officers of the Victoria and Haliburton Regiment to their mess and asked that Major Hall convey to his officers commanding and other officers not present, the same welcome, if at any time they should be in Oshawa. He stated that this was the first opportunity he had, had of welcoming to their mess, officers from M.D. No. 3 and while geographically the Victoria and Haliburton and the Ontario Regiment were neighbors, they were nevertheless strangers, owing to the fact of being in different districts. However, he hoped that they would now cease to be strangers. He then called on Captain Geo. McGillivray, to speak on behalf of the Badminton Club. Captain McGillivray welcomed the members of the Lindsay Garrison Badminton Club, on behalf of the Oshawa Garrison Badminton Club, stating that they had looked forward to games with Lindsay for some time and while Lindsay were up on the final score, he felt that with a little practice, Oshawa might give them a closer game at some later date.

Mayor R. H. M. Hall in replying to Lt.Col. Hodgins, on behalf of Lt.-Col. Moore and Officers of the Victoria and Haliburton Regiment, assured Col. Hodgins that Col. Moore and Officers of the Victoria and Haliburton Regiment would only be too glad to accept the hospitality of the Officers of the Ontario Regiment, when in Oshawa and only hoped that they would feel equally free to accept teirs when in Lindsay Also that as many as possible would accompany their badminton club, when the latter played in Lindsay. Major Hall in referring to the Ontario Regiment and the Victoria and Haliburton Regiment being strangers, stated that to him it felt like home, to be again associated in some way with the Ontario Regiment, as it was with the latter that he served during the war under Lt. Col. S. Sharpe, D.S.O. and Lt. Col. G. R. Pearkes V.C. and that it was great to see so many of the boys still active with the regiment.

He then asked Lieut.-W. E. Stewart, as president of the Lindsay Garrison Badminton Club to speak on their behalf. Lieut. Stewart in a few well chosen words extended the appreciation of the Club for the hospitality shown them by the Oshawa Garrison Badminton Club and the Officers of the Ontario Regiment, stating that they had looked forward to this event for some time and that they were now looking forward to return game in the very near future.

Homes and Stores Burned In Morning

with her sister, Mrs. Andrew McFarland, in the next block, was first to see the blaze through her attic window and Mrs. McFarland was telephoning Ex-Constable Gordon who gave the alarm, she succeeded in arousing others by calling from the window. But the fire had gained too great headway to save the block. Some failed to hear the fire bell at all and others did mistook it for the six o'clock bell.

Need New Fire Bell

Reeve Kelly stated he thought a new fire bell necessary, an electric apparatus, with a siren to penetrate with unmistakable meaning.

Snow Saves Nearby Homes

Only the snow on the roofs prevented the whole of Francis and Reid Streets East from being wiped out. McFarland's cement block, separated from the fire by a 35-foot vacant lot, and a small frame building (Chinese laundry) had a surprising and miraculous escape without a single bit of damage being done.

The morning was mild and calm. Only the explosion of the oil tanks, the popping of cartridges, stirred the air, sending mammoth sparks aloft to fall at great distance with menacing effect. The dynamite, kept apart, was safe.

The windows in stores across the street were all cracked and broken by the intense heat, from G. F. Wear's drug store up to Alex Northey's restaurant, the latter saved only by dripping the awning over them.

As daylight deepened into the dawn of "another day" the crowds began to disperse.

Last night watchman was guarding the fire with loading in sporadic eruptions, and Fenelon Falls is a smoky little Cataract Town.

NO MORE HORSE-LAUGHS

REMEMBER what our school books taught us about the lives of inventors who lived many years ago? How often we used to read, "He went on with his experiments in spite of the laughter of his friends, and the ridicule of his neighbors."

How different is the modern state of mind! This age is remarkable for its keen awareness of progress.... the eager willingness of most of us to accept new things, and better ways. The skeptical person is the exception—expectancy is the rule. If we read about an invention that will wash the middle of our backs, we say, "Fair enough; tomorrow there will be an automatic way to keep our noses powdered."

New things and better ways are announced regularly in this paper....in the advertisements. Every day you may be expecting something that will make your life easier, pleasanter, more healthful. Possibly a new electrical contrivance, or a car that's easier to drive, or a new idea in breakfast foods. Follow the advertising columns....and sooner or later you'll get the good news. People who make it a point to know what's going on read the advertisements every day.

KINGSTON, Jan. 19—Dean Matheson told a meeting of the Arts Society that he considered student self-government reached its prime at Queen's University 12 years ago when every student took an active interest in every faculty meeting and many lost grades, took place as to whether or not matters were being properly conducted. He urged the students to revive that careful authority. Queen's staff, he said, was held responsible by the public, but the students really control most branches of the university.

L.C.I. Cage Squad Takes 44-to-16 Win

Uxbridge High School Five Playing First Basketball Against Outside Team Put Up Plucky Fight

LOCALS GOOD

(By L.C.I. Reporter)

Playing their first game in organized basketball, and as a matter of fact their first game against another team, the Uxbridge High School representatives held the players from the local collegiate to a 44-to-16 win on the former's floor Saturday afternoon. It was also the locals first game this season and in spite of the handicap of a peculiar gymnasium which presented an asphalt floor as well as baskets which were fitted right to the walls of the gym, the locals played a good game displaying finer finish around the baskets, but their passing was not as brilliant as that of the homesters. The game was very clean with only nine personnel fouls committed, Uxbridge getting the extra one. From their 44 each team netted two points to their score.

Regulars Started

Coach Hale changed his plans regarding the starting line-up, and sent the regulars into action at the first of the game, instead of the last half. The regulars did not find the going as easy as some predicted and for the first few minutes the visitors were held in the own end of the floor. However McLean opened the scoring for the Red, Blue and Old Gold followed by another from the hands of Smith. Uxbridge came to life then and rallied, and showing some excellent passing they evened the score with two baskets both scored by Cadenwood, who along with a little fellow by the name of Bean, were easily the best for Uxbridge. This fellow Bean put his team two points to the good with a basket, after receiving a pass from Cadenwood, a few minutes later

That ended the Uxbridge threat for the rest of the game as far as the score was concerned, but they never stopped trying. The lack of skill alone, when it came to getting bigger threats to the Lindsay team baskets kept them from proving a For the rest of the period the locals led by Smith piled up a total of 27 points. Smith alone getting 20 of this number, which represents a point a minute for the first half of the game McLean supported Smith well as did Sutton, the lanky centre of the locals. Before the end of the period Uxbridge added two more points to their total as a result of a basket by Cadenwood. During this half of the game Lindsay had two fouls while Uxbridge made three. Each team scored one free throw.

Change Line-Up

Starting the last half of the game Coach Hale put on the sub forward line and a defence. Johnston played the whole game at defence and was quite effective in breaking up the Uxbridge combination. This team was not quite as strong on the offensive as the regulars, but they were a little better on the defensive, allowing their hosts six points. Of this total Beare got four of them. During this part of the game the homesters had more shots at the baskets, and at time made the locals look silly, with their passing attack. O'Connel on the local forward line combined well with Meehan and Marley for three 14 of the 17 points scored by the L.C.I. in this half. Marley got the other Lindsay basket on the only round ball to a point on a free throw. Duke scored the other Uxbridge basket, and Cadenwood, another on a free throw.

Taking into consideration that this was the first game Uxbridge has ever taken part in, they put up a much better game than even their most optimistic supporters hoped for. With a little more experience around the baskets, combined with their brilliant passing game they will be able to give any team in this group a good run for the honors. The local team came out of the game in great shape, and in spite of their win they will have to get down to some serious work this week in preparation for their important game with Peterboro next Saturday.

The Line-Up

The team's final number represents the number of points scored. Second number of fouls committed. Third the number of free throws.

Uxbridge—16—Centre[,] Welch; forwards, Beare (7), (1), (1); Cadenwood, (7), (2), (3); defence, Norton, (0), (1); Taylor, (0), (1); subs. Dike. (2); Ashinhurst, Smith

Lindsay, 44—Centre, Sutton, (2); forwards, Smith, (20) McLean, (5), (0), (2); defense, Johnston, (0), (2), (1); White, (0), (1), (0); subs. Meehan, (0), (1); Marley, (3), (0), (2) O'Connell, (14); Groves. Referee. W. Ecclestone, Lindsay

Fund Started To Reward Blue Devils

—Oshawa, Jan. 19.

A FUND has been started by local sports enthusiasts to give public recognition to the victory of the Oshawa Blue Devils, who annexed the Ontario intermediate football championship when they overcame a six-point deficit and nosed Sarnia out by one point in the final game here. The proceeds of this final game, over and above several expenses, were donated by the Blue Devils Club to the fund raised by the associated welfare societies here for relief purposes, and this left the club's treasury so depleted that there was not enough money left to make any presentation to the players. Led by the local press, the sportsmen have taken up the question however, and a fund is now being raised.

Both Teams Play Away To-Night

Tonight both local teams, the Midgets and Victorias, are facing important tests when they take trips to Bobcaygeon and Uxbridge respectively. The Midgets with their five straight wins will be endeavouring to sew things up with a win in Bobcaygeon, and their older brothers the Vics who have had such luck this year, will be "in there" all the time to take the fight ing chance offered them to get into the play-offs with Markham, by beating Uxbridge

Play In Cayguen

In their last practices both squads looked to be "in the pink" and just rarin' to go. The Midgets have had a fairly long lay-over from their last game to get the sore spots worked back into shape and tonight will be at full strength with the probable line-up being Stephens in goal; Begley and Brigenaw, on defence; Sproul and Gensler, on the wings; Mills at centre; and Grower, Campbell and Parson as reserves. They will be out to score their third victory over Bobcaygeon to make it the sixth straight of the season, and if they do it their worries of getting into the section playoffs for group leadership are over.

Intermediates Away

While the Midgets are playing in Bobcaygeon, the Victorias will be in Uxbridge trying their best to pull out a win and thereby qualify as the second team for the play-offs with Markham. Last Friday night they were out-classed by Uxbridge and tonight their loyal supporters are looking to them to redeem themselves with a victory. The first time-out the game in Port Perry, they will have all their regulars on deck and will start with Eberts, goal; Fryer and Reeves, on defence; Rich and Williams, on the wings; Martin, at centre; and Carlton, Powers and Deans as alternates. They have a good team this year, but a hoodoo seems to follow them most of their games. Tonight they hope to shake the jinx and take Uxbridge to qualify for the finals.

Former Canadien Star Now in Minors

—Boston, Jan. 18.

THE PROVIDENCE REDS, greatly strengthened by the trade that brought Herb Cain, Coffzry from Canadiens, defeated the Boston Tigers for the second time this week here Saturday night by a 4 to 2 score. The Bengals made quite a game of it, and held the Reds even until late in the last period. Then two Tigers were off almost together and the Reds seized the opportunity to bang in two goals.

McCaffery scored two of his team's goals with Cook and Gaudreault notching the others. Boyd garnered both Boston markers.

Representatives Must Attend Tomorrow

According to a bulletin issued by the inter-church league a special meeting of that organization will be held in Queen Street Church, on Tuesday, January 20th, at eight o'clock sharp. Further warning is given that if a church is not represented at this meeting their team will be withdrawn from the league. It is a rule of the constitution of the association and one which has never been needed before. Now, however, the officials intend to enforce it fully. There are several matters regarding players, etc., that can only be cleared up by a "round-table" conference of all the officials. So far the full quota of representatives has never met at any one time. Some teams are not being properly looked after by their representatives either in actual contests or in meetings. So tomorrow, all those matters are to be thrashed out, and the central executive wants to see every representative there.

Teamwork Pays Biggest Dividends

Looking over the activities of hockey teams this winter, as in the past, one is impressed with the one fact that is always the same in all sport—teamwork pays the biggest dividends of any style of play attempted. Assists in hockey are just as important as goals scored. The man who makes the play and works the puck up, and then unselfishly passes to the man who is in better position than himself to score deserves just as much of the credit for the goal as the lad who completes the job by slamming it into the twine from there. Every man has something to do—when he does it, the attack functions properly and wins are the result.

* * *

When someone fails to do what he is supposed to do attacks flivver and the team committing the error usually takes the light side of the score. Individual play certainly has its merits, but it is the sustained efforts of six men playing together, each a cog in the machine, that makes a winning team. And if Lindsay concentrates on an unselfish passing style with each man carrying out his assignment, they should go far this season. There is no place for a puck-hog on a team that figures on getting anywhere.

Starting To Talk Softball Already

With plenty of snow on the ground and the thermometer hitting a new "low" every day, one would think the thoughts would all be of hockey, skating and indoor pastimes, but while most of it is, there is a bit of softball talk going the rounds. According to some last year, softball was not going to be a major summer sport here any more, but they have evidently since then learned the lie of the land, and are now trying to get some of their old players back. From the looks of things now every team will be a hand-picked affair in the league and more interest than ever will be displayed. There is talk of affiliation with the Ontario Association with the winner of the league series on the line for play-offs, and from the interest displayed now, the league should go over big in the summer-time.

One of the best-known local sports after avowing his intention to play hardball is credited with returning to his softball team again and to be already laying plans to have a strong team this summer. He changed his mind fast, but perhaps not fast enough. Another team is picking up players right now, and prospects for a real league are bright.

* * *

Funny, last year for the two months following the softball season we were vexed to such expression as "What? Softball? Never again in Lindsay." But he certainly changed his mind fast when he found some of his players had gone over to another team and is now doing his best to line up another aggregation.

Stray Static From Here and There

One of the notable features of this year's games so far at the Victorias we commented on was the comparatively few penalties meted out to the locals. And all penalties assigned have been minor ones. Which is as it should be—players must work on the ice not in the penalty box to win hockey games.

Lindsay teams must win tonight to come into the group playdowns later on.

Leafs Take Win From Habitants

Victory Keeps Toronto Team in Second Place Tied With Montreal Maroons, Who Win at Ottawa

CLOSE GAMES

TORONTO, Jan. 19—Gaining a two-goal margin in the opening period and dominating the play practically throughout, the Maple Leafs defeated a 3 to 2 decision when Les Canadiens at the Arena Gardens on Saturday night, while another capacity crowd looked on. In the second and third periods, the Leafs had a considerable margin over their fighting opponents and they should have won by a larger margin. They displayed some particularly fine attacking efforts and made the visiting defense look sieve-like at times. Only in the second period, when Canadiens scored their lone tally, did the Montreal invaders look equal to the locals. The victory kept the Leafs in second place tied with Maroons.

While the crowd was not as large as the record one which witnessed the previous appearance of the Canadiens here, it was just a hundred or two short of the mark. Every available seat was occupied, but there was less standing room admission sold. It was an enthusiastic gathering and the game provided was one of the best of the current season. It was wide-open hockey from first to last, and even under the pressure of the visitors' four-man attacks in the final period, the Leafs were not obliged to resort to the time-honored custom of hoisting the puck to the other end of the rink. They battled the Flying Frenchmen all the way and won because they were the superior team on the night's play.

Two Leafs Injured

Irvin Bailey and Harold Cotton combined to give Toronto two clever tallies in the opening period. Bailey tucked the puck each time after receiving a pass from the left winger. The final goal came just under four minutes from the initial face-off. Cotton's pass enabled Bailey to clear the defense and he slick-handed around to the goal mouth and backhanded a shot into the net, while Hainsworth vainly sought to outguess him.

The second goal came ten minutes later. Cotton carried the puck down centre ice and passed to Bailey, who had raced in toward the net. The puck was deflected off a visiting player's skate and bounced over in front of Bailey, who was through the defence by that time. The "Ace" caught Hainsworth with the near side of the net unguarded and he bounced the puck off the latter's pads into the cage.

Those two goals would have been sufficient as things turned out, but there is nothing certain about a Leaf-Canadiens' game until the final gong sounds. The Montrealers fought stubbornly to overhaul the Leafs, and nearly succeeded in doing so. Only for some alert goal-keeping by Lorne Chabot and some clever defense play by the men directly in front of him, the game would have been tied in the second period, during which the visitors made their best showing. They succeeded in getting one goal and missed two or three others only by inches. Nick Wasnie accounted for the only counter, that tricked through Chabot's armor. Combining with Jollat and Lepine half-way through the middle period, he netted a pass from the first named while camped in the goal-mouth. Chabot landed a chance to save, but Benedict turned the shot aside.

In the final period the Leafs went on the prod, and had enough scoring chances to pile up a full-national load. They only succeeded, however, in scoring once. Harvey Jackson, who was playing his usual fine game on right wing, Duke Dukowski and Day had all handles the puck in a neck-breaking manner, but the shooting was left to Wes Jackson's second or third shot at the net during the same attack that he made eight minutes and five seconds of the first period. Primeau, Conacher and Day had all handles the puck in a neck-breaking manner, but the shooting was left to Wes Jackson's second or third shot at the net during the same attack that he made eight minutes and five seconds of the first period. Primeau and Conacher missed nice chances to get in behind Jackson get in his solid drive.

MAROONS WIN

MONTREAL, Jan. 19—Despite a late rally, Montreal Maroons defeated the Senator forwards, the Montreal Maroons turned back the Ottawa Senators here on Monday night by a 3-2 at the Forum Saturday night.

It was a somewhat mild encounter with the heavy checking of Hooker Smith and Nels Stewart outstanding. Ottawa stands in last centre area. The Senators were exasperated, with Primeau playing the game, both looked for Vezina's net. Hec Kilrea drew a minor penalty in the third and then went off, but the Senators could not take much advantage when renowned Bert Corbeau then the arbiter chased him for the anti-defense rule. He was off 3 full time.

Babe Siebert started the scoring in the forty period, tending at the centre ice, he got away for a goal-right through the fence of Hooker Smith and Nels Stewart, outstanding

SYNOPSIS

Kenneth Burney, adventurer and one-time gentleman, comes to Brad ley Bardin, King of the cattle coun try, for a job. Burney has had a fight with Martin Bruce a rival cat tle owner who has been stealing the King's stock, aided by Miguel Gal vez, a Mexican bandit. The King, liking young Burney, makes him general manager of the ranch on condition that he put Bruce and Gallegos out of the way. Burney meets Bruce, who has sworn to kill him. They both draw their guns, but Burney outwits the wily old cattle thief.

Meanwhile Muriel Bardin, beautiful daughter of the King, becomes more interested in Burney than she cares to admit. She tries to persuade her father not to let Burney tackle the cattle thieves. But Burney continues to lay his plans for the battle that is sure to come. In another encounter with Bruce, Burney calmly accepts an insult from the latter, to the disgust of his men. But later he overpowers Bruce suddenly and disarms him. Bruce is wild with rage. Burney who wants to go into the cattle business for himself after he has accomplished his task for the King, continues to lay his plans.

CHAPTER 20

"One can never tell when he won't stumble over an interesting piece of information in these country weeklies. They often give me a tip on where I can sell a nice mess of feeders and whenever I can sell direct I like to do it, and save the dollar-a-head commission to the cattle broker, which we have to pay if we send the feeders on consignment to Kansas City or Chicago. Such little unexpected profits tend to take up the slack of the loss we suffer in El Cajon Bonito. If you conclude to remain here as general manager, Burney, take my advice and read all these little country papers."

"No, I'll not remain. Tom Bledsoe wants the job, he expects it and he has earned it. It would be just too bad to have a young Johnny-come-lately appear out of nowhere and beat the old Gunker out of his right. As soon as I've cleaned up El Cajon Bonito I'm going into the cattle business for myself."

Graydon looked at the young man with the reproving glance of the worldly-wise and middle-aged. "You pull that job off, young man, and you'll never be able to get into the cattle business for yourself," he warned. "The king won't let you. He'll consider you too valuable an asset to lose, so he'll just offer you more money than you ever saw before except in a bank, and keep you on his payroll. The King is never stingy with the right men."

"There better to be a lord in some poor paltry village than be an emperor and rule in Rome!" Ken Burney quoted. "I like my independence."

"The king gives his executives a free hand."

"Until they make a mistake, Mr. Graydon. And I'd have to tell him things and think up excuses, perhaps, when I showed him my annual report."

"You certainly would if you showed a loss or a decreased profit.

"Well, when I do that in my own business I'll only have to talk it over with myself." Burney gathered up the bundle of country newspapers and retired to his desk and swivel chair. "If you don't mind, Mr. Graydon, I wish you'd continue to exercise the functions of general manager while you remain on El Ranchito, even though the title of general manager is now mine. I have a highly specialized job to do and I don't want to be bothered about anything else.

"I expect shortly to be in ample funds to get into business for myself, so in the interim I'll see if these cow-country palaverers of liberty contain any news that might indicate to me where I can pick up some good stock cattle cheap. A great many cattlemen who survived the five terrible years following the post-war deflation period are taking the count now. The banks have grown weary carrying them and are closing in on them just as the business begins to look like coming back into its own." Mr. Graydon, I have a hunch that good cattle, bought at the present prices, will double in value within two years."

"I think so, too." Art Graydon replied. "Government statistics indicate that this county yis shy about 17,000,000 head of cattle, based on its pre-war requirements. During the hard times folks sold off their she-stuff, and now when they go to buy it back it's higher-priced and there ain't any. Sure looks like we're due to start a boom in beef prices before long."

"Opportune time for a man to start his own brand again," Burney replied, and busied himself with the papers. He had scanned probably a dozen of them before he ran across an item that challenged his attention. It appeared in the Harney County (Oregon) Sentinel and read as follows:

PIONEER LATTLEMAN RETIRES

Ever since 1921 Dan Wilkins, the genial owner of the Flying W ranch, has been cherishing the secret hope that next year he could quite wearing overalls and buy himself a suit of store clothes. In common with the other cattlemen of the country Dan took a hard licking between 1921 and 1926, but a week ago Pete smiled upon him. It appears that in Chicago some bright boys evolved a scheme for giving away an acre of land in Oregon with each and every purchase of some sort of household contraption they're peddling and advertising nationally. Naturaley, nobody would be fool enough to give away an acre of land that was worth anything, but it certainly is surprising the number of city folks that yearn to own an acre of land—any kind of land anywhere. In search for a large tract of cheap land to give away, those Chicago men have bought the Flying W ranch.

Even the best of Dan Wilkins' well-wishers would never go so far as to say that Dan ever had anything better than a fair to middling range. Some of it was real good, but the majority of it would not run more than a cow to every twenty-five acres. The quality didn't matter, however. It was the quantity that always interested Dan Wilkins, who had never run less than fifteen thousand head. Evidently both quality and quantity interested the Chicago men, for they have bought Dan out—for cash—and given him a year's time and the free use of the ranch during that period to get rid of his cattle.

Dan has announced that as soon as he can sell his cattle at a satisfactory price he will retire on the tidy sum he will have left after paying his cattle loans and the ranch mortgage. The ranch sold for seven dollars an acre and to our certain knowledge five thousand acres of it lies in the crater of an extinct volcano where a blade of grass has never grown. The Sentinel congratulates the suckers who drew the acre home-sites in that old crater or in the lava beds four miles south of it.

Dan's friends, which term includes every man, woman, child and stray dog in this county, are rejoicing in his good fortune. For six years it certainly looked to Dan as if he was going to get out with nothing more valuable than a second-hand flivver that wasn't all paid for.

Good boy, Dan. Take it easy in your old age. You've earned the rest.

Five minutes after reading this typically bucolic news item, Ken Burney, in the ranch automobile, was headed for Hunchita. Arrived there he pulled up in front of the telegraph station and sent the following, straight message to Dan Wilkins:

Do not consider any offers for your cattle until I have had an opportunity to get up there and look them over stop if they are good smooth stock cattle I will buy your entire outfit and pay you more than anybody else stop will be about two weeks however before I can get up there stop wire answer to

KENNETTH C. BURNEY.

General Manager Bardin Land Cattle Company, El Ranchito Division.

Having filled his telegram he leaped into the car and fled back to the ranch again, for it was no part of his plan to linger, without reinforcements, in Hunchita.

Two hours after his return the telegraph office telephoned out an answer to his message. It read:

Have sold Brud Bardin probably hundred thousand head cattle last twenty years and trades always very satisfactory stop prefer deal with you but hurry as other buyers are bothering me stop wire me day you start for Oregon.

DAN WILKINS.

"Well, that little detail is settled for two weeks," he reflected. "Wish I'd had a personal charge account with the telegraph company. It would have spared me a rough motor trip of eighty miles. Good old Dan Wilkins! He thinks he's going to do business with the king, where as he's going to do business with a man who was the king's El Ranchito manager the day the deal was started. If old Dan'l will only refuse to make us wait I have him hog-tied all will be merry as a marriage bell."

Town May Leave The County

Town Council Briefly Discusses Secession From the County But Decides On Nothing

WILL GET FIGURES

There was some talk of secession from the county when the town council committee met last evening. There were no motions and the discussion did not proceed to any length, but it was decided to find how much the town pays the county and what it gets in return.

Linked to some extent with the financial relations between the town and county, was the question raised by Mayor S. Alcorn who wanted to know what effect the county rate would have on the town if a reassessment were brought high enough to cut the tax rate in half. He found that the town would pay more to the county proportionately, as the assessment was boosted.

Mr. Alcorn thought the council should ask for a statement from the auditor as to what the town pays the county and what it gets back in return. He said he understood the county had the county about $50,000.

Mr. W. B. Allely, the clerk, said he had figured this out four or five years ago, but the council did not ask for the figure reached at that time. He said that the town gets some in return through the Children's Aid Society, House of Refuge, mothers' allowance, a share of the cost of upkeep of indigent patients and administration of justice.

Alderman Weeks noted. The point is, would it be better to withdraw from the county?

Mr. Alcorn said that is another point and that he wasn't thinking of that exactly, but as the council was starting a new year this was the information it should have.

Speaking of increasing the assessment to lower the tax rate Mr. Weeks thought that it might be all right to attract industries but they wouldn't be so blinded anyhow that they'd fall to investigate the lower assessment. Were the assessment raised, he said, the Government taxes would be higher through their valuation.

Mr. Alcorn said that a lower tax rate would leave them too much room to climb up, and also Mr. Moore expressed the opinion that a high tax rate leads the council to economize.

Mr. Moore also thought that the town would be better off financially away from the county owing to the cost of gaol upkeep.

Mayor Alcorn said that Peterboro is a good deal better off because the money it pays to the county court is spent once to the city, and Lindsay's is spent all over the county in places where it does the town no good.

They decided that they wanted the information concerning what the town pays the county and what it gets in return, and will have the auditor present so that if there is what they may go on with their discussion on a more intelligent basis.

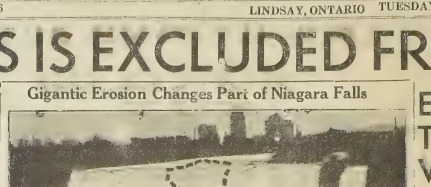
Gigantic Erosion Changes Part of Niagara Falls



Over the week-end the straight, classic lines of that part of Niagara Falls which flows over United States territory, was changed, when part of the brink crumpled away and sent thousands of tons of rock tumbling to the bottom of the falls. The appearance of this falls is completely altered by this rock-slide, which has caused a cleft a hundred feet wide and fifty feet deep in the brink of the precipice. Never in the history of the white man has there been such a large fall of rock and it is the first real change in contour for hundreds of years.

THREE HURT ON THE ROAD TO HOSPITAL

THREE GIRLS ARE IN HOSPITAL AFTER CRASH WHEN GOING TO VISIT INJURED FATHER.

HAMILTON, Jan. 20—The automobile has taken a cruel toll of the Walsh family, of 437 Maple Avenue, this city.

On Christmas Day, in Toronto, Mrs. Walsh, the mother, was killed instantly, when the car in which she was riding collided with a street car. Her husband, Richard L. Walsh, suffered such severe injuries in the same accident that one arm was amputated, and he is still in St. Michael's Hospital, Toronto. Their daughter, Dorothy, aged 16, also was injured in that accident.

Last night, half a mile east of Aldershot on the Toronto-Hamilton Highway, the three young daughters of Mr. Walsh were seriously injured when the automobile in which they were riding collided with a trailer of a truck that swerved suddenly across the icy pavement. The girls were en route to St. Michael's Hospital, Toronto, to visit their father, but they are themselves in the Hamilton Hospital here, along with L.T.E. Foster, of 241 Ottawa Street South, a clerk in the Royal Bank, who was driving them.

English Policy In India Is Favorably Received

Further Discussions Will Take Place in India, Giving Sections Their Choice

INDIANS SATISFIED

LONDON, Jan. 20—(Can. Press Cable)—The policy of the British Government of self government for India, pronounced by Prime Minister Ramsay MacDonald as he closed the Indian round table conference yesterday, received wide commendation in newspapers today. Liberal, labor and Conservative organs alike, with only scattered exceptions, praised the Prime Ministter for his most careful review of the highly important steps that may be undertaken.

Further consultations will be opened in India and any section of opinion that desires to participate will be allowed to do so. Report from India today indicated that the nationalists were still unwilling to throw in their lot with the majority of the other parties, who had come to London and had expressed themselves as well satisfied with the large measure of progress achieved.

Local Curlers Lead In Tankard Games Held At Peterboro

—Lindsay, Jan. 20

A TELEPHONE CALL to Peterboro shortly after one o'clock this afternoon revealed that the local curlers are away ahead on their games, and that, unless something seemingly impossible occurs, they will be in the finals in Toronto again this year for the Ontario Curling Tankard. Peterboro and Lindsay are represented by two rinks each and with 15 of the 18 ends played, the Lindsay curlers were five points up. F. J. Carew was leading Hogg's rink, by five points and Richard Butler was tied with Bacon's rink.

Man Interrupts Poker Game As He Kills Himself With Gun

PETERBORO, Jan. 20—The sharp report of a revolver shot interrupted a poker game at 271 Brock street, and the players rushed into a bedroom to find their 32-year-old host, Louis Low, stretched dead across the bed.

Low had not been playing cards but spent most of the evening in striding about the house in a feverish manner.

The shot was from a .38 revolver, and entered his right temple. Poor health and family troubles are said to have caused the young man to take his life.

Electors Will Have To Be Satisfied With Bare Pickings

Committee Meetings Will Be Closed to Press, Is Decision of Mayor Alcorn and Messrs. Pogue, Wenman and Begg.

ONLY SEVEN OF COUNCIL ARE PRESENT

Messrs Moore, Mitchell and Weeks Want Proceedings Made Public; Messrs Hussey, Armstrong, Black and White Are Absent

Following the much-criticized action of Mayor J. B. Johnston, of Orillia, some of the newer men of the town council last night passed a motion excluding newspaper representatives from the meetings of the council committees. Their action, they said, was not because of anything the press had said that they considered should be left unsaid, but because they thought they could think clearer if there was no one present to report their discussions. They made it clear that this was not done to censure the press.

So from now until such time the council may think better of this action, readers of The Post will have to be satisfied with bare details of things that are perfunctorily passed at the council meetings, after they have been decided on at the committee meetings.

Only seven of the eleven councillors were present when the subect was first mentioned by the newly-elected Mayor Alcorn, who had previously expressed satisfaction at the report following his inaugural, meeting, the only council meeting he had ever had anything to do with when newspapers were present.

For some minutes no one seconded his motion to exclude the press from the committee meetings, and then Alderman Percy Pogue, another first-year man, seconded it. When the motion was put Councillor F. G. Wenman voted for it.

Voting against the motion were Reeve R. I. Moore, ex-mayor, Alderman E. N. Mitchell, chairman of the board of works, and Lieut.-Col. G. A. Weeks.

J. B. Begg, the chairman of the committee that was then sitting, first said that he was not defeated, but one of the councillors called his attention to the fact that it was a tie vote, and his vote broke the tie defeating the motion.

Alderman Weeks also thought that the discussions should be given out by the press.

Alderman Mitchell said that the council had no quarrel with the Council Committees Have A Lengthy, Heavy Session

Relief Work Starts; Consider Uniting Hydro and Water Commissions; Open Campaign to Get Industries

MAY TAX RUNT GOLF

The council committee meetings were quite heavy last night as many new matters were introduced. The industrial commission has lined up a number of prospects, one of which is big branch factories to Lindsay, and the finance and assessment meeting was fairly stiff, as it dealt with important matters considered being a proposed plan to unite the Hydro and Water Commissions to cut down on expenses.

Industrial Commission

Several communications were read by Reeve R. I. Moore, chairman of the industrial commission. All were concerned with the possibility of new industries coming to town, and there seem to be bright prospects of branch industries being attracted here. As many more letters are expected asking information as to what Lindsay can offer new industries, Mayor Alcorn suggested that a booklet on Lindsay's advantages be brought up to date. A motion supporting this was passed. This move was made so that full information concerning Lindsay can be instantly on hand in response of any companies looking for a site for a branch factory.

Parks and Grounds

With Alderman Percy Pogue in the chair, the accounts of the parks and grounds committee were passed.

Lighting

Alderman J. G. Wenman presided over a brief meeting of the light committee at which accounts were ordered paid.

Police Committee

The monthly report of Chief R. H. Lawlor was read and filed, and several accounts were passed.

A by-law will be brought in to place a tax on wee-wee golf courses. It is probable that the tax will be $50 per course.

A letter was received from Crown Attorney J. B. Anderson, K.C., who expressed his pleasure at the good work done by Night Constable Alfred Hodgson in frustrating the robbery of Nichols store recently. This letter was written before the successful rounding up of five Toronto men who were suspected of contemplating a robbery. Mr. Anderson suggested that as Constable Hodgson has to use a car to cover the town fully, the council should take into consideration the expense of operating such a car. As the council makes allowance for such matters at the end of the year, this will likely be dealt with then.

The matter of a by-law to pay Constable Hodgson to show appreciation for his good work was left.

THE LOCAL DISTILLERY IS BANKRUPT

Case Is In Court In Toronto Now In Which Lindsay Distillery Made An Authorized Assignment

TORONTO, Jan. 20. (Special to The Post by Canadian Press)—Mr. Justice Sedgewick sat in court at Osgoode Hall as judge in bankruptcy for the first time today. He heard argument for and against the enforcement of a notice that the trustee of Lindsay Distilleries Co. Ltd., which made an authorized assignment, served upon the Dominion Glass Co., of Toronto. The trustee called upon the Dominion Glass Co. to file its claim as its creditor of the Distillery Company on or before February 21st.

The Dominion Glass Company had contracts for the manufacture of bottles on which the name of the distillery was blown. Through Roy Kellock it expressed its desire today to defer filing its claim until the trustee of the Lindsay Distillery Co. had sold the business or otherwise wound it up.

OSHAWA, Jan. 20—Citizens of Oshawa who have been charging dishonesty on the part of civic employees will be asked to put their charges in writing and forward the same to Mayor Marks or City Clerk Hare, according to a motion passed by the council at the regular meeting last night. It is the intention of the council to hold an investigation if there are written charges to justify such action.

Work For Lindsay's Jobless

Thirty Men Are At Work On Caroline Street Sewer and More Will Start

TO BEGIN SEWAGE PLANT

At the Board of Works meeting last night, Chairman E. N. Mitchell said that additional unemployment relief work should start very soon. At present about 30 men are at work on the Caroline Street sewer and a greater number than this should be employed on the sewage disposal plant.

It was thought that work on the sewage disposal plant would start on Wednesday, but one difficulty has cropped up that will have to be settled before the work can proceed. It is not known how soon this can be cleared up but Mr. Mitchell hopes to get work started with in a few days.

Work on the Caroline Street sewer started last Thursday with two shifts of 15 men each, and it will likely continue for a couple of weeks. In one of the three projects for which the town is receiving assistance from the government.

In the opinion of Mr. Mitchell, more men than are employed on the Caroline Street work will be given work when the construction of the sewage disposal plant finally begins. For some time the Board of Works has been busy getting these plans prepared and approved of by the authorities. Now that this has been done there is only one small difficulty, and the chairman has been given the authority of the council to deal with this, so the work should proceed very soon. The weather prohibits the employing of too many more than this job, but the council hopes to get further assistance for the unemployed.

HONOR MAN BORN NEAR WOODVILLE

REV. ROBERT McNABB, OF SMITHS FALLS, IS HONORED BY CONGREGATION ON ANNIVERSARY.

The following interesting story taken from the Smiths Falls Record-News, concerns Rev. Robert McNabb who was born near Woodville and spent much of his early life there. He is very well known in Mariposa and to Mr. A. J. Campbell's uncle.

An unusual event in the form of a reception to Rev. and Mrs. Mc-Nabb of Smiths Falls, was held last night in the United Church Sunday School by the congregation. For their untiring services in the United Church here and for the excellent record of Rev. Mr. McNabb in the Christian ministry for almost half a century the local congregation honoured them at a delightfully arranged evening when the Sunday School was filled to capacity with members and friends.

Commencing at 7.30 o'clock, following devotional exercises an interesting musical programme was listened to, with the following assisting and with Miss Hazel Allen as accompanist; Vocal solo, Mrs. Gerald Maxwell; reading, Miss K. Carr and vocal solo, Mr. E. M. Kerfoot.

Among those who were present from out-of-town were Mrs. Fluhr, of Ottawa, daughter of Rev. and Mrs. McNabb; and Mr. John Cressery of Perth, who was a former member of Rev. Mr. McNabb's congregation at Beachburg, and who was present at the reverend gentleman's ordination, induction and reception forty-seven years ago.

IN MEMORIAM

In fond memory of Violet, beloved daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Wellington, who died Jan. 26th, 1930.

Violet is not dead, the child of our affection,
But gone on to that school,
Where she no longer needs our poor protection
Where Christ himself doth rule.
We thank Thee for that gift, though brief the joy,
And praise Thee still.
Our loss adds one more jewel to Thy crown
"It is His Will"
Sadly missed by Daddy and Mamma. (542)

BULLETIN BOARD

A good kitchen idea is to have a little bulletin board made of linen bound in your kitchen colors. Onto this, stick new recipes which you are in periodicals, or a pretty picture that you may want to look at once in a while, or a scrap of appealing poetry that you would like to learn.

RAINY DAYS

The attic or the cellar can be made into a dainty day playground for the children on little effort. Take colored pieces of chalk and mark the floor for hop-scotch, deck tennis or some other mildly active game, have a set of rubber quoits and if possible a ping-pong table.

Board of Works

Accounts were passed and a request from the C.N.R. to have the town place signs at the Lindsay Street crossing was held over, when the Board of Works sat with Alderman E. N. Mitchell presiding.

There was considerable discussion re starting the unemployment work again, and prospects are bright for the beginning of additional unemployment relief work in the very near future.

Some work may be given local men if the town decides to draw snow off the streets where, in some places, it is piled deeply. Nothing definite has been decided along this line as yet.

Accounts were passed for indigent patients from Lindsay and other bills were ordered paid.

Merging Local Commissioners

Mayor Alcorn wondered if it wouldn't be possible to merge the Hydro and Water Commissions. Two staffs are working at present, he said, but by making a utility commission they would both serve and water, one staff could handle both more economically. He asked what was the commission's opinion.

Mr. Allely, the clerk, said that he thought that a vote of the people would be necessary to combine them.

Reeve R. I. Moore said that this matter has been considered by the Finance Committee, but it never came before the town bought the Hydro plant. It would mean a great saving to the people, he pointed out, if they voted for it.

Those present were Mayor Samuel Alcorn, Reeve R. I. Moore, Deputy-Reeves J. B. Begg and W. J. Hussey (for part of the meeting), and Councillors E. N. Mitchell, Percy Pogue, O. A. Weeks and G. Wesley Bell. Three councillors were absent, Aldermen Frank Armstrong, H. B. Rice and Dr. J. A. White.

the evening's gathering, Rev. Dr. Semple spoke briefly, paying a tribute to Rev. Mr. McNabb's ministry, and to Mrs. McNabb. "With a daughter, Mrs. Dr. Orr, a missionary in India, a son, Dr. Andrew McNabb, a doctor in Toronto, and a daughter, a woman of great faith" in Ottawa, what better combination in a family could Rev. Mr. McNabb have than that," said Rev. Dr. Semple.

Mr. T. H. Thompson, secretary of the Board, and Mr. R. H. Livingston, clerk of session, were heard in short, congratulatory addresses to Mr. McNabb, whose ministry had been an honourable one, and a fruitful one and it was their privilege to present gifts on behalf of his congregation for the consideration, which most kind and cordial congratulations and best wishes. On behalf of the session and church they felt the valuable assistance to be associated with the esteemed wife as Mr. McNabb, whose ministry had been much blessed to them many more years.

Rev. Dr. Semple then called on a "quartette" of Rev. and Mrs. McNabb, Mr. W. A. Woodside and Mrs. John McCallum. Mr. Woodside, in feeling terms, made a suitable character, wise counsel and willing co-operation as all times, his visitation of the people in homes, his preaching, his pastoral work in the sick room, his counselling it, and his deep interest in the young people's work at home and abroad, said the reverend gentleman had rendered himself to all, and as a slight token of appreciation and co-operation asked Rev. McNabb to accept a cheque which he handed him.

Mrs. McCallum then presented with a beautiful bouquet of roses. Mrs. McCallum expressed the esteem love and appreciation of the whole congregation, and hoped they would long be spared to each other to continue their lives of loving service.

Rev. Mr. McNabb in an address which followed expressed their appreciation for [illegible] and for the beautiful gifts presented him. He entered into the heart of any minister and congregation in Smiths Falls and Bethany, and spoke words of love on behalf of his wife and family, as well as himself, expressed their gratitude most sincerely for this expression of their goodwill for them, spent some time in reminiscence and happily recalled many experiences and incidents in connection with his ministry since ordination. As he thought of the men of the Board, he thought of the [illegible] for this occasion was also a solemn one to him by being the only remaining one of the original Board of Management of Limark and Renfrew territory at that time extending from Manvers to Perth. It was to a church he took when it is day, for the night is coming and the work is done." He had born in four parishes and in them he had built and think of the results and that something was accomplished. As Barnabas to Antioch we evidences of the Grace of God in the people, so he could, but first of all he ascribed the glory and praise to God. He was at Beachburg for 18 years, and there he could tabulate some results other than names in the communion roll of [illegible] and church, missionary efforts, etc. His wife had been of great assistance to him as a pastor, then as leader in Sunday School work, in the W.M.S., and as she organized a number of Mission Bands. It was a delight to him to see "one of his boys," there tonight, as he thought of the [illegible] and he felt [illegible] Rev. Mr. McNabb said he had interesting experience in Young People's Societies and during his pastorate work and he could look back to the days and friends of Beachburg and Bethany with interest. He was at Beachburg. The rector of the Anglican church being a bachelor, and the Methodist minister had no manse when he went to Beachburg, he was invited to share the rectory, which proved quite comfortable and many times he was [illegible] mistaken for the rector. He [illegible] cared for [illegible] and each [illegible] [illegible] [illegible]

Local Teams Get Shut-Outs In Uxbridge And Cayeon

Lindsay Midgets Blank 'Cayeon Juniors 2-0

Sixth Straight Victory and Stevens' First Shut-Out Are Marked In Records

WIN THEIR GROUP

First-String Regulars Play Entire Game Against Hard-Fighting Bobcaygeon Crew

—By R. J. B.—

Using only the first-string regulars for the entire game, with one exception when Gensler, left-wing, was subbed when he collected a poke in the face from a fight-card, tired stick, the Lindsay Midgets came out on top of the tussle with Bobcaygeon juniors in Bobcaygeon last night, on the big end of a two-nothing score and clinched their group. The first shut-out in Stephen's credit this season, it is the sixth straight victory of the local juniors since the beginning of their schedule in this group.

Better hockey than the brand offered the fans that crowded into Bobcaygeon's arena last night would have been hard to find, with home-team, with nothing to lose and everything to win offering the stiffest opposition that Lindsay has had this year. For the full three frames, play was wide open, with flashy stick-handling and combination aided by stubborn and effective back-checking.

Clean and lightning fast play gave the over-crowded rink of dopesorters plenty of action in the first period. Throughout the entire stan za both teams were at a dead-pace, with first one and then the other gaining the advantage only to hold it for a few minutes. Although there were no sensational rushes in en either sides, both goalies cleared well, and on the whole broke about even.

It was not until well into the second period that the scoring opened, when Mills pushed the rubber past Nichols in a scramble in front of the net. For the remainder of the stanza, Bobcaygeon forwards gave Stephens plenty to worry about, and only careful net-minding by him, an offensive unit in this case rewarded a merit, good defensive, by his team-mates kept the home-team from evening up the tally.

About fifteen minutes of the best hockey displayed in this group this season had passed in the last frame, when the last goal of the game was registered. Gensler, left-winger of the Midgets added to Lindsay's small lead, when he beat Nichols with a low hard shot from inside the blue-line, putting the game in the bag.

Walter Jackson, O.H.A. representative, of Petrboro, handled the ice satisfactorily.

The teams: Lindsay, goal, Stephens; defense, Begley and Birgenwa; wings, Gensler and Spratt; centre, Mills; alternates, Parsons, Gerber and Campbell.

Bobcaygeon, goal, Nichols; defense, Nichols and Wright; wings, Kelso and Johnson; centre, Conway; alt., Kelso, Gordon and Johnson.

Townsend Trims Horner

Blond Cougar Flattens American In 35 Seconds; Bragan-Heon Rough

TORONTO, Jan. 20.—It was a one-punch victory that Billy Townsend, hard-hitting blonde welterweight from Vancouver, scored over Jackie Horner, of Rochester, at Maple Hall, last evening. Twenty-five seconds after the opening, a right to the head; a count of ten by timekeeper and referee as they toiled off the seconds in unison, and the main bout of the Queensbury A.C. show was over.

Townsend, who is a dynamic hitter, lived up to his reputation as a puncher. It was a terrific blow that ended the short contest. The accost boxer left his corner aggressively. He was short with two or three punches. Then the right. Almost simultaneously and with the weight of his body solidly behind it, landed on Horner's face not on the jaw but just under the left ear. Townsend probably sensing that the blow was a finishing one, took quick short step backward, and Horner fell forward on his face. As the referee counted eight, nine and ten Horner made no effort to rise. Rochester boxer tried to rise, but could barely, by drawing his knees up, raise his body a few inches from the canvas. He slumped back to the canvas and his second dragged him to his corner.

Phillips v. Townsend

Previous to the bout the announcer called for Jackie Phillips, who was introduced from the ring, and the announcement that he had signed to meet Townsend here Feb. 2 in a bout with Phillip's Canadian welterweight championship at stake. The Dominion titleholder was returning to his seat as the announcer made the announcement, and it is doubtful if he even saw the blow.

Hird Horner been making his first appearance here in the "windup" would doubtless have instantly arisen, but he had proved his ability to withstand the battery of Bragan Phillips and then waging a plucky and aggressive, if losing bout, against Jackie Fields, welterweight champion. Horner's weight was 145 1-2 Townsend 145.

Even had the main bout lasted longer it would have had to be absolutely sensational to be anything but an anti-climax to the semi-final. A clever boxer, the ability of Joe ("Red") Bragan, fiery local welterweight, was awarded a close decision over Billy Wilson, of Philadelphia, in a battle which was as rough as the final event was short.

Just what part of California Heon hails from has not been made clear, but his work in the ring left the impression that he had at one time sojourned in a coast lumber camp where they do their fighting with an absolute disregard to the rules laid down by the Marquis of Queensberry. Bragan has always introduced on his home soil articles almost as rough as Stanley Stasiak and "Dude" Chick Ivins in their wrestling exhibition, but in meeting Heon, he encountered a husky, powerful milkman, who was able and willing to meet his rough and ready style in kind.

Woodstock Is Beaten By Pats

Hamilton Team Breaks Woodstock's Winning Streak by Blanking Them 1—0 Last Night.

HAMILTON, Jan. 20.—Woodstock's winning streak was broken here last night when the speedy Patricias, Hamilton's entry in the O.H.A. intermediate series, defeated them 1 to 0 in a game that teemed with action and rough play. The only goal was scored by Irving Lounsbury six minutes after the second period opened, but on the ragged play Pats had a decided edge and gave some 2,000 fans to understand that they must not be counted out of the race for the group championship. It was the largest crowd to witness an intermediate game here in years, and the game was in keeping with the attendance.

Woodstock—Goal, Lynch; defense, Walkom and Longpré; centre, Evens; right wing, Marshall, left wing, Darragh; subs, Grant, Thower and

Teamwork Is Reason Of Intermediates' Win

Locals Play Nice Combination and Every Man Carrys Out His Assignment

NICE CHECKING

Improved Defensively With McClory In Goal; Game Was Clean

—By J. W. M.—

(Post Staff Reporter)

UXBRIDGE, Jan. 20.—With a goal in the first period, the greater part of the play in the second, although no score was tallied, and a hard checking attack in the final canto that swept the Uxbridge squad right off their feet and allowed for three more quick tallies, Lindsay Victorias defeated the Uxbridge intermediates by a 4-1-0-0 score in a cleanly-played game at the local arena before a packed house of enthusiasts last night. It was a victory in which every man skated—every man advised out his assignments and all of the Lindsay tallies came off direct combination attacks.

On the night's play the Vics were much the better team and their aggressiveness alone would have netted them more goals, but with just a little more finish around the nets on shooting and then Carr, Uxbridge goalie, things plenty tough for the Lindsay marksmen to get one in to count. Taking them on their performance in Uxbridge in view of the possibility of their series with Markham, the Vics should be more than a touch up to snack and will put up a real battle for section honors.

Teamwork Won

Lindsay's victory can be accredited to their combination play—team work part while certain of them stood out. Norb ("Cooler") McClory in goal handled everything that came near his citadel in clever all safe. His display last night in the poorly-lighted rink was a finished one. The way he played all the toughest ones, making them look easy constituted a real game in the nets. On the rearguard Prever and Reeves were a towering against most of the Uxbridge attacks before they got their required chance to work in front and both of them rushed well and "Buffer" was perhaps the hardest worker on the ice, doing the play for one of the goals, and missing out for his own by narrow margins several times.

On the front divisions there was little to choose between either of them. Both worked hard and particularly in the last period when they literally killed the Uxbridge team on their feet with their back-checking. "Buter" Martin, at centre, made the play for one of the goals, and was boring in all the time. Crafton and Townsend on wing was playing a nice game and besides smothering Suggitt, Uxbridge wing-man, got plenty of few chances to get his shot away, he scored one tally himself off Reeves' pass.

On the other side was Cliff Rich, who notched one tally, and fisted well into the passing attack. On the second line Crafton came through with two counters on passes out and back-checked hard. "Rosy" Forbert, at centre ice, was the best back-checker on the second line and also made the play for the last goal. Dames on his wing played heady hockey all through the contest, and tried hard for a score but just couldn't get it.

For Uxbridge Carr, in the nets, Norton on the forward line, and Moore on the rearguard were standouts. Any remaining, of Oshawa, handled the bell and his style made for a nice game without too much bell-ringing, but enough that he had the game in control all the time.

The Scoring Plays

Just thirteen minutes after the hectic first period had started Reeves coming down the ice fast slipped over a perfect pass to "Greeny" Williams, who didn't fool but sank it for Lindsay's first tally. This completed the scoring until that big last period when the first one came about eight minutes after the face-off, when once again Reeves engineered the play and Jack Crafton slipped it past Carr. Two minutes later another Lindsay attack swept past the defence and Buster Martin made a beautiful pass to Rich who notched the twine for another. Just before the period ended "Rosy" Forbes engineered a score when he slipped out a pass to Crafton for that gentleman's second score. This in brief was the origin of the scoring.

The Line-ups

On the teams were: Lindsay, centre, O. Martin; wings, L. Williams and Crafton; defence, H. Prever and E. Reeves; goal, N. McClory; subs, J. Crafton, R. Forbert and J. Dames. Uxbridge, centre, H. Burchell; wings, B. Willis and J. Suggitt; defence, D. Prentice and W. Moore; goal, R. Carr; subs, R. Norton, D. Rochon and D. Crosby. Referee, A. W. Armstrong, Oshawa.

Combination Play

Starting off in the first period play was rather tame—but just for a few minutes. Then it stepped up with the Lindsay Vics' team combination started at last, but even then Uxbridge was boring in a great deal and McClory had to do some nice saves mostly around too. With the period half gone Reeves made that pass to 'Greeny' who sunk a beautiful angle-high counter. Then the inevitable Uxbridge attack right after that goal came but they were turned back and Lindsay, with the game being threatening, three a threat to work in on Carr, but their shootin was a bit weak and Carr, Uxbridge goalie, was right on.

Scoreless Period

When the second canto began long shots were the fashion at the Uxbridge end, some being in the work in but could not get their shots away. Lindsay was working well in combination and the game being back-checking like nobody's business, and working short passes. With about eight minutes gone Lindsay took a brief spell for a while were in a constant turmoil around the Lindsay nets, but McClory cleared well, and working in Uxbridge's pass and the defence rushed out of danger. Buffer Reeves lost a couple of tough chances when he got right through only to miss his shot and another effort by Prever and Crafton just missed by inches. In fact everybody was taking a pack at the goalie but luck did not favor them.

Hard Back-Checking

Fueing the barrier for the final spasm one goal looked pretty small to both Lindsay and Uxbridge and both set out for more. The Vics played defensive hockey—real defensive hockey—in which they back checked the Uxbridge lads right off their feet and then ran in three goals, two by Crafton, once on Reeves' pass and once on Forbert's, and one by Rich on Martin's pass. This period was plenty hot with a good deal of rushing by the Uxbridge team but the back-checking of the forwards, and if they did get through they were taken care of by a capable defence and a just-as-capable goalminder. Near the end of this period Dames was working in time after time for what looked like goals, but had tough luck when he let the puck go.

New Outfits Are Snappy

Black Hawks, Oakwood's Big Five Team Please With Showy Uniforms

(Contributed)

OAKWOOD, Jan. 20. — Several pleasing comments were passed on the appearance of the Oakwood Black Hawks when they made their debut in the Big Five League against Cambray on Wednesday night last in the local arena. When they stepped out on the ice they were all decked out like Mrs. Astor's pet poodle, bound—sporting new sweaters and socks of the team colors, black and white. A large share of the credit for this artistic display goes to the Girls' Athletic Society who contributed quite generously toward the sweaters from their fund of past events, hockey, basketball, etc.

Perhaps that was the reason the boys set a precedent last Wednesday evening when they won their first game of the season, which is rather peculiar and irregular. Maybe they are following the slogan of our well-known local celebrities, "Prevent suspicion by keeping up personal appearance." We only hope they justify the purchase of their new outfits by keeping up the good work.

Last Year's Allan Cup Squad Far Ahead

—Montreal, Jan. 20.

MONTREAL AMATEUR Athletic Association's Winged Wheelers increased their lead over McGill in the Montreal senior hockey group standing last night by defeating Victorias 3 to 1, while the College squad were playing Columbus to a 1-all draw. Due to stormy weather, the smallest crowd of the season watched the amateur doubleheader.

The Wheelers now lead McGill by three points, while the Redmen, with 11, have a five-point lead over the third-place Columbus squad, who themselves are a point ahead of Vics. Canadiens, who drew a bye last night, bring up the rear.

Activities of The Curling Club

Lindsay's Tunkard representatives left for Peterboro last evening to take part in the district playdowns, for the right to represent this group in the elimination series with the other group winners from all over the province.

This year the playdowns are being held in Peterboro where all the other rinks from the group will meet. Chances are that Lindsay will be the only other Club outside of Peterboro that will be there. This has been the case for the past few years.

The local club will be represented by rinks skipped by F. Carew and R. Butler, and will line up as follows—

B. Scott	J. Griffis
H. Woods	E. Gregory
W. Reesor	F. Carew
R. Butler, sk.	P. Carew, sk.

Preparations have already started for the Leads and Seconds Bonspiel, which will be held on February, 4th, 5th, 6th. The skips were selected the other day and will be announced along with their rinks in a day or two.

If it is at all possible to-day's Post will carry a bulletin on the progress of the local rinks at Peterboro.

W. Reesor received a real trimming on the eve of his departure for Peterboro from G. Langdon's rink. The game only lasted ten ends, but during that time they managed to secure a total of twenty points which included a big six and as well as a five.

KITCHENER PROS BETTER

Defeat Guelph In Fast Game; Silverwoods Are Greatly Improved; Much Classier.

KITCHENER, Jan. 20—Displaying much-improved hockey over their last appearance here, the Kitchener Silverwoods defeated Guelph, 4 to 3, in an Ontario Hockey League game last night at the Auditorium. It was the second loss for the Guelphites in three days, both defeats being by one goal. Though the game at times was strenuous, it was clean, and there was some excellent hockey played. The winners had a better attack than the losers, and showed some clever combination, that gave Ironstone much trouble. It was the veteran's work that held the locals to

CATARACTS NOW THIRD

Take 3-1 Decision From Stratford Nationals In O.H.R. Game; Forecast

NIAGARA FALLS, Jan. 20—Niagara Falls Cataracts came through with a 3-1 victory over Stratford Nationals in an Ontario League fixture here tonight, to climb to third place in the standing.

The Falls forced the issue in the first period which went goalless. The second period saw each team score one, and the crowd was on its toes several times when good scoring chances presented themselves. The Nationals drew first blood when, after six minutes' play, Ketterborne displayed a pretty piece of individual work to go in close and pick his opening. The tying goal for the Cataracts came midway in the game as the result of a lucky break." Matte was the scorer, letting go a shot from the blue line that Norfolk stopped, but allowed to drop over the goal line.

The third period, in which the home team scored twice to clinch the game while the visitors were kept from further damage, proved a very exciting twenty minutes of hockey. The Falls Attacker was the result of a clever combination between Manners and Smith, with the latter doing the scoring end. Near the end of the session, Laroche packed the game away when he beat Norfolk on a hot shot from the blue line.

"Gringo Privateer"

By Peter B. Kyne

Synopsis

Kenneth Burney, adventurer and one-time gentleman, comes to Brasley Bardin, King of the cattle country, for a job. Burney has had a fight with Martin Bruce, a rival cattle owner who has been Stealing the King's stock, aided by Miguel Gallegos a Mexican bandit. The King, liking young Burney, makes him general manager of the ranch on condition that he put Bruce and Gallegos out of the way. Burney meets Bruce, who has sworn to kill him. They both drew their guns, but Burney outwits the wily old cattle thief.

Meanwhile Muriel Bardin, beautiful daughter of the King, becomes more interested in Burney than she cares to admit. She tries to persuade her father not to let Burney tackle the cattle thieves. But Burney continues to lay his plans for the battle that is sure to come. In another encounter with Bruce, Burney calmly accepts an insult from the latter, to the disgust of his men. But later he overpowers Bruce suddenly and disarms him. Bruce is wild with rage. Burney who wants to go into the cattle business for himself after he has accomplished his task for the King, continues to lay his plans.

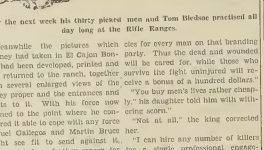
CHAPTER XI

Ken Burney decided that his course regardless of how he fared in El Cajon Bonita, was not set. If he should succeed in disposing of the king's enemies the king would be obliged to stock his father's ranch for him, loan him fifty thousand dollars and give him ten years in which to repay. If, on the other hand, he failed to dispose of the king's enemies, he would remain on the pay-roll long enough to buy Dan Wilkins' outfit for the Bardin Land & Cattle Company, in which latter event he hoped that by consummating a fine profitable deal much of the king's bitterness at his (Burney's) failure in El Cajon Bonita would be eradicated to such an extent that His Majesty might graciously consent to give him a good job in some other department of his immense business.

Win or lose, however, he must abandon his position as general manager of El Ranchito. That job belonged to Tom Bledsoe by all the rules of the game and Burney had, in a moment of impulsive generosity promised the Quaker he would remove himself from the latter's path within sixty days.

The following three days Burney spent in the building of an orthodox navy rifle range in a secluded canyon on El Ranchito. By that time the thirty rifles and the ammunition he had ordered from Los Angeles were in the express office at Huachita. They were sporting rifles sighted up to a thousand yards and chambered to use United States Army Springfield ammunition. Burney would have preferred during-field rifles also but owing to the inability of civilians to purchase these he had to be content with the next best, which he believed to be superior to the average rifle in any regular or guerrilla force in Mexico.

For the next week his thirty picked men and Tom Bledsoe practised all day at the rifle range.



For the next week his thirty picked men and Tom Bledsoe practised all day long at the Rifle Ranges.

Meanwhile the pictures which Burney had taken in El Cajon Bonita, had been developed, printed and and returned to the ranch, together with several enlarged views of the valley proper and the entrances and exists to it. With his force now augmented to the point where he considered it able to cope with any force Miguel Gallegos and Martin Bruce might see fit to send against it, there existed no further reason for delaying the branding in El Cajon Bonita and accordingly Burney had he overhauled and serviced six big motor trucks and a motorized chuck wagon. Into the trucks he loaded his horses, saddled and bridled—and they were the horses he had instructed Tom Bledsoe to select from the remuda because of their variegated colors. He put the horses in five trucks and loaded his personnel, it with their arms, ammunition and bedding rolls, into the sixth truck; at daylight at which point he planned to cross the international boundary.

The day previous the king, having been informed by Burney of his contemplated departure for El Cajon Bonita next morning casually relayed the information to his daughter—and she thereupon proceeded to get busy. "He had thirty-two trained fighting men, including the range boss and the cook," His Majesty added parenthetically, "so it appears to me that at last I'm going to get my calves in El Cajon Bonita branded before Gallegos runs Martin Bruce's iron on them. Next to getting rid of Gallegos and Bruce, the branding of those calves in defiance of those two crooks will mark a distinct milepost in the march of progress in the affairs of El Ranchito."

The princess gazed at him wide-eyed. "Do you think he'll really have to fight for the privilege of branding those calves, Dad?" she queried interestedly.

"I do—and so does Burney. Gallegos has to make good or lose the game he's playing with Bruce, and, naturally, he'll feel much more cheerful over a fight on Mexican soil than we will, being foreigners."

"Gallegos will attack Mr. Burney, Dad?"

"Naturally. Burney may not attack him, although he'd like to, in order to gain the advantage of surprise and initiative. The offensive often wins. The defensive seldom. Burney is forced by circumstances to take the defensive because, in the eyes of international complications later, that will give him a leg to stand on. Gallegos is a bandit and Burney can plead that he and his men merely defended themselves against the outlaw."

"Is somebody likely to be killed?"

"Oh, there will be casualties, of course. However, I have purchased ten-thousand-dollar accident policies for every man on that branding party. Thus the dead and wounded will be cared for; while those who survive the fight uninjured will receive a bonus of a hundred dollars."

"You busy men's lives rather cheap-ly," his daughter told him with withering scorn."

"Not at all," the king corrected her.

"I can hire any number of killers for a single professional engagement for fifty dollars. However, he added with 'self-conscious-rectitude, "it has always been my policy to hire good men and pay them well for good work."

"But suppose Ken Burney should be killed?"

"His father will collect an accident insurance policy of ten thousand dollars and I'll ship the body home to Tres Pinos, California—ams flowers."

"Marvelous. Suppose, on the contrary, Ken Burney should be crippled for life?"

"The accident insurance policy makes provision for partial or complete disability. Of course, if he kills Bruce and Gallegos and becomes permanently disabled, he'll have his father's ranch stocked for him on long-time payments. He'd probably get by, even as a cripple. On the other hand, if he fails in his mission and becomes totally disabled also that would be just too bad."

"Oh, would it? Well, you could pension him, couldn't you."

"Of course not."

"Why?"

"Because he would not accept it and I wouldn't insult him by suggesting it. Men in his line of business realize the chances they take and they never whine or whimper when their luck fails to hold. They neither ask nor expect favors or bonuses for halfway jobs."

BARN IS BURNED ON BOBCAYGEON ROAD

Turkey Is Cause Of $1,000 Fire, Upsets Lantern In a Barn

Barn Owned By William Clarke, Near Lindsay, Is Completely Destroyed

HOUSE IS IN DANGER

Fire breaking out about eight o'clock last night, it is thought, from a turkey flying into a lantern and causing it to explode, completely destroyed the large frame barn of William Clarke, who lives northeast of the town just off the Bobcaygeon Road, and only through the efforts of the neighbours and the fact that the roof was covered with snow, was the house saved, as it stood directly in the path of the flying sparks carried by the strong wind which was blowing at the time. Everything about the barn was destroyed in the conflagration but no stock was lost with the exception of the large number of fowl which were literally roasted in their coops. The loss is estimated at approximately $1,000 and was partially covered by insurance.

For thirty-five years the barn, a frame structure, had stood on the Clarke farm. Last night about eight o'clock Mr. Clarke was attending to his evening chores and set the lantern down when he went into the mow. It is thought that a turkey roosting in the mow flew over the lantern knocking it down and causing it to explode. Mr. Clarke was evidently badly burned cut himself but the barn was doomed and every effort was turned to save the house. This structure was directly in the path of the sparks carried from the burning barn by the south wind, but luckily there was a heavy covering of snow on the roof which with the efforts of the volunteers saved the house from going up.

Besides the barn and contents the implements among which were a mower, and also a car and buggy went up in the blaze.

As Barber Bellows "Next," a "Hello" Girl Falls Off Her Seat

—Lindsay, Jan. 12.

ANIMAL stories seem to have gone into a decline, so some of the local barbers have stepped forth to take their place. In a Lindsay barber shop recently, it seems, one of those immortal artists was busy shaving a man when the telephone rang. Still carrying the tools of his trade he jerked the receiver off the hook, and bellowed "Next" into the mouth-piece. His friends are still kidding him, saying that if a man had asked him for a dozen herring he probably would have queried "Wet or dry?"

Hepburn Attacks Tories

Lashes Out Charges Against Attorney-General in Recent Stimson Collapse

ASKS INVESTIGATION

HAMILTON, Jan. 20—Unleashing a furious onslaught upon the Conservative Government of Ontario and centring the attack principally upon the Attorney-General's department, two Liberal speakers last night flatly charged Hon. W. H. Price with failure to prosecute fraudulent stock transactions when details of the operations had been tendered his department.

Declaring that he would divulge the name of his informant "at the proper time," Mr. Pollpott asserted that the full facts of the Stimson case had been laid before Col. Price in 1928 by one of Toronto's well-known financiers, and that the Attorney-General had absolutely refused to act. The candidate added that his charges warranted the naming of a Royal Commission, "or other judicial procedure"—presumably against the Attorney-General—would be necessary. Personal liability to all Stimson creditors in Ontario was asserted by Mr. Philpott.

Mitchell F. Hepburn, Ontario Liberal leader, and Captain Elmore Philpott, chosen last night at Liberal candidate in the Hamilton West by-election, were the terms accused Col. Price of having been aware of conditions in the G. A. Stimson Company eighteen months ago which precipitated its crash only a week ago and the arrest of its president and two of the directors, later. During the addresses of the two speakers, copies of documents upon which the charges were voiced were waved before the audience which cheered and applauded uproariously.

Speeches Broadcast

Climaxing the meeting at which Mr. Philpott was unanimously selected as the party's choice for their candidate, the addresses were broadcast over a local radio station, CKOC, Pythian Hall in the I.O.O.F. Temple and formed the largest audience addressed by Mr. Hepburn since his accession to the leadership of the party in Ontario.

Declaring that the Ontario Government was serving Hamilton elevator, whose husband were killed in enemy nations. In all these instances the ships on which the men were serving as engineers, stokers or in other capacities, were torpedoed.

Question of jurisdiction of this commission to deal with these cases was raised, the suggestion being that claims might have been made to the English authorities as the claimants were domiciled in England or Scotland when the deaths occurred. However, no ruling was given on the matter and full testimony was taken.

The first person to file a claim who was domiciled in Canada when her husband met death was Mrs. Louise Rogers, now of Los Angeles. Her husband was Mr. James R. Rogers, editor of "Jack Canuck," a weekly paper published in Toronto.

Rogers was a passenger on the Lusitania en route to London to open a branch office, when the

"Branding" New-Born Babies

In order to prevent any recurrence of the harrowing cases in which new-born babies are believed to have been exchanged and their identities lost, these members of the staff of the Newark Bath Israel Hospital are using artificial sun rays to "brand" a new-born child with letters which remain visible for about ten days and then disappear. Arthur Arnold, ultra violet ray expert, is operating the "branding" instrument.

Stewart Has Same Majority To a Vote When Smoke is Cleared From Recount

LAW AVERAGES

TORONTO, Jan. 27.—Not by as much as one vote was Mayor Stewart's original majority of 313 changed yesterday afternoon when Judge Denton of the county completed the last of the 115,000 ballots cast by the citizens of Toronto in the mayoralty election, New Year's day.

Even human error would seem to fall within the scope of the inexorable law of averages. In the first few days of the recount, Sam McBride, the defeated candidate and petitioner for the ballot check, made rapid gains. But such gains steadily dwindled.

As the recount neared its conclusion yesterday afternoon Mayor Stewart had increased his majority by four. The gain did not last. In the final examination, Mr. McBride took two votes from the mayor and the eight days fingernail toil of judge and lawyers ended "even-stephen."

At the close of the recount, Joseph Singer, counsel for Mr. McBride, presented figures which, he said, showed that many people whose property holdings qualified them to vote for aldermen in several wards also were voting in those several wards for mayor.

Among 59,071 voters who went to the polls and who were qualified to vote for mayor, he said, there were 59,081 ballots cast for mayor.

Local Man Killed In Garage

John R. Cowleson, Cambray, Succumbs To Car's Deadly Carbon Monoxide Fumes

FOUND BY C. SHIERS

John R. Cowleson, elderly resident of Cambray, was found dead in his garage in Cambray about eight o'clock last night. Mr. C. Shiers, former resve of Fenelon township, Death was caused by carbon monoxide poisoning. Mr. Cowleson who was a retired farmer and had been a medicine vendor had evidently gone into the garage by the latter part of the afternoon for his tracks were covered up by the snow which fell after that time. When Mr. Shiers came over about eight o'clock he wished to see Mr. Cowleson, and seeing no lights in the house noticed that the garage was lighted. Entering he found the man dead at the back of the car.

He immediately notified Dr. Urquhart, of Cambray, who communicated with Dr. W. G. Collison, County Coroner, at Lindsay. When Dr. Collison arrived he found the back of the car jacked up and a wrench lying nearby. The motor which had been running had shut itself off, but the motor was still warm. Evidently the deceased man had gone out to do some repair work on the car, and was overcome by the fumes of the exhaust near which he was working. All doors were shut in the garage. After his investigation Dr. Collison deemed no inquest necessary, and has stated that death was caused by carbon monoxide poisoning.

BROCKVILLE Ont., Jan. 21.—Although the coupe in which he was riding when struck by a westbound express at a level crossing, was carried 100 feet before it came to a stop, Mrs. Archie Duvall, 52, escaped with cuts about the head and other minor injuries, it is the only perfect satisfaction to all, this important part of the program. Bread and butter, beans, cake and coffee constituted the menu. A most delightful evening was brought to a close after a hearty vote of thanks.

Streets Get Clear

Dr. H. B. Johnstone, chairman of streets and bridge, is being congratulated on the very efficient manner in which he is handling his department in municipal affairs. The streets are being kept quite clear of the snow that has fallen heavily here recently.

It is understood Dr. Johnstone is also responsible for the new system of recording motions at the Council meetings. This has been a long-felt and urgent necessity and when properly introduced and put in operation, will have a far-reaching effect.

Thousands of dollars would have been saved by this and other municipalities had business been conducted along the lines now introduced.

In New Home

Mrs. H. Heard and family, Mississauga Beach, Bobcaygeon, have leased Miss E. N. Dickson's house on Bond Street and are moving their household effects rescued from the fire which destroyed their home last Sunday.

Local Game Warden R. D. Windsor, of Lindsay, was in Fenelon Falls recently. He has completely recovered from the serious illness he underwent when attacked by a deer at the Government Fur Farm. It was his intention to call at the farm and restoring conditions were far from favorable.

This has been an unusual year, in the large number of convictions for minor offences against the game laws and a marked degree of respect for the game laws all over the district mark it as outstanding.

New Warden Here

Game Warden S. J. Woodward was in the district recently, making himself acquainted with local conditions. Mr. Woodward is just down from the north having spent seven years at Sioux Lookout. He is an expert musher and has taken part in the Pass Dog Derby on several occasions. It is planned by the Government to have a dog forward in Ontario for special patrol purposes in the Muskoka district.

Unemployment is becoming commenced on Monday, under the supervision of Mr. John Jackson, the first work to be done at the Lakewood Dump.

BAPTIST Y. P. ARE TAKEN FOR A RIDE

Four Cars of Lindsay Young People Go To Reabro For a Sleigh Ride

Four cars of Lindsay Baptist young people repaired to the Community Hall, Reabro, where they were guests of the B.Y.P.U. of that district in a sleigh ride.

Upon arrival at Calvert's Store, all the visitors transferred to the four waiting sleighs and went for a delightful ride with the bells jingling and singing as they drove. The roads and the weather made the drive most delightful. Those whose teams were in service are, Messrs. George Smith, Jr., Kenneth Reid, Clarence Endicott, and Edgar Reid.

At the conclusion of the ride, the young people resorted to the Community Hall, and indulged in games, which were planned and carried out in a very able manner by the Misses Gray and Treleaven, the local school-teachers. All the young folks, in number about 70, entered enthusiastically into the games and contests.

Of course, refreshments were provided, a committee composed of the Misses Ida Calvert, Lara Smith and Elsie Reid carrying through, with perfect satisfaction to all, this important part of the program. Bread and butter, beans, cake and coffee constituted the menu. A most delightful evening was brought to a close after a hearty vote of thanks.

Higher Assessment Means Big Loss To Bowmanville

Will Pay $10,000 More to County Because Its Assessment Is Raised 200 Per Cent.

FIVE MILLS MORE

BOWMANVILLE, Jan. 31.—The town of Bowmanville is faced with paying an extra $10,000 in taxes towards the expenses on the United Counties, according to the latest figuring by local town and municipal officers. This is based on an average and estimated expenditure of the year of $230,000. Bowmanville has been assessed in the recent equalization nearly two hundred per cent. more than previously and their percentage liability has been increased to 6.9779 per cent, or practically seven per cent. This liability is the percentage of the total expenditures to be made in the counties this year and which is to be paid as Bowmanville's share of these expenses.

On this basis Bowmanville will have to raise in the county estimates this year the sum of $25,200, or $10,100 more than was paid by the town last year. As $5,076 raised by taxation in the town represents a mill, it will be plainly seen that the town will either have to cut its own expenditures to the bone or raise the mill rate close to five mills.

It is with great difficulty that most people in the town get any sense at all out of this equalization, and it is these figures that are estimated by the Town Treasurer and the Mayor and Council Chairmen that give some idea of what it will cost the town. The township of Darlington will, according to their liability, pay considerably less this year, to the county and that seems to have been the purpose of the equalization, the unburdening of the farmer and the imposition of higher taxes on urban dwellers.

MORE CARE IS ASKED

KINGSTON, Jan. 21.—"In Ontario we are coming to the point where in the future more interest will be taken in the prevention of disease than in its cure, and the problem will become bigger as the years go by," declared Hon Dr. S. M. Hobb, Minister of Health in the Ontario Government, at the annual dinner of the Medical Faculty of Queen's University held in Grant Hall recently.

Dr. Robb was introduced by Col. the Honorable T. A. Kidd, Speaker of the Ontario Legislature.

"I am very glad to be present and to have this opportunity of addressing the medical profession and the undergraduate students," said Dr. Robb. "Queen's stands high in the estimation of the people of Ontario and Canada and has also a most enviable International reputation. I am glad that Dean Etherington asked me to be present and I am also glad to meet Dr. Pyfe, your new principal.

"I recall very vividly my first impression of a medical man and I received it from reading 'Beside the Bonnie Brier Bush,' by continued Dr. McClure depicted most accurately the same type of conscientious, self-sacrificing medical man that we have throughout the province of Ontario today. Seek To Block School Cadets

BELLEVILLE, Jan. 21.—Will the cadets at the Collegiate get their splendid new uniforms this year, after all? At one time everything looked rosy for them and it was thought that this Spring they would appear in brilliant scarlet jackets.

But a monkey wrench has been thrown into the machinery by Trustee Fred Smith. Mr. Smith rose to his feet at the end of the meeting on Tuesday last and, had a bombshell exploded in the midst of the meeting, it could not have created more consternation. The following was the wording of his motion:

Move To Outfit With Uniforms

"Moved that the recommendation of the Special Committee on new uniforms as passed by the Board of Education on Dec. 19th, be rescinded and that the present cadet suit uniforms be not included in the requisition to the city council."

Trustee Green said that he didn't approve of Trustee Smith putting that notice of motion. "I do not have to discuss a notice of motion at all," replied Mr. Smith, briefly. This means that the question will probably be thoroughly learned and rehashed and voted upon at the next Board meeting.

Private Council Meetings

[illegible] town council on Monday [illegible] committee [illegible] would be [illegible] the news- [illegible]

not be reported. To illustrate: There might be a question involving the securing of a piece of property. Were it reported that such was about to be done it might be possible for speculators to operate to their own advantage. Or there might be the name of some industrial concern which was a prospect for a locality, and it would not be desirable to mention the name until all details were settled. Any reasonable reporter would gladly refrain from giving notice to such discussion, because in so doing he would be advancing the interests of the citizens.

A reporter who attend Council and committee meeting should be well versed in civic matters, and the more he knows the better he can interpret the situation to his readers. A fair statement from one who is well informed is far better for the Council than a report which has to be pieced together from hearsay.

"It is difficult to see just where the Woodstock Council is going to gain anything. It may make it rather awkward for the reporters to gather information, and the reports may not be uniformly correct. It may be too, that ratepayers will be left uninformed regarding certain developments, and they may know nothing of the reasons for doing other things.

"Having seen both plans tried in a number of municipalities, the Beacon-Herald has no hesitation in saying that the Woodstock Council, by insisting on closed committee meetings, will gain nothing at [illegible] and it is quite possible that it will find consid- [illegible] year is far spent."

Irishman Starts To Fight Seeing 'Beat-Em-All' Sign

Toronto Scrapper Goes into Clean Up Creek Restaurant, and He Is Sent to Cleaner.

TORONTO, Jan. 21—A fighting Irishman who believed in signs was Mr. William Patrick Healey, formerly of King Street west, but at present resident in the Toronto General Hospital.

He noticed a sign, "Beat-Em-All Cafe," outside an eating establishment on Queen Street west. So he journeyed inside, and started in on "Beat-Em-All," but was very forcefully bounced outside by the Greek proprietor.

Enraged at such treatment, Mr. Healey charged back to the cafe door, which the proprietor had locked while administering the bouncing. Blow, rained on the door, so Mr. Healey abetted by a street moppet to get back inside to "Beat-Em-All." The owner, Louis Mitsenoff, decided he had perhaps better open the door. Then, although he was just at the instant Mr. Healey charged, so Mr. Healey went asprawling.

Enraged at such lack of good sportsmanship, Mr. Healey grasped one of Mitsenoff's finger firmly with his teeth, intending that the latter might have read, "Bit-m-Off." A series of football tackles by the waiters rescued Mitsenoff, and reduced Mr. Healey to an unconscious form on the sidewalk outside by the time police arrived.

If you hang your velvet frock or coat in the bathroom, far enough from the tub so it won't get wet, and turn on the hot water in the shower and shut the bathroom door, the steam arising will do wonders to get the wrinkles out and make your velvet look as if it had been scientifically steamed and pressed. Perform this process sometime before you want to wear the garment, as it should be allowed to hang in a dry room after the steaming is over.

Rivers' Goal In Extra Time Beats New York

INDIVIDUAL TALLIES

Boston Beats Ottawa; Falcons Trim Quakers; Close International Games

NEW YORK, Jan. 21.—Gus Rivers, young forward of the Canadiens of Montreal, gave the "Pride of Pemberton" a 3-2 victory over the New York Rangers in an overtime National Hockey League struggle last night. The defeat dropped the Rangers into a tie with the Detroit Falcons for third place in the American division.

With more than half the ten-minute overtime period gone, and both teams slowing down rapidly from their long, speedy battle, Rivers worked his way through the Ranger defense, and got a tricky backhand shot past Johnny Ralph for the deciding goal. All three of the Canadien counters came on individual plays, Pete Lepine and Auriel Joliat scoring in the first period.

Despite the absence of their star, "Howie" Morenz, who was left in Montreal with sore back muscles, the Canadiens held their own from start to finish. It was only when they were two men short and they Rangers one shy at the star. of the third period that Joe Jerwis could score the tying goal on Frank Boucher's pass. Boucher also assisted in the first counter, passing to Bill Cook to start the Rangers off ahead.

The game was almost as rough as it was fast, although the three-men all were stopped before they got to the point of violence. Seventeen penalties were called, and a mêlée fight in the overtime session was broken up without a penalty when the referees could not pick the offenders out of the crowd.

SENATORS BEATEN

BOSTON, Jan. 21.—The Boston Bruins gained further headway in the N.H.L. race here last night by trouncing the Ottawa Senators, 4 to 2, in a wide-open and interesting game. It was an even contest until about midway through the second period, when Hal Darragh, Boston forward, who was out three weeks with a leg injury, substituted his return to the game by slapping an assist from Eddie Shore into the Senators' net, and breaking a lie. "Cooney" Weiland, midget centre, scored twice and the second tally made early in the final session, ended the scoring.

Shore opened the scoring before the game was two minutes old with one of his sensational rink-length rushes. He netted the puck unassisted. Bill Touhey squared this on a pass from Hec Kilrea late in the session. Frank Finnigan netted the other Ottawa score in the second period.

The game attracted about 12,000 spectators, and during the intermissions members of the Boston Hockey Club increased the crowd for funds to help finance their trip to Poland, where they will play a series with various European amateur sextets.

EASY WIN

DETROIT, Jan. 21. — Philadelphia National Hockey League color squad cropped another game last night the Detroit Falcons trouncing them 5 to 2 in a game full of high and low spots. The Falcons had little trouble in piling up a five-goal lead in the first two periods before they relaxed, and the Quakers fought their way through the Detroit defense for two goals, one late in the second period and the other, two minutes before play ended.

Ebbie Goodfellow, Falcon scoring ace, boosted his scoring total by two goals, and Cooper, McInenly and Filmore each scored. The Quaker goals came off the sticks of Jerry Lowry, who played stellar hockey all evening, and "Peaches" Lyon who tallied late in the game.

LOSE AGAIN

PITTSBURG, Jan. 21.—The Pittsburg Yellow Jackets of the International League satisfied 5,000 fans last night by defeating Detroit, 2 to 2, at the same time bundling from a tie for sixth place into a tie for fourth place with Cleveland.

Each side to the argument put across a single goal in the opening period, Rodden shooting for Pittsburg and Goldsworthy for the visitors only in this stanza, a minor

BELLEVILLE GET WIN

BEATEN QUEENS JUNIORS AND WERE MUCH BETTER TEAM ON NIGHT'S PLAY.

BELLEVILLE Jan. 21—Belleville Cubs continued in the running for group honors when they defeated Queen's by a score of 11 to 0, and were much the better team on the night's play. Wally Elmer has collected a hefty aggregation for the Tri-color, but the Cubs outskated their heavier opponents and, using a fast passing combination offense, went deep into the scoring zone. In the first period feeling was exhibited between teams, and there were many butt ends and cross-checks that escaped the eyes of the officials. One of the spectators made a rush at one of the Queen's players as he was leaving the ice, but Brian Burgoyne soon quelled the disturbance.

Daniels, in goal, was easily the best for the Tricolor, some of his saves being remarkable. Arthurs on the front line and Nesbitt were also prominent with the white belleville team showing to advantage. Runnions was high scorer for the winners with "Pete" Morton next in line. Morton in goal made some real stops in the last period with his defense giving fine protection.

In the first, turned in No. 2 after 4 minutes of the third period to put the Jackets in the lead. McCury followed it up on an assist from Anelette and the advantage gained was sufficient to win the contest.

Goldsworthy of Detroit, who sent across his team's initial goal, gave rise to hopes in the visiting heart that all was not settled when he

Victorias Face Stiff Schedule, Start 22nd

Play in Port Perry Thursday Here On Saturday in Fight For Second Place

RESERVE SUPPORT

Winner To Go Up Against Markham At Home On Monday, In Markham, on Wednesday

Well! Well! All those Victoria's fans who fell down in the mush when the locals took that 5-to-3 trimming here on last Friday evening can quite looking like they had lost their best friend—for in the words of the old Midget song, "We're going to play some hockey boys. All the live-long day." While it may not be all the live-long day—at least it will be four games in a little under a week—if things pan out as all supporters hope they will —and that is plenty. For when that surprise Port Perry win over Markham, which wasn't such a surprise as many would think, came on Monday when the Vics showed what they really could do and trimmed Uxbridge, that left the Ports and the Vics tied for second place.

The Games

As the first of the year it was decided that this group must be played-down by Feburary 5th (I pay ahhh, so the schedule for these play-offs now calls for:

Lindsay plays in Port Perry this coming Thursday.

Port Perry plays in Lindsay this coming Saturday.

The winner of these two plays Markham at home on Monday and at Markham on Wednesday.

Should Be Good

Which means that this Thursday the intermediates and Port Perry will test their strength, the winner to go against Markham. From their performances in Uxbridge the locals should put up a real battle. There they played a six-man machine, subordinating individual play to the combination attack which they had working so nicely. From the goal out they were a nice team on Monday night, and the only place they could have been bettered was by having a little more finish around the nets. However, this will come, and if they just play the kind of game they are capable of doing local fans will be seeing the play-offs with Markham, and more than that they will be seeing more than just this action play-offs according to the opinion of some. Let's hope so anyway.

Expect Big Crowd

When they play here on Saturday, there will be no excuse from the fans that they have to get up and go to work next morning. For next morning is Sunday. Rooters will have no excuse in the world for not turning out, and the one way to show their appreciation is by getting down there and verbally supporting them. And, remember, if Lindsay does take Port Perry in both games, Monday will see the Vics facing their strongest and bitterest rivals, Markham, for section honors here. Don't miss Saturday's game and if Lindsay beats out Port Perry don't miss the game on Monday either. Come on out! Give the boys your support! You will be rewarded by some real hockey, and will be encouraging the Vics in their efforts to bring the section honors to Lindsay. They have had tough luck all year, now that they seem to have hit their stride, so come down to the rink on Saturday and give them a hand.

Court Game At Height

Centre of Athletic Interest At L. C. I. Prepare For Game With Old Rivals

From Peterboro

Basketball at the L.C.I. is now at its height and is the centre of interest for all school topics. Last Saturday saw the boys' senior team get down on the right foot as a result of their win at the expense of the Uxbridge team. This coming Saturday sees the team in the important game of the season as far as the group is concerned. A win for the locals over the strong Peterboro Collegiate Institute and Vocational School will give them the group honors, and the right to meet the winner of the Oshawa-Cobourg series. Many will remember the hard fought battles that recently resulted in meeting old time rivals last season, and Saturday's issue in the local gymnasium promises to be one of the same type.

Lindsay will be represented by the same team as last year, with one or two exceptions. P.C.I. did not win the group last year. However that does not say that the locals will have a soft time in the game here, as Peterboro has the reputation of bringing up strong teams under all conditions. Next Saturday will tell the tale, and while it is almost impossible to pre-

Meeting of Church League Last Night

—Lindsay, Jan. 21.

MEETING LAST NIGHT in Queen Street Church with President Murphy in the chair, all the representatives of the Church League were present except the one from St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church. As notice had been given before that churches not having a representative at the meeting would be dropped from the schedule, this was almost decided upon but in the vote taken it was decided to interview Rev. Mr. Grier again and try to have someone who would really look after the boys in their competitions. It was also decided to take up a collection at the games as this is the only way the league has of making money at all, and as the next game they are hoping that some fans will be considerate enough to slip an extra nickel in their pockets before they set out—to help the good cause along.

Activities of The Curling Club

Is the local club on its way to another Tankard banner?

Well, they overcame the first obstacle when they defeated the Peterboro Club on Thursday, and right in their own ice palace at that.

Their next stop is Toronto on Tuesday, February the 3rd.

In the meantime the playdowns will be held for the District Competition, otherwise known as the Governor-General's prize. This will take place in Lindsay that coming Tuesday.

This is also a double rink competition, and the winners will go to Toronto for the finals.

Prospects for the Junior Tankard rin kind a practise last night. The rink has not been selected as yet, but the committee in charge hope to have them ready to go in a day or two.

The Junior Tankard playdowns will also be held in Lindsay; probably the week following the district preliminary round.

Notice of the Winnipeg Bonspiel and its 13 competitions was posted up in the club rooms on Monday.

It is a long time since the Lindsay Club has been represented at that event, and there does not seem to be any rinks going this year either.

Winnipeg is too far away must be the reason.

The Peterboro' Spiel will be held in the near future at which the local club has been well represented in the past.

Last year at this spiel a rink skipped by Bill Bryson earned off the main event. Here's hoping he does it again in 1931.

Games played Monday night resulted as follows:

Butler 11—Griffis 7.
C. Langdon 20—Bescoe 5.
Anderson 13—Knowlson 8.
Forsythe 9—Bryson 8.
Brooks 9—W. Langdon 7.
Ashwell 13—Gregory 8.
Carley 12—Sadler 2.
Everson 10—F. Carew 7.

Won Group Yesterday

F. Carew and R. Butler Win By Five Shots in Play-offs Held in Peterboro

Displaying a style of curling that was truly representative of the Lindsay Curling Club, the local rinks overcame the first opposition in their quest towards their ninth banner representing the Ontario Silver Tankard. The play-offs for this group took place in Peterboro yesterday. Outside of Peterboro Lindsay was the only other club to send representatives, and the Peterboro Lindsay battle was on. R. Butler one of the local skips drew the rink skipped by Bascon as his opponent, while F. Carew, the other skip drew W. Oke as his opposing skip.

Right off the start Bascon scored one on the first end, but Butler came back on the net and to square the battle. From then on to the end of the game Butler was never behind, and at no time was seven shots to the good. Over on the west ice Carew was taking W. Oke into camp. Although the Peterboro rink put up a strong fight Carew's quartette was equal to the event and finished five shots to the good. Carew finished his game with Oke before the Butler-Bascon contest came to an end. Butler was two shots up coming Home and when he came to play his last rock the Petes were lying two, but he did not make a serious attempt to remove them when he saw that Carew had already finished five points up, the game ending in a draw.

The rinks and scores:

Peterboro	Lindsay
Anderson	B. Scott
Archibald	H. Woods
Dr. Sutton	W. Reesor
Bascon, Sk.....24	R. Butler, Sk. 14
Gillespie	J. Griffis

pheny the winner, we will be pitting for the Red, Blue and Old Gold to pull out a win. A win over the Peels would go over in a big way as it would be the first win in a couple of years over the Garnet and Grey squad.

May Be Intermediates

There is a strong possibility of two games here this Saturday. Besides the senior game, the Peels have an intermediate team and they are trying to arrange a game with the second team of the L.C.I. to be played before the senior contest. This would be a good attraction besides giving the second team a game. Mitt Garbutt, coach of the girls' team has arranged a series of home and home games to be played with the Port Perry High School in the near future. Perry's girls are also what a series with the local girls but whether this will come to pass remains to be seen.

Hockey Doings

The L.C.I. hockey team won another group honors in a unique way. After the schedule had been drawn up with Peterboro and Bobcaygeon, as well the local team, the last named sent in their withdrawal from the group. Peterboro followed shortly after leaving the L.C.I. [illegible] group. Bowmanville [illegible] games to make up the schedule in the group.

"Gringo Privateer"

By Peter B. Kyne

SYNOPSIS

Kenneth Burney, adventurer and one-time gentleman, comes to Brisbey Bardin, King of the cattle country, for a job. Burney has had a fight with Martin Bruce a rival cattle owner who has been stealing the King's stock, aided by Miguel Gallegos, a Mexican bandit. The King, liking young Burney, makes him general manager of the ranch on condition that he put Bruce and Gallegos out of the way.

Muriel Bardin, beautiful daughter of the King, is more interested in Burney than she cares to admit. She opposes her father and begs him not to let Burney risk his life.

Burt Burney's plans are made. After an encounter with Bruce, in which the cattle thief swears to kill him, young Burney prepares to leave for El Cajon Bonita where the rustlers have been operating. He is determined to shoot it out.

CHAPTER 22

"When is Mr. Burney leaving for El Cajon Bonita?"

The king thought he detected a slight difficulty in his daughter's speech, but elected not to comment on his discovery.

"Tomorrow after luncheon," he replied.

"Well," the princess pursued thoughtfully, "in view of the fact that he's your general manager, it would be no more than decent of you to invite him up for dinner tonight."

"But my dear, aren't you in charge of the social department of the company?"

"I can't invite him up," the girl faltered. "I insulted him the last time he called to see you. You'll have to invite him up, Dad!"

"I have to consult a social error," the king protested. "Anyhow, why do I have to invite him up? He doesn't expect it of me. He's just one of my hired men. And why should I risk his refusal to accept on good reason? I'd love to have him up, of course, but why trample on the man's pride?"

Here was an unanswerable argument and the princess knew it. "I—I suppose I'll have to apologize to him," she suggested, "I wonder if he'll forgive me?"

"Undoubtedly," boomed His Majesty, and immediately repaired to the verandah, where the spasmodic quiverings of his somewhat plump abdomen would not indicate to his daughter the mirth that clamored for expression. In a few minutes Muriel joined him.

"He'll not come," she informed the king. "He says he'll be liable to be killed tomorrow so he must make his will tonight and white some letters."

"You apologized, of course?"

"No, I did not. I thought he'd understand when I telephoned him an invitation I odlimer, that that constituted an apology."

"What did he say?"

"He was hurtful. He told me sweetly that he accepted my apology. I loathe him."

"Well, honey, I guess he understood you all right. Still I fail to see where you have any kick coming. You unexpected him to understand that your invitation was tantamount to an apology, he so understood it and, realizing you would want some slight hint that he understood, the boy was decent enough to give it to you. And you loathe him for it." His Majesty shook his head sadly. "Women certainly beat my time."

Suddenly he turned, half angrily, upon his daughter. "What do you mean by displaying such a warm personal interest in my general manager?" he demanded. "Officially, you're not supposed to know he exists. Seems to me you're in grave danger of stepping out of your social class. Now, you listen to your old man, because he's not standing mighty pointed to say to you, Ken Burney has knocked you clear off the Christmas tree. Killer, cowboy or cavalier, you're for him all the way, and it's got to stop. You get him out of your head, my dear. Kid yourself all you want to, but never try to kid your old man. Forget Ken Burney. This is an order and I expect you to obey it."

"You're horrible," the girl charged with spirit. "As a trainer you're getting to be thoroughly impossible. Do you realize that the only thing about Mr. Burney that renders him objectionable is the result of your scheming, your rapacity, your heartlessness?"

"I admit he's got his fine points, but—he won't do for a son-in-law."

"Suppose," the girl queried with quiet fury, "he should surprise you some day by asking me to marry him?"

"I'd hire him killed," the king replied without hesitation.

The princess leveled an accusing finger at her sire. "What you don't know about cows just isn't worth knowing," she charged, and, strangely, her momentary anger had evaporated, "but what you don't know about some other things would fill a book. Now, you listen to me, old-timer. Some day Ken Burney's going to ask me to marry him, and when he does, provided his hands are not stained with human blood, I'm going to accept him and marry him and not even invite you to give the bride away."

"You do that," her father replied coldly and slowly, "and you'll certainly take a course in being a cowboy's wife. I'll disinherit you."

"I don't believe you will, but if you should insist upon it, you'll certainly have a grand excuse for doing it, Dad."

She was flesh of his flesh, blood of his blood, bone of his bone, and he knew she meant it. "Well," he retorted, "we'll cross that bridge when we come to it." His bluff had failed.

A little later he strolled down to the ranch office and found Ken Burney slowly pecking out a letter on the typewriter. The king handed his new general manager one of his famous cigars, and sat down.

"I've been thinking that El Cajon Bonita is dead over, Mr. Burney," he began in a most paternal tone, "and I've come to the conclusion that the game isn't worth the candle. I can't risk sacrificing your life and the lives of my cowboys. My conscience would trouble me the remainder of my days. So forget this El Cajon Bonita snarl and Martin Bruce and Miguel Gallegos."

"It's too late to give up the enterprise now, sir."

"The devil it is. Young man, it's never to late to obey an order of mine. I forbid the expedition."

"But you entered into a verbal contract with me. I agreed in good faith, to eliminate your enemies and for the same you agreed to certain covenants—"

"Yes, I know I did," the king interrupted, "and don't you go hinting that I'm running out on my contract. I'll perform as I said I would, but you forget your end of the deal."

Ken Burney sat back and stared at his boss. "Will Your Majesty in words of one syllable, kindly explain what the devil has run up his back?"

"It's Muriel. She's raising such a riot with me about suborning murder, etcetera and more etcetera, that I'm in danger of getting in Dutch with my own daughter. I can afford anything but that."

"Is she afraid I'll get killed or that I will kill somebody?"

"Both."

"Let her continue to think so. What I'm trying to say is that any of her business. But I wouldn't fool you, boss. I wouldn't have you worried. Take it from me—accept my word of honor—that I'm not going to get killed nor am I personally going to kill anybody, save in self-defense. My plans do not call for work as coarse as that."

"But a man's plans may get upset. You're going down there tomorrow—"

"And I'm going armed. If I'm attacked that part of Mexico will date history from the moment I'm fired up. I'm going prepared to fight if I have to, but—I don't think I'll have to. And I can always change my plans. I can retreat if I want to or I can fight. I'll choose the least dangerous plan. Do not worry. I want to earn the fee you promised me. You say you'll give it to me anyhow, but unless I give value I may not accept it. And, by James, Your Majesty, I need the money. I've just got to have it."

"Why?"

"Because I want to be my own man and get married and settle down."

"Settle down where, you young idiot?" roared the king.

"On my father's ranch at Tres Pinos, California."

The king bit savagely into his cigar. "Cut the young lady pickes out already, Ken?"

"Yes, sir. I've had her picked out for more than a year. My recent circumstances have, of course, inhibited my plans—"

Claim Orillia Jobless March On Town Hall; Deny Report

WANT TO KNOW, IT IS SAID, WHY SOME WORK SIX DAYS AND OTHERS ONLY TWO

150 MEN INVOLVED

ORILLIA, Jan. 22—Fear that mechanics threatened Orillia was accused yesterday morning when more than 150 men previously employed on the unemployment relief work in the Wess Ward swarmed into the Town Hall and demanded to be told why they had been laid off. The men said they wanted an audience with Mayor Johnston, and asked why those in the ward were getting six days' work per week, while others were getting only two days. Alderman Raymond Denville, Chairman of the Relief Committee, explained to them that the reason they had been "laid off" was that the $45,000 granted for unemployment relief was nearly spent, that less than one ninth of this sum remained, and that of the sum remaining the district's week's payroll would have to be deducted.

Questioned last night, Alderman Denville denied rumors that the men were disorderly or that they had made threats. There was no

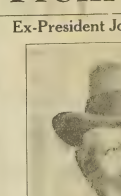
Retires From Fair Board

Ex-President Joseph Hickson



Mr. Joseph Hickson, of Lindsay, who has retired from the Board of Directors of the Lindsay Central Exhibition. He has been a member of the Board for 34 years, seven years of which were spent in the presidents chair.

President J. Hickson Retires

When He First Went On Board In 1896, The Fair Was in its Infancy

THERE 34 YEARS

After thirty-four years as a member of the Board of Directors for the Lindsay Central Exhibition, Mr. Joseph Hickson, for the last seven years president of the fair, stepped down from the president's chair yesterday with a most remarkable record to that association. Yesterday afternoon at the annual meeting of the board he was nominated again for the presidency but declined the honour as a mark of the esteem in which his work in the interests of the fair is held, he was made honorary president of the board by the unanimous vote of all those present.

This year marked the thirty-fourth that Mr. Hickson had spent in the service of the fair, a record of which he can well afford to be proud. Even more remarkable is the fact that in all that time after once becoming established on the board he has never missed a meeting of office except once for the vice-presidency. When he first became a director none of the present members were on the board with him. In fact as he said today, "It was the fathers of some of the present directors that I started on the board with me first." For the last twenty-one years of his tenure of office he has held major office. For fourteen years Mr. Hickson was president, and for the last seven seasons in the office for president.

When he first became a member in 1896 the fair then was a very small affair, compared with the high standard in which it is now regarded as borne out in the letters from other places planning on expansion seeking advice from Lindsay which is generally held to be a model exhibition. Of present completely modern plant making up the great amount of building space, not a building was standing at that time. The grounds which have been made larger and larger as expansion needed left after paralleling dwarf what was the fair grounds in 1896. Along with Mr. Block, the present secretary, to whom Mr. Hickson pays special tribute for his services, in the interest of the fair, the retiring president was instrumental in securing the first full-sized midway for the fair in 1923, thereby opening up a new source of revenue that had not been fully exploited before.

Making what might be termed his farewell speech on relinquishing the

The Arrest Of A Reporter Is Ordered By Orillia Mayor

Order That Reporter Be "Put In Cage," But There Was a Step-Up.

NOT UNDER ARREST

ORILLIA, Jan. 22—Scenes of an unusual nature, in which Mayor J. B. Johnston played a prominent part, were enacted in the Orillia Town Hall yesterday. The Mayor ordered the police to arrest Kenneth Wells of the Evening Telegram. Wells, apparently, was able to convince the police of his innocence, for he was still at liberty late last night.

The trouble arose at a Council meeting yesterday afternoon, when the Mayor, seeing Wells and other reporters, told them to get out of the room. Wells was the only reporter actually inside the room, stuck to his guns, insisting that, according to the Municipal Act, the Mayor had no authority to expel anyone from a Council meeting unless such action were authorized by a motion of Council. Mayor Johnstone exclaimed: "Get out of here, you this is a private room, and this is a private conference."

Other members of the Council attempted to remonstrate, but seizing the telephone, the Mayor called Pc-

1930 Fair Good; Less Receipts

Gate Receipts $1174 Less In 1930 Than 1929 But Grandstand Gate $316 More

BUILDING COSTS DOWN

Officers and committee chairmen of Board of Directors of the Lindsay Central Exhibition at the discussion period yesterday gave many suggestions that will be useful for the 1931 fair and all spoke of the wonderful co-operation on the board last year. In his address immediate past president Joseph Hickson, thanked the other members of the board for their co-operation and said that the only way to make the fair a success was to work on it all year round. A few comparative figures he gave were with regard to gate receipts where those for 1929 of $8680.21 were $1174.60 more than those of $7505.60 for 1930. The grandstand receipts of $1668.50 for 1930 were $316.75 more than the $1352.75 taken in for 1929 which was attributed to the wet and wonderful free acts last year. But the two taken together grandstand and gate receipts showed a total decrease of $870.85 over 1929.

Building operation in 1930 cost $3439.87 which was $669.65 less than the same department cost in 1929 when the cost was $4109.52. In band and amusements there was an increase of $970.35 for 1930 when that department cost $4445.85 against $3498.40 for 1929. The midway for 1930 brought in $58.37 more than it did in 1929, both $3488.75 realized in the past year, against $3430.38 in 1929. In prize money $3458.26 more was paid out than in 1929, with the amount paid out in 1930 coming to $7203.50 against the $7981.00 paid out in 1929.

First Vice-president A. Varcoe, who was in charge of building operations expressed pleasure at the number of people at the meeting and seemingly interested in the fair He was, he said, as much an asset to the fair with the building and had done his work to the best of his ability, to keep expenses down and the change in the new box and sheep pens were a credit to the fair.

Second vice-president J. P. O'Reilly, who was on the free acts and midway committee, said that the committee had made the best deals they could. The free acts he said, had been the best the local fair had ever had and the people had en-

Mayor Samuel Alcorn Tells Why He Wants Meetings In Privacy

Claims That In Past Press Has Been Told What To Print And Leave Out

WOULD CUT GRANTS

Says That Board of Education And Water Commission Meetings Are Closed

In connection with the action of four new members of the town council in deciding to bar the press from the committee meetings, the Toronto Telegram credits the following interview to Mayor S. Alcorn, sponsor and mover of the motion.

Mayor Sam Alcorn, explained why he had moved at the meeting of committees on Monday night that newspapermen should be barred from civic committee meeting:.

"Many of the council expressed their opinion that conversation at committee meetings should be private and not allowed the press," he said. "If they want to discuss their after the meetings they are perfect'y as liberty to get them from the records of the Town Clerk." Mr. Worship moved the motion at the request of one of the deputy reeves who also asked the mayor to hold the meeting in the mayor's office. The mayor wanted it distinctly understood that it was just committee meetings where newspapermen would be barred, the regular council meeting being open not only to reporters but the public at large. It was just personal matters that he was not in favor of reporting.

In the past, the town council has made an annual grant to the reporters of $35.00 a year for the reporting in the two local papers.

The mayor said: "the reporters and public are welcome at every meeting of the Lindsay Town Council. At meetings of the several committees a certain amount of informal discussion takes place and freedom of expression is encouraged. To this I unhesitatingly publish what might be said at these committee meetings would in most cases be misleading and sometimes entirely misunderstood and misconstrued. The discussion. The means taken to obviate this has been in the past to instruct the reporters what to publish and what not to publish, which does not make for accuracy.

"From the public accounts it appears there seems to be no recognized the services of the reporters by a yearly grant of money, which policy the present council probably may not continue.

"I believe the Board of Education which expends more of the taxes than the council itself, will not allow their proceedings to be reported, neither does the Board of Water Commissioners. The minutes and files of the committees of the council are open for the reporters and full information given to make extracts for publication."

Coin, 543 Years Old, Found In Lindsay, Is From England

THE ANCIENT coin found by Mrs. Charles Lee, 99 King street, Lindsay, has been causing considerable comment. Although it is 543 years old and somewhat of an antique, it came with a handful of other change Writing in the Toronto Telegram, W. W. Bolley, said: "I see by the paper as Phil Cook would say, that an "ancient coin" has been found. Mrs. Lee of Lindsay will find that the coin is one issued by the States of Jersey Channel Isles, England.. It is a Jersey half-penny. It have one dated 1955, marked one-twelfth of a shilling."

Horticultural Society

The local Horticultural Society held its regular monthly business meeting at the Commission Rooms on Tuesday evening, Jan. 20. Mr. T. Poulson, president, presiding.

The secretary-treasurer, L. Mie, gave a very satisfactory report of the past year's proceedings. This showed the society to be in flourishing condition, the present membership being 115. For the year 1930 total assets were $1716 and expenditures $428.29, leaving $2.87 balance on hand.

A business discussion which ensued concerned work to be done at the new Bowling Green on Francis Street. It was finally agreed and decided at the next meeting to beautify the creek on the west side of the green by planting trees there.

Mr. Poulson, who was re-elected to the presidency, stated in his address that he would have more leisure to devote to the horticultural work now that he had retired from municipal affairs. The outlook for the society this coming year is promising, and the old officers with the exception of Mr. R. T. Savage (director), are re-elected, it being the custom of the society to each year elect a director for a term of two years with a total number of ten.

Frank Graham Is President

Graham; and Mr. F. Graham by D. J. McLean and W. Murphy. Both gave short speeches outlining their activities on the Board and in the vote which followed Mr. F. Graham polled 25 votes to Mr. Varcoe's 20. Right on the dot Mr. Graham announced Mr. Varcoe showed fine sportsmanship when he said to Mr. Graham, "Come on sir, here she shake hands."

In the contest for Ops the first vote left Messrs. W. M. Graham and S. G. Hodgins tied for the last position with 21 votes apiece. Although both gentlemen were willing to drop out in favor of the other one either vote was decided to be necessary and in this one Endicott was elected, getting 13 votes to Mr. Graham's 8.

Before the election of officers the secretary read the minutes of the last Board of Directors meeting in 1930 and the minutes of the last annual meeting in January of 1930. In both cases the minutes were adopted as read. The financial statements of the fair for the past year was read by the secretary as audited by Rutherford Williamson, and adopted on the motion of J. Hickson and D. J. McLean. Then there was a general discussion period in which officers of the board and committee chairmen were allowed to show their ideas on their plans for the fair this year. It was moved by J. Hickson and seconded by Mr. Graham that the secretary send the $2.00 membership fee to the Association of Fairs and Exhibitions of Ontario. A motion was passed that all capital expenditures be authorized and proved of.

For the coming year the dates definitely decided upon for the fair were September 23, 24, 25 and 26. As a result of the discussion by committee chairmen the following motions were passed that the incoming board consider:

The advisability of holding a stallion, bull and seed show.

The moving of the light-horse ring to a more prominent position.

The rearrangement of the timetable for the last day so that all prizes can be presented in front of the grandstand.

The moving of the poultry house into a more prominent position.

The securing of additional space either by building or re-arranging exhibits for the flower and vegetable show in the Main Building.

When the new president Mr. F. Graham took the chair the first motion was a vote of thanks to Mr. Jordan for having acted as chairman. Then the usual honorarium of $100 was voted to the outgoing president, Mr. Joseph Hickson. R. B. Black was appointed secretary-treasurer at the same salary and the same auditors Rutherford Williamson, retained. The delegates to the annual convention in Toronto next month will be the president, Mr. F. Graham and H. B. Black. Wm. re-O'Reilly, J. Hickson, W. E. Stewart, F. A. Martin, T. Payne, W. M. Graham and H. N. Black. With regard to the delegation to go before the County Council it was decided that the whole board would go, and the secretary was instructed to approach T. B. Bateson, K.C., and W. W. Staples, M.L.A. to ask them to act as speakers for the occasion.

1930 Fair Good, Less Receipts

joyed them as evidenced by the increase in grandstand revenue. The midway he said had been often the fair. Speaking on this year's fair he said the free acts must be carefully picked next year to provide a bigger and better exhibition that in 1930.

Mr. Newton Smale, chairman of the finance committee, said he appreciated the support and co-operation he had received. He said that he did not think the $200 extra received in grandstand sale warranted the $900 more spent on free acts last year. He hoped that the fair had good weather last year he went on to show that not much money had been made consistently, and that this year either the free acts would have to be curtailed or some way of making more money evidenced. "Peterboro Fair," he said, "is a serious competitor to us. We must see to it that Lindsay's reputation is maintained."

F. A. Martin, who was on the midway committee, said that he had cherried out his duties last year to the best of his abilities. Speaking on the fair for this year, he said that he thought a great deal of helpful suggestions would come from the people interested in the fair, and said he would like to see a wider interest taken by the public at large and have an item after suggestions at the meetings. He said, "Lindsay's Fair has a wonderful reputation and it is up to us to maintain it. Others fairs are trying to outshine the fair here and we must not let them do it, and if we keep just a little better than them in front of anything they haven't a chance. We must spend a dollar to make a dollar."

M. D. J. McLean, chairman of the Main Building, spoke along the same lines as the others and with regard to the main building introduced a little humour when he decried the statement made by a previous speaker that everyone left happy by saying that one of the transients in the main building was quite peeved when he had to pay the contract amount for his space.

Speaking of the racing committee's work, Mr. H. A. Fleury, chairman, said that he had been surprised when he was put on the board but he had performed his duties to the best of his ability and he thought, everything taken into consideration, the three-day meet here had been a success. Speaking of the track he said that the local track was not a good one and a problem that would have to be settled in the near future would be curtailing it to keep the small stones from working up.

Messrs. William Graham and Charles Jenkins, chairmen of the light and heavy horse committees respectively, spoke briefly on their departments and said that the exhibits of animals last year had been the best yet. Both of them in speaking of the show-ring expressed a desire that it be moved over nearer the grandstand and said that that in its present condition it was not safe to show a horse in as it was so rough.

Mr. Payne, chairman of the hog and sheep exhibits, said that heretofore exhibitors had always complained of the accomodations for their stock but with the erection of the new buildings, no more complaints were heard and he believed the fair had the best set of pens in the province. He made special mention of the letter which all the sheep exhibitors signed and sent to the secretary congratulating the board on providing such excellent accomodation.

P. B. Trotter, in charge of the cattle and poultry shows, said that the cattle barns had been crowded to capacity with the remarkable exhibit this year. Speaking of the poultry show he said that this department was getting better but that it should be moved out where more people could see it.

ing him without any struggle.

Questioned last night as to whether Wells had been technically placed under arrest, Chief Church stated emphatically that he had not. "It was a closed meeting. I called the police and told him to take Wells out," said the Mayor last night. The Council had passed a motion closing the meeting, as required by law, the Mayor added.

There was no need for so much fuss over the matter, he thought.

Miss Gertrude Mark, Colborne St., has returned from Winnipeg after attending the funeral of her sister-in-law, Mrs. Gordon Mark.

Mrs. H. Hart, of Cannington has returned home having spent a week visiting at the home of her sister, Mrs. F. Gibbs, Bobcaygeon, Ont.

About 35 members of St. Andrew's Senior Mixed Bible Class last night enjoyed a toboggan party on that part of the golf links where the most hills are lost, and then, when they decided they were quite cold enough for the time being, they went to the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Anderson, Albert Street, where they thawed out, had an appetizing bean feed and enjoyed an impromptu program. The event was enjoyable even though the mercury in the thermometer had crept away down into the bulb to keep out of the old cold 32 below zero.

The regular meeting of the B.Y.P. A. was held Monday evening in the Sunday School. After the opening hymn, Mrs. Warren led in prayer and the Roll Call was responded to by Wells had been technically placed under arrest. Chief Church stated emphatically that he had not. Cellar As Extra Room

Haven't you often wished for an extra room—a place to play or work or put the children? You can have it if your house is built with a spacious cellar. The location is ideal—cool in summer, warm as toast in winter. Why not turn this space into the room you've always wanted?

If you like to entertain, your cellar may be turned into a perfectly grand game room. Don't be afraid to let your imagination run riot in planning it. The more colorful and amusing the more fun it will be.

Perhaps your crowd plays backgammon. Then the backgammon is the inspiration for your room. The color scheme, of course, would be cream, red and black. And your floor would be painted like a huge backgammon board, an exact enlargement of the smaller real ones. In fact as practical to play on, too, for you can make the men out of any round, low tin boxes, such as tea and candy come in, painting them cream and black. Enormous dice may be made of white oilcloth, stuffed and painted with black markings.

In this backgammon room your walls could be painted white with a footboard of black. Black window seats, built in around the wall, not only add extra sleeping space but a place to sit the games away. Bright red curtains of glazed red chintz would be piped in yellow rick-rack braid. The furniture of tables, chairs and smaller details could carry out the backgammon color scheme.

We know of one family who converted their cellar into a ship room. The walls, representing a deck, was painted gray. On one white wall they painted portholes and life preservers. The other walls were painted red sky blue with three white lines to look like the shiprail. Brightly striped deck games were featured. Or you could turn your cellar into an old tavern. The walls could be a mellowed tan, the beams in the ceiling stained of English oak, with other woodwork matching. There's a linoleum made to look like wide-planked, old-fashioned floors that would make an ideal floor covering. The furniture would consist mostly of rough, hewn benches, tables and a bar. Drinking jugs, lanterns and candles stuck in old bottles would add to the atmosphere. Carry out these details in creams, dull reds and bottle greens.

The man or woman who wants a quiet place to work at home can do it down in the cellar, away from the family activities. We can't think of a more restful, simple type of decoration for such a room than the old California Spanish mission style. The walls could be frescoed white, the floors and woodwork stained dull oak. The furniture could consist of an old Spanish chest, a desk, chair and daybed covered with a hand-woven Mexican blanket. Copies of old religious masterpieces, such as Leonardo da Vinci's Head of Christ and a few pieces of Mexican pottery or cactus plants would add just the right touch.

The children would love a playroom in the cellar. Both oilcloths and wallpapers come in delightful children's designs for the wall covering. We recommend an oilcloth with naive figures of cows, trees and other farm subjects in the gayest of colors. A strip of wallboard several feet wide running all around the wall could be painted dark blue and used by the children as a black board. Dark blue floors and woodwork, red furniture and white curtains piped in red and blue could complete the color scheme.

Vics At Port To-Night — Valentia Takes Contest

Vics Play First Of Series In Port Perry

In Lake Scugog Town To-night, Return Game Here On Saturday

HOPE FOR CROWDS

Winner Plays Markham At Home Monday; In Markham Wednesday

Tonight the Victorias take the trip to Port Perry for the first of the home-and-home series that is to decide who will be the second team to play Markham for senior honour: on Monday and Wednesday nights of next week. That Port Perry will was pretty much of a surprise in some respects on Monday night, but it might just have given the lakeshore team the spark necessary to spur them on to greater efforts. However if the Vics play the brand of hockey they displayed in their last start it will need more than a "spark" to beat them. On Monday they were playing at a machine and if they continue their style of play they should be hard to beat.

Local fans who would like to see them go, would be well repayed to take the trip to Port for a battle royal is promised when the Ports and the Vics take the ice. And remember there will be the second of the series here on Saturday "the night the ghost walks" which leaves no excuses for anyone to miss the game. And if the locals pull out to win on the series there will be a game on Monday here that has all the earmarks of the best contest of the year with Markham, Lindsay's strongest opponents so far, and that will be a game that none can afford to miss—if the Vics win over Port Perry. Tonight the locals will start with McClory in the net; Fever and Reeves on the defence; Mahaffy at centre; Williams and Rich on the wings; and Crafton, Dames and Porbert as the reserves.

With the actual schedule completed it should be of interest to local fans to note the final standing, the earmarks of the best contest of the year with Markham, Lindsay's strongest opponents so far, and that will be a game that none can afford to miss—if the Vics win over Port Perry. Tonight the locals will start with McClory in the net; Fever and Reeves on the defence; Mahaffy at centre; Williams and Rich on the wings; and Crafton, Dames and Porbert as the reserves.

With the actual schedule completed it should be of interest to local fans to note the final standing. The teams tied, Port Perry and Lindsay, have both won an equal number of games, and in goals scored are tied with 17, but Port Perry and Lindsay has had 13 goals scored against her Port Perry's net has been bulged 21 times.

Queen Street Takes Baptists Last Night

LAST NIGHT the third of the inter-church games was played when Queen street seniors took the measure of the Baptists by a 3 to 1 count in what was probably the most interesting game of the year. As the score would indicate the play was very close and featured by good work on the part of both goalies. The first period saw Baptists' goal come from the stick of S. Lodge, and then in the second Bill Hodgson scored both of Queen Street's counters. The teams were Baptists, goal T. Lodge, defence Porter and Dobbs; wings, Gaskell and C. Walton; centre S. Lodge, alternates, V. Wilton and C. Harris. Queen Street, goal T. Quibell; defence Quibell and Staples; wings Lamb and Hodgson; centre D. Lamb; alternates, Babcock, White and C. Hodgson. "Buffer" Reeves handled the belt and kept the boys playing hockey all the time.

QUEEN "B"s" GET 3-1 WIN

TURN TABLES ON STRONG BELLEVILLE SQUAD; SCORE FAIR INDICATION OF PLAY

KINGSTON, Jan. 22—Queen's senior "B" team scored a brilliant 3 to 1 victory over Belleville at the Harty Arena last night and evened up the series between the two teams. On the play Queen's deserved to win, and the score was a fair indication of the difference in the teams.

Queen's superior defence halted the visitors who had doubled the score on the Tricolor a week ago in Belleville, while Queen's forwards showed good finish to their work. Morris saved many certain goals, but on the whole the Tricolor had a slight margin.

A goalless first period produced terrific body-checking by the defence on both teams, while the goalers stopped any scoring. Belleville for the most part were shooting from outside the defence, while Queen's were breaking in on the wings to test Jeffery continually. Queen's scored on a brilliant play midway in the second period when Murphy made a sensational rush and at defense passed to Lee, who carried the puck in on Jeffery. The latter had no chance to save. Twice after that Queen's were beaten only by Jeffery's work. The Tricolor had much the better of the play, and constantly checked Belleville's fast forwards into submission.

Sailors Get 5-2 Reverse

Sea Flees Are Much Improved By Change; Played Better Hockey

TORONTO, Jan. 22—Making their final scheduled appearance of the series here, Port Colborne were handed the short end of a 5 to 2 count by Nationals at the Arena Gardens last night in an O.H.A. senior fixture, before a crowd estimated at 2,500. It was the first time this season the Ports have taken a beating in Toronto, Nationals accomplishing what Marlboros and University of Toronto seniors failed to do on the Sailor's previous visits.

It was a strenuous game which bristled for a number of penalties, but it was mighty pleasing to the fans and only the Port Colborne contingent kept Nationals in the senior group straight and tightened up the standings considerably. The Yachtsmen deserved the decision. They played the best hockey and in the last half of the game dominated the play considerably. They had more speed than their opponents, although their combination was not as smooth. They were also fully alive to the fact that their championship chances would be reduced to the vanishing point if they lost and they showed a determination and a backing spirit that would not be denied.

Nationals Improve Steadily

It was a fairly even contest until the final period. Nationals got the first goal five minutes after the initial face-off on a long shot by Marty Nagant, but Port Colborne got the equalizer shortly before the period ended. The visitors gained the lead early in the second period and looked to be headed for another victory. But Nationals improved steadily and from then on they looked the better team. Before the mid-way frame had ended, they netted two goals to give them a 3 to 2 margin going into the final frame and they added two more goals in that session to make it decisive.

Nationals presented a changed line-up. "Weiner" Lough, regular centre-man, was absent through illness, and Don Mercer replaced him. Rene Paul and Jimmy McMullen teamed with Mercer. The other forward line was composed of Frank Collins at centre, and Gerry Geal and Cammie Seagram on the wings. Mercer gave his best performance of the season, and Marlton looked much better at left- wing than he has in previous appearances on the opposite flank. However, there was an absence of collision in Nationals' combination attempts, and there was too much energy wasted in trying to beat the strong Port defence from the centre lane. When Nationals started passing to the wings, the Ports did not look near as good, and most of Nationals' scoring plays were achieved from attacks that swept in from the sides.

IN-TURNS AND OUTS

Activities of The Curling Club

All kees were used last night including number six, a rum off several of the scheduled games. The odd one was played at the nine o'clock draw.

Ice six is the best sheet in the rink as far as developing curling ability. It takes lots of hard thinking and planning to get a rock to stop on the sides of one of those hills. Then its even harder to try and get it off the slope.

Scott and Sadler played on the hills last night, and the former had the lay of the ice a little better than Tommie, which resulted in a 16 to 3 win for the C. P. R. man.

The best game of the evening was played on the three between Jenkins' kid rink and F. Bruce. At the completion of the end after the nine o'clock bell rang Perkins was leading by two shots.

As no one was waiting for the ice they decided to play the two extra ends to make up twelve.

It ought to be an easy guess to know who won out.

It happens nine times out of ten.

Bruce scored one on the eleventh and another on the twelfth to tie the game, but it was then nothing better than ever with a three on the thirteenth to put the game in the win column for himself.

Lindsay's representatives in the District competition for the Governor-General's prize held a practice yesterday afternoon. The Junior Tankard rink also had a work-out last evening and were given an old time trimming.

The district rinks will play as follows:

W. Bryson	W. Carlisle
G. Brooks,	R. F. Thomas
A. J. Woods	B. Langdon
B. Burke, sk.	J. E. Anderson, sk.

This afternoon the annual game between the Patron and President will take place.

Last evening two rinks went to Bobcaygeon to compete for the Potts-Nugent buttons. An account of the results will be given in tomorrow's columns.

That last statement might remind you of the familiar phrase "To be continued in the next issue."

EXCITING GAME

Oakwood Fought Hard, But Go Down To Second Place By Defeat

OAKWOOD, Jan. 22—(By Staff Correspondent)—Valentia increased their standing in the Big Five League to the local team here last night when they defeated Oakwood who was tied with them for second place. The final score after 20 minutes of overtime was 3-2.

There was somewhat of a larger crowd than usual to see the game and the fans were not disappointed. The game was one of the fastest seen here yet, and every minute was filled with surprises and breath-taking plays.

In the first period the play was about even, although Valentia predominated in shooting and kept Golden, the Oakwood Goalie, quite busy. Dames missed a rare opportunity for Oakwood on one of his charges, when he got through the defence and had Golden at one of his best, but failed to tally by inches.

Both teams checked hard continuously, and the period was featured by real clean hockey. Hicks of Oakwood drawing the only penalty

First Score

The break came in when Pogue for the Scugog men bulged the net on a beautiful solo rush. Twice it looked as though Valentia would score when the play became centred directly in front of the Oakwood goal, but each time, by luck and what not but each time Golden made a spectacular save.

Oakwood loosened up in the second period and got some shots in on Woods, but to no avail. Weldon became quite prominent with his solo endeavors and was always dangerous when he secured the rubber. The play became rougher and faster. Oakwood trying hard to tie the score and of course Valentia had an idea of their own about that and increased their pace when Mark secured the puck amid-ice and, after a little skirmishing notched up the second tally for the Southerners. Pogue left nothing to be desired on defense and was a hard worker throughout the entire game, while Gorrill for the locals gave the fans a great exhibition of effective checking. Back checks, side checks poke checks, and body checks all in a couple of new ones thrown in—he knew them all and used them. All throughout the entire session, Cameron and Gorrill received a 2 minute rain check from the ref. for the home team and O. Mark visited the penalty box for the visitors.

Third Period

The third session was a continuation of the second after a ten minute rest only more so. The boys stepped into the game with both feet, and the shady work became more prominent, in fact there were several visitors to the penalty box and at one time neither team could boast of more than three players between sides the boys minding the twine enclosures. Coombs kept the game well under control though and no body got away with anything.

Oakwood was then off the count-ter during a melee behind the net and Weldon scored on a pass out from Dames. When the "bell" sound; the green and white goalie was not wholly unpassable they opened up in real style and after grabbing the puck in one of these wind-do-nay-nail-ia, Dames slipped the second by the goalie.

Cameron's shooting was dangerous, but he was guarded pretty closely by Jack and did not get many chances to in effect his corner shot. There were only eight penalties, and it looked at one time as if the referee and the goalies would have the ice to themselves.

In Overtime

The first overtime period was moreless, although Gorrill for the Canadians went through the entire piece and drew the goalie out, and was checked severely before he could register. There was still enough life in the boys on both sides to keep the onlookers on their toes and several times it looked as though the puck just couldn't be kept out, but both goalies put up a wonderful exhibition and kept the puck in front of them. Hicks and Campbell were penalised for one of those crowding encounters quite often see, and where could off at the commencement of the second over-time period, which almost elapsed again with no score, but when McIntyre was off the ice

First United Seniors And Anglicans Tonight

—Lindsay, Jan. 22

TONIGHT THE FOURTH of the inter-church games will get under way when First United Church Seniors clash with St. Paul's seniors at the Lindsay Street Arena from 6.30 until 7.30 in their first scheduled meeting of the year's church league. Both teams are strong contenders and both will be pulling for a win. In their first start First United were blanked by St. Mary's 1-to-0 and in their first game the Anglicans put the Indian sign on St. Andrew's for a 5-to-0 win. So tonight's game should be quite interesting, and well worth the time of any fans who take it in.

Mark for Valentia scored from the blue line with less than a minute to go. It was an unexpected climax as Golden was in front of it but it slipped beyond somehow.

For Valentia, Campbell's checking and last but not least quite notable as that of Hicks on left wing. Pogue played a splendid game and Mark's shots were quite noticeable to say the least. Of the local boys Weldon's and Dames' rushes were a call to arms of the opposition. Gorrill's and Golden's checking left nothing to be desired: Golden played a wonderful game in the net, getting more shots by far than Woods. Although both made some wonderful saves. In short, all the boys were playing their best, and while some did not show up as brilliantly as others they were certainly working hard.

W.T.C.U. Talks About Liquor

An interesting program was presented to a goodly number of W.C.T.U. women yesterday afternoon. After the opening exercises and business was concluded some enlightening discussion about the drink traffic took place, as follows: "Young men and women who have the cocktail habit would do well to look around among their parents, old friends and visitors how they enjoy off. Brilliant men, in business, in the professions, are taken off in the prime of life, and then it is whispered afterwards that they took drink.

"No. It was drink took them. At first for a little while people take drink. Then it takes them. They need it and can't do without it, or succeed. They do not get drunk But they are wearing out some of the best organs, and one day the very dirt goes out. The disease is known.

"It is sometimes said that the liquor traffic provides employment.

"If the Government were to pension the people engaged in the liquor stores throughout Canada at full salary and at the same time could ensure to each the economic benefit anything about it. He has not refused to come out of his office, he said

Alderman Gordon Grant admitted that the relief money was nearly all spent, but said there would be an inquiry, as rumored.

"The Gringo Privateer"

By Peter B. Kyne

SYNOPSIS

Kenneth Burney, adventurer and one-time gentleman, comes to Bradley Bardin, King of the cattle country, for a job. Burney has had a fight with Martin Bruce a rival cattle owner who has been stealing the King's stock, aided by Miguel Gallegos a Mexican bandit. The King, liking young Burney, makes him general manager of the ranch on condition that he put Bruce and Gallegos out of the way.

Buriel Bardin, beautiful daughter of the king, is more interested in Burney than she cares to admit. She espouses her father and begs him not to let Burney risk his life.

But Burney's plans are made. After an encounter with Bruce, in which the cattle thief swears to kill him, young Burney prepares to leave for El Cajon Bonita where the rustlers have been operating. He is determined to shoot it out.

The King sees that his daughter is in love with Burney and tries to persuade the latter to give up his dangerous mission. But Burney insists on finishing his job.

CHAPTER 23

"You certain she's the sort of girl to make you happy, to make you a one-kerchief wife?" It seemed to Ken Burney that the king was personally solicitous. "Remember, son, the girls nowadays are a lot different from the sort of girls your father and I married. They're highfalutin, but they don't know it, because the whole damned world is rolling 'em high. They're high and mighty and disobedient and independent. They think man was made for their convenience, and the first little thing he does to inconvenience them, they get rid of him and all he has is a memory and alimony. Be sure you're right, my boy, before you take a step that may ruin your life."

"Thank you, sir. I realize the truth of what you say. The girl of my choice, however, has one advantage. She is a lady. She has a high intelligence, good health and beauty. The only drawback is that she is inclined to be dominating.

Ken Burney's convoy was lumbering down the road past the ho.se, and would rather have her own way than great riches. However, I expect to knock that out of her. There's only going to be one head to my house and that will be me. She'll do what I tell her to do or hell will pop."

"I'm not the sort of man to be twisted around a woman's finger by her tears and smiles and cooings," I have observed that the happiest marriages are those where the wife trembles when her husband comes home and gives three cheers when he leaves the house. An inflexible set of rules—fair, just and courteous —from the altar to the grave is my policy, and if my wife doesn't like that she can take her straw suitcase and her old tin trunk and go back to her former estate."

"You're so young and cocksure, Ken, I could weep for you. Well, I hope you get away with it. I never could. So you insist on going through with our contract, eh?"

"I'll quit if you insist; but I prefer not to. I need the reward and I must earn it, otherwise I may not accept it."

"How about forgetting you want to go into business for yourself and holding on to your present job?"

"Impossible. I promised Tom Bledsoe I'd quit and let him have his chance at it."

"Well, suppose I give you a nice job in the main office in San Francisco?"

"I should not accept it. I want to be able to go fishing or hunting when I want to."

"You really think you can pull off this contract you've entered into with me without getting yourself or any of my men hurt?"

"I'm certain I can."

"Well, then," the king agreed sadly, "run to it," and without further ado he returned to his house and sat on the verandah throughout the remainder of the day, staring gloomingly off into space. At dinner he raised his head suddenly and fixed upon the princess a penetrating glance.

"I've had a talk today with Burney and offered to throw up the deal to get rid of Bruce and Gallegos. I offered to pay him for the job anyhow. He declined and held me to my contract. Says he wants the money to go into business for himself and marry a girl he met a year ago. So I reckon that let's you out and puts my mind at ease."

The princess' face paled. She started at the king unbelievingly a half minute, then resumed her meal.

"Took it like a thoroughbred," her father mused. "Damn that crazy Ken Burney. If he wasn't a blind fool he'd know I could make him the finest father-in-law in the world. Poor child. Poor old sweetheart! Well, hard as it is on me, I'm glad I butchered that dream before it took concrete forms."

He sighed to take his daughter in his great arms and permit her to spatter his vest with the tears he knew were welling in her heart but which would never show in her eyes.

The princess did not sleep that night. At dawn she heard the exhaust of a number of motor trucks and ran to her bedroom window and looked out. Ken Burney's convoy was lumbering down the road past the house.

"Good-by, Ken," she called at the top of her voice. "Good-by and good luck!"

From the cabin of the leading truck an arm was waved at her; then the dim gray light swallowed them and the princess went back to bed—to weep at last—and hate herself for doing it.

At eight o'clock Ken Burney's convoy rolled into Huschita. He paused at the livery stable long enough to pay the board bill on Rowdy and the other three saddle horses he had left there the night of his meeting with Martin Bruce and Miguel Gallegos; then he loaded them in the rear horse truck and proceeded to the international boundary where he formally declined to the United States officers the six definitely identified motor trucks, thirty-two saddle horses with full equipment and two pack mules with pack saddles he had purposes taking into Mexico and bringing back into the United States within thirty days. From the Mexican authorities he received a formal permit of entry for these same properties and the members of his party.

Senor De Haro was at the Mexican customs house and greeted him warmly before entering his motor car with two officers of rurales and preceding the Double B convoy down the narrow, rutty dirt road that led to El Cajon Bonita. In order not to excite suspicion he speeded up and left the convoy miles behind.

In the heart of El Cajon Monita Burney called a halt and came toward him. "If our friend Miguel Gallegos is not approaching in yonder car," he told Tom Bledsoe, "I'm a Chinaman."

"Thee are not a Chinaman," the Quaker decided, as the motor car rolled out the road to permit the heavy trucks to go by them on the highway. In the front seat with his chauffeur sat Miguel Gallegos, he recognized Burney on the seat of the leading truck he ordered his chauffeur to halt the car; with hand upraised, palm forward, he signaled Burney to halt.

Meeting Of Women At St. Andrew's

THE PRESBYTERIAN W.M.S. OF THE LINDSAY PRESBYTERIAL HAD MUCH IMPORTANT BUSINESS

The annual meeting of the Presbyterian W.M.S. of Lindsay Presbyterian was held in St. Andrew's Church on Thursday with Miss Could presiding. Hymn No. 189 was sung, Mrs. McKay read the Scripture from 2nd Corinthians, 9th chapter, followed by prayer by the president. The minutes of the last annual meeting were read by the secretary, Mrs. Ross, of Beaverton, and adopted.

The reports given by the secretaries of the various organizations were read. In nearly every case most satisfactory improvement was noted, in membership as well as in givings.

The vice-presidents, Mrs. Drake, of Bolsover, and Mrs. G. A. Lucas, of Lindsay, reported visiting the auxiliaries allotted to them. The report of the corresponding secretary, Miss Wren, of Uxbridge, was most encouraging. The use and abuse of the expense fund was then discussed.

Declarations Include Immediate Action In Federal Old Age Pensions

NATIONAL IMPORTANCE

OTTAWA, Jan. 23—In all probability a deficit of $100,000,000 will be shown in Canada's national budget this year, but conditions are improving.

Radio broadcasting will be the subject of legislation at the next session of the Dominion Parliament; nationalization is being vigorously opposed and as vigorously supported

There will be no delay in establishing federal old age pensions, which will also be the subject of legislation at the forthcoming session.

Federal grants for technical education, cut off by the late Liberal Government, will be restored.

Exploitation of wage-earners in industries benefitted by the recent tariff revision is being investigated by Senator G. D. Robertson, Minister of Labor, following charges of wage-slashing in the shoe industry.

Unemployment insurance will be studied by an inter-governmental inquiry, the Prime Minister believing that employers, employees and the state should be contributing parties to any scheme considered.

The Lord's Day Act has been of incalculable value to Canada and shall not be repealed.

There, in substance, were the highlights of Laurentian declarations of fact and policy made by Rt. Hon. R. B. Bennet before two delegations here yesterday.

Labor and Commerce

The deputations thus addressed were from the Trades and Labor Congress of Canada and the Canadian Chamber of Commerce, both of which annually lay their views before the administration in advance of the opening of Parliament. The labor deputation was received in the morning and the Chamber of Commerce representatives in the afternoon.

Recommendations made by both deputations were seen by the prime minister as very much in line with the policy of his administration. He voiced his appreciation of the moderation of the labor proposals while to the Chamber of Commerce group he declared that they must rest based their memorandum on the Winnipeg platform of the Conservative party.

Other statements of policy made by the premier may be summarized as follows:

Appeals to the privy council. He repudiated the idea that these con-

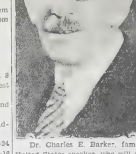
Famous Speaker To Pay Short Visit To Lindsay

Dr. Chas. E. Baker



Dr. Charles E. Barker, famous United States speaker, who will visit in Lindsay as the guest of the Lindsay Rotary Club, on February 4th, and give several public addresses.

Dr. Charles E. Barker Has Meeting Every Friday and Mother Should Hear

SPEAKS TO SCHOOLS

The man who kept the late William Howard Taft on the jump and on the job every day while he was President of the United States, Dr. Charles E. Barker, of Battle Creek, Mich., is due here on Wednesday, February 4th.

The Doctor is unique and any attempt to describe him is sure to omit much that should be said. He is a man of wide experience on the public platform, and his addresses are of such an amazing and inspiring character that all who have the opportunity, do so should hear him.

Dr. Barker makes no attempt at oratory, but he is a wonderfully interesting and electric speaker. He puts the "punch of a pile driver" into his words, and drives home with thrilling illustrations the truths he upholds. He quickly "gets" an audience and holds it, straight

Kiwanians Pick Their Next Year's Objective

Kiwanis Club Plans Busy Year And Sees Good Times Ahead For Lindsay

HELP INDUSTRIALLY

The birthday of Kiwanis International was celebrated by the Lindsay Kiwanis Club Thursday in conjunction with clubs throughout Canada and United States. The luncheon was largely attended by members and a number of guests were also present, including the speaker of the day, Mr. M. B. Tudhope, K.C., of Orillia. The first Club was organized in Detroit in 1915 and the Lindsay Club was formed nine years ago. The International membership now totals over 100,000, Lindsay Club having over fifty members.

Thursday's luncheon was a busy one, a number of matters coming up for discussion, chief of which was that introduced by Past President Tom Stinson, always one of the prime movers in the local Club. Kiwanian Stinson presented important objective to the Club, which was adopted, and which has been practically confirmed by the Executive, 1931 will be Industrial and Prosperity year for the Kiwanis Club and the Town of Lindsay in general. The key note of the Piccadilly Circus in February (Ladies' Night) will be that of prosperity, linked up with the industrial situation.

Help Draw Industries

As Kiwanian Stinson said in a brief speech, "The answer to Lindsay is talking about industries and that of Lindsay is to go ahead; the town must secure industries. If taxes are to be kept where they are, or lowered, then the Town must have a large population, and one way is to secure additional industrial activity and provide for additional employment."

Kiwanian Stinson proposed that the Club through the citizens of the town, raise $4,000.00 in 1931 to help Lindsay's industrial growth. While $4,000 has always been a leader in community thought and enterprise," said Mr. Stinson, and the proposition is this: "One of the main factories in town is that of the Industrial Silk Dyers Limited, of which Mr. Kenneth Fraser, K.C., is president. The flam has a proposition on hand to buy the Dickerson Dye Works, of Toronto and let the employment of 50 or 60 more employees. Lindsay had been asked to raise $10,000.00 stock towards the purchase

SCHOOL BOARD WILL INTERVIEW COUNCIL IN ORDER TO OBTAIN GRANT THAT IS WITH-HELD

FENELON FALLS, Jan. 23—(Staff Correspondence)—Mr. Kerr, insurance adjuster of Toronto, came to town yesterday and interviewed Mr. F. H. Magee re the insurance on his store and stock destroyed by the fire on Sunday. Not more than $100 worth of stock was saved, and that is unsalable, owing to damage by smoke.

It was thought at first that the account book would not be rescued but prompt actions accomplished it. The smoke was dense when Mr. Magee arrived on the scene, with the key and unlocked the door. Looking hastily, men formed a line headed by R. N. Mitchell and secured the book.

It is given out that $6,500 is the total amount of insurance carried, $2,000 on building, $4,000 on stock and $500.00 on fixtures etc.

Mr. Magee will rebuild in the very near future on the old site, and meanwhile will establish temporary business in the north end of Colborne Bros. Ford Dealers' block, formerly occupied by the late Mr. John Worthey, of Pontefract Park.

TWO MUNICIPAL BOARDS GIVE WELCOME TO PRESS

Two well-known and highly-respected exmayors, Mr. D. J. McLean, chairman of the Board of Water Commissioners, and Mr. B. L. McLean, chairman of the Board of Education, are very indignant at the allegation that their meetings are closed to the press, and they have asked The Post to state strongly that reporters and all rate-payers are welcome to come to all their meetings as they have no desire but to keep the public in touch with everything they do. The Post attends the Board of Education meetings regularly and has attended many of the Water Board meetings, always being welcomed by the members of both boards. Not only the chairmen but the members seem very anxious to help and they courteously explain any point in question. Some of the members of the Board of Education were together yesterday when they received a copy of The Post and read the copy of Mayor Alcorn's interview with The Toronto Telegram, and they asked that it be made plain that the press is always welcome at their meetings as they have absolutely nothing they wish to keep from the public.

Gives Optimistic Review Of Most-Trying Financial Period In Recent Years

NEEDS 'TEAM' PLAY

—By C. E. Weeks

(Appearing in the Financial number of The Monetary Times)

Nineteen Hundred and Thirty with all its haunts of grief has now passed into history, but it leaves behind it a host of unsolved problems and unhappy memories. It also brings in a rather inglorious close a decade of unparalleled achievements in the business and economic life of our country. This period began, as it ended, under a wave of financial depression but in between was a tidal tide of prosperity so great that it may truly be called the Golden Age of Canada's material progress and prosperity. As a result, therefore, the last ten years presents a picture of violent contrasts in light and shade in which the light so greatly predominates that the people of Canada have no excuse for anything but optimism in looking against the present world-wide depression. The greatest factor in human affairs is man, and a little bit of courage and team play on the part of our "men" will soon set things right.

In giving a brief survey of the progress made by the trust and loan companies of Ontario during these eventful years it will be interesting to see how far this progress reflects the growth and expansi on in the business of the country.

For the period 1921-1930 the increase in the foreign trade of Canada was from $1,958,000,000, the highest record prior to 1929, and 1922, to $2,629,000,000, representing a percentage increase of 34 per cent. This magnificent record gives to Canada the foremost place among the nations of the world in this phase of her development and growth. Any Company or institution that is able to produce as fine a record may has distinction in

Only One Committee Is Meant, He Tells Post

Says He Doesn't Want To Bar Press From All Meetings—Only Finance Committee

PRESS SEES MINUTES

In conversation with The Post yesterday re the interview he granted the Telegram's local correspondent, Mayor Sam Alcorn said that the account had been padded to some extent. Asked by The Post if he would care to state his stand on the question he submitted the following. In which, it will be noticed he says that he meant that the press would be barred from only one meeting instead of from all committee meetings as has been generally understood.

To the Editor, Lindsay Daily Post:

Sir,—Owing to the prominence you have given in your columns of the view you hold of the resolution passed by the Finance Committee of the Town Council recently, I ask you in fairness to give the same prominence to this letter.

The facts are briefly as follows—

1—The meetings of the Town Council are open fully to the public and to reporters, and there has been no change in this.

2—Resolutions of committees only effective as recommendations to the Council. The resolution to permit the Finance Committee to hold its meetings without representation of reporters was considered by the Council—Whether full information from teh minutes and items be given or not, however allow them to publish the viva voce proceedings. The Finance Committee recommend the former method.

3—In the past reporters were instructed to omit from their reports matters which the committee did not wish published, and were paid out of the Town funds. I do not approve of this method.

4—The public shall be fully informed of the proceedings of all committees. No member of the present Council would be in favour of any other course. No action of any kind has been taken with anything I said at the nomination or elsewhere, and in time the public will judge as to how I have served the Town. All I ask is fair play.

Snow On Road Ditches Truck

Treacherous Road Conditions Responsible for Accident; Considerable Damage to Vehicle

DRIVER SLIGHTLY INJURED

Treacherous wheeling for trucks with hard-packed snow causing the truck to skid, are largely blamed for an accident on the west side of the tractor trailers of the Smith Transport Co., driven by Harold Maunder, which was damaged to a considerable extent on the Oakwood Road near Taylor's Corners about 6.30 this morning. Only slight damage was done to the cargo which was mainly carboys of acid, but the driver suffered minor burns on the face and body from the flying acid. No serious damage was done to the truck and after it had been pulled back on the road by Arnold's tow truck could have proceeded to Lindsay under its own power, had it been serviced.

According to the story of the driver, he was proceeding toward Lindsay, nearing the end of his run, when the truck struck some treacherous hard-packed snow, causing the vehicle to skid across the road and into the left ditch. A call was sent in to town and the truck was brought in later in the morning. Damages to the tractor are dinged fender and cracked wind shield on the left hand side. The only damage to the trailer was the

1ST UNITED HAS ANNUAL MEETING

ANNUAL MEETING OF FIRST Church is Enthusiastic Affair—Favorable Reports Received From Societies

The Annual Meeting of the Congregation of First United Church, Lindsay, was held in the School Room on Wednesday, January 21st, at 8 p.m., the Minister Rev. Dr. T. E. Holling presiding. The attendance was large and most enthusiastic. The report of the Sunday membership indicated a total of 1012, including 48 received during the year. The attendance at public worship and communion, in spite of the serious inconvenience due to building operations had been well maintained. The special feature of the meeting was the report of the Building Committee presented by Mr. C. O. Prest, showing a total expenditure for building improvement to $38,000.00 of which more than $10,500.00 had already been paid.

The church treasurer, Mr. W. E. Reesor reported that with one single exception every branch of the Church showed increased givings and a grand total for the year of more than $31,000.00

The officers of the Women's Missionary Society, the Women's Association and all of the junior organizations presented splendid reports and the Superintendent of the Sunday School, Mr. W. G. Hall assured the Meeting that the increased accommodation provided would greatly assist this most important branch of the Church's work. Another special item consisted in the reading of a letter by Dr. H. Irvine

A goodly number was present on Wednesday evening in St. Andrew's Sunday School Hall for the annual business meeting of the congregation, which proved to be one of the most interesting, heartening and harmonious of many years.

After the opening devotions, led by the Minister, the meeting called upon Rev. J .C. Grier to occupy the chair. Thereafter, reports were received from the various auxiliaries of the church. These showed a splendid record of accomplishment in every department, and the meeting placed itself on record as being highly pleased with the work of each and all.

Conspicuous perhaps, in a year of financial stringency, was the more than clean sheet presented by the Board of Management, whose

Let The Council Decide

In last night's Post was an interview granted a Telegram correspondent by Mayor S. Alcorn on his attitude toward barring the press from town council committee meetings. In places, Mayor Alcorn say the account was "padded" and changed from the impression given in his fellow's chosen phrase in order. The Telegram, by a most correspondent number of wrong impressions, it might be best to explain these.

The motion taken to eliminate the indiscriminate publishing of contentious matters was, Mayor Alcorn is credited with saying, "to instruct the reporters what is and what is not to be published, which does not make for accuracy." As far as we know, this has been taken the custom, and certainly it hasn't been in force when we've been present. The Post is not an organ for boosting whatever propaganda the council thought want to give out. The Post is not an organ of the Town Council, it is the servant of the public. Reporters, of course, must use judgment in what they print or there would be endless trouble and untold damage. Things could be printed that would do no good and great damage. These must be eliminated, and to do this only a suggestion from a Councillor is needed.

The reference to the reporters' grant from the press and the possibility of its being cut out, is not an issue in the argument. The Post reporters have always given a generous service of the meetings, and it is merely a recognition of their appreciation the same as the honorarium granted the Mayor etc. should not make no difference. The Post's newspaper service given. It is his duty to provide newspapers with a clear story, when, what and how," and we wonder if he has carried out his instructions when he read such from the council meetings and minutes of the committee meetings. Mayor Alcorn is quoted in a current report to attending the committee meetings as only for those the questions discussed and reasons given. He has power to complete a story acceptable to the public and correct channels be seldom accurate.

Another thing that is an understandable misunderstanding is that the Board of Education and Water Board meetings are closed to the press. The motion. The regular meetings of the Board of Trustees are attended by The Post. The committee meetings, however, are not held at any set time. Then some special meetings are called at a few minutes notice and it is impossible to keep track of them. At the regular meetings all the matters to be considered before the K-W Kiwanians the other day stressed those two qualities as being essential to for the new year. We quoted figures to show the enviable position Canada holds in comparison with other countries.

That is the kind of information that ought to dispose the pessimism which has obsessed some people who by discontinuing normal buying add to the gravity of the situation. They ought to have unshaken faith in Canada's powers of recovery. As for abnormal business conditions, because there are facts and figures to prove that she is back to normal.

STATE BURIAL YET FOR CROMWELL?

The proposal that there should be a state burial in the Abbey of the remains of Oliver Cromwell, is made by "My Magazine," the monthly edited for children by Mr. Arthur Mee, in its Christmas number.

When Mr. Cromwell died, it is recalled, his embalmed body was laid in the Henry VII. Chapel in Westminster Abbey, where it remained till after the Restoration, when it was disinterred and hanged at Tyburn. The head was struck off and set up on Westminster Hall, the body was thrown into a pit at the foot of the gallows.

Tradition strongly asserts that the body was recovered, and now lies in a bricked-up vault at Newburgh Priory. This vault it is urged, should be opened. "The head, according to most impressive evidence, is now in the hands of Mr. Horace Wilkinson, who preserves it at Woodbridge, in Suffolk." It was blown from Westminster Hall in a storm, picked up and long concealed, and after strange vicissitudes, in the course of which it was exhibited for money, was given in 1815 to Mr. Wilkinson's great-grandfather.

The many eminent observers who have handled it are almost unanimous that it is the head of Cromwell. The authorities cited in the article include John Flaxman, Sir Joshua Reynolds, Frederic Harrison, Dean Stanley, Dr. S P. Gardiner, and Sir Herbert Howorth. "The facts that would warrant the act of reparation appear to be undoubted."

CANADA HOLDS ENVIABLE POSITION
(Kitchener Daily Record)

A contemporary said the other day that it takes more than hard work to make the agriculturalist who is engaged in mixed farming. The same thing may be said of Canada with regard to the depression. Canada has more wealth than the majority of other countries, because she is fundamentally sound even though she is affected considerably by economic ills. For this reason she is full of confidence for the future and are facing the abnormal times with courage and confidence.

Walter Somerville, manager of the Mutual Life Assurance Company, in an informative address delivered before the K-W Kiwanians the other day stressed those two qualities as being essential to for the new year. We quoted figures to show the enviable position Canada holds in comparison with other countries.

That is the kind of information that ought to dispose the pessimism which has obsessed some people who by discontinuing normal buying add to the gravity of the situation. Would Be A Reporter

The Prince of Wales has been around and he had a great deal to do with the press, so members of that hard-worked and little-thanked fraternity will be glad to know that were he not a prince he would like to be a reporter. As the Mail and Empire says:

"In a book of travels just published the Prince of Wales is quoted as saying that he would have chosen to be a newspaper man. He appears to have made this statement in response to a question as to what role he would like to have filled in life had he not been heir to the British throne. His exact words are said to have been "If I were not the Prince of Wales, there is one job I would delight to tackle—that of special correspondent to a newspaper. Going out after a story must be one of the finest jobs in the world.

"Newspapermen everywhere will be delighted to know that the most popular man of this generation feels that way towards their profession. That he would have made a successful journalist is indicated by the keen interest which he has always taken in all aspects of life. He evidently had the nose for news, which every good reporter must have. Nor is there any doubt that he could have written his story after he got it. His skill with the spoken word puts that matter beyond question. His never failing tact would have shown in his articles; and by the time he would have qualified for a major editorial position. But we are convinced that he would still have preferred the long range assignment, with all the possibilities of initiative and adventure which it offers. Nor can it be denied that the qualifications for journalism, which he possesses in marked degree, are useful in his present high post and will be useful in his future role as ruler of the Empire."

Newspapers Are Best

Experienced business men have always known the daily newspapers' form the best medium of advertising. Now the British radio and allied manufacturers come along to add their weight to the argument in favor of using the columns of their newspapers to sell goods. From an investment of $5,000,000 in newspaper advertising during 1930, dividends to the extent of $80,000,000 have been realized in the retail trade. The radio dealers have made an exhaustive study of the various methods of advertising and they have discovered the money spent in the newspapers brings far greater returns than cash paid out for advertising through other channels. When people get their newspaper they want to read them to learn the news, and they also never miss reading what the various manufacturers and merchants are offering the public.—Border Cities Star.

HEAT FOR COMMON COLDS

[illegible] common colds [illegible] rather than with [illegible] to understand.

Of course we know that more [illegible] are caused by [illegible] than any other [illegible] and heat is frequently used in the weekend owing to the overeating, under exercising, the break in the regular habits as to food and sleep. But nevertheless the chilling of the body by dampness and cold is the match that lights the fire of the common cold.

For the fire is all ready due to above faulty habits, but the match is the cold and dampness.

Why?

Because cold and dampness interfere with the protective forces of the body. Heat tends to drive away from a certain part, and the cold takes hold.

What then should be the remedy? [illegible] and to cure them [illegible] do attack you?

Aim at the cause with its wastes [illegible] heat to the part affected, nose, throat, chest, and [illegible] and heat to the entire body.

Two tireless engine fighters in your [illegible] Deep diaphoresis and rest.

Chilling by dampness [illegible] just at a time when [illegible] to be at your very best. [illegible] time to catch up [illegible] to your overtaxed and under-exercised body [illegible] and they fail to do [illegible] properly.

You have often noticed a baseball pitcher, a runner or an athlete covering his pitching arm, or in the case of a runner, he slips into with [illegible] trousers to keep the [illegible] warm. He will be kept warm. If the pitcher has the arm or the runner his legs when they are cold, there is often a strain, sprain, or even partial tearing of the muscles, tendons, or ligaments.

So keep your intestine clear and your body warm during cold damp weather.

Should you get a cold get heat to the body at once in any or every possible form; hot water bags, hot water bottles, hot drinks, hot baths, hot inhalations of Pryor's balsam, hot blankets and so forth. Heat to the body anywhere acts everywhere increases the circulation of the blood, and this increased circulation is your safeguard.

Despite all theories as to the cause of colds there is no disagreement as to the treatment.

The treatment is heat.

You have shown splendid judgment in the selection of Anthems and thus the music rendered by the choir has proven of untold benefit to the worship services of our church.

As a slight expression of the high esteem in which you are held by us, we ask you to accept this set of dishes, knowing that it in no way repays you for your services, but hoping that it may to some degree prove to you the sincere regard and appreciation of the entire congregation.

Signed in behalf of St. Paul's congregation

St. Andrew's Church Had Good Year

duty it is to finance the church. A snug balance was shown by them and the congregation was delighted that in a year of depression the church gave such substantial evidence of standing by the things that abide.

The membership of the church stands exactly as it was a year ago.

Four vacancies automatically occur in the membership of the Board of Management each year, and so fill these, the following were elected: Messrs. J. McCosh, J. W. Dovell, D. A. Sinclair and H. Brimacombe.

In the Kirk Session Letter, feeling reference was made to the illness of one of its members, Mr. A. T. Porter, and the hope cherished that he would soon be with them again.

The Bible Class (mixed) under the leadership of Mr. J. E. Anderson, K.C., showed signal success in life, and all departments of the Sunday School are well staffed and well attended.

During the year the Guild functioned successfully and revealed a variety of interests in which the young people centralize, as well as the fact of their being addressed during the year by many able speakers.

The efforts of the Talent Workers were rewarded by the netting of the sum of $1,112, for the year, while the several departments of work for which the E. M. S. are responsible raised $761.

Toward the close of the meeting, when the work of the year had been thoroughly reviewed, a resolution was passed with great unanimity in a standing vote, recording appreciation on the part of the congregation of all voluntary workers and expressing pleasure that the end of the year should have found St. Andrew's in such a healthy state in favour of a resolution, subsequently confirmed, recording deep satisfaction with the work of the minister, Rev. J. C. Grier, and trusted he would long be spared to labour among them.

The meeting was brought to a close with the singing of the long-metre Doxology and the pronouncing of the Benediction.

Famous Speaker To Pay Short Visit

through a talk of an hour.

For several years following his attendance upon President Taft, Dr. Barker made a study of Farmer's Economical public on health and other subjects. In 1910 he as stimulated the attention to the Rotary clubs at their annual convention with his great address on "A Father's Responsibility to His Son" that received so many calls from all quarters of Rotary to speak. Since then the Doctor has been devoting more and more of his time to Rotary clubs until now all of it is devoted to them.

During the more than ten years that Dr. Barker has been lecturing under the auspices of Rotary International, he has been engaged by more than 1,000 Rotary clubs; has delivered 3,700 addresses; has spoken to 2,500,000 High School students; 1,200,000 men have been heard his address to mothers, and 1,000,000 men have listened to his address on "A Father's Responsibility to His Son."

Dr. Barker will deliver an address to the high school students (boys and girls together) on "How to Make the Most Out of Life." He will deliver an address to women on "A Mother's Responsibility to Her Daughter," and one to men on "A Father's Responsibility to His Son." All mothers and fathers who desire to be of the highest service in helping their boys and girls to a better understanding of some of life's most important and serious problems should make a determined effort to hear the "Mother's and Father's" addresses respectively.

The entire expenses of Dr. Barker's visit is being borne by the Rotary Club. This is being done as a contribution to the welfare of the city. There will be no admission fee and no collection at any of the meetings.

BROCKVILLE, Ont., Jan. 23—Dr. E. J. P. Williams, coroner, has decided that an inquest is unnecessary in the case of Ernest J. Hanna, Killey township farmer, whose frozen body was discovered in a swamp following an assault upon his wife and children. Hanna shot himself. He had quarrelled with his wife over who should collect money owing him for wood sold in Smith's Falls.

Trust and Loan Co's Reviewed

ough, and yet for the same period the assets of the trust and loan companies of Ontario increased from $233,050,000, to $404,000,000— a percentage increase of over 73 per cent. Thus it will be seen that our trust and loan companies not only kept abreast of the country, but far outstripped her in the march of progress. In gross revenues the increase over the same period is even more marked in favor of our companies. For instance, Canada's gross revenue increased from $409,000,000, to $456,000,000, or a percentage increase of only 11 per cent., while the trust and loan companies increased their gross revenue from $17,611,000 to $23,806,000, a percentage increase of 46 per cent.

History In Estates

In the estates department, the trust companies of Ontario have been making history by the phenomenal record they have achieved for the period under review. The estates under their administration increased from $334,000,000 in 1921 to the enormous total of $1,627,000,000 at the end of 1929. This unique record proves two things: (1) increase in private fortunes, and (2) increase in confidence accordingly. Number two may be partly the result of number one, but is more likely and logical to be due to the growing appreciation of the advantages of company executorship.

Land Mortgages

The old reliable mortgage still holds its commanding place in the investment portfolio of the trust and loan companies. The steady decline in land values, especially farm land values, has made it necessary for the trust and loan companies to re-adjust their loaning policy on a more conservative basis. To meet the exigencies of this situation, but their belief in the inherent soundness and superiority of the land mortgage as an investment remains unshaken. And there is good reason for the faith that is in them, for the mortgage principle is behind every sound investment. Any industrial land is good only because it is a charge upon the property and physical assets of the company and then only to the extent these assets have sufficient value to secure and ultimately redeem the bond. The same is true of municipal and government bonds, for here too, the security rests upon the good credit as well as the good faith of the people. A dream can rise no higher than its source, and the source of credit, even in the case of a government bond, is not in the magic of the name, but in the resources of the people. The land mortgage, therefore, is one of the strong pillars on which the financial structure of the country rests, and it is through this medium the trust and loan companies make their own special contribution to the growth and development of the country. Generally, then, the land mortgage is the best of all securities, or in other words "There is no land on earth as good as the earth itself." The ultra conservative policy of the trust and loan companies resulting from the decline in land values has militated to some extent against the farmer in reducing his borrowing power and his facilities for developing his business. Where this policy results in hampering sound enterprise it is an evil, but where it has the effect of inducing greater economy and thrift, it is probably a blessing in disguise.

Blow To Agriculture

The outstanding feature of the year 1930 was the body blow given to agriculture through the drastic decline in price of all farm products. In the month of January the value of the farmer's wheat, oats, barley and everything he had to sell was cut in half, without any compensating advantages. It took about three times as much oats and barley to pay his taxes as the year before, and the same with everything he had to buy. Some adequate relief will have to be found for farmers' economic troubles, not in the slow processes of time, but right now, and the following among other reasons suggest themselves:

(1) Lightening his load of taxation—the municipal—being a small rent and the tax on everything he buys equally onerous.

(2) Reducing the cost of marketing between the goods he sells and the goods he buys, and

(3) Reducing the cost of marketing between the goods he sells and the goods he buys.

His very extremity may hasten the day of his opportunity, for the whole country is interested in his prosperity.

Amid the enveloping gloom, one of the bright spots of the year is the fine record of the trust and loan companies of Ontario, for while the year 1930 was not the year of the day progression is the achievement of these companies, as seen by their growth for the first nine months of the year, which has exceeded the average growth for the past decade. In this practical way the public has expressed its confidence in and put the seal of its approval upon the trust and loan companies of Ontario.

Kiwanians Pick Their Next Year's Objective

price, of which amount $6,000 had been secured. There is still $4,000 needed and I do not know of any better objective than that the Lindsay Kiwanis Club take on the job, backed by the citizens of the town. In this way the Club, and citizens generally, will have a helping hand in getting the town on its feet industrially. The dividends from the deed can be applied for hospital needs. An appeal of this kind should help greatly in boosting the Friendly Circus and will be helping in industrial development and that seems to be the coming need to-day, helping towards assisting unemployed and helping to lower the tax rate."

Past President B. L. McLean seconded the motion presented by Kiwanian Stinson, which was carried.

An Honorary Member

On motion of President Fulton M Kiwanian J. P. Ryley, who has been unable to attend meetings for some months past, was elevated to the position of an honorary member of the Club.

Past President Art. Allin referred to the transfer of Rev. Fr Kelly of Victoria Road (an honorary member of the Club) to Hastings and the hope that the Club will be extended to the member who will be greatly missed in this District.

It was also announced that next week's luncheon will be officially dispensed with, but that all members will be invited to join with the Rotary Club to hear an outstand n speaker in the person of Dr Barker, from International Rotary.

Kiwanian Jimmy Wood made an announcement concerning a Peterboro-Lindsay Kiwanis hockey game to be played in Peterboro on the 6th i

A cornet solo by Mr. Fountain Manager of the Elsmure Hotel was greatly enjoyed, as was the encore, which was accordingly rendered.

Flow of Eloquence

Kiwanian Dudhope's message to Kiwanis Ass. was largely one of forgetting for the time being all about worries of any kind and urging them to "Smile." His eloquence, his happy manner in portraying humorous and serious situations, his story of fish and game, hunting and hunting and fishing was, in a sense, a gem. For the time being business and professional men forgot their worries and enjoyed a spell of recreation.

It fell to the lot of Kiwanian R I. Moore to extend the vote of thanks to the speaker.

The luncheon was in charge of the Kiwanis Committee on Education; of which Rev. J. C. Grier, is Chairman. Kiwanian Grier occupied the chair in very able manner.

stituted a reflection on the status of Canada; they had nothing to do with business and were but the exercise of a privilege rather than in compliance with a restriction. The question of their abolition could not be disposed of without consultation with the provinces.

Calendar reform—He held there was nothing to be gained by talking about it, and dismissed the subject with the remark that a Government next century might want to add a seventh month to the year.

Cadet training—He disputed the contention that it promoted militaristic sentiment. Its purpose was to assist in the provision of police power, "the essence of civilization," and it was a good thing that the youth of the country should be trained to a conception of law and order and discipline.

Regarding a national fuel policy, the Prime Minister confessed that he sometimes despaired of any result from labors in that direction and wondered whether the difficulties of distance could ever be overcome. But the mines department, under Hon. W. A. Gordon was studying the problem.

Trade With China Difficult

He also saw great difficulties in the way of the development of trade with China. He said the delegation that Hon. H. H. Marler, Canadian minister to Japan, had been at Nanking and had returned to Tokio and the Government had received a cable report from him. The trade organization in the Orient was continuing the preparatory effort.

The meeting then adjourned for lunch.

A beautiful solo by Mrs. Howard Nesbitt, accompanied by Mrs. L. Wood was much appreciated.

The election of officers was next in order. There being only two to elect, Mrs. Armand, of Port Perry, to the office of 6th vice-president, and Mrs. Moore, of Lindsay, to the office of Supply, Mrs. Bond Secretary.

The speaker for the afternoon was Mrs. Sneddon, of Richmond Hill, in "Service and Stewardship." The address given by Mrs. Sneddon was most inspiring. Following this, some very helpful discussions took place.

Mrs. Kennedy, of Uxbridge, and Mrs. Ferguson, of Quaker Hill, moved a vote of thanks to each and all who had contributed to the pleasure and success of the meeting, which was brought to a close by the doxology and the repeating of "The Lord's Prayer."

The entertainment committee of the W.M.S. with Mrs. McGregor as convener, assisted by many of the members of the auxiliary served two delightful meals, luncheon and supper, which were appreciated by all who partook of them.

PETERBORO SQUAD WINS

PETERBORO H.C. KEEP PACE WITH ST. JOHN'S, GROUP LEADERS, BY BEATING LAKEFIELD.

PETERBORO, Jan. 23—Peterboro Hockey Club kept pace with the group-leading St. John's seniors by defeating Lakefield here last night in an O.H.A. junior battle, winning easily by 11 goals to 4. Lakefield were minus their goalkeeper, and Wingett, their defense star, put up a much better argument than the score would indicate. The game was timing by Foley in the Peterboro net robbing them of good chances.

Verne Bain, left wing for the winners, was the bright star of the engagement, figuring in nine of his team's eleven goals. The locals ran in three goals in the first few minutes, but Lakefield rallied and had a big share of the play for the balance of the period, which ended Peterboro 4, Lakefield 1. The winners came back with more goals in the second period and four more in the final dash. Lakefield being blanked in both sessions. Kennedy, White and Bennie were outstanding for Lakefield team, while Epps and Thirlwell, next to Dallin, were particularly effective for the Peterboro.

Lakefield—Goal, Pearman; defense, Northey and Gewirtz; centre, Epps; wings, Dallin; subs, Thirlwell, Bugler, Clark.

Referee—Walter Jackson, Peterboro.

Obituary

BETTY STOREY

The funeral of Betty Storey, beloved daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Storey, was held from the home of her parents, 20 Wolfe Street, on Friday afternoon last. The death of this little girl, who was three years and nine months old, took place on Monday after only a few days' illness.

Funeral services were conducted by Captain Barnes of the Salvation Army, and the pall bearers were W. Hall, M. Hall, C. Bowles, E. Montgommery, L. Green and G. Tompkins. Much sympathy was shown by friends and neighbors for the bereaved parents, who have asked that their thanks be expressed to those friends, to the nurses of the Ross Memorial Hospital and the doctors who attended their daughter.

The deceased girl is survived by her parents, three sisters, Jean, Ruby and Isabell, and one brother, Jack.

MARY GREENAWAY

At Woodville on December 12th there passed to her reward Mary Mallett, widow of the late Jeremiah Greenaway, a true mother in Israel, full of years and good works. In early youth she consecrated her life to her Master's service, and throughout a long and useful life she lived and labored in the spirit of this high resolve. From there and the Church she cherished above every other interest and institution, and upon them placed much of the wealth of her affection. She joined the Methodist Church at Little Britain while attending school there and soon became an active and prominent worker both in Church and Sunday-school. From there she moved to Eden in Marmora and later to a farm near Woodville where she spent the last thirty years of her life. In each new home she immediately identified herself with the local church and made her influence felt in the life and work of the Church and Community. To her always the fellowship and communion of the Christian people was one of earth's most precious joys and privileges. The last few years of her life she was an invalid and "abid in" from the activities of life and the services of the sanctuary, but she must have had her wish for room a sanctuary in which she herself and the many friends who came to visit her found joy and peace which the World could neither give nor take away. Her husband, the late Thomas Greenaway, died when their children were quite small and she was called upon suddenly to be both a father and a mother to her young family. This made a two-fold demand on her strength and devotion but she proved equal to the demand and her children all lived to minister to her comfort and happiness in the declining years and "to rise up and call her Blessed." The late Mrs. Greenaway was born in the Old Country and settled with her father and mother in Little Britain where she was only two years old. She received her education at the Little Britain School and the Lindsay High School. At the age of eighteen she became teacher of the fifth class at Ski-ing Marjoram. She was here while met her future husband, Thomas Greenaway, and upon their marriage settled first on a farm near Glenarm and later moved to the "Greenaway Farm" two south of Woodville. Left to mourn her loss are her daughters Nellie, May, Florence and Verna and her son Reuble.

Games Becoming Popular

Modern hostesses are leaving their parlors and all the parlor tricks of entertaining, and nowadays if a visitor is ushered down the back cellar stairs to enjoy an informal type of amusement. People are playing games again—not the ladylike kind but robust ones requiring keen minds and quick bodies. And what these games require when played is room to play them in the cellar, where there's no danger of upsetting lamps or furniture.

Ping pong, a table tennis, played by two or four people, is leading the list of popular cellar games. They played a form of it during the nineties and it has been popular ever since in Europe. American soldiers brought it here after the war and it grows in popularity each year.

Some people who don't want to spend the price of a ready-made table have made improvise on tops made from a large piece of wallboard, placing it on wooden horses or an old table. You can buy the net, ball and racket to use on this for very little.

If you have a ping pong table it's nice to have a squash board to set at one end of it. This is a miniature reproduction of a squash court, made to exactly fit the end of a ping pong table. You play it much like real squash.

For those with rooms too small for ping pong, "skibi" is recommended. It's played by two, four or six people on a table about four feet long. This game is somewhat like golf. Paddle are attached to the table to represent each of the football men. There's a ball, too, and when it is struck by one of the paddles you try to send it to the goal. The fewer people playing this game the more paddles there are to work and the more exciting it is.

The dart games are other cellar diversions. They are much like archery, only you don't use the bow to throw your darts and you stand much closer to the bull's eye.

"Puff billiards," one of the newest games, is played on a round board by three people. Each is given a funny little bellows-like contraption, with which to try to blow a cork ball away from landing in his hole.

No cellar game room would seem complete then days without some form of obstacle golf. You can get these games almost any time from a sporting goods dealer and to play on the table right on up.

"Horses," another favorite game, is played with a deck of cards, chips, a board and cardboard horses. And of course most people who play games all have a backgammon set by now.

Roulett- wheels and poker tables are other welcome additions to the game room.

If you like a strenuous type of fun all sorts of gymnasium equipment may be installed in the cellar. Punching bags, rowing machines, bicycle exercisers and the like. And the old deck games, quoits, deck tennis

Lindsay Vics And Port Perry Battle To Three-All Draw

Both Squads Evenly Matched All Through

Keenest of Competition As Teams Play For Right To Meet Markham

SMART HOCKEY

Evenly Matched From Goal Out; All Played Good Game

—BY J.W.M.
(Post Staff Reporter)

PORT PERRY, Jan. 23—After sixty minutes of the most thrilling brand of hockey served up before the local customers this year and played on the keenest ice of the season, the Lindsay Vics and the Port Perry left the ice with a three-all tie, in the final game of the home-and-home series to decide who will meet Markham in the section playoffs, played here in the senior loop last night. The house was jammed to capacity and those fans saw more than their money's worth as one team and then the other forged to the front and held their lead for a short time only to have the visitors retake it in turn. Every minute was packed with action and both teams were evenly matched all the way through. It was pretty hockey with three-man combinations breaking up time after time only to be split on the defence or rushed by the fleet goal keepers, both of whom played a alright games. "Army" Armstrong made a satisfactory official and had the game in hand all the time.

Goalies Good

Last night showed a Port Perry team more aggressive than any the Vics have faced this season. They were boring right in all the time and although one of the goals credited to them was scored by a lucky shot, they deserved attempting to clear, nevertheless on the evening's play as they were the equal or very near it of the blue and white clad team. Both goal-keepers "Cookie" McCleary for Lindsay, and "Bricky" DeShane,for Port Perry, were right on last night and were saving them from all angles. The three shots that beat DeShane were all combination efforts worked right up in front of the net and for the three that got in he handled plently safely that looked like sure counters.

McCleary in the Lindsay nets also played an alright game. That one goal from the scramble was a tough one and is in no way due to his work. The other two were shots by Jack Sleighholm, stocky Port centre man, who played two beautiful shots where they would do most good when he worked in on "Cookie" alone. But for these two he scored there were plenty of other times that Sleighholm did the same thing, only to be outguessed by the Lindsay custodian who was the only one he had to beat.

All Played Well

Both defences were strong with Fever and Reeves working nicely on defensive play, and always dangerous on rushes, netting one goal on a double effort. The other defence of Raines and Hall were also good although Hall marred his effectiveness by the number of minutes he spent cooling his heels and his head in the penalty box. The Lindsay forward line of Mantin, Ilitch and Williams was effective, but a little off color in their shooting, and then they were split for awhile when "Greeny" lost his force in the first period and got a cut over the ear in the third. The second line of Porbert, Crafton and Dames were working all the time and all of Dames' shots were right on the net and he accounted for one of Lindsay's tallies on a pass from "Buffer" Reeves. For the Port Perry forwards the Sleighthoim brothers, of Whitby, were the stand-outs boring in all the time and Jack Sleighholm, main man, got two beautiful goals on solo efforts.

Scoring Plays

In the first session there was no score although play was plenty fast enough. Then in the second just two minutes after the opening play Sleighholm came through all of Lindsay team, and though bodied off balance by Perer nevertheless got away a perfect shot which left McCleary no chance to save. Four minutes later a Lindsay attack was started when "Buffer" Reeves went down on a rush and into the corner from where he made a nice pass to Dames centre who got one of his and Dames slapped it in for Lindsay's first counter. Then a minute later the Vics were in front of the net a Lindsay player in attempting to clear although McCleary was looking after that all right, knocked the puck under counter in for Port Perry. Shortly before the period ended an all-centre goal came when Fever worked his way up on a beautiful rush and passed to Reeves, the other defenceman, the minute he had the Port Perry defence and "Buffer" sunk it for Lindsay's second goal. The third period started off fast with two minutes and the opening Buster" Martin notched one for Lindsay, from a scramble in front of the net. The period was three-quarters over before the next score came this time on another rush by Sleighholm which ended with a perfectly placed shot and the tying counter for Port Perry.

The Line-ups

On the teams were:

LINDSAY Vics—Goal N. McClory; defence, H. Fever, and E. Reeves; centre C. Martin, wings L. Williams, and C. Ilitch; alternates J. Crafton, J. Dames and R. Porbert.

PORT PERRY—Goal N. DeShane, defence, G. Raines and D. Hall; centre, J. Sleighholm; wings D. Sleighholm and L. MacGregor, alternates D. Dowson, F. Switzer and M. William.

Referee—A. W. Armstrong Oshawa.

No Score

Starting off in the first period it could be noticed that the ice was exceptionally keen and play was fast from the first face-off Shortly after the five minute mark had been passed both goalies got still busie on two real shots one by Raines at McClory and one by Rich at DeShane and both of them came through. The period ended scoreless although the individual rushes and the shots the goalies were called upon to stop came from all angles. Both

Talk of Post-Warder Game Going On Soon

WHILE Church League games have been held and O.H.A. games played the first of the Nightawks Loop is yet to go on. And from rumours heard about the book shop it will be between the Past Masters of the Post and the Wizards from the Warder. Last year many efforts were made to bring the two shops together in a congenial (?) atmosphere for a game of broomball. This year nearly all arrangements have been made to hold the game after shutting some night soon, with no holds or weapons with the exception of ice-helds and immunbawks barred. The contest promises to be productive of plenty of action if nothing else and the comedy element should also be strong as professional spectator. Linal announcement of the date will be made later, and in the meantime the squads are expected to keep in strict training for this event.

Lindsay forward lines worked in close for shots time after time but always they found DeShane in front of their efforts when they did let one go. The defence too had plenty of work to do this period looking after two and three man attacks as they swept down the ice. There was no score but plenty of good hockey was displayed.

Fast Period

To start off the second Lindsay went down fast but had tough luck on their shots and then to balance things Sleighholm got the Lindsay boys fans a few tense moments as they worked in on the net but McCleary managed to give the Lindsay defence time to get back and then was cool as the proverbial cucumber handling two and three-man attacks. But two minutes had elapsed when Sleighholm, centre man, came up and let a beauty go although bodied off balance by Fever, to score for Port Perry. Lindsay then missed a couple of almost sure goals and Sleighholm took the puck to work in on McCleary again, but "Cooler" came out and outguessed him. Then Lindsay's first goal came on Dames' shot from Reeves' pass. Shortly after in the scramble, a Lindsay player scored a goal for Port Perry while trying to clear and then the Fever-Reeves effort notted a goal to end the scoring. In this period Hall was very effective in breaking up combination attacks on the Port Perry citadel.

Third Is Even

In the big third play started fast and kept up fast all the way through Hall drew a penalty shortly after the opening and the Lindsay team swarmed around the net like bees. Then "Buster" Martin picked one up in a scramble in front of the net and slapped it home for Lindsay's third counter. Sleighholm came through with the period three-quarters ended and scored another beautiful goal. Just before this "Buffer" Reeves had scored one but was called back on offside. The frame was featured by the even playing, combination work of both teams and the number of brilliant saves both goalkeepers made.

Marathon By Niagara

Play And Defeat Welland and Grimsby In O.H.A. Junior Double Bill

NIAGARA FALLS, Jan. 23—Niagara Falls juniors successfully staged the first hockey marathon in history as the Arens here last night, when they defeated Welland, 9 to 1, in the first game of a double bill and swamped Grimsby by 14 to 0 in teh nightcap.

The doubleheader found Gene Fraser's youngsters tired and weary, but always holding a complete mastery of the situation. The twin victory gave the team six straight wins in the group, and assures them a place in the play-offs. Welland made a much better showing than expected, with Triano and Curtis starring Kaminsky and Smith were hot for the Falls.

The double event here tonight creates a precedent in the O.H.A., it being the first time that a team has won on two opposing teams in the same evening.

The Welland team provided the opening argument, and looked quite good in the first period, when they held the Falls to one counter. Weir was the scorer, with "Buck" Bowman's pass for the shot.

In the second stanza, the offensive of the locals began to click and they outscored the visitors to 4 to 1. The Falls markers in this section were scored by S. Bowman (2), Kaminsky and Smith, the latter also going to Esseltine and B. Bowman (2).

The Cataracts had it all their own way in the final period when they scored three and blanked the invaders.

Esseltine, Smith and B. Bowman, scored, while Smith and Weir gave assists.

The second episode, with Grimsby providing the opposition, with a complete walkover for the Falls, ending 14 to 0 in their favor. The locals could have scored many more goals had they taken ordinary chances instead of working right in on the goalkeeper for their openings. Combination plays of every description were successfully executed by the home team, and practically every goal scored was accompanied by a neat bit of passing. They scored three in the first period, six in the second and five in the third.

The scorer were Smith 5, Esseltine 3, B. Bowman 3, B. Bowman Mancuto, Kaminsky. Assists were given by: Kaminsky 5, Mancuso 2, Smith, B. Bowman, Kalfelfelder.

Oust Maroons In Fast Game At Montreal In Which Jackson And Primeau Shine

CHABOT GOOD

Thompson's Error Beats Bruins; Senators Blanked By Canucks; Hawks Swamp The Quakers

MONTREAL, Jan. 22—Toronto Maple Leafs hung a 4-2 defeat on the Montreal Maroons here last night in an exciting National Hockey League encounter that looked like another shut-out victory for the Leafs until the third period was half over and the Maroons woke up.

Their last-minute thrust with five men up the ice saved them from the ignomy of a whitewashing, but was too late to pull the fat out of the fire. Toronto swarmed over the Maroons all evening with a snap, short passing mode of attack that gave Kerr plenty of work and kept the Maroon squad floundering helplessly. It was an off night for Dunc Munro's Hearties. They missed passes and flipped the puck as though their sticks were greased. Time and time again, or were snapped up by crushing Leaf sharpshooters.

Jackson Stars

Jackson in particular was outstanding on the Leaf scoring. A couple of goals and threatening always. King Clancy served up a couple of his old time specials for the scoring punch. "Ace" Bailey was going good until he ran into the goal post and hurt his shoulder. Both Ace and Clancy's attacks of the Leafs worried the Maroons and netted the visitors a handsome victory.

It was "Babe" Siebert who saved the Maroons from a whitewashing. His goal lifted the Maroons out of slight after a quiet evening. Stewart and Smith played well while they were on, their poke-checking breaking up many a dangerous Toronto attack. It was a rough game, but few found their way to the penalty box. Only two players were carried through, and the bodying was noticeable. There were two flare-ups. Stewart and Primeau went to the mat fighting early in the first and were chased. In the third "Chuck" Conacher and Jimmie Ward struggled in a corner until Bert Corbeau sorted them out and sent them to the cooler.

First Period

1—Toronto, Colton (Bailey) 14.35

Penalties—Primeau, Stewart. H

Smith, C. Conacher, Jackson, Colton.

2—Toronto—Jackson (Primeau) 12.10

Penalties—Blair, C. Conacher

Third Period

3—Toronto, Jackson (Primeau) 1.10

4—Montreal, Siebert (Stewart) 12.30

5—Montreal, Smith (Ward-Northcott) 4.00

6—Toronto, C. Conacher (Primeau-Hendrie) 55

Penalties—Siebert 2, Colton, C. Conacher, Ward.

BLUES, SENATORS

OTTAWA, Jan. 23—Montreal's pace-setting Canadiens of the National Hockey League, Canadian section, continued in their winning stride with a 3—0 victory over Ottawa Senators here last night. The brilliance of George Hainsworth in the Canadien nets combined with the rugged combination of the Senators to send the cellar occupants down to defeat.

Without the dynamic force of the clarry Howie Morens, Canucks were matched rush for rush by the sterling Senators. Individually, the omeiters played fast tricky hockey but more than a hard shot was need ed to beat Hainsworth.

Larochelle gave the Montreaiers the lead in the opening period after Lepine and Ledue had set the other goals came in the final period. Leduc, and then Gagnon, recent habitant acquisition, doing the scoring.

Pete Lepine ably replaced the ailing Morenz at centre ice for the winners, and his backchecking was a factor in turning the Ottawans back without a score.

Campbell A Fatalist Now

"You Never Go Before Your Time" Says Daredevil British Racer

New York, Jan. 22—Captain Malcolm Campbell, soft-spoken British racing driver, and his slim, streamline machine, named for a bluebird, but more powerful than a thousand hawks, arrived in the United States, today for an assault on the world's automobile speed record.

Some time after Feb. 1 Captain Campbell will hurl his blue bullet along the sands of Daytonia Beach, Fla., at a speed he hopes will take him over a measured mile in less than 15 seconds.

The 1450 horsepower marmessed in the motor of his Bluebird II must carry him past the mile markers twice as that speed if he is to break the record of 231 miles an hour set on the same course in 1929 by the late Sir Harry Segrave, fellow-Briton.

Will he do it?

Captain Campbell himself would not say today on his arrival on the liner Homeric.

"I really don't know what my machine will do," he said. "I've had no opportunity to test it. The machine is so small and has no one can say they are going to break a record. The difference between Sir Henry's record of 231 miles an hour and 240 is only two-fifths of a second. That's not very much, you know. No I wouldn't want to say what my Bluebird will do."

And then he added: "My cars are tested for 300 miles an hour."

Captain Campbell was asked if he didn't hesitate sometimes because of

MAY CLOSE STORES

Fans Will Be Missing Contest Of Year If They Pass This Up

And the Vics came through again Not with a win that's true but with a tie in the face of a real strong team.

And what a game that should be here on Saturday night with two teams as evenly matched as these two are—starting on an even basis with the play-off with Markham the goal.

After the game in Port Perry last night, supporters are flocking to the Vics and Saturday night should see the old Lindsay Street Rink jammed to the doors. For it will be a game that will be a GAME when the Port Perry stalwarts attempt to beard the blue and white Vics in their own lair. That game in Port Perry last night had everything, brilliant net-minding, nice defensive work, and a fine bit of combination. And that's the way it's going to be again tomorrow night from the looks of things. The Port Perry team are a much stronger aggregation than the one which faced Lindsay at the first of the year and they aren't fooling—they are out to get into the play-offs with Markham and they are going to make a tough effort to do that little thing.

May Close Stores

However Lindsay will have a word in that matter, for sure, and if they make their votes the kind of hockey they played in Port Perry look fans will go home talking to themselves, and stay talking to themselves for hours after that contest. The locals have played all kinds of hockey this year, but they are to seem to have hit their stride on what better time than Saturday night could local fans ask to see them perform. The retail merchants association executive is leading the way in asking as many stores as possible can to close early to give their team a chance to see the contest. And it is expected that a good many short-loving merchants will be closing their shops and taking in the game Especially if they are behind the team enough to do that what will help the retail citizen from seeing the contest. And that no mistake it will be a game—one well-worth seeing. Tonight it is planned to hold a short work-out to get the boys rubbed out and tomorrow they should be ready for a real game.

Will Be Good

In the words of the old medicine fakers "Come One! Come All! You will not be disappointed with the same Saturday night.

cracking of the rear side wall on the van and some damage to the van too. Several of the bar-buys were smashed and it was from these that the driver sustained his injuries—he burns on face and body. All bad damages are covered by carge insurance

"The 1931 Pontiac ...Isn't it a Beauty?"

General Motors announces the new 1931 Pontiac.

Notwithstanding its new beauty, its refinements and its larger size, the 1931 Pontiac sells at lower prices. On seeing this car you will be cheered by the value which General Motors has made possible.

You will find a larger car with longer, roomier and more restful Bodies by Fisher. This added size makes possible more pleasing lines. A new V-shaped radiator with an in-built chromium-plated screen presents an unusually attractive front view.

New, graceful one-piece fenders carry useful and decorative parking lamps. Many mechanical refinements will make the 1931 Pontiac known for its riding ease, smoothness and quietness. For instance spring shackles are mounted in "Inlox" rubber bushings so that the body really rides on rubber. These bushings cannot squeak and they eliminate 12 points of bothersome chassis lubrication. Altogether there are 43 points of rubber insulation throughout the car.

There are many other mechanical features, including a new air silencer. Pistons are electroplated, assuring better lubrication and a closer fit. The frame has been greatly strengthened. Lovejoy hydraulic shock absorbers assure smooth riding. Five wire wheels are standard equipment at no extra cost on all models.

General Motors presents the 1931 Pontiac for your approval. We invite you to see it and to drive it. Purchase the new Pontiac on time payments through GMAC. Protect yourself with the liberal provisions of the General Motors Owner Service Policy.

With the scare tied at 1-1 in the middle of the third period and the Americans a man short on a penalty, Billy Burch made a dash from the blue line and Thompson misjudged it. The puck slid past his hand into the net for the deciding tally of the game.

"Happy" Emms started the American scoring when he broke away after the opening whistle, taking his man pass out from Burch to score. The A's held off the powerful Bruin attack until late in the second period when Dutch Galnor grabbed a loose puck and scored the tying goal.

QUAKERS TRIMMED
CHICAGO, Jan. 23—A wild-scoring splurge in the first six minutes of play in the final period, during which they scored in three goals, carried the Chicago Blackhawks to a 5 to 2 National League hockey victory over the Philadelphia Quakers last night.

The victory sent the Hawks to within one point of the Boston Bruins, leader in the American division, who were defeated by the New York Americans.

Because of remarkable goaltending by Wilf Cude, the teams finished the second period deadlocked at 1-all. Hec Kilrea scoring in the first period for the quakers and Johnny Gottselig rifling one in for the Hawks near the end of the second.

The Blackhawk offense clicked suddenly at the start of the final period, however, and the Quakers fell apart. Ingram, Gottselig and March scored a goal each within the first six minutes. Mills tallied on efor the Quakers later, but Wentworth sustained the Hawk lead by flipping one in just before the game ended.

Tonight's victory was the sixth in a row for the Hawks.

TRIBUTE TO THE BENGALS

TIGER FOOTBALL TEAM HOLD ANNUAL BANQUET; PLAYERS PRESENTED WITH HANDSOME GIFTS

HAMILTON, Jan. 23—Members of the Tiger football team, interprovincial champions and runners-up for the Dominion championship in 1930, found out last night that a game loser is just as popular, in Hamilton at least, as a club that goes on to win the highest laurels possible on the field. The occasion was the annual banquet of the football section of the Hamilton Amateur Athletic Club, and it was attended by some of Hamilton's leading citizens and followers of the club during the last campaign. Credit for the game stand they made in the last three games of the season was bestowed upon them by every speaker, and Stanley Jefferson, immediate Past President of the football section, presented each player with a gift. The six-year men, Captain Ken Walker, Brian Timmis, Ernie Cox, Bert Gibb, Alex Dodaro and Harold Eiford all received a silver tea service. Glen Small and Frank "Pep" Leadley who have been with the club for five years each, and "Cap" Pear, Jimmy Simpson, Ray Broadway, Timmy Langsay, Tom Chapple, Harold Wright and Jimmy Wright, three and four year men, also received silver. Baldwin Farmer Uses "Air-Taxi"

BALDWIN, Jan. 23—(Staff Correspondence)—Mr. Charles Bigler, local enterprising poultry farmer, who is also collector of taxes for Somerville and Baldwin in 1931, mount on business on Wednesday. Being detained past train time he remained with Thursday morning then journeyed to Penetan Falls.

Finding an aeroplane there with a bit of spare time, he had the pilot bring him to his home here by "airtaxi" as it were. Landing and take off were safely negotiated. The aeroplane was piloted again later in the afternoon flying north east from Penetan Falls.

"Gringo Privateer"

By Peter B. Kyne

SYNOPSIS

Kenneth Burney, adventurer and one-time gentleman, came to Bradley Burdin, King of the cattle country, for a job. Burney has had a fight with Martin Bruce a rival cattle owner who has been stealing the King's stock, aided by Miguel Gallegos, a Mexican bandit. The King liking young Burney makes him general manager of the ranch on condition that he put Bruce and Gallegos out of the way.

Muriel Burdin, beautiful daughter of the King, is far more interested in Burney than she cares to admit. She opposes her father and begs him not to let Burney risk his life.

But Burney's plans are made. After an encounter with Bruce, in which the cattle thief swears to kill for El Cajon Bonita where the rustlers, young Burney prepare to leave. lers have been operating. He is determined to shoot it out.

The King sees that his daughter is in love with Burney and tries to persuade the latter to give up his dangerous mission. But Burney insists on finishing his job. At El Cajon Bonita he meets Gallegos the Mexican Bandit.

CHAPTER 21

"Hello, Miguel, you great big lovely knockout," Burney saluted his enemy, as the truck halted. "How's everything over at Los Cinos, where you hole up?"

Not quite as fine as I should like it, Senor Burney," Gallegos replied smilingly. "I thought you told me you would give me ample notice of the date of your arrival, in force, in El Cajon Bonita. Is this one of your Yankee tricks?"

"Not at all, my dear bandit, not at all. I told you I'd give you notice of the day I was due in El Cajon to argue with you your assumption of proprietary rights in the land and cattle owned by the Bardin Land and Cattle Company. This isn't my day for arguing. This isn't my day. I am not quite ready."

"Still, like all gringos, you are not afraid to take a chance, no?"

"You read me like a paper. But I'm not looking for a fight today, Gallegos. In military language, I'm merely making a reconnaissance."

"You are a very astute young man, Burney. I have for you a great admiration. It is too bad you are so heedstrong."

He lifted his sombrero courteously and drove on and Burney's convoy continued on up the valley to a spot which he had, on his first lone trip into El Cajon Bonita, selected because of its natural advantages for defensive warfare. To the north the encircling hills, rocky and covered with a scrubby growth of pinion pine, cedar and giant cactus, converged to a pass perhaps two hundred yards wide, and through this pass a trail led to an arid plain beyond—a plain that stretched to the international boundary.

About a thousand yards south of this pass a barranca ran east and west, for three-quarters the width of the valley which at this point was about a mile wide. South of this barranca the valley commenced to widen and stretched away for miles in an unobstructed view. Due to the rocky nature of the surrounding hills and the impassability of the growth on them, a flank attack was so remote as to be scarcely considered. An attack from the south would have to be across open and level terrain, entailing terrific losses under the calm and accurate rifle fire of the El Ranchito cowboys, while the same fire concentrated at the mouth of the narrow pass where the enemy would necessarily be bunched when emerging, in the event of an attack from the north would be equally murderous.

Even if the enemy succeeded in emerging intact he still had a thousand yards of open country to cover before getting to close quarters with Burney's men ensconced in the barranca, a natural trench. Burney believed he could best off very handily an attack in considerable force from either direction and thus have open to him two avenues of retreat.

At this order his men picked their way down the banks of the barranca at a shallow spot and the trucks crossed, turned at right angles and came north bank of the Barranca. Then parked at intervals, along the edge the stock was unloaded by means of a ramp, led down into the barranca and made to stand, in bunches of six, a truck forming excellent protection for each bunch in the event of an attack from the south, in force—an attack that might not be repulsed—the animals could be mounted and screened by the trucks, a retreat could be made through the pass to the north. Should a party of the enemy be encountered in the pass Burney depended upon a spirited pistol charge to disperse it. At any rate the enemy would have no advantage in choice of ground, and a meeting engagement, Ken Burney knew, is usually won by the side that exhibits neither surprise nor consternation but charges instantly, regardless of the odds.

The battle ground was far from being an advantageous as he could wish, but it was the best to be had and in such circumstance a good soldier never grumbles.

A few minutes after their arrival they were joined by Senor De Haro, his chauffeur and the two officers of rurales. In the tonneau of his car the Jefe politico had two machine guns, with ammunition for each, and while the El Ranchito men were packing the guns and ammunition on the pack mules, Burney and the jefe politico mounted and rode off to the base of the range of hills directly east. Here Burney located a secret nest for the gun. It was well screened by the scrubby growth but offered a clear sweep down the barranca to the west, as well as commanding likewise the open country both north and south.

A pack mule arrived presently and a gun, still boxed, and a supply of ammunition was cached there.

Across the valley Senor De Haro and Burney rode to the western flank where they established another machine gun nest. Then Burney made two neat and accurate pencil sketches of both gun positions, designating distinguishing landmarks and gave both sketches to the jefe politico, who, after studying them, decided that any fool with their aid would have no difficulty discovering the hidden guns.

Meanwhile the cook had prepared the mid-day meal at the chuck wagon and when the men had eaten Burney and the jefe politico went to the pass and another far down the valley with instructions to ride back and give warning of the approach of any hostile party. Then, leaving Tom Bledsoe in charge of the garrison, he, with Senor De Haro and six men, rode out into El Cajon, seeking the calves Burney had photographed on his first trip. As fast as these were found and identified by the photographs, the men roped and hog-tied the animals, while Burney and the jefe politico examined them for brands, earmarks and twenty-five cent pieces under the hide of the inner side of the left front leg.

After locating twelve twenty-five cent pieces on calves with a split tongues, each calf bearing the brand and earmark of Martin Bruce, Senor De Haro decided he had secured sufficient proof for his purposes, and the party returned to the camp.

"The evidence is sufficient to convict that fellow Bruce in any court in Mexico," Senor De Haro assured Burney. "The first time he crosses the international boundary, we will endeavor to stop this illegal practice. There is nothing, however, to connect Miguel Gallegos with these cattle thefts. We must catch him in the act, and he is a sly fellow. He sends others to do his dirty work."

"We'll catch the others and perhaps they will confess. However, before that happens, I have a suspicion Miguel Gallegos will convict and punish himself. He will call upon me tomorrow—or, forenoon. However, do not worry. I can handle a force of five hundred if necessary. I will keep my horse secreted in mesquite on top of yonder hill, and if it seems we may be overcome, your excellency can crawl down the barranca to the hill, mount, be in Huecita in two, three hours later. A demonstration in his rear will drive Gallegos off and I can hold him indefinitely. However, I do not think there will be any fighting tomorrow."

"You expect, however, to receive a definite ultimatum, Senior Burney?"

"I do."

"I will wait here and listen to it."

Always cautious, Burney put out a line of outposts that night, relieving them at two-hour intervals. At nine o'clock next morning a lookout on the hill to the east reported a cloud of dust advancing from the direction of Los Cinos within half an hour it revealed some two hundred mounted men, who came steadily up the valley, halted a mile away, and fanned out into a skirmish line, thus bottling the men of El Ranchito in El Cajon Bonita.

Presently, from the waiting column a man galloped out. Waving a white handkerchief he rode straight to the Burney camp and pulled up at the edge of the arroyo, over the brush, and as many rifles. The man was Miguel Gallegos and Ken Burney stood in the open, awaiting him.

"I have called, as I promised I would, Senor Burney," Gallegos announced pompously.

"What for, then?" Burney spoke in purest Spanish; in his use of the solemn style he was enabled to express the most withering contempt for Gallegos.

"To bid thee begone, animal, before I overwhelm thee and leave thy bones and those of thy men for the coyotes to gnaw."

"Bregarti! By what authority do you bid me withdraw. Is not El Cajon Bonita the legal property of my employer? Has he not a deed to it, duly recorded? And are not these cattle his, even though I observe that the brand of Martin Bruce is as prevalent as that of the Double Cross?

"I know nothing of Martin Bruce and his brand. I am not interested. But it is a fact that everywhere the gringo has acquired the lands of the people by debauching the public servants of Mexico. The people now I, as the defender of those rights, declare the title of El Cajon Bonita to be invalid, having been obtained in fraud. I do declare this land which your Senor Bardin claims forfeit to the people together with all cattle thereon, and warn you that if you persist in presenting your claim contrary to that of the citizens of Mexico, I, Miguel Gallegos, will destroy you."

"But this isn't my day to be destroyed, thou monkey. Nor is it they day to attempt the destruction."

"I destroy when I will," Gallegos replied grandly.

"And today is the day?"

Gallegos nooned. "Today is the day."

"Very well. Get back to your men and tell 'em one short act of fight a bandit can put up. I had completed the business that brought me here. I came to brand our calves, but Martin Bruce has already run his iron on them, so there doesn't appear to be any work for my men to do. However, since a fight we must have sooner or later, I prefer it now, because I'm ready for it. Fly at it, Mike. Go, and quickly, centre presses forward his flanks thief, murderer, braggart!"

This last speech Burney made in English, for the benefit of his men. Miguel Gallegos promptly turned his horse and galloped back to his force which Tom Bledsoe had been counting through a field glass.

"How many Tom?" Burney called.

"Two hundred and ten, all mounted."

"Why, this is just going to be old home week for us, Tom." Then to his men: "we have here three officers of the Mexican government who will witness that, in the pursuit of our legal business, we were attacked by this bandit and defended ourselves. Fan out along the barranca, men, and leave plenty of room for bullets to pass between files. Get good firing positions, with as much shelter as possible. Fire from under low bushes you find along the bank, and when they advance within range I will give the order to commence firing. Each man will repeat the order and relay it. You will fire at will and don't be in a hurry.

"Pick your target carefully. Don't try for the riders. Topple the horses and pay particular attention to the flank riders. Gallegos will throw out a long thin line and, while his

Would Unite Canadian Telegraph Systems with English

Sir Basil Blackett, chairman of the Great British merger of Imperial and Industrial Communications, Limited, has been in Canada for some weeks presenting a proposal to the Canadian Premier which would unite the two Canadian systems, C. N. R. and C. P. R. with the British merger. By this merger the Canadian National Telegraphs and the Canadian Pacific telegraphs would become partners with the Imperial and International Communications Limited in forming a Canadian overseas communication company, which would also include the Canadian Marconi system. Presbytery Acts Against Churches

Church Doors Are Locked so Meeting is Held in Nearby Outbuilding

IN LANARK COUNTY

BROCKVILLE Jan. 24—Because the congregations of Lockwinnoch and Stewartville, in Lanark county, have persistently violated the established laws of Presbyterian Church, thereby placing themselves outside the jurisdiction of the church and presbytery," the presbytery of Lanark and Renfrew has temporarily suspended and also notified the W. M. S. Presbyterial that delegates from the said congregations are ineligible to send delegates to its meetings.

Some weeks ago the presbytery appointed a commission composed of Rev. Dr. B. McLeod, and John F. Perrier, of Perth; Rev. K. McNeil, Bill, of McDonald's Corners, and Rev. Dr. Davies of Smith's Falls, to hold a joint meeting of the members of Lockwinnoch, Stewartville and Dewars to consider whether the congregation desired to remain a part of the Presbyterian Church or withdraw it preferred to become "independent and congregational."

It is stated that when the commissioners proceeded to Lockwinnoch to hold this joint meeting they found the doors bolted and that the delegation from Dewars, were obliged to hold their deliberations in a nearby outbuilding.

In a resolution now adopted, the Presbyterery finds that the congregations of Lockwinnoch and Stewardville have failed in their loyalty outside of the bounds of the Presbytery by retaining the services of D. M. Kerr; and that it will be pleased to furnish them with ordinances again as soon as the congregation notifies his services.

The trouble is understood to have arisen ove rthe qualifications demanded of Mr. Kerr by the presbytery. Mr. Kerr has been a minister of the congregation for some time, having come originally from Ireland.

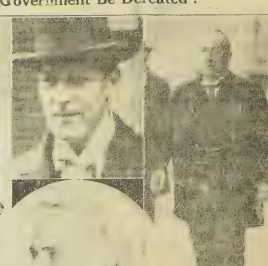
Two-Way Trouble Is Looming Up For MacDonald House

(Canadian Press Cable)

—London, Eng., Jan. 24

THE MacDONALD Government is facing two-way trouble. The division on the second reading of Trades Disputes Bill now scheduled for eleven o'clock, Wednesday, will be critical. The prediction is common that if the Government is defeated, it will ask for the dissolution of Parliament. Within own ranks too the Government is finding difficulties. The group lead by Sir Oswald Mosley continues to press for a conference on unemployment. A special meeting of parliamentary Labor Party has been called for Tuesday to discuss it.

Will Labor Government Be Defeated?



The long-heralded fight over the British House of Commons. With the second reading of this trade dis putes will has commenced in the majority of the Liberals abstain ing, a government defeat is not expected, but the ruling is expected t o be very close, and the bill will probably have a rough ride in committees. Above are four of the principal figures in this heated de bate. Left: Sir John Simon, prominent Liberal, who will vote again st the Government with a small b and of Liberals; centre, top and bottom Sir William Jowitt, Attorney-General of Great Britain, who moved the second reading of the bill; and Ramsay MacDonald, British Prime Minister, who is seriously h arassed by attacks from Right Hon. Stanley Baldwin (right) Conservative Leader.

CANADA TRIP PLACES MAN IN HOSPITAL

ATTEMPT TO CROSS CANADA IN MOTOR CAR PROVES TOO MUCH FOR HARDY DRIVER.

MONTREAL Jan. 24—His health impaired by his long battle with the elements in an effort to drive his McLaughlin-Buick roadster through the Northern Ontario back country in the dead of Winter, Healy F. Needham returned to Montreal yesterday and will undergo medical treatment. His car is at the Mud River, near the head of Lake Nipigon, and will remain there through to-Vancouver journey, the first ever attempted, as soon as a new driver reaches the scene. Gus McManus, who accompanied Needham to Hearst, will continue the expedition with the new driver.

For months under all kinds of hardships, Needham has been slowly but steadily advancing westward from Hearst, the weather being adverse almost all the time. Autumn rains were followed by severe Winter conditions, and as he went down the Mud River toward Lake Nipigon the thermometer was at 45 below. Needham was suffering from a cracked rib and while he was working to free the car from mud he suffered a perforated ulcer, pleural symptoms which forced him to relinquish command and return here for medical attention.

A dash over the 80-mile surface of Lake Nipigo would make short work of the next leg of the trip, but the difficulty of getting supplies to the lake has been enormous and the present impasse has temporarily ended progress. It is understood the car may have to retrace its route to Nakina and a start made from there again. It is hoped to reach Port Arthur this month if the new route is found practicable.

A. Horn Recalls Barring Of Press 30 Years Ago

Caused Great Excitement at the Time But Men are All Dead Now

LOOKS INTO FUTURE

Sees S. Alcorn Dead, Young Councillors Granddaddies And Reporters With Large Families

Dear Editor:

Your editorial in last Evening's Post referring to the precedent made by the Town Council about thirty years ago reminded me of when the Council of that year passed a motion to exclude the reporters from the Committee Meetings. The Council men (not Aldermen in those days) represented the town from different wards. If my memory serves me rightly, there were two Councillors from the East Ward, the late Captain Crandell and A. D. Marrow, from the South Ward, Dr. Burrows, W. M. Robson, Robt. Smyth from the North Ward, Geo. Ingle, R. Touchburn, and the writer. I think the Mayor was the late J. H. Scott-egan, and the reporters H. McNully for the Post, and Albert Mallett for the Watchman, all deceased, and one reporter for the Warder. There were three Reeves as well making twelve in all. Having spent sixteen years in the Council and Board of Health, and speaking from memory the names may not be exactly in order for this particular year.

It was customary for the Councillors while in Committee to disrobe and sit around their desks. At the regular Council meetings, partly for the purpose of bringing out all sides of the questions under consideration, Both reporters were writers of ability, and they certainly got a great kick by writing up the proceedings of the meetings in humorous style that made interesting reading, but sometimes the Committee thought they carried it too far, and the members objected to being ridiculed for the amusement of the subscribers. Matters reached a climax when information that

Five Toronto Men Arrested In Town Treated Leniently

—Lindsay, Jan. 24

THE FIVE YOUNG MEN who were arrested by Night Constable Alfred Hodgson at three o'clock one morning recently, while pinching a load of distillery warehouse, came up in police court in Toronto yesterday on the charge of stealing a car. They were let out on probation when the court considered the affair merely an impromptu "Joy-ride" staged by irresponsible youths.

GIVEN THREE MONTHS

SUDBURY, Jan. 24—Pleading guilty to a charge involving a girl under the age of 14 years, Edward Lesperance yesterday afternoon was sentenced to three months determinate and three months indeterminate by Judge F. Proulx. John Wilson, charged with aiding and abetting the offence was discharged when the Crown produced insufficient evidence.

The earliest complete clock of which an accurate record exists was made in the 13th century by a Saracen mechanic.

To Better Service On Local Line

Asks Gas-Electric Service on Lindsay-Whitby Line; Too Many Hills, it is Said

WOULDN'T BE BETTER

Word comes from Whitby that the Lindsay-Whitby G.N.R. service is to be bettered through the use of gas-electric cars, but this rumor will not be received with any great warmth here, it is thought, some local railway men think that gas-electric equipment would not make any great improvement as there is too much of a grade between here and Whitby. Some difficulty is experienced with the present engine running between here and Bellaville, they say, and the hills on that line are insignificant compared to some of those encountered between here and Whitby.

WHITBY, Jan. 24—According to Samuel Jeffrey, of Port Perry, who took a leading part in the agitation of his village for a continuance of the present service of the Whitby-Lindsay branch of the Canadian National, and who accompanied Dr. Kaiser, of Oshawa, and Fred Bowen M.P., for Durham, to Ottawa last week, a move is on foot not only to continue the present train but to improve the schedule. Gas-electric cars may be suggested.

It was pointed out that it was made clear to the railway board when it held a session in Whitby some months ago, that the equipment on this branch of the G.N.R. is old and the road bed, it is said, is in need of ballasting. It is contended by those who use the line that an improvement in the equipment and road bed, and a speeding up of the train would result in a larger patronage by the public notwithstanding the buses.

Crack Safe

Safe-Crackers Swoop Down On London, Ont., Robbing Two Coal Companies' Offices.

ESCAPE WITH $300

LONDON, Ont., Jan. 24—Safe-crackers working under the cover of darkness swooped down on the offices of two local coal offices last night, and after blowing safes with nitro-glycerine, escaped with about $300 in cash and checks. Last night's robberies mark the third within a few weeks when London offices have been visited by yeggmen. The safes, which were of medium size, were completely shattered by the explosives. Soup was spattered about the rooms and the interior was ransacked.

TWEED FAIR BOARD

BELLEVILLE, Jan. 24th.—The Tweed Fair Board met on Saturday and elected officers as follows: President T. S. McCrea, vice-presidents E. Bryans and W. McDonagh; secretary-treasurer, C. R. Brown, treasurer, J. W. Kingston.

His Lordship Bishop Lucas Will Pay a Visit To Whitby

Memorial Pulpit To Honor Memory of Family, Will Be Dedicated in Whitby

THE HOWDEN FAMILY

Whitby, Jan. 24—At a confirmation service to be held in St. John's Anglican Church, Port Whitby, on Wednesday evening, January 28th, His Lordship Bishop Lucas presiding, there will be dedicated a memorial pulpit to the glory of God and in memory of Mr. and Mrs. John Howden. The new chancel floor will also be dedicated by the Bishop.

Mr. and Mrs. John Howden were for many years highly esteemed residents of Whitby. Mr. Howden being postmaster for a long time. The Howdens were also well known in Brooklin, to which they retired after leaving Whitby.

St. John's Church, one of the most historical in this country, is a temple of many memories, all of the windows perpetuating the memory of local pioneers. The pulpit and chancel to be dedicated are valuable additions.

Plans for the confirmation and dedication service are in the hands of the rector and wardens.

Fifteen Years Ago Today

(From The Post Thursday) January 24, 1916

Reeve J. Robertson, of Ops. was elected warden of the county at the first session of the council.

In answer to an address given here by a minister, an open letter was written to the Post saying—"You said you knew that you had a soul and your soul was immortal. If you will debate this question on a public platform and prove your statement by the Bible, I will donate the sum of one hundred dollars to your cause."

R. E. Thurston has been elected President of the Bobcaygeon Board. R. T. Robertson is vice-president and William Hickson secretary treasurer.

Miss Margaret Martin has left for Donald's Corners, Lanark, where she is engaged as a teacher.

Mr. Tony Bakogeorge has received a letter from Fraser Mann, who enjoyed Christmas at the front, gut thinks he will have a lot to make up for as he misses "hockey and skating at the old rink and coffe, sodas at your place." He expresses more distate for the rats and rain than anything else in the war.

Health Board To Suggest Pasteurizing Whitby Milk

M.O.H. Reviews Town's Condition In His Annual Report To The Council.

A HEALTHY YEAR

WHITBY, Jan. 24—The pasteurization of all milk sold in the Town of Whitby was one o the recommendations of Dr. Charles F. McGillivray, Medical Officer of Health in his annual report to the Town Council. The M.O.H. very strongly stressed the need for supervision of milk contamination on account of disease in cattle. The Board of Health will later this month hold a year and strongly urge its adoption.

Dr. McGillivray also recommended the application of more strict measures to enforce on property owners in the prescribed area connection with the sanitary sewers, also that there be more frequent inspection of the water and milk supply. This latter work is done by the sanitary inspector under the Board of Health's direction.

A Healthy Year

The town is congratulated by Dr. McGillivray on its very healthy condition last year. There were very few contagious diseases, and in cases where these were reported strict and prompt measures were taken to prevent their spread.

Regular inspections were made of

For Snobbery

Professor R. E. Rogers of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, has attracted wide attention and criticism by his plea for "snobbery." SATURDAY, JANUARY 22RD, 1921

Up To The Ratepayers

The Lindsay Council has joined the councils of Whitby and Oshawa in decreeing that committee meetings shall not be open to either press or public. It is disquieting that representatives of the ratepayers should lightly depart from the fundamental rule that public business should be publicly conducted.

In the Lindsay case the motion for secrecy was moved and seconded by men who had not been elected to office. It may be supposed that they were actuated by a desire to give affairs the same methods as are employed in business. But they have overlooked the fact that ratepayers have quite as much interest in the changes in civic affairs, and are entitled to as much information.

Under the law of common sense and fairness the representatives of the ratepayers should meet in public. The remedy lies in the hands of the electors when they go to the polls. If publicity for public business is made an issue, the voters will have the opportunity of giving the Council the decision of the privacy they desire.—The Toronto Telegram.

The Under Dog

Writers of more or less the same sympathetic nature as the Stratford Beacon-Herald editor for the under dog everywhere should enjoy his reactions to the recent cat-slashing outrage that took place in Stratford's business section.

Indeed the sentiments he voices was called forth by the Persian outrage of a tall tree. The unfortunate animal had committed that cat had committed no crime, or a couple of mongrel dogs.

Fancy the same editor's fine-nosed and unsteadying indignation at such a commonplace conflict. It is also fancy the editor's wrath at a mongrel dog or two mongrel cats, in advance to get a Persian cat out of their way.

Fancy, moreover, the editor's indignation at the gang of hoodlums' pettiness and refinement and the unfairness that has so far escaped the assailants. A Persian cat, he remarked, is removed from its native haunts to be carried away in a basket to the interior of a house where they are more than usually domesticated, the bob-tailed cat being left to forage for itself among garbage cans. The cat was not afraid of no dog. It can look after itself. It could fight it out, and a wise dog would keep out of its way.

Accordingly, the editor casts it from the bosom of Providence. The mongrel dog would sum up the case in a few words and fly for the cat. Fancy the editor's fancy. Imagine the two of two mongrel dogs who were just about due to dig for fleas and get into fights with each other over mongrel matrimonial misunderstandings.

The writer of the morning editorial, he had evidently overlooked the fact that the cat was a Persian cat. It should be one of those outlawed mongrel dogs that have been gotten by the dog catcher. Or, more than likely, the cat had run away from some fashionable home.

No doubt it would immediately write the Persian cat a letter of sympathy. And a sentiment to be sent to the cat's mistress. A new chance for the editor to write fine, manner-dog sympathy for a Persian cat out in the cold.

Versatility Indicates Ability

Should a poet dip his pen in satirical ink? That question on being threshed out in Canadian literary circles recently by correspondence of "Caw-Caw Ballads" and MacDonald, well known Hamilton poet, is a pertinent conversation that a poet—golden-throated or otherwise—should turn his attention, and MacDonald's letter to the Hamilton Herald is worth reading. And MacDonald is evidently aimed. We see our-

The fact that less money is being circulated now than during the time when conditions were normal proves that the purchasing power in the ranks of the unemployed. This is borne out by the statement that for the month of October last, deposits in savings banks exceeded withdrawals by $13,000,000.

People are urged to resume normal buying for logical reasons, one of them being the bargain prices which prevail in most lines, but they seem inclined to organize thrift, realizing no doubt the wisdom of refusing against any abnormal rainy day.

Had this same frugality been more in evidence under favorable economic conditions, one is quite safe in saying that a number of those who are now in straitened circumstances would find the times less troublous.

SHOULD THE CHILDREN EAT IT?

PARENTS, particularly mothers, are paying a lot of attention to children's diet these days. For it is far more economical and pleasant to keep a child well by feeding him correctly than by nursing and doctoring him back to health.

Of course the doctor should be consulted regarding what a child should eat and what he should not eat. But do you realize that the leading manufacturers of food now seek the advice and approval of the leading nutritional authorities in the country, relative to the claims they make for their products in their advertising?

In other words, food advertisements are reliable sources of information regarding diet. They are based upon the results of the latest approved scientific discoveries about vitamins, minerals and roughage, in relation to vigorous bodies, clear complexions, sound teeth and properly regulated systems.

So read these advertisements carefully. Consult your doctor about them. Very often the advertiser invites you to do this because he has asked authorities, whom your doctor respects, about those advertisements first.

Vics In Deciding Game With Port Perry Here Tonight

Shapes Up As Closest Game Of This Season

From Thursday's Showing Should be "Humdinger"; Expect Big Crowd Out for Game

Peterboro Cagers Play Locals Today

Lindsay, Jan. 24

ARE EVENLY MATCHED

If Vics Win They Will Play Markham Here Monday in First Final

Well the deciding game to settle once and for all who will meet Markham for the leadership of the section is slated to start at nine o'clock in the Lindsay Street Rink between the Lindsay Victorias and the Port Perry squad. And what a game that one promises to be. In their two scheduled games Lindsay was better than the team from the Lake Scugog town, but in the first of this present series played in Port Perry on Thursday night, the Ports showed a surprising reversal of form, with their team attaining a better advantage and the locals they played was more than nice. And don't think the locals were hanging back—they were digging in all the time and while they may have had a slight advantage on the play, both teams were as evenly matched as they could be and the game was a dandy. Nice defensive work, smart combination efforts, and stellar net-guarding by both goalies, featured the tilt, to make it the best of the year.

Should Be Close

And tonight's game promises to be every bit as good. For both teams are on even terms and with the section play-off as their goal we'll watch them work it up to a fever pitch o'clock, to give their stalls a chance to see the game. And what's more, quite a number are going to do this, so if they are public spirited enough, to stone up for the night, there certainly is no reason why the other fans, considering that this is the "night the ghost walks" and that they don't have to be at work early tomorrow as on week days, should be there in force. Come on fans—get down there and give the boys a hand.

The Vics will be strengthened for tonight's game by the return of Bert Williams and Rich. in the wings; and Crafton, Dames and Forbert as their spare reserves. These boys are out for a win and they deserve a big crowd to cheer them on.

Would Big Crowd

Added reasons why there should be a capacity house are the fact that the Retail Merchants Association are holding a meeting, where possible to close their stores by nine o'clock, to give their staffs a chance to see the game. And what's more, quite a number are going to do this, so if they are public spirited enough, to stone up for the night, there certainly is no reason why the other fans, considering that this is the "night the ghost walks" and that they don't have to be at work early tomorrow as on week days, should be there in force. Come on fans—get down there and give the boys a hand.

Fast Game With Galt

Niagara Falls Cataracts Blank League-Leading Terriers In Torrid Contest

GALT, Jan. 24—Lack of substance shooting and penalties combined to defeat the Terriers here last night, their first loss at home in the O.H.L. Niagara Falls Cataracts winning by 2-0. Two enormous overtime games this week took on the condition of the Terriers, who tonight, were minus the services of Al Goulding leaving them with but two subs. The Cataracts, with ten players, had a lot advantage in maintaining their speed and attacks, and just could not be denied victory. The first period was goalless, with honors about even, and the hockey was little to enthuse over. However, the balance of the game was lively and fast, both teams checking hard, with the result that the penalty box was seldom vacant. Referee Jack Ellis called fourteen penalties, eleven of which went to the locals. Manners and White drew majors for arguing with the official, but the latter's team with only a minute of the final bell.

After 18 minutes of the second period, had elapsed, Manners scored the visitors' first goal. Standing unchecked in front of the net, Manners received a pass from McLeod to the rubber into the twine. Galt forced the play most of the third period and around the middle of the Falls goal, but could not score. With less than 3 minutes to go, a three-man attack by the Cataracts rewarded them with their second goal, Lowrey getting in to slam in the rebound of McLeod's shot to make victory sure.

"Bud" Fisher, in the falls net gave a great exhibition and was problem-free in the local defeat. "Babe" McLeod was the pick of the front line.

"Russ" Courtney also was good in the Galt twine and had no chance on the two goals scored on him. Of the others, Bellars, Curtis and Martin were best. The teams.

IN-TURNS AND OUTS

Activities of The Curling Club

Yesterday afternoon the annual game between the Provincial and the Patron was played between these rinks.

The Patron Mr. J. Boxall was playing his first game of the year, but he has retained enough of his curling ability to put the skids under th e Presidents and lead his two respected gentlemen and their rink to a 16-to-5 victory.

A large number of interested spectators followed the game throughout and were rewarded with a fine exhibition of the curling.

The rinks were as follows—

Patron	President
W. Carlisle	T. Sadler
J. E. Anderson	Canon Marsh
W. Reesor	E. Gregory
J. Boxall, Sk.	16 J. McLennan sk 5

Today two junior rinks from Peterboro are expected to play a couple of rinks of local kids. This is a home and home series with the return game being played in Peterboro next week.

On Wednesday night two rinks went to Cayzgon to compete for the Nugent-Potts prize. Lindsay will be the pins to their rival from the village by three shots.

The local rinks were skipped by P. Nugent and P. Skitch. The former was four shots down and the latter was one up.

A return game is expected some time next week

Overtime Battles As Tigers And Sailors Win

Kane, Hamilton Star, Scores Two Goals, the Winning One in Overtime

BOTH GOOD

Kitchener Greenshirts Were Playing Hard-Up Hockey to Force Sailors All Way

HAMILTON, Jan. 24—Overcoming a two-goal lead the visitors piled up in the opening period, Hamilton turned back Marlboros, 3-2, in a fast-minute overtime game here last night, and increased their lead over the Toronto team by four points. The game, played before 5,500 people, who packed the Arena, was voted the best of the season. It was a game in which no quarter was asked or given, and one that was productive of more deliberate attacks than the penalties numbered.

The outstanding player on the Hamilton team was Jack Kane. He scored a goal and also gave McGowan a perfect pass for the other. Like the rest of the Hamilton team, he was star on the defence in the opening period, but from the second period on he was an outstanding performer. Cowley and Pavel turned in strong games on the defense, while McGowan and Haynes scintillated up front.

Kane Plays Well

For Marlboros, Thoms and Oliver played clever hockey, but from a defence standpoint Sadler outplayed every other man on the ice. The latest addition to the Marlboro team was a fine one for he time and time back Hamilton thrusts with regularity, using his stick and body with effect, and not once during the entire game was he completely penetrated. When Hamilton scored the winning counter he was watching proceedings from the penalty bench for a mix with "Beef" McKay.

Hamilton—Goal, Marsh; defense, McKay and Farrell; centre, McGowan; right wings, Kane; left wing, Haynes; subs, Worthy, Schwan and Lynch.

SAILORS WIN

NIAGARA FALLS, Jan. 24—Port Colborne and Kitchener-Waterloo played a scheduled O.H.A. intermediate game here last night, and after twenty minutes of overtime the Sailors came out victorious by a 3-to-2 score. The tail-enders gave the Sailor-riders a merry battle and the winning goal was scored until after 70 minutes of hockey.

The game, which was a scheduled home-ice fixture for Kitchener, drew a crowd of 1,000, including a delegation of 100 from Port Colborne.

The Sailors were somewhat under form and only flashed in spots. Morrill, Shannan and Heximer were the most effective, but the last two named have turned in much better performances.

The Greenshirts were in rare form and played hands-up hockey through out. Pellbaum, a sub. left-winger, showed great speed and was a hard worker. Roth did a world of effective back-checking, while Fries, despite the fact that he gave four of the six penalties imposed, played a real strong game for his team.

A small-sized crowd of 500 turned out near the end of regular time. The trouble arose when Heximer was in his rough mood to get the puck from Goalkeeper Shirk. Several players joined in the muddle and when it was untangled Heximer and Fries were penalized.

Port Colborne—Moore, goal; Horne and Hudson, defense; Cullen, centre; Wash and Heximer, wings; Herrill, Mountain and Shannan, alternates.

Kitchener—Shirk, goal; Pelshart and Molson, defense; Roth, centre; Schmidts and Dunbrook, wings; Pellbaum, A. Shirk and Fries, alternates.

Referee—George Pennie, Niagara Falls.

PETES TAKE 6 - TO - 5 WIN

GARRISON FINISH AS THEY SCORE GOALS IN LAST PERIOD DEFEATS PORT HOPE

PETERBORO, Jan. 24—A Garrison finish in the third period, during which they scored three goals, kept the Peterboro' team in the running in the game once and enabled them to defeat Port Hope 6-5 in an O.H.A. Intermediate fixture last night. It was the most exciting game of the season.

The Petes took the lead in the first minutes, when Hatton scored on a combination play. Harrod went through alone for Port Hope, just before the period; ended to tie the score.

Early in the second session, Lebarr lifted in a rebound to put the homesters again in front, but Port Hope went on a scoring rampage and slapped in four goals, R. Ware and Moise getting two each. Creighton got one back for the Petes, and the period ended with the Ontario leading 5 to 3.

In the final 20 minutes, the Petes opened an attack that the visitors could not stop. Lebarr made it 5-to 4 on a pass from Maudsley, and Jarris tied the score with the assistance of Utronki. Lackey batted in his own rebound to win the game.

TECUMSEHS TURNED BACK

WINDSOR BULLDOGS HALT WINNING WAYS OF BROTHERS' MEN BY 1-0 SCORE LAST NIGHT.

WINDSOR, Jan. 24—The winning ways of the London Tecumsehs were abruptly halted here last night, when Windsor Bulldogs turned them back, 1 to 0, in the most exciting game of the local International League season to date. The margin was exactly that by which the Tecumsehs had defeated Windsor a week before in the process of piling up their seven consecutive victories.

Sam Brown, defense star, scored the only goal of the evening midway through the last period. With Holway serving a penalty, Brown was sent up to make the fourth man on the attack. He took a pass from the defense and the puck hit Herbie Stuart's stick to bounce into the upper left hand corner of the net. Brown had been the victim of two sensational saves by Stuart earlier in the game.

After the first period, in which the Tecumsehs forced Clint Benedict to make several smart saves the Bulldogs had an edge. Quenault opening canto, but Dugald Roche and Robinson had equally dangerous shots

Pats Trim Guelph Team

Play Best Hockey of Season to Gain 3-2 Victory Last Night

OSHAWA, Jan. 24—Playing their best home game of the season, Oshawa Pats broke their losing streak at the expense of Guelph Maple Leafs in an Ontario pro game last night, handing them a 3-to-1 setback. "Quaker" Colquhoun, playing his first game in an Oshawa uniform, turned in a fine performance and was responsible for one of Oshawa's counters. The game was fast and at times rough, four major penalties being meted out. For Oshawa, Rice, Stanhope and Lott tried hard, while Goodwille, Moore and Randall were the best for Guelph, with both goalkeepers giving clever performances.

There was no scoring in the opening period, but Oshawa bored in from the start of the middle chukker and after two minutes of play Joyce scored when Ironstone was outlucked on a shot from the blueline. Colquhoun body-checked Carmody, knocking him down, and in a few minutes Oshawa's big new recruit proceeded to single-handed give several Guelph players a lesson in boxing. Referee Rodden fell to the ice in endeavoring to stop the melee and meted out penalties to Colquhoun, Carmody and Clapper.

Oshawa continued to press at the start of the final stanza, but Guelph forged up and forced the locals on the defensive. Colquhoun and Lott relieved the pressure. Colquhoun securing Oshawa's second counter when he took a pass from Lott, then shoved in his own rebound. Moore was given a major when he attempted to cut Colquhoun down, and a minute later Randall knocked Colquhoun out when he charged him, drawing a penalty for his pains. Lott scored Oshawa's third counter when he grabbed the puck from in front of all the side of the Guelph net to beat Ironstone. Randall secured Guelph's one tally fifty seconds later on a clever solo effort.

Live Stock Market

TORONTO, Jan. 24—Cattle receipts at the Union Stock Yards this week totalled 4,870 head, which was 1,500 fewer than for last week. Heavy snowfalls reduced the volume of supply, but there were plenty of cattle for market requirements. Trading was slow and steady on Monday and on Tuesday with prices a shade higher than last week's low level. Wednesday trading was uneven and opinion on the market varied from steady to a quarter lower on hand butchers. Mainly steers and cows were called steady. Some small lots of prime steers brought $7.35 to $7.75 a hundred with the bulk of steers at $6.50 to $7. Good to choice butcher cattle sold at $6.75 to $7.25, with common downward to $5.50. Fed calves were down $1 for the week at $7.50 to $9, with an extreme top of $9.50 for choice vealers, sold at $8.50 to $8.25, according to quality. Bulls ranged from $3.75 to $6.50, with a slow trade on heavy kinds.

The run to-day of store cattle on offering sold about steady at $5 to $6.25, according to quality. Milkers and springers were unchanged at $70 to $80 or the best. There was no buying for export next week.

Shippers were advised to keep their their consignments moderate for next week.

Calves

Calf receipts were 1,037 head, 300 fewer than for last week. Light opening runs brought a recovery of 50 cents to the market and this gain was held to the close. Good to choice calves sold at $10 to $11, with light kinds delivered to $7. A few lots of plain grass calves brought $4 to $5 a hundred.

Hogs

Hog receipts were 3,630 head, with 596 Western hogs billed through to outside packers in addition. Hogs opened at $9.20 flat for bacons, but settled downward to $9 on Wednesday. The differential for off-car hogs was generally $1 a hundred off-car bacons making $10 on Wednesday. No rail hogs were received on Thursday and the ex track hogs offered went at $9.50 a hundred for bacons. Selects brought $1 per hear premium and standard cuts were in demand at grades.

Sheep and Lambs

Sheep and lamb receipts were 1,-330 head, about half last week's total. Lamb prices were unchanged at $9.50 for good ewes and wethers while the quality was considered lower than that of last week. Buck lambs were weighed out at the $2 discount and some heavy lambs sold at $8 to $9 a hundred. Thin culls sold as low as $6.50 and $7. Sheep were firm on a small supply at $5.50 to $6 for good light ewes with heavies at $4.50 to $5.50 and with culls at $2 to $4 a hundred.

should have been kept back until a certain deal was settled, was made public. This resulted in a motion being passed subsequently to censure the reporters not to publish the minutes of any Committee meetings. Following this was the beginning of a great tempest in a very little teapot. Editorials were published and letters written by indignant citizens, who in those good old days were not obliged to sign their real names after signing that dark schemes were being fostered and dastardly secrets hatched being closed doors by the very representatives who had been elected to govern the affairs of this good old town which could boast of having the finest climate in Canada, the prosperous, respectable, far famed Town of Lindsay.

Lindsay will vote that nearly everyone who stood in the limelight as public servants to be pruned down to the proportions according to the will of the people, have passed on, their places now are filled by other men who have responded to the call for public service. That incident which caused a ripple of excitement in municipal affairs is now ancient history.

In looking back over the intervening years with all its changes, how insignificant it now appears, and once again the usually harmonious municipal life is ruffled by the present Council accepting the precedent made thirty years ago by a body of men who have with one or two exceptions, have passed off the stage. In looking forward thirty years doubtless Mayor Aleorn, Alderman Dr. White and Wenman will be resting from their labours. Other younger members of the Council may be grey haired grandfathers, while the youthful reporters, who knows but they will be married, have large families, and live happily ever afterwards, for such is life.

SYNOPSIS

Kenneth Burney, adventurer and one-time gentleman, comes to Brad ley Bardin, king of the cattle country, for a job. Barney has had a fight with Martin Bruce a rival cattle owner who has been stealing the King's stock, aided by Miguel Gallegos a Mexican bandit. The King, liking young Barney, makes him general manager of the ranch on condition that he put Bruce and Gallegos out of the way.

Muriel Bardin, beautiful daughter of the King, is more interested in Burney than she cares to admit. She opposes her father and begs him not to let Burney risk his life.

But Burney's plans are made. After an encounter with Bruce, in which the cattle thief swears to kill him, young Burney prepares to leave for El Cajon Bonita where the raiders have been operating. He is determined to shoot it out. The King sees that his daughter is in love with Burney and tries to persuade the latter to give up his dangerous mission. But Burney insists on finishing his job. At El Cajon Bonita he meets Gallegos the Mexican bandit. Gallegos with two hundred followers charges Barney's band of picked riders.

He leaped down into the barranes, walked along it to a firing position previously selected, and waited. He saw Gallegos form his company into single rank, in one long squadron front; then, suddenly, the fifty riders on the right flank and the fifty on the left galloped out in column of twos, while the center of the line pressed forward at a trot, rapidly taking distance between riders as they came. Perhaps fifty feet out in front of the center troop Miguel Gallegos rode.

"Anybody who says a Mexican will not advance to the assault is crazy or hasn't fought them," Burney told Tom Bledsoe, "and with fifty per cent. Irish blood in their leader this bunch will be hard to stop. Well, here's where I stop Miguel."

He sighed carefully and polled away. A cheer went up from the motor truck behind him. "Viva!" cried Senor De Haro. "The animal, Gallegos, is afoot."

"I am in the exact centre of our line," Burney shouted to his men. "Men on my right, take care of the party advancing on our right flank. Men on my left take care of the party advancing to envelop our left flank. Tom and I will work on the centre. Range—one thousand. Commence firing—and don't waste your shots."

Instantly the venomous crackling of rifle fire broke from the barranca. Burney, former expert rifleman of the Berks Yeomanry, brought a horse down with every shot, but Bledsoe was not so fortunate, although, as the distance between the forces lessened, his marksmanship improved. Nor did the general manager waste any time glancing toward his flanks to see how the attack was progressing in those quarters. He knew it was suffering heavily, that before it could complete the enveloping movement half of its horses would be down. So he concentrated his fire on the centre until Tom Bledsoe cameling beside him and nudged him in the ribs.

"The flanks have broke, Mr. Burney!" he shouted.

"Don't let the dismounted riders reach the brush at the base of the hill," Burney cried to the men nearest him. "Pass the word. They'll snipe us from that cover and some of us will get hurt."

The bandits on the flanks who were still mounted had about-faced and were bearing down at a tangent to join the advancing centre, while the men whose horses had been knocked over were running for cover at the base of the hills some four hundred years distant. It was long range shooting, but the El Ranchito men toppled a dozen of them as they ran, before the line of horseless men cut front filled their horses in the final charge. Their wild cheers as they came on grew upon them instantly the attention of the entire defending force and a murderous fire brought them down at such a rate that the attack melted.

At a distance of three hundred yards the Gallegos forces suddenly turned and fled in the direction whence they had come, and instantly the Ranchito men again turned their attention to the survivors on the flanks. Most of the cowboys had fired not less than thirty rounds and their rifles were now too hot for comfort, so presently the fire slackened and died away.

Of course the enemy had not been entirely idle. Men, dismounted during the action, had continued to advance afoot, firing as they came, and many of the mounted men had fired from the saddle. But at the long range and moving rapidly as they had, their fire had been wholly ineffective. Burney seized the opportunity, while the rifles were cooling, to make an examination of his forces. None of his men had been hurt. There were several bullet holes in the trucks and a bullet had dropped into the chuck wagon and ruined the cook's best bread pan.

The men of El Ranchito stood to, or rather sat to in the bottom of the barranca, for some of the bandits who had succeeded in reaching cover on the flanks had courageously taken position and were firing vigorously. Eventually, discovering that the Gallegos forces were in rapid retreat, these snipers subsided, made their way through the scrubby timber down the vlaley and rejoined their comrades.

Senor De Haro and his companion climbed out of the truck they had occupied one with a heavy sheet iron body and embraced Don Burney, the while their glad "vivas" echoed over the valley. Then the Mexicans, accompanied by Burney mounted and rode out over the field, while Tom Bledsoe took charge of the task of reloading the men and horses in the trucks and breaking camp, preparatory to leaving at once. The wounded horses Burney mercifully killed and the wounded bandits on each flank the fefe politico's companions as mercifully wafted into eternity with well-directed shots from their six-shooters.

Ken Burney counted the dead. They numbered forty-two.

The coyote will be grateful to you, Senor Burney," the jefe Pollico suggested humorously. "Also, it becomes my duty and pleasure to express to you the gratitude of my government. You have but defended yourself when attacked by a bandit force and no criticism can be directed at your or your employer."

Ken Burney smiled upon him half ruefully. "Poor little sandalfeet," he murmured. "They know better. But will not criticism be directed toward you for the lack of vigilance which resulted in my company entering Mexico armed?"

"Certainly, Senor, but the criticism will be directed by those of no importance. We have a long frontier and Mexico has not sufficient troops, customs or immigration officials to guard it. I shall disclaim responsibility."

"Nevertheless," Burney reminded him, "The same lack of vigilance will not be possible again. When I return to El Cajon Bonita, as I must, I will have to cross the line at some unguarded point and at night. It would not be kind of me to embarrass you, Senor De Haro."

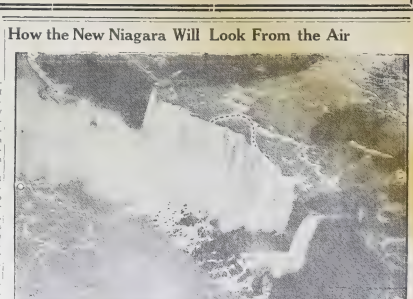
How the New Niagara Will Look From the Air



An unusual view of the United States section of Niagara Falls, showing how it will look to the birds and the aviators now that the sands of time have taken their heavy toll. The marked area on this picture of the famed cataract shows where thousands of tons of rock crashed from the crest of the falls, making a gigantic U shaped indentation, forming the greatest change in the contour of the falls in the memory of man.

PETERBORO POLICEMAN IS ARRESTED

Peterboro Ex-Cop Will Face Charges In Robbery Series

Leonard Matthews, For Ten Years a Policeman, is Discharged From Force

IN COURT TODAY

Once Shot and Killed Man Who Had Murdered Constable Norman Maker

PETERBORO, Jan. 26—Leonard Matthews, until Saturday morning a constable on the local police force will appear in police court today charged with robbery. His arrest Saturday by Chief Constable Newhall is thought by the police to have solved a mysterious series of recent burglaries in downtown business establishments.

Matthews, who had been under suspicion because of the fact that most of the thefts occurred while he was on night duty and because there was none reported while he was on the day shift, fell into a trap set for him Saturday morning and was placed under arrest. At a special session of the police commission he was formally dismissed from the force and later appeared in police court and was remand ed until Monday.

Matthews, who is married and has a family of three children, had been a member of the Peterboro police force for ten years, and had been regarded as a courageous and efficient constable. He was very much in the public eye several years ago when, after Provincial Constable Norman Maker was shot and killed by a local hotel keeper, Matthews entered the vacant store where the infuriated killer was hiding and shot him as he emerged when the latter swung his gun around to menace the officer. Several months ago Matthews again distinguished himself by grappling with and arresting a burglar just as he was entering a local business establishment. His arrest has caused a sensation here.

Car Hits Train, Turns Round Motorist Drives Calmly On

Mysterious Oshawa Motorist Runs Into Side of Train and Escapes Entirely.

TRAIN GOES ON TOO

OSHAWA, Jan 24—Police are wondering who the lucky motorist was who tried conclusions with a westbound C.N.R. train at Simcoe, Oshawa last week. The motorist driving north, according to witnesses, apparently did not see the train approaching. The engine and several cars were across the crossing before the motorist tried to stop his car which skidded on the ice covered road and slid right into the side of the train.

The car was spun around without apparently receiving much damages and drove off the road at the west side and, turning around, carefully avoiding the moving train, managed to get back on the highway, just as the crossing was clear. The motorist drove quickly away apparently undamaged by the encounter. The train was not affected in its course at all.

Canadian Killed By U.S. Guard

Coastguard Shoots Canadian Who Is The Skipper Of Alleged Rum Boat

WILL ASK EXPLANATION

OTTAWA, Jan. 26.—It was stated officially last night that an immediate explanation would be asked of the Washington Government, as soon as official notice is received of the fatal shooting of Capt. William Cluett, of Digby, N.S., by the United States coastguard.

The Canadian Government has received no intimation as yet of the shooting. Such official intimation is expected today from the Canadian legation at Washington, or from the owners of the vessel which Capt. Cluett commanded. The captain is alleged to have been unloading liquor from the Josephine K, owned in Nova Scotia, within the twelve-mile limit of Canada and to have been fired upon when he fled.

NEW YORK, Jan. 26.—Shot down when his vessel, the Josephine K., was fired upon by United States coast guardsmen off Ambrose lightship Saturday night, Capt. William Cluett, 55, a native citizen of Lunenberg, N.S., died early Sunday in the United States Marine Hospital on Staten Island.

A one-pound shot ripped through the cabin of the Josephine K. as it was fleeing from the lightship off the coast guard cutter No. 145, according to the official announcement of Capt. Cluett was at the wheel of his vessel when he was brought down.

The coast guard patrol boat, with a crew of four under Capt. Cecil M. Gabbett, was cruising about four miles northeast of the lightship which marks the entrance to New York harbor, when she came upon four boats, huddled together.

One was the Josephine K., a British oil screw vessel. Lying alongside her, coast guardsmen discovered were the barge Brooklyn, the tugboat Dauntless No. 6, and a small speed boat.

Eight men were seized on the Josephine K, eight on the tug and three on the barge. The captain of the tug was John Ambrose and the captain of the scow Mario Landi.

Cases of liquor were being transferred from the Josephine K., to the barge, the officers said. They threw searchlights on the group of vessels and ordered them to halt, shots in order to forestall any attempt to escape.

The Josephine K headed for the open sea, they said, with the government cutter in close pursuit. Several shots were fired from her bows and when she continued to flee, the officers said, a one-pound, er was red directly at her.

Ask Tenders for Peterboro Road

This year the only paving that will be done in the county, as far as is definitely known now, will be on the short strip between Fowler's Corners and Omemee. Tenders are now being called for by the Department of Public Highways, at Toronto, to be in by noon Monday, February 16th. If this strip is completed it will leave on the paved stretch of road between Lindsay and Peterboro, the macadamized surface between Fowlery Corners and Millbrook.

Fur-Coated Model Sans Skirt Cause Of Much Stir In Toronto

TORONTO, Jan 26—In the wide window of an ultrasmart couturiere on Bloor Street, west, a charming wax model held a centre position, garbed much to the consternation of the passerby, in an extremely abbreviated fur coat—and nothing else. The cloth skirt, which should have completed the natty little costume had slipped from its moorings and now lay in a crumpled heap at the dummy's feet.

A street car, caught in the evening traffic congestion, delayed directly before the window, and while the amused passengers looked on, a young girl hurried in the store, tried vainly to pull the grey curtains across and then, in desperation, took up a position directly before the unfortunate lady to shield her from the crass stares from the street until helpcame from the interior of the store.

"One of our newest sport models," said a funmaker in the car.

For almost two weeks cruisers and steamers have been on the lookout for the "Trade-wind" plane in the hope that it had stayed afloat when forced down in the Atlantic, but another plane nor wreckage have been discovered.

Says 'Sandy's' Saving Salve Cuts Clocks' Crazy Clucking

Local Dog Tackles Bear For First And Likely Last Time

JUDGE NOT A bear by the way he snorts—he is doing, and likely be the motto hereafter of a large white bulldog in two after it's experience with the trained bear in the indoor circus now in town. The bear was sleeping, or apparently sleeping, by the truck in Arnold's Garage, when in came the bulldog a regular habitue of the car-hostelry. Angered at this intrusion of her private domain or nurturing a yen for a large hunk of bear, the bull took a practice jump at the big black animal. What was her surprise when he adversary came to life in a trice, and repelled the intrusion on his privacy handed out a back-handed caff on the dog's side that sent her sprawling several yards, and then turned around a couple of times and addressed himself once again to slumber. And the bull-dog was left a wiser dog in the way of bears and quite content to let his late adversary rest in peace, and wary enough to keep out of the way of those "straight-arms" that Mr. Bruin was so good as handing out.

In Fact Where Once No Clock Ticked, Four Timepieces Merrily Mark Time

IT'S A NIFTY DODGE

"Sandy's" saving salve causes changeable chronometers to function full-time" might well be the head for this article. Recently the town fathers bought a new clock for the town clerk's office. His old clock was put just outside the chief's office. The clock from there now adorns the wall of Magistrate G. A. Jordan's office, and thereby hangs a tale.

The clerk from the clerk's office had not been running any too well but when it was placed in its new position it started to "tick em off" quite regularly. The clock which had hung outside the chief's office never would run except for very short periods right after it had been wound and the clock in the court-room was another of those "wonder" timepieces, that caused one to "wonder" what time it was when one looked at it. However now that these clocks have been moved to their new places the clerk's is going right merrily, the formerly absentminded chief has added sound sleep to his list of virtues and the trade's office and must have set up a sympathetic vibration with the one in the court room for it now runs regularly too.

It is suspected that "Sandy" Sandland, who has charge, has treated them with some miraculous salve of his own concoction to create the change in their accuracy and that he will be asked by jewellers to put it on the market at once.

Automobile drivers' neuritis, which attacks the shoulder nearest an open window, is a malady a French physician has found to be prevalent.

Moonshine Is Taken In North

Otto and Roy Weaver, of Coboconk, Will Face Charges In Court Here

WERE HERE BEFORE

Otto and Roy Weaver, of Coboconk were arrested by Excise Officer T. R. James, last week and will face charges of having liquor illegally when they come before Magistrate G. A. Jordan in police court here on Friday. It was while looking for a still he thinks they own that Officer James came across the "Moonshine" liquor, he told The Post today. With him at the time of the arrest was Royal Canadian Mounted Police Officer A. E. Jennings of Peterboro, also an excise officer.

Exhibit 1., when these men appear in court, will likely be five gallons of "moonshine", it is said. As extensive search through the vicinity did not locate the still the officers were looking for however.

If it is proven that the liquor confiscated by the officers belonged to the Weavers, they will have to prove to the satisfaction of the court the origin of it or go to jail for one month.

A little over a year ago these two young men were arrested on charges of operating a still illegally, but Roy Weaver, the younger one, took all the blame, saying that the still was his and that Otto had merely gone for a walk with him. The walk ended at the still which had been watched by Provincial Constables P. Weatherall and D. H. Porter and Excise Officer T. R. James from two o'clock in the morning until the men arrived there eight hours later.

MONTREAL, Jan. 25—In a letter read in all Roman Catholic Churches of the Archdiocese of Montreal yesterday, Monsignor Georges Gauthier Archbishop Coadjutor, of Montreal, warned his parishioners against communistic propaganda, and urged that Christian Charity was the remedy of the ills of the day.

To Let Gandhi Out; India Seethes With Excitement Today

May Refuse To Be Released Until Other Leaders Get Out Of Jail Also

TO GET OUT TODAY

Of 54,000 Committed In Gandhi Campaign, 23,503 Are Still In Prison

As the British parliament prepared to begin its debate on the government's policy in India, the eastern Empire itself seethed with excitement for Mahatma Gandhi, idol of millions, was about to be released from prison after nearly nine months. The Viceroy has definitely ordered his release but it was possible that Gandhi might refuse until thousands of other political prisoners also were liberated. Several of the congress party leaders were released today but the Government has given no indication of its stand on the general political amnesty.

Emily Man Was Badly Hurt When Hit By Hit-Run Thief

Man is Thrown 125 Feet; Car is Found Wrecked and Abandoned on Old Blind River Road Near Fowlery Corners By Provincial Police From Town, Saturday Night.

STOLEN FROM PETERBORO

Alvin Franks, of Emily Townships was seriously injured Saturday night on the Peterboro-Lindsay highway when a hit and run motorist struck him down. Franks was thrown 125 feet and his skull was fractured, while his horse was so badly hurt that it had to be shot. Franks had only pulled out onto the road after stopping at Fowler's Corners when the car, crashed into him smashing the cutter and hurling the horse into the ditch. The injured man was found 133 fet ahead of the cutter.

It was not until some time that as a result of a diligent search in which police stationed in Lindsay and Peterboro, and the surrounding district took part, that a wrecked car was found abandoned on the blind river road, at Fowlery Corners.

It was learned this morning that it was the property of a Peterboro man, who on Saturday morning reported it stolen. There is no clue as to the identity of the driver.

After the local police informed Provincial police of the find, the car was brought in to Arnold's garage, town. It suffered all of its damage on the left side with the door badly dished in, the side window smashed, the front of the back fender and the back of the front fender dinged badly. In the back fender there was a hole the size of a fifty-cent piece where the metal had been punched either by the horse or part of the buggy. Provincial Officer Ted Hornick from Peterboro, is investigating the accident.

No One Present To Drink His Coffee— He Poured It Down

THERE WAS A TRAGEDY in the East Ward on Saturday; a tragedy fraged with comedy, perhaps, but nevertheless a tragedy. A warmly-clothed man with a steady job saw some workers shivering as they toiled on the Caroline Street sewer, a lece of work sponsored by the town's unemployment relief scheme, so he went uptown and made a big dint in his "roll" to buy two gallons of hot coffee for his less lucky brethren. When he got back to the sewer, however, he found the men had gone home to dinner, so, very deliberately and very disgustedly he poured the coffee into said sewer.

[illegible] Play

Once again local dramatic talent has scored in the latest presentation "Smart Shoppe Sally," a light, laughable, true-to-life comedy with a big musical review produced and directed by Mr. Al J. Perrin, formerly of Marks Vaudeville Co. The entertainment was under the auspices of the Junior Girls' Institute and was played to capacity houses in the Town Hall on Friday and Monday evenings last with a good financial return.

The heroine Sally Jones, Miss Laura Johnson, found herself in financial difficulties as owner of a hat shop bequeathed her by her mother. The Hew Jock Brown, Mr. Arthur Welsh, endeavored by a system of modern high financing to assist Miss Jones out of her difficulties, in which he was successful. Dury Doolittle, Miss Iva Fallowdown, and Billy "Speed" Brunson, Mr. Clarence Drader, were the slow and fast servants and provided the usual humorous element of the play. The shylock, Hiram Bam Dollar, was ably taken by Mr. Al J. Perrin himself "in person." Kitty Jones, [illegible] Dobie, was the centre of the suspicion in the plot. Peggie Wellington, Miss Jessie [illegible] Clarence Potert, Mr. James Goodwin, Mme. Lucy Fountaine, Miss Annie Purvis, and Mrs. [illegible] rounded out a well-chosen cast. The models of the play, displaying many beautiful gowns were Misses Helen Tocher, Muriel Bagshaw, Marjorie [illegible], Rachel Jefferies, Annie McFadden, Marjorie Claxton, Marjorie Christie and Mrs. Lorne Dobie.

BY CARBON DIOXIDE GAS

NEW YORK, Jan. 26—A family of six persons was wiped out by carbon monoxide gas yesterday—father, mother and four sons.

A brother-in-law found the bodies when he went to call on the family. He could get no response when he rang the doorbell. He called a neighbor and they broke down the front door.

Three ambulances and two police emergency squads were called. It was found, however, that the Cobbins had been dead for several hours. The windows were all closed, and police believe the gas which hosier had consumed the oxygen in the room.

STOLEN CHICKEN'S HEADS FOUND STRUNG ON WIRE

ST. THOMAS Jan. 26—Claire Horton, aged 23, of St. Thomas, and Ralph Johnson, aged 18, of Yarmouth Township are in custody at St. Thomas charged with the theft of two pigs and nine chickens from the John Chute farm east of this city. Horton was arrested 24 hours after the robbery, and Johnson was picked up by Windsor authorities as he attempted to cross into Detroit. Horton, it is said, had admitted the robbery, but denies being implicated in the theft of a pig and chickens on the night previous from the farms of L. Begg and P. Yates near Middlemarch. The heads of the nine chickens were strung on a wire at the chicken-house door, where the owner came upon them the next morning.

L.C.I. Loses Court Tilt

Garnet And Gray Outscore Locals In Both Halves Of Game To Win By 24-12 Score

Outscoring the locals in both halves of the game the P.C.I. basketball team carried their first victory of the season, defeating the L.C.I. 24-12, and practically assured themselves of the group honors. The L.C.I. team did not display any of their reputed speed at any stage of the game, and it was a rather slow exhibition, but one that was full of thrills for the spectators. Peterboro presented a very heavy team especially on the forward line which could not have kept up with the locals had they been able to get going. But the L.C.I. representatives failed to open up the game and at every turn there was a Peterboro player stopping the way to an open contest.

Right off the start Lindsay lost several scoring opportunities when they failed to side in shots. Peterboro was a result of fouls by Reynolds and Macdonald. Not until five minutes of the contest had passed did A. Ward open the scoring for Peterboro followed by four more points from Baker and Ward. Macdonald and Armstrong. Soon after Smith gave the local rooters a chance to cheer when he scored when he scored the first Lindsay tally, but it did not last long as the visitors came back and scored two more baskets in quick succession.

Close-Checking Game

Half, way through the first half of the game the Red and Black Gold asked for time and were given two minutes rest. The intermission seemed to revive the locals and Smith scored two more baskets pulling the locals back in the hunt. McLean also got a point from a free throw and further reduced the lead of the visitors. Just before end of the first twenty minutes Armstrong one of the heavy forwards of the Peterboro team ran wild and scored three baskets, giving his team a nine points lead at half time.

Lindsay's flashy forward line of Smith-Sutton-McLean tried to open up the game in the last half, but the bulk Petes were unwilling to bends and the contest reverted to a heavy checking affair with many passes going astray on both sides Towards the end of the game, and after the P.C.I. had increased their lead by four points, the contest became a little rough with seven personal fouls being committed, five of which were by the local team. Out of their five free throws the visitors got two points, while Lindsay scored on one of the two free throws allotted to them. The last five minutes saw the local trying desperately to cut down the score, but only securing two baskets, both by Smith.

For the L.C.I. the playing of Smith and McLean stood out on the forward line, while the guards were successful in breaking up many Peterboro rushes. Armstrong on the Peterboro team was the high scorer of the day, but the playing of "Howie" Macdonald was largely be

Ref. Holds Out (?) On Acrobat On Saturday

SATURDAY NIGHT'S Game was again enlivened by "vaudeville" between periods, when the budding acrobat who has performed on several occasions wheni through his varied repertoire of cartwheels, sidesplits and handstands to the accompaniment of falling pennies and nickels from the appreciative audience. He got almost the biggest hand of the night, the only bigger one being the "follow-up". He didn't pick up all his money and at the start of the third period there was a copper frozen in the ice. One and the ref, "Army" Armstrong picked it out of the ice and seemed to about to slip it into his pocket right before the eyes of the wistful youth who was watching him very closely. "Army" kept him in suspense as long as possible and then handed it over to him and that drew the biggest hand of the evening —that is, the look on the kid's face, before he got the coin.

SPLIT IN BIG FIVE LEAGUE

EXECUTIVE CONVENING TO DEVIDE WHETHER TO PLAY OFF TWO TEAMS OR ADMIT MORE.

OAKWOOD Jan. 26—(By Staff Correspondence)—The Valentine-Cambray game that was to be played on Monday evening here has been cancelled.

Both these teams along with Little Britain have dropped out of the Big Five, which leaves Oakwood and Cannington left to play off for the Cup unless the Executive decide to accept either entries.

It seems a letter was received from these teams to the effect that they would not play again until they were guaranteed a bigger percentage of the receipts. In view of the fact that the receipts of the games between these teams have been comparatively low, the executive of the rink decided they could not accede to their demand, especially this season when times are not as flourishing as they have been in previous years.

The teams resigned their position rather than take percentage they were getting, so until the executive of the league convene on the matter it is hard to say what steps will be taken to straighten matters.

"Gringo Privateer"

By Peter B. Kyne

BY PETER B. KYNE

Kenneth Burney, adventurer, and one-time gentleman, comes to Bradley Bardin, King of the cattle country, for a job. Burney has had a fight with Martin Bruce, a rival cattle owner who has been stealing the King's stock, aided by Miguel Gallegos, a Mexican bandit. The King, liking Burney, makes him general manager of the ranch on condition that he get Bruce and Gallegos out of the way. ... Meanwhile Miriel Bardin, beautiful daughter of the King, is more interested in Burney than she cares to admit. She opposes her father and begged him not to let Burney risk his life. But Burney's plans are made. After an encounter with Bruce, in which the cattle thief swears to kill him, young Burney prepares to leave for El Cajon Bonita, where the rustlers have been operating. He is determined to shoot it out. The King sees that his daughter is in love with Burney and tries to persuade the latter to give up his dangerous mission. But Burney insists on finishing his job. At El Cajon Bonita he meets Gallegos the Mexican bandit, Gallegos with two hundred followers charges Burney's band of picked riders. He is repulsed with heavy losses, but Gallegos himself escapes.

CHAPTER 26

"Perhaps that would be the better plan, Senor Burney. But there is a certain amount of sorrow mingled with the joy of this tremendous victory. I fail to find Miguel Gallegos among the dead."

"He who fights and runs away may live to fight another day. It is not well to catch but one bird at a time. In the next fight Miguel Gallegos and his command will be destroyed. We can afford to lose a few men now. Gallegos can not. Within a week I will have another band of picked men in the field. Within a month Gallegos will be a hunted outlaw, and within two months he will be dead. Now, Senor Burney, I am returning to El Cajon Bonita, and you may meet Gallegos and call his bluff. Or you may meet me on the road and discuss the matter. Meanwhile some of the calves that wear your brand, really belong to you, although I doubt it. But I want to be sure.

Kenneth C. Burney.

"That chunk of information will reach Martin Bruce about the time he receives a hurry-up call from Gallegos, or couple.

From the telegraph station on Bruce went to the International Hotel, where he related to all and sundry the tale of his adventure of the morning in El Cajon Bonita. Nor did he hesitate to pay his respects to Bruce and Gallegos. In no uncertain terms he branded them as lousy thieves and murderers and announced his intention of hanging them to the nearest tree. Then he went to the telegraph office and sent a message to Gallegos, which read:

"Have just returned from El Cajon Bonita, where I found your dead and wounded. Your losses are heavy, but you have escaped with your life. Am leaving for Los Angeles on the next train, but will be back in a few days with a force of men sufficient to clean out your band. Will then settle with you personally. Martin Bruce."

Gallegos received this message in the morning, and it caused him much concern. He knew that Bruce was a dangerous man to have as an enemy, and he had no desire to be hunted down like a wolf. He had suffered severe losses in his attack on El Cajon Bonita, and he knew that he could not hope to defeat the ranch force in open battle. He must resort to ambush and strategy. He must lure Bruce into a trap and kill him. Then he could ride back to El Cajon Bonita and collect tribute from the ranchers. Bruce dead, there would be no one to oppose him.

Gallegos had lost many horses in the fight and was in need of fresh mounts. He must have a hundred and sixty-seven head of cattle at once. He must also have fifty men fit for active service. He decided to go to Bruce's ranch and take what he needed. Bruce would be away, and he would have only the women to deal with. Gallegos would be in and out of the ranch in a few hours, and with his force, and it is not probable that Bruce would be able to overtake him. If attacked by the rural forces on the morning in El Cajon Bonita, he would defeat them. Bruce, Burney and Bardin will die—and Gallegos will be free for that. Meanwhile he will have complete destruction of cattle and horses. We will make haste slowly, my friend.

Two hours later the Gallegos convoy crossed back into the United States at Hunchita.

Burney went at once to the telegraph station and wired Bruce of the latter's home in Arizona and also at his ranch headquarters in New Mexico.

Your little playmate, Miguel Gallegos and two hundred and ten of his gang tangled with me in El Cajon Bonita this morning. Gallegos ninety-eight horses and forty-two men, all to dead to rain. Gallegos is on my side ... and some killed and one mile crossed. I had to get out in a hurry but I am not the brand and run the Bar Six ranch. Gallegos will be back with more men and then he will be destroyed. Gallegos will be back with more men and then he will be destroyed. Gallegos will be back with more men and then he will be destroyed

Every Man Figures In Victory In Closest Game Of Season So Far

COWD SATISFIED

Perfect Ice Surface Makes For Speedy Play; Port Always Dangerous

—BY J. W. M.—

With a perfect ice surface to play on, and a crowd of over 600 wildly enthusiastic fans to cheer them on Lindsay Victorias put on the best exhibition of hockey seen this year at the Lindsay Street Arena, to take a 3-to-0 win on the game, a 6-to-3 score on the series and the right to meet Markham in the semi-final play-offs, the first game to be played here tonight, and the second in Markham on Wednesday. Agression-ness on the part of Lindsay forwards was there digging in all the time and playing a great checking game, good defensive work, on the rearguard, and the splendid exhibition of goal-tending by McClory in the local nets were what beat the visitors who were qualifying on a great exhibition on their part, and kept the locals travelling "full out," all the time. All in all it was the prettiest bit of the game witnessed here this season, and sent the fans home talking to themselves" and vowing to see tonight's game with Markham.

Were All Good

Every man in the blue and white team figured prominently in the victory and it was the concerted exhibition of every player that pulled off such a win. On the forward line Bussey, Marcin at centre was the hardest worker on the ice and did some fine rushing and was right on hand to back up defence. On right wing Greeny Williams played a nice brand of hockey and was a thorn in the sides for the visitors all the time. Both on the left side stood out for his stick-handling and fast speed, and made a valuable relief defenseman. He scored two of Lindsay's counters in solo rushes, ending up with beautiful shots which had De-Shane, playing in a nice game for Port, outdanced. Centre behind the Rosy Parkes attempt, Jack Crafton on left and Jack Deshane on right, took things right up where they left off last night and played aggressive heads up hockey. Both forward lines played a remarkable body-checking game and were among the visitors "hotted" with this style of play. On the rearguard "Butler" Reeves and Harold Pervey played nice hockey, handing out stiff body-checks at times and rushing well to clear at critical times. Fever on a rush accounted for the last Lindsay goal.

In the Lindsay nets "Cooter" McClory was right on and played a smart game, handling everything that came to him carefully and in the last half of the last canto when Port Perry put four m-up on the attack, he got a rea. test from close-in shots coming one right after the other, but came through with flying colours. For the visitors Jack Sleighholm, at centre ice, was one of the nicest players on the ice for either team working his puk-check to great effect and leading the Port Perry attack on most occasions. His brother, D. Sleighholm, on left wing also shone, as did Raines, husky blue defenceman, whose stick-handling made him a dangerous man on rushes. In the nets DeShane, Port veteran, played a stellar rule and kept the locals from annexing two more goals. "Army" Armstrong, of Oshawa, handled the game in his usual efficient manner, allowing everything and keeping the boys right at the game most of the time.

The Line-Ups

On the teams were:

Port Perry—Goal, N. DeShane; defence, G. Raines and R. S. Hall; centre, J. Sleighthoim; wings, L. MacGregor and D. Sleighthoim; alternates, R. Skinner, D. Dowson and C. Sleighthoim.

Lindsay Vics—Goal N McClory, defence, E. Reeves and H. Pervey, centre, G. Marlin; wings, L. Williams and C. Rich; alternates, R.

First Play Off Here To-Night

First Of Games For Section Leadership With Strong Markham Team Should Be Best Yet

And the Vics came through with a win.

And that game was good enough for any man's town. And tonight's exhibition promises to be every bit as good.

For the Vics having bit their sticks will be doing their best to make up for the two games they dropped to Markham in the regular schedule, and the Markham squad will be trying just as hard to add another win to their list. And what better hockey could you ask for a good game than that. Markham has a mighty strong team with Ressor and Hare making a nice defence. Crawley, Prentice and Clendenning teaming well on the forward line, a smart goalie in Thuss and strong reserves.

They play a tricky style of hockey and never say "quit" until the last whistle has gone. The Vics on the other hand have never been noted for their "giving-up" qualities and they will have no one to blame but themselves if they seem to have improved greatly in their last games. Tonight's game will be with McClory in the nets; Fever and Reeves on the defence; Martin, Williams and Rich, on the forward line and Carlton, Dames and Forbert as reserves they will be no setup for any team.

Should Be Close

All the locals need is a little more finish around the nets and they are not going to be any means, no team ever is, but if they will only keep their feet on the ground and play the game as they are capable of—everything will be "jakes" They will, at least, let Markham know that they have played a hockey game. And with regard to tonight's game, from the contest promised there should be no trouble in picking the old rink to the doors. The Vics are playing nice hockey and they deserve the support of the fans in this must important game.

And if you have any doubts at all about the form of the locals they are displaying just ask any one of the 600 fans who left the rink talking to themselves" after Saturday's game. They were satisfied that they had received their money's worth and more and that should be book tonight with a friend. Remember with the section championship at stake, and both teams being up as nearly matched as these are there can't help but be a game that will please even the most rabid fan. So forget the friendship and book for tonight and be on hand at 8.30 when the game is scheduled to go on.

Forbert, J. Crafton and J. Dames.

Referee—A. W. Armstrong, Oshawa

Started Off Fast

From the first face-off it looked as though the game would be fast and the start was carried through the game. Both teams broke to quick order for shots at the goalies. Williams, for the locals then got a couple of nice shots at Sleighholm and Port Perry came right back when Raines put a beauty at McClory who was there to record with a fine save. For the first few minutes play was in favour of Port Perry and was mostly in the Lindsay end of the rink. Dames missed a couple of laughers and beat right the pace up and down. Ethel Port Perry came up and for a couple of minutes kept McClory busy with their shots from close in. With about five minutes to go Rich grabbed the old lost-love near his own blue line and stick-handled his way through the whole team to get in close for the first local goal, and send the crowd wild. A minute after DeShane did the same to put Lindsay a goal to the good. Raines came right back when Hall got in on McClory who made a clever save on the play. Port rushed and with Hall and Fever in the penalty box for tripping.

Marlin Scores Pretty

Coming out for the second both teams were playing a man short. Lindsay forwards worked on a combination effort but DeShane raved, and a minute later McClory saved a nice one when MacGregor and Sleighthlm walked right in on him. The locals were dominating the play and were working in on troublous efforts, only to find Deshane in their way. Sleighthlm, at centre, was working up some enviy for Port and breaking up Lindsay attacks before they were formed. and then he took the puck to lead some dangerous raids on the Lindsay end which kept "Cooter" plenty busy.

On several occasions Port's men walked right in on him but were put-passed. John Fever was charged for an accidental trip, and Rich playing shifted centre-ice on another of his solo-rushes, succeeded in taking Jaunts, and beat Deshane on a shot through a tangle of legs in front of the net. Just after this "Greeny" was hurt twisting his knee in a fall to the ice and Dames went on. Port Perry was making desperate efforts to tie it up but nice defensive work, hard checking and McClory's work in the nets frustrated all their tries.

Plenty of Action

Then came the third period with no diminution of all previous efforts to even the score. Port Perry was working in, as Lindsay was a man short, and McClory had plenty to do from shots close in. Then Lindsay started an attack and on one of these excursions goalward Fever, and Hall charged and both drew two minutes in the melee for fighting. Lindsay was dominating the play, and then Greeny Williams drew a penalty for a minor offence and Port swarmed up again, to be turned back by the defence and McClory. With two men short Lindsay forwards were stealthy like fools to even the play, and certainly hard. They gave Port Perry Shane plenty to do and shortly after he come back Fever slipped the puck past Deshane for Lindsay's third score.

Time the visitors put four men up to accomplish the job of getting a goal and though they did get plenty of shots McClory was equal to them all playing sensational hockey as he turned them to potential goals time after. They were coming in from every angle for awhile but their lineup got their checking organized again and kept the Ports back in their own end, and the defence handed out body-checks galore in breaking up attacks. The period ended with Port Perry still in dangerously close and still setting some touch ones go, and there was no a fan who was not mightily relieved to hear the final gong and see the locals out of with a shutout by a 3-to-0 score.

THANK MERCHANTS

On Saturday night when Port Perry played here, notwithstanding the cold weather, the Vics played to a crowd of 600—the largest of the season. Much of this was due to many of the merchants closing their stores at nine o'clock to gave their staffs a chance to see the game Their action was a generous one, and one that is much appreciated by the executive of the intermediate hockey club.

35TH YEAR VOL NO. 22 LINDSAY, ONTARIO TUESDAY, JANUARY 27TH, 1931 ESTABLISHED 1895 3 CENTS PER COPY,

REEVE ELLIOTT IS WARDEN OF COUNTY

Electricity Is Cheap In Lindsay

Rates Compare Favorably With Those Prevalent In Toronto; Cheaper Per H.P. Here

THIRD RATES SAME

At a special meeting of the local Hydro Commission yesterday afternoon, it was found that $587.33 more was spent for power in December than the same month in 1929, and 117 h.p. more used. The peak last month amounted to 1773 h.p. and cost of the power amounted to $5,-706.85 as compared with 1655 h.p. and $5,519.33 of the preceding month.

To explain the new rate that has been introduced to the Toronto public in the last week or so, and how it compares with that in force in Lindsay at the present time, the following is issued by the Commission for the benefit of the local public:

Last week the Toronto Press announced a 17 1-2 per cent. reduction in the city power rates. This proposed reduction applies only to the third rate, and is available to long hour users.

The present rates in Toronto as listed in the Hydro Arbitration Award are as follows:

Service charge $1.25 per h.p. per month for the first 10 h.p., and $1. per h.p. for all additional power. Lindsay's rate in comparison with this is $1.00 per h.p. service charge for all power.

Toronto's metre rate is 1.5 cents for the first 50 hours used per month, and 75 cents for the second 50 hours used, and .40 cents for all the additional power. It is in this .40 cents that the reduction takes place making it .33 cents the same as Lindsay's third rate. Lindsay's first and second rates are 1.6 for the first 50 hours and 1 for the second making Lindsay's present rate compare very favorably with that of Toronto.

This favorable rate was secured last year through the representative of the Lindsay Commission.

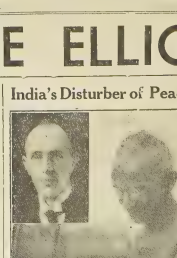
India's Disturber of Peace Released



Mahatma Gandhi, the so-called "Savior of India" who has been kicking his heels in an Indian jail since his last May, is to be released this week with many other political prisoners. The Maharajah of Patiala (lower inset) at the India Round Table Conference, requested the British Government to consider releasing some of these political prisoners, and Lord Irwin (top, inset) gave the necessary permission this week. The picture above of Mahatma Gandhi shows him in typical attitude squatting before a spinning wheel.

J. O'Reilly Remembers Some Early Councils

He Is Only Man Living Of Those Who Sat On Lindsay Councils In 1901 And 1902

WANTS MORE HISTORY

To The Editor of The Post:

Dear Sir: Having read Mr. A. Horn's recollection of 30 years ago, Mr. Horn will pardon me if I point out he has his dates a little mixed. I know he will when he recall: that he and a friend of his, Mr. N. Smith, has called on me in 1900 wanting me to become a candidate for councillor, which I did the following year, in 1901.

The council in 1901 was made up as follows: George Ingle, mayor, John Hore, Richard Touchburn, Alex. Jackson, William Robson, D. Sinclair and John O'Reilly. There was no reeve or deputy-reeve then. They were called commissioners and represented districts. The council contained seven in all. It will be noted by the above list I am the only one of the 1901 council left in this Vale of Tears.

In 1902 Sinclair was Mayor George Ingle, Dr. Burrows, Alex Jackson, D. Sinclair, John Hore, F. A. McCrea and J. O'Reilly. The same holds good here. I being an only child, I guess that is way I am left of the 1902 council.

In 1903 you will notice a big upset. "New blood and new fire ball," was the cry, and the population of Lindsay called for one more member, and so J. H. Southern was mayor and the others were William McMaster, Jas. Mason, Joseph Maunder, James Storer, Richard Robinson, John McCrae and J. O'Reilly. Of course, Jas. Glendinning and John McCrae and John O'Reilly are the only kickers left, and by the way John McCrae ran, but I think he went to the people he has more kick in him than the others.

Mr. Alex. you will have to step back a few years to bring in Cradolbe and Mallon and no reporter or about a few years for the same results. However, Mr. Horn, I was pleased indeed to read letter of yours. I like to see new and councils, and in regard to those who are dead and gone to a better place, I'm not afraid to say Mr. A man in the council not even Ben McLean, but thought that he was doing the best for the town as a body.

I better shut off the gas for the time being, so, Alex, excuse me for this once more. It's history for those of the present.

Yours truly,
JOHN O'REILEY

LAKEHEAD DELEGATION

Morrigan, Chairman of the Finance Committee, has left for Toronto to take up the unemployment question and the closing down of the Abitibi Pulp Company's mill, which they had been looked, so the future inebriated soldiers will be locked in the county jail which is built stronger. The soldiers blamed only Township civilians for breaking up the police setup in Cobalt.

FENELON IS LOSER BY 4-0 TO 'CAYGEON

JUNIOR O.H.A. GAME PROVES EXCITING BUT DOESN'T ALTER STANDING OF LEAGUE.

BOCAYGEON, Jan. 27—(Staff Correspondence)—The Bocaygeon Juniors finally broke the jinx that has been over them all winter, by defeating Fenelon Falls 4 to 0 last night. The first period opened fast with Cayseon carrying the play to Fenelon, and after seven minutes of play Conway beat the goalie with a beautiful shot from Wright.

A minute and a half later, Conway and Wright, with good combination, slick handled their way past the defense, for the second tally in the game by Conway on

Former Rugby Player Talks At Local Rotary Luncheon

J. M. Breen, Speaks on Cement, However Explaining How It Is Made, It Uses and Importance In Construction.

PLAYED WITH ART CAREW

Mr. J. M. Breen, Engineer, Canada Cement Company, and attached to the Publicity Department of that firm, was the guest speaker at the local Rotary Club at their weekly luncheon yesterday. Widely and more familiarly known as "Joe" on account of his association with the rugby team of Western University as coach of the squad of that college, Mr. Breen delivered a splendid address on Portland Cement to an appreciative audience, in which he explained the process of manufacture of this nationally known product, its numerous uses, and importance in construction of various kinds.

Guests at the luncheon were almost as plentiful as members, and were as follows: Messrs Campbell and Dunseath, of Toronto, friends of the speaker; Tom Dutton of Peterboro Rotary Club and Messrs A. Dickinson, O. Hall, J. Klingsborough, J. Wilford, H. Wilford, Cooke, Breese, B. McLean, and F. Nugent, all of Lindsay.

Introduced by President James Mackey, Mr. Breen, a bachelor, member of Varsity rugby squad, and a former team-mate of Art Carew of town, gave a brief and interesting sketch of his work with the Western gridmen. Although having been in coaching game for only two years, Mr. Breen has developed his team from an inexperienced one to that of its last year's standing, in which, although only two games were won

PETERBORO POLICEMAN ARRAIGNED

Ex-Constable Doesn't Enter Plea But Chief Of Police Says He Has Confessed.

PETERBORO, Jan. 27—Standing in the prisoner's box into which he had escorted so many others in the past ten years, Leonard Matthews, erstwhile constable of the Peterboro police department, heard himself arraigned in police court yesterday on eleven charges of burglary involving the sum of $1,979.50.

Through his counsel Alexander S. Elliott of Gordon and Elliott, accused did not elect or plead, and assented to a committment on the evidence of one witness in each case.

Regarded by his fellow citizens as an efficient and fearless officer the charges against Mathews caused a stir of public interest such as has seldom been shown in this city previously. Long before the doors leading up to the public portion of the court were thrown open, a large crowd had congregated and many were unable to gain admittance.

The accused, attired in a neat blue serge suit, walked from the cells escorted by one of his comrades. His face was pale and tense and large beads of sweat stood out on his forehead as all the formalities of the law were carried out.

The eleven charges, the first of which dates back to January 4th, 1929 in the order in which they were taken by the Police Magistrate, are as follows:

Breaking and entering the office of W. H. Bradburn, George street, on or about the 4th day of January, 1929 and stealing the sum of

Sinclair Retained To Fight For Better Train Service

W.E.N. Sinclair, K.C., M.P.P., Will Ask For Better Service On Whitby—Port Perry—Lindsay Branch.

MEET THIS THURSDAY

OSHAWA, Jan. 27—W. E.N. Sinclair, K.C., M.P.P., barrister of this city, has been retained to present, on behalf of the municipalities interested, argument before the Board of Railway Commissioners sitting in the town hall at Whitby next Thursday morning, argument against the proposed curtailment of service on the Whitby-Port Perry and Lindsay branch of Canadian National Railways. This action was decided on at a meeting held in the Port Perry town hall recently under the auspices of the Port Perry Board of Trade with representatives present from the Oshawa Chamber of Commerce, Whitby and Pickering Association, Whitby township, Port Perry and Manchester. Citizens of Orono and the district served by the Whitby-Orono-Port Hope branch of the C.N.R. will take it upon themselves to present claims before the Railway Commission for the retention of a daily service on that line, while of course sections through which the two branches operate are equally sympathetic with the aims of each other.

Need For Serious Effort

The need for making a serious effort for the retention of a daily train service on the line was emphasized by Dr. Kaiser, who, with C. C. Jeffrey, of Port Perry, was largely instrumental in persuading

MEETING OF 1ST UNITED Y.P. SOCIETY

MR. COWKE, OF THE L.C.I., IS CHIEF SPEAKER AT MEETING OF YOUNG PEOPLE'S SOCIETY

The regular meeting of the Young People's Society of First United Church was held on Monday evening. The program, which was in charge of Miss Ruth White, vice-president of the Literary Department and her committee, was of a very interesting nature.

After the usual opening services had been conducted and the business discussed, Mrs. Ina Willock read the Scripture Lesson. Current events were reviewed by Mr. Melville Anderson in a very interesting manner. Miss White then called on Mr. Cowke of the L.C.I. staff as the chief speaker of the evening.

Mr. Cowke had chosen "The Life of George Frederick Handel," the German musical composer, as the subject of his very interesting talk.

Miss Ida Brown, accompanied by Miss Ida Taylor then sang a very pleasing solo. Miss Ruth White read an interesting paper which had been prepared by Miss Ida Taylor on the life and work of the celebrated musician Frederic Chopin, after which Miss Taylor rendered the charming waltz in C sharp minor by Chopin.

After a vote of thanks had been tendered to Mr. Cowke a musical contest conducted by Miss Myrtle Graham was enjoyed and the meeting closed with the Misprah Benediction.

Women On Fair Board

In Oshawa, we see, five women have been added to the Fair Board, and this is being greeted as a wise move. In Lindsay last year, the Agricultural Society broke new ground in appointing several lady directors, and the good results of this action could be seen by the great improvement in women's exhibits. Lindsay fair proved to be more interesting to women last year than ever before. The ladies' section of the main building was the most attractive it has ever been and the several contests staged under the supervision of the lady directors contributed largely to the success of the fair. It is to be hoped that Oshawa has the same success with its lady directors.

Concerning the appointment, the Oshawa Times says:

"The South Ontario Agricultural Society broke new ground the other day at its annual meeting, as which, for the first time in its history, it elected five women as associate directors to form part of the fair board. The decision to take this step was made so unanimously that one could not help feeling surprised that it was not taken years ago.

"The women of South Ontario have a definite and important part to play in the success of the Oshawa Fair. They provide a large proportion of its exhibits, so it seems only natural that they should have something to say about the arrangements for their part of the annual exhibition. It was apparent, from the representations which were made to the meeting, that the time had arrived for breaking new ground as far as the women's section of the fair was concerned, and the logical step, after that had been conceded, was to invite the women to join in the work of planning the program for the next fair.

"There need be no fear of the ability nor the willingness of the women to lend valuable service in this connection. Why, this kind of work comes as second nature to many women. They like to make things look attractive, to arrange things tastefully and so that they will be shown to the best advantage, and, in addition to that, they have, when occasion demands, shown themselves to be excellent organizers. All of these things will be very useful to the fair board, and the directors can feel satisfied that they were acting in the best interests of their society when they decided to allow representatives of the feminine sex a place on their directorate."

Driving Across Canada

The Canadian motorist who tried, and failed, to drive from Halifax to Vancouver by an all-Canadian route, has gone back to Montreal for medical treatment. He demonstrated that although the northern section of Ontario may be wonderful scenically speaking, it is a "flop" from the motorists' standpoint. His failure will likely confirm the opinion of some "Americans" that Canadians are an undivided race who don't even know how to play bridge; but the attempt will draw increased interest to the Bennett Government's promise of a trans-Canada highway. Speaking of this ill-advised attempt to motor across Ontario in winter, The Toronto Globe says:

Better courage than judgment has been displayed by Mr. Healy F. Needham in his effort to drive from Montreal to Vancouver during autumn and winter. Faced with insurmountable difficulties, and seized finally by serious illness, he has returned to Montreal for treatment. Needham had followed the Northern route through Northern Ontario, and on approaching the unbroken western forest, headed southwesterly from Hearst toward Lake Nipigon, hoping to speed over the sixty miles of ice where no roads existed.

A motor road across Canada has been the dream of adventurous drivers for many years. It has been a humiliation that Canadians could cross the continents only by travelling part of the distance through another country. One of the promises of the Bennett Government was that an all-Canadian highway would be completed. A long controversy as to the route to be taken through Northern Ontario left the decision on that point yet to be made by some unrevealed Solomon.

Much has been said of the crossing of Africa and other undeveloped parts of the world by pioneer motorists and aviators. The difficulties of driving across Canada remind us that the Dominion is still largely undeveloped, when its total area is considered. Desirable as it is that the country be crossed from east to west, the hazards of the North in winter cannot be overlooked, no matter how resourceful and courageous the driver."

The United States' Wealth

Some most interesting details concerning the wealth of the United States have been given by the Vancouver Sun. It has been comparing the accumulation and diminution of the world since 1800. At that time Great Britain led with 40 billion, Germany followed with 38 billion, France 35 billion and United States 30 billion.

By 1900 the standing of those four powers was: United States 65 billion; Great Britain 53 billion, Germany 50 billion, France 43 billion.

From 1900 until 1913 the world enjoyed tremendous industrial development, England in particular had a tremendous trade with her dominions and with Asia and India, while United States enjoyed internal industrial development.

Before the war trumpets sounded in 1914 the wealth standing of those four powers was United States 100 billions., Great Britain 75 billion, Germany 65 billion, France 50 billion.

What United States won out of the war and out of the ten years' internal and external trade which followed Britain's war debts settlements in 1928, is best told in the standing of world wealth in 1929. United States had 200 billion, Great Britain 90 billion, Germany 80 billion, France 60 billion, Canada 30 billion.

These figures are particularly timely, coming as they do at a time when the question of the war debts is becoming a bitter one, and is likely to become very much more bitter if steps be not taken to put the debts upon and equitable basis—Stratford Beacon-Herald.

FOOD IN HEALTH AND SICKNESS

Perhaps you wonder why health writers talk so much about food. And yet when you think about it, from the human standpoint food is the most important thing in life. It not only supplies the material to give energy, but it becomes a part of every cell in the body.

And so just as farmers have found that certain foods are necessary to produce sound hardy animals, so have research men learned that human beings can be strengthened or weakened according to the kinds of food eaten.

Now the mistake that was made a few years ago was trying to induce people to eat so much of each food daily.

As you know, you disliked having to try and remember what you had for breakfast, lunch and dinner so as to make sure you got certain foods in definite amounts each day. Eating should be a real pleasure, a joy, in fact, and having to watch practically every mouthful took all pleasure and joy away.

If you are in ordinary health all you need to remember is that some ra- "food and some green food should be eaten daily. Eat everything you like—bread, butter, meat, vegetables—but add some fruit and green stuff and you need think no further about your diet.

But what about the people who are not well?

There is no question but that in certain ailments, food is the most important point in the treatment. Just as it has been discovered that the starchy foods—bread and potatoes—must be cut down in diabetes, so also in cases of high blood pressure, heart disease, chronic stomach and intestinal ailments must the diet be carefully watched.

Dr. L. Langstroth, San Francisco, investigated the cases of patients suffering with above ailments, and introduced into their diet a large percentage of "protective" foods, rich in vitamins—eggs, milk, fruit vegetables, and especially lettuce. A diet containing 70 percent. of these foods was given in the above 500 cases. Of this number 73 percent were much improved or greatly relieved. There was an improvement in body weight, skin, and muscle appearance, showing that food and food only, was responsible for these changes.

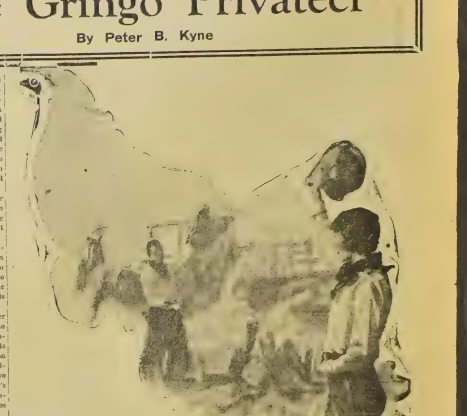
"The Gringo Privateer"

By Peter B. Kyne



When Ken Burney called very briefly to say good-bye to her she could scarcely restrain her tears until his departure.

SYNOPSIS:

Kenneth Burney, adventurer and one-time gentleman, comes to Bradley Bardin, King of the cattle country, for a job. Burney had had a fight with Martin Bruce, a rival cattle owner who has been stealing the King's stock, aided by Miguel Gallegos a Mexican bandit. The King liking young Burney, makes him general manager of the ranch on condition that he put Bruce and Gallegos out of the way.

Muriel Bardin, beautiful daughter of the King, is more interested in Burney than she cares to admit. She opposes her father and begs him not to let Burney risk his life.

But Burney's plans are made. After an encounter with Bruce, in which the cattle thief swears to kill him, young Burney prepares to leave for El Cajon Bonita where the rustlers have been operating. He is determined to shoot it out.

The King sees that his daughter is in love with Burney and tries to persuade the latter to give his dangerous mission. But Burney insists on finishing his job. At El Cajon Bonita he meets Gallegos the Mexican bandit. Gallegos with two hundred followers, charges Burney's band of picked riders. He is repulsed with many losses, but Gallegos himself escapes.

CHAPTER 37

The king was a man constitutionally unable to accept a dare. Without force, high courage and a certain amount of ruthlessness he never would have attained his present position in the world of cattle and finance. . . . ever having known a moment of weakness in an emergency, his heart beat high now with pride and admiration for Ken Burney. True, the boy still had another right before him, but judging by the masterly manner in which he had inflicted such a crushing defeat upon Gallegos, the king was singularly free from worry as to the outcome of the second and final battle. But what did not greatly please him, however, was the manner in which his daughter had received this hired man of all men. Evidently, while Burney continued to kill in self-defense, the Princess would continue to regard him as a gentleman.

While he stood with his back toward the young people the was at the sideboard mixing the cocktails, his old eyes wide open for what they had to say. Ken Burney was drawing the princess a map of the Gallegos country, preparing her on the value of preparedness. "If I hadn't provided good rifles, sighted up to a thousand yards, if I hadn't trained my men to shoot expertly at that range, and if I hadn't made a careful plan of campaign and stood by that plan to the last," the king heard him say, "there would have been a different tale to tell. Gallegos is neither a strategist nor a tactician, but he's a fighter. He's not afraid to come on and he must have grand qualities of leadership, otherwise, his rabble would not have followed him. He would have overwhelmed my ordinary force of double the number I possessed."

"By crickery; you're right—if you do admit it yourself," the king soliloquized. "Ken my boy, you're a good man and you know you're good. Muriel calls your admission of the fact self-conceit, but you and I know it's self-esteem and no man without that quality is worth two boots in a fight—where there's a big job to be done—if he could be induced to forget that other girl—if Muriel will put her hand well and land him—hell I'm old and need a rest—damnation! Why must my baby be unlucky enough to fall in love with a man who can never reciprocate—poor Muriel. And it's all my fault."

Well, that was a pleasant dinner party—at least insofar as Ken Burney and the princess were concerned. Despite the heat and the burdens of the day Mr. Burney was quite fresh and bubbling over with the joy of living. After dinner he went to the ranch office where he slept and brought back his jews-harp and harmonica; he whistled and played and sang; he told stories intimitably and to the music of his whistling he taught the princess two dances the world had forgotten before she was born, so wit, the mazurka and the schottische.

The king was far from enjoying this intimacy in the young people. "Thank God you don't do tricks with cards," he growled irritably, "I don't think I could stand that."

To his signal relief Burney did not stay later than half past nine. He could not forget that he had to complete his contract and he on his way, for up in Harney county, Oregon, old Dan Wilkins was holding fifteen thousand head of cattle for his inspection and time was the essence of the contract. Moreover, he realized that any slip in his plans for the foray into El Cajon Bonita might be fatal—and he desired the telephone booth in the hall.

"Good-evening, Mr. Bruce," he announced gravely.

"That you, Burney?"

"Yes."

"Martin Bruce speaking. I got cidedly. "Wait a minute son, till I get on it, I want to listen in."

"There's another extension line in the butler's pantry," the princess announced. "I think I'll do some listening in myself."

"A minute passed, then Burney heard the telephone booth in the hall.

"Good evening, Mr. Bruce," he announced gravely.

"That you, Burney?"

"Yes."

"Martin Bruce speaking. I got your wire. An' I been hearin' a lot of your loose conversation about me. You still sure you're goin' to be down in El Cajon Bonita Thursday, or was that just talk?"

"I'll be there. I give you my word of honor I will."

"Good news. How about that horse you promised to sell me? You'll be dead or leavin' the country by Friday—an' you promised to turn over the bill o' sale an' the delivery order to the bank the day before of the five played, the worst defeat suffered was that of 5 points to 1. His system he said, was to let the players develop themselves, so that they may find out just what they can do, and then introduce team play and have them working together.

Perland Cement, the topic of the speaker, contained many interesting facts concerning the uses, value and cost of this important building material. Cement, he said, in a very crude form of course, was discovered thousands of years ago. Evidences of this is found in the pyramids of the Pharaon, that still stand almost intact after hundreds of years of wear.

Later the Roman builders discovered a cement that they used extensively in their colonizating operations. Many of the old walls and viaducts built by them are still standing, and go to show that cement and concrete are among the strongest materials available today as it was then. The Romans were also the first to discover a formula by which cement could be set under water.

For ten centuries, the secret of the Roman Cement was lost, and it was not until the end of the eighteenth century that England and French scientists re-discovered it. In 1824 Portland Cement was discovered by Joseph Ashton.

After carefully explaining the manufacturing process of cement in which the materials are mixed together, ground up, baked and the clinker re-ground, Mr. Brent gave a few figures to show the extent that concrete is being used in the construction of highways.

At the present time, there are 3,000 miles of concrete pavements in the province and from 200 to 275 miles are being laid annually. The amount of concrete pavement far exceeds that of any other type, and the cost per mile, also, in the fact that concrete pavement, for the first ten years after it is put down, besother forms of construction materials rising stronger each year, while are directly the opposite, as they weaken each year, although the decline may be very slow. Concrete roadways, it is estimated will last from 30 to 50 years with practically no reconditioning. The cost of such pavements is roughly $2.00 a square yard.

The vote of thanks to Mr. Breen on behalf of the Club was very ably moved by Mr. F. R. Wilford.

Printed Frocks are Popular

Now is the time to begin picking up gems in the way of printed frocks. For, however, attractive they are, the printed models somehow the first editions of the spring manage to be the most interesting. Because they appear gradually among the solid color frocks, prints seem to have more charm.

New features of printed dresses are short sleeves and round or square necklines. The model pictured is a one-piece made with a peplum in simulation of the over-blouse, edged with pleating having battlement scallops, the same detail carried out in the skirt hemline, at the neck and sleeve edges.

Irregular edges, the sawtooth and shaker finish are among the most effective treatments in the elaboration of printed materials. In lieu of hard lines finished by piping or binding, the scallops or the sawtooth edge brings out the printed motif to better advantage.

More and more print is given a lace jabot and a bit of lace at the sleeve edges as a contrast note or, feminine order of things in effect of making the wearer look prettier.

Another trimming note is the diaphanous collar of white organdie or white georgette, but after so many months of lingering beneath the heavy winter woolen hand work as the finish, after the fashion of the model shown here is far more refreshing.

The coloring of spring prints in pure dye silks is very lovely—as witness a model in which flower design on black is a background for a larger floral motif in apple green superimposed. The simple and secondary design reduces the value of the larger pattern, at the same time giving animation to the contrasting shade.

If you plan to wear large florals in printed frocks for daytime they will be much newer looking either in this manner than if a design of two or more tones or colors is splashed on a plain background.

Fenelon Is Loser By 4-0

Wright's pass. The second period opened, with the Fenelon team badly disorganized by the fury of Clayreon's attack, and did not seem able to get pass the hard back-checking of the Oshawa forwards the third counter was caged by Stan Nichols by a brilliant rush, from behind his own nets; outpassing the Fenelon forwards, he stick handled his way past the defense to beat the goalie by a wide margin. The locals were continually hammering at Fenelon Goal, and only for the clever work of goalie Jewell they would have been swamped by a deluge of scoring. The third period opened with Fenelon on the aggressive and only the brilliant work of Nichols stopped them from scoring the last tally was made by Percy Johnson, getting a pass out of a scramble in the corner.

The defense of the Fenelon team was weak, and they felt the absence of one of their best men, Johnson. The back-checking was not as vicious as in previous games, although Fenelon's defenders at centre had to be watched continuously Jewell didn't have much chance, on any of the four that beat him and turned aside a number of dangerous rushes.

The Clayreon team finally woke up to the fact that they had to play as a team in order to win games If they had realized this earlier in the game they would no doubt have been in the play-out. Everyone on the team passed the puck and made neat-at Fenelon players off their feet.

Everyman on the team turned in a star game, with Wright, Conway and Nichols outstanding. The supremacy of the locals was not threatened in the 60 minutes of play.

The largest crowd of this season turned out and witnessed the locals decided victory. Fenelon had had many supporters who voted lustily for them.

Referee Thorndyke of Manilla proved himself a capable O.H.A. referee, having the game well in hand, during all three periods. A few of his decisions were questioned, but the inquisitors found that he backed every decision with vigor.

Fenelon Falls:—Goal, Jewell; defence, Kelly and Munro; centre Fountain; wings, Armstrong, Deyman; subs, Hendrixon, Littleton.

Bobcaygeon—Goal, Nichols; defence, Johnson and Nicholls; centre, Conway; wings Wright and Kelso; subs, Johnson, Kehon and Gordon.

Titanic Struggle For Press Title Tonight

WHILE LAST NIGHT might have been the big test for the intermediates the title game is as midday compared to the titanic struggle which is scheduled to take place tonight when the link-between dailies of The Post and The Warder meet in the first inter-shop competition of the year. Even the editorial staffs have been pressed into service. This we think is a grave error—for the only weapon editors know are a pair of shears or a paste-pot, and their injection will doubtless make for a lot of cutting and pasting when the contest takes place. And there will probably be enough of that without adding to the carnage. Believing that this title will uncover a lot of Howie Morenzes in the rough—very many—some pro scouts have been tipped off and will be here. The climate of the town agrees with their friend, but at press-time a new ruling came from headquarters that no lead pigs, side sticks, or proof-mallets would be allowed. The referee has been a subject of much contention and it is just possible that they will get along without one. Starting at ten and continuing until (?) it should be a dandy.

Yearly Meet Of Oakwood Church

OAKWOOD, Jan. 26 (Staff Correspondence)—A very successful congregational meeting was held in the school room of the Oakwood United Church with Rev. R. H. Rickard in the chair. Mr. F. G. Perrin was appointed secretary for the evening. After the minutes of the last meeting were read and adopted, Mr. Will Widdis, treasurer of the church, reported finances to be in good shape. Mr. Frank Rich, secretary of the Women's Association, reported a balance on hand after redecorating the basement of the church and two rooms of the parsonage although receipts were not quite so many as much less than usual. Mrs. Elford reporter a successful year in the W.M.S. also in the Y.W.A. Mrs. (Rev.) Rickard reported for the Mission Band and Mrs. Noble Hicks for the baby band.

Reports for the S. S. were given by the treasurer, Mr. James Burns, and by some of the teachers and secretaries of the organized classes. While the S. S. could not report all of the expenses paid, their finances were in better shape than a year ago. The school has an efficient and faithful staff who are doing good work, particularly in some of the organized classes.

Miss Lizzie Harcus, Secretary of the choir resigned for that body. A hearty clapping of the hands was given by the congregation to show their appreciation of the work of the choir, leader, Mr. Wilbur Lane and the organist Mrs. Lane.

The treas. of the M. and M. fund, Mrs. George Bell, reported that we were away below our allocation. She felt if there were a move general use of M. and M. half of our duplex envelopes. This fund would be looked after much easier.

A general discussion followed the reports and the congregation were urged to use both parts of the duplex envelopes regularly.

Three Years Or Life

There was also a discussion on whether the elders should be elected for a three year term or for life. It was decided to rescind the motion of last year which read they were to be elected for life and confined to a three year term. The election of elders and stewards followed and while ballots were being counted a brief musical program was given, mouth-organ selection by Harvey Graham with Mrs. Richard Graham, piano, an instrumental trio and Orion Rich at the piano and a piano solo by Miss Helen Webster A.T.C.M. The Women's Association served sandwiches, cake and tea and brought a very happy and profitable evening to a close.

Friends of Miss Ila Walters are very sorry to report she is in the Ross Memorial hospital. Lindsay

Timely Tips

Rubbing the mirrors or windows with a flannel cloth moistened with spirits of camphor will remove stains in a jiffy.

The fruit juices instead of water for some of the ice cubes in the electric refrigerator. They look pretty in lemonade or any fruit beverage and the lemon cubes are delicious in tea.

Use one of those fancy little tea-pots instead of a pitcher or carafe and serve ice water. Guests can order lemon, cut and dice and the content can drink more easily from the spout without danger of spilling the water.

Sinclair Retained To Fight For Better Train Service

the railway company to postpone the operation of its new schedule providing for three north bound trains a week and three southbound trains. It was also through the efforts of these two gentlemen that the card of Railway Commissioners is meeting in Whitby on Thursday to hear new evidence entered to proposed reduction in the schedule.

Deserves Consideration

It was pointed out by the former member of parliament admitted, that the Whitby, Port Perry and Lindsay branch line is not paying, but he pointed out that neither were any branch lines paying throughout the country and that as the railroad is publicly owned this district is at least entitled to some consideration.

A Serious Matter

The proposals of the railway company are a serious matter to Ontario county. Dr. Kaiser believed and he urged that a large representation be present from every municipality of Ontario when the Board of Railway Commissioners meet at Whitby, Thursday morning. Oshawa was anxious to lend its support he declared.

Reeve Robert Somerville, of Port Perry, then called upon Fred Bowman, M.P., of Durham, who briefly commented upon the situation along the Whitby-Orono-Port Hope line. If the Railway Commission did not see fit to order the railway company to maintain a daily service on the line, then an appeal might be made to the privy council, he said.

Schedule Criticized

The operation of trains on the Whitby-Orono-Port Hope branch was strongly criticized by Mr. Waddell, of Orono, who claimed that the schedule was not arranged to meet the needs of the district and that the railway company did not even try to keep its coaches in good condition. The cars were generally dirty and in the winter they were poorly heated. He did not believe that the branch line was given any credit if a car load of freight was shipped from Vancouver to Orono by the fact that Orono was on the branch line insured this business for the C.N.R. for otherwise the freight would likely be brought by another railroad and trucked into the village.

C. C. Jeffrey

For years the railways company has not given this district adequate service. C. C. Jeffrey, of Port Perry contended. At the time the schedule was so arranged that business men residing at Port Perry or any point north of the line could make good connections at Whitby for Toronto, spend several hours in the city and return the same day, making good connections again at Whitby by Jct. for Port Perry. Lately, however, the railway company has not tried to accommodate itself to the needs of the district but has operated its schedule in such a way that people found it more convenient to travel by bus.

When the line was built by private enterprise 60 years ago, the municipalities through which it operated, raised a bonus of approximately $150,000 Mr. Jeffrey said, for this reason he believed the company should not be allowed to deprive the district of an adequate service.

In order to relain a daily service at less expense to the company, Mr. Jeffrey suggested a change in schedule involving a number of branch lines throughout Central Ontario.

C.N.R. Criticized

Severe criticism of the attitude taken by the C.N.R. was offered by F. L. Benson, vice-president of the Oshawa Chamber of Commerce. It seemed to him that the action of the railroad company practically load the card of Railway Commissioners is meeting in Whitby on Thursday to hear new evidence entered to proposed reduction in the schedule.

"Where are you now?"

"In Hunchita."

"Very well. I suppose you'd desire to be well-mounted when you ride down to meet me with your gang. Well! I don't blame you. My horse has a running walk that will not jar a man of your age and weight. I'll send a man in Wednesday morning with the horse and the documents."

"Thanks."

"I'll be disappointed if I do not meet you in El Cajon Bonita Mr. Bruce."

Martin Bruce laughed harshly and briefly. "You'll meet me, young feller m'lad. Just called up to make sure you wouldn't disappoint me. Have you made your will?"

"No, but I shall in about half an hour. I'll have that thousand dollars you're paying me for Rowdy to dispose of. Be good to Rowdy, won't you Mr. Bruce? He's a grand horse."

"Don't I know it!"

"Have you made your will, Mr. Bruce?"

"Don't have to. I'm sittin' pretty, provided you don't disappoint me."

"I'm disappoint you. You're going to die and be buried Thursday in El Cajon Bonita. And I'll plant you with your pal, Miguel Gallegos, you dog."

He hung up, strolled out into the living-room, picked up his hat off the piano, bade the king and the princess farewell and disappeared into the night. Nod did he or the king fail to note that the princess was very pale, that her lips trembled and that in her eyes the tears were struggling for egress."

When his footsteps died away the princess flung herself on Nod what is known among her sex as a good cry.

Martin gave Martin Bruce a week in which to mature a plan for campaign, and that was a hard week on the princess. The general's every utterance boded ill fate as he would a pestilence. On Tuesday afternoon she saw Burney saying good-by to her horse and with a handful for both; she knew Rowdy would be delivered to Martin Bruce on Wednesday morning. Rowdy was her horse, like his late master, might not survive beyond Thursday. And when, after luncheon on Wednesday, Ken Burney rolled out with his little army in motor trucks once more and called very briefly to say good-bye to her and the king in a very jolly and informal manner, she could scarcely restrain her tears until his departure.

"An hour passed and the king could stand her woe no longer. "Now now, honey," he crooned, "nothing is going to happen to the boy. He'll put-fox both factions and he back here tomorrow night as pert as a butcher's dog. He isn't a bit worried."

"I know he isn't. He's an old soldier. He's gone to the assault in a hundred fights. But I'm worried.

"So am I." His Majesty admitted. "But there's nothing we can do but permitting him to do this thing, Dad?"

"The Lord knows I have tried to stop him, honey, and he'll not be stopped. He is obdurate and holds me to my contract—and a verbal contract is as good as one signed in a written one. I offered to make good as I promised, provided he abandoned his end of the deal, but he declined on the ground that he had to win the aid I offered him or forever remain unhappy. He assured me there was no danger to be apprehended for him or his men. He outgamed me. He has me foul. Honey, I can't repudiate my agreement and he will not release me."

May Put On Special Train Service To Markham Tomorrow

WITH THE MOST important game of the season to play tomorrow night when they go to Markham the Vics are going to need plenty of encouragement and W. J. Waite, passenger agent of the C.N.R. is considering adding special train service, for the accomodation of any fans who would like to take the trip, if sufficient interest is shown. The plan is to add one coach for players, and as many others as are required by the fans. This is a real opportunity for local rooters to take in what promises to be the best contest of our current season so if you are interested get in touch with W. J. Waite at the earliest possible convenience. The special coaches will be dropped at Markham and picked up again by the incoming train. The train will probably leave here at 5.32 and should be back in about 1.00 a.m., making a short trip, and one that every fan should take in if at all possible.

COUNTY COUNCIL GETS DOWN TO WORK

Lindsay Will Have 1 Deputy-Reeve Less Starting 1932

Complete Text of Warden's Address Shows on County's Affairs Stand

CONFIDENCE SHOWN

This morning, as is customary, on the second day of the January session Warden John W. Elliott, reeve of Verulam, read his address, the various paragraphs of which will be referred to the appropriate standing committees. Mr. Elliott's address, the text of which follows, is self-explanatory and touches particularly on the sale of debentures, the appointment of the road commission, and the legislation curtailing Lindsay's deputy-reeves to one, to become effective in 1932. He said:

"I desire to express to you my most sincere thanks for the high honour that you have been pleased to bestow on me in electing me to be the very important office of Warden of this County. I wish to assure you that the responsibility and duties associated with it will, at all times, receive the earnest consideration and supervision which you have a right to expect from you as the Head of the Council.

"It is very gratifying to be able to report that the municipal investments have all been disposed of, mostly locally. This, of course, shows confidence in our own County by the local investors, and, in my opinion, should be given every advantage possible.

"The Account for Provincial High way construction and maintenance in the County is not as large as formerly but will require consideration at this Session as to the financing of our portion.

"The Auditor's Reports will be shown in the Home for the Aged Account, but the other two accounts will show small decrease, if any, that the 1930 Road Committee should be commended for the large reduction made in the overdraft from the previous year.

"As you are aware, the various committees are appointed at this Session for the year, but a recent change to be considered is the appointment of the Road System Committee who will be appointed for a term of years instead of annually as heretofore. The Warden now becomes a member of this Committee Ex-officio.

"The Auditor's Report of the County Road System Accounts will be submitted and a resolution will be required in order that they may be forwarded to Toronto and our subsidy received.

"An enactment at the last Session of the Legislature regarding the composition of the County Council so far as Deputy-Reeves are concerned was passed and becomes operative January 1st, 1932. Lindsay will be the only Municipality effected in this County as they will have only one Reeve and one Deputy-Reeve instead of as at present. The Reeve, however, will have two votes at all times.

"Owing to the abnormally serious financial conditions that our Municipalities find themselves in, I feel that it is my duty to urge upon you the necessity of curtailing expenditures wherever possible consistent with progress.

"Many resolutions and documents will be presented for your consideration which will occupy your time very fully."

J. W. Elliott

As a result of the election yesterday the council for the county of Victoria will be this year headed by one of the county's best-known and best-liked citizens, Mr. John W. Elliott, reeve of Verulam township. Although he was not born in this county Mr. Elliott has lived here most of his life and his sweeping victory yesterday indicates his popularity with his fellow councillors. Possessed of a shrewd sense of wit and a keen sense of humour the new warden is no stripping in point of municipal experience. He has been in municipal work for nine years on the township council, and for four years has been on the county body as chairman of the Good Roads Board.

As evidenced in his post-election speech yesterday he is keenly aware of the responsibility his position entails, and realizes that co-operation from the other members will be the most vital factor contributing to his success. With the municipal expenditure in the past year at a high standard and with the financial outlook rather dim this county can boast. He is a firm believer in the future of the county and he when asked yesterday by The Post: "Don't you think Victoria County is a pretty good place to live in?" he replied, "Oh well! Everyone knows that. It's not pretty good, it is the best place to live in. And as for the townships well Verulam is one of the best."

Born in North Monaghan, Peterboro, 56 years ago, the son of James Elliott and Mary McCullum, Victoria's new warden lived there until he was about seven when his family moved to Emily. Here he began farming for himself when he was twenty-five years old, and a year later he was married to Annie McMillan. For a short time he lived in Ops and then moved to Cavan farm where he has been a continuous resident ever since. He has one son, Harold Elliott, also a Verulam farmer.

In religion he is an Anglican. In fraternal work he has been actively connected with the Orange Lodge of the county and township and has been county master, and past master of Dunsford Lodge, L.O.L. No. 1, and of Dunsford R.B.P. 804. In sports he is an enthusiastic curler and is vice-president of the Dunsford Curling Club.

Campaign Of Revolt Continues

Followers of Gandhi Cannot Be Controlled As They Gather Around Leader

WOMAN KILLED IN RUSH

BAMBAY, British India, Jan. 28—Mahatma Gandhi's toothless, unsoldierlike, wraith of a man, sat crosslegged on a stone floor yesterday, serving notice that India's campaign of civil disobedience would continue unabated while outside, a frantic crowd, mad for a glimpse of him, struggled to forestall what a woman was crushed to death.

Wearing a homespun loin-cloth, he sat unperturbed by the excitement in the centre of a circle of newspapermen, an expression of deep melancholy on his ascetic face.

"We can assess the judgment on Prime Minister MacDonald's statement to the Round-Table Conference in London," he said, "when we cannot suspend the activities of the Indian Congress Party."

Foreign Recent Events

Regardless of Premier MacDonald's proposals and of the approaching peace talks with delegates representing the Indian Round Table Conference, he said, all activities of the Nationalists—the boycott on foreign cloth, legislatures and courts, the picketing of shops—will continue.

In a feeble voice almost lost in the clamor of the thousands outside, he gave their emphatic endorsement to last year's resolution of the Congress Party demanding immediate measures for establishment of India's full independence.

His clawlike hands keyed with a burning intensity as he voiced resolution upon the long lines of fanatical devotees which entered the room to touch his knee. As they approached, many common men and women of India prostrated themselves before him as though he were a returned god.

The police were helpless, so great was the mob which had come to see the Mahatma. Women and children were crushed against a wall and trampled. Thirty one others were seriously injured, and the confusion reigned for over fifteen minutes not address the multitude from the balcony of his house.

Two Killed

These were not the only casualties of the day. At Patna, in Bengal, 10,000 natives, celebrating the Nationalist declaration of independence, charged a detachment of police who had arrested several of their number. The police opened fire and five natives were killed.

Speaking excellent English, and weighing scarcely 100 carefully, the little man elaborated the first statement of policy he has made since his release from prison at Yerwada where he spent nearly nine months.

"The decision after our conference with the delegates coming home from the Round Table Conference it is found that no real progress has

R. I. Moore Wouldn't Think Of Separation

Although Town Would Be Better Off Financially He Would Oppose Move

JUST FOR BUSINESS

Editor of "The Post," Town

Sir:—I want to correct an impression which was, given by your reported on a Committee meeting held in the Council Chamber on the 19th of January. The front page of your edition the following day, had a heading "Separation from County." It would appear from this that the matter had been discussed and I feel it is only fair that the matter should be properly explained. The writer did say that we might be better off financially separated from the County, but my further remarks—that I would not think of it—were not got in.

The Mayor suggested that the Finance Committee obtain from the Auditor or Clerk a Statement showing how much money we town pay to the County and how much moneys were received back. This did lead someone to ask the question would we be better to separate from the County, and then there was no reply that we would be better off financially. That was all that was said about the matter and it was expressly stated by the Mayor that the purpose of getting the Statement was from a business standpoint to know where we stood.

I may say that I feel it would be very unfair for the Citizens of Lindsay to even talk of separating from the County. We have got great resistance from the County in building our streets. In maintaining the Courts of Justice in the Town, in providing $50,000.00 towards the new wing for the Hospital, and what is more than dollars and cents is the community spirit, which has developed between the County and the Town.

I feel satisfied that this year's council would not consider separation for a moment.

While I voted to let the reporters come to the Committee meeting, the report of the matter shows that it is a debatable point whether

OSHAWA TO CUT COSTS OF SCHOOLS

CUT OF ABOUT $15,000 IS MADE IN SCHOOL EXPENDITURES, BOARD ANNOUNCES

OSHAWA, Jan. 28—Estimates of the financial requirements for 1931, were placed by the Oshawa Board of Education at $235,000 when the Board met at Collegiate and Vocational Institute. This is a reduction from the estimates of the previous year of approximately $15,000 and roughly speaking represents a saving to the taxpayer of about one mill.

The Board spent several hours meeting in committee of the whole with the finance committee for the purpose of examining all proposed expenditures for the year and in presenting the finance committee's report to the board, Dr. B. A. Brown, chairman, pointed out that an endeavor had been made to pare everything to an absolute minimum. Trustee Roy Mackinnon seconded the motion of Dr. Brown that the report be adopted and the whole board concurred.

The estimate for the collegiate departments of the Oshawa Collegiate and Vocational Institute was placed last night at $33,000 while the estimate for the vocational department was placed at $45,000. A total of $151,000 was estimated for the public schools of the city.

Outside of those which were already scheduled it is understood that the board is not contemplating any salary increases for teachers this year. The fact that a surplus was left over from last year in the operation of the schools, was the main factor in enabling the board to reduce its estimates.

Deputation Received

The co-operation of the Board of Education, together with other bodies of the city, in reducing Oshawa's expenditures was urged by a deputation from the city council including Mayor E. Marks, Ald. P. A. Macdonald, Ald. E. Jackson, Ald. W. Boddy and City Treasurer, P. A. Blackburn.

Peterboro Constable Is Jailed

Will Go To Reformatory For Nine Months; Pleads Guilty On Eleven Counts

OVER TWO YEARS

PETERBORO, Jan. 28—Leonard Matthews with several years outstanding service to his credit on Peterboro City Police Force, yesterday afternoon pleaded guilty before His Honor Judge L. V. O'Connor to eleven counts of breaking and entering and to theft of the total sum of $1,273.50 which the charges during back to January 4, 1929 involve.

"I am not going to sentence you to the Penitentiary," said Judge Sinclair addressing the accused "but the sentence of the Court is that you be committed to the Ontario Reformatory for a period of nine months determinate and for a further indeterminate term of one year."

Great Crowd Present

Bearing witness to the sensation which Matthews' appearance in the frequent discharge from the force and committal for trial had created, the Court House was packed to overflowing, was taxed to capacity. Every seat was occupied and the aisles were crowded with people packed close together. It is estimated that 500 people were present and a like number were probably turned away.

Long before the time fixed for the trial interested citizens began to congregate in the precincts of the Court House and County Jail, and a large crowd stood outside throughout the proceedings.

Matthews, who was committed for trial by Magistrate Langley on the evidence of Police Chief Duncan Newhall in each charge, was afterwards refused bail on application to His Honor Judge E. C. S. Hoyles. Accused then elected for a speedy trial before a County Judge.

His entry into court under the escort of Col. D. Johnson, the governor and jailor Ray, who had just succeeded Wm. Dyer who now is was the signal for a craning of necks and all eyes were centred upon the tall stately figure of the former constable, who occupied the dock, and whose popularity previous to the unfortunate occurrence of which he could not be denied. For ten years he had patrolled the streets of this city and had diligently performed his several arrests in which he had displayed qualities of fearlessness and a high regard for duty.

RUM CREW SAYS GUARD WAS DRUNK

SHORT THREE-TENTHS OF A MILE MAY BE BASIS OF INTERNATIONAL DISPUTE

NEW YORK, Jan. 28—No warning shots were fired at the Josephine K., and an intoxicated coast guard officer boarded the Canadian vessel in the waters of Montauk Light last Saturday night, according to the story related yesterday through Press Agent by Wesley Anderson, first mate of the motor vessel registered out of Digby, N.S.

The shell that mortally wounded Captain William P. Chiet, the Lunenburg skipper of the craft, was one of only three that were fired, the first mate maintains, and all took effect.

A coast guard board of inquiry later to-day was told that Boatswain's Mate Karl Schmidt, in command of the cutter 146 when it captured the Josephine K., had acted without coast guard regulations.

This testimony was given by a coast guard base commander, four members of the crew of the 145, and the commander of the cutter 180.

Anderson, whose home is in Rose Blanche, Newfoundland, has not yet been called before the board.

Schmidt testified that he himself was the officer who fired the two direct hits into the Josephine K. after firing three shots in the air and another three across her bow.

An Election In Britain

Several times of late the British Parliament has been defeated and although it has refused to return to the polls, press opinions seem to indicate that there is very little chance of an election in the near future. The MacDonald Labor Government is not behaving any too well, and must step warily or lose the support of the moderates. It is a case of crisis after crisis may be expected in the near future, although the Government seems optimistic of weathering the storm.

Speaking of the defeats in the House the Kingston Whig-Standard says:

"The British Government has been defeated four times and will be defeated again. Premier MacDonald has met this on the Coal Bill, on the Imperial Conference, on the Disputes Act and now on the Safeguarding Duties. To the usual British custom he has refused to resign. He contends that in no one cases there was no principle concerned. What would appear to the rather curious observer is that there must be some kind of principles concerned in all or at least most Parliamentary affairs. At present, however, British Governments have no power to introduce legislation of major import. Defeats have resulted in votes of non-confidence in the Government and then resigned.

"The Labor Government has yet to come up when it comes to principle on them and when will be the time for the Government. These are the Trades Disputes Act, the Safeguarding of Industries Act and the Empire preference.

"It might perhaps be said that the Government's defeats are a danger to the Government. On almost none of these the Government may meet with defeat is a principle.

"The Trades Disputes and Trade Unions Act, which the Conservatives of 1926 has thirty years' opposition to the Labor Party in Parliament, is the only one that the Trades Disputes Act, passed to prevent a recurrence of the disaster. Yet such is the programme of the MacDonald Government. It is surely not to be wondered that the admiration will go down in the estimation of that measure. The final test in the House of Commons may come this week or next on the Safeguarding of Industries Act in a general election. Would the administration does go to the country the issue would be protection. And if the people of the United Kingdom should declare in favor of tariffs as they seem to be in other countries in the world would be affected. If Mr. Baldwin returned to power many months ago, as many expected he would, the next turn would have followed Imperial Conference at Ottawa. He would have agreed with authority to impose a tariff against foreign countries to Empire products. Whether the Labor Government will be in power when the Conference meets and accept the proposal for Empire preference many years ago the dominions, the British Government was offered to the Mother-Country and refused. Perhaps refused, if for no other reason, that would mean immediate developments at Westminster. This seems

Radio Ownership

Sponsored broadcasting, as shown in the operations of the Canadian National, has been given a new impetus by the successful advertising broadcast over a period named for poor programs. And recent arrangements giving place between the Canadian National Railways and Premier Bennett, British Columbia premier, indicate that the Dominion government is going to take over the control of broadcasting in order to give to those now under the Canadian Radio League.

The Montreal Gazette recently published the following statement from Ottawa: "Only two offices are considered by the federal government in its efforts to broadcasting, one is government ownership and control of broadcasting stations on some similar to that in operation in Great Britain, and the other is a system of licensing stations which would be control without ownership. The representatives of the Conservative Party in the House of Commons are strongly opposed to government ownership, and it is said to be extremely unlikely that the legislation which Premier Bennett is expected to introduce will be any departure from the licensing and ownership of the existing broadcasting stations, but rather the adoption of a scheme of more rigorous censorship of the quantity and character of the programs provided by the broadcasting companies."

A system of censorship would involve a stipulated limited amount of time to be allowed for broadcasting of announcing advertising, for the first purpose of censorship is to curb the tendency to excessive commercialization of the air, a menace which is becoming alarming.

To meet the demands of a considerable body of listeners, it is probable that the government will allow a limited amount to the broadcasting stations to provide more distinctly Canadian programs and even more encouragement than is now going to Canadian talent, the talent not being confined to the "stars" alone.

Another important proposed legislation having a bearing on the radio broadcasting is the amendment to the Canadian section to that providing for amendments to the copyright act to deal with the problem of radio broadcasting rights.

A further plank in the stand of the Canadian Radio League is control.

The Canadian Radio League stands for the elimination of private ownership, the erection of high-powered stations, and a license fee amounting to less than one cent a day a listener.

Such palpable mis-statements of the purpose of the Canadian Radio League have been made over the air and by newspapers associated with broadcasting stations that it has been found necessary to issue the following statement.

"The Canadian Radio League does not advocate, did not advocate and will not advocate a license fee of $20. That is an absurd and totally inaccurate figure without foundation in any published or other statement of the Canadian Radio League. The Canadian Radio League, like the Aird Commission, recommends an annual license fee of $2.00 less than a cent a day.

"Nor has the Canadian League advocated the blanketing or shutting out of American programmes. Under a national system American stations could still be heard, and favorite American programmes would be relayed, if the listeners wanted them.

"The Canadian Radio League is, however, opposed to over-crowding American channels, and believes that to operate broadcasting primarily as an advertising agency is objectionable to listeners and will not develop Canada the best service.

"The position of the Canadian Radio League is as follows:

"First, all direct advertising is to be eliminated from Canadian programmes.

"Second, the government is to finance the erection of a number of 50,000 watt stations to ensure that every Canadian can get clear reception. The Aird report suggested seven such stations to cost $3,210,000. The League believes fewer stations would suffice.

"Third, existing low-priced stations are to be appropriated, the owners compensated, and the equipment, if not obsolete, set up in regions not now serviced, as local broadcast, such as sports, local elections, etc.—an important variation from the Aird report.

"Fourth, the annual costs of the system are to be met by a listener's fee of $3.00 and the sale of time on the system to indirect advertisers offering sponsored programmes such as the railways and Imperial Oil.

"Fifth, all stations in Canada are to be owned and operated by a national company established by the Canadian people and administered by a directorate of twelve leading representatives of business, educational and entertainment interests.

"Sixth, all broadcasting associated with American chains, should circulate such exaggerated statements is an example of what the Canadian public may expect from a system which is responsible not to the public but to the advertisers.

"There are arguments for both private and public ownership of radio. It is a difficult problem for which the League has found a way to settle it is not to spread erroneous statements and treat the Canadian public like children."

Agnes Macphail, M.P., when she says Hon. Arthur Meighen and Hon. Charles Dunning should be in parliament says a sensible thing. Apologists for the Henry government's deficit are attempting to explain Quebec's large surplus on the ground of extra liquor revenue. Quebec did not receive about $1,000,000 more liquor profits than Ontario. But Ontario's gasoline tax was more than $6,000,000 greater than Quebec's.

CONSULTING THE SPECIALIST

It seems only the height of good and sensible thing to do when your eyes bother you that you should go to an eye specialist. If you don't mind your heart is affected that you see a heart specialist. If the ear an ear specialist and so on.

And yet is this really wise?

A prominent eye specialist tells us that before treating the eyes, except for vision, he prefers the patient to be thoroughly gone over by a general practitioner, so as to know the condition of the other parts and organs. "Fully 80 percent of diseases of the eye have a cause outside the eye, and it is very hard to tell the cause of it, nor can we treat it.

Further it is estimated that fully three out of four patients who consult physicians have really no organic trouble. They are troubled by some thing that is bothering them but have really no underlying disease.

You can readily see then that if they go to a specialist who confines his work to just one part of the body that they will be likely to be dissatisfied with the examination.

Because after all that body of yours is one complete living machinery and what may be causing a pain in the big toe be really due to a bad look. A dizzy head, constipation: a pain in the head may be due to any one of twenty or more causes, while what you think is heart disease may be merely some faulty digestion or insufficient chewing of food causing gas formation which presses against the heart.

Now the biggest thing you can do why you have a cold, headache, your grandest asset, and if you don't feel well, or have special symptoms such as a pain in the back, in the abdomen or elsewhere, don't hesitate to go to your family doctor first, and find out what is really the underlying cause.

If there is any real trouble he is likely to locate the cause, knowing he has had to do with hundreds of diseases and if any disease is present it can usually be found. If there is no real organic condition, but pain or distress in any part he can give you the best general advice therefore.

Should the services of a specialist be required, and they are certainly required at times, your physician is really in the best position to tell you so because he has been over your entire body.

Bees Apparently Like Cold Weather

YELVERTON, Jan. 28—(Staff Correspondence)—While reading the accounts recently of the finding in different parts of the country of butterflys, caterpillars, [illegible] flys with moths and such like, we decided it was too bad not to record the episode which occurred on Monday before Christmas, in this locality and which we also missed for the time of year.

Messrs Cecil Philips and Ernest Wright were engaged falling trees for wood and one of the trees contained a nest of real wide-awake bees, as the boys soon found out when they attempted to remove the honey. PRIMEAU SCORES

NEW YORK, Jan. 28—Following their custom of playing their best against dangerous rivals, the New York Americans clinched the victorious career of the Toronto Maple Leafs here by a 3-2 score last night. Although the game lacked the fireworks that accompanied their last encounter in Toronto, it was fast, and sufficiently strenuous to keep the fans interested. The Leafs were considerably handicapped when "Ace" Bailey, star wingman, was forced out in the first period with a couple of head falls.

Midgets In Town, Vics Are Away

Juniors Play Bobcaygeon At Rink Tonight; Should Be Good

EXPECT GOOD CROWD

Vics Face Test of Season When They Play Markham There For Leadership

And tonight comes the big test for the Vics when they take on Markham there in the second game to decide the winner of this section. Here the Midgets will be battling it out with the Bobcaygeon "kids" but they have their group cinched and the game go what way it may, can have no effect on the final standing of the group. But while it might not mean anything, nevertheless the Bobcaygeon boys always put on a good show and tonight will be no exception—they will not be beat until the final whistle is blown, and any fan who takes this till is will not be disappointed. They will be playing hockey all the time, and well worth the price of admission. The definite line-up has been given out as yet.

When the Vics go to Markham, it will be no boozing though. It either put out or get put out with them, and they are not figuring upon getting put out. However the Markham team likely have the same notion and when two things like these—the irresistable force and the immovable object, sez it—well there's bound to be a hockey game that is away better than the average effort. Both these teams are evenly match, and who can tell tonight may just be the Vic's night for the breaks. No definite line-up has been announced for them yet but the team is leaving on the 5.32 for Markham and special train service has been put on for the occasion to accomodate any fans wishing to take the trip.

OUR EXCUSES FOR WARDER TRIMMING US

Curried Stick Like He Was Tossing Hay Owls Wagon—Warder Man Is Cut Up.

THEY SCORED TOO MANY

(By An Ex-Goalie)

We know that it is always usual to put the score near the first of the story so that everyone can see at first thing if they are interested in the game, but in this case we wanted to put it at the very last of the paragraph because, (we blush to admit) in The Warder beat the Post 9 to 2.

Since the shinny game, a new game has been invented—looking for happy Parties. You only need one for yourself when you find a Postie that played last night, of course. The reason is that each one has the team been reanted in a big way around the shop, but the-ewrunshaw's with whom The Post boys are affiliated attended the game in force last night, and five minutes after the last bell had rung, they broke off all associations with the daily boys for letting themselves be trimmed by the weekly staff.

And now, if any of the readers are still with us, which we hope they "ain't" (permissable after a defeat), and that is the big reason for all the rambling, it might be said that there are many reasons why The Post didn't win Last Night. They hadn't a work-out like The Warder did in Oakwood on Saturday, the Post lads did two defencemen were too interested in five of the audience, and, chiefly, The Warder scored seven goals.

Sweeping down like the ink-besmeared demons that they were, the weeklies walked right into the net, caromed one off a defence man and another off the goal umpire to put themselves two up. In the second period while The Post goalie was dreaming as to whether he'd go south or north with all the money he made doing Chalet out of a job, someone shot the puck. It landed in front of the net while he was off balance (physically this time) and bounced over the net, making The Warder the terrific lead of three points. Count 'em, men and ladies fair.

Then in the "third" and last frame, The Postmen stepped out to uphold the famous name of—well, anyhow the boys had just found out that the lady friends were in the audience, so they swept out that old rink in a large way. By that time it needed sweeping. Whereas, before they had skated all their energy body-checking each other, now they stepped from between sandwiches leaving the Warderites to clutter up their end of the rink with their own men strewn around trying to get their wind and a Warderite was cut on the face when a teammate carried a stick like he was loading hay. Having cut 'em off at the knees, The Post lads (or bronze, though the readers will likely say it is brass) stepped out and scored two goals. The two shots that they had had on goal all night both fooled the goalie, and a third one failed to miss him or score would have been tied.

The refereeing, of course, was pretty awful. That ever lack-'ble' Simpson may be a great net minder, but it is a referee were the great Chabot in disguise—or is it a couple of other fellows?

The goals will remain as anonymous as dirty jokes, simply because only two Post boys made the scoring sheet. Their friends might take them back if they knew they had become famous, and the rest won't stand for that; and we're dogsonnd if we're going to print Warder names if we can't toot our own horn they won't toot ours.

Committee Heads Chosen Yesterday

Lindsay: Education, Reeve A. W. Grant, Woodville. Printing, Reeve Thomas Herbert McDougall, Dobson. Appointments to Office, Reeve A. R. Bottum, Bobcaygeon.

Just before the committee adjourned Reeve Jasper Forman brought in a motion that whereas half the cost of roads was falling on property owners when the motor traffic was getting all the use from them, and though the county council for Victoria approves of the generous road policy followed in the province in the past, it thinks the motor traffic should bear a greater share. The resolution went on to ask that the Department of Public Highways henceforth, when the motor traffic was going to be taxed by a higher gasoline tax. Copies of this motion will be sent to the Department of Public Highways and to other county councils.

After some discussion this motion was seconded by Thomas H. Reeds. One or two points were then carried. Council was then adjourned until ten o'clock this morning.

This Morning's Session

Meeting at the opening day of the January session this morning, all the members of the county council were present. The business done this morning was taken up largely address the hearing of a delegation with the meeting of the Warden's concerning the annual grant to the South Victoria Agricultural Society, the representative of an insurance company, with a new policy, and the introduction of a great number of motions to be referred to by the appropriate standing committees who, they meet some time before the session is over. This although the time will be divided among the committees as follows: Tuesday 2.30 o'clock; County Property 2.30 o'clock; Appointments to office 3.00 o'clock. Notice was given by the Warden that the banquet given by Verulam would be on Wednesday instead of Friday and invited all the members down.

At the first of the meeting this morning the minutes of the meeting yesterday were read and adopted and errand documents read by the clerk were referred to the appropriate standing committees. Then the Warden's address which appears in full, elsewhere on this page, was read and the various paragraphs referred to the appropriate standing committees.

Then the delegation from the South Victoria Agricultural Society was heard. Mr. Frank Graham, the new president, introduced the speakers and that that the purpose they were there was to ask for the annual grant from the county council to the Society again. All of the speakers, Mr. H. Simon K.C., M.P., Mr. W. W. Staples, M.L.A., Mr. J. Hickson, immediate past president of the Fair Board, Mr. John O'Reilly, second vice-president of the Board and until this year the veteran around the county board, and Mr. Newton Smale, a director on the board, emphasized the need of the country's grant with regard to the fair being continued in the same style this year. They pointed out that the exhibition of the society, was one of the country's greatest undertakings, and was one brought all of the people together at one time.

They pointed out that Lindsay's fair stood among the fairs of the province and that it was the duty of every person with any civic pride in them to keep it there. It had grown they said, from a very small beginning to its present size helped by the the loyal support and generous aid of the county council, who recognized it as a county institution. They pointed out that capital expenditures would always be necessary and that money must be spent if Lindsay Fair was to keep her high-grade place in the exhibition world. One of the speakers said that it was a wonderful livestock fair. He went on to say that by the increasing interest by the prizes at the fair, a better grade of stock was being raised; and in these troubled times stock, he said, was the safest investment. He spoke quite optimistically of the future and hoped they would enjoy the patronage of the county council again this year with the usual grant.

After this a representative of the insurance company, carrying some of the company's insurance was heard explaining a new policy. This and the question of the grant to the agricultural society will be taken up by the appropriate standing committees when they meet.

Then the delegation from a great number of motions were introduced to be referred to the appropriate standing committees when they meet, sometime this week.

Rum Crew Says Guard Was Drunk

ence of Attorney Louis Hale, representing the owners of the Canadian craft, that only three shots were fired and all took effect.

NEW YORK, Jan. 28—A difference of three-tenths of a mile, or 528 yards, hardly computed as a pitching sea in the blackness of night, may provoke a dramatic controversy between the Canadian and United States Government over the seizure of the rum ship Josephine K and the killing of her master, Capt. William Cluett.

The crew of the Josephine K are prepared to testify that the ship was outside the territorial waters of the United States when she was captured. Two American coast guard officials testified yesterday as the court guard inquiry, that she was 11.7 miles from shore—1 mile more than 500 yards within the 12-mile limit.

The nearest point of land to the waters where Bostswain Karl Schmidt sent his one-pounder shell hurtling through the Josephine K's pilot house, fatally wounding the Canadian skipper, was Long Beach.

William Edgar Schweiger, commander of the coast guard boat Alliance, which had been summoned to tow the captured boat to port testified that the Josephine K had dropped her anchor when he steered alongside. He then recorded her position. Schweiger told the court of inquiry, as 11.7 miles from Long Beach.

This evidence was supported by a radio message from the cutter Sebago, which was sent out to determine the position of the one-sided "battle" that "the maximum distance from shore was 11.7 miles." The radio message was read in court.

Under the laws of chase, a coast guard vessel may pursue a foreign vessel beyond the 12-mile limit if the chase originates in territorial waters. No evidence was offered as to the position of the ships when the cutter 145 first turned her searchlight on the runner.

By Peter B. Kyne

SYNOPSIS

Kenneth Burney, adventurer and one-time gentleman, comes to Bradley Bardin, King of the cattle country, for a job. Burney has had a fight with Martin Bruce, a rival cattle owner who has been stealing the King's stock, aided by Miguel Gallegos, a Mexican bandit. The king, liking young Burney, makes him general manager of the ranch on condition that he put Bruce and Gallegos out of the way.

Muriel Bardin, beautiful daughter of the king, is more interested in Burney than she cares to admit. She opposes her father and begs him not to let Burney risk his life.

But Burney's plans are made. After an encounter with Bruce, in which the cattle thief swears to kill him, young Burney prepare to leave for El Cajon Bonita where the rustlers have been operating. He is determined to shoot it out. The King sees that his daughter is in love with Burney and tries to persuade the latter to give up his dangerous mission. But Burney insists on finishing his job. At El Cajon Bonita he meets Gallegos the Mexican bandit. Gallegos with two hundred followers charges Burney's band of picked riders. He is repulsed with heavy losses, but Gallegos himself escaped. A second time Burney goes to El Cajon Bonita, this time to meet the gathered forces of Gallegos and Bruce, who are determined to wipe him out. Muriel confesses her love to her father and asks the King to stop Burney.

CHAPTER 28

"It was wrong of you to suggest the enterprise," the girl quavered. "And now if he's killed the memory of it will always be between us."

To hide his discomfort and contrition His Majesty elected to pretend anger. "Why, you ungrateful chit!" he charged. "He wouldn't be the first man to be killed in my employ in the discharge of his duty; the men on the Bar 10 Ranch have been killed in mutu and leave the hard walnuts to somebody else. I pay according-ly."

But he's worth a splendid young man to be asked to risk his life to save you some more filthy dollars. And if you haven't got more money now than you know what's to do with."

"What the money... Money means nothing to me. Forty years ago I started playing a game and now the game is played out. I can't stop it. I have many months to lead and my honor is at stake. Twenty years ago I would have wadded my every dirty linen in El Cajon Bonita, you know that I'm old I have to hire it done. I tell you, Muriel, I'd ruin me every dollar I have and start in all over again with tubercular consumptive rolled land and outlaw horses—make orders—from two cowboys and pretend I like it."

"I can understand that, Dad, but oh, it does seem too terrible to send a man like Ken Burney to do us dirty work. Why, he's a gentleman and—"

"Rubbish. There's enough money in the Bardin family for three, son! Listen! You could make him an executive of the company, make him a good salary. I'm not—"

Muriel don't dissemble with your old man. Are you in love with this young fellow?

"Yes, I am. I never dreamed I'd be so unmanderly as to admit it, but I have so otherwise my counsels are terribly alike. I've got to have you to punish-hit for me, darling. Come now, Pop, don't dissemble with me. Don't you think he's a mighty fine, wonderful young—"

Humph! Of course I think so! I've got the highest regard for him twixt the eyes. You've got to get Ken Burney out of the region, that's another girl in his life. He told me all about her. The desire to marry her has lured him with ambition to be his own man, and—

"Is he engaged to her, Dad?"

No—not as far as he told me. But he's got to get back to her. Now, you've got to get him out of the country. Why, he ought to be—

"Dad, you're not going to be downhearted. You never wanted anything more than you've agreed with Dad. Suppose I do get my knee crapped? I can assimilate some knowledge of backstick advice it until I've fought myself out."

"The inhabitants of rural communities may have as much pleasure and as many opportunities for enjoyment of development as any other class of people. Rural people possess advantages to avail themselves of which is not always possible to those who live in cities. In fact, many persons who live in cities would be glad to have the opportunities which are open to those who live in the country. Rural people have the opportunity to live in the open air and to enjoy the beauties of nature. They have the opportunity to enjoy the pleasures of social intercourse with their neighbors and friends

Bobcaygeon Wins Prelim.

Defeat Both Lindsay And Fenelon In District Cup Here Yesterday; Represent Group 2 at Toronto

Bobcaygeon Curling Club won the preliminary round of the District Cup Competition and the right to represent group number two in the final at Toronto, when rinks were played yesterday at the local curling rink, where the rinks from Fenelon Falls, Bobcaygeon and Lindsay assembled for the event. Dunsford the other club in the district did not send her rinks this year, forcing the other three to play-off for the honors.

Following is the personnel of the rinks.

After the draw had been made it found Lindsay and Fenelon Falls were left to fight out the first round, Cayuga drawing the bye.

Fenelon vs. Lindsay

Lindsay rinks had little mercy for their friends from the Cataract village in the first game of the series played during the morning. Ice conditions were good at the start of the games, but toward the end it became a little swingy. Right off the start the local rinks started counting and it was just a question of how many would they get during the 16 ends.

Bobcaygeon vs Lindsay

On ice that was very wet and slippery the local rinks went down to defeat at the hands of the Cayuga representatives, by 10 shots. Both games were close with no end showing a score of more than 2 in the Burke—Watt contest, while in the Anderson—Thurston game, the latter gentleman drew to the button with the last rock of the game to rob Anderson of a 3.

Fenelon vs. Cayuga

A lot of interest centred around the evening games, with all Lindsay pulling for Fenelon to pull out a win. Had Fenelon won it would have made a win and a loss for each Club and in this case the scores are totalled, giving Lindsay a spark of hope for victory. However things did not go that way but saw Bob Watt get off to a flying start on Dr. F. Graham only to see the "Doc." come back strong and proceed to victory. The other cataract rink did not do as well, falling behind 14 points, leaving Bobcaygeon the winners by 10 shots.

Leafs Drop Game To Americans

aggravated a knee injury.

The Americans got off ahead in the first period, and managed to hold their lead by getting a goal in each of the succeeding frames. George Massecar opened the scoring on a neat pass from "Red" Dutkowski. "Bill" Beach and Normie Himes made the other goals, with "Rabbit" McVeigh and Johnny Shepgard furnishing assists. Toronto did not score until late in the second frame, when the Americans were a man short. Joe Primeau snared Harry Jackson's rebound to tally. Andy Blair sank the final goal on a tricky long shot after getting the puck from Charlie Conacher.

Americans Open Scoring

The Leafs were without the services of "Red" Horner, who received his third major penalty of the season on Saturday, and had only two defense players in uniform.

The game opened with a season of long distance shooting and close guarding in mid-ice. Clancy and Gorman got away for some nice combinations, but could not shake free for a good shot. In five minutes the Americans did no better. The first change of lines brought more speed with both teams breaking beautifully from the blue lines, but the defenses still held control.

Activities of The Curling Club

Lindsay's District Rinks did not fare as well as the Tankard representatives, but everyone cannot win all the time.

* * *

There is no other club in the district that we would like to see do so top than the one that's there now. They will be worthy representatives in the district and here's wishing them both luck and success.

* * *

One game has already been played in the Leads and Seconds bonspiel. The one between Waddell and McCarty, which decided last night, but not before an extra end had been played. Maddell was the winner by a 9 to 8 score.

* * *

Lindsay's Tankard rinks go to Toronto Monday night for the playdowns which start on Tuesday.

Several names have been put on the list, which is now rapidly going through an error. It is possible that some names have also been left off, that should be on.

If you're one of the latter type, the committee would be glad to have you send you will be placed on the rink.

Yesterday curling received another boost, in a way, when John W. Elliott, enthusiastic follower of the game, ex-skip, and vice-president of the Dunsford Club, was elected Warden of the County. In-Turns join with other local curlers in congratulating John.

Rum Runner May Be Owned In U.S.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 28—A "supplelon" that the rum-runner "Josephine K" was owned in United States has been communicated to the State Department by the United States consulate at Yarmouth, N.S. Department officials said the consular's report was based on rumors in Yarmouth that the vessel was owned by the same ring that, it is charged, owned the Canadian vessel I'm Alone" which was sunk in March 1929, in the Gulf of Mexico with loss of life. When informed of the Washington report, Mr. Lewis at Yarmouth denied having made a report on being in any way involved in the affair. The Liverpool Shipping Co. of Halifax is the official owner of the "Josephine."

Pastor's Auto Is Victim of Ice

FORT HOPE, Jan. 28—Feeling the ice giving under her all-steel car, he was driving after nightfall from Bewdley to Gore's Landing over the frozen surface of Rice Lake, Rev. Maurice Kingsford, M.A., rector of Anglican churches in both villages stepped on the accelerator and got partially clear before the rear wheels of the car dropped through the broken ice.

Mr. Kingsford then walked back to Bewdley from opposite Pine Tree Point, a distance of over a mile, to get assistance, although he was not sure that he would find his car when he returned.

The rescue party, however, found the car and were able to draw it to the firm ice. The rector, unshaken by an experience which might easily have ended in a tragedy, then continued on his way home.

Rev. Mr. Kingsford was an officer in the Royal Air Force during the Great War, and his experience on Rice Lake is but one incident in a career marked by many adventures

COUNCIL APPOINTS ROADS COMMITTEE

Council Members Only Are Found On Roads Committee

Don't Take Advantage Of New Ruling—Pick Warden, Rich, Spence, Begg, Grant

MOORE IS A CHAIRMAN

Many Appointments Are Made And Other Important Business Is Considered

The County Council meeting yesterday afternoon was quite a hasty session with the main item of business being the appointment of the small roads committee. Although the county council was given power to appoint men other than from its own members, only county councillors were chosen, to handle this work.

Members on this small committee, under the new regulations are one member for one, one for two, one for three, and one for four years with the Warden a member ex-officio. A letter from the Department of Highways was read telling that the reason for the regulation was to have a more compact committee.

The Committee

In the voting which followed the committee struck was: Warden John J.W. Elliott, member ex-officio; Reeve A. E. Rich, Mariposa, (four years); Reeve R. Spence, Eldon (three years) (First Deputy Reeve J. B. Begg, of Lindsay (two years); and Reeve A. W. Grant, Woodville (one year). This new system means that, after this year, of the elected members only ones will have to be put on annually, the four year man and the Warden will be changed each year on the committee. For the two-year election, there were several deadlocks before the man was elected and the same thing happened in the one-year election.

It was decided that no bridge-supervising committee would be necessary this year but that the roads committee could easily carry the work at less expense. There was some discussion as to the northern men not in the Good Roads system being allowed to form the bridge supervising committee, but this was dropped when it was further discussed.

Appointments to Office

With the chairman, Mr. A. R. Bottam in the chair, the first motion was that Mr. Lamb, Manvers, Omemee, be the county representative on the Children's Aid Society. When the question of the advisory committee, a special committee came up it was moved that the chairman of the standing committees form the advisory committee. It was decided that Mr. T. J. Power and E. B. McGibbey be the auditors of the county accounts. On the county property committee it was decided that Messrs Shields and Elliott be the members.

For the trustee for the county on the Lindsay Collegiate Institute, Mr. W. J. Carew, Lindsay, was appointed. To fill the same position for Omemee High School, Mr. R. H. Johnston's name was put on. As auditors for criminal justice accounts for this

SCHOOL AND HOME CLUB HOLDS TEA

ALEXANDRA HOME AND SCHOOL TEA AND SALE IS FIRST OF SERIES TO RAISE MONEY FOR LIGHTS

The Alexandra Home and School Association intends holding a series of functions to raise the necessary funds to pay for the installation of lights in the class rooms of the Alexandria School. The first of these was a tea of Mrs. C. E. Williams, Cambridge Street, Friday, January 23rd. This proved a delightful afternoon and $42.00 was realized. Mrs. William's home lent itself admirably to an occasion of this kind.

Mrs. Winter had charge of the tea room while Mrs. E. Gregory and Mrs. J. E. Anderson presided at the tea table. Early in the afternoon members of the Home and School Association served the guests and later the Alexandra teachers assisted.

The table of home-cooked food was in charge of Mrs. Ellum, Mrs. Day and Mrs. Mussey.

During the afternoon the following ladies generously entertained the guests with a musical program: Mrs. Gregory, Mrs. McKague, Mrs. H. Nesbitt, Miss Parkinson, Mrs. W. L. Wood and Mrs. Myrtle Graham.

The ladies expressed thanks to all who helped to make the tea a success socially and financially and asked all to watch for their next party which will be early in February.

Collegiate Social Evenings Are Being Arranged Now

Arrange For Important Function at the L. C. I.—School Dance and School Carnival Under Way

APPOINT COMMITTEES

What will probably be one of the most important functions of the school year, from a social point of view, is now being planned, and already arrangements are under way which will lead to making the school dance a most successful affair in every way. The date for the dance has been set, and it will be held on the evening of Friday, the 13th of February.

All arrangements for the affair are under the supervision of the Literary Society of the L. C. I. and in order to assure the success of this party, the following committees have been appointed—Decoration, Miss M. Adams, and Miss F. Corkery and Misses Irene MacMillan, Brenda Rath, Morgan Peel, Victoria McGahey, James Croft and E. Tuggey. Music—Mr. J. C. Cooke, and Misses G. McLeod, L. Flack, and B. Johnston. Refreshments, Miss J. Stewart and Miss L. Garbutt. Prizes and Favours—Miss Helen Fulton and Miss Marg. Squier. Printing and advertising—W. Bradford. Programme—The Literary Society. Invitation, The Literary Executive.

Carnival To-Night

Owing to the fact that the L. C. I. Carnival is being held this evening, in the Lindsay Street Rink, the Literary Meeting which was to have taken place four o'clock to-night, has been postponed until a week from tonight. This will allow the students time to make preparations to attend what shapes up like one of the best carnivals in the L. C. I. history. The Athletic Association is behind the whole affair, which will present a full program of races and all that goes to make up a successful evening. There will be prizes for all event, all of which have been donated by local merchants.

An ounce of gold is now worth 50 ounces of silver.

The staff and students of the Baker Business College enjoyed a rare treat yesterday afternoon when Mr. J. J. Boles, President of the United Typewriter Co. visited the school and gave them a short resume of the requirements demanded by the Business man of the day, of the typist he employed.

"Young People," said the speaker, there is plenty of room at the top of the ladder, but the space is limited at the bottom." Further he explained that in spite of the much talked of depression positions are available for the young man or young woman who is qualified.

Miss Iona Wright, World Champion amateur Typist was also present and gave a very instructive and enlightening demonstration in speed typewriting. The copy which she typed at the rate of 118 words per minute and carried on an animated conversation with those present at the same time, shows to what a marked degree she has acquired the art of concentration. No less surprising was the manner in which she increased the rapidity of her speed at the rate of 10 words per line until she gained that of 120 words per minute.

After the demonstration was concluded the guests of the day, together with the Staff, were entertained to a delightful afternoon tea at the home of the Principal, Miss M. B. Baker.

Girls Win Oratory Contests

Thirteen In All Take Part In Oratory And Elocution Contests At L.C.I.

THREE CLOSE RACES

With six entries in the junior section, and seven in the senior division, the annual elocutionary and oratorical contest was held by the Literary Society of the L.C.I. on Tuesday and Wednesday evenings of this week. In the junior girls' Miss Ruby Ferguson won the medal as the best elocutionist, while another girl Miss Gladys Rose ran second for honors as the best orator. Miss E. Flavelle, the chairman for the event, in her opening remarks spoke of the necessity for one to be able to speak 'while on one's feet.' Miss Flavelle also drew the attention of the audience to the fact that she had the honor of being on the side that won the first debate ever held on the platform of the Ross Assembly Hall. Before calling on the competitors the chairman introduced Mr. and Mrs. Holmes, who played a very pleasing piano solo.

A program of a very varied character was presented by the entrants, and the judges, Messrs. Cooke and Patterson had no easy time in selecting the winners.

The first speaker of Miss Ferguson's was entitled "The Auto Ride," while Miss Johnston gave a very original talk on a "Holiday Trip Through Northern Ontario." Jack Reesor was the only other competitor for the oratorical honors and he had prepared an excellent speech on Lloyd George. Misses Muriel Daniel reciting, "The Soliloquy of an Old Maid," Jean Graham, "Canadian Born," and Mildred Geste "Willie's Report," were the other entries in the elocutionary class.

Senior Contest

With Mr. W. MacMillan as chairman for the senior section, the following evening with a good crowd present. The elocutionary talent brought out three entries all girls, namely Miss E. McEwan, Miss E. Howatt, Miss R. Sindair. Reading of Dorothy Parker's wonderful poems Miss McEwen carried off the honors but not before she was given a call by Judges Cooke and Patterson had no easy time in selecting the winners.

There were three entries in the oratorical division also, with the boys in the majority, but the feminine sex came out on top, when by Miss D. Webster. Miss Webster give a speech on a well-known topic, "Some of the evils we've got to ads Among Nations." Her address besides being worthy of the honors she received, was well given, for to the winners in the junior division, while the senior winners were awarded gold medals for their efforts.

An Exciting Chase On Library Lawn Nets One Muskrat

—Lindsay, Jan. 29

AFTER AN EXCITING chase around the town library yesterday afternoon, Gordon McEwen, Sammy Chalmers and Percy Farmer" the quartet who caught what they thought was a muskrat, but, what scientists claimed may have been a large grey sewer rat. The three discovered the animal hiding in the shrubs and tried to catch it in a box. It burrowed into the snow, however, and was not taken until they caught it under the upturned box and manipulated the lid underneath it.

FORMER RESIDENT DIES

—New York, Jan. 29

JOSEPHINE K. Canadian rum runner captured off Ambrose Light Saturday night after her master had been mortally wounded by a coast guard shell, steamed down the day today to race with C. G. 145, the ship which shelled and seized her. The purpose of the race which was arranged by the coast guard board of inquiry investigating the shelling was to determine whether the cutter had speed enough to overhaul the rum ship without resorting to direct fire. The question was injected into the investigation by Gerald Campbell, British Consul General in New York, who is participating at the request of the Canadian Government.

FENELON FALLS, Jan. 28—(Staff Correspondence)—The Casarsot Town has a shortage of spring water, which is becoming rather serious. On Wednesday, Mr. Fred Jackets, Sr., had to resort to drawing water in tanks from Cameron Lake to be emptied into his reservoir and eke out the supply for his cattle and horses.

The men were engaged in this work from about two o'clock until 5.30 p.m. and if a real January thaw or a good rain does not relieve the situation, citizens will have a taste of soft water, unwelcome to say, the least.

About three weeks ago, Mr. Jackett closed some of the taps of that the water might be rationed.

It is to be hoped conditions will soon improve. This is the first time in the history of the town that

Will Start Shipping Grain From Kingston Soon Now

Are Two Million Bushels of Grain In Storage There At the Present time, Newspaper Finds

WHEAT, EYE, BARLEY

KINGSTON, Jan. 29—(A Kingston reporter visited the grain elevator at Little Calumet Bay recently and found that at the present time 2,000,000 bushels of grain are in storage there. This amount includes wheat, rye and barley. The capacity of the elevator is 2,500,000 bushels and the above figures show that it is filled to four fifths of its capacity. It is expected that within a short time the work of trans-shipping the grain by way of the railway will be commenced.

The grain is stored in large bins which have a capacity of anywhere from 75,000 to 250,000 bushels. These huge bins are known as the "circular" and the smaller ones are known as "rear" bins.

The reporter was shown through the elevator and gleamed many interesting facts. He also had the unique pleasure of riding for the first time on a Humphrey elevator basket. These baskets are used to carry workmen up or down to any floor in the elevator and operate on the principle of an endless belt, equipped with every few feet with a small platform and an iron hand-hold. The belt passes through a circular hole in the floor and the top of the building can be reached in a very short time. In addition to three of these Humphrey elevators a passenger elevator is also in use.

Is Very Large

The grain elevator is 206 feet high and a fine view of the surrounding town and country can be secured from the top floor. The length of the building is given as 624 feet. An

C. Council May Slice All Grants

Will Consider Advisability Of Cutting All Grants By 50 Per Cent. At MEET DELEGATIONS

Meeting for the third day this morning, the county council heard three delegations. One from the Plowmen's Association asking for a grant for their annual ploughing match, one from the Children's Aid Society suggesting that the council work out some scheme whereby bills could be paid monthly and one from some One township farmers, when Mr. Chalmers asked that nothing be done about the change in the road running through Agnew's Swamp, as it would probably raise the taxes and presenting a petition signed by some Ops people against the change. Reports of the standing committees on printing, education county property and appointments to office which met yesterday afternoon were received and adopted

One by-law to confirm appointments made at yesterday's session of appointments to office was passed. Several documents were read by the clerk and referred to the appropriate standing committees. A representative of the Canada Ingot Iron Co. was present and solicited the county's business in the coming year. Before the session adjourned a great many motions were brought in most of them to be dealt with by the Roads and Bridges committee when they meet. Reeve Jasper Pocman brought in one motion regarding grants coming under Finance and Assessment this year which was seconded by Reeve A. W. Grant, of Woodville, Chairman of "The Finance and Assessment Committee be instructed to take into consideration and report on the advisability of having all grants deemed necessary under finance and assessment on a basis of 50 per cent of the grants for the same purpose in 1930.

Plowmen Ask Smaller Grant

When the Plowmen's Association appeared before the council the speakers were: ex-Warden Samuel Lovett, president of the Association; Mr. W. Bell, vice-president, Mr. C. Jenkins, a director and Mr. M. H. Winter, local agricultural representative. Their request was "That the grant be increased to $300 instead of $275. They were assured by the warden that their requests would receive consideration.

Children's Aid

Messrs. T. J. Tilly and W. Alexander were present for the Children's Aid Society delegation. Both of them expressed their thanks for the kind treatment they had received.

Fifteen Years Ago Today

An excellent plan was conserved at the council meeting yesterday to have the work on the county roads, but it was felt that "under existing conditions there was no time to take up any expense."

Fenelon Falls—In the rink here, which the Lindsay papers sometimes refer to as a pill box, a friendly game was played on Tuesday night between a picked team from the Lindsay town league and C.Co. of the 103th, Fenelon Falls. The locals were victorious 10—0.

"We see by the paper "that both the Fort Hope and Belleville Juniors are "laying" for the Lindsay Juniors.

Disappointed by the refusal of the county council to make a grant to the 109th Regiment, the officers of that regiment have decided to give one month's pay to help make the Battalion a credit to the county reserved by the Minister of Militia.

GREAT YEAR FOR GETTING STUNG

(London Advertiser)

1930 was a good year for bees, a veteran apiarist reports. It will be readily admitted, of course, that more bees have stung in 1930 than for many years past.

EGGS AND HAPPINESS

(London Sunday Express)

A London hotel chef says that there are three thousand ways of cooking eggs. Most housewives know only two—boiled and fried.

It must be a great aid to happiness if some of these three thousand ways could be distributed below breakfast in the homes of Britain.

SNUFF

(National Revenue Review)

Snuff is going out. Its consumption for that is the current year) is increasing. Departmental statistics show that excise duty was paid on 84,821 pounds of it in November 1930, compared with 80,243 pounds in November, 1929. The British question arises, where does it all go to? The answer seems to be nobody knows!

NOT EASY THING

One might suppose that with 1,500,000 unemployed, Britain would be the last place income would come from. Not so, however, as the figures show. Yet 140,000 South Wales miners are out, and there is danger of a lock-out of 800,000 textile workers, the result of shorter over hours.

Modern industrialism is not an easy thing to manage.

PHONE CONFERENCE

(Edmonton Journal)

Holland has set the world an example in devising a new method of doing business. Under this arrangement owners of six persons in as many different cities of the Netherlands may confer without having to meet. It sounds like a real timesaver for the busy executive.

Fees are based on a charge for the appointment and for the number of the example six persons can hold a 12 minute "telephone meeting" by paying $2.40 for the arrangements and $4.80 for talking.

If television comes into general use, these meetings by telephone will be practically equivalent to conventional except for the handshaking and back-slapping. Particularly will be of prime importance to those who would join one of these conferences by telephone, but it will be well rewarded by the saving of time.

CHUCKLES

A RECIPE FOR SUCCESS

The late John R. Arbuckle, the coffee king, who left an estate of $100,000,000 often said that a part of his success was due to his knowledge of human nature.

In selling coffee Mr. Arbuckle once said to a New World coffee broker "you should exercise the same keen discretion which the druggist showed.

A woman not long ago, entered a druggist's and said:

Have you any creams for restoring the complexion?

Bleemish, Miss? You mean preserving!" said the druggist gravely.

And he then sold the woman $17 worth of cosmetics.—Forbes Magazine.

WHY HE STAYED

The editor of the daily entered a speakeasy and ordered a drink. Giving the proper sign dictated by the secret, over-powerful was slumming on a chair outside to call him. When the sergeant of the district committee approached.

Come across to the hot-corn man to have a drink, he ordered the private sotto voice.

And the sergeant:

It's the garden, Sir.

Then confound it what are you doing here?

Me? Why I was the calm reply. I'm the watchman.

It happened at Liverpool. Pat was on duty at the Sandhurst Colonial Exhibition when he saw a lovely Fiji girl. Fiji girls, by the way, come from Fiji.

Catching sight of Pat, she smiled.

Do you know that I'm the ever pirl?

Oi know one of me Protestant friends who's engaged to five dollar gold piece.

The first prize in euchre was won by Miss Doreen Bick and Mr. Ed. Jonkman. The consolation prizes were carried off by Mrs. Arthur McPaudgett and Mr. Andrew McKinnon.

Among the old Canningtonians present were Mr. and Mrs. Wm. G. Sale, of Lumsden Sask. and Mrs. Fred. Jobb, John Brown and Fred. Key attended the annual presbyterial meeting in Lindsay on Thursday.

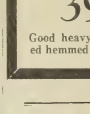
Mr. Bailey is the order of the day here and Cannington proudly boasts of having four real hockey teams.

On Friday evening a snappy game was played on Canningron rink between Port Perry and Cannington high school teams with a final score of 3 to 6 in favor of Port Perry.

On Saturday afternoon the Cannington Trail Rangers team played Woodville on the Woodville rink with a score of 1 to 3 in favor of Cannington.

Mr. Bailey of Eugene was the guest of his brother Mr. Roy Bailey a few days last week.

Mrs. F. H. Edwards, Mrs. A. Brandon, Mrs. G. H. Shipman and Mrs. Malcolm McKinnon attended the Lindsay Presbyterial meeting on Wednesday in Lindsay on Wednesday.



That Body of Yours

By James W. Barton, M.D.

PASTEURIZING MILK AT HOME

It seems but a few years ago that mothers of young babies or very small children dreaded the summer or hot weather, blaming the heat for the large number of deaths of young children which occurred during the summer.

As a matter of fact it was not the hot weather of itself, but the fact that milk was not as safe in the hot weather of itself, but the fact that milk was not as safe in the summer that was responsible for so much diarrhoea, colic, or stomach complaint.

The safe pasteurized milk now sold in large cities is sometimes expensive and sometimes not, even obtainable and yet only when it is made milk must be free from the organisms that cause irritation of stomach and bowels.

Consequently to be able to get clean safe pasteurized milk in the home whenever it is needed is much to mother.

Therefore on method of Dr. Lloyd Arnold, Kingsford of Illinois University describes how housewives can themselves make milk for the baby at a very low cost. He says: Milk is heated to 145 degrees F. and kept at that temperature for thirty minutes. This will kill all the disease germs in the milk, and the milk will not sour for several days if kept cool.

The apparatus to make the milk safe is very simple. It consists of a thermometer, a double boiler, and a bottle for each feeding. The double boiler may be made by placing a pail in a larger pail, with a piece of wood between the bottom of the pails to keep the inner pail from touching the bottom of the outer pail. The water in the outer pail should come up around the inner pail to the same height as the milk in the inner pail.

To heat the milk:

1) Heat water in outer pail.
2) Bottle nipples, bottle thermometer and rubber stopper with cotton (may be kept in solution of boric acid).
3) Put a cupful of milk in the top of the double boiler and heat to 145 degrees F.
4) Do not let the temperature of the milk go above 145 degrees F.
5) Leave the hot water in the outer pan while the milk is heating.
6) Now heat the milk to 145 degrees F. and use the thermometer for stirring.
7) When the milk is heated to 145 degrees F., pour out the water and fill the bottle with the hot milk. Do this quickly.
8) When the milk has been kept at this heat for one hour it is safe for drinking. It can be kept in the bottle for eight hours and still be sweet.

Why do I quote this method so fully?

Because like other physicians, I have seen the terrible effects of unpasteurized milk, the intense suffering of little children and the loss of many young lives.

An investment of Three Dollars for the equipment above mentioned may save the life of a loved one!

Lady Bowlers Hold Euchre And Dance

Large Crowd of Young and Old in Attendance—Request Another Such Party.

CANNINGTON, Jan. 29.—(Staff Correspondent)—The old time euchre and dance held by the Lady Bowlers last Friday evening in the town hall, was one of the most enjoyable events that has taken place in the old town in many a day. The ladies did everything in their power to make the evening a pleasant one for everybody and they certainly succeeded.

The auditorium of the hall was tastefully decorated. The Canadian ensign, the Union Jack and the Stars and Stripes were in evidence, the former effectively draped over the stage. The guests numbered 70. Tables were provided for euchre players and the remainder enjoyed dancing.

The euchre was in charge of Mrs. Arthur McPaudgett and Mrs. Andrew McKinnon, assisted by Mrs. Wm. Bick, Mrs. Ed. Jonkman and Mrs. Malcolm McKinnon. Those who played were presented with prizes. Mrs. McPaudgett and Mrs. Bick received the ladies' prizes, while Mr. Ed. Jonkman and Mr. Andrew McKinnon received the gentlemen's prizes. Mrs. Jonkman and Mr. McKinnon received the consolation prizes.

Among the old Canningtonians present were Mr. and Mrs. Wm. G. Sale, of Lumsden Sask. and Mrs. Fred. Jobb, John Brown and Fred. Key attended the annual presbyterial meeting in Lindsay on Thursday.

ides on the amount of money received to run the elevator can be gained from the fact that conveyor belts carrying the grain to the bin-ends seven to ten dollars per foot. These conveyor belts run practically the entire length of the elevator. The scale upon which the grain is to be weighed have a weighing capacity of 30,000 pounds.

Another interesting feature in connection with the elevator is the electrical system. The power plant handles a total load of 44,000 volts. This is distributed by transformers, and transformer rooms are located at strategic points throughout the building. In the construction of the elevator everything has been done to make it as modern as possible.

There is a rumor prevalent that the steamer Lemoyne, owned by the Canadian Steamship Lines, which has already broken world's records by its carrying capacity, will be one of the first steamers to pass through the new Welland Ship canal next spring and will come to this port with her cargo. It is understood that the Lemoyne is at Windsor at the present time, and is laid up with a storage cargo. If this is true there may be some grounds for the report that it will be the Lemoyne that will start the machinery at the new elevator with the opening of navigation.

County Council May Slice All Grants

ways received from the council. They went on to say that the system now followed was from the county council to skrightlon siblings up at the end of the year and printed out that this was not as satisfactory as it might be as their creditors usually looked for their money at the end of each month. They asked the council to consider the plan of paying the accounts at the end of each month instead of clearing everything up at the end of the years in the plan now followed. They took some feelings of this work and assured the council that they were conducting a worthy project in the society. They concluded presenting a monthly statement to the council, who could then see where the money was spent.

Keep Road name.

Mr. Chalmers in presenting the petition that no action be taken with regard to changing Colborne Road being changed from its present route through Agnew's Swamp said that the council would save money by leaving things as they were. He pointed out that with times as hard as they are now the farmer like the big things would be to keep taxes down and do no work that was not absolutely necessary, until the rural districts had a chance to get on their feet. The petition was received and referred to the appropriate standing committee.

In the report of Tuesday's proceedings appearing in yesterday's issue of The Post a slight misunderstanding was unintentionally created regarding the present system of road buildings. It seems that many would impression that might have been created the text of the motion appears below:

Moved by Mr. Forman and seconded by Mr. Reeds: "That whereas the present system of road building leaves approximately one half of the cost to be borne by properties owners and whereas much heavy traffic on roads is almost all of the wear on the roads and whereas the present economic conditions are bearing most heavily on the farmers of this province, therefore, this council, while approving the general road policy o fthe government and being grateful for the generous assistance to both county and township roads, received in the past believes that the time is now ripe for the motoring public to pay a much larger share of the cost of all roads, provincial, county and townships, and would ask the government to assume a much greater portion of the cost of all roads and join the gasoline tax at a rate which will adequately finance the undertaking, and further that a copy of this motion be sent to the minister of highways and to all other county councils in Ontario."—Carried.

year a motion carried that the chairman of the finance committee Mr. J. A. McGillivray, the county clerk Mr. F. L. Wellington and Mr. R. J. Mitchell, Dunsford, be auditors of those accounts this year.

Old Age Pension Board

After little discussion it was decided that the same committee of Messrs. Hutcson, Lacey, McGuire, Morrison and Weldon act this year as the local Old Age Pension Board.

The Clerk informed the members that a closer check would be made in the future and a complete list sent to the clerks of the municipalities for this purpose when the councils could go over the list. This was approved in the form of a motion. That the council check their applicants and report back to Mr. Weldon.

Reforestation Committee

It was decided that Messrs Handley and Endicott, and the Warden be the reforestation committee. Mr. Handley reported on last year's activities that the northern forest had been fenced to keep stray stock out.

When the question of the committee for the Home of the aged Mr. A. R. Bottum was appointed a chairman with Mr. Cruess the second member. The Warden, Reeve Elliott automatically become a member of this committee.

In the question of the advisory Agricultural council came up the four members retiring N. Jamieson, F. Graham, J. Alto nand C. H. Gilbert were re-appointed for this year.

A communication from County Solicitor Kelly, K. C. Anderson, informing the council that the appointment of Victor E. White as a county constable was cancelled, was received and filed. On this question it was decided that the provincial government be asked to put a traffic officer on the Peterboro-Lindsay highway. It was thought that this road was not patrolled fully enough for the amount of traffic it was carrying.

With A. W. Grant in the chair, the standing committee on Education, met briefly in session for charges at Petroboro C. I. and V. S. for Victoria County pupils the clerk was instructed to pay the bill now held by L. C. I. received from pupils outside the county attending there. Accounts were read and receipt given. There were no outlined, received and filed. The regular statutory, agricultural grants were ordered paid. The report of the property committee was filed for further investigation. The clerk, Mr. Weldon, then read the report of the finance system of school grants and explained them to the members. These grants are from the provincial government.

Council then adjourned till this morning.

YESTERDAY AFTERNOON

At the afternoon session of the second day of the county council, yesterday council went into committee of the whole and the business of the standing committees for printing, county property, appointments to office, and education was finished up. In the printing committee, the most important feature was the striking of the committee to look into the matter of advertising, by tender, this year. In the county property meeting with the chairman Reeve Hall of Mara in charge, the biggest single item discussed was the re-decoration of the court-house and it was decided to leave this over until the June session when estimates will be brought in. The appointments committee had the heaviest session of them all with the new road committee to appoint and all the appointments at the first of the year to look after. The education committee's time was taken up mostly with routine business.

Printing

Y Friday afternoon the last committee to meet was the standing committee on printing with the chairman Reeve Herbert McCaughey in charge. A number of small accounts for stationery supplies, and advertising, etc. from the court house were read and ordered paid With regard to the award of county printing this year the chairman of standing committee on printing, Reeve Herbert McCaughey; the chairman of the finance committee, Reeve John A. McGillivray; and the clerk F. L. Weldon were appointed a committee to award the printing which is to be given out by tender.

Quits Chairmanship

Before the new committee met second-deputy Reeve W. J. Hussey, chairman of County Property, withdrew from the chairmanship of the board and stated that he would stand for the Good Roads Board. In the nomination to fill the vacant office which followed Mr. Hussey, First-Deputy Reeve Jas. B. Beer, of Lindsay, and Reeve R. I. Moore were put forward but Mr. Beer withdrew and Mr. Moore was elected chairman. Deputy Reeve Hussey was appointed a member of this committee. Also the clerk was instructed to write the 1929 and 1932 wardens asking them for their pictures. Accounts were read and ordered paid. Before the committee arose the chairman Mr. Moore complimented the county property committees for the work they had carried out but said that the courtroom problem of somewhat bodily appearance needed attention to it. On this a motion was introduced that estimates be presented for the work by the chairman at the next session of the council. This was carried. A motion was passed that the committee have power to undertake all county repairs, and the chairman to have power to authorize himself all urgent repairs up to $50.

Obituary

MRS. HUBERT H. CONLEY

There passed to her eternal rest[illegible] place on Sunday morning, January 25th, 1931, Olive Blanche Hutchinson, beloved wife of Robert H. Conley. The deceased was the youngest daughter of James Hutchinson of Richmond Hill and Ellen Marshall of Oro and was born at Mariposa on January 19th, 1999. Her childhood days were spent on Mariposa and following the death of her mother in 1915 she continued in her service of love for her dear sires by home-making for them. Upon her marriage in 1921, she came to Lindsay to reside and here in the midst of life's activities she still came to enter into the [illegible] service and she left those [illegible] cares behind to be forever with the Lord. An appreciation of her life was shown by the many acts of kindness and the wealth of floral tributes. Especially looking were the flowers from the little children of the neighborhood who knew her as a friend of little children.

In her early years she became a Christian and at once was active in the work of the church. Her love for her Master and for little children found expression in the formation and leadership of a mission band. Upon the arrival in Lindsay she became a member of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church and of the Go-Forth Missionary Society.

The funeral service was in charge of the Rev. J. C. Grier and was held at the home on Tuesday afternoon. [illegible] An appreciation of her life was given by the ministers and the hymn [illegible] favorites of the deceased. She was placed beside her husband in the family plot in Oakwood cemetery there to await the resurrection morn.

She leaves to mourn her loss her husband, Robert H. Conley, two children, Jimmie and Jackie, her father, Mr. James Hutchinson, of Lindsay, three sisters, Mrs. George Collingwood, of London; Mrs. Geo. Graham, of Los Angeles, Cal.; Mrs. Roy Thomas, of Hudson, Mrs. A. C. Bicknell, of Lindsay and three brothers, Sydney Hutchinson, of Salvador, Sask., Francis Hutchinson of Sterling and Albert Hutchinson of Vanderhoof, B.C.

Markham Blanks Vics In Game Last Night

Locals Are Outlucked And Outplayed In Fast Contest With Markham Last Night

TOUGH BREAKS

Were Off On Shooting While Winners Were Finished; Say "Better Team Won"

—BY J.W.M.—
(Post Staff Reporter)

MARKHAM, Jan. 28—With a trio of back-checking fast-skating forwards, a tight defence and a nice goal-keeper all playing "right on," the Markham Intermediates last night blanked the Lindsay Victorias here by a 4-to-0 score to take the series by a 7-to-2 score and the right to advance in the group play "down, in one of the best games witnessed in the local arena this winter. The score is hardly a fair indication of the play. The winners were no goals the better team but they were not four goals better. They were on with their shooting and were better defensively. On the play the two teams were fairly even but when the Markham lads got in on the nets they displayed far more finish than the Vics who missed several almost-perfect scoring chances through over-anxiousness and poor shooting. However, Markham won on their merits and are worthy representatives of the section in their further fight for honours.

Pleased Fans

Both teams played fan-pleasing hockey and were digging in all the time. A stiff back-checking game by both forward lines featured the play with Markham perhaps having the better of the exchange. Defensively Markham was stronger than Lindsay with Reesor, best man on the ice, playing almost perfect defensive hockey backed up by Hare. The Lindsay rearguard which was changed several times was strong too but they were up against a different proposition when the smooth-skating Markham forward worked in on the nets, than their opponents were. Both goaltenders played remarkable games and although McClory had far more to do than the Markham custodian he was the better man on the night's play and the ones that beat him were tough ones.

Played Well

"Chub" Gerster, Midget right wing played his first game in Intermediate company for Lindsay, last night, and performed in fine style

The other forwards Forbert, Dames Martin, Crafton and Rich also played nice hockey but the combination of tough luck on their shooting and Markham's defence robbed them of scores. Several times they were in on the net for what looked like perfect scores, but the difference between getting the puck in shape to be handled instead of letting it go right away gave Markham time to clear. Although they were beaten, they were by no means disgraced. They have no alibis to offer but they had a touch time but admit that the better team won.

For Markham the entire forward line of Crosby, Clendenning and Prentice were all good but the star of the evening both for Markham and the game was Max Reesor, Markham's defenceman, who led attacks goalward time after time, and played real defensive hockey. Varsity Armstrong of Oshawa, made a good referee for the game. He got everything was absolutely impartial, and was boss of the game keeping the rough stuff down to a minimum.

The Line-ups

Lindsay Vics—Goal N. McCloy; defences, E. Reeves and C. Rich; centre, R. Forbert; J. Dames and J. Gerster; snares H. Fever, G. Marlin and J. Crafton.

Markham—Goal, F. Luna; defence M. Reesor and D. Hare; centre, H. Crosby, wings D. Clendenning and D. Prentice; snares J. Crosby, Rennie and Higerman.

Referee—A. W. Armstrong, Oshawa.

The Play

In the first period the play was even with a slight edge for Markham. Their first goal came five minutes after play started when Reesor came in the defence and to one go. McCloy's view was blocked just long enough for it to slip in. The rest of the period Lindsay was making desperate efforts to score and a couple of times missed the open net in their over-anxiousness.

For the second frame the scoring was done by Crosby who was allowed to walk in and pick up his own rebound and give McCloy no chance to save, fifteen minutes after the period had opened. In the big last period Crosby again got on the scoring sheet when he walked in on McClor yagain to beat him from close in. The last goal was a fluky one when Hare shot from his own corner away up around the lights so that when it dropped it of course had to drop in the unprotected side of the net. "Cooter" saw it just as it dropped and though he flopped he did not have a chance to save.

St. John's Trim Peterboro, 11-5

PETERBORO, Jan. 29—The St. John's team made sure of landing at the top of the heap in the senior group race by defeating their local rivals, the Peterboro Hockey Club team, in an O.H.A. junior fixture, before the biggest crowd of the season here tonight, 11 goals to 5. The Saints were in front of the parade practically all the way, outscoring their rivals 6 to 2 in the first period, they were ahead by 10 goals to 4 at the end of the second. The hockey club crew found it impossible to handle the combination attacks or the clever stickhandling of the winners, who went in close for most of their goals.

Callsdine, the Saints centre player, was the best man on the ice, getting six goals, and every one was a feature. Gardner and Cuthbertson also played cleverly for the winners while the defense pair and Miller in the net were outstanding. For the losers, Dallin was particularly outstanding, while Jones scored two clever goals. The losers secured the last counter of the game just before the close, with the winners three men short through penalties.

Peterboro Hockey Club—Goal, Foley; defense, Wood and McCullough; centre, Epps; wings, Meagher and Dallin; subs., Jones, Tuck and Thirndeck.

St. John's—Goal, Miller; defense, Howe and Ellis; centre, Callsdine; wings, Gardner and Cuthbertson; subs, Merrett, Millsken and Wilshaw.

Referee—M. Board, Peterboro.

SYNOPSIS

Kenneth Burney, adventurer and one-time gentleman, comes to Bradley Bardin, king of the cattle country, for a job. Burney has had a fight with Martin Brace, a rival cattle owner who has been stealing the king's stock, aided by Miguel Gallegos a Mexican bandit. The latter liking young Burney, quakes him general manager of the ranch on condition that he put Brace and Gallegos out of the way.

But Burney's plans are made. After an encounter with Bruce, in which the cattle thief secures to kill him, young Burney prepares to leave for El Cajon Bonita where the rustlers have been operating. He is determined to shoot it out.

Gallegos with two hundred followers charges Burney's band of masked riders. He is repulsed with heavy losses, but Gallegos himself escapes.

A second time Burney goes to El Cajon Bonita, this time to meet the gathered forces of Gallegos and Bruce, who are determined to wipe him out. Muriel confesses her love to her father and asks the King to save Burney.

CHAPTER 29

His Majesty thrust the princess off his lap and stood up. "By the toenails of Moses," he declared, "you're my own child, after all. Have I ever denied you anything I could get you, when I thought it would make you happy? I have not. And I'm not going to quit now. If you want him, you shall have him, by Judas. I want him, too. He'll do and is the best man Burney passed this way he got by the Mexicans with a lot of arms and ammunition. He couldn't do that again, you know. We have orders to search him if he tries. There have been complaints that he broke the neutrality laws and it is common knowledge that he had a fight over in El Cajon Bonita recently and walloped the pants off that Gallegos crowd. While we're for him, Mr. Bardin, nevertheless we still arrest him if he tries to cross here with an armed body."

"Thank you," the king replied tersely. He knew now—and cursed himself for not having thought of it before—why Burney had avoided crossing into Mexico at a port of entry. So he filled up with oil and gasoline and motored back toward El Ranchito until he found the spot where the motor convoy had left the highway and started straight across country in a southeasterly direction breaking trail through the low sage. The long line of trucks had beaten a fair road for the king to follow to the point where Burney planned to make a secret and unofficial crossing into Mexico that night; nevertheless it was five o'clock in the afternoon before he caught up with his quarry, parked in a grove of scattered cottonwoods about half a mile north of the International boundary and fully ten miles from even such a sign of civilization as a goat herder's jacal.

The cook was busy preparing supper; the horses, with saddle cinches unloosed, and tied to trees, were munching oats from their nose bags, while the king's riders lay around in the sand, smoking and talking.

Ken Burney came forward to meet him, inquiry in his sooty eyes.

"This expedition is all off, Mr. Burney," the king announced. "I mean it and there will be no argument about it either. As soon as your men have had supper load your outfits and head back for the ranch. I can't accept this awful responsibility."

"It's too late to obey you now, sir. I've made a private and unofficial deal with the Mexican government to help it rid itself of a nuisance, and I can't quit now. I've gone too far."

"Mr Burney, you have heard my orders. Obey them."

Ken Burney shook his head. "You're out of order, sir. I made a contract with you and you can't crawfish out of it. I shall not obey your commands, and neither shall my men."

"You men listen to me," the king shouted. "Mr. Burney is fired any man that refuses to obey my orders here is fired also."

"Hurrah for Mr. Burney!" a cowboy yelled, and a chorus of cheers answered him.

"You're all fired," the king's ukase went forth. "Every last damned hombre in the lot."

"Fine," Ken Burney assured him. "We're all fired, so pay us off."

"I haven't enough money with me, you infernal Bolshevik. Come back to the ranch with me and I'll pay you."

"Pfne," Ken Burney assured him. "The king is unable to pay us off after firing us, boys," Burney reminded his crew, "so, to protect our claims, let us help ourselves to his saddle horses."

The king was in agony. "Ken, my dear, dear boy, if you're killed tomorrow my daughter will never forgive me. For God's sake, boy, have pity on me. Don't ruin me with my own daughter."

"I can't quit now—with honor. I'm part of a Plan. I regret my impertinence, but with the present representative of the tribe of Burney all is lost save honor—and I'll be shot if I'll let you take that away from me."

"Whata sill this tommyrot about honor. I should like to know?"

"I have made a secret and unofficial treaty with the Mexican government to give it some highly intelligent aid in the difficult problem of eliminating Miguel Gallegos and his bandit army and I shall follow it."

"It iae now too late to abrogate this treaty, Your Majesty; if I fail to do my part schedule the force of our rurales co-operating with me will get soundly trounced—annihilated, in fact; and thereafter the Mexican government's local representative will make El Cajon Bonita as hot for you as Bruce and Gallegos are making it now. On the other hand, if I follow through we will win and thereafter anything you want in this portion of Mexico will be yours for the asking."

"I understand perfectly well the fix you're in, son, but do you realize the fix I'm in—with my own daughter? I'm perfectly willing to sacrifice my interest in El Cajon Bonita if you will abandon this enterprise, as a special favor to her. The devil take the Mexican government. They can't hurt me, no matter how treasonful they may be, because I'll have finished operating in their country. When I crave is peace and a lot of it."

"Well, nobody's trying to saw off a leg or bust a trace. Let's go to bed and get some sleep. We'll be on the move early in the morning."

"Good night, you Bolshevik. Come back to the ranch tomorrow and I'll pay you."

"Pfne," Ken Burney assured him. "We're all fired, so pay us off."

"I haven't enough money with me, you infernal Bolshevik. Come back to the ranch tomorrow

TONIGHT at 8.00

Good evening, Buckingham Boosters. With the March of the Wooden Soldiers and the tramp of marching feet, another Buckingham Boosters Program swings into action with its scintillating dance hits of 1929.

Before we say further, the sponsors of this program heartily thank the gentlemen in our work's canteen. The response was simply amazing. Telegrams, letters and 'phone calls have poured in of congratulation. Thousands of Buckingham smokers from all parts of Ontario and Quebec sent in their entries. Day after day mail bags crammed to bursting point overflowed the postal clerks' tables and filled the receiving rooms at the Central Post Office. Nothing like it was ever anticipated by us. Should the contest closing date not be far enough advanced to enable us to announce the winners next week, we shall announce next week but threaten to picket every house in Ontario, one for Central Canada and one for Eastern Canada, next. Meanwhile get your pencils and paper ready.

Just before the orchestra plays each selection Tonight we will read out the initial letters of each word in the title of the number to be played. All you have to do is, mentally or on the orchestra plan and then write down what you think is the title of the selection you have heard. For instance, if we announce "S-A-L-A-D" you may jot down "Cup of Tea" or "Sweet Adeline" or even "Salad" or not the initial letters of each word in the title in this way: "I-H-O-T-C-W. That's clear enough, isn't it?

Mr. Ernest Buckingham Cigarettes, the famous non-crush cigarettes, are going to be sent to the winners of this contest. Remember, the prizes are not for the best guesses, but for the best entries. Entries, clearly and one to Montreal clarity. Each set of titles will consist of 500 Buckinghams to the writer of the first correct entry opened. Then we will send 250 cartons to the writer of the first correct entry received to the next best 100 Buckinghams to the next five, 50 Buckinghams each to the next ten and a pouch of tobacco to the next twenty-five. That's fifty prizes, total value over 180 smokes.

If no absolutely correct lists are sent in, prizes will be awarded to those who come nearest the correct answers. Send your entries to Buckingham Contest Editor, Imperial Tobacco Company, Limited, Montreal or Hamilton. You must mention the station to which you are listening.

Now get your pencils and paper ready. Remember, the first title will be played as well as announced by us. The initial letters in each word of the title of the first selection are O.D. Listen carefully. (Orchestra).

We'll repeat those letters—O.D. Now write down what you think is the title of the selection just played.

The next selection is number that will appeal to every music-lover. Initials: I.T.H.A.P.P.C. (Orchestra).

Did you get those initials? Listen: I-T-H-A-P-P-C. People were happy over it.

If you've met your soul-mate—tell them! It's game for Buckingham Contest. Initials: L.A.S. (Orchestra).

Initials of title: L.A.S. Yes. You have probably written it down by this time. Next we have one of those Dvorjinsky numbers. Initials: I.I.I.S.M.P. (Orchestra).

Surely you got that one. Here are the initials again: I.I.I.S.M.P.

Now you should be complete with your title best selection. Initials: D.S. (Orchestra).

Sound the Liege, horn—D.S.

Here are the initials once more: I.O.T.-B.A.

A dazzling ballad, expressing every lover's belief, in our next number. Initials: I.W.M.M.B.—Sweetheart.

For those who have lost the initials, here they are again: I.W.M.M.B.

1929 was an open season for hats. Here's another one. Initials: T.H.B. (Orchestra).

Thank you. Initials of that selection—T.H.B.

Midgets Score 4-1 Win In Game With 'Caygeon

Local Juniors, Although Far Ahead in Section Race, Stay Out To Win

EXCITING GAME

Plenty of Tense Moments As Midgets Trample on 'Caygeon's Hopes

(By R.I.O.)

The Lindsay Midgets may have their section in the O.H.A. group nailed down and securely clinched but by the way they played here last night when they hung Bobcaygeon's pelt on the wall with a four-one win, one would think they were playing to overcome a five-goal lead for a chance at a pennant. The fans in attendance at the rink were given a fast and clean ride during which they had to hang onto their hats and hold tight to their seats.

And the win doesn't mean that Bobcaygeon's shinny specialists are any pampered pets. They played about their nicest game of the year, but the Lindsay boys are dishing up some of the nicest hockey they have played for some years past. Their seven straight wins in seven starts were earned through hard work against stiff opposition, and fans who are missing these games will have something to regret.

Cyril Gosnet was back on the line up last night for the first time this year, and will have his name inscribed on the scoring sheet for a beautiful goal he made. He surfaced a broken ankle last fall and has been carrying it around in cotton wool waiting for the weather to get on the starting line. His goal was scored from a pass from Parsons.

Lindsay's other three goals were scored on sensational, rink-long time rushes by Begley, Mills and Spratt in the order named.

Bobcaygeon's sole counter came in the third period when Carty accepted a pass from Percy Johnston and Beat Stephens with a drive that threatened to tear the whole back out of the net.

While Campbell, Birgenwa and Growden failed to figure in any of Lindsay's scoring plays, they did some excellent work along with their teammates in stopping the overdangerous rushes of the Caygeon crew.

The Lindsay team, this year, is playing more as a team and has dropped the "hogring" methods as energy-wasting play that is productive of neither excitement nor goals, and backed by the almost unbeatable "Nig" Stephens, they are a team that should do some fighting before they see curtains in the O.H.A. struggle.

That Caygeon didn't score more goals was due more to the excellent work of "Nig" Stephens, the six-man defensive tactics when the need arose and the everwelcome Lody Luck. The visitors were "in there" every minute although they were fighting a losing battle, determined, it seemed, to take at least one full out of the cocky Lindsay fellers.

The First Period

The first period passed scoreless until two minutes before the opening bell, probably because both teams were a little off when they came within shooting range, and because Nichols and Stephens, the two goalies, handled everything in an airtight manner.

With the minutes of play left, and Spratt huddled under the blanket in the penalty box, Begley took the rubber inside the enemy blue, passed through the entire Caygeon team, bar one, and just as that one handed him a stiff body check within six feet of the goal he passed out a shot that left Goalie Nicholls no chance to save.

The period was clean with two penalties for each team, the two Caygeon men being off at the same time.

The Second Period

Following a preliminary warming-up skirmish in the second period, Kelso and Carty staged a little act that split the Lindsay defence and nearly beat Stephens and Miss (two Bs) Fortune combined.

The period was on the wane with about three minutes to go, when Mills, who had been stopping everything that came his way and rebutting with deadly goal-tend threats, finally broke through and sent a waist-high shot whizzing at Nicholls, who accepted it gracefully with his stick but as it dropped to the ice at the goal line it carried around the goal post to put Lindsay two up.

Then came a change of sub: With Begley serving time, and Birgenwa and Growden helping Stephens hold the citadel, Parsons broke away, drew the defence to one side and passed the puck to Gerster who went in fast and did the rest. This was a beautiful play and the two youngsters deserve credit for it.

The Third Period

In the third round the Bobcaygeon players came out fighting as if they had just heard that they had to win to save the old homestead and win the flaxen-haired heroine. Kelso and the spectacular Stan Nicholls perched at through everything and Stephens needed his horseshoes to save the red-hot shot that was blasted at him from six-foot range. Then Mills drew a pen alty and Bobcaygeon put every muscle into play to slip the rubber past Stephens. From their play they certainly deserved a counter, but the locals were playing a wonderful defensive game and it seemed that Stephens couldn't be beaten.

Thirteen minutes of fast play passed before Johnston and Carty spills the defence to score for the visitors. Johnston slipped a pass to Carty who burned a shot at the net that the great Rosch himself couldn't have stopped.

With one goal to their credit, the visitors threw everything into the attack and for a while most of play was left when Spratt grabbed the puck at his own blue line with only one defenceman in front. He stickhanded him and shot hard to fool the goalie for a lovely tally.

The remainder of the game became rather rough. Spratt was knocked down by Johnston and carried out and Stan Nicholls was sent to the penalty box, leaving Stephens behind the net. Right up to the last bell, play was fast the usual rink-long time-wasting shots being forgotten in favor of the fast combination plays and hearty line plunges.

Activities of The Curling Club

Harvey Forsyth's O. B. rink, holders of the Anderson Buildin cup successfully defended their laurels from the challenge of the William St. four the other night.

The game has to be replayed, however as the O. B. rink played a man in the lead position who is not a member of the club.

Three rinks from Dunsford will play three local rinks here on Saturday afternoon in a friendly match.

That cold snap yesterday made ice conditions perfect for the games last night. All were of the close variety except the Carty-Carty contes which resulted in a bad trimming for the Tankard skip.

Rembrandt To Be Reinstated

Descendant of Great Artist Wants Probity of Bankrupt Master Restored.

THE HAGUE Holland Jan 29—(By The Canadian Press)—Rembrandt, the great Dutch master of painting, went bankrupt in 1656, when he was about 50 years of age, and though he lived for 13 years afterwards and did some of his finest work in those 13 years, he never succeeded in paying off his creditors and he died a bankrupt. For the past 150 years or thereabouts posterity has held Rembrandt van Rijn, of Amsterdam, in the highest honor. It has bought this or that painting or etching at a price which would have paid off all his creditors a hundred times over, but still his memory has not been cleared of the cloud that rested on his name when he died. He hardly has yet been restored. He has not been discharged from bankruptcy.

Now there is a descendant of a brother of Rembrandt's first wife, Saskia van Uylenburg, has applied to the Amsterdam courts for the rehabilitation of Rembrandt.

The Handelsblad has published the list of the creditors of the man for applicant, whose name is not given, but who is stated to be a student at Utrecht University. He says that he has a great admiration for his "forefather" Rembrandt, and is filled with sorrow that the last part of the master's life should have been passed in such sordid circumstances, ending in a bankruptcy from which he has never been rehabilitated. The sad fate of the master forms a sharp contrast to the fame of his works and the profits made by publishers, authors, and art dealers.

The student argues that, according to Dutch law, Rembrandt had the right to demand his rehabilitation, and that his creditors had no claim for a descendant of the master. He supports his demand for the Court's pronouncement of rehabilitation with a long list of legal arguments based on the bankruptcy laws of Holland from the 15th century to the present time. He cites a book recently written by Dr. W. H. Van Loon, born a Dutchman and afterwards naturalized in the United States, entitled "The Life and Times of Rembrandt van Rijn," in which the last sad years of Rembrandt are described.

An amount of 0.052 florins and 90 cents was paid, out of the proceeds of the sale of the master's estate on his death, to Titus van Rijn, Rembrandt's son by Saskia. Nothing seems to have been paid to Rembrandt's ordinary creditors, and no list of these creditors exists. This, the student contends, facilitates the case for rehabilitation. He has asked for a favorable decision so that the term of the bankruptcy may not for ever remain on the property left by Rembrandt.

New Sugar Beet Industry Is Good

STRATHMORE, Alta., (By The Canadian Press)—Sugar produced from beets grown in Alberta had a value of approximately $1,500,000 in 1930, according to figures submitted to a meeting of growers here recently. The industry has grown by leaps and bounds. In 1913 seven thousand acres in southern Alberta were planted to beet growing and this had increased to 14,000 acres in 1930.

In the Raymond district alone last year 39,000 tons of beets were grown, the value of this crop was more than $800,000.

TOWNSHIP ROADS AIDED WITH GRANTS

Have Annual Talk About Reductions In Grants To Roads

Roads And Bridges Committee Of County Council Has Heavy Session Yesterday

RETAIN GRANT SYSTEM

Find Why Sturgeon Point Is Served By Roads She Doesn't Pay For

Yesterday afternoon saw the time taken up in county council with the meeting of the Roads and Bridges Committee with the chairman, Reeve Joseph Handley, of Somerville, presiding. The session was quite a weighty one with several matters coming in for very full discussion before being disposed of. County Engineer H. D. Wilford's report on the whole work done etc. was submitted and read and a motion put through that it be received, adopted and put in the annual minutes. Grants from the northern townships outside the Good Roads System, were put through, with a noticeable paring-down, in accordance with general feeling at this session that economy is needed. The question of insurance on the county cars and several application from a firm to repair the steel bridges on the county road system were referred to the road committee.

Two petitions: One from the people who piled stone at Dunsford, to the agreement that they should be paid when the stone was used, and, who are asking for their money, now if possible; and the other from Ops and Emily asking that no change be made entailing greater expenditure with respect to the road running through Agnew's swamp. Both these petitions were filed. Reeve Faulkner, of Haliburton county council, the annual invitation to the council to attend the annual picnic of the Haliburton council to be held at Minden this year. Also a letter concerning why Sturgeon Point which is in the Good Roads System but does not contribute to it, was shared. The council concurred with a motion sent from Goderich in favour of Reeve Percival aid being given for county road expenditures.

At the first of the session one motion introduced by Deputy-Reeve Forman, of Fenelon, and Reeve A. E. Rich, of Mariposa, on the system of awarding grants for road work to the townships outside of the Good Roads system caused much discussion before it was finally decided to follow the system in the past of giving what the reeves thought necessary for the roads, with allowances for emergencies that might happen to be presented on the work done. The motion was: "That the Roads and Bridges Committee be instructed to take into consideration and report on the advisability of making one grant and one grant only to each of the townships according to mileage to the local councils to spend in where they saw fit for ordinary road and bridge expenditures. The said grants in each case to bear the same proportion to the amount of money paid by the municipalities into the county."

Northern Road Grants

Reeve Faulkner said that his idea was not to curtail the northern townships in any way but to put the awarding of these roads on a business like basis and he later figured it out on a percentage basis, one of which was for each northern township to receive 10 per cent of what they paid in, minus the money paid for the home for The Aged. Condition of Road and Year of Work Told of in Report Given County By Road Superintendent

Yesterday afternoon the first annual report of County Engineer H. D. Wilford on the county road system, was presented and read at the meeting of the Roads and Bridges Committee of which Reeve Joseph Handley Jr., of Somerville, is the chairman. The report was most complete and was adopted and confirmed, and a copy will be printed in the annual minutes. Details of the report were the road committee. The council concurred with a motion sent from Goderich in favour of Reeve Percival aid being given for county road expenditures.

At the first of the session one motion introduced by Deputy-Reeve Forman, of Fenelon, and Reeve A. E. Sir Hubert Wilkins (right) revealed his plans to broadcast from the North Pole over a world-wide hookup, speaking in a record-breaking international broadcast over a network of stations in the United States and Australia during which he answered questions fired at him from Sydney, Australia, 13,000 miles away, by newspaper men in a radio interview. Opportunity For All To Hear Famous Speaker

Addresses Mothers and Daughters In Afternoon—Fathers And Sons Wednesday Evening

TALKS TO PUPILS

The Kiwanis Club of Lindsay is holding a joint meeting with the Rotary Club next Wednesday, February 4th, in order to hear Dr. Claude E. Barker address a noon day luncheon and in order to give support to the Rotary Club in bringing to Lindsay a man of such calibre as he is.

When Dr. Barker visited Toronto as a result of arrangements made by the Toronto Rotary Club, the Supervising Principal of the Toronto High Schools, Mr. William C. Mitchell, said him the following tribute:

"The educational authorities of Toronto owe a debt of gratitude to the officers and members of the Toronto Rotary Club for having made arrangements whereby Dr. Charles E. Barker delivered twelve addresses in our high schools to over twelve thousand pupils. The principals, and members of the staff and students support me in the statement that no more helpful and stirring addresses were ever given in our schools. Dr. Barker has a real message and knows how to deliver it. His words strike home and leave his hearers with a firm resolution to heed his advice and avoid the pitfalls of life depicted to them in a very dramatic manner. Many parents have communicated with me to express their gratitude because the opportunity had been afforded to their children to hear Dr. Barker. They are anxious for their success in life, and realize the value of real advice as to the sure way of attaining it.

"A splendid work is being done by a master workman. This expression of sincere appreciation might be continued at much greater length but I have said enough to show you the high esteem in which Dr. Barker is held in Toronto."

Dr. Barker is a man with a genuinely unselfish message. No parent, teacher or citizen can hear him without wanting to bless him for making a hard task easy and pleasant. His engagements are not

Ontario Weather Is in Most Places, Not Any Too Good

—Toronto Jan. 29

CENTRAL Ontario is today enjoying a touch of "old time" winters and those who recently harbored some thoughts of a change in Canadian climatic conditions are now revising their impressions. In the north the storm is moderate but snow shoveling comes in hand just the same. Scale weather Ontario apparently has missed the fun, but, according to all appearances the fun will be in the thick of the fight tonight.

Sleigh Ride Kills Peterboro Girl

When Passed Under Wheels of Truck, One Girl Is Killed And Another Injured

PETERBORO, Jan. 30—While sleigh riding down Anson Street hill on to Water Street in the north end of the city, two little girls, Audrey Morgan, aged 6, and Hazel Reynolds, aged 9, were grievously injured when they speeded under the wheels of a truck. Audrey Morgan died in Nichols Hospital at 9.15 last night of a fractured skull, and the other girl is in a critical condition with severe head injuries suffered in the accident.

The children were riding on one sleigh. They had coasted down Anson Street, the first street north of Hilliard, and were racing across Water Street, almost at the end of their thrilling ride, when struck by the truck owned by Bowser's Garage, and driven by Reginald McKeown, 745 Water Street.

Unemployment Figures Given

OTTAWA, Jan. 30—Official figures from trade unions and other labor organizations, now place the number of unemployed in Canada at 300,000, Senator Gideon D. Robertson, Minister of Labor, announced today. While this is an increase of approximately 100,000 since last August, it is customary for a seasonal contraction in unemployment of 14per phase from November to January. Looking to the future, Senator Robertson predicted a "substantial improvement" within the next few months.

Move To Conserve Game Fish

Markham And Fenelon Play In Fenelon To-Night In First Of Finals

IMPORTANT MEETING

FENELON FALLS, Jan. 30—(Staff Correspondence)—The annual meeting and election of officers of the Fenelon Falls Anglers Association took place in the Commission Rooms on Thursday evening, January 29, Mr. J. Bowyer, president, in the chair.

Many items of importance to anglers in this vicinity and throughout the province were discussed. Several communications from the Department of Game and Fisheries were read, also one from the Ontario Federation of Anglers, outlining their plans for the season of 1931. These concern chiefly a movement to put a publicity man in the field as recommended by the special Government Committee, that was appointed to investigate the Game Fish conditions of Ontario.

It has been a recognized fact for twenty years or so that something definite must be done to conserve the game fish in the waters of older Ontario which are being depleted at an alarming rate, due in many years to the easy access to them by the automobile and the rapid increase of the tourist trade.

An anglers' agitation was lead by the late G. A. Warburton resulting in the organization of the Federation that has been instrumentally, research work was done and reports made which will form the basis for the Government's future game fish policy.

Since the report was issued last year a good start has already been made—location selected for several new hatcheries; a few new rearing stations established and several lakes set aside as sanctuaries; number of game wardens increased; easy contests being carried on in the different counties by Toronto Anglers' Association.

A special donation of $1,000 has been made possible by contributions by the addition of an equal amount to be solicited from the various branches of the Federation which is to be done promptly as everything is in readiness to launch the project by February 1st, 1931, a matter of considerable knowledge and experience having been secures to fill the position.

Many of the larger associations have already undertaken to carry on this publicity work and no doubt others will fall in line to give it co-operative attention. In addition, so that the "great expectations" of the Federation should result in definite action, it is recommended by the special committee re the anglers agitation "For Better Fishing in the Province of Ontario" to the Federation of Anglers and Hunters, to be held during the good work and following the election of officers for 1931, the meeting adjourned until March, on motion of the chairman.

The Officers

Sinclair Leads Petitioners In Railway Service Dispute

Meeting Held At Whitby In Which He Speaks Acting Better Service On Local Line.

BIG DELEGATION

WHITBY, Jan. 30—When the board of railway commissioners met at the town hall in Whitby Thursday, a mass of statistics was presented by W. B. Sinclair, K.C., M.P.P., representing the various municipalities in an endeavor to have the present service on the Whitby, Port Perry and Lindsay line of the C.N.R. continued and improved. A large delegation from Orono headed by R.R. Waddell and Fred Bowen, M.P., was also present protesting against curtailment of service to Port Perry branch of the C.N.R.

A sharp contrast compared to the last hearing of the railway board here was noticed, as the brief was presented in a most convincing and legal manner. At the last hearing, citizens of the various municipalities addressed the board but their information was slight and their principals ill-

Belleville Families Are Fed By Soup Kitchen Hand-Out

Mild Weather Has Been Blessing To People Who Who Are Out Of Work And Money.

AID 20 TO 30 FAMILIES

BELLEVILLE, Jan. 30—It has been a fairly severe winter for those who are out of work in the city and for those who have only had employment at odd times. The months of Jan. for the most part, been mild which means saving in fuel. It has been possible, with the exception of one or two days, to wear a spring or fall coat all winter, or even just a heavy sweater.

But there is one thing that is necessary warm or cold weather, and that is food. The inner man must be satisfied—and it is here where the now famous "soup kitchen" at the police station has done a world of good. Not only the vagrants, hobos, and "bums" who fill through and remain a night's lodgings at the police station, but many families in the city have literally kept alive by this kitchen.

PORT HOPE, Jan. 30—All records have been broken in the annum "entertainment." Talk Of Secession At Council

Won't Secede From County But It Is Good That Question Was Brought Up

KNOW POSITION

At this morning's meeting of the county council the report of one committee, the standing committee on Roads and Bridges was received and adopted. A delegation from the Lindsay Kiwanis Club and the town council was heard on the question of entering from the county stating that there was no serious thought of separating but that it was better to have the matter aired up for discussion, to have both counties receive a statement and know definitely where they were at, so that if the matter ever did come up they could discuss the matter intelligently and arrive at a satisfactory solution without separation. Mr. Victor E. White appeared before the council regarding the possible secession of Bobcaygeon from the county and how it would affect Victoria on the Children's Aid Society. In putting forward this motion Mr. White pointed out the need of definitely recognizing in some tangible way, the wonderful record of service performed for the county which Mayor Newall, in another motion regarding the adjustment of the cost of the administration of justice for Victoria and Haliburton between the two counties was also carried.

Hero Delegation

Operative the reading of the minutes of yesterday's session were read and confirmed. Then the report of the standing committee on Roads and Bridges which met yesterday afternoon was received and adopted. Mr. R. J. Mackey, Clerk of Bobcaygeon, addressed a delegation from the town of Lindsay, and the Kiwanis Club, Mr. A. M. Pullen, president of the latter, and told his purpose in coming had been to assure the county council that no definite move for secession has been made by the town council, or that as far as he knew none would be made. He stated that there had been no relations between town and county had been in the past, and said that he, and the other officials of the town, was sure that the county

The Monck Road

Many young people have heard of the Monck Road, but most of them in the southern part of the county, at any rate, will know nothing about it except when their parents wish to compare a road to anything and everything they invariably dread to the Monck Road. A section of the Monck road runs through this county, and nearly every June the county councillors go into wordy arguments considering making a start towards keeping it up.

Not so many years ago the Monck Road was started, intended as a direct route between Orillia and Ottawa, and was abandoned partly because of the expense. Now, however, it is found that one main east and west highway is not enough to meet the demands of the ever-increasing traffic, so the Monck Road plan has been brought up again.

The following letter to the Toronto Mail and Empire looks like it was mailed in by a Toronto man, and it hardly accords with the idea of building this highway. The letter is as follows:

Recent press references to reviving the Monck Road project—a direct route between Orillia and Ottawa (partly built) are timely. The town of Orillia is closely eighty miles north of the Kingston Road and the city of Ottawa fifty miles from that main road and west route. It is apparent another east and west motor traffic way is needed to meet the ever increasing traffic. The proposed motor highway referred to as the Monck Road would place the town of Barrie and all towns on the Georgian Bay peninsula one hundred miles nearer the city of Ottawa. A road direct with the capital of this ever increasing population would be brought closely one hundred and twenty miles nearer the capital. The few words, all roads lead to Ottawa, are very appropriate

"There is not the slightest doubt every town and hamlet on or near the suggested route would be encouraged to build better roads particularly with much to the benefit of that northerly section of the province, and that should be the aim, to more intelligently develop and improve what we have and refrain from making possible quick marketing of all the much needed dairy, poultry and garden products (not wheat). It is inconceivable that a more northerly route would so well meet the present and future needs of motor traffic, or so well serve to aid development of such a large section of this province, now illprovided for and neglected.

It would seem the project is worthy of the fullest favorable consideration by both the Provincial and Dominion Governments."

Our Freak Laws

The Seattle Star says there will be loud hosannas in some quarters because Saturday night baths have been "banned" in Russia. All the Trembling Trotts will point to the "ban" as another proof of imbecile bawmaking among the soviets.

"Oh, well, in this country, in many states, it's illegal to buy beans on a plate on Sunday, but illegal to buy them in a can.

"With us, it's legal to buy gin, but illegal to sell it.

"And there is a federal law that government property can not be removed from a federal building. And so the internal revenue for the Western Washington district moving across the street to new quarters, is buying all new furniture and abandoning its present equipment, still quite good.

And, down South, it's against the law to teach that there is such a thing as evolution, the processes of which may be viewed off any street corner in any time

"When it comes to fool laws, we have no right to say about pointing fingers of scorn."

Three Big Experiments

It is worth noticing that there are three big experiments being tried in the world at the present time, the results of which will be watched for with interest. The first is the attempt being made to follow prohibition on the United States. The second is the Soviet Government's endeavor to make the people of Russia their slaves for the purpose of carrying through its five-year plan and the third is the German Government's scheme to force down the price levels.

As to the first our readers have probably formed their own opinions. Regarding the second, it is hard to arrive at any definite conclusion, as the reports from and upon affairs in Russia vary so much, but for our own part we are confidently anticipating the time when the Soviet Government and all its plans will collapse. We base this opinion upon the fact that its foundations are rotten. There is the old Biblical saying that a house built upon sand will not stand for long; the Soviet Government was built on worse than sand, its foundations are rotten with murder, deceit, and abominations. Therefore, it is only a question of time when it will collapse.

The German Government has tried to bring about a ten per cent. reduction in food products and various articles, but has not been successful, so now a new beginning is to be made with a category of commodities which offered a more promising point of attack because the industries concerned and the channels through which their products reach the retailers and ultimately the consumers, can be brought under closer scrutiny while the Government has been experimenting. In rents, light, heat, power and fuel no cuts have been achieved. The six per cent. cut in the price of coal promised by the Ruhr industry, effective Dec. 1, is wholly contingent upon the reduction of the miners' wages on which an agreement has been reached. The Government's campaign for lower prices has encountered widespread skepticism because of its failure to help the housewives. As to the final result of this experiment, we do not care to say a word.—Kingston Whig-Standard.

PRESS OPINIONS

OPERATED ON DOCTOR

STILL ACTIVE

(London Advertiser)

Sir William Mulock is 87 years old today, and has the undisputed title of Canada's Grand Old Man. He is as hearty and vigorous at that age as he was keen and bright as ever and his interests as varied.

Probably no man in Canada attends more public functions or makes more speeches. His countrymen are proud of him, and they will shower him with congratulations.

AN ODDITY

(Pergus News Record)

Oddities appear in the news from time to time, and one of the strangest cases in the neighborhood has recorded in Wingham a couple of weeks ago. A woman in that town was brought into court, charged with disturbing a service in the Anglican Church. The disturbance consisted in sticking out her tongue at the rector. Sentence was suspended.

CITY AND COUNTRY

(Kamloops Sentinel)

One change seems to us definitely for the better. That is the gradual wearing away of the rich chasm between city people and country people. Country folks no longer regard all city people as stuck-up snobs, nor do city people think of the folks who live in small towns as uncouth bumpkins.

The reason for this is that city and country people today dress alike, have the same standards of schooling, eat the same sort of things, ride in the same kind of cars over the same good roads, see the same movies, hear the same things over the radio, read the same books and magazines and are beginning to act alike, for the first time since rivalry between rural and urban points of view began.

GLIMPSE OF RUSSIA

(Nation and Athenaeum)

Four weeks ago our train stopped at a small station. The local Soviet dictator came down the rough wood steps from the station building to shake hands with the Capitalist of the train. He was a fine, stalwart figure with cold, ascetic face. He wore the green and black Soviet peaked cap and enormous khaki overcoat reaching almost to his heels. It was unhemmed and hung straggly, but that did not detract from his lofty bearing

The common people who had strolled down to the station to see the train come in stood aside to be passed. The bell rang its double stroke. He mustn't address and turned away, striding magnificently from the hips. He made no sign of recognition to the crowd. He was aloof, supremely aloof. He symbolized. I thought, the changed goal of personnel aspiration under the Soviet regime.

TOO MANY BURDENS

(Niagara Falls Review)

Several strong points were made by Aldermen Wilkinson, in the interview between the executive of the Ontario Municipal Association and Premier Henry. It was pointed out that most of the gasoline, upon which taxes are paid, is consumed within the confines of municipalities where the whole cost of streets is borne by the ratepayers.

The question of the paying of dependents of prisoners in provincial reformatories was also discussed. If a man, drunk on liquor sold by the government, was sent to jail, the municipality must pay for his keep, while if a fine is paid, the money goes to the provincial treasury.

That is a one-sided proposition. The government makes a profit on the whisky sold, in the first place, another profit if a fine is paid, but the city must pay if the accused cannot pay. Although all other business do so, liquor stores pay no business tax, but they do a strictly cash trade.

Very often, if a man is sent to jail because he cannot pay his fine, the city must, in addition, care for the dependents. Doing a cash business, it would appear that it is all income and very little outgo.

That Body of Yours

PREVENTING STIFF JOINTS

One of the mistakes many individuals make after recovering from a sprain or rheumatism in a joint is to keep the joint too much at rest. As any practitioner seems to give pain they think that the joint should be further rested.

It is this resting of a joint after the swelling goes down that causes so many permanently stiff joints.

When a joint has been sprained or if it has been the seat of pain by rheumatism or other infection, a considerable amount of connective or fibrous tissue is found to grow about the joint. This tissue is only a result of reaction to the smooth working of the joint, and if not broken down or removed, actually forms a permanent fibrous tissue.

When it is first formed or being formed it is not difficult to break it down and have its products removed by the circulation.

And the key thing in this breaking down and removal is heat. Heat may be given in any form-hot water, hot packs, but making or the use of the wet towels over hot water, bottles, electricity in the form of the thermy and so forth.

The ideal method to apply heat in any of the above forms for a few minutes and then stretch and massage the joint for another two or three minutes. The muscles above and below the joints should also be massaged so as to help the entire circulation about the joint. The patient should bend and straighten or stretch the joint against the resistance of the masseur or masseuse. Putting entire weight or full force on the joint at first may cause irritation and a further inflammation to just stretching and bending the joint against slight resistance is the best in the early stages.

After this stretching and massage has been done, heat in any of the above mentioned forms should be used again for five or ten minutes, so that the tissues broken down by the stretching and massage may be removed from the joint.

Between these treatments which may be given two to four times a day, when possible, it is wise to keep the joint supported by a factory cotton bandage, so that if any pain occurs or any strain happens to the joint, it will not set up a fresh inflammation.

Remember, the time to prevent a stiff joint is immediately after the swelling goes down. And the method is heat, motion, and heat again.

Old Pirate 'Smee' Quits 'Peter Pan'

Because of Age George Shelton was Missing From Role at Christmas Revival

London, Jan. 29 (By the Canadian Press)—No one on the stage has been so thoroughly identified with a part as George Shelton is with 'Smee', the most lovable character in 'Peter Pan,' says the Sunday Observer in connection with Shelton's withdrawal from the popular play at the recent Christmas revival just because of his advanced age. The Observer speaks of his "charmingly benign performance as the Non-conformist Pirate."

George Shelton lives at Wandsworth Common in happy retirement. He is 79 years of age, and while he felt unequal to performing in "Peter Pan" at the last revival he talks as if he might possibly appear in his old favorite role as 'Smee' once again. G.W. Bishop of the Sunday Observer thus describes an interview with Mr. Shelton.

"I asked him if he would talk to me about 'Peter Pan.' 'In a way it's a sort of a compliment,' he replied, and the familiar quotation put me at my ease at once. He said it was a great wrench to give up Smee and he missed the rehearsals. 'But I am 79 next month. I find that my memory is not so good as it

Mr. Richard Kylie Is New Member

To Meet With Rotary

Rotarian J. E. Anderson was present and extended a hearty invitation to Kiwanians to dine with Rotary on Wednesday, Feb. 4th, to hear an outstanding speaker in the person of Dr. Charles Barker, a representative of Rotary International, who would give four addresses in Lindsay. The invitation was accepted and Kiwanians urged to attend.

A letter of appreciation was read from Mrs. J. P. Kyley, thanking the Club for having placed Kiwanian Kyley on the list of Honorary members. J. P. Kyley is a charter member of the Club and has been absent for a year because of ill health. Kiwanians with him a speedy recovery.

BOAT FOR STURGEON LAKE

Rotarian John McCrea, accompanied the "Mayor of Pleasant Point" was present and brought forth an important matter in which he asked for the Club's support. Mr. McCrae stated that an effort is being made to have a new passenger steamer placed on the Scugog and Sturgeon waters. It is proposed to build a boat in Lindsay or vicinity, similar to the passenger steamers running on St. Lawrence; a boat that is adaptable for passenger and freight service, the construction of which lends itself to the use of convertable glass. It would probably cost in the neighborhood of $6,000.00. Mr. McCrae stated that merchants in Lindsay lost between three and four thousand dollars revenue because of the absence of a passenger boat on the local waters last summer. The boat will also carry the mail.

Separation Tabooed

Mr. Richard Kylie in thanking the Kiwanis Club for the privilege of becoming a member, asked the Club to take up the question of separation from the County. He is absolutely against the movement towards separation and thought it would be disastrous. He was opposed to the word "separation" and opposed to the idea. Lindsay wanted to co-operate with the county, wanted to keep up the present happy friendly relationships and frown down any idea of separation. He urged the Kiwanis Club to meet the County Council in this matter. The matter was left in the hands of the Public Affairs Committee.

Workmen's Compensation

The guest speaker of the day was introduced by Kiwanian Frank J. Carew. He was Mr. V. A. Sinclair, Chairman of the Workmen's Compensation Board for Ontario, a huge man holding an important position. In part, Mr. Sinclair said: He had not visited Lindsay in 20 years, but he always kept in mind its fine, wide main street and general progressive appearance. The town has every indication of being prosperous. He continued.

The Workmen's Compensation Act dates back to 1914 and at the time of introduction in Ontario was looked upon as a revolutionary and sciatistic departure. However ideas had changed in that regard Now it is recognized as one of the best pieces of legislature on the statutes. Since its inception other similar acts have been made, including the Mother's Allowance Act, the Old Age Pensions and a new act is in process of organization, namely the Spade Medicine Act. The principle of the Workmen's Act is one of carrying on insurance, covering accidents, bad health and old age pensions. Great results have been accomplished for the benefit of employers and employees.

Mr. Sinclair gave several items of figures showing the working of the Act and the great benefits derived and how much had been paid out in benefits to employees and their dependents. In 1923 the amount was $2,000,000 and in 1930 $6,453,000. In 15 years the sum of $675,000 had been paid out because of accidents and $80,000,000 in benefits to workmen. The Act is intended to cover all types of industry. The employes not only receives financial benefits, but also medical aid. The idea of the Act is to be helpful to the employees and their dependents and to get away from the idea of employees and dependents suing employers for huge sums of money. The money raised comes from the employers of labor. In the case of death of employees the Board pays $125 for funeral expenses and if necessary gives the widow $100 at the outset to help her along. She also gets $40.00 a month until she remarries and $10 a month is given to the children, having parents, and $15 a month to the children without parents. Today between 125,000 and 150,000 people are directly or indirectly receiving benefits from the Act. The entire system is carried on without charge to the workingman.

In Lindsay there were some 48 contributors to the Act and $12,000 had been paid into the Board and benefits amounting to $8,800 had been awarded.

The vote of appreciation of the Club was moved by Kiwanian W. J. Carlisle.

109th Battalion Re-union

All men interested in the 109th Battalion Re-union are requested to meet in the Lindsay Armouries at 8 o'clock Sunday afternoon, February 1st.

Important matters will be discussed and it is expected that a delegation from Toronto will be present.

It is felt that there should be a Re-union, and all men of the Battalion are urged to attend.

operation, so generously given by all of you and particularly by the members of the Rural System Committee for 1930, with whom my work brought me in close contact. I wish also to take this opportunity of thanking all the county officials and members of the county road system staff for the loyal support given me throughout my first year in the county service.

"While the year 1930 shows a considerable increase in the expenditures on construction and maintenance work, over the corresponding expenditures of the past few years still every evidence of progress has been made in improving the various roads of the system. As I interpreted the wishes of this Council, it was your desire to carry out as much as possible of the program as outlined in my estimates submitted to the system committee in April, but at the same time to make an earnest endeavor to reduce as far as possible the total system deficit. I am pleased to be able to report that most of the work covered in the estimate has been completed and the deficit substantially reduced.

"A brief summary of the work done during 1930 might be listed as follows: SUMMARY 5.99 miles of grading to standard widths; 1 reinforced concrete culvert over 10 feet span; 1 reinforced concrete culvert, under 10 ft. span; 1 extension of concrete culvert under 10 ft. span; 43 pipe and tile culverts; 6.5 miles of surfacing with crushed stone or gravel. MAINTENANCE: 15.5 miles of gravel resurfacing; 3.72 miles of surface treatment of old macadam roads; 4.0 miles of oiling gravel roads.

"Some of the places which suggest themselves as requiring your attention in the very near future are as follows: Road 1—Cameron to Fenelon Falls. Road very difficult to maintain and badly worn out in places. Some bill cutting and heavy grading still to be done on this road; Road No. 1—Powle's Corners south and east, bad corner to be improved. Road No. 3—Dunsford west, north, two miles heavy grading; Manly Creek widening; Dunsford to Bobcaygeon three bad spgs and one culvert to be improved; structures, one in particular at the east end of traffic bound macadam road west of Dunsford. Road No. 8—Hill cutting at Burnt Bridge at Con. 8; at Red Rock, con. 4-5 and from the Fenelon Boundary east 15. Sturgeon's Hill, Con. 7, Verulam. Road 9, Swamp at Ewen's Bridge, Lot 24, Con. 9-10 Eldon; Road 12—Hill cutting at con. 6, Road 13—Widening of Bulerin's Swamp, lot 32, cons 1-2 Verulam.

"As to county bridges only the usual maintenance was carried out during 1930, no new structures, projects having been undertaken. I would recommend that serious consideration be given to the matter of rebuilding the county portion of the Rosedale Bridge, lot 32 and Con. 8 Fenelon during the year 1931.

In the report on the county road system as at December 31st 1930 there are 169 miles of county roads: 8.1 miles of authorized connecting links in towns and villages; and 32 miles of provincial highways in the county. In the details of the distribution of mileage in each classification there are: Asphalt on concrete 7.9; asphalt on macadam 3; asphaltic mixed macadam 7.6; bituminous bound macadam 3; base course macadam 12.9; traffic bound macadam 21.6; crushed stone 10.5; crushed gravel 11.3; pit run gravel 34.5 miles and old gravel road 67.3. All figures above represent miles.

Mrs. Mary Clarke left on Wednesday to spend a few weeks at Belleville and Kinston.

Miss Alice McLaughlin attended events at the Guelph Agricultura College last night and today and will spend Saturday in Toronto.

A very happy time was spent last evening at St. Andrew's Sunday School room despite many other attractions when the Talent Workers held a birthday party. There was a good number present and a good sum realized. The program was short but snappy after a few opening remarks from the chairman, Rev. J. C. Grier in his usual witty manner. Mrs. H. Nesbitt and Mr. McGregor sang a duet followed by a reading by Miss Evelyn McEwan which was heartily encored. Mrs. Nesbitt then gave a very beautiful solo, Mr. McGregor sang "The Wrongs of St. Ives," and answered to an encore. Mr. William Owens in splendid voice sang an old time solo which was very much appreciated. He was assisted by Mrs. Norm Mark and Mrs. Lloyd Wood. Mr. D. J. McLean gave a reading entitled "The ladies a good deal of praise. It is not known if Mr. McLean composed this reading himself. It was very touching and called for a great deal of applause, especially from Mr. F. Armstrong. The program was brought to a close by the playlet entitled, "Let Mary Do It," put on by twelve ladies. It was very well done considering the short time in which it was got up, and it may be repeated in the near future. The climax of the evening came in the cutting of the large birthday cake about five claimed the honor of falling within a few days. Mrs. T. Kemp and her group were responsible for the birthday party. Mrs. W. Lloyd Wood acted as accompanist.

Beet Soup

A different use for beets is in soup. Use two cups of chopped beet to one quart of thin white sauce, with seasoning, such as onion, celery, Worcestershire sauce and sugar. Garnish with whipped cream. The real Russian borsch has sour cream, but the untrained tongue will probably prefer the usual white sauce.

Baked Onions With Cheese

One pound of onions, 1-3 pound of cheese, salt and pepper, and tablespoon of butter. Boil onions well, chop with two knives, grate cheese, add 1-2 of it to boiled onions, with salt, pepper and butter or bacon fat. Mix all well together, put in a shallow dish, and sprinkle other half of cheese on top, and bake until cheese is browned on top. Delicious with baked ham, English tea cakes and a perfect cup of tea.

Timely Tips

If you keep an atomizer containing wave lotion when ironing you can spray spots that have become too dry to iron as you go along.

Light fat left in the pan or electric rang and in two or three minutes open the oven door just for a couple of seconds; this will let out the damp air and the oven will heat much more quickly.

Whether the ironing is easy or hard to do depend much on the way the clothes are hung on the line to dry. Sheets should be hung double along the clothesline. Towels, napkins and luncheon cloths are more easily ironed placed squarely on the line and by the edge. Hang night-dresses along the side, underarm seam. Skirts by the belt and keep their shape if hung by the band instead of the hem.

Have Annual Talk About Reductions

said that in the case of a bridge burning out or something similar there could be an emergency grant passed. In this he was supported by Mr. Begg, of Lindsay, and Mr. Shields, of Bexley, who both thought that this would put the grants on a business-like basis. Warden Ellis pointed out that more roads could be built this year because the cost of living was not so high, but Reeve McGillivray of Carden, said the wages could not be cut any more in fairness to the workmen.

From their side the reeves of the southern townships Messrs McGillivray, McCaughey Handley, and Parkwell pointed out that there were some things these municipalities paid out that they actually received no direct benefit from such as the Ross Memorial Hospital or the provincial highways. Mr. McGillivray also pointed out that the value of the land of a man living on a provincial highway was increased. Mr. Rich said he had seconded the motion to open the question up for discussion but still thought the northern townships were entitled to their shares, and that as was surely they would get va te of all money spent. When the motion itself was put it was lost, and the old system of grants decided upon.

Grants Are Raised

Immediately after the grants were put in by the Reeves of the townships in the following manner:—Ops $325, Garden for $700; Bexley $550; Laxton, Longford and Digby, $500, and Somerville $400. In all of these cases a noticeable cut from last year's grants is noticed with the exception of Bexley, Reeve Rich explaining with regard to conditions, where some work was being carried out as relief work and where the roads were the grant used by tourists enroute to Haliburton causing a great deal of wear and tear on them. It was also pointed out that last year Bexley had received a small grant.

Following this the question of the Union Creek Bridge, half in Peterboro and half in Victoria Counties, and which is in bad shape, was referred to the bridge engineering committee with power to act. On the question of the Mill Pond Bridge in Coboconk this also was referred to the bridge engineering committee. Following up the question, opened up last year, of the scenic highway a motion was put through by Warden Mr. Moore and seconded by Mr. Begg that a resolution be sent to the proper authorities with regard to opening up the scenic highway by way of Dorset to Minden, Norland and Coboconk as a greater incentive to the tourist trade.

Want Pay Now

With regard to the petition from Stamford asking that the $5,000 bridge payment be made for the stones piled as Dunsford, this caused considerable discussion, and it was pointed out that the advertisement specifically stated that payment would not be made until the stone was used and that the petition under no obligation to pile the stones there if they did not approve of the conditions. Warden Ellis said that the stones were all of the kind easy to crush and handle and that the more had worked their fill into them there. He said he realized that the conditions were that nobody was to be paid until the stone was used, but that times were pretty hard for some of the men and if possible he would like to do something for them.

Among the other councillors the opinion was that it would be bad business to pay for the stone in dump or that the advertised time. It was also pointed out that the province might take over the road soon—perhaps before the stone was used, and that it would be poor policy to pay for the stones and then have the road taken over. The petition was filed.

Won't Change Swamp Road Now

On the other petitions signed by some 400 residents of Ops and Emily asking that no action be taken on the change in the Agnew Swamp Road the petition was filed until the June Session with the clause that if the petitioners should have a change then they may have it. In the discussion on this it was pointed out that no action was to have been taken on the road this year, as with the other the good shape it would still be the county road, while if the province should take over the road the new route would cut down the level railway crossings at no additional expense.

Peasant Man's Good Luck

Just before the session adjourned, Reeve Forman brought up a matter of debate when he asked for information on the question that although Sturgeon Point was in the good roads section they did not pay into it.

He pointed out to reach The Point tourists coming from Lindsay either way had to traverse county roads nearly all of the way. They were creating a great deal of wear and tear on the roads and he said he did not understand how it was they did not pay into the system. Warden Elliott agreed with him on this but Mr. Wedgwood and others said The Point was surrounded by county roads there was no county roads leading to or right in the municipality and how it was that they did not pay into the system.

Talk Of Secession At Council

council would give the town a fair deal.

Dr. J. A. White said that he was representing the town council on the matter and stated that there was no definite move for separation although there had been some talk of seeing how the town and county stood. He pointed out that newspaper reports from other places where town and county had separated or were considering the step had prompted the mayor to ask for the necessary figures so that if anything ever did arise he would be able to discuss the matter intelligently. There was no thought of separation at present, said Dr. White, "that we are being dealt with fairly by the county council. And if we were not I am sure that the board would be satisfied immediately by them. But it is all right for the town to seek the figures so that if anything ever did arise in connection, just as it would be equally correct for the county to seek the information for the same reason."

Glad Question Brought Up

Mr. Richard Kylie, until this year on the board of the Ross Memorial Hospital regarded as a local authority on matters municipal, said that in his way of thinking it was a good thing it was the question had been opened up for discussion. He pointed out that if the thing were settled it would be the council, but conflicting rumours that usually arise on a question of this sort would be laid to rest once and for all. "My idea," stated Mr. Kylie "would be that the county council appoint a committee to investigate all the necessary information to meet with a committee from the town council, also knowing all the facts, if the occasion should ever arise. Then they could decide themselves after discussing the matter intelligently and it would kill any rumours." Mr. Kylie's remarks, in general, conveyed the impression that he thought it to be a good thing that the question had been opened up to the members of both councils.

Warden Elliott assured the deputation that his relations with the town and these, he felt, of all others in county council, were the most the happiest and he trusted they would continue to be the same in the future. Mr. Victor White agreed expressed that the council with the suggestion that he be appointed county constable to patrol the county roads. He pointed out that the county roads would be carryins a great deal of tourist traffic this season and that they should be policed for protection. As they were outside the provincial system, no provincial traffic officer would patrol them. A clippings from a local paper was read concerning the efficiency of Mr. White's work in Lindsay last summer, and he assured them of good service if appointed.

Just before council adjourned a motion was put through by Mr. Port man seconded by Mr. Handley that a committee be appointed from the Finance and Assessment committee to meet with a like committee from the council of the municipal county of Haliburton to consider the adjustment of the cost of the administration of justice for those two counties. This adjustment will be made for a period of years.

Good Winter Vegetable

A winter root vegetable that is very palatable if carefully prepared is the salsify or vegetable oyster. Like many of the root vegetables, it is more better after the first touches it. A nippy frost sweetens it and makes it more tender.

Care must be taken that the vegetable does not become discolored, as it is scraped and allowed for cooking. Drop into water to which lemon juice or vinegar has been added as soon as the root is scraped.

Salsify lends itself to make dishes as well as soup and salad. Comparatively few housekeepers recognize its value in adding variety at small cost to winter menus. As most of the made dishes use milk together with other ingredients much nourishment is provided when one of these concoctions is served.

To select the plant, choose small, firm roots. They usually are sold in bunches weighing from one-fourth to one-half pound and containing six roots. This amount will serve from four to six persons.

The following recipe for cream of salsify soup is made particularly savory by the addition of salt codfish.

Cream of Salsify Soup

One bunch salsify, 2 tablespoons shredded salt codfish, 2 cups water, 2 tablespoons butter, 2 teaspoons grated onion, 1-4 teaspoon pepper, 2 cups milk, 1 tablespoon flour.

Soak codfish in lukewarm water for half an hour. Scrape and slice dropping slices in water to which 2 tablespoons vinegar has been added. Cook codfish and salsify in water until vegetable is tender. Rub through a sieve and add to milk. Heat over hot water for twenty minutes. Rub flour and butter to a smooth paste and add to first mixture. Cook until mixture thickens and add pepper. Pour into the boiling point but do not let boil. Serve very hot.

A combination of hard cooked eggs are arranged layer for layer with white sauce in a buttered baking dish. This baked in a moderate oven until delicately brown on top, about twenty minutes. Serve from baking dish.

Monk oysters are made by combining two cups of cooked and mashed salsify with one-half teaspoon salt, 1 tablespoon butter, 1 beaten egg and 1-8 teaspoon paprika. This mixture is molded in little cakes which are sauted in butter.

Jail Old Lady

TORONTO, Ont., Jan. 30—By The Canadian Press)—A gray-haired grandmother, nearly 70 years of age, was given her choice of six months for having two small bottles of moonshine liquor in her Eldrid Township farm house. She was twice convicted of having illicitly manufactured poone in her home. On the previous occasion the Magistrate had been lenient in allowing her further time in which to raise a $500 fine but this time she kept her without the bars of Mercer reformatory. She had expected some encouragement and when it did not came she bench found no option but to pass the minimum penalty of six months' imprisonment on the elderly woman.

HAVE STRONG TEAM

Junior Curling Club Race Becomes Closer; L. Flack Now In Lead For Trophy

In spite of the fact that the proposed hockey league between the teams of the high schools or colleges of Peterboro, Bobcaygeon and Lindsay fell through with the withdrawal of the two first teams, the L.C.I. team has been practising hard for the past few weeks. They will be rewarded for this work, by the arrangements of a game to be played on Saturday in the Lindsay Street Arena at 1.30 p.m. between the Bobcaygeon High School and the L.C.I. Mr. W. S. W. Breese will put a strong team on the ice which will be selected from, Reid and Goldie to guard the citadel; Scott, McIlmoyle, Wilkins and McKee for the defence; and Cain, J. Campbell, R. Broom, J. Tring, R. Abbott, and the Lamb brothers for the forward line.

With the above material to select from the representatives of the the L.C.I. whoever they turn out to be, should give a good account of themselves in their first game of the season on Saturday. No doubt a large crowd of supporters will turn out to support the team, and they should be treated to a lively game of hockey.

Starting on Tuesday, after school the first game of the intra-mural schedule will be played. This schedule is taking the place of inter-colour games in the school as the colour section teams are too unevenly balanced to make the schedule a success. To do this Mr. Breese has been in touch with all those interested in playing and has arranged all them on teams dividing the ability as evenly as possible. Altogether five teams have been made up. The schedule will be announced on Monday.

Curling

Progressing quite favourably since its opening date at the first of the month the junior schedule is now well under way. It is predicted at the first of the season the games have with one or two exceptions been very close. L. Flack's rink is at present leading in the number of games won and lost, but the schedule is not yet over and there is a strong possibility that the leadership will change several times before the closing date. It has been arranged that the record and third play teams to play a sudden death game to decide the rink to play a series of three games with the first team for the Lytle cup and club championship

Standing of the rinks to date:—

L. C. I. Held Carnival Last Night

Excellent Crowd On Hand, Many In Original Costumes; Races Were Keenly Contested

With an excellent crowd of enthusiasts on hand the L. C. I. Carnival for 1931 passed off in a very successful manner last night down in the Lindsay Street Arena. Among the crowd were a number of skaters in costume presenting scenes of various colours and comedies, as well as the odd comic dress. Many are now regretting their non-appearance in costume as the management gave the "decorated ones" the entire privileges of the ice for a half hour while the others were kept behind the rails. The dishes did not approve of this, but it gave the judges a good opportunity to pick out the winners. Their decision resulted as follows:

Best Dressed Girl—V. Chick.
Best Dressed Boy—Jack Rennie
Best Comic Girl—A. Winchester
Best Comic Boy—"Miss" J. Groves

Judges of the costumes were Mrs. F. Corkery, Miss Clarke and Mr. D. McLean.

After the judging of the costumes thereon, the main part of the programme for a large number among the crowd, was held, and all events were keenly contested. The bun and keg race especially drew a very large entry and was very interesting for the onlookers. After the first round all the L.C.I. students except a couple were eliminated. Many thought that the L. C. I.'s rugby players would know how to tackle the kegs, but they seemed to have lost their ability. However, one little lad by the names of "Ted" carrying the Red, Blue and Gold, in the form of a sweater upheld the honor of the school until he was eliminated in the "threes". He was given a big hand as he skated on the ice. The boys' open race also drew a large entry, and had to be run off in two heats, with the first two qualifying for the finals. Four "professionals" from (?) entered the event, but all got off to a poor start and were not able to show their real ability if they had any.

The rails—

Girls under 15 yrs.—E. Hodgson. Boys' under 16 yrs.—J. Tripp
Girls' over 15 yrs.—W. Brennan
Boys' over 16—First heat, 1st, L. Reeves, 2nd, G. Gamble; second heat 1st D. Lamb, 2nd, V. Smith; final, 1st, D. Lamb, 2nd, L. Reeves.

Girls Keg Race—1st R. Langdon, 2nd, W. Brennan.

Boys' Keg Race—1st "Si" Peel, 2nd B. Dickerson.

Mixed Race—Miss W. Brennan and Mr. A. Morhal.

Officials for the evening were—Mr. L. Hale. Announcer Mr. H. Groves, judges for races, Mr. Tupman and Mr. Hale; Chaperons, Miss J. Stewart and Mr. W. S. W. Breese, accountant, J. Minden.

On the completion of the racing card an hour's skating was provided and no doubt many took advantage of the opportunity and had their yearly skate.

The Leafs Win From Senators In Nice Fixture

Win Enable Toronto Entry To Enter Into Second Place In National League.

TWO IN FIVE SECONDS

OTTAWA, Jan. 30—Toronto Maple Leafs unleashed a furious closing attack to net a trio of goals and win from Ottawa Senators here tonight after the lowly homesters appeared to have the decison "in the bag." The win lifted the Toronto crew out of their deadlock with Montreal Maroons and into second place in the National Hockey League's Canadian Section standing.

Manager Dave Gill presented a vastly changed line-up in an effort to lift Senators out of the slump which had consigned them into the bottom berth in the standing and for the first two periods the plan was dominated by the homesters. They shot a goal in each of these periods, Len Grosvenor and "Bill" Touhey doing the netting on passes from Art Gagne.

From the opening whistle of the final frame, however, the Leafs forced a hot pace, and in the space of five seconds wiped out their opponents' seemingly safe lead. Charlie Conacher took Joe Primeau's reckless pass to net the first, and then Harvey Jackson tallied from the sideboards shot, also on a combination thru it with the slim Primeau. The game was won by Jackson with five minutes of play left on a lone dash.

Leafs Yield First Goal

A mixture of hard luck and loose play ruined the golden Senator chances in the first minute of play. The Leaf defence was demoralized by the fury of the homesters' rush-in dash, and play was taken right in on top of Chabot, but the non-functioning combination nullified the Ottawa gosling efforts. The lively netman was brilliant in saving from Kilrea from a few feet out and then absorbing Lamb's lift on the rebound.

The early Side Leafs made for goals were nearly all on long shots Stanley reared right through Senator ranks and his home folk gave him a big hand which grew even louder as Ottawa netman muffled the "King's" drive.

Quebec Sets Pace In Winter Sports

Winter sports, in the most hi famous Eastern Dog-Sled Derby on February 19, 20 and 21, followed by the traditional Masquerade Ball in the Chateau Frontenac's gracious ball-room, being among the high-lights.

For picturesqueness, Canada's Ancient Capital can hold its own with any city in the world and the surrounding countryside offers a host of opportunities for excursions. Snow conditions, following the great January storm, are reported excellent and those who have visited the Chateau Frontenac, either in winter or in summer, have learned that its name for hospitality, accommodation and cuisine is indeed well-earned.

The pictures show: above: a typical dog-team on the right, the majestic Chateau Frontenac, towering over Quebec's Lower Town; upper centre and lower-left, ski-jumpers and, below: visitors out for a run in the Chateau Frontenac's dog-sleighs. The very youthful skiliers shown middle-left are typical of how young Quebec takes to winter sports, which have become famous throughout the American continent and bring visitors and competitors over Canadian Pacific lines from most of the larger centres of Eastern Canada and the United States.

$100,000 Offer For Senators

Indications Are That Present Owners of Ottawa Club Will Sell Out At This Figure

REMAIN IN OTTAWA

OTTAWA, Jan. 30—An offer of $100,000 for the Ottawa Senator Hockey Club was made last night while Senators were engaged in a losing National League tilt with the Toronto Maple Leafs. The offer, at a price which the present club owners have indicated would meet their demands, was made by Harold Code, lawyer of this city, for certain Ottawa clients.

If the offer is accepted, which is dependent on more or less minor details it would mean the team would remain in the capital.

Mr. Code declined to divulge for whom he was acting in the matter, nor would he say if one or more persons were making the offer for the hockey team's purchase. Earlier unofficial reports have had it, however, that a syndicate of influential hockey fans and service club men of the city might be formed to take over the team. In these reports Mr. Code was mentioned as the legal mind behind the movement.

INCREASED SCHOOL GRANT APPORTIONED TO TEACHERS

COBALT, Jan. 30—The Public School Board approved, with one dissenting vote, an increase of $50 for each of 16 teachers on its staff and of $100 for the other two, Principal Elliott and Miss Mederith, who take the entrance classes. The trustees were agreed that $1,000 of the increased grant to be received this year from the Province amounting to more than $4,300 should be apportioned to the teaching staff, but two trustees thought a 3 per cent. increase all round to cover the superannuation fees which the board has discontinued paying, would be fairer. They also would have given the $300 which would be saved by this proposal in increases on merit.

LIVE STOCK RECEIPTS

TORONTO—Light steady stalk cattle were offered at the Union Stock Yards yesterday and of these, which totalled 500 head, some 30 head were sold. Bids were steady to a shade easier than the week's close, 50c per cwt. decline on the few butcher cattle that went over the scales and prices were $5.50 to $6.50 a hundred. Ped calves, or baby beeves, sold at $8 a hundred for medium quality.

Calves closed a shade easier than the top point of the week, with only a few off the road offered, selling at $9 to $10.75 for choice quality.

There were only 35 hogs offered and these sold at $9 f.o.b. or $10 off cars. Packers' bids were lower for week-end arrivals at $8.75 a f.o.b.

Lambs were slow, showing a substantial decline on the week's trading, the quality not being up to the required standard. Load sold yesterday at $8.50 a hundred.

EARLY NAVIGATION CLOSE IS OPPOSED BY ENGINEERS

KINGSTON, Jan. 30—The views expressed by Thomas L. Church, of Toronto recently on life saving stations and earlier closing of navigation do not find favor with Council No. 4 of the National Association of Marinet Engineers, Kingston. This council has announced that the personal opinion of the Pilmall marketshifting boards and the dore and all strong backs would do a great deal to prevent lake disasters. The members opposed the early closing of navigation on the ground that the season was shortened it would work a hardship on the men who earn their living by lake navigation.

How To Lose Fat and Get That Youthful Feeling

Over in Great Britain when a man is feeling "no fit as a fiddle" and looking the "picture of health" they say:

"HE'S GOT THAT KRUSCHEN FEELING."

That means he takes his little dose of Kruschen Salts every morning.

It's the same in the U.S.A.—in Germany—in Holland—in Australia —in South Africa, for Kruschen Salts are now sold the world over.

Kruschen Salts is not one salt only—it is the combination of six salts necessary to healthy life.

Take half a teaspoon in a glass of hot water before breakfast every morning, modify your diet and exercise regularly.

But don't miss a morning, for Kruschen not only puts and keeps the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels in a splendid healthy condition, but purifies your bloodstream, and sends life and activity to every part of your body.

Girl Is Warned To Go To Work

EDMONTON, Jan. 29— (By Canadian Press)—Hilda Clanning, 23, who three years ago was left an estate of $3,800 is looking for a job and if she doesn't get one she may find herself in more trouble.

Dressed in khaki trousers and a sweater Hilda recently appeared before Magistrate Emily Murphy in Women's Court, on a charge of theft. She stole a lump of coal from a wagon in the Market Square, threw it in the back of her automobile and started home, but a constable soon caught up with her.

Unemployment of herself and a brother-in-law, Hilda told the court, was responsible for the theft.

"How have you been living?" asked Magistrate Murphy.

"My father left me $3,800 three years ago. It's all gone now."

"Well, any girl who spend $3,800 in three years is looking for trouble. Now you get a job," said the magistrate.

Sentence was suspended until April 20, but if Hilda has a job by that time there will be no further court action.

"Gringo Privateer"

By Peter B. Kyne

SYNOPSIS

Kenneth Burney, adventurer and one-time gentleman, comes to Bradley Bardin, King of the cattle country, for a job. Burney has had a fight with Martin Bruce, a rival cattle owner who has been stealing the King's stock, aided by Miguel Gallegos, a Mexican bandit. The king, liking young Burney, makes him general manager of the ranch on condition that he put Bruce and Gallegos out of the way.

Muriel Bardin, beautiful daughter of the king, is more interested in Burney than she cares to admit. She opposes her father and begs him not to let Burney risk his life.

But Burney's plans are made. After an encounter with Bruce, in which the cattle thief swears to kill him, young Burney prepare to leave for El Cajon Bonita where the rustlers have been operating. He is determined to shoot it out. The King sees that his daughter is in love with Burney and tries to persuade the latter to give up his dangerous mission. But Burney insists on finishing his job. At El Cajon Bonita he meets Gallegos the Mexican bandit. Gallegos with two hundred followers charges Burney's band of picked riders. He is repulsed with heavy losses. Gallegos himself escaped. A second time Burney goes to El Cajon Bonita, this time to meet the gathered forces of Gallegos and Bruce, who are determined to wipe him out. Muriel confesses her love to her father and asks the King to stop Burney. The king follows Burney and orders him to give up his plan, but Burney says it is too late.

CHAPTER 20

"I have no definite plan beyond a certain point, a certain hour," said Ken Burney. "After that, as the field service regulations would express it, the tactical situation will govern. Two or three things may happen and I have a plan to meet each contingency. One involves no casualties to our side; one involves some casualties and one involves so many I do not care to think about it and get myself all hot and bothered.

"I have made arrangements to have this bottle pulled off to suit me, but there is always a chance that the hair will slip somewhere. Here is the tactical situation. In the town of Los Osos, where Gallegos has his headquarters, there are a hundred mounted men under orders to march on El Cajon Bonita at three o'clock tomorrow morning. This will bring them to the southern end of the valley about daylight. They know that if my party enters from that direction the entrance will be effected before daylight; hence, if this Los Osos outfit picks up my trail it will follow on it and try to drive me up on to Miguel Callegos, who, with a hundred infantry and four machine guns, at this moment occupies the barranca. I occupied when I licked him last week. Miguel knows a good position when he sees it or gets licked at it. Yes, sir, old Miguel is lying there in ambush, gutting both ways for Ken Burney, like a cross-eyed youth looking for the circus."

"If you enter from the south you and all your men will perish," the king declared emphatically.

"Of course. Consequently I shall come down through that narrow pass from the south.

"But, you young idiot, have you reflected that a sizable armed party under Martin Bruce will be laying for you at the north entrance that he'll let you enter the pass, then follow behind you and drive you down on to Gallegos, waiting in the barranca?"

"That's is Bruce's plan. At least, I think it is, because it would be my plan if I estimated the situation as I think he has. Until tonight he was in doubt as to which route I would select, but he knows now that I plan to enter from the north. He will permit me to make a peaceable entry to the pass, then he will enter behind him. But what he doesn't know is that a troop of rurals—not less than sixty sabers—is going to permit him to enter unmolested and then drop in behind him.

"What he does know is that there is but one troop of rurales within a radius of two hundred miles of El Cajon Bonita and that a commanding officer of that troop isn't quite fool enough to tangle with the Gallegos forces. He just couldn't win, he knows it and so do they. Also Bruce realizes that the Mexican government has adopted an attitude of patient watchful waiting as far as Gallegos is concerned. Unless he gets unbelievably dirty it will elect to believe he doesn't exist. Also, Bruce knows that my party, fully armed, is going to make an unofficial entry into Mexico tonight, and he thinks I do this because I desire to keep the Mexican government officials in ignorance of my movements for if my party shrould run into the rurales we would be arrested as illegal entrants, a charge of breaking the neutrality laws would be lodged against us; or it might be assumed that we were bandits or smugglers. At any rate we would have no defense and off we'd go to a firing squad or a filthy Mexican penitentiary.

"Conversely, the same conditions apply to Bruce and his party. He reasons that we are two souls with but a single thought, two hearts that beat as one; that we yearn to settle our private grudge on Mexican soil without interference from the Mexican government, knowing that the survivors can cross back into United States territory and not be asked embarrassing questions. So that, your Majesty is the actual situation.

"What happens after Ken Burney, Martin Bruce and Captain Eliseo Benavides with their respective commands find themselves in that pass together is problematical."

"If I were only young enough to ride in with you!" His Majesty complained sadly. "You call me King and a King ought to lead his troops. I feel like a bewildered mouse. I can't go back to El Ranchito tonight. I can't face Muriel, so I'm going to borrow your blankets. Ken, hole up here tonight with the cook and await news of your fate as early as you can send it to me tomorrow. Don't delay I'll be suffering. Soo, have you got your horse in order against a hasty exit from this vale of tears?"

"Yes, sir; I surrendered my horse to Martin Bruce this morning and there's a thousand dollars waiting for me in escrow in the Ranchito National Bank That, my outfit and my pay check constitute my entire estate. I have made you my executor and my father is my sole heir."

"What? Haven't you left some little remembrance to that girl you're so crazy about?" The King just could not help this little lashing expedition.

"Nothing but a memory, sir. And perhaps I flatter myself in thinking that she will even remember me six months from now."

The king winced. His fish had slipped off the hook.

When Ken Burney and his men rode into the pass at three o'clock next morning they did so at a smart trot. Indeed, the drumming of hooves on hard earth, the jingle of spurs and bits and the creak of leather would have proclaimed to any one half a mile distant the news of his approach. And that at least one of Martin Bruce's watchful outposts gleaned the news was apparent to Burney when, from the crest of a low ridge to the left of the pass entrance, a horse whinnied.

"It won't be long now," Mr. Burney told Tom Bledsoe.

It lacked half an hour of dawn when the men of El Ranchito rode out into El Cajon Bonita. But they rode at a walk now, their horses' footfalls deadened by the long luxuriant grass. In conformity with orders previously given him, Tom Bledsoe led fifteen men across the valley to the left and some fifty yards into the thick scrubby pines that grew down to the base of the flanking range on that side. Burney, with the other fifteen men, rode to the right and hid himself and party in similar fashion.

"Distribute yourselves along the edge of the trees and preferably behind boulders, men," Burney ordered. "Select a position where you will have considerable protection but which affords an unobstructed view of the valley, and under no circumstances commence firing until I give the order and the range. The horses will drink then they'll be resaddled and are pretty tired after a twenty-mile less or do any neighing.

Slowly the gray light stole over El Cajon Bonita. First the hills across the valley appeared, indistinctly; gradually little hummocks, small bushes, tufts of grass and cattle became sharply outlined in the foreground. Burney bent a pair of binoculars on the bottom of the valley and made out a man's head upthrust above the bank. A sentry, doubtless.

Suddenly two men rode out of the pass into the valley, where they pulled up and gazed about them. Burney decided they constituted Bruce's advanced guard; and that they were wondering what had become of the quarry. Failure to locate it evidently disconcerted them for suddenly they wheeled their horses and rode back into the pass.

ALL SETTLED IN THREE MINUTES

Betty was greatly enthused about the dance her mother was giving her. But she was worried, too.

"I do want to ask Janet", she explained, "but it will take three or four days to get a letter back and if she can't come it will be too late then to ask someone else".

"Why not telephone her", suggested her mother. "It won't cost much. In fact", — as she found the out-of-town rates in the front of the directory — "if you call after eight-thirty in the evening it will be only 45 cents".

So Betty called after dinner that night and Janet said "yes" right away. It was all settled in three minutes, and another young hostess had discovered how easy it is to use the telephone for out-of-town invitations.

Evening rates on "Anyone" (station-to-station) calls now begin at 7 p.m. Night rates begin at 8.30 p.m. Just give "Long Distance" the number you want—it speeds up the service. If you don't know the distant number, "Information" will look it up for you.

Alberta Girl Is Star In Talkies

CALGARY, Jan. 29—(C.P.)—Actress, radio broadcaster and singer, Florence McHugh, of Calgary, has scored her greatest dramatic success in talking pictures. The pretty, slim little Alberta girl, who a few years ago went to London to take singing lessons, today is the star of a late screen success produced in Britain. Miss McHugh, well known as a stage star in London, visited here last summer.

Youngest daughter of one of southern Alberta's oldest families, Jamhes, Miss McHugh was born in Calgary where her mother still lives. She received her early education here, taking part in numerous amateur stage productions. She was 19 years old when she went to London, where she entered the Royal College of Music to study singing and there her father, the late Felix A. McHugh, was a pioneer of Calgary, coming here from Ottawa in 1883.

Miss McHugh took part in college plays and in 1926 made her first professional appearance in "Mr. Peys" at the Everyman Theatre. It was through the excellency of interpretation of her part in this play that Clemence Dane, noted British playwright, chose her to play the part of "Penny", the little peasant girl, in "Granite."

Engagements were numerous following her success under Dane and in 1928 she was offered the leading role in "Show Boat." Within the last two years Miss McHugh has become well known to British radio listeners her broadcasts being featured. Last summer she married Dr. John Piercy, young Canadian physician who is practising in London. Her stage and screen career will be continued.

On Fish Diet

PONOKA, Alta. Jan. 29—(By the Canadian Press)—Nature's own trap has ensued a plentiful supply of fish for citizens of Ponoka.

Shoal upon shoal of suckers and jackfish, weighing from one to 24 pounds, flounder in helpless masser in open water of Battle River.

The trap was formed through lack of water where a dam was built, making it impossible for fish to continue their journey up stream, a trip they are making months ahead of their usual schedule owing to exceptionally mild weather this winter.

More than 100 sacks of fish daily are being hauled away, one man landing a 24 pound jackfish.

Oakwood Y.P.S. Stage Banquet

Some 150 Members and Guests Attend; Enjoyable Program Follows; Number of Toasts

OAKWOOD, Jan. 29 (Staff Correspondence)—Quite an elaborate affair was held on Tuesday evening in the basement of the church at Oakwood when the winners of the recent contest held in connection with the Young People's Society were the guests at a sumptuous banquet given by the losing group. About 150 were present, including guests.

Mr. Hugh Davidson, a prominent worker in the Society acted quite ably as Toastmaster. After a few introductory remarks by the Pastor, Rev. R. H. Lickard, the dainty and delicious supper began to rapidly disappear.

After all had partaken of the first course, Rev. Rickard led in community singing, and again before the toasts were proposed the assembly were treated to another exertion of Rev. Rickard's original humour in leading recreational exercises.

The first toast to "The King" was responded to by the National Anthem in unison after which Miss Florence Metherall gave a piano solo. Miss Metherall also played for the community singing.

The toast to our Dominion was ably proposed by Miss May Serpell, after which all joined in singing "O Canada". Mr. Albert Stonebridge then favoured the gathering with a vocal solo which was followed by a trust to "Our Church" by Mr. Lloyd Webster and responded to by Rev. Mellow of Manilla, whose address was very much enjoyed.

Mr. Harvey Graham then gave a mouth organ solo accompanied by Rev. Rickard at the piano, which was followed by a toast to the winning group by Miss Ada Gorrill, one of the group leaders. Miss Orien Birch, leader of the winning group, ably responded after which Mrs. E. O. Gorrill rendered a solo.

Mr. Albert Stonebridge then proposed a toast to "Our Guests" responded to by Mr. F. G. Perrin. After more community singing an impromptu toast was offered to "The Ladies" by Messrs. Ray Townsend and Lloyd Weldon and Mrs. H. Dale was chosen to respond.

Mr. Rickard concluded the gathering with a few well chosen remarks.

Perhaps the most unique feature of the evening occurred after the banquet, in the pantry where a casual observer would notice most of the wash washing etc. being performed by the manly (?) members of the Society. This was in answer to the challenge of Rev. Rickard at the close of the banquet. We aim to print the names of these kitchen heroes or knight of the pantry, but we can suggest that the majority of the said Tea Towel Brigade although not looking as "chic" in an apron as could be hoped for, were all of cheerfulness and duty as interviewed by interested members of the opposite sex by application to the gentleman who braved all the elements of the feminine sex and took a lone stand with his dishpan in the kitchen. Among the fairer sex, braving his comrades aghast in the pantry, who, toiling under the handicap of a tea towel, or an apron(pinafore) as official dishwiper, were unable to give any support(?)

Hospital Gets $2500 As In 1930; Fair Grant Is Cut To $1100 This Year

Yesterday afternoon the last committee meeting of the January session of the county council was held when a standing committee on Finance and Assessment with Reeve John A. McGillivray of Ops in the chair, occupied the attention of the members through an all-afternoon session in which a great deal of business was disposed of. In the awarding of the grants the grant of $2500 to the Ross Memorial Hospital remained the same as before as did the grant of $25 to the various women's institutes throughout the county. The grant to the Victoria County Plowmen's Association was cut from $275 of last year to $200 this year. The grant to the Lindsay, Fenelon Falls and Bobcaygeon Horticultural Societies at the end of 50 cents per capita of Lindsay $75 this year, and the other two societies $25 each.

On the grants to the various reporting public libraries 50 per cent cut was made with Lindsay receiving $80 and the other libraries throughout the county $40 each. In the grant to the various reporting agricultural societies throughout the county a cut of 25 percent was made with Lindsay receiving $1100; Somerville, $350; Mariposa, $150; Verulam, $225. The grant to the Victoria County Tuberculosis Association was dropped altogether for this year. Several communications were received and filed.

"Cut" Motion Defeated

At the first of the meeting the motion of Mr. Forman seconded by Mr. Grant, that the Finance and Assessment Committee take into consideration and report on the advisability of making all grants cash or necessary on a basis of 50 percents on the grants for the same purpose as in 1930 was defeated by a substantial majority. Mr. Forman in supporting the motion said that it was one which would receive hearty endorsation throughout the county. He said he was willing to exempt the hospital grant, from the program of cuts as it was a different nature than the others.

He said that he had no doubt that all the grants of the year were for good causes and that the organization requesting them again were just as deserving as they were much in need. But he said the ratepayers were in need too this year and many were cutting down things they were in need of, and he thought the organizations applying for help should be asked to do the same thing. He said he was not picking on any one grant, but on the grants as a whole. He granted that the rate would not be effected by the giving of the grants but the country would have some surplus at least, and it was in the interest of the ratepayers to do this. He said that he was not willing to make an exception for the Ross Memorial Hospital.

Opposing the motion Reeve Handley, of Somerville, said that each grant should be considered on its own merit. Some perhaps needed money more than others. Mr. Moore said that the motion looked too pol-

MAY DEFER REVISIONS IN TARIFFS

ARE MANY REQUESTS FOR TARIFF BOOSTS. BUT SEVERAL REASONS FOR DEFERRING THEM

OTTAWA, Jan. 31—Although dozens for tariff revision—particularly upward revision—were never more numerous than they have been since some of the key industries were granted more protection at the special session of Parliament last September, prospects for a complete overhauling of the tariff at the coming session are regarded as remote.

The notion was that general revision will be postponed is based upon several considerations:

1. The disposition of the Government to await the outcome of the adjourned Empire Economic Conference.

2. Strong opposition in Western Canada to further increases in the Customs duties, and consequent addition to the costs of things the farmer must buy.

Undertakings to France

3. Undertakings which have been given to France that the trade treaty with that country will continue to give French goods a preference to the Canadian market. French buys Canadian wheat in reasonable quantities.

4. Lack of a Tariff Commission and adequate machinery that could produce a scientific revision of the customs schedules.

The government is hoping for some definite advantage in the way of British trade from the Economic Conference next autumn, and is not anxious to flout low-tariff opinion in Western Canada, from which section the Administration draws substantial support at the general election last July.

Six Months Notice

The French treaty cannot be denounced without six months' notice and agreement with several other European countries are based on the French treaty, and would be abrogated if that part were to be terminated. Premier Bennett is not likely to cancel the French treaty if the country produces a good customer for Canadian cereals.

PASS BY-LAWS

Meeting for the last session of the January county council this morning, the morning was mostly taken up with tying up the loose ends of business at the end of the session several details were brought up by the clerk as to the annual convention of the Good Roads System and the check to be made in future on the Old Age pensioners. The report of the Standing Committee on Finance and Assessment was received and adopted. Two by-laws were introduced and passed. The usual round of the horseshoe was made by the page boy to get his "collections."

After the minutes had been read and adopted the clerk asked the members of the Good Roads system, how many of them would be attending the annual convention of the Good Roads Association, and reminded them again that the check on the Old Age pensioners would be sent for their "okey" every so often in 1931. Then the report of the standing committee on Finance and Assessment, which met under the chairman Reeve John A. McGillivray, of Carden, yesterday afternoon was received and adopted without amendment.

Two by-laws necessary to establish the credit of the county so that money could be borrowed for the roads system and current expenses, until the taxes for the year came in were then passed. Council then adjourned for the session.

FALL ASSIZES LAST YEAR COST COUNTY ABOUT $4000

In the statement of assets and liabilities in the general account for the County of Victoria, given yesterday at the meeting of the Finance and Assessment Committee in the county council January session, a deficit of $1,648.75 was noticed in the account. It was explained that the county would have had a tidy little surplus here had it not been for the unusually long sittings of Supreme Court of eleven days in the fall. This cost the county in the neighborhood of $4,000, with the juror's fees alone set at approximately $2500. This cut what otherwise would have been a neat little surplus to a deficit of $1,648.75. This was with His Honor Justice McEvoy on the bench, S. R. Broadfoot, K.C., of Ottawa, as Crown Prosecutor, and C. G. Frost, of Lindsay, as defence lawyer, in all the cases. The three cases themselves would not have occupied so much time but one juror broke bounds and a retrial was ordered in one of the cases, and the other one dragged out to exceptional length, while the third case was decided in half a day.

Entertain County Council, Town Council And Members Of Fair Board Last Night

REAL "GET-TOGETHER"

The officers of the Victoria and Haliburton Regiments throw open their quarters last evening, played the role of host to the members of the County and Town Council, and Fair Board, and played it well. With practically the entire membership of these three important municipal bodies intact, and that of the officers' mess also well represented, every enjoyable hours of "get together" were spent in the splendid rooms of the Garrison Club, with the ever-popular band, under the direction of Prof. Gliddon supplying music for the early part of the evening.

Introduced to the guests of the evening by Lieut.-Col. R. I. Moore O.C. of the regiment, Prof. Gliddon in a few words welcomed the guests, and telling of the splendid way the band is coming along and asked for support from the Council and Fair Board whenever possible.

The improvement in the band as a whole was duly noticed by many and the way the men are shaping up under the able guidance of the new bandmaster, it is quite evident that Lindsay will boast of a band such as she hasn't had for a good many years. The regiment and the officers are behind it, and with the added support of the citizens as well, the already good unit should develop into one of the best.

Immediately following the musical presentation, the officers produced several forms of recreation for their guests, and while some enjoyed games of bridge or euchre, others made good use of the billiard room.

The lunch, consisting of a choice of fish, or roast ham, bread, cakes, pies, tarts, coffee and cream, with delicious punch, etc. was served in the officers mess, in cafeteria style, and everyone heartily pleased with the excellent chefs' own service.

At the conclusion of the evening, the vote of thanks to the officers of the Garrison Club for their hospitality, was moved by Mr. Roy Hall, seconded by Deputy-Reeve Joseph Hickson, past-president of the South Victoria Agricultural Society.

Elliott, as an evidence of esteem and appreciation of his having been made warden.

Reeve Foster Kelly, of Fenelon Falls, in a few and well-chosen remarks reminded all present he was born in Verulam and until he was twenty-one years old made Bobcaygeon his home village. Since then he has resided in Fenelon Falls and was very proud to represent that village at the County Council. The same he offered to the warden the best place on the Kawartha Lakes, and hoped the next banquet would be held in Fenelon Falls at which all present would be welcomed.

Former Pastor at St. Andrew's Is Well Liked in New Charge

Rev. E. C. Currie And Family Are Well Liked In Their Home At Sault Ste Marie.

CHARLIE AT QUEEN'S NOW

That Rev. E. C. Currie, former pastor of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church, Lindsay, and his family are well liked at the Soo where they are living now, can be seen by the following letter clipping from the Sault Ste Marie Daily Star:

"Amongst the pleasant people of the Sault the Rev. E. C. Currie, pastor of St. Paul's Presbyterian Church, takes a front rank place and while he cannot be classed as a really old resident yet his early Church, Lindsay and his family are entitles him to that distinction. Mr. Currie passed through the Sault on his way to the Pacific Coast in 1908, when the Sault had no lock, and there was only one on the American side. At that time the streets were practically no public buildings in the Sault, and commenting on the change that has come to that city is of the opinion that the Sault has a great future ahead of it, and will not be surprised if the years to come as it has done in the past.

Secession From County

It is almost certain that for the present anyhow Lindsay will do nothing about withdrawing from the county, but, as Reeve H. Kylie pointed out to the county council yesterday, it does not hurt to have the question discussed by west town and county representatives. Were either party losing much by remaining together, the people's representatives would be in grave error by not knowing of the fact. That the Lindsay town council has asked for figures to show how much the town pays into the county and how much it gets back, is a healthy state of affairs, and town councillors would be amiss did they not know all the conditions under which the town's affairs are being operated.

From the discussion when delegations from the town came before the county council yesterday, it is made plain that the town entertained no thought of secession at present, but that it was a good thing the question was brought up. Conditions are always changing and all the councillors owe it to their electors to know all they can about the county's money affairs so that they will know best how to act to get the most for their money.

At various times in the past, talk of secession from the County has been heard and it has always resulted in a closer check on how the money is obtained and spent, and that is a desirable thing.

Secession talk is heard every once in a while. It is a question that concerns every person in the county, a question that should be discussed openly in an impersonal manner, rather than on the street corners. Lindsay and Victoria County have been associated for many years and there is nothing to be gained by severing the connection, as Canadian men know. Each can help the other to a great deal through trade, to come for the town depends a great deal on trade with the farmers of the district and the farmers of the county depend many times on the town and it is only by co-operation that the other can thrive. It is a case of mutual benefit to each and all concerned. The town be sure if the town's representatives work together for good of the whole they will be able to do more for the county. Secret sessions are not necessary. Open discussion is the thing to bring it about.

Getting Out A Paper

Contrary to the belief of a good newspaper is fascinating work. It is a difficult job," says the Lincoln Independent. "No other job that comes to mind is quite so exacting. Perhaps a doctor's work is more difficult. Perhaps a lawyer's calling is more exacting. Perhaps a minister's profession requires more study. But for all around, the name of newspaper work is the most difficult.

"Could you, for example, spell correctly, offhand, the name of a large percentage of the residents of your town? Could you do that without referring to the telephone directory, without referring to the telephone operator, without referring to your local school board, your city directory, getting all the names, initials and address correct?

"Could you gather the threads of a story from half a dozen sources and weave them into an intelligent readable narrative the first writing?

"Could you write columns of material of from 1,200 or 1,400 words each, two or three days, week after week, year after year, and when you had finished those columns could you put two or three columns more before press time?"

In writing a heading could you call to mind in a minute or two every word you would need to print the man thought in the same words?

Could you judge in a minimum of time what size headline, and what type face would be required to get the most of the 76, 100 or more stories that money you could place?

Could you decide in a moment or exercise analysis and reason on the desires of emotions a newspaper man must have daily and get a majority of them correct?

We won't tire you—but if you could do those few things and a thousand and one more different things you should be a newspaper editor.

The editor has more problems that can possibly be solved than any other executive. Circulation problems and those of financial expedients. You have heart dozens of persons remark that today turn out such a newspaper, and a good one, too, a bit better than it was the one they are getting. That is not true, because they have gone through the process of satisfying good newspaper demands of its makers.

"Were you not to the unfair financial assistance of a newspaper work there would be no newspapers. Not because of poor taskmaster, and money alone is not the only reason compensation."

Saved A Million Babies

Nobody knows for certain why he was a shining light. Something could say that Nathan Straus was a great philanthropist. But that was years ago, and in between the time of his energies for almost a generation were devoted to business matters. Nathan Straus was a merchant and his benefactions are estimated to have totalled $15,000,000 or more. But he grew quite old and lived quickly. He earned no number with one hand, he went about his charities. So much of what he did was known only to himself and those who benefited.

Among Nathan Straus' greatest cares were the undernourished children of New York, and in the interests of these he established a series of milk depots. The milk provided through his generosity is credited with having saved the lives of a million babies. No one could crave a better epitaph than that.—Vancouver Province.

CAN DO NOTHING ABOUT IT
(St. Thomas Times-Journal)

Colonel Robinson, M.P., for East Essex, makes a very truthful statement when he declares that Canada's move in declaring the export of liquor illegal has had an effect more than to reprive the Canadian Government of about $15,000,000.00 in revenue. The United States still gets the liquor, according to the Wickersham report, through Canada, figures at Ottawa show, is not getting the revenue.

The ban on liquor exports was enacted by the Dominion parliament as a result of an election and all parties in the House, almost to a man, supported it—or rather declined to vote against it. And Colonel Robinson may talk as much as he likes about the injustice of the thing, but it is very doubtful if Ottawa will ever "back water" on the deal.

WELL, GOOD-BYE HOWARD
(Toronto Telegram)

Hon. C. Howard Ferguson has gone out from politics and with the possible exception of a few irreconcilable Liberals, is sorry to see him go, for among his assets was always to be found a personality that endeared him to his fellowman.

But there is a general sorrow arise, a conviction that Mr. Ferguson knew when to go and how to go. For his departure synchronized with the peak of Conservative fortunes. There was almost unanimously Conservative, the finances of the province filled the treasury and conquest. The Premier filled the treasury and conquest till there was nowhere to go except down—or out.

So he went out. And nobody will deny that his going out was in keeping with his political career. No Canadian statesman ever got such farewells, or so many of them, as the man who started in by nailing opponents' hides to various fences.

But the spirit of great men generally leaves their successors in tough spots. And Premier Henry is in his right now. For to keep the Conservative majority up to the present level and fill the gaps that industrial depression has made in provincial revenues.

REMOVING TONSILS BY LOCAL ANAESTHESIA

To anyone unused to surgery or operations the removal of tonsils by injection with procaine before operation thus making it unnecessary to put the patient to sleep it might seem that it required some nerve on the patient's part.

As a matter of fact just as much can be extracted by injecting the surrounding tissues so also can tonsils be safely and completely removed.

The routine method now in use is to give a quieting drug by mouth about half an hour before the operation. This quiets the "nerves" of any fears of the patient and then he is fully informed of just exactly the surgeon is going to do and of harmonize his tonsils. The tissues surrounding the tonsils are then bathed with a 2 per cent procaine solution. Then the right tonsil is seized of with a number of injections of procaine, novocain, or stovaine, which have the effect of preventing pain, bleeding and shock. After a couple of seconds the other tonsil is dealt with and the throat is again gone over with a 5 percent cocaine solution.

"By this method the tonsils can be cleanly and perfectly removed without any pain to the patient and practically no bleeding or shock; the throat is left in good condition; there is no bleeding, no danger of pneumonia or abscess of the lung, no nausea or vomiting and the patient is laid up but a very short time."

Now the reason I speak about this "local anaesthetic" method of removing tonsils is because so many adults refuse to have them out for "going off to sleep," while the tonsils are being removed.

A few years ago I decided to have my tonsils removed and I left it to the surgeon as to whether he would use the local or general anesthetic. He gave me my choice and after painting and injecting my tonsils he removed them cleanly and completely in a few minutes and let me sit right out. I remained in bed one whole day and went out the day following.

Now with children the general anesthetic must be used, but with adults it certainly has many points in its favor.

So if your tonsils should be removed and you have a choice in the matter, ask your family doctor about the use of a local anaesthetic in your particular case.

ALLEGED CALGARY MURDERER IS TRACED TO KANSAS PRISON

TOPEKA, Kas., Jan. 30.—The arrest of the two men from Canada yesterday and brought Mike Rudio, 23, from behind the walls of Leavenworth federal prison to face a murder charge at Calgary, Alberta.

Canadian officials, digging deep into thousands of finger-print records, traced Rudio to the penitentiary, where he began a term of existence from Indiana for transporting a stolen automobile. His extradition is requested.

American Gets Tongue Twisted

Finds Names Are Quite Different, Especially When Trying To Get Children's Clothing.

London, Jan. 30—(By the Canadian Press)—On American correspondent of the Manchester Guardian, resident in this city writes of some mothers' problems in the acquirements of a vocabulary.

"Even after six months in the country, I sometimes have to refer to the cook for a translation of some item in the grocery or laundry book, and often when shopping I have to find what I want, when my name for it covers nothing to the salesman. Especially with children's clothes the language vary even more than the style, so that laundry lists at first were puzzles to me. I have learned now to say vest for undershirt, and waistcoat for vest; I can say suspenders for gaiters, and braces for suspenders. But it still seems strange to say knickers when I mean bloomers, for knickers to us are long plus fours. A bodice is now a child's underwaist. Goloshes (which to me means arctics or high overshoes for snow) are ordinary rubbers. Rubber soled canvas shoes parade gallantly as Wellingtons. Your jerseys jumpers, pullovers, and cardigans are content to relatively unrelated terms with us, and I have yet to discover when a suit is a costume and when it is not.

"I go to the draper' shop, or dry-goods store, for some unbleached muslin. I find I am buying calico instead of muslin, and that it's a cheap cotton print. Again I want Peter Pan cloth for a little girl's blouse. The man behind the counter suggests cotton gab or organdie. At least linen and gingham hold their own identity in the language. I need good old Channel changes its spots at intervals, and common cheese-cloth has become muslin. I buy a lilac to match my flannel for the little boy's pyjamas, and find I mean vinegrette for sleeping suits. And, of course, a length of thread has become a reel of cotton.

"The usual English-American joke is biscuits and crackers. I shall, I only know from experience that I said cracker meaning biscuit, and got those Christmas paper bonbons that are filled when pulled. But the maid has to step in and translate pieces for sugar, sweaky rashers for bacon, an aluminum cracker for a slice of ham. Treacle I know of, from Alice in Wonderland; but I only didn't like it when served on cream, syrups and molasses. To get a steak rare I must order it underdone. And at the butcher shop I have to ask for a piece of topside. Cereal is now porridge. To go to the bakery is an ordeal. Rolls, buns, scones, I know what I want, changed into something else. I can only point to what I want, avoiding the name, like a deaf mute or a real foreign.

"I am used now to booking seats instead of buying tickets, and riding on trams instead of trolleys. Petrol I still now instead of rinse, and I remember that the baby's bed is a cot instead of a crib. The kitchen is now the scullery. The pantry is the larder. Gasoline has become petrol, kerosene is paraffin, and benzine is now the solvent. Even the queerest of all is that my nurse says she is going to bath the children or to wash them a bathe, while I tell her to bathe the children or give them a bath."

Seeing Women

LONDON, Jan. 30—(By The Canadian Press)—A first-nighter writing of Miss G. M. Delafield's comedy "To See Ourselves" at the Ambassador's Theatre, says the playwright will delight the people who settle the question of why humanity is women. Its scene is utterly domestic, and part of the audience's question will be in seeing Delafield's wit on burning about the house like a hoover, says the critic, and read at the meetin shrdlu m'fw Eric D. Hawtrey, the first bridegroom [illegible] married in the Catholic Church at Chesley, England. a great-grandson of Charles Dick-

The two girls from the home colony wore dark purple dresses and green and black aprons. Then the four from other colonies had different color schemes, but all six wore black kerchiefs.

The first couple having answered the question put to them, the next two were called, and so on by pairs, until a row of 12 obscured the Minister's table. Another minister then read the marriage service, all kneeling, and the ceremony seemed completed. The congregation dozed, but, and the Minister was preparing to be over, the "Wedding" seemed to gain added zest.

The outsiders were urged to shake hands with the elder of the newly married husbands, whose right [illegible] Six men then formed a screen, after the manner of the ladies-in-waiting in "The Swineherd and the Princess," and the bridal chatterers sang in German. Soups and much refreshment followed; then came the lighter meal of supper.

The last hymns having been sung and the benediction done drunk the celebration ended. Guests from other colonies went to the homes of the bridegrooms for the night. The newly wedded wents to the grooms' fathers until such time as their own homes should be prepared. The groom-departed still with their arms about their brides.

Governor Finds Taxes Too Heavy

LONDON, Jan. 30—(By The Canadian Press)—Sir Archibald Weigall, formerly Governor of South Australia, has announced that the burden of income tax and supertax had compelled him to close his country residence. Perweel, at Wood Hall Spa (Lincolnshire), thereby depriving the local authority of ratepayer, in short, has expressed the view that high taxation annonated to vindictive confiscation. It took three-fifths of his income. The Ministry as a means of bribing the electors was fallaciously trying to catch the poor by impoverishing the rich.

itical to him. He pointed out that the giving of the grants would 'not cut the tax rate by a dog tag.' Here, he said, they had fully discussed the grants to the northern townships and decided that one ruling could not be made for municipalities with conditions so widely varying. In his opinion, he stated, it was the same with the grants. Some of them were deserving and some were small. If they were cut in two, he pointed out that there would be very little left.

Others the hospital among them might, in view of the present condition, easily ask for more. Victoria county, he said, had more liability than most counties, and he was in favour of taking each grant on its own merits and seconded the amendment put forward by Berry Handley. Mr. Cruess in supporting the amendment said, "It seems too much like making a 'job lot' of them grants to me. Some must be considered differently than others. If we pass the motion our hands will be tied and I think it better to consider each one on its own merits." The amendment passed by a 13-to-3 vote.

Explains $2500 Grant

Before the usual grant of $2500 to the Ross Memorial Hospital was passed Mr. T. H. Stinson K.C., M.P. and Mr. A. E. Gregory, members of the board of directors, explained the division of the grant to the members. Mr. Stinson said $1100 went to pay for indigent patients from the county. This he pointed out was not one-third of the cost of the cases the hospital had to care for, of people unable to pas as the deficit last year of approximately $4000 was of debt written off, of patients like these. The $1400 of the grant was more or less of an agreement between the hospital and the council, and went to pay for the new laundry and heating plant.

He said the council had promised to give this amount for seven years having been three more years to go. He pointed out that with regard to the $1100 for indigent patients, the hospital would be further ahead financially if the charges on the county per patient but they would rather do it the other way to keep up the cordial relationship which had always existed between the two in the past. When asked by Mr. Magee the hospital was doing financially Mr Stinson said that the deficit last year of around $4,000 had been for debts from indigent patients which were written off. He said the hospital was doing better than most institutions of its kind and would but for these debts be breaking even.

Mr. Gregory said that he had heard of all grants being cut in two this year. He pointed out that this would be bad business both for the hospital and for the council. He said that if the other system of collecting for indigent patients were followed, it would cost the county a great deal more than the $1,100 grant now being given. He emphasized the fact, that the money was all spent here and would be needed more this year than ever before owing to financial conditions.

Education Costs

After this the question of the cost of pupils of this county attending Peterboro C. I. and V. S. was shown to be $67.73 per pupil per annum as against $34.95 for pupils attending the Lindsay C. I. Mr. Moore commenting on this said that the report should tell the parents how much more it cost when their children went to other county's schools. Mr. Cruess said that the account looked out of the ordinary and would ask the clerk to look into it. His motion was carried and Reeve Shields, of Bexley, said that he though the pupils in agriculture were attending the vocational department, a branch of training they could not get at home. C. T. Mc Moore said if this was the case the county would be better to pay these accounts than go to the expense of erecting a technical department in Lindsay, at the present time, although he said he understood that this might be undertaken sometime in the future.

Reports Adopted

Annual reports showing the debenture debt of the county at December 31st, and the statement of current assets and liabilities at The Home for the Aged, were then read and adopted. In the statement of assets and liabilities in the general account a deficit of $1,548.75 was noticed. Mr. Weldon said that there should have been a surplus here of approximately $3,000 but the unusually long Supreme Court Sitting of eleven days, costing approximately $4,000 had been responsible for the deficit. If the statement of county assets showed a deficit was not noticed. Mr. Weldon said that there was to the roads committee if should be explained that this would have been even smaller but the council decided to undertake some further work to help unemployment in the fall after the road machinery fee had decided to call it quits. It was pointed out that even with this the road system deficit of the year before had been substantially reduced.

Debentures in County

Confidence in county was shown when the clerk reported on the issue of debentures that over a quarter of a million dollars worth of them had been sold in the county. The annual statement of the Home for the Aged was read and adopted. When the statement from the Department of Highways for the counties' share of paving done in the county on provincial roads was submitted there was $67,181.41 going down to construction and $3,434 to maintenance. It was decided that the maintenance account and the odd balance be paid for and debentures issued for the straight $20,000 from one to twenty years, interest at 5 per cent. payable twice yearly, dated at December 1st." It was also decided to advertise the issue as before.

Was Worthy Cause

When the question of the grant to the Flowmen's Association came up it was decided that it was something that should be encouraged and which needed the money badly. Mr. Moore pointed out that last year they received $775 in all for the boys and the Association. This year Mr. Winter's request, he said, was very fair when he asked for $300—a cut of over 20 per cent. A grant of $200 was decided upon.

Cut Horticultural Grants

Following this came the grants for the Horticultural Societies at Lindsay, Fenelon Falls and Bobcaygeon. The usual grants are $150, $50 and $50 respectively, but it was thought that this year was one in which to economize and it was pointed out that these were societies that should be supported by local people and the grants were reduced 50 per cent. in each case. Representatives from each of these places spoke against the reduction and said that these societies were in sore need of the money and pointed out the good they were doing in beautifying the municipalities and making them a better place to live in and places which attracted more tourists.

Library Grants Reduced

On the question of the various reporting libraries it was decided to cut their grants in half also with Lindsay now to receive $50 and the other libraries $25 each as a grant. A motion which received no seconder was put forward to cut the grant out altogether but this was thought to be too drastic. It was pointed out the good the libraries were doing in teaching the young the value of good literature and how they were both an educational and a social asset. Mr. Moore put forward the ideas that the county libraries organize and form a circulation plan whereby they could exchange books and would not have to buy so many new ones, getting rid of the additional expense and at the same time giving excellent service.

Fair Grants Down

When the question of the grants to reporting agricultural societies came up a cut of 25 per cent. was decided upon. In Verulam's case an amendment was entered to cut them to $200 but this was thoroughly and the grant made $225 when Mr. Bottum spoke strongly against it supported verbally by Mr. Moore Mr. Shields, Mr. Handley and Mr. Elliott. On the question of Lindsay Fair a motion of Mr. Cruess seconded by Mr. Emberly was that Lindsay receive $750. Mr. Moore strongly objected to this saying that Lindsay was willing to accept a 25 per cent. grant the same as the others but that he did not think it fair to cut

PAIN after eating

What many call "indigestion" is very often nothing but excess acid in the stomach. The stomach nerves have been over-stimulated, and food sours. The corrective is an alkali, which neutralizes acids instantly. The best alkali known to medical science is Phillips' Milk of Magnesia. It has remained the standard anti-acid with physicians in the 50 years since its invention.

One spoonful of this harmless, tasteless alkali will neutralize instantly many times as much acid, and the symptoms disappear at once. You will never use crude methods when once you learn the efficiency of this more pleasant way. A small bottle is sufficient to show its merit.

Be sure to get genuine Phillips' Milk of Magnesia prescribed by physicians for more than 50 years in correcting excess acid. 50c a bottle; any drugstore. Complete directions for many uses are enclosed with every bottle.

The Genuine Milk of Magnesia is always a liquid—never a tablet. Look for the Phillips' name on bottle.

Timely Tips

Ink stains on a wood floor can be removed with steel wool.

You will not be so apt to slip on icy walks if you have a dozen of additive tape across the heels and toes of your shoes or overshoes.

If your rubber overshoes become hard from being water soaked just rub them with castor oil as warm as the hand can bear, and work it in well.

If you use invisible hairpins to hold the hems in net curtains while stitching them no basting will be necessary and they will not drop out like ordinary pins.

Recipes

GRAPEFRUIT JELLY CREAM CHEESE BALLS

2 tablespoons gelatin
1-4 cup cold water
1 cup grapefruit
1-2 cup sugar
Juice of one lemon
1 cream cheese
2 dozen canned white cherries or fresh red cherries
2 dozen fillets
Mayonnaise
Lettuce

Soak the gelatin in the cold water five minutes. Cook the sugar and juice drained from grapefruit until sugar is dissolved. Add the lemon juice and gelatin. Strain. Add grapefruit segments. Pill a cold wet ring mold half full with the grapefruit jelly mixture. Let stand in the refrigerator until it begins to thicken.

Form the cheese into small balls about an inch in diameter. When the jelly in the mold has been to set arrange these balls of cheese at regular intervals in the mold at the rest of the gelatin mixture and chill until perfectly stiff. When ready to use unmold on a bed of lettuce. Pit the cherries and stuff with blanched filberts or bits of white meat. Fill the centre of the grapefruit mold with the cherries. Garnish with mayonnaise This salad will serve 6 to 8.

SERVICE

Ambition ill-sleeping at the human heart, ambition to excel or to occupy a place of prominence. Even Christianity that is supposed to cleanse the heart from self seeking is not free from it. The high places are eagerly sought, even though the seeker is little fitted for them. Even the blessed apostles wrangled about who was the greatest, and two of them persuaded their mother to ask our Lord that when He came into His Kingdom they might have the places of highest honor, and from that day to this the same spirit has often been shown. So those who seek the chief places do so because they feel they are better fitted for these offices than their opponents, or from a desire for the honor that is associated with the high position?

One of the apostles writing of Jesus appeared on the earth says He was in the form of God, but he counted it not as a prize to be equal with God, but emptied Himself and took, not only the form of a servant, but the duties of a servant.

In the upper houses there was a slave whose business it was to wash the feet of guests when they arrived heated and dusty, and Jesus on one occasion did this for his disciples, and by that act showed his self-seeking followers that service was the highest honor in all that would be first must be the servant of all. Jesus exalted service, for in it was love. Love was in the world before Jesus came. He exalted it into the first place, for love is the soul of service. Love issues in service. The great mass of people care very little about doctrinal disputes, church systems, theological quibbles, but they have a keen eye for hearts that throb with brotherly helpfulness and love. The religion that will lend its disciples into the world to serve the needy is the religion that will win the fainters.

"Do you believe in God," asked a Salvation Army lass as she bent over a dying unfortunate girl of the streets? Her answer was "I did not till I met you."

In the day of final reckoning I would rather stand beside the Good Samaritan and the Salvation Army lass than with the priest and Levite for many of their orthodox faith and their church. Are we any better today? Is our religion finding expression in beautiful deeds? Sometime ago two girls motoring out of North Bay passed an upturned car on the ditch. After going on half a mile one said to the other, "There might be some one under that car. We had better go back and see." They returned and found a woman pinned under the car. She had been there two hours. Our after-car passed past, and not one stopped. Who are the greatest people of the 19th century? Would one be far wrong to put Lord Shaftesbury in the front rank, the man who did so much for boys compelled to act as chimney sweeps, or driven under ground to work in coal mines, or taken at a tender age to work long hours in factories. Or Florence Nightingale, born to ease and comfort, who went out to the horrible condition of the hospitals to nurse sick and wounded soldiers. Or Lincoln suffering from the disloyalty of part of his cabinet, never faltered until America was freed from slavery. We sometimes boast of the victories of British Empire, and our hearts swell with pride when we look at the Union Jack that flies over a quarter of the world's population. Do we remember that the Empire has been made by service, and will be governed by service. God has given to the care of British vast territories, if we use our powers to serve them we shall bind the Empire by bonds of steel.

Men like Lord Lawrence and Viscount Canning in India, Lord Durham in Canada, Sir Geo. Gray in New Zealand, Sir Wm. McGregor in New Guinea, Sir Henry Campbell-Bannerman in South Africa. But superior to them are men of whose work you hear little. Dr. Grenfell and his helpers in Labrador, Dr. Stuart, who works the great institutions of Lovedale and Tiger Kloof in Africa, Dr. Tennell among the Pathans of North India, Dr. Laws among the Mystentots in Nyassoland. These are the men who have made the name of British fragrant and beloved. The banner of Britain has three Crosses on it. Dare we make a mock of our symbols by self? Living? Here are three great words, love leading to service, and both measured by sacrifice.

When the last moment of life comes what shall be remembered with joy will be the few experiences in life when we served some one who was in need.

orchestra which entertained while the crowd was gathering. Mrs. Dr. Nesbitt played the auto harp and Mrs. Coe and Mrs. Hughes mouth organs.

Mrs. Gregory sang very sweetly and looked exceptionally pretty in an old-fashioned gown of pink silk. Mrs. Dr. Irvine, as Samantha Allen, pleased the audience with an old time reading, "Samantha Allen," and looked charming in her frock and bonnet to match.

Eight of the members of the Y.W.A. added much to the program with a pleasant number, "In the Gloaming." Mrs. M. H. Winter then sang an old favorite Kerry Dance. This was beautifully rendered, and her pretty black lace costume of long ago was indeed becoming to the wearer.

Mrs. C. L. Penfound and Miss Myrtle Graham in their pleasing manner then played an appropriate piano duet. All the ladies were fitted out in costumes appropriate to the occasion.

Miss Richardson, of Bethany, an old time member of the Methodist Circle, was present for the occasion and pleased the audience once again with her old time selection "Saunders MacGlashen's Courtship."

Mr. F. W. Loynes, who is always willing and ready to do his bit, excelled himself singing an old time selection, "Holly O." His outfit carried was fine.

Master George Dunk as Harry Lauder in his pretty Scotch costume sang very sweetly an old favorite, "Bonnie Bank of Loch Lomond."

Mr. A. M. Fulton greatly pleased all with old time piano selection. Evening and two pleasing duets and then a male quartet made and then the male quartet came on again, singing the closing number of an enjoyable evening, after which old time refreshments, cookies and a cup of tea, were served to all present by members of the Y.W.A.

Mrs. W. J. Waite, new president of the Y.W.A. for this year, together with Mrs. Dr. Nesbitt, arranged the evening's program, and deserve much credit for such a splendid success. P. H. Shiteh and Clair evening.

Kiwanis Are Victors In Club Games

F. Carew's Ten-Point Win Puts Men Of "K" Two Points Up On Rotarians In Annual Match Yesterday

Yesterday afternoon, the annual Rotarin' game between the Kiwanis and the Rotary clubs of the town took place down in the Pool at rink, resulting in a two point win for 'K's. Five rinks took part in the contest, which was not decided until the last game was completed. That was the F. Carew—F. Logan game, and on the completion of the eleventh end the score showed Carew to be nine to the good, while at the same time all th other rinks had finished and their scores declared the Rotary to be leading by eight shots, without the Carew game. When this was noised about the crowd all assembled around ice five where this game was taking place to see Carew score one on the last end and vanquish all the hopes of the Rotarians.

The rinks—

Short Courses End And Young People Mark It Fittingly

Following a most appetizing banquet served under W. L. sauces, Mr. J. R. Fulcher of Gooderham, led in community singing, and then the toast list was opened.

Harry Jackson, toastmaster, welcomed the guests, spoke briefly on the success of the class and proposed the toast to The King.

T. H. Stinson Speaks

Mr. T. H. Stinson, K.C., M.P., proposed the toast to the Agricultural Associations, and Mrs. D. S. Rea and Messrs. Vincent Pee and B. G. Sandy replied on behalf of the Women's Institute, Farmers' Club and Agricultural Society respectively.

Mr. Stinson said, "I appreciate the invitation to be with the young people on this occasion for I am interested in any society that is trying to better Canada." He praised the Women's Institutes for the wonderful work they are doing throughout the province, complimenting them particularly on their money-raising proclivities. Everything good, he said, comes from women, from mothers, and for this reason the W.I. is so successful. It is no use going through with a chip on your shoulder" although you have to struggle for anything that is any good, he counselled his listeners, speaking of an individual's and organizations keep that in many they are accomplishing something. Mr. Stinson concluded by mentioning the short courses that are just completed, saying that they were put on to give the young people a foundation so that they can go out into life and do something useful.

Replying on behalf of the W.I., Mrs. D. S. Rea "thanked Mr. Stinson and said that in the opinion of the Institute the short courses were of great benefit to the young people.

Mr. Vincent Pee spoke on behalf of the Farmer's Club outlining the work it is trying to do. He spoke of the educational work to better the farmer's lot; the social side to keep the young people on the farm; and the business side which is of considerable benefit to the farmer in a cash basis.

Mr. F. G. Sandy, Ex-M.L.A.

Mr. F. G. Sandy, ex-M.L.A., said, on behalf of the Agricultural Society, that this society was not in its infancy as it had been running in 1870, 52 years ago, and perhaps sooner. Founded by public-spirited citizens it has been a great deal for the locality. The present secretary, Mr. George Williamson, has been serving in this capacity for 38 years. He reviewed some of the early events connected with this society. The last fair was held in 1902, but the society is doing great work trying to improve the live-stock in this district. The two standing-crop competitions were held. He advised the young people to carry on as this course is merely the opening of a door into an entirely new field.

Mrs. M. H. Winter, of Lindsay, pleased all with a delightful vocal solo.

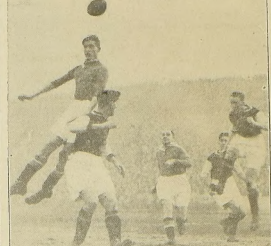
Mr. R. F. Downey, B.A., of Peterboro' agricultural inspector for Victoria East, was introduced by Mr. M. H. Winter, of Lindsay, local representative of the Ontario Department of Agriculture. Mr. Winter expressed his appreciation to the W. I. for the assistance given in organizing the classes and for the bountiful repast. Congratulations were extend to the newly elected officers as elected, Verbena and Reeves Magee, of Omemee, and Elliott, of Emily. He thanked all others who had assisted in making the classes and last night's program successful and spoke briefly of the work that had been taken.

After speaking of the various instructors and the benefits to be gained from such courses, Mr. Winter briefly reviewed farm conditions as they prevail at the present time.

"Stick To Your Job"

Mr. Downey said that in the old days when he worked on the farm, the secret of success was hard work with good commonsense and the desire to save. It is the same now. "Men got along then without the equipment they have today and my advice to you is to stick to your job."

Soccer Teams in Strenuous Period



This is the time of the year when the leading soccer teams in the Old Country have to work overtime, some of them to avoid relegation and others to win the league championships. In addition comes the series for the English Cup, the most coveted trophy in English football, which causes many teams to play as often as twice in one week. The above picture shows Chelsea and West Ham having a tussle in the latters' goal-mouth. More than fifty thousand enthusiasts witnessed this game.

He told of a man who had once posed a toast to the Short Course class. After a very witty introduction to his talk, he stated that Canada's greatest asset is her young people and girls. He urged the young people to build castles in the air and face life manfully and well. He then asked the guests to arise and toast the classes.

Miss M. McQuade replied to the toast on behalf of the girls class and thanked the Women's Institute for the assistance rendered, giving assurance that the girls who took the course were on their way to becoming real home-makers.

Replying on behalf of the boys' class, he expressed the appreciation of his fellows to the organizations that had made the classes possible. He spoke briefly of the great benefit the boys had derived from this training.

Mr. Faulkner sang another solo, and everyone joining in with him for the chorus.

The Staff

Taking as their theme "There is Nothing so Easy to Follow as a Good Example." Miss Ruth Thorn and Mr. Edmund Ruth proposed a toast to the staff and spoke of what help the course offered. Miss E. Petty and Mr. C. W. Buchanan spoke in reply to this toast, thanking their well wishers offering a little parting advice and wishing the young people the best of luck.

Warden Elliott

Warden J. W. Elliott spoke very briefly congratulating the young people on the steps they were taking to better things for themselves.

This concluded an enjoyable program and the floor was cleared for a few hours' enjoyable dancing, the music by Dinner's Orchestra.

Miss Race, of Omemee, acted as accompanist for the various musical numbers.

Township of New Warden Honors Him

Mr. Faulkner of Haliburton again favored the banqueters singing "Roaming in the Gloaming," with everyone joining in the chorus.

Toast to the "Dominion of Canada" was proposed by Mr. Charles Logan. He said he was pleased to propose a toast to the greatest country that the sun has ever shone on, a country that has been blessed with every good thing. After singing the "Maple Leaf" the toast was responded to by Mr. T. Stinson, K.C., M.P., saying that the right should be one of fun, merriment and joy. Mr. Stinson told a few funny stories and spoke in highest terms of Mr. Elliott the new warden saying he was a good wholesome soul, speaking of Sir Sam Dominion, Mr. Stinson said we have a great heritage in Canada, the greatest resources in any country and no people is its people. A man is great to the value he gives to his country and it is a fine thing to have character, than ability.

The toast to the Province of Ontario was proposed by Mr. Thos. Marlin, ex-reeve of Verulam, and was responded to by Mr. W. W. Staples, M.P.P., of Lindsay, whose address was usually patriotic and very interesting.

Mr. Percy Chase again favored with a solo "I Love My Jean, My Bonnie Jean" and, for encore, "The Wee House Among the Heather."

Toast to the township of Verulam was proposed by Mr. Seymour, councillor of Bobcaygeon, responded to by Mr. W. J. Mitchell, ex-reeve of Verulam, Sturgeon Bay. Verulam township he said, it was only about 92 years old and was surveyed by Wm. Hall. Among the early settlers were the Murdochs, Stewarts, McFeeters, etc. He also spoke of the economic situation for the township, concluding by saying "Never Burden Your People, Beyond Their Power To Pay," and complimenting the new warden.

The toast to the Warden, Mr. W. J. Elliott, and to an Ex-Warden of years ago, Mr. Jas. Lindsay, concluded by singing "He's a Jolly Good Fellow, Three Cheers and a Tiger. Mr. Lindsay was in a reminiscent mood, and spoke of the work done in years that have passed.

Mr. Elliott the new Warden replied: "Words almost fail me tonight and I wish to convey my thanks for the splendid banquet you have tendered me, I feel it is a very honored position, and I will try to do my best while in office and also hope to be able to serve for years to come even after I retire from office." Mr. Elliott claimed that he was no public speaker and wanted to thank all the speakers for their kind remarks. He was born in Mongolian township and has served the township 12 years."

Some of the ex-reeves and others were called upon for short addresses Mr. J. Southam, Wm. Hetherington, Mr. J. J. Devitt, Mr. J. Tiers, Mrs. Mr. Kimble, Mr. Potter Kelly and M. J. Forman.

The toast to adjoining townships was proposed by Mr. Samuel Herron and responded to by Mr. Tiers.

Short addresses were given by Mr. A. R. Bottum, Mr. R. E. Bottum, Mr. Foster Kelly, Mr. Jasper Forman, Mr. Endicott, Mr. J. Handley

Mr. Faulkner of Haliburton gave as a solo "For the Days of Auld Lang Syne," after which a circle was formed around the banquet hall joining hands and singing "Auld Lang Syne" and the National Anthem.

Find Early Indian Art in Ontario

Above are pictures of two examples of early Indian Art discovered recently by W. J. Wintemberg, Dominion archeologist, near London, Ont. ario which have been added to the collection in the National Museum at Ottawa and are considered to be among the finest pieces ever discovered in Canada. The outstanding relic is a small sculpture of a human head done in clay (bottom left and right). Several tobacco pipes were recovered in the same locality, one of which is carved from stone and besides a human face on the bowl stop, left and right, bears a representation of a lizard winding about the stem. These pieces of art date back before the discovery of the country by white men and they belong to the Iroquois tribes.

About Pyjamas

The newest version of pajamas show trousers cut less wide than last year. Where definite pleats and flares occurred then, the latest models now fall into long graceful lods resembling skirts. Many options, basque linens, challis, shantung, linen and cotton tweed are used for these garments. Natural colored and white linen pajamas are much in evidence.

Linens in off-whites and pure whites for sports wear and summer are gay with bells, sailors, scarfs, or jackets in bright plain colors, plaids, or stripes. The chic girl dress and the pajama for lounging on the sands are of white linen with starched, effective lines.

Colored buttons, quite large in size make their appearance, on many of the double-breasted sports and beach costumes.

Terry or jersey robes are striking in striped patterns with sunfast colorings. Matching Turkish toweling robes are accessories with berets or turbans to match. Many have novelty robes have painted motifs on the back, such as lobsters, sea-cows and dolphins.

Several communications were received and filed. Grants of $50 and $200 were passed for the Sick Children's Hospital and the Institute for the Blind, respectively.

No Change in C. A. S.

Mr. White's application for a pension as traffic officer was moved field no action to be taken on it, and Mr. White to be notified. On the question of the application from the Children's Aid Society that $250 be placed at the disposal to take care of dependants as they arise instead of waiting until the end of the year, this was voted down and the former plan of straightening things up at the end of the year will be followed. It was thought to be the more satisfactory way that no one pus forward by the Society, as there might be no deficit this year when the cost of living was cheaper than in the past.

Live Stock Market

TORONTO, Jan. 31—Cattle receipts at the Union Stock Yards this week totalled 4,720 head, 150 less than last week, and in addition there were 122 head billed through.

Cattle receipts of 4,720 head were about the same in volume as for last week. The supply was much too heavy for the limited market requirements, and the trade ran into the worst depression of the year to date. Buyers were indifferent and bids were from 50 to 75 cents lower on all grades. There were sizeable holdovers from day to day, with 500 state cattle still unsold on Thursday. Sales were generally 50 cents lower than last week, with spots a quarter again lower. The best handy butchers' grade of steers to $6.75 a hundred, with a few picked steers wanted at 7c. Weighty steers reached $7 to $7.25 for choice, with good kinds at $6.50 to $6.75. Fed calves closed at $8 to $8.50 for choice and at $7 to $8 for medium quality. Good bunches or cows brought $5.25 to $5, with common downward to $3. Bulls were hard to sell at $4 to $4.75 for good light butchers, with heavy bulls almost unsalable.

A few lots of store cattle changed hands at $5 to a hundred, weighing from 700 to 800 pounds. Milkers and springers were steady at $70 to $85 for tops, with plain cows at $50 to $60.

The weakness in the beef trade may be attributed to low prices of fellow cattle, quality eating cattle which have supplanted beef in diet to a great degree. No early reversal in the cattle market is looked for.

Calves

Calf receipts were 1,381 head, 344 more than for last week. An export order for a few calves strengthened the market and prices were about 50 cents higher for good and choice vealers. There grades sold at $10.50 to $11, with an odd top of $11.50. Wednesday's trade was a little weaker with the bulk of choice at $10.50. Lights sold mostly at $8 to $9.50 a hundred. No calves were offered on Thursday.

Hogs

Hog receipts totaled 3,100 head, fed on route, to outside packing plants. Bids were down 50 to 75 cents, to become at the market opening but sales were agreed at $9 f.o.b. or at $10 off cars. On Thursday some sales were a quarter higher, but the Wednesday close was mostly at 99 f.o.b. and at $10 off cars, with top hogs at $9.50 to $9.75. Selects brought $1 per head premium and standard cut were made on 47 to 49 hogs.

Sheep and Lambs

Sheep and lamb receipts were 1,315 head. Good lambs opened at $9.50 a hundred and closed at $8 to $8.50 on dull trading. Culls sold on Wednesday at $6 to $7 a hundred with bucks within the same price range. No lambs were offered on Thursday. Sheep sold steady at $4 for springs at $3.50 to $6 a hundred for good light ewes and at $2 to $4 for culls.

SENTENCE INCREASED

"Gringo Privateer"

By Peter B. Kyne

SYNOPSIS

Kenneth Burney, adventurer and one-time gentleman, comes to Bradley Bardin, King of the cattle country, for a job. Burney has had a fight with Martin Bruce, a rival cattle owner who has been stealing the King's stock, aided by Miguel Gallegos, a Mexican bandit. The King, liking young Burney's style, makes him general manager of the ranch on condition that he put Bruce and Gallegos out of the way.

Muriel Bardin, beautiful daughter of the King, is more interested in Burney than she cares to admit. She opposes her father and begs him not to let Burney risk his life.

After an encounter with Bruce, in which the cattle thief swears to kill him, young Burney prepare to leave for El Cajon Bonita where the rustlers have been operating. Muriel asks her father to stop Burney but he tries to do so, but Burney is determined to finish the job. Gallegos and Bruce have planned to catch Burney between two forces, but the latter, aided by the Mexican Rurales, outwits the bandits.

CAPTER 31

"Range five hundred. Company bend!" Burney's order, relayed down the line in a low voice was productive of a faint clicking of bolts as the cartridges were jammed home in the breeches, then silence again prevailed. Beads of perspiration came out on Ken Burney's forehead; his hands were wet; he set his behind a rock, with his rifleball across it and waited. On the ground beside him lay half a dozen rockets and a box of matches.

Suddenly, from within the pass, there came a ripple of rifle fire; within a minute some fifty horsemen emerged from the pass at a gallop; out in front of a man rode on a brown and white pinto horse that Burney readily recognized as Rowdy. He cuddled the stock of his rifle firmly to his shoulder and fired his eighth at Martin Bruce; then he drew a full breath, let it half out took up the slack of his trigger, pulled a little ahead of his target and fired. Fifty yards from the pass entrance the man on Rowdy rolled out of his saddle and the horse stopped instantly, faced around and gazed curiously at the fallen man. But the latter's comrades did not halt. Flogging their horses furiously with their quirts they galloped down the valley and when the last of them had swept by Rowdy and the fallen man, Burney yelled:

"Commence firing."

An instant after Burney's men had opened the action, Tom Bledsoe's force on the opposite side of the valley came into action also. Then suddenly Burney heard a solid crash of musketry—a single ragged volley—and machine guns commenced to chatter.

As a range of six hundred yards the Gallegos force concealed in the Barranca had covered five rods of open ground. With four machine guns and a hundred rifles assailing them from the front and thirty-two fifteen-in. expert riflemen all that range, assailing them from both flanks, the mad route was stopped almost as effectively as by a benched formation, the first horses to go down spilled those following after them, while a steady rattle of bullets sped into the screaming grunting, neighing, cursing, struggling mass. It was horrible.

The frantic cries of the survivors, endeavoring to make their surrender to the Gallegos men, were unintelligible above the noise of battle, their signals were interpreted as a desire to advance and since it was no part of the plan of Miguel Gallegos and Martin Bruce to extend, quarter that day, their appeals went unheeded. Nor was it any part of Ken Burney's plan. He knew he was engaged in a battle of extermination; as the Bruce riders disengaged themselves from, their fallen horses Burney's men concentrated their fire on them; three minutes from the time the Gallegos forces had opened fire on them nothing moved in that stricken field save the horses. If there were wounded men they elected to lie still.

At his order Burney's men cease's firing; instantly the fire from Tom Bledsoe's concealed force across the valley ceased also, while from both parties broke wild cheering that carried in the crisp morning air down to Miguel Gallegos in the barranca. "Viva Gallegos! Viva Bruce! Viva! Viva! Viva Viva! Abajo los Gringos!"

But Burney's force did not emerge from hiding. Their leader was too shrewd for that, too good a judge of bandit nature. In the pockets of the fallen, in the stirrup and saddle money would be found; certainly there were fifty good saddles, bridles spurs, rifles, pistols and rifles to be appropriated by the men who should reach them first, and Burney grinned as he saw the Gallegos men climb out of the barranca and vie with each other in a race up the valley. But one man of that force did not join in the race, but walked sedately behind his victorious troops; through his binoculars Burney recognized him as Miguel Gallegos.

"Got to make certain of Gallegos today," he decided, and indicated the target to his men. "Wait until his mob has reached the Bruce dead, then everybody take a crack at Gallegos. Range six hundred. When he drops shift your fire to his men."

He picked up one of the rockets beside him and thrust the end of it upright between two boulders, then turned and fixed his binoculars on Gallegos and his followers. "Set on him, men. Ready. Aim. Fire!

As Gallegos crumpled, Burney touched a match to the fuse of the rocket. Up it soared with a rush, bursting with a prodigious report and unloosing a tiny parachute from which floated a small Mexican flag. Instantly the two machine guns in and Senor De Haro had secreted on their left, shot to the valley came into action against the exiles and unsuspecting Gallegos force, grouped among the Bruce dead. At the same moment Burney's men opened on them and the second act of the tragedy was on. Three minutes of rapid fire, then Burney sent up another rocket. This time it released a parachute with a small American flag and in answer to its summons the rurales rode out of the pass in column of fours, swept into line and charged down the valley.

Instantly the firing ceased. By this time fully half the Gallegos forces were casualties and among the survivors there existed no thought of further resistance. Across the valley they fled like frightend rabbits, headed for the haven of the timbered slopes of the encircling hills and as they ran the rurales broke formation and pursued them independently, sabering them, killing them with pistols, cutting them off from the hills and slaughtering them even while they begged for the mercy they would not have given.

For about ten minutes the rurales were busy ridine over the field, giving the "mercy shot" to the wounded, then they formed up and rode on into the south to argue with the Los Osos contingent, doubtless. And when they were out of sight Ken Burney mounted his men, merged his divided forces and rode north out of El Cajon Bonita merely pausing long enough to give info Martin Bruce's dead face and examine Rowdy for possible wounds. He had none, so Ken Burney tied him to a bush and left him there.

"Rowdy's status is that of a smuggled horse," he explained to Tom Bledsoe. "He entered Mexico illegally this morning; hence he will be confiscated as smuggled goods and sold at public auction for the benefit of the state. At that auction Senor De Haro will bid him in for the fifty dollars. Then will give Senor De Haro a clearly legal title, which he will transfer to me when he presents Rowdy to me the first time I visit him. It will cost me five dollars export tax to bring Rowdy back into the United States territory. Bueno?"

As they entered the pass Tom Bledsoe commenced to chuckle. "Nobody but Bruce saw us enter Mexico and nobody has seen us leave Mr. Burney, a fox has nothing on thee. Was it thee that downed Martin Bruce?"

Burney nodded sadly. "I knew that when his rider rolled off? the horse would not desert him. So I had to stop him before he could gallop into the effective range of the Gallegos gang."

They were back at the trucks by 10 o'clock. As they came into camp the king tore loose a mighty yell!

"Are you all there?"

"Senor, senor." Burney favored the king with a militafy salute. "I have to report your outfit intact and the contract completed in a highly satisfactory manner. Martin Bruce and forty-eight riders, about half of them Mexicans, with Miguel Gallegos and one hundred of his followers have been killed, and if you don't believe it ask the men. However, realizing you might require evidence, I have arranged with Senor De Haro to photograph both Bruce and Gallegos before burial and send their mugs to you."

"Tell me all about it," His Majesty ordered. And when the tale was told he asked: "What do you suppose caused Gallegos to open fire on the Bruce party?"

"I caused him to. As your Majesty is aware, when a cowboy goes forth on a hard journey he rides his top horse. I worked long enough for Martin Bruce to know the top horses of his outfit, so from your remuda, I selected horses of similar coloration. The day I went into El Cajon Bonita in force Gallegos had an opportunity to look the stock over; the day he delivered his ultimatum he had another opportunity—and he employed both opportunities. He would, you know. He would want to be in position to recognize my horse by the horses I ride before he could recognize me. And of course Rowdy is a most conspicuously marked horse, which is why I sold him to Martin Bruce.

"I had a hunch Martin would ride him into action, so I delivered him to the old wolf yesterday. I took a chance that, even if he should be communicating with Gallegos, he would not, having more important things to discuss, remember the unimportant and tell Gallegos he had received the horse and would ride him this morning. And to obviate the necessity for last minute communications between Gallegos and Bruce I named a definite date for the battle and kept mi appointment."

"When Bruce's scouts emerged into the valley and failed to locate me, they took the news back to Bruce. It puzzled him, worried him a little perhaps. Then, behind him he heard a mounted force approaching and a subdued bugle call warned him they were rurales. Then the advance guard of rurales fired into him and Bruce lost his head. He couldn't afford to be taken by the rurales, and there could be no profit to him in fighting them in the pass. They're born fighter those rurales, and they outnumbered Bruce. In the emergency he remembered he had a friend with a hundred riflemen and four machine gunners down in the barranca, so he decided to join forces with Gallegos in a hurry.

"That was his stal error. He came out in a hurry. That was the way Gallegos expected me to come out—and when he saw that pinto horse of mine out in front—when he sized up the colors of the other horses in the Bruce outfit, he said to himself: Hah! Yonder cometh the gringo, and got ready for business. Naturally I knew that as his party approached the barranca Bruce would wave his hat at Gallegos and endeavor to identify himself—so I killed Bruce before he could do that. Then my entire party opened on Bruce's men and they were all to rattled to do more than go wild. Gallegos couldn't see where our fire was coming from; probably he thought it was by Bruce's men from the hills near the pass. So, just to be neighborly, he got into action too—and that's the tail of the kangaroo."

SHOULD THE CHILDREN EAT IT?

PARENTS, particularly mothers, are paying a lot of attention to children's diet these days. For it is far more economical and pleasant to keep a child well by feeding him correctly than by nursing and doctoring him back to health.

Of course the doctor should be consulted regarding what a child should eat and what he should not eat. But do you realize that the leading manufacturers of food now seek the advice and approval of the leading nutritional authorities in the country, relative to the claims they make for their products in their advertising?

In other words, food advertisements are reliable sources of information regarding diet. They are based upon the results of the latest approved scientific discoveries about vitamins, minerals and roughage, in relation to vigorous bodies, clear complexions, sound teeth and properly regulated systems.

So read these advertisements carefully. Consult your doctor about them. Very often the advertiser invites you to do this because he has asked authorities, whom your doctor respects, about those advertisements first.

Money Didn't 'Fizz' On Her

MANCHESTER, Eng., Jan. 30—(By The Canadian Press)—There was a merry night at the Station Hotel, Workop, where the proprietress, a widow, after selling a half-share, in the Manchester Handicap ticket for Nasturian, nets $100,000. She said, "In some ways, I wish that the money had gone to poorer folk who have never had money. It is more than I want."

GETS A ROYAL FLUSH, WINS POT OF 37 CENTS; THEN PAYS DOCTOR $15 TO CURE INDIGESTION

WHITE PLAINS, N.Y., Jan. 30—David Cornell's advice to all poker players is never to bet on a royal flush. Cornell got one and it cost him precisely $0.63.

Cornell was entertaining Mr. and Mrs. Harry Cross at a quiet game when Cornell, a stock broker, drew one card and made his royal flush.

All three of his opponents checked to his draw and he couldn't get a bet. The pot contained 37 cents.

Cornell was so excited and upset by his rare feat that he was taken down with acute indigestion. He had to call in a doctor, which cost him $10. Now he insists he would have been better off with a pair of aces.

Maternal Deaths Are Investigated

MANCHESTER, Jan. 31—(By The Canadian Press)—The circular letter which is being sent out by the Ministry of Health to the local authorities on the subject of maternal mortality marks the latest and most promising attempt to reduce the disturbing number of deaths in childbirth, says the Manchester Guardian. There are 2,000 births daily in this country, and eight of the mothers die every day in childbed, or 3,000 every year.

No wonder Bernard Shaw should have made one of his characters say that a registrar's more heroism to be a mother than to engage in battle, or that the Minister of Health should imply today that the miners' occupation, dangerous as it is, is infinitely less risky by comparison.

The Departmental Committee on Maternal Mortality came to the conclusion that 48 per cent. of the deaths in childbirth are preventable, but a good deal of expert opinion inclines to the view that the percentage of preventable death is considerably higher than that. As the Ministry of Health are pointing out, there is enormously more data to proceed upon to-day, and the present action of the Ministry is prompted largely by the knowledge required from the analysis of 2,000 fatal cases. The new knowledge has convinced the Ministry that the deaths can be halved if only the local authorities, using their existing powers, will develop services for ante-natal supervision for mothers. It is the lack of this supervision for many women which is the main contributory cause of the present high death-rate.
